Beverly Baker Wins Third Place In Regional Extemporaneous Speaking

Barbara Flores Wins Junior Spelling Bee

Barbara Flores

Barbara Flores, Sherman County junior spelling bee winner, will attend the banquet in Amarillo Saturday with Janis Reynolds, but will not compete in the regional bee.

Barbara is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hose Flores.

Candidate comes from a Latin word meaning "white-robed." It was first applied to Roman office-seekers who were required to wear white garments.

An election to be held May 27 for the consideration of issuing $150,000 in bonds by Road District 2 for the purpose of paving about 15 miles of county roads in the district was ordered by the Commissioners' Court at a meeting held for a hearing on the issue Wednesday morning. The bonds if approved, are to be retired within 20 years from taxes levied on property within the bounds of Road District 2 which comprises Precinct Two of the county.

County Commissioner E. W. Carter of Precinct Two said the tentatively planned road which the bond issue would pave will connect the farms of Travis, Neal and Alvin Spurlock and L. M. Fedric with the paved Spurlock road known as FM119. It would also connect the farm homes of T. A. Dooley and Roy Browder with Farm-to-Market Road 119.

In the east end of the county the new paving would connect the homes of Dean Cluck and Robert Ferguson with FM road 1573.

No opposition was voiced against the bond issue at the hearing Wednesday morning.

Carter said that if the bond issue is approved, and the new paving constructed, it will place most of the farm homes in the precinct within a short distance of a paved road.

The bond election will be held in the basement of the Spurlock Chapel on Saturday, May 27. Clay Spurlock was named judge of the election and Mrs. Meritt Sweny and Mrs. Clay Spurlock were appointed clerks of the election.

Oma Ellison Is Recovering From Tractor-Truck Collision Injuries

Oma Ellison, 56-year old Stratford farmer, narrowly escaped death Monday morning when the tractor he was driving was struck by an empty semi-trailer truck. The accident occurred on U. S. Highway 287 about 7 miles south of Stratford.

Earl Phelps was an eye witness to the accident. Pete Ellison and Ernest Ellison were driving toward Stratford in a pickup a short distance ahead of the tractor and reached the injured man soon after Phelps.

Phelps returned to Stratford for an ambulance. Ellison is reported to have a fractured thumb and numerous abrasions and bruises. He was hospitalized in Dumas for treatment and observation. Mrs. Ellison, who has been in ill health, was hospitalized to recover from the shock soon after she viewed her husband's condition.

The Ellison brothers were driving north toward Stratford as was the semi-trailer truck. Phelps was driving south on the highway a short distance behind another car moving in the same direction.

Phelps said he saw the truck moving up behind the tractor. It appeared that the driver wanted to pass but was hindered by the car directly ahead of him. When the car passed the tractor and truck, the driver of the truck whipped the vehicle to the left to pass the tractor. The right front wheel of the truck struck the left rear wheel of the heavy tractor. The tractor spun around and came to rest upside down on the pavement. The truck veered to the left going (Continued on Page 5)

They learn and adopt improved methods in their own homes, and many serve as volunteer local leaders to teach others. By "showing how" as well as "telling how," local home demonstration leaders help neighbors and friends also become more able homemakers. Most important of all, they help create better homes for rearing and training children, for molding character, and influencing tomorrow's citizens.

Home demonstration work is an education program - planned by and for homemakers. It is conducted cooperatively by the Extension Service of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, the State land-grant colleges, and county governments.

This year's National Home Demonstration Week extends from April 30 through May 6. The week's theme is "Today's home builds tomorrow's world." The women in this large out-of-school program of the Cooperative Extension Service are helping today's home build tomorrow's world better.

LOOK HOW CLEAN MODERN ELECTRIC HOME HEATING IS!

EVEN A SNOW WHITE HANDKERCHIEF STAYS CLEAN WITH ELECTRIC HEAT

From home after home where electric house heating has been installed, you hear comments like these:

"Dusting is practically unnecessary..."

"Drapes just never seem to get dirty."

"We haven't had to redecorate in years."

And, then, electric heat homeowners volunteer information like,

"There just aren't any cold drafts or hot blasts."

"We've never felt so completely comfortable."

"It's amazing, there's just no maintenance to pay for or worry about."

FEED GRAIN PROGRAM DOES NOT AFFECT OTHER GROWERS

The recently enacted 1961 feed grain program applies only to producers of corn and grain sorghum, R. C. Buckles, chairman of the Sherman County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee said today. It does not apply to producers of other feed grains only.

In reply to inquiries as to how the program affects farmers who produce "other" feed grains — such as barley, oats, or rye, the chairman explained that a farmer's participation in the 1961 feed grain program will be calculated from records of his farm's corn and grain sorghum production during the base years 1959 and 1960. From these records, will be determined the "minimum" amount of acreage the grower must divert from such production into a soil-conserving use, and also the rate of payment applicable to the farm.

For diverting acreage under the program, the corn and grain sorghum producer will receive a special payment, and he will be eligible for price support on the normal production of his 1961 corn and grain sorghum acreage and also on all of his other feed grain crops, barley, oats and rye.

Where a farmer did not produce either corn or grain sorghum in 1959 or 1960, and where he does not intend these crops this year, the feed grain program does not affect him at all. Such a farmer will be able to obtain price support in his "other" feed grains just as in other years — without regard to the 1961 feed grain program.

Producers of corn and grain sorghum will find it definitely to their advantage to participate in the feed grain program, Mr. Buckles declared. Besides qualifying for price support on 1961 feed grains, the cooperators will be assured of an income from the diverted acreage regardless (Continued from page 3)

Free Prizes - - Formal Opening April 29

Half a pound extra gain per day on a steer... can mineral do that? It sure can, according to experiment station tests. That depends, of course, on a couple of important things. First, your steers must like the mineral and eat it—as they do Swift's. Second, the mineral must be complete, including the right trace minerals. Well, Swift's contains eleven essential mineral elements, balanced just right.

Your hogs can make extra gain, in proportion, on Swift's hog mineral. And sheep, too, on Swift's All Purpose Mineral.

Looking for the best buy in mineral? That's Swift's—at your Swift feed dealer.

Let Your Face Be Radiant

A radiant face is a face that's clean, alive and made-up to keep the natural coloring and good features which it has.

There's no substitute for thorough night cleansing: soap and water lathered over the face, then rinsed or a deep cleansing with lanolin cream for old or dry skin, followed with astringent and a cream or oil for night use.

Quick cleansing during the day can be easy with pads saturated with cleansing agent or skin freshener applied before new make-up is put on.

Saucy Ham Omelet (Serves 4)

- 1 cup diced cooked ham
- 4 tablespoons butter
- 2 cups canned apple sauce
- 6 eggs
- 1/4 teaspoon salt
- Few grains pepper
- 1/2 cup milk

Saute ham in 2 tablespoons butter until a delicate brown. Add applesauce and heat. Beat eggs slightly, adding salt, pepper and milk. Mix well and place in skillet with remaining butter. Cook over low heat, gently lifting mixture as it cooks so uncooked mixture flows under the cooked mixture. Cook until omelet is set. Place half of ham mixture on omelet, fold over and serve with remaining ham mixture poured over omelet.

Too much make-up will detract from natural radiance and vitality. If you have these qualities, let them show through carefully applied make-up.

across the Santa Fe railroad track, snapped off a telegraph pole and came to a stop in a small pond adjoining the railroad right-of-way on the R. C. Buckles farm. Some residents describe the lake as the Bill Buckles minnow pond.

Oma Ellison was thrown from the tractor and lay unconscious on his right side on the pavement.

Noah Brown of Grandfield, Oklahoma, driver of the truck, climbed out of the truck and waded out of the pond under his own power. He had escaped serious injury.

Highway Patrolman Martin Exum of Dalhart investigated the accident.

The semi-trailer truck was owned by Harlan A. Mills Co. of Burkburnett and was empty. Exum said Brown may have misjudged the comparative speed of the two vehicles because when he began pulling to his left to pass the farm tractor the right front wheel of his semi-trailer hooked the left rear wheel of the farm tractor.

The farm tractor, Exum said, was hurled around and upside down and Ellison was thrown from it. Apparently suffering from a head injury, Ellison was taken to the hospital at Dumas. The collision evidently threw

Oral Report To Be Made Public Tuesday Night

The oral report of the visiting evaluative committee will be made in the school auditorium Tuesday night at 7:30 p. m. This report is to be made to the faculty, administrators, lay citizens, board of trustees and all interested citizens. Every one in the community is urged to attend this oral report of the evaluative study by the visiting committee.

Greenbug Infestation Threatens

Greenbug infestation has continued to build up in Sherman County wheat fields during the past week. Farmers should inspect their wheat fields at regular 2 or 3 day intervals to determine the degree of infestation and the possible need for spraying, County Agent E. Goule has advised.

There were a number of fields in the county inspected this week that do not have enough infestation to justify spraying. However with light infestation of greenbugs in most fields and with rapid build-up, more fields can be expected to be infested each day and some may be serious enough to require spraying.

The season for greenbug infestation should be approaching the end. However, as long as cool days continue, greenbug infestation can be expected to build-up.

The week in art we mixed different colors of paints together to make a different color. Then we cut them out in the shapes of flowers. They were pasted on a sheet of paper to make flowers with stems. They are very pretty.

We had an assembly Wednesday and part of us were in the program. We did a choral drama called "The Princess and the Pea". There were other classes participating in the assembly too.

In English, we wrote on our happiest moments and our most embarrassing moments. They all were very good.

In history we are learning the inventors and have studied what they invented and in what year. We also learned the semi-trailer out of control. It continued veering to the left, jumping the paralleling Santa Fe tracks and stopped out in a small lake on the Buckles' farm, traveling about 100 yards from the point of impact, the officer said. It mowed down a telegraph pole and smashed through the right-of-way fence.

these wonderful people

It's not always fair weather for mom. When the rain comes down, the kids have to stay inside and they can "mess up" as fast as mom can pick up or clean up. Often, it appears to be a losing battle.

Many a husband from time to time makes the joking remark that he would gladly stay home and "swap jobs" with mom for a day or two—so she would really appreciate the effort a man must put forth to be a good provider. But, most men know better and there's no question about the fact that mom would sometimes be glad to swap with anybody—for just an hour or so, anyway.

This is not to say that mom doesn't love her house, her work, her children and everything else. The truth of the matter is in that old saying about a "woman's work"—it's really never done.

As a rule, mom keeps things pretty well under control. But—along comes a holiday that's a rainy day—and she not only has her regular "chores" to do, she also has the youngsters underfoot. She has to do for them and, by the time they get through making "tents" out of chairs and blankets, with an impromptu pillow fight thrown in for good measure, she seriously thinks about throwing her arms skyward and shouting, "I surrender!" After all, the house was neat as a pin first thing this morning.

P-TA Clarifies Education Alert Program

A called meeting was held in the high school auditorium Thursday of last week for the purpose of clarifying the education alert program of the P-TA.

In answer to a letter to the president of the state P-TA, Mrs. W. D. deGrassi, the immediate past president of the organization attended and answered all of the questions concerning the stand the P-TA has taken on the growing needs of the schools of the state.

Legislative Program "We urge action on the re-organization of Texas School Laws, Texas Criminal Laws and Procedure, and other laws affecting the welfare of children and youth.

We support legislation to provide funds to implement enacted laws, such as:

Legislation for the protection of youth and from the sale and distribution of pornographic literature, and juvenile parole system.

We urge cooperation with all recognized agencies in the community interested in achieving adequate laws securing the protection of children and youth.

Amendment as submitted from the floor and adopted at the 51st annual state convention in Austin: Amendment to the paragraph Education by adding at the beginning "We believe that Texas children have a right to an education superior to Russians and at least equal to the education of children from other states—no longer will we tolerate being 34th in teacher salaries and 36th in expenditures per child.

"We believe that better schools for Texas children is our states right and a state's responsibility to be paid with Texas money and without Federal controls". To get this program recognized is the responsibility of every citizen of the community and this may be done by attending all P-TA meetings so that we may become aware of the needs and aims of the P-TA. We must also write as individuals to all of our state legislators and express our views on this subject especially on the Federal Aid Bill that is coming up. Some 30 states endorse this bill and it is time for Texans to stand up on their feet and have a little pride and faith in themselves as individuals and Texans."

Supporters Urge Federal Aid For Schools

(By Walter Rogers)
It seems that we are living in the age of "aid." The dictionary in my office defines this much-used word as follows: "To help; to further. That which promotes or helps in something done; an extraordinary subsidy." I suppose there must have been eras of seeking "local aid," which were, no doubt, followed by eras in which people were seeking "state aid." But for the last several decades the trend seems to be away from the local and state levels and advanced to the Federal level. It seems that all segments of the economy are pointing their efforts toward Washington for aid of some kind. And I would point out that there are no exceptions when all of the facts are brought out in the open. It is not only the poor and the low income groups that are seeking aid from the Capital City. The fact is that many very wealthy individuals and giant corporations who daily preach free enterprise and contribute generously to publications and programs bitterly denouncing government help and aids, maintain high-paid lobbyists in the Nation's Capital for the sole purpose of obtaining fat contracts and lucrative purchase orders that are to be paid for out of taxes wrung from the individual Americans. During the recent debates on the area redevelopment bills, letters and telegrams were received by Members of Congress from Chambers of Commerce and municipal corporations all over this country, many of whom have soundly denounced excessive Federal spending and socialistic trends in the Federal government. It is difficult to understand how a socialistic program becomes less socialistic simply because one is allowed to participate in it. Let us take a look at some of the measures with which Congress has been faced in the past several years and will be again faced with this year.

Federal Aid To Education
This proposal is not new. It has been vigorously pushed for a number of years. The only reason that it has not been adopted on a wide front during the past 10 years is because of an amendment which provided that Federal funds should be denied to any school practicing segregation. Yet each year, the difference between the years and nays narrows. It seems to be generally assumed that there was nothing wrong with Federal aid as a general proposition. This, of course, was starting from an assumed premise that was false. Under our Constitution, it was undoubtedly intended that education would be the responsibility of the states under the dual sovereignty form of government — dual sovereignty meaning that the Federal government would be a national sovereignty composed of the several states as separate sovereignties joined together in one united sovereignty. As time moved on, attempts have been continuous to reduce the powers of the state sovereignty and weld them into the Federal sovereignty. The field of education is no exception. Since we are all deeply interested in the welfare and education of our children and in seeing that they obtain the best possible education, this furnishes a fertile field for the advocates of centralized government. Federal aid in the form of money, whether it be loans or direct grants, if practiced on a wide scale general program, must eventually result in control of the educational processes of this nation. Once the Federal government assumes the responsibility of providing the funds (probably supplemental in the first instance), it cannot escape the responsibility of controlling the expenditures of those funds and, hence dictating the educational procedures. It is the yielding in the first instance which creates the foothold that eventually ripens into full conquest. The transition could come very quickly in this country even though it is a government of law rather than man. It must be remembered that the laws are made by man. Once the Federal door is opened in the field of education, it would require only one session of a Congress manned by a simple majority of centralized government advocates and a friendly President to complete the conquest. The same rule could be applied in almost any other area of our general economy. A good example is the recent siting brought into focus by the debate on the minimum wage bill. The real purpose behind the minimum wage bill was not the amount of wages that a person received, but the attempt by the centralized government advocates to expand the coverage of Federal law; that is, to provide that Federal law would supersede state law insofar as certain employees were concerned. There were three bills before the House. Insofar as the principle involved is concerned, there was no difference in any of the bills. The principle sought was for the Federal government to invade state jurisdiction. None of the bills took in all employees, but the passage of any one of the bills means that the difference between interstate commerce and interstate commerce as far as the Fair Labor Standards Act is concerned has been broken. Hence, it is only a matter of time until amendments would be made to cover all employees of the United States under the Federal law. This may seem very good to many people, but it must be remembered that once this course is followed in regard to one segment of the economy, that some rule would be applicable to all other segments of the economy. Carrying it out to its logical conclusion, the end result would be the complete abolition of the effectiveness of state governments and the vesting of omnipotent power in the central government of the United States. Once this is done, complete control of our entire operations, both governmental and private, could be secured by the election of 219 Members of the House of Representatives and

51 Members of the United States Senate by a power-seeking individual or small group of individuals. There are many, many things that can be and probably will be furnished by the Federal government to the individuals, to corporations, and to cities and towns that may be looked upon by the recipient as most beneficial. But I would admonish each and every one before counting such blessings, if blessings they are, to consider well the price that is being paid. Many of you will find it much too high. I do.

Dean Heil Almost Loses Finger

Dean Heil almost lost the first joint of the second finger on his left hand Friday morning when it became caught in the chain of the starting motor while he was cranking an irrigation well motor.

The joint of the finger was completely severed. Heil picked up the end of his finger, stuck it back in place and drove to the Stratford Clinic where Dr. Paul E. Smith sutured back the joint and dressed the wound for observation. Monday the wound seemed to be healing and Heil believed that he might be able to save the joint of his finger.

An artistic hand painted scene of boys and a girl playing baseball appeared on the east wall of the cafeteria near the kitchen. A life-like tree spread its branches along the inner wall of the cafeteria. The white banquet tables were decorated with eight beautiful dolls fashioned as ladies in full length summer pleated pastel dresses of pink, green, yellow and blue. Baskets of flowers decorated the place cards for the girls while a baseball bat and glove appeared on the place cards of the boys. Blue napkins and blue umbrella nut cups with occasional arrangements of flowers completed the table decorations.
