5 Bobcats Qualify For State

Five Newcastle Bobcats qualified for the state track meet to be held in Austin on May 6 and 7 as the result of their performance in the regional meet Saturday in Denton.

Buster Mitchell finished fourth in the pole vault in the regional contest.

Proffitt Baptist Air Conditioner Is Recovered

The air conditioning unit stolen from the Proffitt Baptist last week was recovered in Breckenridge Monday and has been returned to the church.

Heavy rains began falling in the Newcastle area Friday morning and continued throughout most of the day. Saturday morning was a repeat performance of Friday with Sunday and Monday following the lead.

Heavy rains were falling at press-time Thursday. The additional moisture began falling at 7 a.m. and were a part of the same system that brought floods to Dallas.

When the rain finally ceased Monday afternoon measurements of 7 to 8 inches were recorded. There was some flooding in the lower section of Newcastle, but no damage was reported.

The Newcastle Lake was full and running over the spillway as were all farm ponds in the area.

The rains were general in nature and both Olney and Graham received large quantities.

Olney streets turned into rivers on several occasions during the downpours but there were no reports of flooding in local homes as during past heavy rains. At times water ran curb deep on Main Street.

Salt Creek left its banks southeast of Olney and did some damage to fences about six miles southeast of town. At least one farm family had to be removed from their home in that area.

Rainfall and runoff at the lakes filled the old lake Saturday and water began pouring over the dam late that afternoon and continued until late Tuesday afternoon. The new lake, Lake Cooper, was raised more than six feet by the fall, and runoff. At one time water was coming over the dam about a foot deep.

As the water from this area ran down Salt Creek and into the lakes at Graham, flooding was caused in that town in the low lying areas. Reports of about 50 head of cattle being drowned by rising water were received.

For a time, several persons were trapped at the Graham Country Club by the high water and several permanent residents of one of the lakes were isolated by water.

Fireman's Park, the Little League fields and the Agriculture building in Graham were flooded and water poured into the engine room at the water treatment plant there.

The rains came too late for many wheat farmers in the area but for other growing plants and pastures, the moisture was a welcome sight.

The sun finally broke through Tuesday and was welcomed by all as a pleasant change.

Proffitt News

By Mrs. B. C. Wooldridge

Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Wooldridge will observe their 50th Wedding Anniversary Saturday, April 30th.

The former Alice Wilkinson, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. T. P. Wilkinson, and C. L. Wooldridge were married April 30, 1916 in Throckmorton, Texas. The couple left by wagon for Post City where they lived several years before coming back to Proffitt where they farmed until ten years ago when they sold their farm and moved to Newcastle.

The Wooldridge's took their four month old niece Cora Wilkinson to raise. She is Mrs. Red Creel and has a daughter Linda, a son Dale, and a grandson, Jeffrey Creel, who completes the family circle of "Unk and Auntie", as they are affectionately called by all nieces and nephews of both families.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Brown and Sue spent the week end in Lubbock with their son Charles, Shelia and little Mandy.

The seven and a half inch rain received here over the weekend filled tanks to capacity and Elm Creek was out of its banks.

Our telephone lines are "out" and there's not much way of knowing "what's going on here this week".

My sister, Mrs. Ike Osborne of Levelland, visited us last week. She is a 1928 graduate of Newcastle High School. She is supervisor of nurses in the South Plains Hospital for the past twenty years.

We visited relatives in Breckenridge, Woodson and Abilene, accompanied by our Uncle Tom Hamilton of Murray.

Thank you for your support and be sure to vote Saturday, May 7.

Card of Thanks

I wish to thank all my good friends and neighbors who sent me cards, letters and flowers while I was in the hospital. Especially the visits which were so uplifting and inspirational.

Both Polling Places Moved

Announcement was made this week that the South Olney (Precinct 11) voting place has been changed for the May 7 Primary election. The polling place will be in the Community Center and not the Library of City Hall.

B. M. Nelson, election judge, said the move was made in order to give voters in the precinct more privacy in voting and also in order to relieve some of the congestion.

Last week it was announced that North Olney (Precinct 23) was moved from the old Community Public Service building, which burned last December, to the lobby of Olney Federal Savings and Loan on Main. Rufus McCasland, election judge, reminded voters in this precinct of the change in voting place.

Both judges asked local voters to bring their poll tax receipts with them when they come to vote. They added that it is compulsory that persons who received "free" registrations must bring their registration certificates in order to vote.

selves, but for generations yet to come. We must make a great effort to conserve our water resources to meet the greater demands of industry, agriculture, and the public.

Of course, some of these things which I support are going to cost money. I favor sound financial state government — no deficit spending — cash basis only. If we can observe economy in all phases of government, our tax dollars will be well spent. I will give serious consideration to the proposals of our state-wide elective officers in this matter.

I suppose that many of you are wondering about my personal qualifications for holding this office:

I am the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Leslie B. Finnell of Holliday. My small town heritage is something of which I am very proud.

After finishing high school in Holliday, I graduated from the University of Texas, where I studied government. To help pay for college expenses, I worked in the 58th and 59th Legislatures. I feel that my working experience in Austin will help me represent you more effectively.

My brother and I have continued the family business. We are engaged in the drilling and ranching business in Archer County.

I have never sought public office and owe no political debts. It is my desire to represent all six counties of this district and not just one particular city. With no outside interests, I pledge to you my full time and best efforts.

Finnell Issues Statement To Voters

To the Voters of Young County and the 86th Legislative District of Texas:

I am a candidate to represent you in Austin as your State Legislator. During this campaign I am making a great effort to see each of you personally to solicit your support. Since our legislative district is very large, I am afraid that I may not be able to see all of you. Therefore this is an humble invitation to vote for Charles Finnell of Archer County as your next State Representative on election day, May 7th.

In asking for your support, I feel that I should explain to you the platform on which I am running.

1) Support of Education — I will work for a sound public education program supported well by Texas and local communities. Both our public school children and our college students deserve the attention of our legislature. If elected, I will investigate the possibilities of establishing junior colleges in our district.

2) Industrial expansion for rural areas of Texas — As Texas changes from a rural society to an urban society, it is essential that you have a representative that will work to obtain more industry for our small towns. I shall work with your chambers of commerce to attract industry and to preserve the industrial climate of our district.

3) Farm to Market Roads — I shall support legislation which will help our farmers obtain more and better Farm to Market roads. We were not a wealthy nation when we began improving our roads, but the roads themselves helped us create new wealth in land values. So it was not our wealth that made our roads possible. Rather, it was our roads that made our wealth possible.

I shall also support the research of the Texas Extension Service in behalf of our farmers.

4) Conservation of Soil and Water Resources — We must see that these vital resources are preserved, not only for our-

Town-Country Awards Sought By 4-H'ers

Two 4-H projects, possibly new to most 4-H Club members, are Town and Country Business - Unit I, Agribusiness and Town and Country Business - Unit II, Marketing. Sharon McCarroll is enrolled in Unit I and Diane Hughes, Unit II and will be submitting their 4-H record books in District Competition. They are members of the Graham High School 4-H Club and are sophomores.

The girls have toured approximately 20 businesses in the past three weeks mainly in the Olney and Graham areas. The main objectives being to develop an understanding of and appreciation for business necessary for providing goods and services. In marketing, to know how the firm operates in the marketing field through association with agriculture. At the same time they would become more aware of career opportunities in agribusiness through the American system of business enterprise, and the opportunities in marketing firms.

Those visited in the Olney area include, Brazos Telephone Coop, Kunkel Truck and Tractor, Ft. Belknap Electric Coop, Susies Flower Shop, Olney Feed and Elevator, Stuteville and Gilbert Turkey Farms, Jeske Dairy Farm and Olney Gin Company.

The District Winner in Unit I will receive a $25 bond with the State Winners an all expenses paid trip to Ft. Collins, Colo. July 31 - August 3 to attend the Annual Institute of Cooperation.

Ken Andrews Makes Election Statement

To the voters of the 86th District:

There is a growing awareness of the importance of the office of State Representative and a growing concern about the need for good government among the people of the 86th District.

I became a candidate for State Representative because I was concerned about our state government and believe that you and I are entitled to effective, responsible and qualified representation in Austin.

I am 27 years old, and a January 1964 graduate of the University of Texas School of Law.

I am a practicing attorney with the firm of PENIX, McVRACKEN & ANDREWS of Graham, Texas. I am also active in farming and ranching in Archer and Young Counties.

If elected, I will work to hold the line on taxes, but should I vote for needed programs, I will also vote for sufficient funds to pay for those programs, since I believe that if we want the State of Texas to provide additional services, we should also have the courage to pay for those services in our own time.

Because I am an attorney with a background in farming and ranching, I believe that I can do the best job for you in Austin.

I will work with and for all of the people of the six counties of this district.

I ask to be judged on my qualifications and request your support. Since completing my education, I have served as General Drive Chairman of the Graham Area United Fund, have been elected a Director of the Graham Jaycees and of the Graham Quarterback Club.

Herbs Add Flavor To Dishes, Make Delightful Meals

By Barbara Fisher

(Editors note: This is the fourth in a series on herbs and spices.)

In contrast to spices, which are almost always grown near the sea, and in exotic and tropical areas, herbs are grown everywhere. Most famous and often-used herbs can be grown in a small plot in your back yard or in an indoor herb garden.

Herbs are the leaves of plants which grow only in the temperate zone. Chervil, marjoram, oregano and basil are all herbs.

Sage is probably America's most popular herb. It is particularly good with pork and in pork products and it is excellent in green salad. It is a hardy perennial which grows to about two feet tall. The stems are covered with a soft, velvety down, and the leaves spring directly from the stems. The leaves will change in color with the seasons, from sage green to gray and back again. They are covered with soft white hair, are usually round, and are darker on the top than they are underneath.

In its second year it will produce spikes of lovely blue blossoms and the whole plant smells of the sage aroma. The oil is used in perfumes and in soap, and the perfect green leaves are picked and dried for use in food.

Try some sage in sardine sandwiches, or next time you make a meat pie, mix sage in the biscuit or dough topping.

Oregano is Spanish for marjoram. But somehow, the climate has affected the herb, because oregano has a more biting, stronger taste, with a wonderful aroma. Oregano works wonders in any dish using tomatoes.

The shrub is a perennial which grows almost two feet tall and has deep green leaves that, when dried, turn a light green. It blooms in the late, hot summer months, with lavender clustered flowerlet heads.

You can buy oregano in the grocery store in dry leaf, in ground, in crushed forms. The leaf keeps its aroma and flavor a little longer, and try crushing it in your palms so that the warmth of your hands will bring it to life.

Use oregano in stews, meat pies, sauces, soups, mushroom dishes and most definitely, in pizza sauce.

Sweet Basil is a member of the mint family, and a member in good standing, because basil follows the mint characteristic of smelling wonderful and tasting better.

Basil has been used in cooking longer than anyone can remember. It is a small bushy plant that grows in some warm climates. The leaves grow in pairs, opposite one another on the stem, and glisten with specks of oil. They are covered by a blossom and are fuzzy on the underside.

When the leaves are fresh, they have a wonderful licorice and spice taste. Dried, they have a bouquet of spice, lemon and onion which can be found in no other herb.

Try soaking a number of dried leaves in a good quality wine vinegar to make unusual salad dressings.

If you want to try to raise some sweet basil, plant it in a fine garden soil and plan on a very long germination period. The plant is an annual.

Some very quaint old ladies still use powdered leaves of sweet basil for snuff. More normally basil is used in any dish with cheese, eggs, tomatoes, in many vegetables and sauces, and with some meats. For an unusual flavor, sprinkle the crushed leaves over lamb chops before cooking them.

The following recipe is used in Mexico as a first, or appetizer, course. It is really good, but if you are not wise in the ways of jalapeno peppers, be very cautious with them. They are hot! A very good brand of Mexican jalapenos, packed in oil, is available at local stores.

1 small onion, minced
2 medium tomatoes, peeled and chopped

1 small jar stuffed green olives
2 tbspn. minced parsley
1 tsp. oregano, rubbed in palms
salt to taste
1 large avocado, cubed
chiles jalapenos

Masticate the shrimp for 2 hours in the oil, lemon juice, vinegar from chiles (careful!) and onion. Then add the tomatoes, olives, parsley, oregano and salt. Mix well and allow to stand about 2 more hours. When ready to serve, add the avocado cubes and place it all in a lettuce-lined bowl. Garnish with strips of jalapeno. Serves 4.

HANDY DRINKING CUP

Cellulose from a cigarette pack can make an emergency drinking cup. And those lightweight plastic containers some rips are packed in make even better cups.

Lone Bandit Strikes Jiffy Food Saturday

A lone bandit struck the Jiffy Food Store in Olney about 9:30 Saturday night forcing a store employee to produce the money from the cash register. For his efforts the bandit got "considerably" less than $100.

The thug, wearing a blue coat, never showed a gun, but kept his hand in his coat as though there was a gun in the pocket and threatened to shoot if his instructions were not carried out. At least one customer came into the store while the robbery was taking place.

The gunman ordered Bill Perry, store employee, to "empty the cash register threatening to shoot if he didn't.

After the holdup, the gunman fled through the front door and headed on foot toward town. He was not seen getting into a car.

The bandit was described as being about 5'6" to 5'8" tall, instructions were not carried stocky in build and wearing a blue coat.

Time to have your electric air conditioning equipment checked

For extra comfort and economy this summer, have a qualified air conditioning serviceman check your electric air conditioning equipment. He'll see to it that your equipment is properly lubricated and adjusted and has just the right amount of refrigerant. He'll clean clogged filters, too, to assure the free air flow needed for maximum operating efficiency. Your electric air conditioning equipment will soon be working longer and harder to keep you cool, so it's a good idea to have that maintenance check now. And now's the time, if you need additional cooling equipment, to see your air conditioning dealer.
