

Class 75-05 pins on pilot wings today

Forty members of Undergraduate Pilot Training Class 75-05 will end a year of intense training when they pin on the silver wings of the Air Force pilot today.

Guest speaker at the graduation ceremony at 10:30 a.m. in Simler Theater will be Maj. Gen. Billy J. Ellis, deputy chief of staff for Operations, Strategic Air Command.

General Ellis was graduated from the United States Military Academy at West Point, N.Y. and commissioned as a second lieutenant in June 1951. He received his pilot wings after training at Bryan AFB, Tex., in June 1952. He then went on the fighter gunnery training at Orlando, Fla.

Maj. Gen. Billy J. Ellis

He departed for Korea on Christmas Day, 1952, and flew 96 combat missions and amassed 253 combat hours in the Republic F-84 Thunderflash there. Returning from Korea, he served as flight commander and gunnery instructor at Luke AFB, Ariz. Then in 1955 the general was named to fly with the USAF Thunderbirds Aerial Demonstration Team. He became an original member of the world's first supersonic acrobatic team when the Thunderbirds began flying the North American F-100 Supersabre in 1956.

After serving as a commander of a cadet squadron at the Air Force Academy for three years, General Ellis returned to flying duty in 1960 in the F-100. In 1961 his unit, the 22nd Tactical Fighter Squadron in Bitburg AB, Germany, was the first overseas squadron to switch over to the Republic F-105 Thunderchief. He served in Germany until 1963 when he entered Air Command and Staff College at Maxwell AFB, Ala.

While assigned as an F-105 Flight Examiner at Langley AFB, Va., he deployed to Takhli Royal Thai AFB, Thailand and flew 51 combat missions in the F-105 and returned to Langley in 1965.

Upon graduation from the Industrial College of the Armed Forces at Ft. McNair, Washington D.C., he returned to Thailand to fly 338 combat hours in the F-105 and the McDonnell F-4 Phantom.

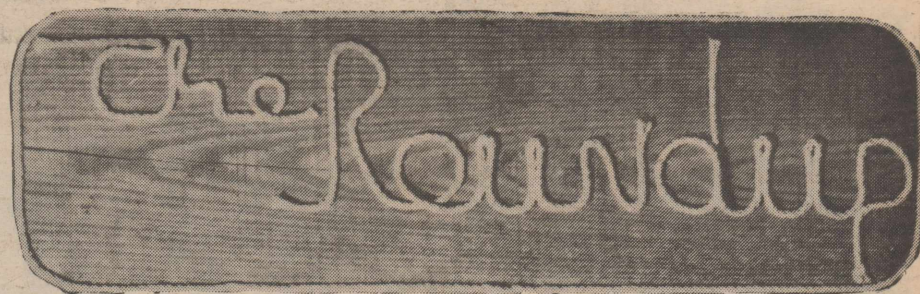

On his return from Southeast Asia General Ellis was assigned as assistant for General Officer Matters at the Pentagon. He assumed command of the 40th Air Division (SAC), at Wurtsmith AFB, Mich. in February 1972. The 40th is the parent unit of five SAC wings.

In February of the next year he assumed command of SAC's 17th Air Division (Provisional) at U-Tapao Airfield, Thailand. He became deputy chief of staff for Operations for SAC on July 1, 1974.

General Ellis has earned the Distinguished Service Medal, Distinguished Flying Cross with two oak leaf clusters, Bronze Star Medal, Air Medal with 10 oak leaf clusters, Legion of Merit with one oak leaf cluster and the Air Force Commendation Medal.

General Ellis is married to the former Barbara H. Higginbotham of Lafayette, La., and they have eight children.

Also at the ceremony, Lt. Col. Robert J. Sandvick, a former prisoner of war, will be presented four awards. Colonel Sandvick will receive the Silver Star with one oak leaf cluster, the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star with the "V" device for valor and the first oak leaf cluster for the Bronze Star with "V" device.

Youth Center invites all to Open House events

By Carter Robinson
Youth Activities Director

Imagine for a moment you are one of today's youths. As with youth of all eras, you want a place you consider yours to meet with your friends and have a good time. Then you come to the new Youth Center and your first thought is "Wow!"

The exterior is stylish, but once inside, great discoveries await. The treasure hunt first reveals a corridor passing the Pre-teen Room, the "Hangout" for people eight-13 years olds. Then you stand beside the reception desk and quickly scan the main room before slowly savoring the details.

A door leads to the Teen Room for 13-18 year-olds, furnished like the Pre-teen Room with pool table, ping pong table, pin ball machines, foosball and game tables. The main room has tables and chairs around the edges of the dance floor and modern furniture that is really super. Huge lounge chairs and an end table on one wall leads the explorer to another room.

This time it is a classroom with piano and mirrors and even bars for ballet classes.

Fireplace Grouping
But the fireplace grouping is too inviting to linger here long. You try out one of the chairs. "Man," this upholstery on plastic frames is terrific. A quick glance out to the patio and you settle into another chair, this time mod fake fur. But the treasure hunt is not over yet, as the music rooms with their sonic dome chairs, AM-FM receivers, turntables, 8-track and cassette recorders demand investigation.

The cheerful orange stools at the counter and orange booths with the wide selection of goodies and drinks in the vending machines make the snack bar a place to enjoy lots of snacking with your friends.

Then you turn and stand in the doorway fixing every detail in your mind before calling a friend to "Come join me at the super new Youth Center — and hurry!"

A Life of "Wow!"
So begins the life of the new Youth Center — a life of "Wow." But don't take my word for it, come out to the Youth Center and see for yourself during the Grand Opening Open House today at 6 p.m. and tomorrow starting at 1 p.m.

Remember, Mom and Dad, sisters and brothers that you are invited to join your Youth Center member at the new Youth Center this weekend for the Grand Opening Open House. Why should the kids have all the fun? Just look at what is going on.

GENERAL VISITS — Gen. Russell E. Dougherty, commander-in-chief of Strategic Air Command (SAC), visited Reese Tuesday along with an information team to present two motivational briefings on the SAC mission. The time between the briefings afforded General Dougherty the opportunity to tour the base and talk to many of Reese's workers. In the picture above, General Dougherty chats with MSgt. Arnold Mathews, Sgt. Steve Leggans, Sgt. Edwin Lathbury and A1C Kim Gannon in the Periodic Maintenance Section of the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron (OMS). Maj. James E. Cason, 64th OMS commander, left, escorted the general through the hangar in the picture below where he stopped to talk with Amn. Troy Young, A1C Michael Randol and Sgt. Gary Rooker. Wing Commander

"Their concern for our mission should make us doubly aware of the importance of our role..."

I was proud to host Gen. Russell E. Dougherty, commander-in-chief of Strategic Air Command, and his briefing team on their visit Tuesday. The general did not come to Reese as a stranger to Air Training Command. During World War II he was an instructor pilot at three Army Air Force Pilot Schools.

General Dougherty voiced his opinion after touring the base, and we can all be pleased with his very favorable impression of our facilities and our people.

The visit by General Dougherty and his SAC team should be impressive evidence to everyone as to how Air Force leaders feel toward undergraduate pilot training.

Their concern for our mission should make us doubly aware of the importance of our role . . . first, an awareness as a team member striving to accomplish a specific goal, and secondly, an awareness that we are contributing directly to the needs of our national defense.

MAYBE IT'S ME... BUT... HAVE YOU GOTTEN THE FEELING HE WASN'T TOO THRILLED WITH THAT LAST "GO AROUND"?

By Capt. J.P. Mogilewicz

Old sayings come together to say 'honesty is best policy'

How did you find it? And how did you leave it? We are always being told, it seems, to "Leave things better than you found them." We must always look for ways to improve existing situations or systems.

"Do it yourself" is another good saying, as that is usually the quickest and cheapest way to make improvements. But as with all good rules there are exceptions. There are certain times when it is better to "Leave well enough alone," as we all know. These can be times when we get involved with things that we know little about. Then "Safety first" and "Let the experts handle it" are better courses of action.

Too often, though, supervisors and subordinates alike are guilty of the "It will only take me a minute" and "I've seen it done before and it looks easy" syndromes. Information required to make prudent decisions may be sketchy or incomplete, but the person who is in a hurry to "Do it now" often does not realize that he does not have "The right tools for the right job." The result is complication of what could have been a simple task for someone with the right "Know-how."

A very good example of each of these things is probably sitting right on your desk or hanging on the wall close by — your telephone.

Say you move into an office or a work center and decide you want to improve on the location of that phone. You know that it will cost nearly $30 to have the phone company come out to do it and that, with money as scarce as it is these days, it may not get done for a long time. So, thinking the job is quick and easy (because you have seen it done before), you proceed and complete the job.

On the surface, at least, the task was a success. But did you know enough to do the job right? Obviously not, because you disregarded safety. Are you really sure of what the potential 50-volt shock will do to your heart if you make a mistake? You were also not aware (or not concerned) of the penalty for moving someone else's property. But later, when the telephone company does find out, it is going to be upset enough to charge the government for the work needed to put the phone back into its original spot. Then you, the one who made the unauthorized move, must repay the government's loss. Finally, if you still want it, you can request the move again, but this time the right way, and end up paying for the move twice.

We pay dearly for the services that we do get from our contractors. But we get quality products and services for our money, with clear and easy recourse in the event of the need for upkeep. If we let the experts do the work for us, we will get our money's worth, honor our contracts and have the job done right, without fear of penalty.

"Do it yourself" is great, but if you're pretty sure you can think of a way to "Leave it better than you found it," just remember, "Honesty is the best policy."

Town Hall answers issue after meeting

The "Town Hall Meeting" Feb. 3 was labeled a "huge success" by officials. Many people turned out to seek answers to base irritants from leaders of the 64th Air Base Group.

Following are some of the questions that were raised at the meeting:

Q. Why don't the exchange barbers cut hair to AFM 35-10 standards?

A. By law, barbers must cut hair to the customer's request.

Q. Are one-way streets on base going to be properly marked? Also, what about the "no left turn" sign at the corner of T-1 and the old Consolidated Base Personnel Office?

A. The "no left turn" sign has been taken down. There is talk now that some of the main streets may be made two-way streets. Signs will be marked accordingly.

Q: Is the austerity program going to prevent Vietnam veterans from receiving normal upgrading and step raises?

A: The base now has a study in progress to see if funds can be found to keep all 91 vets in normal progression. The normal attrition rate is also zero compared to past years. Results of the study will be released very soon.

Q: What can be done about loose dogs and cats in the housing area?

A: In the case of cats, try to catch them or put out a bowl of milk to keep them there until the Security Police can get there. For dogs, just call the SPs. The first offense the owner usually gets a warning. Numerous complaints are grounds for removing the dog, the owner, or both.

Q: What can be done about stocking the Commissary at night?

A: Nothing. Due to tight money and the fact that the night employees would have to be paid 25 per cent extra, it is out of the question. Check with the store before you shop to find when the non-peak hours of use are.

Q: An answer in the Commander's CARE Line in THE ROUNDUP about lighting around the Link building did not cure the problem. You still cannot see at night no matter what the survey says.

A: Maj. Valerio Santos, base civil engineer, admitted that every other street light was turned off to conserve electricity. He personally looked into the question and decided to keep one light on near the Link building and turn off another somewhere else.

Q: What are the Exchange policies on price changes?

A: All items on the shelf will remain the same price even if there is a price increase. New stock coming in will be marked with the new price. Items on lay-away will not go up in price, but will be marked down if items on the shelf are marked down. You may have to bring this to the attention of the sales clerk. About prices in the barber shop and beauty shop, these prices are controlled by law. They cannot be lower than 75 per cent of the average prices downtown. This control comes from the main Army and Air Force Exchange Service in Dallas. All pricing comes from the Dallas office.

Q: Why can't the NCO Open Mess serve food after 9 p.m.?

A: It is a matter of money but Harold Green of Special Services, after looking into the question, says that now hot and cold sandwiches will be served from behind the bar during all club hours.

JOC meets to discuss subjects

By 1st Lt. Tom Salmi
JOC Publicity

Capt. Ken Larson, acting Junior Officer Council (JOC) president, presided over February meeting of the JOC in the Officers' Open Mess Feb. 7.

The new charter for the Reese chapter was presented to the members by Captain Larson. The members will vote on whether to ratify the charter at the next meeting.

A report about the upcoming Air Force Association Banquet was given by Capt. Haynes M. Baumgardner Jr. and 2nd Lt. Sue Armstrong. The event will be held this spring.

A committee has been set up to prepare an Easter picnic for a large group of orphans. The party has been scheduled for the weekend after Easter. Chaplain (Maj.) James Millsaps has offered support for the project through the Chapel.

Capt. Don Seese has prepared and presented a welcome briefing to be given to incoming junior officers at Reese. Plans are being made to put the briefing on slides and tape.

Plans for an orientation trip to Hickam AFB, Hawaii were discussed at the meeting. Also, five standing committees were set up to promote and achieve the goals of the JOC.

The next meeting will be held March 7.

35th FTS cites

McCauley as best instructor for

January

First Lieutenant Terry R. McCauley has been selected 35th Flying Training Squadron Instructor Pilot of the Month of January.

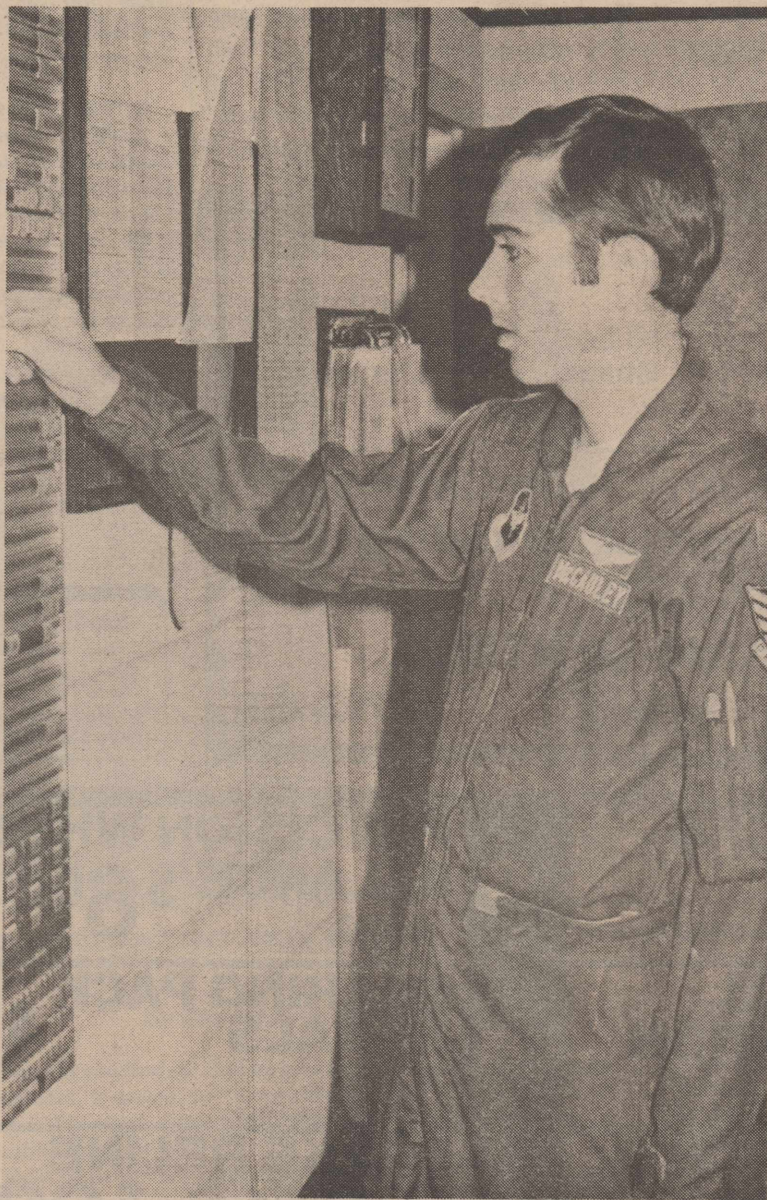

Cited by his Commander, Lt. Col. Robert G. Bradshaw Jr., as giving his students "the finest instruction available," he is often assigned to student pilots who are having trouble in the Cessna T-37 Tweety Bird phase of Undergraduate Pilot Training. "Through countless hours of briefings and instruction, he insures his students are completely prepared for their mission. He makes himself available to his students at all times to work out problems which continually arise," Colonel Bradshaw stated.

A member of "C" Flight in the 35th FTS, Lieutenant McCauley has served as Flight Publications Officer and Flight Scheduling Officer. As Publications Officer, he made sure that all of the Flight's documents were maintained in the best manner. As Scheduling Officer, Lieutenant McCauley spent many hours weekly making the daily flying schedules. In doing this, he had to insure that each student in the Flight kept the best flying continuity, while making sure each scheduled sortie complied with the flying syllabus.

While doing these tasks, Lieutenant McCauley displayed "ingenuity and efficient management" which "set him apart from his peers," said Colonel Bradshaw.

Speaking of the "C" Flight IP's flying skills, Colonel Bradshaw noted "the performance of Lieutenant McCauley on his Standardization/Evaluation rides is not the result of last-minute preparation but is indicative of his day-to-day performance."

Colonel Bradshaw summed up the lieutenant's performance, saying his "continual outstanding performance as both an IP and an officer rank him as one of the finest instructors within Air Training Command."

Commander's CARE Line

(Editor's note: THE ROUNDUP will continue to publish Commander's CARE Line inquiries as long as they are of base-wide interest. All inquiries will be reviewed by the Wing Commander, Col. Schuyler Bissell. Personnel are encouraged to first use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air their complaints, if possible. If these methods do not work, call the CARE Line by dialing C-A-R-E. Personnel are encouraged to give their name, rank and duty section when calling.)

Sir:
We seem to have a problem in Barracks 220 with roaches and little silverfish and things crawling around the room. The Squadron Commander of OMS has been notified and nothing has been done. We talked to him over a month ago. He said immediate action would be taken but nothing has happened yet. I would like to see if something could be done — the bugs are really getting bad. That is all I have, thank you.

A1C Jenicke
64th OMS

Airman Jenicke:

Your barracks was sprayed for bugs Jan. 29 by the base Civil Engineers. Much coordination must be done before such an operation can take place. Your Commander and First Sergeant have been working closely with the Civil Engineers since becoming aware of the problem shortly before Christmas. You and all occupants of bachelor housing on Reese are encouraged to keep your room in an orderly manner at all times. Keeping your room clean and uncluttered will do much to eliminate the problem of roaches and silverfish in the barracks.

Sir:

I cannot give my name but I have just heard that the bag boys at the Commissary... a guy over there is trying to get them to sweep the floor. As the Commissary does not hire bag boys, how can they get them to sweep the floor without paying them? Thank you for your time.

Sir:

The comment I would like to make is about the number five edition of THE ROUNDUP, Feb. 7, 1975. We have a picture of the Wing Commander, Colonel Bissell, outdoors with no hat. I wonder if this is a recent change to 35-10 or is it a violation of 35-10?

TSgt. Griswall
Base Weather

Sir:

I would like to know why you have to write a letter to resign from the NCO Club. Thank you.

A1C Johnson
J-85 Engine Shop

Airman Johnson:

Air Force Regulation 215-1 states that any member who wishes to resign for reasons other than a permanent change of station move, retirement or separation will advise the open mess manager, in writing, of the date he wants his membership stopped. This also is a safeguard for the resigning member, in the unlikely event he was assessed dues after the date he wanted his resignation to be effective.

Sergeant Griswall:

You are right. This is a 35-10 violation. I had been inside the bank and laid my hat on a table. When departing the building to perform the ceremonial ribbon-cutting, I neglected to take my hat with me. Thank you for bringing this to my attention. I hope this will remind the members of the Reese team that even the Wing Commander has to work hard to maintain the 35-10 standards. Let's each resolve to make a greater effort to keep our appearance within the general 35-10 standard of being neat and well-groomed, as well as meeting the various specific rules of this regulation.

Many people at Reese have been under the mistaken impression that a salute was only required when the individual is within speaking distance of the person who would receive the salute. The fact is that AFR 30-1 says nothing about speaking distance. It says that a salute will be given to anyone who is entitled to it as soon as they are recognized as such by a member in uniform.

Valentine's Day

A Day of the Heart

Ever stop to think of the endless poems, songs, and expressions about the heart? The Bible mentions the pharaoh's "hardened heart." When you're depressed you're "sick at heart." A vocalist sings out "here is my heart." And a poet warns: "give crowns and pounds and guineas, but not your heart away."

For centuries people have been interested—even fascinated—with the heart. Ancient legends and myths are still perpetuated in the modern observance of Valentine's Day, February 14, a day of tribute to the heart . . . that miraculous organ . . . the symbol of love and life.

If you're in love, it's an "affair of the heart," and "the quickest way to a man's heart is through his stomach." Now, that may not be accurate anatomy—but it's true all the same, because it's what we put in our stomachs that, for all too many of us, determines what happens to our hearts.

We must all eat to live. But do we have to live to eat? Many Americans do. It's part of the "good life," and it's gracious living to set a "good table." The high cost of eating, however, should change that attitude.

In fact, the high cost of food could be a blessing in disguise. Why? Because foods highest in saturated fats and cholesterol—meats, whole milk, cheese, butter, eggs—are often those most affected by spiraling prices. So if you're eating less meat and leaner meats and using low-fat dairy products, polyunsaturated fats and oils, you're also eating less saturated fat. And that's good for your heart. Polyunsaturated fats tend to decrease cholesterol in the blood.

We all need some cholesterol—our bodies manufacture it naturally. The level of cholesterol in our blood comes from naturally-produced cholesterol and from the saturated fat and cholesterol in the foods we eat. When there is too much cholesterol in our blood, however, it is not good for the heart.

A major contributor to arteriosclerosis, a form of hardening of the arteries, is too much saturated fat and cholesterol in the diet which causes a build-up of fatty deposits in the artery lining. Over the years these deposits narrow and roughen the inner walls of the arteries. If a clot forms in an artery feeding the heart or brain, the flow of blood is reduced—or blocked. The result? Heart attack or stroke, or serious damage to other organs.

Several years ago doctors performed autopsies on young American Servicemen. They were amazed to find many already had signs of advanced arteriosclerosis, and their average age was 22! Doctors also have found similar fatty deposits in the arteries of teenagers and even young children.

To help keep cholesterol levels low, use foods that are low in saturated fat and cholesterol. Instead of butter, buy margarine made from polyunsaturated vegetable oil, eat less fatty meat. Substitute lean meats, fish and poultry. That means fewer cheeseburgers, hot dogs and fat-rich desserts. Eat more non-fat yogurt, skim milk, ice milk and fresh fruit.

The American Heart Association believes that certain "risk factors" can and do increase the risk of heart disease. There are risk factors you can't change—heredity, sex, race and age. You can't change the fact that there may be an inherited tendency in your family toward early heart attack or stroke. If you are a man, chances are you are more vulnerable to heart disease than women. You also can't change the fact that if you're black, you will stand a greater risk of having high blood pressure than your non-black neighbors and this can lead to a host of heart diseases, and—the older you become the greater the likelihood—the risk—of heart attack and stroke. This is true of both men and women. So far medical science can't change these risk factors.

But other risk factors can be reduced. Risk factors that only you can change are cigarette smoking, obesity, lack of exercise, over-emotional reaction to stress, and a diet that's high in saturated fat and cholesterol.

You must decide. Do nothing and take your chances. Or begin that affair of the heart right now. Find and eliminate those risk factors that you can control. Make Valentine's Day last all year round.

Two ways to bars now open to airmen

The Base Education Office has released notes about two routes of commissioning for airmen.

AACP
The Education Office said that Air Force is partly reopening the Airman Education and Commissioning Program (AACP). This opening is for Phase III applicants only. These are people who already have college degrees and wish to apply to the Air Force Institute of Technology (AFIT).

A central selection board will convene at Wright-Patterson AFB, Ohio, March 18 to select people for commissioning during fiscal year 1976. The deadline to apply for this board is March 25. Those airmen who now have an application on file with AFIT are urged to send updated information, such as more recent Airmen Performance Reports, mailing addresses, medical information and any college credit earned since the application was sent.

Further details may be obtained in the Education Office in Bldg. 91.

ROTC
Applications for the Reserve Officer Training Corps (ROTC) are now being taken by the Education Office. They must be in to AFROTC headquarters at Maxwell AFB, Ala., by May 1 for the 1975-76 school year.

Scholarships are either for two or four years, depending upon how much college credit is needed to complete a degree before commissioning. To be eligible, one must:

- Have at least one year of service prior to Oct. 15 of the enrollment year

- Be under 25 years of age as of June 30 of the calendar year in which they will be commissioned

- Be accepted by a college that offers AFROTC training

- Be a citizen of the United States

- Be medically qualified for a commission or flying duty

Further information on this or other programs may be obtained in the Education Office or by calling Ext. 2469 or 2634.

35th FTS Crosswinds

Tweets welcome local schoolkids

By 1st Lt. Tom Salmi

Last week the 35th Flying Training Squadron and the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron co-sponsored a tour of the flightline training and maintenance facilities.

The guests of the tour were 58 sixth grade students and their teachers from Haynes Elementary School. Maj. James E. Cason, 64th OMS commander, and Maj. Lawrence Sproul, section commander for the 35th FTS, made the tour a successful and enjoyable event through their efforts to plan and direct the tour.

A static display of the Cessna T-37 Tweety Bird, the maintenance hangars and Base Operations were the main stops for the tour. As an extra treat, the group was able to witness actual training from a viewpoint in the area of the Runway Supervisory Unit.

After the flightline, the group gathered at the Mathis Recreation Center for refreshments. Judging from the reaction of the group, maybe as a result of this look at Air Force life one of these youngsters may someday be a blue-suiter — maybe a pilot!

Capt. Eddie Meyers has received his new assignment to fly the Boeing B-52 Stratofortress. Capt. Dave Balsillie has been assigned to fly the Boeing KC-135 Stratotanker. Congratulations to Capt. Jerry Wacker and Myrna on the addition to your family. Welcome to the Air Force family, Jennifer!

The 35th FTS basketball team is in second place. The Squadron bowling team has had a series of ups and downs in the league.

flick flack

Sailing adventure, mob violence, an experiment in college sexuality and the classic Mel Brooks western satire highlight this week at Simler Theater.

The base theater has features at 7 p.m. Tuesday through Sunday. The special matinee tomorrow begins at 2 p.m. The box office opens 30 minutes before each showtime.

Tonight

"The Dove" is the true story of a 16-year-old boy who leaves on an around-the-world voyage in a small boat from San Pedro, Calif. A year later in Fiji he meets a young woman educating herself through world travel. She soon is sharing his boat in the adventurous PG-rated odyssey. Joseph Bottoms and Deborah Raffin costar.

Matinee Tomorrow

Simler Theater features the return of "Yog - Monster from Space." An unmanned rocket is overtaken by Yog, a body of particles which has the power to invade the bodies of living things. In animals, Yog grows to huge size, as proven when it enters an octopus, crab and jungle turtle in the G-rated science fiction thriller.

Saturday Evening

Moms Mabley stars as "Amazing Grace," a woman who takes it upon herself to foil a crooked mayor. With the help of his confidential files, she helps a dedicated man defeat the incumbent in the mayoral race in the G-rated feature.

Sunday

"The Nickle Ride" is a close-up look at a samll-time power broker in his neighborhood. The PG film details how he starts to lose his hold and realizes that the violence with which he has lived can turn on him. The revealing film stars Jason Miller and Linda Haynes.

Tuesday

Based on the best-seller by Robert H. Rimmer, "The Harrad Experiment" details an experimental college where premarital relations are the major item of the curriculum. The students are carefully selected by a computer to assure that a shy girl and an experienced boy, or vice versa, are well-matched to share the same room. Nudity may offend some in the interesting film, rated R.

Wednesday

Sondra Currie stars with Tony Young in "Policewomen," the offbeat story of women in the front line of danger. Sent to break up a gang of women who are bringing in contraband on ships, her karate is lethal and she captures the ship. She and her partner further investigate the gang's activities in this action-packed crime flick, rated R.

Thursday

Mel Brooks' "Blazing Saddles" is a burlesque of all the old Western cliches. The story centers on the efforts of a villainous attorney general to make a fortune off of the new railroad by driving the citizens of Rock Ridge out of their town. He persuades the corrupt governor (a cross-eyed humanoid version of Daffy Duck) to hire a black sheriff to send the bigoted townfolk packing. Outrageous at times, the satirical spoof has proven to be one of the most controversial and successful films of 1974. The comedy is rated R.

at Mathis

"Los Juanes" will start off this week's entertainment at the Mathis Recreation Center with a dance tonight.

Tonight - The group will begin at 9 p.m. and play until 1 a.m.

Tomorrow - The weekly pool tournament will begin at 5:30 p.m.

Disc-a-Go action begins at 8 p.m.

Sunday - Table tennis action starts at 2 p.m. Coffee will also be served at this time. A dance featuring "The Techniques IV" will be held from 6-10 p.m.

Monday - The Center will celebrate St. Patrick's Day with food and fun.

Tuesday - Air hockey tourney action starts at 7 p.m.

Wednesday - A Skip-Bo tournament will start at 7 p.m.

Thursday - Films will be shown at Mathis beginning at 7 p.m.

at Open Messes

Bring your Valentine to the Officers' Open Mess tonight for T-bone Steak for $4.45. "The Sound Foundation" will provide dance music tonight.

The Prime Rib Dinner tomorrow night for $4.95 will precede music by "Magenta" (formerly "The Raiders"). The Pancake Hangar will be open from 10:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m. Sunday for breakfast. The Formal Lounge will also be open Sunday from 1 to 8 p.m. for sandwiches and pizza and checks may be cashed in the Lounge.

Monday the Officers' Mess will be closed for the holiday. Tuesday is Chinese Night - chop suey with steamed rice and crisp noodles for $1.95. Steak Night Wednesday offers a 12-ounce club steak for $3.95. A Fish Fry with all the trimmings is offered for $1.95 Thursday. "Gemini" will provide music Wednesday and Thursday.

A German Buffet for $3.25 and dancing to the music of a German band, "The Hungry Six," will kick off this week's NCO Open Mess events.

A Soul Food Special for $2.50 and dancing to "Funk Factory #5" will be featured tomorrow at the NCO Mess. Sunday and Thursday nights feature Discotheque.

Every Monday night during February the club will offer its Chicken Special - all-you-can-eat for $2. Also on Monday nights is the Pinochle Tournament, open to members and women are invited to play.

Every Tuesday during the month, bring your boss or buddy to the club for two-for-one steaks for $4.50.

New pilots take flight today

By 1st Lt. Phil Baker

Hi, Sports Fans! Congratulations to "A" and "E" Flights of Class 75-05 upon graduation today.

I am sure all will be ready for a breather after the past two weeks. Best of luck to all in your future assignments!

Has anyone wondered why Capt. Jon Swanson of Check Section has been keeping a low profile lately? Well, here is the straight skinny. As everyone knows, Jon received his assignment to fly the Lockheed C-130 Hercules last week and this caused a sudden interest in this type of aircraft. Later last week, Jon went to Davis Monthan AFB, Ariz., on an out-and-back with the senior class and half of Check Section (probably his first mistake).

Couldn't Resist

When getting ready to depart D.M., Swance noticed a couple of 130s sitting on the ramp. He informed his stud that he was going to take a look at his new flying machine (definitely his second mistake). The next thing the student (whose name is omitted to protect the innocent) knew, a crew chief ambled over and informed him that the captain was being held by the Security Police. Well, the stud figured that was where he belonged but he also figured he probably should tell someone else about it.

Capt. Jim Twadell of Check Section was climbing into his aircraft when he felt a tug on his pants leg, and when turning around was faced with a bewildered student. "Uh, sir, Captain Swanson is in the pokie." "WHAT?" Jim replied.

Jim crawled out of his Northrop T-38 Talon and moseyed into Base Ops thinking, "Oh well, that's where he probably belongs anyway." Jim gave the SPs a call and, sure enough, they were holding a Captain Swanson and needed someone to identify him before he could be released. Jim volunteered and said he would meet the SPs in front of Base Ops.

With sirens screaming and red lights flashing, the cars screeched to a halt in front of Captain Twadell and told and told him to jump in. He did and they were off and runnin'. "Uh, what's the rush?" Jim asked, trying to sound important instead of scared to death like he really was. Looking at his watch, one SP replied, "We only have three minutes sir." Jim thought, "I knew I should have just left him!"

Identification

They arrived safely and rushed into the desk sergeant's office. There was good old Swanee leaning against the wall looking somewhat disgruntled and red-faced. The next line out of Twadell was very predictable. He said, "Why I have never seen him before in my life!" Nobody thought it the least bit humorous, especially Big Jon.

Shortly there after, Jim quit clowning around and got Jon out of cahoots. The reason for the rush was that after 30 minutes, the base would have been required to go through the Military Personnel Center at Randolph AFB, Tex., for identification which, needless to say, requires a lot of red tape and paperwork.

Swanee made one last mistake when he cancelled the flying safety meeting Feb. 6 and made it Tuesday. Now everyone will be all ears for his topic, "The Security and Care Surrounding the C-130." — P.B.

Crime Stop

Ext. 2400

By Sgt. Dennis Box

Someone, probably one or more airmen living in your dorm, is trying to "rip you off" by stealing things you own.

During the short time from Dec. 23 to Jan. 8, a total of $1,900 worth of stereo equipment was ripped off from airmen living in dorms. The items ranged from a $135 Craig stereo unit to a $1,000 amplifier/turntable with four speakers.

Of eight theft cases reported, only three (worth $550) were solved and the items recovered. This small ratio is partly a result of the public's failure to become involved. The lack of investigative leads, witnesses or suspects at the scene of the crimes make them almost impossible to solve.

It is possible that when the break-ins occurred, the thief (thieves) made enough noise to cause a neighbor to see what was going on and report the theft right then. If the public had become involved, these cases could have been solved much faster. Plus, more of the five remaining cases could have been solved.

Also, sources lead us to believe that the thieves have also "hit" other rooms where people are on leave and the thefts have not been reported.

Help us help you by reporting any information you might have about these thefts. You need not reveal your name. If you do have any information, call Security Police Investigation, Ext. 2612 or 2400.

Also, to help find your property if it is stolen, the Reese Security Police have an identification program in effect. You may bring your small valuables to Bldg. 411 during duty hours and have your Social Security number and/or driver's license etched on any permanent surface with an electric pencil. This device may also be checked out on temporary loan for your items too large or too heavy to take to our building.

A word to the wise: we repeat that on Jan. 28 a Special Courts Martial was held. At that court martial a member pleaded guilty to charges of receiving and concealing stolen goods. He was sentenced to four months' confinement at Leavenworth. He also was reduced to airman basic, forfeited $200 for four months and given a Bad Conduct Discharge.

Was it really worth it?

Patrons will support commissary

A decision to require commissary patrons to bear all direct costs of the store's operation has been made, according to a recent fact sheet.

Unlike base exchanges, which are generally self-supporting, military commissary stores are supported by appropriated funds as far as the payroll costs of those employed there is concerned. Starting Oct. 1, patrons will begin bearing half of these direct costs. One year later, on Oct. 1, 1976, and thereafter, commissary patrons will be required to support all of the costs, except for the cost of transporting goods to overseas stores, said the fact sheet.

The fact sheet went on, "A major consideration in arriving at this decision is the fact that active duty military compensation is now generally competitive with other public as well as private sector compensation. Therefore, the heretofore broadly-accepted justification for direct subsidy of the commissary stores is substantially weakened."

The degree to which the savings normally offered by commissaries will be reduced is not yet certain. The Department of Defense intends to maintain the commissary system. It will make whatever changes are needed to improve the "efficiency, organization and operating structure of the system," the fact sheet concluded.

New Comedy at Cinema I & II

"YOUNG FRANKENSTEIN" is a triumph for the very funny genius of Wilder and Brooks. — Judith Christ, NEW YORK MAGAZINE... "The funniest film of the season." — Andrew Sarris, VILLAGE VOICE.

The energy displayed in Mel Brooks' films, "The Producers," "The Twelve Chairs," "Blazing Saddles" and now in "YOUNG FRANKENSTEIN" is as much a reflection of his personality as his gift of wild, comedic invention.

In the new film it is the intent of Frankenstein (Gene Wilder) to endow his humanoid with the brain of a distinguished scientist, but a mistake by Igor (Marty Feldman), his assistant, results in the implantation of that of an unstable person.

However, in "YOUNG FRANKENSTEIN," the Monster played by Peter Boyle, responds to human affection.

Other stars in the 20th Century-Fox release are Cloris Leachman, Madeline Kahn, Teri Garr and Kenneth Mars. Mel Brooks directed from an original screenplay by Gene Wilder and Mel Brooks.

"Let Me Hear You Smile"

HAYLOFT DINNER THEATER: E.J. Peaker comes to the Hayloft to star in the funny love story "Let Me Hear You Smile". The action of the play starts today and goes back in the final act to 1905. E.J., a 1967 Hollywood Deb Star has made quest appearances in many shows including the "Tonight Show", "Occasional Wife", "That Girl", "Second Hundred Years", "The Flying Nun", Merv Griffin, and "Mike Douglas Show." She starred in the Walt Disney Special "Disneyland Showtime". She was born in Tulsa, grew up in Pueblo, Colorado, and attended the University of New Mexico. Her debut in "Hello, Dolly" opposite Barbara Streisand was the big start in her career.

E.J. co-starred with Robert Morse in the T.V. comedy "That's Life."

President sends FY 76 budget to Congress

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - President Ford has submitted the fiscal year 1976 Department of Defense (DoD) budget to Congress. The DoD budget request for total obligational authority is $104.7 billion, an increase of $15.7 billion over fiscal year 1975.

This budget contains monies to cover the transition period to the new fiscal year prescribed by the Congressional Budget Act of 1974. This act will delay fiscal year 1977 starting date from July 1, 1976, to Sept. 30, 1976.

Also, as required by the Congressional Budget Act, the President's budget contains five-year projections for the DoD and other federal agencies. Defense budget highlights follow:

Financial

The Defense budget estimates are based upon some important assumptions as to Congressional action and as to economic trends.

For fiscal year 1976, the estimates assume approval of the President's proposals to hold federal pay raises and retiree cost-of-living increases to five per cent. They also resume enactment of legislation which would produce receipts for sale of petroleum from the reserves. If these assumptions are not borne out, spending in fiscal year 1976 would be $95 billion or $2.2 billion more than the budget estimate.

Total Obligational Authority

The fiscal year 1976 budget request for total obligational authority (TOA) is $104.7 billion, an increase of $15.7 billion over fiscal year 1975. This increase is required in large measure to cover pay raises and inflation. Also, it includes $2.3 billion necessary to cover increased costs for ships approved by the Congress in fiscal year 1975 and prior years, largely due to unforeseen inflation.

The budget request for the transition period is $24.6 billion for total obligational authority. The request for this period is based upon amounts required to continue ongoing programs during the transition to the new fiscal year which will be on an October through September basis, beginning Oct. 1, 1976.

For the period fiscal year 1977 through fiscal year 1980, Defense total obligational authority is projected to rise at about two per cent per year in terms of real purchasing power in order to provide for selective improvements and to take advantage of changes in technology. The President's budget contains projections of budget authority of $116.6 billion, $127.8 billion, $138.3 billion, and $147.9 billion, respectively.

Major Budget Changes

The increase related to military personnel funding requirements is substantially all for increased pay and allowances. In terms of constant dollars, there is actually a reduction of $443 million related to reduced strength levels and reduced proficiency pay and bonus payment programs.

The requirements for retired pay continue to increase in fiscal year 1976 to a new aggregate level of $6.9 billion.

While a substantial portion of the budget request for operation and maintenance relates to pay increases and purchase inflation, there is real program growth of $652 million planned for areas which will contribute to material and personnel readiness.

In procurement, the production rates for the A-10 and the F-15 aircraft programs are continuing to build up in fiscal year 1976. Compensating in part for increases in the weapon system acquisition area are reduced requirements in the budget for programs such as the F-14A aircraft and the Trident submarine programs.

While approximately $700 million of the increased research, development, test and evaluation request is required for pay increases and purchase inflation, there is a constant dollar growth of about $1 billion. This increase is associated with a number of major weapon systems projects, such as Trident missiles, Air Force and Navy cruise missile programs and the B-1 bomber program, plus continued emphasis on systems in development, such as the air combat fighter program which enters full-scale development.

Real increases of over $800 million have been programmed in military construction for continued emphasis on replacing upgrading troop housing, modernizing health facilities, and sheltering in-place dual-based and rapid-reaction aircraft in Europe.

The programs for family housing, civil defense, and military assistance remain relatively constant in fiscal year 1976. The military assistance request includes $1.293 billion for defense assistance to South Vietnam.

Strategic missile forces do not change in total. By end fiscal year 1976, the force will consist of 450 Minuteman II missiles, 550 Minuteman III missiles, 13 Polaris submarines, 54 Titan II missiles, and 28 Poseidon submarines.

The total number of strategic bombers remains unchanged but the B-52 force has been reorganized into one less squadron at 22. The FB-111 squadrons remain constant at four.

The manned fighter interceptor squadron force will be maintained at six F-106 squadrons.

The Air Force fighter force is maintained at 22 wings. There is, however, a reduction of one F-4 squadron and two A-7 squadrons with the introduction of the first two F-15 squadrons into the force. The majority of aircraft from the squadron reductions will be given to the Air National Guard for continued modernization of its force.

There is no change in the C-5A and C-141 force structure from fiscal year 1975 to fiscal year 1976.

Total Defense direct military and civilian employment at the end of fiscal year 1976 will be 3,085,000. This represents a further reduction of 38,000 below the end fiscal year 1975 strength.

Military personnel strength continues to decrease in total. The reduction of 22,000 in the Air Force represents reduced overseas deployments and force realignments.

Defense-related industry employment will continue to decline in fiscal year 1976, and Defense manpower (direct and industry-related) will take only 4.8 per cent of the total labor force in fiscal year 1976.

The fiscal year 1976 Defense budget provides for maintaining Defense preparedness in the interest of ensuring peace and international stability.

As Secretary of Defense James R. Schlesinger has stated: "Maintenance of a worldwide military equilibrium is essential to the American society as we know it today. An equilibrium of force is as vital in undergirding detente as it is indispensable in a period of tension. If we are to abandon the maintenance of a worldwide military balance, it should be done consciously with full understanding of the long-term consequences rather than unconsciously because of generalized discontent or the neglect of the consequences of inflation."

BX clears dry cleaning price question up further

A question was brought up at an Enlisted Advisory Council meeting which dealt with pricing on items brought in to the Base Exchange Laundry for dry cleaning.

Specifically, the question was "Why do high-fashion flared pants cost more to dry clean than straight pants and why does a size 28 pair of pants cost the same as a size 50 pair to dry clean?"

According to Army and Air Force

Exchange Service (AAFES) spokesmen, the AAFES pricing policies for all services are based on price surveys made in the local area for like services. Fees and charges are set with much effort to get the lowest possible price for quality work. These prices, the spokesmen noted, are most often to the patron's advantage.

Charges for services are open to examination at each service outlet during normal operating hours.

THE '75 VOLVO IS A CAR YOU CAN LIVE WITH.

Every Volvo—from our luxuriously equipped 164 sedan to our two-door 242—is built to hold up. Each of the six roof supports is designed to support the weight of the car. Every front end is designed to absorb highway-speed impacts and protect the passenger compartment.

Inside, a family of five can grow bigger. Backseat leg room is adult-size, not child-size. A family can even expand in one Volvo...the station wagon. It can be fitted with an optional third seat.

WHAT ABOUT MILEAGE?

Gas mileage on all models is excellent. Even our 164 gets 15 mpg in the city, 22 mpg on the highway.* And luxury cars aren't supposed to do that.

The intervals between regular maintenance checks have been lengthened on all '75 Volvos. And a new electronic ignition should require less maintenance.

Long-wearing steel-belted radial tires are standard on all models.

And our replacement parts warranty goes as far as our new car warranty: unlimited mileage for one year.

See us soon. While you can go other places and get a good allowance on your used car, you have to come to us to get a good Volvo in return.

TOP WORKER — A1C James F. Harrington reads an aircraft X-ray as part of his job in the (are you ready for this?) Nondestructive Inspection/Spectrometric Oil Analysis Laboratory. Airman Harrington was named Wing Airman of the Month for January. (U.S. Air Force Photo by Tsgt. Rich Godfrey)

Airman Harrington named month's best

A1C James F. Harrington of the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron (FMS) has been named Wing Airman of the Month for January.

In nominating Airman Harrington for the honor, his Commander, Lt. Col. Don L. Morris commented, "He is an extremely mature and well-adjusted young man who has become an invaluable asset to the Nondestructive Inspection/Spectrometric Oil Analysis Laboratory."

In the area of self-improvement, the airman was noted for his effort in completing his career development courses with a 93 per cent average.

Colonel Morris also cited the airman as being courteous, extremely considerate and friendly. "His even temper," the colonel continued, "enables him to deal tactfully with personnel of all grades. Airman Harrington's personal appearance and conduct on and off duty are beyond reproach."

In his spare time, Airman Harrington is also very active in programs supported by his church. Colonel Morris concluded, "Airman Harrington possesses initiative and common sense to a degree rarely observed in his contemporaries. I urge his selection for the single honor of Wing Airman of the Month."

Concerned workers let good ideas earn rewards

Mrs. Shirley Alana of the Special Services Division received $50 during a recent ceremony for an idea she submitted to the Suggestion Program.

Her idea to list fees and charges was approved by Air Training Command (ATC) with intangible benefits. The largest cash award to a military person went to 2nd Lt. Leon R. Casaubon of the 64th Student Squadron for maps of navigation he developed for the local flying area. The savings from his idea have been estimated at $314 and he was awarded $35.

In all, 17 military people and six civilians received awards for their ideas in the Air Force Suggestion Program here.

Capt. Donald A. LaMontagne of the 35th Flying Training Squadron (FTS) received $30 for his idea of a new method of purchase and control of instrument hoods used in flying training. The savings in this case will be $270 for Reese each year.

$25 Awards

Each of the following people received cash awards of $25 for their ideas that will improve methods and procedures at Reese: Capt. Richard D. Jennings and 1st Lt. Sanford C. Lewis of the 54th Flying Training Squadron; Homer McKee of the 64th Field Maintenance Squadron (FMS); SSgt. Brian Prigmore of the Reese USAF Hospital and SSgt. Harry L. Sumrall of the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron.

Twelve people received certificates of merit for their ideas. In the 35th FTS, Capt. Alan L. Strzemieczny and 1st Lt. Lafayette P. Temple III each received two certificates. In that unit, certificates also went to Capt. Jerry D. Prather and 1st Lt. Michael Rossi.

In the Reese USAF Hospital, certificates were presented to Mrs. Cartha J. Curry, Dr. (Capt.) Bruce D. Fried and SSgt. Douglas A. Ballinger. SSgt. Victor D. Chandler of the 64th FMS also received a certificate as did AIC Frederick E. Medsker of the same squadron.

In the Security Police Division, A1C Tony A. Bruce received a suggestion certificate. Two women also received certificates in the 64th Supply Squadron. They are Mrs. Vivian A. Hines and Mrs. Viola Pate.

Those wishing to participate in the program or needing more information may call the Suggestion Program Coordinator, Fred Flewellen, at Ext. 2823.

Chapel's 'TA' program might prove interesting

By Chaplain (Col.) William W. Campbell
Senior Installation Chaplain

People meeting and talking, husbands coming home from work, cashiers in their shops, even teachers and students interact in certain ways.

During everyday encounters with other people, we are left with good feelings, and sometimes with bad feelings. WHY? Dr. Eric Berne, the founder of Transactional Analysis

(TA) and author of "Games People Play," suggests that people look for and seek out people that will help them feel either good or bad.

If you would like a chance at finding out some interesting things about yourself and how and why you interact with others, then you will be happy to know that a TA group will be started on the base. The group, which will be under the auspices of the base Chapel, will meet starting from 7 to 9 p.m. Thursday night at the Chapel.

The group facilitator will be Matt Stricherz. Matt is now completing work at Texas Tech for the Doctor of Education degree and has been involved in TA for the past two years, both on Guam and here in Lubbock.

The group will be helpful for working men and women, housewives, instructors, supervisors, students, and generally anyone wishing to know more about themselves.

There are 55.1 million men age 20-64 in the U.S. and 26.4 million or 48 per cent are veterans of the Armed Forces.

The Chapel is also organizing a series of group sessions for parents under the direction of Dr. Welborn K. Willingham, head of the Psychology Department of Texas Tech University. Aiding Willingham will be some of his graduate students. The sessions will deal with Parent Education and Counseling and will give parents with children of all ages help in becoming better parents. The group will meet for four to six weeks at 7:30 p.m. each Wednesday starting this Wednesday in the Chapel Center.

If you are interested in either group, we ask that you contact Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Philip E. Grimmett Jr., at Ext. 2237 by Monday for more information. Both groups are open to anyone who desires to attend.

News Briefs

The "Top Three Call" will be held at 4 p.m., Wednesday in the NCO Open Mess. The purpose of the call is to keep all in the top three enlisted ranks informed about "how goes it" at Reese. The formation is mandatory.

*****

The base golf course will be open for play Monday while the base is closed for the national observance of Washington's Birthday. In turn, the course will be closed Tuesday.

*****

An interesting fact recently surfaced at a Wing Staff meeting. It was noted that Reese is the only base in Air Training Command having all officers who have earned some college credit. Reese also has the lowest number of non-high school graduates in ATC.

*****

Air Force officials have announced the rescheduling of the lieutenant colonel promotion selection board from April to late September. The reporting cycle of the new officer effectiveness report (OER) from a triannual to annual was the basis for the change. The slippage of the board date will allow use of the new OER by the fiscal year 1976 board. Since the effective date of promotions from the fiscal year 1975 board are projected into November, the new board date will have no effect on the new selectees.

*****

New operating hours have been announced for the base hobby shops for Fridays. The Ceramics, Lapidary, Leather and Wood Hobby Shops will now be open from 10 a.m. until 6 p.m. on that day. The Photo Hobby Shop will be closed Fridays.

*****

The reunion of the 366th Tactical Fighter Wing will be held May 16, 17, and 18 at the El Tropicano Motor Hotel in San Antonio. People planning to attend the reunion are asked to contact Lt. Col. Grant C. Stanfill at Randolph AFB, Tex., at AUTOVON 487-3117 or write him at the 12th Flying Training Wing, D00, Randolph AFB, Tex., 78418.

*****

Cub Scout Pack 548 has scheduled its "Blue and Gold Banquet" for Feb. 27 in the NCO Open Mess. This affair annually commemorates the anniversary of Cub Scouting. The opening ceremony will begin at 7 p.m. Reservations must be made in advance with each Cub's respective den no later than Wednesday. A price of $2 per person will be turned in with the reservations.

Mission Essential

By Capt. James H. Dilda

I may never soar
To lofty heights and touch my Maker's face
Nor "pickle" iron and flame
To gain a hero's place;
But I can hold my own and more,
At any task you name.

I'm a paper-shuffler, a knuckle-busting mechanic,
A bomb loader, security policeman, civil engineer,
Weatherman, air traffic controller,
Lawyer, doctor, nurse, cook

And all the other gals and guys
Who sort the mail, "write" the checks
And handle the unsung jobs that must go on —
Rain or shine, 'round the clock,
Before an airplane flies.

I wear my blue suit, fatigues, whites and civvies proudly;
And I sweat and fear and bleed
Just like a common man,
But I'm a special breed.

I've got a "can do" attitude that just won't quit.

If there's a better, faster, safer way,
I'll be "in there" trying;
Because that's my mission, and I do it well —
I keep the airplanes flying.

Good news, bad news from Simler Theater

By 2nd Lt. Max Fisher
Theater Officer

If you attend movies with any regularity at Simler Theater, you will probably notice two changes at the Sunday performance.

Smokers will be able to relieve those withdrawal pains in the lobby of the theater. That's right — cigarette smoking will be allowed in the lobby only. Please do not abuse this privilege by throwing butts on the floor. Use the ashtrays which are provided.

Due to a few people who are not able to keep their soft drink cans in a vertical position, bringing drinks into the theater auditorium is not allowed. By taking these steps we hope to solve two major problems. It will relieve the janitors of the task of cleaning spilt soft drinks. Also, it will remove the chance of someone twisting an ankle on an empty soda can.

Your cooperation with this matter will be appreciated.

Volleyball signups set

Deadline for Intramural Volleyball entries is Thursday. There will be a meeting of all coaches at 5 p.m. March 3 in the base Gym.

Lanes scores stay on upward swing

By Sonny Serutan

Have you noticed more people are bowling the high games lately? Some of the new bowlers are finding the errors and flaws in their game and are really coming on like Gangbusters.

We have no scores for the Reesette, Intramural, Cottonpickers or the Bantam Leagues.

The morning of Feb. 5, Nancy Anderson led the Renegades with a 468 series. Nancy Kamper had high game (175) and a 457 series.

Personnel

The Personnel Division really spread the good games around. Richard Lormand had a 204 game and a 554 series, Don Shirley had a 545 series, Jim Shomper had a 536 and Don Anderson had a 503. Rusty Grady had a 207 game and a 492 series. Hassie Tinsley had a 465 and Donna Shirley had a 456. Sue Tuffs joined the ranks of the bombers with a 433.

Feb. 6 the Ball & Chain League saw Rod Wilson "bomb in" a 234 game and a 597 series. Denny Hodapp had a 211 game — 587 series, Jerry Boudreau had a 535 series. Paul Lewis had a 216 game (be nice, don't ask what he had for series). Hassie Tinsley had a 482 series. You know the future Mrs. Rod Wilson really tore up some pins.

Did you ever wonder what a nice girl like Hassie...?

Anyway, back to business. Marie Buck had a 181 and Jean Taylor had a 202 but series honors went to Rusty Grady with a 491.

Late Show

The Late Show decided it was time to bowl. Skip McGarrigle had a 225 game, 619 series (he bowls good, for one so young). Bob Shrewsbury had a 202 game, 505 series and Bob Gregorio had a 195 game, 517 series. For the ladies, Jo Ann Clark had a 165 game and Carole Stano had a 440 series.

Not to detract from Jo Ann's game, but last week she left perhaps one of the most unusual splits in the game of bowling. She moved the 9 pin off spot and it stood up behind the 6 pin (that's how the ball got off the lane). When the rack came down it knocked the pin down. When lane personnel reset the pin it had to go back to its original spot. The leave was the 4,6,7,8,9 and 10 pins (try that with your book of records, Guinness).

Rumor has it that some old lady that works in the BX had a 584 series Friday night, but Gladys Mele and I know you cannot believe rumors, right Limey?

The scores for the Junior-Senior League got lost Feb. 1 but Kim Payne had a 152 game and Lanette Wright had a 148. High series honors for the young ladies went to Cindy Cook with a 409. The young men had Randy Turner 199 - 515 and George Stepneck 200 - 514.

This week Rob Gregorio had a 182 game. Nice guy, he stayed around after league play and gave his Dad some pointers. Randy Turner had a 178 - 520 and Jeff Turner had a 177 - 483. For the young ladies, Erin McGarrigle 142 - 383.

Oops!

Our apologies to Bill Anderson who bowled a 555 last week and we reported the score properly but we attributed the score to "Cindy" Anderson. What a dumb mistake, everybody knows Cindy was his maiden name.

Almost had some live entertainment for Sonny's Place, but we just missed again. I had the bravest man in the world coming in to give a talk but he is home nursing a sore thumb. Get this — he beat the Stano - Garza team (both dentists) and had a dental appointment the next day (that's brave!). He will go down in dental history — this is the first time a molar was removed through the right thumb.

Sonny Says - Bowl a frame at a time — every frame — a miniature game of its own.

Dear Dummy,

When are you going to mention the awards given to bowlers in the American Junior Bowling Congress four weeks ago? Doug Payne and Val Williams got patches for bowling more than 150 and Erin McGarrigle got a patch for bowling more than 200.

I hope Rusty Grady belts you.

A Reader

P.S. Does Skip read your column? Dear Reader,

I blew the award bit.

Rusty will not belt me because she is afraid — afraid she might kill me.

Skip does not read the column for one very good reason which I will not state here, but you know that there is no need for a bowling lanes manager to be literate.

Judging from your salutation, you are not very smart, either. That is not the way you spell...

... Sonny

Gym 1, Cheeseburgers 0

By Capt. Bill Giese

Do your heart some good and spend your noon hour at the base Gym.

Trade in those nasty cheeseburgers for some jogging, paddleball or basketball. Then top it off with a sauna.

For all interested military women,

TWO! — 2053rd Communication Squadron's Joe Paul (14) leaps up, leans back and swishes a beautiful jump shot during an Intramural Basketball bout Monday, much to the chagrin of an unidentified 64th Student Squadron defender. The Comm team maintained their second-place status by beating the Student Squadron roundballers 68-44. (U.S. Air Force Photo by Sgt. Buddy Lerch)

Gym catches jogger flaw

Due to an error on the Reese Joggers' Club tally board, THE ROUNDUP reported that Pete Delandero had run 503 miles. That figure should have read 483 miles.

Tony Guerrero's total stands this week at 210.0, for second place. John Gomes has 175 miles on the Club's board.

John Webb has run 172.5, Tom Cofer, 170.4, Terry Dill, 116 and John Doring, 101.5.

Ed Burhans has run 81 miles so far and Don Stone and John Krig have both run 80 miles in the Club.

JOIN THE MARINAS!

AND SAVE $400.00

The $2,899 Tough Marina is now $2,499.*

It has to be the best car buy in America. Check these standard features:

The gas-saving MG engine for lively performance and over-20-miles-per-gallon economy. • Disc brakes, four speed stick, and responsive rack and pinion steering, like some of the world's most exciting sports cars. • Gas-saving and long-lasting radial-ply tires. • Contour bucket seats up front and a full rear seat with fold-down padded armrest. • 13 cubic feet of usable trunk space—nearly twice as much as a Toyota Corolla's. • Tastefully appointed interior with easy-to-read instrumentation. • Tinted glass all around. • All standard on the 1974 Marina. And, for only $2,499, it all adds up to the best buy in America today.

*Manufacturer's suggested retail price P.O.E. (1974 4-door sedan). Inland transportation, local taxes, preparation charges and options extra.

• Top Trade-in allowances • LNB Financing available • Complete inventory • Lease plan available •
