

AN EASTER AND PASSOVER MESSAGE

Passover and Easter once again focus our attention on the importance and the practical effects of the Jewish and Christian faiths. This holiest season for Jews and Christians alike is a time for introspection and rededication. Passover and Easter speak to our lives and conduct as a time of redemption and beginning anew.

This season of the year for our Jewish brethren is a time of gratitude for God's deliverance of their people out of Egyptian bondage and His fulfilled promise of leadership into the Promised Land. The Passover celebrations provide emphasis for prayers for the peace of Jerusalem and prayerful efforts for the liberty of all those who lack the freedom which we as Americans enjoy in this Republic. The Exodus story is a vital inspiration to each of us that our lives are to be given to the cause of morality and freedom.

Holy Week and Easter commemorate for Christians the death and resurrection of the Lord. Christ is risen! Christians are bound by love to the Christ who reigns everlastingly. "We know that we have crossed the frontier from death to life because we do love our brothers." They returned to Jerusalem with great joy. . . . To the place of overwhelming defeat they returned in joy, victory and power. The resurrection of Christ is our heritage of new victory, new life and new joy.

May Almighty God give His love and grace to all, as we celebrate these monumental festivals of His provision.

AFA drive continues to add new members to organization

The annual Air Force Association (AFA) membership drive concluded its second week today. If the drive continues at its present rate, indications are that this year's drive will be the most successful thus far.

What is AFA? It is 140,000 men and women who believe strongly enough in national defense, and the importance of air power to that defense, to want to support their beliefs in an organized way. Formed in 1946 by members of the World War II Army Air Forces, it has grown steadily in size, influence, prestige, and ways to serve its membership. Headquarters are in Washington, D.C., manned by a professional staff of some 60 persons. Its objectives, as set forth in the AFA constitution:

- To fulfill the responsibilities imposed by the impact of aerospace technology on modern society;
- To support armed strength adequate to maintain the security and peace of the United States and the free world;
- To educate themselves and the public at large in the development of adequate aerospace power for the betterment of mankind;
- To help friendly relations between free nations, based on respect for the principle of freedom and equal rights to all mankind.

Air Force Association — the professional society of the Air Force, a part of the Air Force family. For 30 years AFA has been involved for you. It has been your voice in areas of pay, promotion, medical care, housing and force modernization. AFA membership provides you AIR FORCE MAGAZINE...low cost insurance programs... 280 local chapters...advisory councils for enlisted personnel, junior officers, reserve forces and civilian employees. Your membership in AFA makes good things happen.

CHAMPUS temporarily lifts ban on counseling services

WASHINGTON (AFNS) - Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services (CHAMPUS) has lifted its prohibition on payments for services of pastoral, family, child, and marital counselors.

New standards are being developed for individuals, other than medical doctors or clinical psychologists, to qualify for CHAMPUS support of marriage or family counseling.

The new standards, expected in 90 days, say CHAMPUS officials, are being developed as a result of an out-of-court settlement.

This out-of-court settlement resulted from a legal action brought against Department of Defense (DOD) last year by the American Association of Marriage and Family Counselors. The association began legal action last year after DOD ended services of pastoral, family, child, and marital counselors as CHAMPUS benefits.

A temporary court injunction had ordered CHAMPUS to continue sharing the cost for marriage and family counseling from these sources until the matter could be settled.

CHAMPUS will not share the cost of marriage or family counseling by any affected counselor who does not meet the new standards, after they are adopted.

DOD officials view this as a vital step in assuring high quality counseling for all CHAMPUS beneficiaries.

CHAMPUS will also establish a procedure for reviewing marriage and family counseling claims where there are questions of necessity for or appropriateness of the counseling services. Mental health care professionals from outside of DOD will assist in conducting the reviews.

Medical doctors and clinical psychologists who provide marriage or family counseling are not affected by this agreement. Counseling from these sources was not eliminated as a CHAMPUS benefit by last year's DOD action which was being contested in court.

CHAMPUS officials advise beneficiaries to check with a CHAMPUS ADVISOR, HEALTH BENEFITS COUNSELOR, OR HEALTH BENEFITS ADVISOR AT A UNIFORMED MILITARY SERVICES INSTALLATION BEFORE RECEIVING CIVILIAN COUNSELING. These people can provide all requirements that must be met before CHAMPUS can share the cost of such counseling. Also, information is available from CHAMPUS, Denver, Colo. 80240.

FROM THE TRAIL BOSS

Col. Edward Mendel
Wing Commander

This week marks the celebration of Holy Days by two of the major religions of the world. The Christian holiday of Easter and the Jewish Passover. At Reese there will be many special activities that commemorate these significant events.

As I reflect on the meaning of these holidays, a very symbolic aspect of these activities comes to mind. Historically, there have been occasions when the Christian and Jewish religions have been involved in bitter conflict. Yet it is refreshing to note that in the Armed Forces community these religions can practice their particular tenets of faith in a spirit of brotherhood and love that is not excelled anywhere else in this world. This is the same spirit that was expressed so very well at the Chapel during Heritage Week where we all enjoyed the religious music of a wide diversity of ethnic, racial, and religious cultures. Our community is truly a wonderful example for the rest of the human race.

I encourage the religious communities of Reese to practice their faith and to spend these days of Easter and Passover in their particular worship activities. Worship of the one God under which our Nation places its trust brings us all closer together as a community and as people.

Liberty Bell rich in our Nation's history

It was a warm July day. Independence Square, as it is now called, and the streets of Philadelphia were packed with men and women who had waited for hours with faces lifted toward the bell, wondering if their representatives would vote to declare independence.

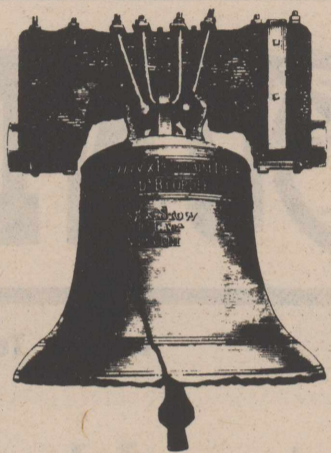

A messenger hurried up the stairs to the belfry. As the first sentence of that historic document was read, the tones of the bell burst upon the silent and waiting city. For two hours the sound of the bell was heard, proclaiming freedom to the colonies.

The New Province Bell, later to be known as the Liberty Bell, was cast by Thomas Lister of Whitechapel, London, and arrived in Philadelphia in August, 1752. It had been commissioned by the Pennsylvania Provincial Assembly in 1751 to hang in the new State House (later renamed Independence Hall).

Before the bell could be raised to the tower, a local 1752 newspaper reported, "it was cracked by a stroke of the clapper during a test without any further violence" and was recast by Pass and Stow, "two ingenious workmen" of Philadelphia.

In the recasting, the English model was broken up and the same metal was melted down to be used in the new bell. To the bell was added one and one-half ounces of American copper to the pound of old bell metal to make it less brittle. However, so much copper had been added that the bell's tone proved too brassy, and still another bell had to be cast.

The third "Liberty Bell" preserved the shape and lettering of the original but substituted the names of the craftsmen and the place and date of recasting. Around the crown was inscribed the Biblical motto "Proclaim liberty throughout the land unto all the inhabitants thereof (Lev. 25:10)."

Historians say the quotation was probably chosen to recall William Penn's Charter of Privileges, but the sentiment fit the American Revolution so well that few people now remember the earlier connotation.

Finally in June, 1753, the third bell was hung in the State House steeple where it remained in use until the steeple was taken down on July 16, 1781. The bell was then lowered into the brick tower of the State House.

Long before the bell was singled out to proclaim liberty throughout the land, the State House bell clanged defiance of British tax and trade restrictions and announced the Boston Tea Party.

As the British advanced on Philadelphia in 1777, the bell was moved to Allentown for safety. The following year, it was returned to Philadelphia and pealed joyfully for American victories during the remainder of the Revolutionary War.

Later the bell tolled the deaths of Washington, Jefferson, Adams and other Founding Fathers. In 1835, exactly 59 years to the day after the adoption of the Declaration of Independence, the bell cracked while sounding the death knell for Chief Justice John Marshall.

Repair efforts were unsuccessful, and the bell hung mute and almost forgotten until 1846 when it was taken down from the tower. After being shifted to various locations within Independence Hall, it was placed in the base of the Tower. There the Liberty Bell remained until New Year's Eve, 1975, when it was moved to the new Liberty Bell Pavilion one block north of Independence Hall.

Today visitors are allowed to see and touch the bell while a National Park Service Guide recounts its history. At night, visitors can look through the glass windows and listen to a taped audio presentation.

Amendment guarantees rights

By Capt. Paul N. Cox
Deputy Staff Judge Advocate

"Those who won our independence believed that the final end of the state was to make men free to develop their faculties They believed that freedom to think as you will and to speak as you think are means indispensable to the discovery and spread of political truth; that without free speech and assembly discussion would be futile"

Mr. Justice Brandeis
concurring in Whitney vs California 274 US 357
(Supreme Court 1927)

Brandeis was speaking of the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States. It is the First Amendment which, since it became effective in 1791, has been consistently held by the Supreme Court to occupy a position among the rights guaranteed to the American people by the Constitution and to be the foundation of our liberty. It is singularly tragic that it is also a provision of the law of which too many Americans are ignorant.

The April 6, 1976 edition of the Texas Tech "University Daily" includes an article describing how reporters for that newspaper conducted a survey in which they asked Lubbock residents to read what the reporters called a "proposed amendment" to the Constitution and to decide whether they would vote for such an amendment. The 34 persons surveyed did not know that the proposal was already part of the Constitution.

Such ignorance is deplorable in the population at large. If it exists in the Air Force — the members of which are sworn to protect and defend the Constitution — such ignorance is inexcusable. I cannot hope to explain the First Amendment in detail; legal interpretations of the amendment fill sufficient volumes to stock a library. It is believed, however, that the reader would benefit from a reading of the amendment itself and a short explanation of its provisions:

"Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceable to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

The amendment guarantees five fundamental rights:

- The government will create no "state religion" and will not improperly aid religion.
- The government will not prohibit any religious belief.

• The government will not prohibit or penalize the saying of what one wishes to say.

• The government will not prohibit or penalize the writing or publishing of what one wishes to write or publish.

• The government will not penalize or prohibit peaceful assembly or petition (e.g., demonstrations, pickets, etc.)

It should be obvious to the reader that these rights have always been restricted by the law where the interests of society seem to require such limitation. Thus, Mr. Justice Homes would not permit a citizen to cry fire in a crowded theatre when there was no fire; a right to peacefully assemble does not authorize a riot; "obscene" literature may be banned if in fact obscene; and the special needs of a military organization place limitations upon what an Air Force member can say or print.

In general, however, the rights guaranteed by the First Amendment have been enforced against arbitrary government action to a remarkable degree in our history. The government must justify any limitation upon the exercise of these rights with compelling reasons, and this need for justification applies to the serviceman as well as the civilian.

In summary, the First Amendment is not only a part of the fundamental law of the land we are sworn to defend, it is a provision which protects us all and has enabled us to enjoy 200 years of Liberty through Law.

Local Scout Troop adds 2 new Eagles

The Reese AFB Boy Scout Troop 548 added two new Eagle Scouts to its ranks during a Court of Honor at the Base Chapel April 5.

David Bradshaw, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Robert Bradshaw, and Bobby Johnson, son of 1st Lt. and Mrs. Robert Johnson were presented Scouting's highest honor by Col. Edward Mendel, 64th Flying Training Wing commander.

The Eagle Scout Award is the highest award a scout can earn. It takes three years, on the average, for a scout to earn and only one per cent of these young men who enter scouting are awarded the Eagle.

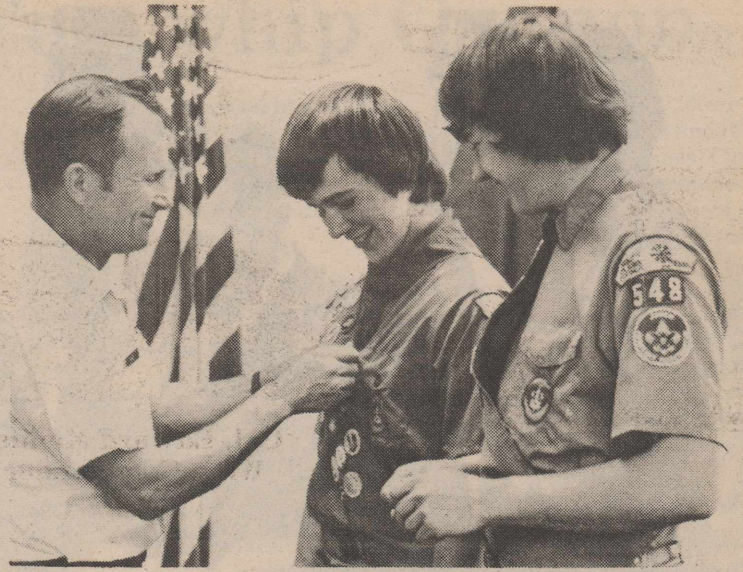

The requirements are very difficult and range from mastering skills such as first aid to personal management. Not only does the achievement of the award indicate that the scouts have learned many scouting skills but that they have demonstrated the strength of character necessary to a leader in today's society.

Mexican-American Club continues to help people

By TSgt. Raul Sanchez

In continuing with our tradition of involvement within the Reese and Lubbock Communities, the Reese Mexican-American Club has raised and donated these funds toward the following projects this year so far:

- $100 for the Reese Bicentennial Committee
- $135 for the Reese Cub Scouts
- $135 for the Air Force Enlisted Widows Home
- $300 for the sponsorship of Little League teams in the North West Little League of Lubbock
- $50 to Richard Gutierrez to pay expenses for trip to Washington D.C. to compete for the Boys Club "Boy of the Year" award.

We do not intend to stop here. We would like to ask other persons to become involved and make Reese AFB and Lubbock a better place for everyone to live in.

The following members from our club have already volunteered to serve as coaches in the North West Little League:

TSgt. Raul Sanchez	Board of Directors Member
SSgt. Max Lopez	Manager
SSgt. Joe Gonzales	Coach
SSgt. Fidel Marquez	Coach
Sgt. Ray Cisneros	Assistant Coach
Sgt. Urelito Garza	Assistant Coach
Ben Hernandez	Assistant Coach

The reason our members chose to donate so much time and money towards the North West Little League is that this area of Lubbock is the most neglected. A large number of children who participate in this League between the ages of 8 to 12 years come from broken homes and need a lot of patience and understanding.

Club elects new officers

The Black Culture Club "76" recently elected new officers for the Bicentennial year. They are:

MSgt. Arnold Mathews, 64th Supply Squadron, was elected President. Also from the 64th Supply Squadron are: A1C Michael A. Williams, Vice President; Sgt. Henry J. Commenia, Secretary; and A1C Patricia Dabney, Treasurer. A1C Leon Payne, 2053rd Communications Squadron, was elected Sergeant-at-arms.

In the past the Black Culture Club has been responsible for re-initiating the Sickle Cell testing program here, Black Expo, youth programs, United Negro College Fund telethon, June 19th Celebration and voters registration drive.

The Black Culture Club meets the first and third Tuesday of each month at 6 p.m. in Bldg. 820, room 5. Everyone is encouraged to support the club.

Base 'Rec'ers whip Cannon

The honor of Reese AFB was successfully defended against the invaders from Cannon AFB, N. M. at the Mathis Recreation Center Saturday.

The 22 Cannon invaders arrived at the Recreation Center to challenge Reese personnel in various activities, including table tennis, pool, chess, and cards.

The visitors arrived at noon and were accompanied by Mr. Aaron, director of the Cannon AFB Recreation Center. The visitors were honored at a hot dog buffet and at 2 p.m. the competition began.

Reese personnel captured first and second place in the chess and table tennis competition. Sgt. James E. Dunn, 64th Field Maintenance Squadron, was the winner in the table tennis tournament and A1C Robert Mello, 64th Civil Engineering Squadron, Fire Department, won second place. Sgt. Johnny Butler, 54th Flying Training Squadron, was the winner of the chess tournament with A1C Randy Cartner, 64th Air Base Group capturing second place.

Sgt. James Tyler fought gallantly to uphold the Reese flag in the pool tournament but he fell in the end to the invaders. Cannon personnel captured the top three slots in the event.

The dance, later in the evening, was in honor of the Cannon personnel.

The visitors threw down the gauntlet before they left and invited Reese personnel to visit Cannon June 12. A series of tournaments, a buffet and a dance will be held. Pool, table tennis, and chess experts who are interested in traveling to Cannon are urged to contact the Mathis Recreation Center at Ext. 2787 for more information.

There will be an open clinic for animal vaccinations only from 9 a.m. to noon April 24. The following vaccinations are available: feline viral rhinotracheitis and distemper, canine DHL and rabies. No appointment is necessary. Sorry, no treatments.

Hospital Appointments for Flying Dependents

It has become necessary for the Flight Surgeon's office to change its policy of seeing the dependents of personnel on flying status. This is due to the limited staffing in the section, both officer and enlisted. Dependents of flying personnel should call Ext. 2151 or 2488 to make appointments in either the Primary Care Clinic or the Pediatric Clinic. On an average day, there should be sufficient appointments available to satisfy the needs of all patients.

ACADEMICALLY SPEAKING...

By Capt. Ed Hayden
 64th Student Squadron

Last weekend members of the 64th Student Squadron got out the old "gradugetter" to spic n span the innards of the squadron building. After chasing a few woolly bullies out of the building and rearranging some of the dirt, it was over to the softball field for a game between the officers and the enlisted. We won't mention the final score, but let's just say the good guys won.

Class 76-10

Section One's "Bite the Bullet" Award is still being hoarded by our boss Capt. Doug "Buff" Malloy. However, there are several within our ranks who are competing for the honor. They include: 2nd Lt. Russ "Maddog" Newland for trying to go solo without his chute and then calling up ground control because he couldn't find his parking spot; and 2nd Lt. Tom McKee who tried to takeoff with his canopy open and followed with calling "gear clear" rolling off the perch.

Class 77-01

Section One all passed their last T-37 exam and extend their thanks to the entire Academic Branch. However, to Capt. Cotter we say:

In the beginning Capt. Cotter
 Told us to study like we ought'a.
 While in class he'd show
 All that we really had to know
 And in the room he kept perfect order;
 Well...sorta.

The Ducky McCoy Memorial Trophy goes this week to Capt. Harvey Morris and 2nd Lt. James Michelini who, on Captain Morris' first ride as an IP, decided that maybe it would be safer for all concerned, if they didn't take an airplane.

Class 77-02

This week was a cold and wet one for a majority of our section, enlivened by some pinked rides and occasional scary landings. Nine of our troops intrepidly hurled themselves and their aircraft at the runway without their IPs thunderous voice in their ears. They are: First Lieutenants Michael (the Fonz) Harrigan and Alan (Old Shaky) Bietry, along with Second Lieutenants Earnest Norsworthy, Richard Evans, Mark Spruyt, Joe Villegas, Dennis Keller, William Riley, and Neal (Boost Pump) Lewis.

Class 77-03

After our "everything you wanted to know about physiology" exam, Section One was led by the hand to the flight line to learn how to fly the T-37 sound machine. We now possess that "where did we go, what happened" look. So, if you see a wide eyed student standing in an empty aircraft parking spot, don't worry, he's just one of ours waiting for his airplane to come back.

Section Two learned some valuable lessons during their first days on the flight line. Why we shouldn't be late for a formal briefing was aptly demonstrated by our crack guard troop 2nd Lt. James "Hooter" Branch. Another valuable lesson in military courtesy was given by 2nd Lt. Dan "Cue Ball" Matthews. One does not refer to majors as Hotrod!

Reservist explains benefits

SSgt. Pete Sprangers, an Air Force reservist from the Dyess AFB, Tex. Consolidated Base Personnel Office (CBPO), will be here Thursday and April 23 from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. in CBPO Room 110. He will counsel people who have elected not to reenlist in the regular Air Force about the opportunities Air Force Reserve has to offer.

"We're looking for top notch people to fill a part time job with a full time challenge," said Sergeant Sprangers.

Sergeant Sprangers will be talking about benefits available by joining a Reserve unit and thus staying a part of the total force.

According to him, Reservists retain Base Exchange privileges for six days out of every quarter (their choice); they can still take advantage of Career Development Courses (CDC); cross training; attending tech schools and academies; they keep their $20,000 Servicemen's Group Life Insurance policy and they can still catch hops aboard military aircraft.

Reserve meetings occur once a month, for two days. The Reservist also serves two weeks of proficiency training each year. During this two week training period, the reservist is entitled to Commissary privileges and allowances (BAQ and BAS).

Sergeant Sprangers may be reached at Ext. 2672 or 2420 for more information.

Commander's CARE Line

The Commander's CARE Line is still out of order. However, arrangements have been made with the 64th Civil Engineering Squadron to use their recording machine. You may communicate with the Wing Commander, after trying to air your problem, complaint or comment by calling Ext. 2586 or by writing him through Box 64, Reese AFB, Tex. 79489

Aviation scouting posts form

In a recent survey, Lubbock youngsters expressed interest in many areas of aviation as career objectives. To help them explore their interests, several Scouting aviation exploring posts are being formed in the Lubbock area.

To make them a success, adults are needed to act as sponsors, committee members, advisors and consultants. All areas of aviation will be explored in the program, and people are needed from pilot jobs, mechanics, communications and controlling, medicine, support, airline stewards and stewardesses, in fact any area of aviation. Women are needed as much as men.

A small investment in time yields high returns in terms of personal satisfaction and motivation of potential future employees in the aviation fields. The Posts meet twice monthly. Volunteers need not be present at every meeting.

The Posts are forming now, and will be operational by the last week in April. If you are interested in helping one of these Posts, call Capt. Jan Gerstner at Ext. 2412 or 2346, or 799-1628 as soon as possible.

Col. Mendel Assumes Honorary Command

Col. Edward Mendel, commander, of Reese Air Force Base, will be parade marshal for the 34th Annual ABC Rodeo set for April 28-May 1.

The traditional parade will precede opening day events April 28 with a bevy of beauties and scores of other mounted riders leading the way to the coliseum and the opening round of top notch rodeo competition.

Riding in the parade and appearing each performance in the grand entry will be the ABC Rodeo queen, Shelley Britt of Clayton, N.M., who is a sophomore business major at Texas Tech University.

Lubbock Ambucs, members of the American Business Club, don western gear this week to get the season started, producing a top professional rodeo to benefit the building fund of Lubbock Boys Clubs. Champion cowboys will compete for about $12,000 in prize money, pitting their roping and riding skill against the tough rodeo stock of Beutler and Son of Elk City, Okla.

A 12-year-old champion banjo picker, Jimmy Henley of Hobbs, plays five strings in the bluegrass manner to fill the musical entertainment bill.

Tickets are $3, $4 and $5. They may be purchased at western wear stores or at the ABC ticket office on the Town and Country Shopping Center parking lot. Advertisement

Women mark first for base, two qualify to run engines

Airmen First Class Terran Harrison and Karen J. Goad, T-37 Aircraft Maintenance Branch, have just completed training and are now qualified for limited engine run. This is the first time women have had this qualification here.

Training for this qualification consists of many things, a few of which are: recommendation by supervisor; monitoring five engine runs with a qualified engine run technician; satisfactory completion of the Command Standard T-37 Engine Run test; and completion of Emergency Procedures Training.

TSgt. John Parham checked both women out for engine run and said that they both did an outstanding job and were very conscientious of their work.

Airman Goad has been in the Air Force for 21 months and is a native of St. Louis. Asked how she felt about being engine run qualified she replied, "This is something I have wanted to do since I arrived here. It's an accomplishment for me."

Airman Harrison is from Dayton, Ohio and has been in the Air Force for 18 months.

The Reese Rattlers hosted Webb AFB, Tex. Saturday in a double header held on diamond one.

Reese lost the first game 9-2 due to the fine pitching of Allen Oldfather and the fine hitting led by Rick Johnson, two for four, and Allen Oldfather, two for four. Losing pitcher for the Rattlers was Rick Cone.

The second game was a more even match with Reese losing 2 to 1. The winning pitcher again was Oldfather. Steve Collins was the losing pitcher. This game was a pitchers battle all the way to the last inning. The winning run for Webb was made in the bottom of the fifth when Mike Smothers, 3rd baseman for Webb, planted one over the left field fence.

No question about it, Webb will be tough to beat in the Air Training Command tournament this year.

Walters wins tournament

Fifty-four participants teed off Saturday in the pre-season Intramural Golf Tournament into gail force winds causing scores to soar during the first day of play.

Dan Walters managed to defeat the elements and still shoot an even par 72 which gave him a comfortable lead in the Championship Flight.

Participants teed off the second day in perfect golf weather which allowed people to play their normal games. Scores really dropped including a sub par round of 69 by Dan Walters securing his first place finish in the championship flight by 14 shots over second place finisher Richard James.

Competition was keen and the Athletic Department expects a very good intramural golf season. The opening matches will be beginning April 23.
