Society Drive Passes Goal; $1,841 Given

Surpassing its goal, the Air Force Aid Society drive held at Reese during August received $1,851.40 in donations, Lt. Col. Howard P. Mann, project officer, stated in his final report released this week.

Of the total, $354.06 was contributed to the educational fund and $1,497.34 to the general fund.

The colonel reported per capita contributions of 98 cents, as compared to 84 cents in 1963 and 86 cents in 1964. Contributions included $11.58 from the Cotton Bowlers team of couples, the only organization to contribute this year.

Reaching or passing $1 average contribution per man were headquarters of Air Base Group, Field Maintenance Squadron, both Pilot Training Squadrons, Field Training Detachment, Management Engineering Detachment and Weather Detachment.

The 1964 campaign raised $2,395, with more personnel assigned.

"I am deeply grateful for the vigorous support provided by unit commanders and key workers throughout the wing, Col. Mann stated. "Their combined efforts made the 1965 Air Force Aid Society campaign at Reese a success."

Two Lieutenants Put On Captain Bars This Month

Two Reese first lieutenants, Donald D. Nelson and Ben F. Perry, become captains this month, a year after notification of their selection for the higher rank. Lieutenant Nelson assumes higher rank Saturday and Lieutenant Perry on Sept. 24.

Lieutenant Nelson, Lincoln, Neb., came to Reese in June, 1961, as a student pilot and remained as an instructor pilot. He presently is an academic instructor. He is a graduate of the University of Nebraska, where he was commissioned through Air Force ROTC.

Lieutenant Perry, from Knoxville, Tenn., is a former student of the University of Tennessee who came to Reese in 1962, following commissioning through Officer Candidate School. He is an instructor pilot in the 3500th Pilot Training Squadron.

STRIPE QUOTA TRIPLES

HQ. ATC (ATCPS) — Air Training Command's stripe allocations for promotions to airman second class through staff sergeant in the October cycle more than triple the number received by ATC for June promotions.

The quota for October totals 4,245 stripes; June's stripe quota amounted to 1,336. Included in the ATC quota for October promotions are 845 to staff sergeant, 1,164 to airman first class, and 2,236 to airman second class.

Reese Ends Summer Safety Program; Record Improved

Reese concluded its "101 Critical Days" program over the week-end without recording a fatality during the period and cutting its accidents sharply from 1964, Maj. Dreier, safety director, reported.

Air Training Command conducted the "101 Critical Days" in an effort to reduce accidents from Memorial Day through Labor Day. Success of the program was marked.

Reese during the 101 days had three private vehicle accidents, two involving reportable motorcycle accidents. It also had five other reportable accidents for a total of eight. There were 18 accidents, with 10 not reportable.

During the same period in 1964 Reese had four private vehicle accidents, including one fatality. It also had 12 other military disabling accidents.

The Labor Day weekend for Reese was marked by a single accident. A military man strained his back wrestling and was forced to miss work after the holiday.

"We did well during the '101 Critical Days,' said Major Dreier. "The record shows we gave thought to safety and were cautious. Everyone should be pleased."

"But more critical days are ahead. The record shows that too many times throughout our nation when a special safety campaign is ended there may be a let-up in our thinking. Too many times the accident rate rises sharply after special periods end.

"We have proven that we can avoid accidents most of the time. We have proven that we can write a good safety record. But we cannot have a let-up. We must stay with our safety thinking and remain alert to danger."

TREATS 2-MILLIONTH

KEESLER AFB (ATCPS)—The USAF hospital here treated its two millionth outpatient recently. He was A2C Robert D. Alsbrook, 22-year-old airman, was the patient. "I went to sick call to be checked for some minor surgery, and presto, I was a celebrity," he said.

Officer Promotion Prospects Bright

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — Officer grade relief legislation enacted by the Congress late in August promises the brightest field grade promotion prospects in Fiscal Year 1966 since the officer grade limitation act of 1954, Air Force officials state.

Under the legislative provisions, the number of colonels authorized is increased to 6,300 and lieutenant colonels to 15,901.

The increase will allow the Air Force to promote more to the top three field grades this fiscal year, increase the selection percentage significantly, and roll back the phase points for 0-4 and 0-5.

This is the way the promotion outlooks appears now:

0 to colonel—quota of 1,000. Increase in selection ratio to 45 per cent of the first time eligibles.

0 to lieutenant colonel—quota of 4,900. Selection ratio of 75 per cent of first time eligibles. Promotion in the 17th year of service.

0 to major—quota of 7,000. Selection ratio of 85 per cent of first time eligibles and promotion in the 12th year of service.

The increase in selection ratio over that in '65 is 10 per cent for colonel and major and 5 per cent for lieutenant colonel.

No reduction in phase point to colonel is planned because promotions already are being made to that grade in the 22nd year of the individual's career. This is the desired time, officials said.

Promotion in the 17th year to lieutenant colonel is the desired point. This will be reached this year by bringing into the primary selection zone two year groups.

Eligibility rules to major will allow some officers to be considered six months earlier than usual.

Students Win Top Scholastic Spots In 66-B

Two members of Class 66-B were awarded honors in graduation activities marking the end of undergraduate pilot training for the class of 41 at Reese today.

Club Planning Special Night

A special floor show featuring the Chuck-a-Lucks, colorful trio, will highlight the program marking the third anniversary of remodeling of the Reese Officers' Club Saturday night.

The Chuck-a-Lucks have been favorites on previous appearances at the club.

Free orchids will be given the ladies Saturday night and free beverages are offered. A dance band will play and a $1.95 buffet is planned.

The anniversary committee is suggesting mess dress for the occasion, but has approved coat and tie for members.

The club next week will feature special dinners and lunches, with the Thursday special at reduced rates.

'Reese Reports' Features Safety

Reese ground safety and its relationship to the Lubbock community will be discussed Saturday by Joe Lopez, base ground safety officer, on "Reese Reports," the weekly radio program at 10:15 a.m. on KFYO Radio.

The program, transcribed for Aug. 28 presentation, was not put on the air because of technical difficulties. The Aug. 28 program featured Field Maintenance, with Maj. Ralph Weisman and 1st Lt. Richard Estes speaking on the program.

Cub Scouts Plan Roundup Meeting

An invitation is extended to all boys in age group 8-10½ living in the Reese area to join with Cub Scout Pack 548 at Reese.

A special Roundup meeting has been planned for 1:30 p.m., Saturday at the Scout House (Bldg. 1225—behind the hospital). Parents are asked to accompany the boys in order that necessary registration can be accomplished and to give newcomers a chance to meet with scouting personnel.

Young Officer Getting Medal

The Air Force Commendation Medal will be presented 1st Lt. Joe W. Nix today during the wing review in connection with graduation of Class 66-B from undergraduate pilot training at Reese.

Lt. Nix, administrative officer of the Reese Organizational Maintenance Squadron, will be honored for meritorious service while commander of the Air Base Group headquarters squadron from April 5, 1963, to April 19, 1965.

"During this period he displayed an unusual capacity for command responsibility, and with minimal direction and guidance, he was able to obtain quick positive results in the various tasks he undertook," says the citation accompanying the medal.

"As a highly efficient officer, he performed his many diversified additional duties in the same professional manner that has characterized the performance of his primary duties as squadron commander."

"The outstanding accomplishments of Lt. Nix reflect credit upon himself and the United States Air Force."

Lt. Nix, who is leaving Reese for recruiting duty, has been at the base since April, 1963. He is a graduate of Midwestern University at Wichita Falls and has almost completed study for a master's degree at Texas Tech. He was commissioned through Officer Training School, where he was an honor graduate.

Commander's Comments . . .

By COL. DUDLEY E. FAVER
Wing Commander

With the 1965-66 school term in its early weeks, we should give serious thought to the presence of children crossing the streets and roads. The following letter, reproduced often in the past, carries a message which we must always remember.

"Dear Mr. Driver:
"Today my daughter, who is six years old, started to school. She wore a dark blue dress with a white collar, black shoes and blue socks. Her cocker spaniel, Scoot, sat on the front porch and whined his canine belief in the folly of education as she waved goodbye.
"Tonight, we talked about school. She told me about the girl who sits in front of her . . . the little girls with the yellow curls, and the boy across the aisle who makes funny faces.
"She told me about her teacher, who has eyes in the back of her head . . . about the trees in the school yard, and about the big girl who doesn't believe in Santa Claus. We talked about a lot of things . . . tremendously vital, important things.
"We studied spelling, reading and writing, and then to bed.
"She is there now, up in her room, sound asleep. And 'Princess Elizabeth' (her doll) is cuddled in her arm.
"You guys wouldn't hurt her, would you? You see, when her doll's finger is cut, or when a leg is broken, I can fix it. But when my little girl starts to school, when she walks across the street . . . well, then she is in your hands.
"She's a nice kid. She can run like a deer, and darts about like a chipmunk. She likes to ride her tricycle and go for a walk with me on Sunday afternoon.
"But I can't be with her all the time. I have to work to pay for her clothes and education. So, won't you please look out for her and the other children.
"Please drive slowly past the schools and intersections . . . and please remember that children forget — you must not.

A Father"

Reese Summer Youth Employees Get Letter From President About Work

The 16 South Plains young people employed at Reese during the summer in the President's Youth Opportunity Program this week have letters from President Johnson expressing the wish that they will return to Federal service when they can.
The youth who worked at Reese are returning to school, some to college and others to high school.

The President told each that their job was to keep the armed forces "the most powerful in the history of the world" and military and civilians must be in readiness, with strength coming from united effort.

"Your job," the letter stated, "whether it involved relatively simple or complex tasks, is important to the armed forces."

"Many people in Government—and industry—began in jobs similar to yours. They gained in skills and confidence and then went on to more education and better jobs. . . . I hope that this will not be your last experience with the Federal Government."

The Youth Opportunity Program seeks to provide employment for as many youth as possible and for the young people to learn of duties which may lie ahead.

The 16 working at Reese filled several types of jobs, including typing, switch-board operation, drafting, supply and printing.

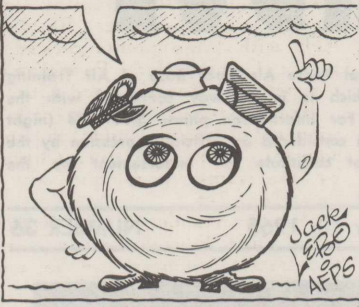

Workers were Glenda J. Baker and Wanda L. Love of Shallowater and Harold L. Allen, Phillip Gant Jr., Benjy F. Gillespie, Joe H. Gonzales, Richard Lara, Max R. Martin, Phyllis J. Pittman, Toni P. Stuart, Gary D. Tiner, Larry Lockard, Lena J. Sirpless, Suzette Barton, Janis May and Joyce Hamilton of Lubbock.

USAF News At Glance

DEVICE TO EFFECT SAVINGS
ANDREWS AFB (AFNS)—The U. S. Air Force has announced the development of an ultrasonic corrosion detector which can inspect aircraft fuel tanks in a fraction of the time it now takes to do the job.

The corrosion detector, mounted on a trailer, is guided under the wing of a parked aircraft and raised until it touches the underside of the metal wing. Ultrasonic sound waves are then bounced against the skin of the aircraft.

Success of the equipment during the recent service tests verifies that it will provide a positive, accurate method of inspection and use of the equipment will substantially decrease the number of maintenance hours during the inspection.

The ultrasonic device is more accurate than the human eye. In tests of Lockheed C-130 Hercules aircraft faying surfaces (where metal joints overlap), only 5 per cent of the corrosion indicated by the sound equipment was detected by visual inspection. Ninety-five per cent could not be seen.

BACKUP SYSTEMS UNVEILED

NORTH TRURO, Mass. (AFNS)—The first of several interceptor control centers designed to improve the nation's air defense warning system became operational here Sept. 1.

The centers, called backup interceptor control (BUIC) sites, will reinforce and provide a backup to the semi-automatic ground environment (SAGE) system of enemy detection.

DATE CHANGE ANNOUNCED

WASHINGTON (AFNS) — A liberalized average-dating system for U. S. Savings Bonds purchased on the automatic payroll deduction plan has been announced by the Treasury Department.

Under the change, bonds of $50 and higher will be dated the first day of the month in which half of the purchase price is accumulated.

Veteran Federal Workers Retire

Two veteran Federal civilian workers who moved to Reese late in 1949 when the base was reactivated retired Monday after upwards of 20 years service.

Clarence L. Reed, aircraft welding shop foreman for 16 years at Reese, served seven years at Barksdale AFB prior to coming here. He and his wife have bought a retirement home in Sherman.

Daniel J. Nolan, aircraft sheet metal worker, for six years prior to 1949 was a sheet metal worker at Pyotte and Holloman AFBs. He and his wife live in Lubbock.

Both men received several gifts from fellow-workers on retirement.

Silence Most Effective Weapon

The Code of Conduct provides a captured U. S. serviceman with a formidable weapon with which he can thwart all Communist threats and efforts to intimidate. That is SILENCE.

A prisoner is obliged by the Geneva Convention to tell only his name, rank, service number and date of birth. Beyond this — nothing. No matter how tempting the Communist promises or how extreme the Communist threats, silence is the POW's most powerful weapon to fight for both his safety and the preservation of his honor.

Silence is powerful because it works, for it is a weapon the Communists respect. No matter what else they might do, they rarely follow through on their threats to kill a man because of his refusal to talk, or to sign a phony "confession," or to lend his name to Red propaganda.

The reason is a simple one. They know that a dead man is of no further use to them; but as long as a prisoner still is alive is always the chance that he will crack and knuckle down. Then they can get him to help their cause — they think.

HERE'S SOMETHING TO CHEW ON!

By Maj. R. A. Henry, Preventive Dentistry Officer

Angry? Don't take it out on your teeth. Bruxism — grinding, clenching, clicking or gnashing of your teeth often at night while sleeping — is a habit harmful to your dental health.

It occurs when we're angry or under emotional stress. Since it's considered impolite to strike the people we're angry at, many of us resort to grinding our teeth.

Bruxism often leads to worn-down teeth and gum disease. Sometimes the person doing it doesn't even know — because his mind is occupied by his anger. But his dentist can tell him. And can help him stop this habit.

Other habits detrimental to your teeth are:

—Holding nails between your teeth. Nails may cause notches in the cutting edge of teeth, as can needles and pins.

—Cracking the shells of hard nuts with the teeth.

—Removing bottle caps with the teeth, or using the teeth to cut or snap string.

As an adult you may find your teeth more subject to erosion — a dissolving of tooth enamel, which occurs most frequently at the gum line. Dentists don't know the specific causes of erosion, but believe that too much drinking of such beverages as lemon juice, high in acid, may result in etching away the tooth surface. Toothbrushing then may remove the softer tissue that is exposed.

Abrasion — the wearing away of the teeth as a result of mechanical action — is another dental condition which occurs among adults. It's frequently found among pipe smokers, whose teeth become abraded where the stem of the pipe is held.

Here are some basic dental health rules for adults to follow:

—Obtain dental treatment at once for teeth that are damaged by decay or other causes. Remember, no artificial tooth, no matter how well constructed, is as good as your healthy natural teeth, anymore than an artificial hand is as good as your own hand.

—Above all, observe the good dental health habits that apply to all ages. Eat a proper diet, low in sweets, and drink fluoridated water. Brush your teeth immediately after eating. Have a regular dental examination.

You will have better teeth — your own — if you follow these basic rules for dental health.

Rattlers Win Two, Lose Two, In ATC Tourney Competition

Winner of two games and loser of a pair, the Reese Rattlers baseball team was back home this week from the Air Training Command tournament at Randolph AFB with some points picked up in the Commander's Participation competition. Reese placed fifth.

Reese opened tournament play with a 2-0 loss to Randolph, upset Keesler, 10-9, won over Chanute by the same score and lost to Laughlin, 7-6.

Against Randolph, the Rattlers faced Capt. Fred Anderson, one of the better pitchers in the command, who struck out 17 and allowed only three hits.

Randolph scored in the fourth inning as Anderson singled to right to plate Roger Stanhouse. The second run came in the fifth as Rusty Droper drove home Jim Sutton with a double.

Anderson gave up two walks. Jim Liller took the loss for Reese, allowing six hits and two walks while striking out 13.

Reese eliminated Keesler from the tournament. Reese scored its 10 runs on eight hits and committed three errors. Keesler scored its nine runs on five hits and made two errors. Larry Butler, John Kreideweis and George Cooper shared pitching honors.

Reese also eliminated Chanute from the double-elimination competition with its 10-9 victory. Chanute got 10 hits and committed three errors. Reese amassed nine hits and made seven errors. Chanute's Ron Flood connected for two homers, while Kreideweis blasted a home run in the sixth with none on. Butler pitched the winning game.

In the final game Saturday night, Reese left the tourney through its loss to Laughlin. Reese got seven hits and had four errors. George Cooper was starting Reese pitcher and Jim Liller hurled the tenth inning. Marion Knuckles connected for two home runs. He put the first pitch of the game over the fence and, as leadoff hitter in the ninth frame, connected again.

He was credited with willingness to perform any job and with ability to fill any position. Credit also was given for designing a taxi dispatch status board which had made the taxi system more efficient through keeping close tab on location of each vehicle and times on start and completion of each mission.

Summer Swimming Program Praised

With the end of another swimming season Monday, base pool representatives lauded this year as one of the best since the pool's opening.

"We've had a great season with more people at the pool than ever before," said Dan Street, airmen pool lifeguard, "and we had less trouble than any time I've worked at a pool."

Airman and officer pool attendance this year was 40,255 as compared to 29,624 last year. Two hundred and two children learned to swim through the combined swimming program. The lifeguards from both pools acted as volunteer instructors for the swimming classes, along with other qualified base personnel.

The 10 lifeguards, most of whom have worked at Reese in previous summers, will go back to full time studying. Eight of them are students at Texas Tech and two are attending the University of Texas. Their subjects range from physical education to dentistry.

Lifeguards this year were Phil Simpkins, Dave Boyden, Jack Tillinghast, J. B. Spaulding and Lee Jackson at the officer pool; Jim Broome, Ted Hicks, Jim Aycok, Dan Street and Larry Blakeman at the airman pool.

"All of the guards got wet this year," stated Simpkins, "and had to pull someone in. But there were no major accidents at either pool."

Besides watching over the swimmers, the lifeguards were in charge of keeping up the grounds, making sure the dressing rooms were clean.

Pentagon Group Will Confer Here On Reserve Activities

Top level Air Force representatives will visit Reese this weekend to meet with members of the wing and discuss the effect the recently announced increase of manning and readiness has had on the local area.

Dr. Theodore C. Marrs, deputy for Reserve and ROTC Affairs, Office of Secretary of the Air Force; Col. Lester C. Hess, former commander of Reese and presently Deputy Chief of Staff for Reserve Forces; and Lt. Col. Allen P. Adair III, military assistant to Dr. Marrs will arrive at Reese late Saturday afternoon and leave at mid-morning Sunday.

The team is making a special tour of Air National Guard and Air Force Reserve units involved in an increased state of readiness, stopping at Reese to study the status of members of the two components in pilot training.

With the team are representatives of the Guard and Continental Air Command, which supervises the Reserves.

The visiting Pentagon group will meet with Col. Dudley E.

Faver, Reese wing commander, and members of his staff. It will be briefed on flying schedules, attrition rates and averages, manning and other matters.

Dr. Marrs is responsible to the Secretary of the Air Force for all policy matters pertaining to the Air National Guard, Air Force Reserves and Air Force Reserve Officers Training Corps.

A 1940 graduate of the University of Tennessee College of Medicine, he is a colonel in the Air Force Reserve, with the rating of flight surgeon. He is a graduate of the Air Force Missile and Space Medicine courses and has been active in the application of advanced technologies in human support systems. He has been consultant in several research studies.

Colonel Hess is concerned with all matters affecting the Air National Guard and Air Force Reserves. He is principal adviser to the Chief of Staff, U. S. Air Force, on all policy matters concerning the Air Reserve forces.

A West Point graduate, the colonel held numerous command posts prior to going to Air Training Command as deputy chief of staff for personnel and later to Reese AFB as wing commander. From 1962 to 1965, he commanded the 51st Fighter Wing, flying F-4C Phantom aircraft in the Far East. He moved to the Pentagon and his present position in July.

Reese, an undergraduate pilot training base, is the only installation in Air Training Command to be visited by the Pentagon group. Tour visits are being made to 10 installations, most of them tactical fighter units.
