

Future holds star for Colonel Mendel

Colonel Edward Mendel, commander of the 64th Flying Training Wing (FTW), is one of two Air Training Command (ATC) officers that have been nominated by President Ford for promotion to brigadier general.

Colonel Mendel has been Wing Commander at Reese since April 5, 1975. His previous assignment was Vice Commander of the 12th FTW at Randolph Air Force Base (AFB), Tex.

He began his career with a U.S. Naval Academy commission in 1950 and a cross-service transfer into the Air Force where he attended pilot training at Williams AFB, Ariz. Among Colonel Mendel's assignments are a tour as an O-2 pilot in the Vietnam Conflict, Military Assistant for Tactical Test and Evaluation in Washington, and Deputy Commander for Operations of the 82nd FTW at Williams.

Also nominated for promotion from ATC is Colonel Dennis B. Sullivan, deputy chief of staff for Operations, Headquarters ATC, and former ATC deputy chief of staff, Engineering and Services, Colonel Charles W. Lamb.

The nominations are awaiting approval by the U.S. Senate.

10 Reese captains smile over major's list release

The Central Temporary Major Selection Board met Oct. 18 to pick 3,388 officers for promotion to major. Of those selected, 10 are from Reese.

Those selected from Reese for promotion are: Michael L. Leinen; John B. Merryman; Robert M. Negley Jr.; Joseph S. Piccone; Paul H. Rowcliffe; Simon H. Rudnick; Frank E. Salat; Herbert A. Turk Jr.; Jerry Wacker; and Thomas N. Warren.

There were 5,625 captains eligible in the primary zone with 3,225 selected. Another 163 were selected in the secondary zone.

Primary zone selectees include 2,857 line officers, 42 chaplains, 54 judge advocates, 158 nurses, one medical service officer and four biomedical science officers.

Of 13,725 line officers eligible in the secondary zone, the Central Board considered 711 who had been nominated by Headquarters Air Force and major command boards. In view of their relatively small numbers, all officers from other components (totaling 1,156) were considered by the Central Board.

Seventy-two per cent (2,696 of 3,759) of the officers being considered for the first time were selected. Selection rate for those receiving their second consideration was 20 per cent (122 or 620), and 5.9 per cent (39 or 666) of those receiving their third or subsequent consideration were selected. Overall selection rate for the line primary zone was 57 per cent.

Forty-seven Reserve officers selected for promotion were subsequently selected for regular Air Force appointment by a board convening Oct. 29, immediately after the promotion board.

Promotion board composition included one major general and 30 colonels from 16 major commands, representing 13 officer career areas. Twelve were pilots; four, navigators; and 15 nonrated.

One major general and 24 colonels sat on the Regular Appointment Board. They came from 12 major commands and nine career areas. Included were six pilots, one navigator and 18 nonrated officers.

Collecting old swords provides Capt. Barnum unusual hobby

What began as a hobby collecting German military articles in 1958 has matured into one of the largest collections of Nazi swords in the United States for Capt. Gary Barnum, 64th Supply Squadron.

Fascinating is how Captain Barnum describes his unusual hobby. There are between 700 and 1,000 variations of German Army swords to be found. Captain Barnum has managed to collect 125 of them.

"Documenting is one of the most important and hardest things to do," says Captain Barnum. Many of his swords do have documentation. One sword documented is one presented to the German Luftwaffe during World War II by Hermann Goering (the German politician and Nazi Head of State during WWII). Also in his collection is a sword believed to have belonged to Heinrich Himmler, the Chief of the Gestapo during WW II.

Collecting swords is an expensive hobby. According to Captain Barnum swords that cost from $5 to $200 in WW II, today cost around $1,000. Perhaps that is why there are only about 1,000 major collectors of German WW II relics.

With the collection, but in separate rooms from his German swords, is a small collection of Civil War swords which he also prizes.

"Hopefully someday I will write my own book on the many interesting things I have found out about my swords and others, because it is a fascinating subject," said Captain Barnum.

Captain Barnum is not the only collector in his family. His wife collects beer steins and stamps.

Recruiting Service openings available throughout U.S.

Randolph AFB - Air Force Recruiting Service currently has vacancies in career broadening and challenging positions at many of the 32 recruiting detachments located throughout the United States.

An immediate need exists for senior 1st Lt. or captains to fill detachment advertising and publicity officer positions. These jobs are broad in scope and include creation, production, and placement of advertisements; public service radio and TV spots; educational publicity programs; public service radio and TV spots; general publicity programs; and participation in community relations/educational affairs activities. Currently vacancies exist at Milwaukee, Wisc.; Cleveland, Ohio; New Cumberland, Pennsy.; Gunter AFS, Ala.; Omaha, Neb.; St.

Paul, Minn.; and St. Louis, Mo. Additional vacancies are anticipated during the next 12 - 18 months. Although not mandatory, officers desiring duty as advertising and publicity officers, and who are not currently performing duty as an Information Officer should possess a degree in either advertising, marketing, public relations, broadcasting, or journalism.

In addition to advertising and publicity, positions will become vacant during 1977 for detachment commanders, operations officers, and support officers. The ranks authorized for these positions are Captains through Lieutenant Colonels.

Eligibility criteria for recruiting service are listed in Para. 8-2 and 8-18 of AFR 36-20, Officers Assignments. Officers selected for recruiting duty will be assigned to a three year Air Force Military Personnel Center (AFMPC) controlled tour with a special duty identifier of 0920.

For more information, interested officers are encouraged to write or telephone Maj. Jerry Beller, special manning section, AFMPC/DPMROS6B, Randolph AFB, Tex., 78148, autovon 487-4933/2668.

FROM THE TRAIL BOSS

Col. Edward Mendel
Wing Commander

This being the initial issue of the New Year, let me first of all wish each of you a happy, prosperous, and totally enjoyable 1977.

The New Year is traditionally a time for making resolutions about things we want to do during the year. Each of us probably has a list of things we personally want to achieve, as we should. The Wing also has some things that should be achieved. These are our Wing goals, or, in the current management vernacular, our Wing objectives under the Management by Objectives program. Each major unit throughout the Wing has a number of objectives in support of this program. They are all important, as they point the way that we are going during this new year.

I thought you might be interested in looking at my objectives for this Wing. Naturally, they tend to be somewhat general in nature and they will relate to more specific objectives under the unit programs. Here they are.

- To produce the best trained military pilots possible.
- To do this safely and at the least overall cost.
- To maintain our aircraft in the best possible condition.
- To improve our customer services throughout the base above the fine level of service already being provided.
- To provide better and more varied recreational programs for all of our people.
- To improve the base appearance through landscaping, reworking the roads and sidewalks, upgrading older buildings, etc.
- To ensure equity in the treatment of all our people.
- To involve everyone within the Reese family in our base activities, both during and after duty hours.

They are others I could add, of course, but these are at the top.

Look at these objectives and relate them to your job and your plans for 1977. We can make it work, but we must all work together toward common goals if we are to succeed.

Congress hampers credit card issuers

By Capt. William A. Moseley
Law Center, Keesler AFB, Miss.

Credit cards have become a huge business in the United States.

The United States Congress, in recognizing the possibilities for unfairness in the business, has passed several important new laws concerning credit cards. Since most people will probably want to take advantage of credit cards at some point, it is a good idea to become aware of our rights in obtaining and using them.

It is illegal for a credit card issuer to deny credit to a person on the basis of sex or marital status. In fact, a credit card issuer is now prohibited from asking the applicant's marital status or requiring the use of a title (such as Mr., Mrs., or Miss).

The only exception to these rules permits the company to consider the applicant's marital status where it will have an effect on the credit account.

Until recently, a credit cardholder who lost his card was liable for any charges made on his account by the thief or finder of the card. Now, however, he is not liable for such an unauthorized use of his card except under certain conditions. He cannot be required to pay more than $50 for the use, no matter how much has been charged on his account.

A credit card issuer is required to send you a regular statement showing the status of your account. The issuer is also required to give you prompt credit for any payments you make and any refunds credited to your account.

If you believe that one of your statements contains a billing error, notify the credit card issuer. The company is required to take steps to protect your rights. It must acknowledge and resolve the dispute within 90 days. While the dispute is being resolved, the company may not attempt to collect the disputed amount or report unfavorable information about your credit.

This law applies only where you suspect a billing error, not where you have a dispute with the merchant over the merchandise or services purchased.

When you believe the merchandise or services purchased are defective or unsatisfactory, you may usually withhold payment from the credit card company. You must first however, try to resolve the dispute with the merchant. In addition, the purchase price must be over $50 and the merchandise must have been purchased in your home state or within 100 miles of your residence.

Most credit card issuers clearly advise you of your rights under these laws and make sincere efforts to protect them. However, if you feel that you have been treated unfairly in a credit card application, your legal assistance officer can advise you of your rights and suggest steps to take.

Commander's CARE Line

(Editor's Note: THE ROUNDUP will publish Commander's CARE Line calls which are of basewide interest. Names of callers will not be published, but callers should leave their name and duty extension in case their problem needs clarification. All calls are reviewed by Wing Commander Col. Edward Mendel. Reese people are urged to use their chain of command or the office of primary responsibility to air complaints or comments, if possible. If not, call the CARE Line by dialing C-A-R-E (Ext. 2273). Please provide your name and duty section when calling.)

Why Us?

I arrived here about a month ago and I am working at the Hospital. One thing that has really bugged me since I arrived is the base attitude toward the Hospital and the appearance of Hospital personnel.

I get tired of people looking at cooks and thinking they are medics reporting them for AFR 35-10 violations. I think there are a lot of other squadrons on base that fall well below 35-10 standards, but it seems the Hospital is constantly singled out. I don't think it's really fair.

I agree with you. I'm sure I would feel the same way if people gave me a hard time just because I wore hospital whites. Sure there are a few people at the Hospital who are on the fringes of the standards, but every organization on Reese has those kinds of people (and some of them wear whites in performing their duties too).

We recently went over the 35-10 standards in detail in a Wing Staff Meeting so that there would be a more uniform understanding of what is O.K. and what is not. I visit all base units and am happy to say that our Hospital people are some of the best, in every way. So cheer up, not everyone is down on you.

Commissary Hassle

I think it is really stupid that you have to show your ID card when you are in uniform in the commissary. It's a real insult.

I used to feel the same way until I realized why the check was made. It's simply so that we don't lose the commissary privileges through abuse by unauthorized people. For example, some members of Reserve components have used their uniforms to make unauthorized purchases at the commissary, BX, and Package Store; or people have tried to use out-of-date cards to buy things illegally. Consequently, the commissary management, in order to protect our privileges, must make positive identification of each shopper. This goes for everyone, in or out of uniform. I show my card each time and really don't mind.

Vehicle Use

I would like to know why CE people can't use their own vehicles to get around and do their work. Sometime we have to wait for 30 minutes to an hour for a taxi to go out and come back.

We don't mind using our own vehicles to get around. We need them to get our work done, but it seems they don't want us to use them.

You're right, we don't want you to use your own vehicles. Craftsmen are prohibited from using their own vehicles in their work in order to preclude government liability and to minimize lost time.

When we did permit the use of private autos, we found that a number of people abused the system and that too much time was wasted between jobs. Additionally, we could not manage the work force properly as people went to and forth without checking in with the job controllers.

The present taxi system, when run properly, should be the most efficient way to get to and from work sites, and permits better management of the work force. You certainly should not have to wait 30 minutes to an hour for a taxi. Any waiting time of more than five minutes should be reported to your supervisor, who should report it to the transportation vehicle officer. We want to make the taxi system work and need your help.

Base x-ray clinic offers limited, but efficient help

By MSgt. Robert A. Gregoria Patient Affairs Representative

In the course of your visit to our facility, the Health Care Providers may require routine diagnostic or special x-rays to assist them in the treatment of your illness and/or injury. This article is written to familiarize our patients with the routine procedures required to obtain the services of and the capability of the Radiology Clinic of the hospital.

that the Radiology Clinic is equipped with one x-ray room to service both the outpatient and inpatient needs of the hospital. Depending on the workload for that particular day, which could include patients requiring emergency x-rays and/or special radiological procedures, you may encounter an unavoidable delay before your x-rays are taken.

There may be an occasion when your care is being provided by a civilian physician due to the limited specialties available at this facility. If this is the case, and he/she requests x-rays, you may have them done here. Bring the request to the screening room in the Primary Care Clinic, where it will be transferred to the appropriate form, you can then take this form to our Radiology Clinic and the x-rays will be taken. If the request is for special examination, you will be given an appointment.

Since we are a small 10 bed hospital, there is no military radiologists authorized for our facility. To provide this service, a civilian radiologist from the Lubbock area has been hired part time to review and interpret x-rays on a daily basis. Also twice a week, this individual performs special radiological procedures at the hospital upon request from your Health Care Provider. If you are scheduled for one of these special procedures, an appointment will be made for you by the x-ray technician and you will be instructed on any advanced preparations required. Keep in mind that these procedures take longer than the routine x-ray, so plan to spend some time in the clinic.

In closing, two helpful hints that will save you time and help us help you:

- Don't call the Radiology Clinic for the results of your x-ray, only your Health Care Provider is authorized to furnish you this information.
  - The waiting room in the Clinic is very small and barely accommodates our patients so we ask that you only bring those children that are to be x-ray'd into the clinic.
- With your understanding and support, we will continue to provide you with quick and efficient service.

New tax revisions aimed at child care

By Capt. Paul N. Cox
Deputy Staff Judge Advocate

Among the important revisions to the tax law enacted by the 1976 Tax Reform Act are substantial changes to child care expense deductions.

Under the old law, a taxpayer could deduct a maximum of $400 per month in child care expenses for a dependent child under age 15 if the expenses were necessary so that the taxpayer could work. A number of complex rules reduced the deduction for some taxpayers.

New Tax Credit

The Tax Reform Act of 1976 eliminated this deduction and enacted a new tax credit for certain child care expenses. The expenses must be for the care of a dependent child under age 15 or disabled dependent and must be incurred to permit the taxpayer to work. The credit is not available if the taxpayer's spouse remains at home, but is available if the taxpayer's spouse works or is a student.

20 Per Cent Credit

The credit is 20 per cent of the child-care expenses incurred by the taxpayer, but the maximum amount of credit may be limited by a number of special rules. The credit applies to married, divorced and single parents who qualify and applies to 1976 and later years.

It should be remembered that the new law provides for a tax credit rather than an itemized deduction. The amount of the tax itself is therefore reduced by the credit. For example, if the amount of the credit is computed (20 per cent of expenses reduced by the special rules) to be $200, and the income is calculated (prior to application of the credit) to be $1,332, the tax would be $1,132. It is apparent, then, that persons with children who have incurred child or dependent care expenses during the year may benefit substantially by the new law and should seek advice at the time they file to determine whether the credit applies to them.

Band to perform Jan. 14

Mathis Recreation Center is again proud to present one of the most versatile Rock groups in Texas.

During the past year Mathis has had the privilege of having over forty named groups. However, the most popular group has been the American Peddlers.

The Peddlers consists of six top-notch musicians who really get down with the audience to the point of hitting the peak of involvement with the music they are listening to.

They presently have six 45 RPM on the market and will be cutting their first album this year.

The Peddlers are very much in demand on all military installations through out the state. However, Reese (Mathis Recreation Centre) AFB is fortunate in bringing to you the terrific group you have asked for.

Remember, Friday Night, 14 January 77, from 9 p.m. - 1 a.m. and the cover charge will only be $1.00 per person.

Drug Abuse: an ever increase

Punishable By Law

We sit in Tom's car waiting as he rolls a number from a two-finger lid of pot. He is finally satisfied with his efforts and he hands the joint to me. I take a match, strike it, and light up the joint, inhaling deeply.

The smoke is harsh and the odor smells like someone is burning rope. My throat and lungs burn as I take another drag, and keeping the smoke inhaled, pass the joint.

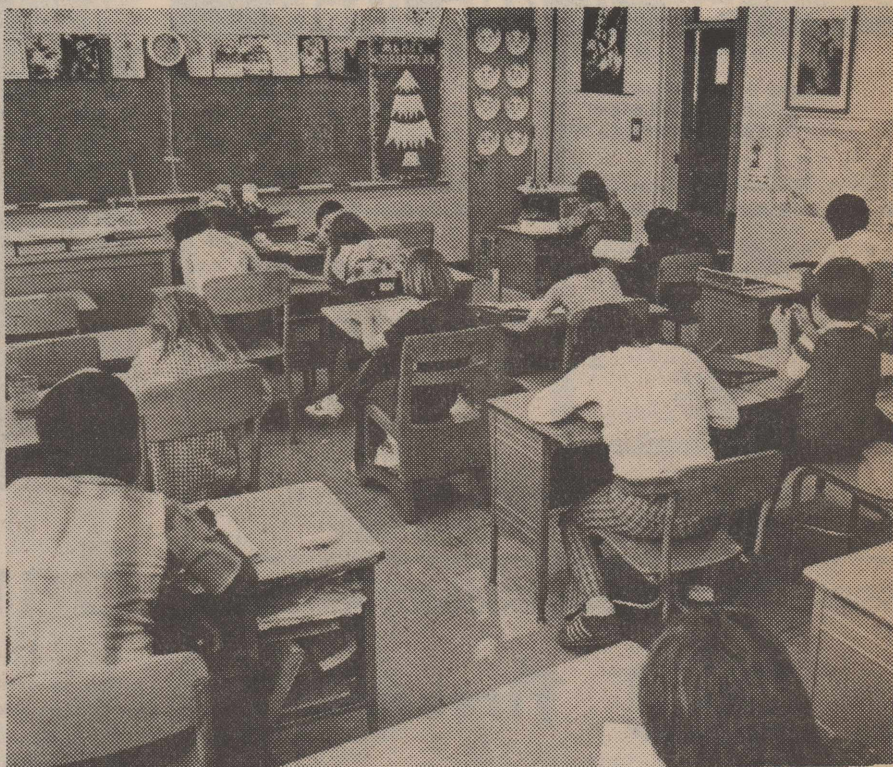

We are just beginning to get high when I notice the flashing red lights approaching. Tom has noticed them too because he is quickly putting out the joint and hiding his lid under the seat. We try to look straight as two Security Policemen ask us what we are doing.

Clearing his throat, Tom tells them we are waiting for someone. My heart skips a beat when they ask us to step out of the car. While one watches us the other inspects the car's interior.

I know he has found the lid when his hand suddenly stops searching beneath the seat. He withdraws his hand clutching Tom's lid.

My thoughts are a blur. What will Mom and Dad do? What will happen to me? Will I go to jail?

The scene described above has happened before. Drug Abuse is not something that will go away by closing your eyes. It's real and it is happening now and Reese is no exception.

DISTURBING - Drug use can and does begin here. The problem of drug abuse in this age and all school age children grows larger everyday.

DOPE PUSHER
grounds where

PILLS, PILLS, PILLS - In today's drug market, you can purchase pills to get you high, bring you down, turn you on and off but they can lead to hard drug usage.

Barbiturates, Amphetamines

Another drug being abused is barbiturates. Possession of these can be punishable by a year in jail.

Whereas amphetamines speed up the body, barbiturates (Red Devils, Pinks, Barbs, Goofballs, and Yellows) slow the heart and lower the blood pressure. A person abusing this drug may suffer from drowsiness, confusion, depression, and mildly dilated pupils.

Barbiturates are physically addicting. When used for prolonged lengths of time, the withdrawal symptoms are more severe than withdrawal from heroin or other narcotics. It takes several months to safely withdraw from barbiturates and should only be done under a doctor's supervision.

Amphetamines

Possession of amphetamines, (speed, bennies, pep-pills) for example, is a felony and can bring prison sentences of up to 10 years.

Small doses of this drug are used in the medical world as a treatment for weight reduction, mild depression, and narcolepsy or the uncontrollable urge to sleep. When this dosage is increased, the drug can kill.

Amphetamines force the body to race at high rates of speed for a long time. The reason most kids don't notice it is because they have young, healthy bodies that can take a lot of stress and strain before they finally give in.

Toxic Psychosis

Because of the massive stimulation of the nervous system by Amphetamines and because appetite and sleep patterns are disturbed, an eventual state of toxic psychosis often occurs. This is usually characterized by hallucinations, tremendous panic or fear reaction, with added waves of despondency and depression. During this period is it extremely tempting to avoid the hard come-down by shooting up again or dropping more speed. By the third or fourth day of continuous use the chemical starts taking over, everything seems unimportant.

Speed actually enables years of aging and deterioration to be squeezed into a few short weeks or months with heavy use. Another proven effect of speed is eventual damage to brain functions; people who once had full control of the English language find themselves unable to remember proper words, and even have difficulty in speaking. Not all hard drugs will do this — but, speed will, if you persis long enough.

HARD DRUGS - This shows some of the equipment used by herion and other hard drug users. A rubber hose or along with something to cook the dope in will usually be found along with the supply and needle.

Increasing problem in our schools

PUSHERS - The buying and selling of drugs is not limited to dark alleys and bars. It can happen on the school grounds where your kids are playing.

Marijuana Legality

Discounting alcohol, probably the most abused drug is marijuana. Opinions differ on marijuana. Some see nothing more harmful in it than in alcohol. Others claim that constant use will make the user want to try harder drugs.

Which ever side you are on, there is one unmistakable truth. Possession of marijuana is against the law.

The State of Texas provides for different penalties for different types of drugs, and in the case of marijuana, the penalties vary depending on how much you are holding. The maximum penalties for possession of marijuana range from six months in jail for possession of less than two ounces and up to 10 years for more than four ounces. Delivery of any amount of marijuana over 1/4 ounce is a felony punishable by up to 10 years in prison.

In Texas, females under 18 and males under 17 are considered juveniles. A violation of the criminal laws, such as the drug laws, may lead to a juvenile being adjudicated a delinquent. Such a finding may result in commitment to a state school until the juvenile reaches the age of adulthood.

The laws on other drugs are harsher, as so too are the effects these drugs have on the body.

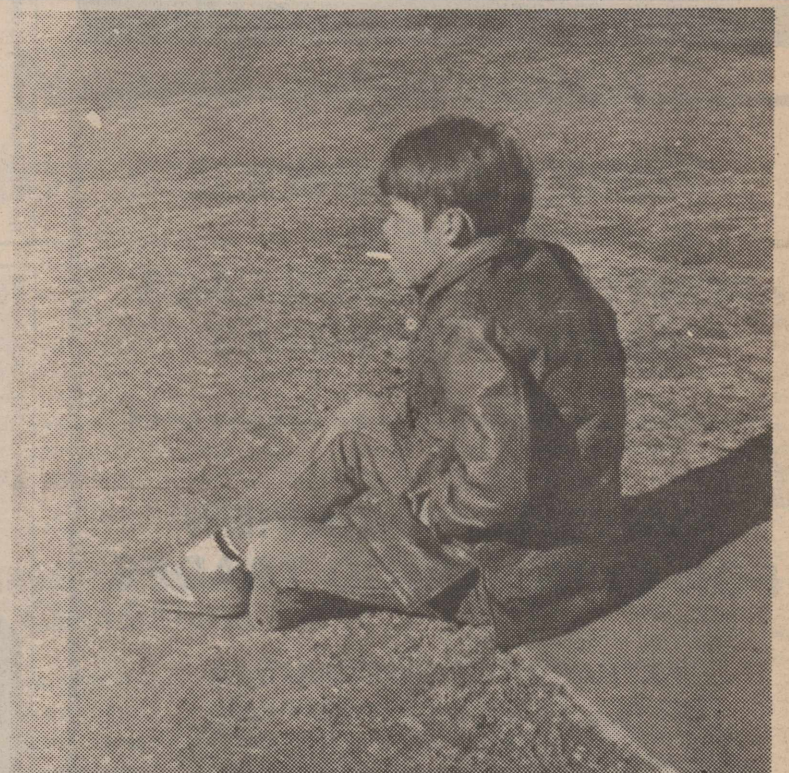

of marijuana

order drugs

MARIJUANA - It is called many things in the varied drug language but no matter what it is called, it is illegal. This shows it's natural leaf state and it's usage state.

SMOKING - Is this your child? Smoking marijuana is prevalent in every age group from elementary school to older adults.

Hard Drugs

The so called "hard drugs," such as heroin, opium, morphine, and cocaine, as well as LSD, bring the most severe punishments. Possession of these drugs is a felony, and can result in prison sentences of up to 20 years. Delivery of any of these drugs is a felony and can mean life in prison. A delivery means any transfer from one person to another, even if no money changes hands.

Heroin is probably the most addicting of the hard drugs. Overdose potential is high due to unknown dosage levels, and occasionally due to impurities in the cutting agent. The symptoms of morphine and heroin users are: euphoria, slurred speech, nausea, constricted pupils, and scars, needle marks and abscesses where the drug was injected.

There are countless other drugs being used today. Some of them are more harmful than others, however, nearly all are illegal. If someone you know is using drugs, the best thing you can do is get medical attention for him or her.

DEATH BY OVERDOSE - The use of hard drugs ends here for many. This is the stark reality which must be faced by anyone who uses drugs.

EMERGENCY - An overdose of drugs, if detected in time, will bring about a hurried trip to the hospital or emergency room. A person getting his or her stomach pumped out is not a pretty sight.

Air Force and you make a profit with suggestions

Some people are helping the U.S. Air Force save money, and at the same time, earning themselves a monetary reward. SrA Sam Edward Lovorn of the 64th Organizational Maintenance Squadron (OMS) is one of these people.

While in the 81st Field Maintenance Squadron (FMS) of RAF Bentwater, England, Airman Lovorn had an idea he thought may save the Air Force money. He wrote his idea down on an AF Form 1000 and submitted it to his supervisor.

Six months later he received a check for $125. The money was his reward for saving the Air Force $1,457 through his suggestion.

Airman Lovorn's idea was to design a new tool out of a bolt for removing and replacing valve cores in aircraft tires. This tool would not only save the Air Force money but also prevent tire leaks.

"I really didn't expect my suggestion to be approved," said Airman Lovorn. "I was really surprised when I was told to pick up a check for $125."

Lt. Col. Norrel expresses thanks for successful year

By Capt. Jim Nelson

Lt. Col. Eddie C. Norrel would like to take this opportunity to wish everyone a happy, healthy and prosperous New Year. He is extremely pleased with the squadron and urges everyone to keep up the good work.

If you've been in the squadron, and in particular the Academic Branch, you've undoubtedly noticed some differences. Capt. Jerry "that's right" Davis decided his office didn't meet his standards. Over the break he commissioned the firm of Mr. Phyllis and Associates of Muleshoe to redecorate and give the place some "personality". It's not that bad... if you like multicolored shag carpeting, lime green chairs, and cow-pie brown walls!

There's never a dull moment around the office. That is as long as Bill Webster, the world's best looking athletic supporter, and 1st Lt. Jim (soon to be 2nd Lt.) Burden lock horns. Jim made the mistake of invoking the wrath of a skunk. Turnabout is fair play Jim. I'm really surprised that you would display an obvious lack of judgement by compounding your faux-pas by taking on the Squadron Commander. Four years of intensive training at Hudson High has obviously made your brain go soft.

Dorm visitation program gets underway at Reese

A 30 day Dormitory Visitation Test Program began Dec. 24.

The success or failure of the program will depend upon individual and group efforts, actions and adherence to policy by all dormitory residents.

Visitation Hours

During the program, visitation privileges will be allowed in individual rooms and dayrooms seven days a week during the following hours:

Monday - Thursday: 11 a.m. - 11 p.m.

Friday: 11 a.m. - 2 a.m.

Saturday: 11 a.m. - 2 a.m.

Sunday: 11 a.m. - 11 p.m.

Holiday not preceding a workday: 11 a.m. - 2 a.m.

Holiday preceding a workday: 11 a.m. - 11 p.m.

Rules

The following rules govern the program:

Guest Restrictions: No visitors under the age of 18, other than active duty military personnel, are allowed in dormitories at any time. No more than one guest per individual at the same time.

Escort of Guests: Individuals sponsor of guest will meet and escort the guest to and from the respective room, dayroom and designated latrine facility. Sponsor is responsible for the conduct of the guest at all times.

Dress Code: All dormitory personnel will, during visitation hours, maintain an appropriate appearance in communal areas such as hallways and dayrooms.

Each dormitory council will establish appropriate standards of dress.

Latrine Facilities: With the exception of Dormitory 230, each bay orderly will insure that an appropriate sign "Off Limits to Male Personnel" is placed on the latrine doors of the designated latrine prior to beginning of visitation hours. A similar sign will be used in the female quarters. To preclude inconvenience to the same dormitory personnel, an alternating (weekly) latrine schedule will be set up on each floor.

Violations

Violations of rules governing this program will be grounds for suspension of individual visitation privileges, possible disciplinary action, or suspension of the program. The following are considered violations:

- Any visitor in the dormitory outside the prescribed visiting hours.
- Failure to maintain proper dress in communal areas.
- Males (other than Bay Orderly) entering the designated female latrine.
- Females (other than Bay Orderly) entering the designated male latrine.
- Abusive, loud or profane language will not be condoned.
- Lack of consideration for dormitory residents (disturbing privacy, disturbing noise.)

The control of this program is strictly based on good moral behavior and conduct. Nonresident traffic associated with a visitation program will require residents to be especially watchful to insure protection of personal and government properties.

Dormitory personnel are responsible for policing the program and identifying violators. Violators will be reported through the Dormitory Council to the respective unit First Sergeant for appropriate action.

Capt. Scheer wins honors from SOS

An officer attached to the 64th Student Squadron, Reese AFB TX 79489 was selected as a distinguished graduate of the United States Air Force's (USAF) Squadron Officer School (SOS) at Maxwell AFB AL.

Captain Douglas B. Scheer was in competition with 674 students in Class 76-D and graduated in the top seven percent of his class. In addition, his selection for this distinctive honor was recommended by a review committee and approved by the SOS Commandant.

Squadron Officer School is the first of the USAF's professional military education schools. The mission of the 11-week course is to prepare selected captains and lieutenants for those command and staff tasks required of junior officers of the Air Force.

The evaluation system consists of five phases: academics (45%), writing (15%), speaking (15%), group problem solving (20%), and individual problem solving (5%). The student must pass each phase.

Ten Pin Alley

Nine shoot over 500

By Sonny Serutan

Welcome back! We missed you. The holidays are gone, everyone seemed to have a good Christmas and are looking forward to a great New Year.

The bowling Center is planning a bunch of good stuff for the New Year. So be prepared.

The Command Bowling Tournament will be at Lackland AFB this year and we are getting ready for the Roll-off. Once again, it will be a 36 game bowl off. We eliminate one third of the field after 12 games. After the next 12, one half of the remaining are eliminated and the last 12 games bring about the selection of the team, four men and two ladies. Remember that all pin fall for 36 games will be counted.

The scores turned in by the Ball and Chainers for Dec. 16 were so good I saved them for this edition of the Roundup. We had nine people shoot 500 or better. That's pretty good bowling. John Walker had a 227/584, Bill Register, 237/582; Wally Caskey, 234/572; Sam Mele, 200/570; Connor Russell, 208/564; Doug Bradford, 222/563; George Watson, 527, Jo Ann Clark, 188/509 and Gladys Mele, 182/506.

Don't forget Scotch Doubles Saturday night and Rent a Lane on Sunday.

Football... Tech lost a toughie but they will be back next year better than ever.

The Cowboys need a runner and better get one. Either that or take out a lot of life insurance on Roger the Dodger.

S.S. had a busy week. He tried seven or eight acts but couldn't get one to work at our prices. Inflation has caused a lot of trouble; its gotten to the point where you can't get an act for two cans of beer and a pizza anymore.

Sonny says - "Lane conditions change - Good bowlers adjust to them".
