DSEC Scholarship Recipients Announced

Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative has awarded $20,000 in scholarship money to students in our service territory. DSEC's board of directors granted 10 scholarships in the amount of $2,000 each. These scholarships are available to immediate families of active members and active employees of Deaf Smith Electric Cooperative.

Since the program began back in 1998, DSEC has awarded more than $400,000 in scholarships to members across the cooperative's system. Funds for these scholarships come from our Operation Round Up program, where members can "round up" their bill to the next dollar, and a portion of escheated funds from the State of Texas.

Those receiving the scholarships are (top l-r): Victoria Betzen, daughter of Nathan and Amy Betzen of Hereford. Victoria is currently a student at the University of Texas at Austin majoring in biology with a specialization in genetics and genomics. She then plans to attend medical school. Garrison Haseloff, son of Darren and Lorre Haseloff of Farwell. Garrison plans to attend Texas Tech University and pursue an agribusiness degree, followed by the Game Warden academy. Hannah Simpson, daughter of Brian and Jody Simpson of Dimmitt. Hannah plans to attend Tarleton State University and major in ag business. She hopes to become an accountant. Audrey "Bliss" Betzen, daughter of Cameron and Emily Betzen of Dimmitt. Following graduation from Nazareth, Bliss will attend Texas Tech University and hopes to become a registered dietician. (middle l-r): Halley Wales, daughter of Tim and Tawyna Wales of Dimmitt. After graduating from Lazbuddie, Halley plans to attend Texas Tech University and pursue a degree in marketing. Addie Dyer, daughter of Scott and Kara Dyer of Nazareth. Addie plans to attend Angelo State University and pursue a degree in nursing, followed by schooling to become a Certified Registered Nurse Anesthetist. Colter Pohlman, son of Scott and Moriah Pohlman of Hereford. Colter plans to attend Texas Tech University and dual major in agriculture and applied economics and business administration.

(bottom l-r) Mary Claire Spinhirne, daughter of Lucas and Angela Spinhirne of Vega. Mary Claire plans to attend Amarillo College, followed by pharmacy school at Texas Tech Health Sciences Center. Gabriella Schaap, daughter of Andy and Suzanne Schaap of Hereford. After gradu-

Hummus

May 13th is National Hummus Day. This dip is great with pita bread, vegetables, or chips. I think this home-made hummus sounds delicious. And since you use the Instant Pot, it is easy as well.

Instant Pot Hummus

Author: Amy + Jacky
www.pressurecookrecipes.com

Ingredients

- 1 cup (225g) dried chickpeas (garbanzo beans)
- 1 whole head (40g) garlic, crushed
- 2 bay leaves
- 1 (212g) onion, halved
- 1 teaspoon (6g) fine salt for soaked chickpeas (or for no-soak chickpeas - 1 1/2 teaspoon (9g) fine salt)
- 4 cups (1L) water
- 1 teaspoon (3.2g) ground cumin
- 6 (17g) garlic cloves, crushed
- 1 cup (250ml) tahini
- 1/4 cup (63ml) fresh lemon juice (from 2 lemons)

Instructions

Optional - Soak Chickpeas Overnight: Place 1/2 lb (225g) dried chickpeas and 1 tbsp (17g) fine table salt in a large container. Pour in 4 cups (1L) cold water, then give it a few stirs. Allow chickpeas to soak overnight for 8 - 16 hours.

*Pro Tip: If your house is very warm, place container in the fridge to avoid fermentation.

Rinse Chickpeas: Rinse soaked or no-soak chickpeas under cold water. Pick out any stones or debris. Drain well.

Pressure Cook Chickpeas: Add 1 cup (225g) unsoaked or all of the soaked chickpeas, 2 bay leaves, 1 whole garlic, and 1 halved onion in Instant Pot.

Add Salt:

-For No-Soak Chickpeas: add in 1 1/2 tsp (9g) fine salt.

-For Soaked Chickpeas: add in 1 tsp (6g) fine salt.

Pour in 4 cups (1L) cold water, then give it a quick mix. With Venting Knob in Venting Position, close the lid, then turn Venting Knob to Sealing Position.

Pressure Cooking Method:

-For No-Soak Chickpeas: High Pressure 60 minutes +

Natural Release 20 minutes.

-For Soaked Chickpeas: High Pressure 15 minutes + Natural Release 20 minutes.

Open the lid carefully.

Purée Garlic & Chickpeas: While the chickpeas are natural releasing, soak 6 garlic cloves in 1/4 cup (63ml) freshly squeezed lemon juice in a blender for 20 - 30 minutes before blending (*Pro Tip: This dramatically reduces the garlic's pungency). Discard onion and bay leaves. Taste the chickpeas and ensure they are fully cooked. Drain the chickpeas and cooked garlic cloves really well, then set aside the chickpeas and chickpeas liquid. Blend garlic with lemon juice.

*Pro Tip: You will want to blend the chickpeas while they are hot.

Add drained chickpeas, cooked garlic cloves, 1 tsp (3.2g) ground cumin, and 3/4 cup (188ml) chickpeas liquid to the garlic lemon juice in blender.

*Pro Tip: If you like thinner hummus, add 1 cup (250ml) - 1 1/4 cup (313ml) chickpeas liquid (adjust accordingly).

First, blend chickpeas over the lowest speed, then increase the speed slowly to high. Blend until desired smoothness.

Make Hummus: In a large mixing bowl, mix 1 cup (250ml) tahini and mashed chickpeas mixture together.

*Pro Tip: If serving the hummus immediately (with no leftover), mix in 2 tbsp (30ml) extra-virgin olive oil for extra smoothness. If not, skip this step.

Taste and season with more salt to open up the flavors (for reference, we added 2 large pinch of salt).

Serve Instant Pot Hummus: Garnish hummus with finely chopped parsley, freshly ground cumin, and paprika. Drizzle with extra virgin olive oil, then serve. Enjoy!~

The Art of Public Service

As I write this week's column, my Internet hotspot is sketchy. That simply means whatever I write will not include anything that requires research or verification. You just got me today, plain and simple.

School board elections took place across the state last weekend. Coming from a family of teachers and school board members, the significance of such polling days is of keen interest. The honor of serving one's community is not to be taken lightly.

School board candidates sometimes run with a single agenda or focus. That focus might be a personnel issue regarding an administrator or a teacher or coach. Currently, some trustee elections in Texas have turned contentious over Critical Race Theory and book banning.

But it is the wisest of school board members who understand their service is not agenda-driven but includes sacrifice and hard work. School trustee roles involve recognizing what is best for a broad base, not a few. Sometimes the few need their advocates, of course. Elected public servants worth their salt have the discernment to know when to step up and go to bat for certain individual causes which rightfully need attention.

Now more than ever, school board members face challenging roles. Our public schools comprise a variety of demographics which require empathy. Many children do not go home to the stability that majority of our elected public officials enjoy. Listening to teachers who are in the trenches with these children is vital. Particularly in small schools, understanding that athletic coaches not only have four sports to coach but also STAAR-related subjects to teach is a far cry from a 5A football coach who is paid far more to just coach one sport and serve as athletic director. When conflicts arise, mature communication between parties involved can sometimes impact the complexion of the problems in a positive way.

In a media climate where our young people see elected government officials worry more about showmanship than service, it is the local school board member who can restore faith in the art of public service.

Congratulations to those newly elected trustees. May you join a team of fellow school board members who understand that serving others is noble. It is also necessary if we are to be the best version of ourselves.

Panhandle Parables

In Tune With God

By Jeff Procter, Minister, 6th Street Church of Christ

There are those who have been gifted with the ability to carry a tune and they don't need a bucket or a handle. Then there are those like myself who are thankful God's requirement for praise is merely a "joyful noise." I do enjoy singing and praising God even though others may wish I didn't do it so loudly. (Remember, joyful noise). But whether you sing well or not has little to do with whether you are in tune with God.

Prior to playing an instrument the musician tunes his/her instrument to the established standard for any particular note. So the "A" they play sounds like the "A" that is the actual note. If it does not sound like the standard then adjustments are made until it does. In singing a song, often a pitch is given so the singer will know at what standard the tune will be sung. If you are a musician, then please accept my apologies for this woeful interpretation.

So how do we know if we are in tune with God? The short of it is do we look like Jesus? Do we have the mind of Christ, the humility of Christ, the service of Christ, the words of Christ...? Paul wrote for us such an example in Philippians 2. (must read) or Jesus himself in preaching the Sermon on the Mount (another must read, Matt. 5-7) shows us what a life in tune with God looks like.

Does your life sing praise to the King? Do your very actions show you to be in tune with Jesus or out of tune with the Savior? Jesus is the standard. Our lives are to take on His qualities and attributes. So I do encourage you to sing. Let the words you sing also be the life you live. A dear brother in Christ once told me, "If people would live how they sang on Sunday, you wouldn't have to preach for six months." So let your lives sing of the glories of our King through the actions that we bring. La La La La, Me, Me, Me, Me...Let's sing!

Another Tempting Proposal

By Brett Hoyle, Pastor, First Baptist Church

When Jesus spent 40 days fasting and praying in the wilderness, Satan took his opportunity to tempt Jesus while he was isolated and hungry. After Jesus resisted the first temptation to meet his needs himself, Satan pressed Jesus to do something spectacular and jump off the pinnacle of the temple to see if the angels would catch him. Satan cast doubt on Jesus' character in this proposal, but also played into the cultural messianic ideas that the messiah would be someone doing spectacular things to prove their nature. In fact, as Satan tempted Jesus with this idea, he even quoted scripture from Psalm 91:11-12, to entice the Savior to take a leap of faith. Jesus saw through this devilish temptation, which was calling for the astonishment of people and pegged Satan with scripture from Deuteronomy 16:16 that says, "You shall not put the Lord your God to the test." The test in this temptation was to force God's hand into doing what Satan wanted. Satan, though, forgot that he doesn't give the marching orders, God does. God's sovereign holiness, and his steadfast love extends into every corner of our lives, and our task is to be fully surrendered to his will, not try and make my will the end goal. Satan sought to get his will done by tempting Jesus, even to the point of quoting scripture, and he will do that same with you. Prosperity theology is the most prominent plague of such filth that has infested every part of the globe with half truths of scripture, exalting the spectacular, promoting a religion of man, instead of sacrifice for the Savior. In reality, the way of the cross consists of denying oneself and being satisfied in Jesus and fully surrendered to his will, wherever he leads.

Getting the Most from Your Bible

By Teena Hughs

True confession that I am not proud of: sometimes when I am reading the Bible, especially for a study or class, I don't take the time to see what God is saying to me. I am so concerned about answering questions, or just getting it read so I can check it off my list of things to do, that I don't take the time to really read and see what is in it for me.

Right now, we are reading Psalms in our Tuesday night Bible study. Last week, we had to read the first 12 Psalms. On the way home, Feller and I talked about how we didn't really get too much out of it. I told him that some people suggest you read a Psalm and a Proverb every day, but I didn't understand why. I can't speak for Feller, but I was really busy last week, and I read the week's lesson, just to be able to say I read it.

When I started this week's reading on Wednesday, I made up my mind that I was going to take the time to read the Psalms, to concentrate and see what they actually say, and how they apply to my life.

I have to admit it has been a great week of reading. I have read Psalms of praise to God; psalms to help me with my enemies; Psalms to pray for myself; and Psalms that remind me what an awesome Creator we have. I have been writing down verses that really speak to me, and I can share what is important to me with our class tomorrow night, because I couldn't do that last week. What a difference an attitude change has made in me this week. I even went back and re-read those first 12 Psalms, and it is amazing the number of verses I wrote down.

Feller has a cousin in Junction whose wife is in Community Bible Study. The last time I saw her, I asked what her group was studying, and she told me they had just finished Job. I groaned, and she said, "Oh no, I LOVED it!!!" She talked about the beautiful poetry in it, and what a wonderful study it was, and that she learned so much! Well, I have read Job this year, and I just don't get Pat's attitude and feelings about Job being so wonderful. Because of her positive attitude, Pat gleaned far more from Job than I did when I read it a month ago.

Pastor Magrey R. deVe-

ga, the author of our study book, talks about the setting and the situation we find ourselves in when we read something. For example, if you hear the 23rd Psalm spoken at a funeral, it sounds one way and touches you a certain way, because of the setting and the situation; if a soldier is in a foxhole and recites it while he is hoping and praying he survives the night, it will touch and affect him differently. What about a young couple that reads it on a wall hanging in their new baby's nursery?

How Scripture affects you depends on your setting, your situation, and your attitude!

I have wasted so much time reading my Bible, so if you are going to take the time to read God's Word, I encourage you to do it when you have the time to really read, study, and listen. Consider your situation and what God is saying to you through His Word. When we put our whole self into His Word, we are going to get the most out of it. That is what God wants for us, so that we can become more like His precious Son! Take care, and have a great week!!!

Pontiac drives to Detroit

By John Grimaldi and David Bruce Smith

George Washington and his soldiers were not the first American revolutionaries. On May 7, 1763, Pontiac, the Chief of the Ottawa nation of native Americans, gathered a force that girded his Ottawas, Wyandot, Ojibwa, and Potawatomi tribes, and stormed the British forces in Detroit.

According to the curator of the Citizen Potawatomi Nation's Cultural Heritage Center, "Pontiac was an Ottawa warrior and leader who fought during the French and Indian War, gaining recognition as a member of an intertribal confederacy to repel British control and settlement in the Great Lakes," says Blake Norton, the curator of the Citizen Potawatomi Nation's Cultural Heritage Center.

History.com says that a year earlier Pontiac "enlisted support from every tribe from Lake Superior to the lower Mississippi for a joint campaign to expel the British from the formerly French-occupied lands. According to Pontiac's plan, each tribe would seize the nearest fort and then join forces to wipe out the undefended settlements ... In April, Pontiac convened a war council on the banks of the Ecorse River near Detroit. It was decided that Pontiac and his warriors would gain access to the British fort at Detroit under the pretense of negotiating a peace treaty, giving them an opportunity to seize forcibly the arsenal there."

The Grateful American Book Prize recommends Pontiac's War: Its Causes, Course and Consequences by Richard Middleton.

AgTexas Farm Credit awards $10,000 in local scholarships!

On Monday evening AgTexas Farm Credit Services awarded $10,000 in scholarships at its Seventh Annual AgTexas AgYouth Scholarship awards program held at the Embassy Suites in downtown Amarillo at 550 S. Buchanan Street.

AgTexas honored 10 outstanding graduating high school seniors who have excelled in their 4-H and FFA chapters, each with a $1,000 scholarship. The $10,000 is part of the total $24,000 in scholarships being awarded through the education initiative that AgTexas created seven years ago. The students are Tim Ally (Friona FFA), Landon Bogan (Bushland FFA), Jeff Bradford (Carson County 4-H/ Panhandle FFA), Charlee Chambers (Abernathy FFA), Davey Crandall (Springlake-Earth FFA), Annie Metzler (Cotton Center FFA), Tanner Owen (Canyon FFA/Canyon 4-H), Dayson Schacher (Nazareth FFA), Hannah Simpson (Dimmitt FFA), and Kaitlyn Vega (Floydada FFA).

In addition to the 10 Amarillo-area $1,000 scholarship winners, each one of the 36 regional honorees received a $100 gift card. Scholarship recipients from the Friona area were Tim Ally (Friona FFA), Hannah Simpson (Dimmitt FFA), and Dayson Schacher (Nazareth FFA). Each one of the 36 honorees received a $100 Visa gift card and a certificate. Area honorees included Tim Ally (Friona FFA); Hannah Simpson (Dimmitt FFA); Brett Young, Dayson Schacher, and Landry Kleman (each from Nazareth FFA); and Miles Neelley (Vega FFA).

The program has awarded over $160,000 to graduating seniors in the markets where AgTexas has offices – including Amarillo, Dumas, Hereford, and Plainview in the Panhandle Region. “We are honoring some of the best and brightest young minds in Texas with this program,” says AgTexas Farm Credit CEO Tim McDonald. He adds, “These students represent the next generation of agriculture in Texas and the United States. It’s our privilege to pay tribute to their achievements thus far and encourage them for the future.”

McDonald continues, “We’ve missed being in person with our banquets for the past two years due to the pandemic. We love celebrating in the same room with our honorees and their parents. Graduation season is a special time in their lives, and we look forward to sharing this occasion together.”

Outstanding 4-H and FFA high school students received prominent recognition for their dedication to agriculture. These 4-H and FFA programs help introduce many of their participants to agriculture, allowing students to learn and apply science and technology to make farming and ranching more productive and offer them promising futures.

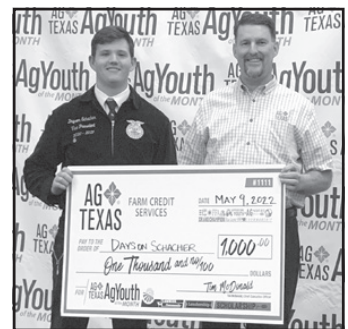

“We are very pleased to have created the Ag Youth of the Month program because it brings positive attention to young people who are investing in our state and nation as well as their own futures,” concluded McDonald. AgTexas serves approximately 3,500 members in 43 counties through its Panhandle, South Plains, and Central Texas regions.

About AgTexas Farm Credit Services: AgTexas is a rural lending cooperative, providing financing for real estate and operating capital, as well as insurance, leasing and cash management services for the Ag industry since 1934. The existing facility and/or related facilities are authorized to emit the following air contaminants: carbon monoxide, hydrogen sulfide, nitrogen oxides, organic compounds, particulate matter including particulate matter with diameters of 10 microns or less and 2.5 microns or less and sulfur dioxide.

This application was submitted to the TCEQ on April 11, 2022. The application will be available for viewing and copying at the TCEQ central office, TCEQ Amarillo regional office, and the Friona City Hall, 623 Main Street, Friona, Parmer County, Texas beginning the first day of publication of this notice. The facility's compliance file, if any exists, is available for public review in the Amarillo regional office of the TCEQ.

The executive director has determined the application is administratively complete and will conduct a technical review of the application. In addition to the renewal, this permitting action includes the incorporation of permits by rule related to this permit. The reasons for any changes or incorporations, to the extent they are included in the renewed permit, may include the enhancement of operational control at the plant or enforceability of the permit. The TCEQ may act on this application without seeking further public comment or providing an opportunity for a contested case hearing if certain criteria are met.

PUBLIC COMMENT. You may submit public comments to the Office of the Chief Clerk at the address below. The TCEQ will consider all public comments in developing a final decision on the application and the executive director will prepare a response those comments. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the TCEQ's jurisdiction to address in the permit process.

OPPORTUNITY FOR A CONTESTED CASE HEARING. You may request a contested case hearing if you are a person who may be affected by emissions of air contaminants from the facility. If requesting a contested case hearing, you must submit the following: (1) your name (or for a group or association, an official representative), mailing address, daytime phone number; (2) applicant's name and permit number; (3) the statement "[I/we] request a contested case hearing;" (4) a specific description of how you would be adversely affected by the application and air emissions from the facility in a way not common to the general public; (5) the location and distance of your property relative to the facility; (6) a description of how you use the property which may be impacted by the facility; and (7) a list of all disputed issues of fact that you submit during the comment period. If the request is made by a group or association, one or more members who have standing to request a hearing must be identified by name and physical address. The interests the group or association seeks to protect must also be identified. You may also submit your proposed adjustments to the application/permit which would satisfy your concerns.

The deadline to submit a request for a contested case hearing is 15 days after newspaper notice is published. If a request is timely filed, the deadline for requesting a contested case hearing will be extended to 30 days after mailing of the response to comments.

If any requests for a contested case hearing are timely filed, the Executive Director will forward the application and any requests for a contested case hearing to the Commissioners for their consideration at a scheduled Commission meeting. Unless the application is directly referred to a contested case hearing, the executive director will mail the response to comments along with notification of Commission meeting to everyone who submitted comments or is on the mailing list for this application. The Commission may only grant a request for a contested case hearing on issues the requestor submitted in their timely comments that were not subsequently withdrawn. If a hearing is granted, the subject of a hearing will be limited to disputed issues of fact or mixed questions of fact and law relating to relevant and material air quality concerns submitted during the comment period. Issues such as property values, noise, traffic safety, and zoning are outside of the Commission's jurisdiction to address in this proceeding.

Buyer Beware

New Scam Concerning Telephone Service

Be aware that that companies located outside our local communities are approaching customers telling them that "...telephone lines are going away and that if you currently have a telephone line you may see the cost of your service increase..." This is strictly a Scare Tactic that various VOIP companies are using to convince you or your business to switch your service to them. The FCC requires that when a telephone company upgrades their facilities that it be compatible with specialized customer premise equipment such as hard-of-hearing and closed captioning devices. Be assured that WT Services and West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative will continue offering telephone services as we have the past 70 years, have no plans to increase the cost of this service in the near future, and our state-of-the-art Fiber Optic network is compatible with these type of customer devices. We are here to stay and serve you with locally based customer service and repair crews that live and work with you in our local communities and will never have to call Cairo Egypt when you have a question! Thanks for shopping local and keeping your money in your local communities.
