In Brief

Emergency aid

DHAKA, Bangladesh (AP) — A week after cyclone-driven waves and 145 mph winds churned over coastlands, millions of Bangladeshis still awaited emergency aid today in devastated and disease-infested areas.
But relief missions have been hampered by foul weather, lack of adequate transportation and flooded roads. The government has managed to help only a portion of survivors and officials say their resources are not sufficient to deal with the magnitude of need.
"They are foodless, shelterless, clothless, helpless," said Hajari Lave, general secretary of Ek Dui Teen, a local aid group.

Grand jury indicts 12; 4 arrested

A Scurry County grand jury indicted 12 individuals Monday on 13 charges. Four of the subjects have been arrested.

Thirty-two-year-old Roger Wayne Barnes of 100 East 37th St. is being held in Scurry County Jail in lieu of a $10,000 bond for the April 3 burglary of a vehicle belonging to Krystle McCarter. Also being held on a $10,000 bond is Robert Larry Williams, 20, of Fort Worth for the July 14 aggravated assault of Brion Garrett. The indictment alleges a tire jack handle was used in the incident.

Indicted on two counts of burglary of a building was Jessie Martinez, 17, of North Ave. O. Martinez is charged with the April 24 burglary of Thompson's Shoes and the March 31 burglary of Dryden's Shoes. Bond was set at $5,000 for each charge.

A 25-year-old Baird man was indicted on a felony theft charge for the March 25 theft of four black Angus cattle from Don Jones. The subject, Kenneth David Griffin, was arrested by a Scurry County sheriff's deputy last week. Bond was set at $5,000.

Indicted but not yet in custody are a subject for driving while intoxicated; one for securing execution of a document by deception; two for theft; one for injury to a child; one for credit card abuse and two other subjects for burglary of a building.

from Ricky Fritz of Scurry Community Services, Marshall Lyons of the Economic Development Planning Committee and city staff on current projects.

The council's first business was to consider bids on six items. The following bids were accepted:

—A bid of $34,500 from Davis, Kinard & Co. for the city's audit through 1993.

—A bid of $349.94 monthly from Monroe of Midland for a three year lease on a copier.

—A bid of $1,582 from Austin White Lime for a six month supply of lime.

—A bid of $16,200 from Russ Chemical Co. for liquid alum.

—A bid of $8,731.20 from DPC Industries, Inc. for a year supply of chlorine.

—A bid of $84,516 from West Texas Equipment for a street sweeper (includes a trade-in).

Following bid approvals, the council canvassed votes from Saturday's city elections in which a new member was elected to the council. J.D. Smith was elected to an at-large place as Mike Thornton, Jack Denman and Mayor Troy Williamson were re-elected. They will be sworn in at the beginning of the council's budget work session May 18.

Passed unanimously on first reading was an ordinance prohibiting parking along 37th Street from College Ave. to El Paso Ave. The ordinance will be scheduled for a second reading during the council's June meeting.

City staff noted that utility work along the street was being completed and that the widening project by Ray Faris Construction would begin this week.

Adopted by the council was a drug-free work place policy. It was noted that the city is re-

Trustees discuss proposals, estimated financial revenue

A report on estimated revenue for the district and a proposal to institute first period athletics for seventh and ninth grade athletes in Snyder ISD generated the most discussion during a board workshop session Monday evening.

Trustees met briefly to canvass votes and to certify results from Saturday's election before going into the workshop.

During their work session, the board also discussed the Hobbs

Alternative School budget, a proposal to discontinue the spring open house and needed repairs to the school ag farm.

The board will convene for its May meeting Thursday at 6 p.m. in executive session. An open session is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Business Manager Lee McNair said that using current estimates, it would take a tax rate of $1.07 with a 97 percent collection rate to raise the same amount of revenue as the $12 million 1990-91 budget. Those figures are based on estimated property tax values of $728 million, a drop from $823,464,597 a year ago. He noted that the school district's effective tax rate is expected to be about $1.10, which would allow the district to impose a rate of up to some $1.17 without facing a rollback situation.

"Based on the figures we've seen by this, we would not be losing," (see PROPOSALS, page 8)

Anxiety 4th cow brings 'classy' price

"PPF L1 Classy 7064" brought a classy price at the National Anxiety 4th Hereford Breeders Association sale Monday in the county coliseum annex.

The four-year-old, consigned to the Pied Piper Farms of Hamlin, brought $12,000 — the highest price ever paid here for a cow in the association's spring sale. The top bidder was High Country Herefords of Bend, Ore.

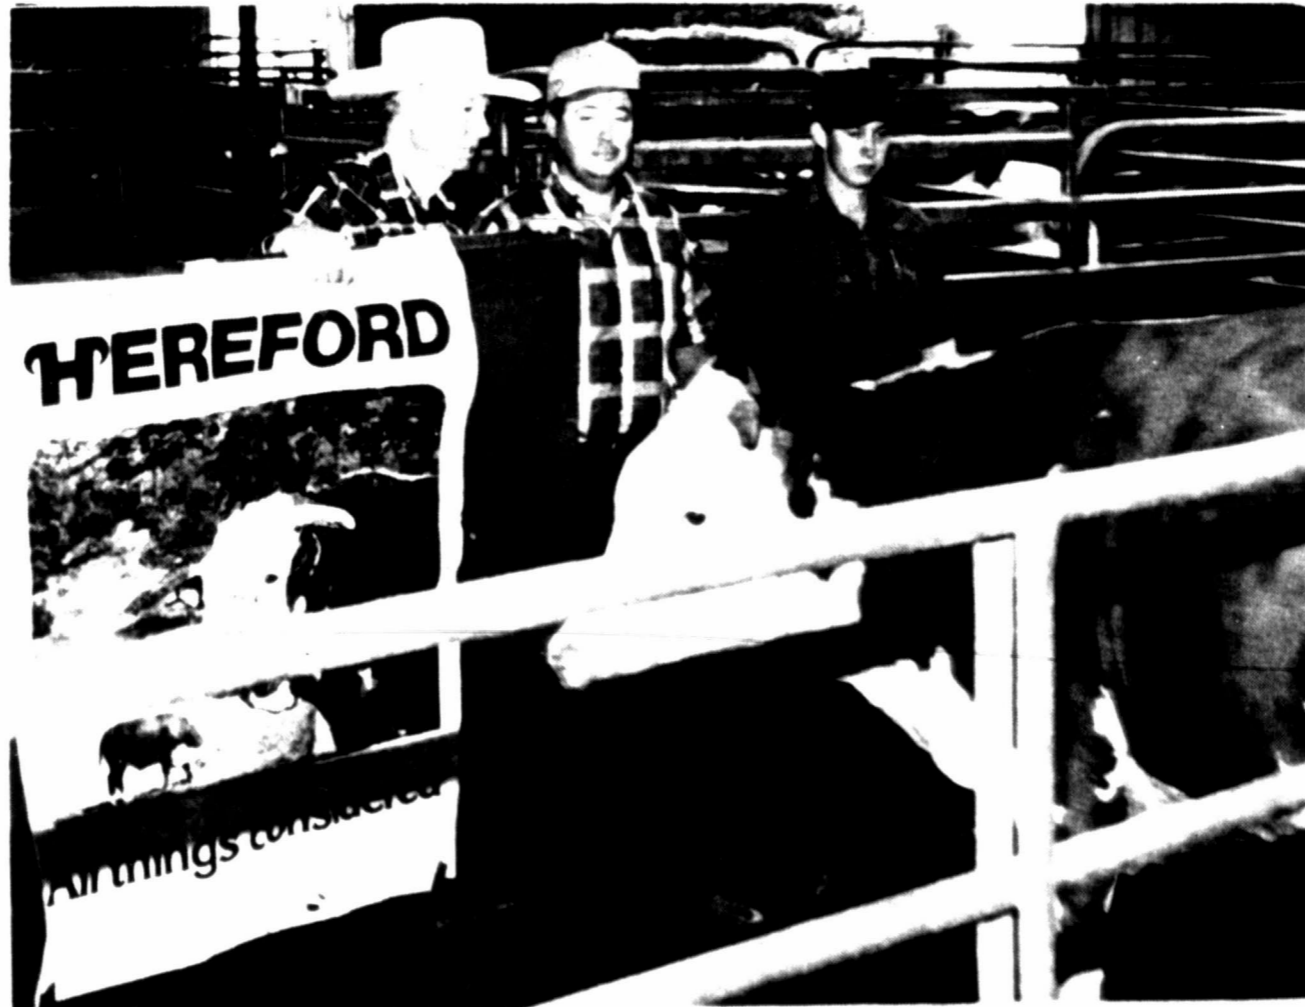

Classy, stands 60 3/4 inches and weighs about 1,750 pounds.

Pied Piper Farms was one of 13 consignors who presented females, pairs, bred and open heifers. Together, the sale grossed $166,795 on 125 lots, averaging $1,345 per lot.

Sixty-three pairs brought a total of $107,850.

Sale order was determined by cattle judge Dr. Bill Oman of Ericksdahl. Auctioneer was Stanley Stout of Linwood, Kan.

Helping Stout were Jim Boyd of the American Hereford Association and Journal; Jack Chastain, Texas Hereford Association; and Terry Reagan, field representative for Southwest Stockman.

The SDN Column

By Roy McQueen

The feller on Deep Creek says, "An antique is something grandma threw away, something mom didn't want and something that the grandchild thinks is special."

The State Bar in Texas released a survey that shows that judges are strongly in favor of plain language in the courtroom.

One judge said, "Lawyers should employ the most simple and the least technical form of any statement, avoiding compound sentences and legal terminology that has become obsolete because it has lost its meaning."

We think that means, "Keep it simple." Traditionally there have been those in the legal profession who expect everything in the courtroom to be complicated and awesome.

Former SDN Editor Wacil McNair told about an East Texas moonshiner who was hauled into court in the 1920s.

Following a raid on his still, he was taken to court and listened carefully as the case was called: "The State of Texas versus Boozer Bottomly..."

To which the defendant exclaimed, "Lord have mercy, what a majority..."

Verboosity is not limited to the legal profession. It infects politics, clergy, teaching and writing.

There's another story about a church that got a new minister. A member of the congregation was unable to attend the preacher's first service, so he asked a friend what he thought.

"He said some good things, but he got through three or four times before he quit..."

President Bush is said to have several high-salaried consultants to advise him on making his speeches simple and understandable.

Harry Truman did it cheaper. Truman is said to read his speeches in bed to Mrs. Truman. If she said, "What are you talking about, Harry," he'd rewrite it.

4 inmates to receive degrees from WTC

Four Price Daniel inmates will be receiving their associate degrees from Western Texas College during ceremonies scheduled for 3 p.m. Wednesday at the unit.

Jerome Addison, Jone Onorme Agbi, Kevin Dewayne Carson and Tony Weldon Gilliam will be the first Price Daniel Unit inmates to receive associate in arts degrees from WTC.

Dr. Harry Krenek, WTC president, will give the commencement address. Also participating will be Warden Les Woods, Bob Martin, principal for the unit's Windham School, and unit chaplain Stan Wilson. Bettie Mc-

Queen, dean of instruction for WTC, will present the candidates.

The Sons of God Choir will offer a musical presentation and a reception, sponsored by the Texas Department of Criminal Justice, will follow.

TDCJ officials attending the ceremony will be Wayne Scott, institutional division deputy director; Chris Tracy, Windham deputy superintendent; Jerry Redden, director of college programs; Wayne Frosch, southern region coordinator; Ken Smith, southern region supervisor; and Gloria Oates.

Justice Department rejects 10-4-1 plan

DALLAS (AP) — A Dallas City Council member predicts the city will revise a controversial redistricting plan and resubmit it to the U.S. Justice Department, which rejected the first version of the proposal.

The Justice Department's rejection Monday was considered a blow to city backers of the 10-4-1 system, which would provide a city council composed of 10 districts and four at-large regional quadrants. The mayor would be elected at large.

Opponents of the 10-4-1 plan contend that at-large districts systematically discriminate against minorities.

Glenn Box, an ardent supporter of 10-4-1, said he believes the plan will be approved. "It's fairer and directly proportional to the number of African-Americans in the city. If there is room for us to revise the plan, I'm certainly in favor of that."

Other supporters of the plan include Mayor Annette Strauss, who wanted the proposal approved so a new election could be set. Strauss, who was in Mexico on city business, could not be reached for comment by The Associated Press.

The decision was the latest in a 3-year series of court actions stemming from a 1988 lawsuit filed by two failed council candidates who are black.

Marvin Crenshaw, one of two primary plaintiffs in the suit, has argued that the current system, which features eight council members elected from districts and three elected at-large, discriminates against minority voters.

The Justice Department in a statement Monday disputed the city's claim that the 10-4-1 plan would allow seven minorities to be elected to the council.

"In our view ... the city has not demonstrated that the proposal now before us provides black and Hispanic voters with a realistic opportunity to elect candidates of their choice to the city council in any of the quadrant districts ... or in any more than three of the ten local districts," the statement said.

Only two council members on the city's 11-seat panel are minorities although more than 50 percent of Dallas is composed of minorities.

Monday's rejection of the 10-4-1 plan, Crenshaw says, was expected.

"My feelings, as I have stated all along, is that the 10-4-1 plan wasn't one that benefited the Hispanics and blacks in the community or the community as a whole," said Crenshaw. "So it's time to go on with 1-1-1."

The 1-1-1 plan calls for 14 council members to be elected by districts and only the mayor to be elected citywide.

In February, U.S. District Judge Jerry Buchmeyer ordered a May 4 council election under 1-1-1. But the 5th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans suspended elections pending a Justice Department review of the plan.

Whether city officials will try to revise their plan and ask for another Justice Department ruling is unknown, said Mike McKool Jr., a private attorney representing the city in this case.

"That's up to the City Council," McKool said. "Either the city can submit an appeal (to the 5th Circuit), send a revised plan, or pursue some other plan."

Betsy Julian, an attorney for the plaintiffs, said she will try to get the case returned to federal court in Dallas.

"We probably won't appeal," Ms. Julian said. "We will ask for the case to be remanded, and for a hearing to establish what the voters were always entitled to, an election."

If the case is remanded by the 5th Circuit to the Dallas federal court, Ms. Julian says, the plaintiffs will ask for a 1-1-1 election.

Lori Palmer, a council member and 1-1-1 supporter, said she believes the ruling is a "very significant and anticipated development."

Ms. Palmer, who foresees a new election under a single-member district plan by year's end, says the decision should open up negotiations between the city and the plaintiffs.

Kids Need Prayers, and More, To Break Cycle of Child Abuse

By Abigail Van Buren

1991 Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: As staff of the Exchange Club Center for the Prevention of Child Abuse of Southern Minnesota Inc., we would like people to know that America's national disgrace and most chilling crime is turning into an epidemic! A total of 2.4 million reports of child abuse and neglect were recorded by the nation's child welfare system last year. Child abuse continues to get worse, and our response as a nation has not always been the most effective. According to recent estimates, up to 5,000 children die each year as a direct result of abuse by a parent or guardian. More than 50 percent of the victims are less than a year old!

Abby, please publish this prayer to show that child abuse is everyone's problem, and that we need to work together to break the cycle.

A PRAYER FOR CHILDREN
"We pray for children who put chocolate fingers everywhere, who like to be tickled, who stomp in puddles and ruin their new pants, who sneak Popsicles before supper, who erase holes in math workbooks, who can never find their shoes."

"And we pray for those who stare at photographers from behind barbed wire, who can't bound in the street in a new pair of sneakers, who never go to the circus, who live in an X-rated world."

"We pray for children who bring us sticky kisses and fistfuls of dandelions, who sleep with the dog and bury the goldfish, who hug us in a hurry and forget their lunch money, who cover themselves with Band-Aids and sing off-key, who squeeze toothpaste all over the sink, who slurp their soup."

"And we pray for those who never get dessert, who have no safe blanket to drag behind them, who watch their parents watch them die, who can't find any bread to steal, who don't have any rooms to clean up, whose pictures aren't on anybody's dresser, whose monsters are real."

"We pray for children who spend all their allowance before Tuesday, who throw tantrums in the grocery store and pick at their food, who like ghost stories, who shove dirty clothes under the bed and never rinse the tub, who get visits from the tooth fairy, who don't like to be kissed in front of the carpool, who squirm in church and scream in the phone, whose tears we sometimes laugh at, and whose smiles can make us cry."

"We pray for those whose nightmares come in the daytime, who will eat anything, who aren't spoiled by anybody, who go to bed hungry and cry themselves to sleep, and who live and move, but have no being."

"We pray for children who want to be carried and for those who must, for those we never give up on and for those who don't get a second chance. For those we smother ... and for those who will grab the hand of anybody kind enough to offer it."

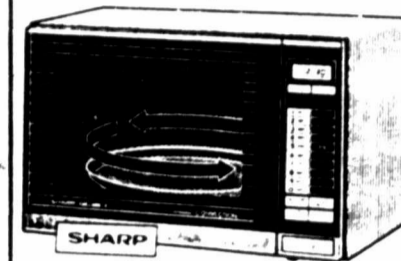

—Ina J. Hughes

Abby, please help us erase this national tragedy of child abuse by urging your readers to get involved in their local child abuse prevention effort. Help us to help others to see that a child is too great a gift to abuse.

South hands. Against four spades, your partner leads the 10 of diamonds. You overtake with the queen and cash the ace of diamonds, declarer playing the jack and partner the four. What do you do now?

South's bidding, doubling first and then showing spades, shows a strong hand - usually 17-19 points.

You can see three tricks, but where is the fourth coming from? Partner has shown a doubleton diamond since with three he would (should) have led his lowest card. Thus it seems obvious to continue with a third round of diamonds - verily it is written that partner will be able to ruff with a spade higher than dummy's six. Then a heart back to the ace will defeat the contract, and a fourth round of diamonds may produce a trump promotion.

However, will partner definitely be able to overruff dummy? Suppose he cannot. Then you will need to find partner with the king of hearts (or an unlikely club trick).

You don't know the right answer, but partner does. Cash the ace of hearts at trick three. If West has the king, he will signal encouragement with his highest heart spot. But without the king and with a spade higher than the six, he will discourage in hearts, dropping his lowest spot.

Don't put all your eggs in one basket.

Bulls claim 2-0 lead with win

CHICAGO (AP) — The Chicago Bulls defended their turf. Now it's the Philadelphia 76ers' turn. The Bulls held off a late surge by the 76ers Monday night for a 112-100 victory and a 2-0 lead in the best-of-7 series that now goes to Philadelphia for games Friday night and Sunday.

"We defended our home court as we knew we would have to do. Now the pressure is on them," said Michael Jordan, who scored 29 points to lead the Bulls.

"We took their punch, held them off and succeeded," said Horace Grant, who rebounded a Jordan miss and scored after the 76ers had cut a 14-point deficit to 103-98 with two minutes left. That started a six-point surge that clinched the outcome.

"Their backs are against the wall," Grant added.

Two other semifinal series open tonight with Detroit at Boston in the Eastern Conference and Utah at Portland in the West. The Los Angeles Lakers, who lead 1-0, will play host to Golden State in Game 2 of their conference semifinal Wednesday night.

The 76ers, who never came close in Saturday's 105-92 loss, were in it this time. The teams were tied 33-33 after the first quarter and the 76ers went ahead 37-33 to start the second quarter.

The Bulls then went on a 7-0 run to go ahead to stay, but they were unable to put it away until the final two minutes.

After Grant's put-back basket, Scottie Pippen, who finished with 23 points, scored the next four points to give the Bulls an 11-point lead with 1:02 to play.

"Grant's stickback was the big play of the game," said 76ers coach Jim Lynam. "We came out and played a better offensive game, but we missed too many second shots. We have to play better defense if we're going to beat these guys. Specifically, we have to go home and win two games."

The 76ers had better offensive balance than in the opener.

Hersey Hawkins scored 30 points, Armon Gilliam had 22 and Charles Barkley 20.

All five Chicago starters scored in double figures.

"They came out and made adjustments and we adjusted to them," said Pippen. "It was a very physical game, but we expected that."

The big surprise was that the Bulls outrebounded the 76ers 42-27.

Grant had seven offensive rebounds, three in the closing minutes when the game was on the line.

Rios one of favorites at meet

Ed Rios of Snyder High School ranks among the state's best in the high jump.

The Class 4A state qualifier from SHS in the event boasts a 6-8 personal-best which ties three other athletes for favorite status heading into this weekend's state meet in Austin.

Michael Bohensky of Amarillo Caprock, who won the Region I title by virtue of fewer misses at the 6-6 mark over Rios, Sulphur Springs' Bryan Matthews and Pernel Barnett of Bastrop have all cleared the 6-8 plateau this track season.

While Rios is the only Snyder entrant in the boys' state gathering, District 2-4A is well represented.

Lubbock Estacado is sending its regional champion sprint relay team, a 1600 meter relay team, Natrie Johnson in the 300 meter hurdles, Dale Love in the triple jump, long jumper Chike Lewis and discus specialist Kevin Harris.

Also attending the meet from the loop is Brenden Linster of Lamesa, who has turned in a 10.84 clocking in the 100 meter dash and a 21.73 in the 200 meters.

TKD parents raffle rod and reel

Silverton's Josie Cerbantes was the winner of a graphite Quantum rod and reel in a May 4 raffle sponsored by the parents' association of West Texas Taekwondo Academy.

The fishing equipment was raffled off to help pay for student expenses to the TKD nationals in Cincinnati, Ohio in July.

Top sellers in the fund-raiser were Amy Juarez, Tyson Terry and Jessica Brooks.

Frenship-Pampa playoff battle set

District 2-4A baseball runner-up Frenship will take on Pampa in bi-district action at Harvester Field today at 4:30 p.m. as the Class 4A playoffs begin.

The Tigers carry a 21-8 record into today's tilt and at one time were ranked sixth in the state.

Pampa's 20-3 record on the season was good enough for a District 1-4A championship this season.

LCU's Shankle takes UTSA position

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — Lubbock Christian University baseball coach Jimmy Shankle has been named as the first coach at the University of Texas-San Antonio, UTSA officials announced Monday.

Shankle, 35, who compiled a 239-118 record in five seasons at Lubbock Christian, will lead the Roadrunners when the team begins play for the 1991-92 season.

The Lubbock native began coaching as an assistant at Lubbock Christian in 1983. He worked as an assistant until being named head coach in 1986.

Shankle led Lubbock Monterey High School to the state baseball championship in 1974 and was drafted by the Boston Red Sox after graduating.

Mississippi griddler Mullins dies

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP) — Former Ole Miss football player Chucky Mullins was determined to live a normal life despite the injury that left him paralyzed.

His valiant struggle inspired fellow players, who set aside Mullins' No. 38 jersey to be worn in his memory, and fans all over the nation who donated more than $1 million for his care and rehabilitation.

Mullins, paralyzed from the neck down during a game in 1989, was dressing for class Wednesday when he passed out and stopped breathing. He died Monday at a Memphis hospital from complications of a blood clot in his lungs, doctors said.

Mullins was 21.

Dr. Gott

Peter Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: I have cysts on my liver the size of oranges. My doctor says if I don't have problems, I should leave them alone. Do you agree with this?

DEAR READER: I am not about to second-guess your doctor, so I'll give you a general answer. In most instances, liver cysts can be left alone. They appear for unknown reasons and do not seem to affect the workings of the liver; they are usually discovered by accident, during tests such as CT scans and ultrasound examinations.

Some types of liver cysts are associated with polycystic disease of the kidneys, which may lead to chronic urinary infection, hypertension and eventual renal failure.

Therefore, while you may choose to leave your liver cysts alone, I believe your doctor should check out your kidneys, using either X-ray tests or an ultrasound examination. If you have polycystic kidney disease, you'll need close medical supervision and possible treatment for infection or high blood pressure.

To give you more information, I am sending you a free copy of my Health Report "Kidney Disorders." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 plus a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My son has never had pain or discomfort, yet was rejected by the National Guard because of a pilonidal cyst. Is it possible he could have one and not suffer any symptoms?

DEAR READER: A pilonidal sinus is a small, abnormal opening in the skin at the base of the spine. It is congenital (present at birth) and may cause no symptoms unless it becomes infected. These little pits or dimples may be single or multiple; they may extend deeply into the tissues. Once infected (because hair grows into them or bacteria work their way into the defects), pilonidal sinuses turn into abscesses or cysts that are extremely painful and may require surgical drainage, removal and repair.

Not being a military doctor, I was not aware that pilonidal disease is a cause for rejection by the National Guard. However, I can follow the reasoning for such a decision: An acute pilonidal infection could render a serviceman incapable of performing his duties. Thus, even without causing symptoms, the disorder is a potential hazard.

The operation to remove a pilonidal cyst is so safe and straightforward that your son might consider having it done; his suitability for military service might then be reconsidered.

quired by the federal government to have such a policy in place.

Ricky Fritz of Scurry Community Services updated the council on the agency's efforts to establish a transportation system for county residents and Marshall Lyons gave a progress report on the work to compile an economic development plan for the county.

During his report, Lyons said that five of seven subcommittees had identified available and affordable housing as an area of concern for county and potential county residents.

A public report on the committee's research is expected later this month, according to Lyons.

City staff noted that the lining of water lines along Ave. T was completed Monday and all customers serviced by the water line should have full service by Thursday.

Before meeting in executive session for the city manager's evaluation, the council presented outgoing council member and Mayor pro-tem Paul Zeck with a plaque.

Present at the meeting were City Manager John Gayle, Mayor Williamson, City Attorney Ernie Armstrong and council members Thornton, Denman, Zeck, Vernest Tippins, Joe Coronado and Jackie Greene.

Pentagon praises shuttle mission

SPACE CENTER, Houston (AP) — Space shuttle Discovery's astronauts came home from an eight-day Star Wars research mission with what the Pentagon said was a wealth of data that could help scientists design a missile defense system.

"We're elated," Air Force Col. John Armstrong, deputy mission director, said of the flight that ended Monday with a rare landing in Florida.

High winds at the shuttle's usual landing site in California's Mojave Desert forced Discovery to travel across the continent and land where the mission began, at Cape Canaveral, Fla. A tire shredded during the landing.

Technical glitches had dogged the mission, during which the seven-member crew still managed to conduct a rich variety of tests.

"It seemed like they kept throwing us curve balls and we kept hitting them out of the ballpark," commander Michael Coats said Monday night upon the crew's return to Houston.

The crew released a $94 million satellite to study exhaust from the shuttle as Discovery executed unprecedented twists and turns. The satellite also gathered data on chemical and gas releases before it was retrieved by the crew.

Proposals discussed

ing any money under the new (school finance) bill," he said, while cautioning that the figures are "very preliminary."

The lengthiest discussion of the workshop centered around a proposal from Athletic Director David Baugh to institute morning athletic periods for seventh and ninth grade athletes. Trustee Billy Bob McMullan voiced his opposition to the proposal.

"This is not a plan for Effective Schools in my opinion. This is a minus. Those kids that pump iron are going to be tired and worn out by second period. I think first period is a prime period for academics," said McMullan, who addressed next year's high school principal Gary Patterson by adding, "I'm surprised at you, Gary, for accepting this philosophy."

Patterson explained his position, noting, "I would hope you and the board would have enough faith to believe we would not do anything we feel like would hurt the students academically."

"I don't think you would, intentionally," said McMullan.

Trustee Terry Martin also expressed concern, noting "I could come a lot closer to accepting it in the ninth grade, but I'm a long way from supporting it in the seventh grade."

Both Baugh and Patterson explained that students who show failing results after the first three weeks would be sent to tutoring in the morning and would not attend workouts. It was also pointed out that morning athletic periods would allow more efficient use of the gyms and other workout facilities, and would permit a better coach-to-athlete ratio. It would also provide more teachers for sixth period since some coaches would be coaching in the morning and teaching in the afternoon.

"Right now in junior high, we don't have enough facilities for the athletes. We have to bus kids to West and Travis," noted Patterson. "With this, we wouldn't have to do that."

"We wouldn't do this if I thought it would be a detriment to any program," added Patterson.

McMullan said, however, that he was afraid that students who ride the bus and don't arrive on time for morning workouts would be discriminated against.

"I'm not going to discriminate against him," said Baugh. "I want him around for the next three years. I think in the long run, we'll have a lot better athletes. I think they'll benefit in the long run. We're talking about seventh and ninth graders, Billy Bob; we're not talking about varsity athletes."

McMullan added that he was not in favor of the proposal, although pointing out, "I have nothing against you, David, or athletics, but I am not for the program."

Trustees will vote on the proposal during Thursday's meeting.

Baugh also advised the board that District 2-4A athletic programs are going to Super VHS video tape instead of the 16 millimeter film next year and that Snyder ISD would need to comply in order to be able to trade game films.

"We are one of the last districts to go to this. Last year, we didn't trade game films from the first three teams we played because we weren't using it. We were able to trade films of district games, but this year, the rest of the district is changing," he said.

The board will consider Thursday whether to go out for bids on the equipment, which is expected to amount to between $14,000 and $15,000 for the first year.

Bob Hand appeared before the board to discuss the school's ag farm. He explained that heavy winds had torn the roof off of a barn, rendering it useless. He outlined a plan to trustees for renovation of the farm, which he estimated would amount to $5,000 in materials. He said he planned to do much of the work himself, and asked that the board consider hiring two students to help him.

his. His proposal will also be voted on Thursday.

In other information, Superintendent Dalton Moseley said district representatives have been to four job fairs and have hired a science teacher who will also coach girl's golf, a crafts teacher and an ESL instructor. He said the district is still looking for counselors.

Also discussed Monday were two policies involving equal access to student and/or other groups, and a campus performance committee.

It was also noted that the District Educational Improvement Council, made up of teachers elected from each campus, is recommending the fall open house be moved to the second six weeks of school, following the TAAS testing, and that the spring open house be discontinued. Trustees will vote on the proposal Thursday.

In certifying Saturday's election results, the board recognized Geraldine Parker as the new trustee representing Place 2. Mrs. Parker received 312 votes to incumbent Mike Jordan's 117. A third candidate, Jan McCathern, received 34. Re-elected to another term was Place 3 Trustee Martin, who received 48 votes.

Mrs. Parker, who attended Monday's meeting, will be sworn in Thursday.

ISD finance district noted

Chief Appraiser Ray Peveler previewed parts of the state's new school finance package today as Scurry County Appraisal District board of directors met this morning at appraisal offices.

Peveler told the board that under House Bill 352, Scurry County would be grouped into a what has been labeled a County Education District with four other rural counties — Kent, Crosby, Fisher and Garza. Within the five county area are 11 school districts with Scurry accounting for three.

Scurry County could become the "headquarters" of the district, collecting and distributing school tax monies. Peveler noted that the finance package is currently being challenged by several school districts.

In the only action taken, the board approved the minutes and paid bills.

Present at the meeting were Peveler and board members Mickey Sterling, Julius Roemisch, Bill Voss and Doug Flynn. Absent was John Reed.

Bush said fine today

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush "slept like a log" through the night and began a full work schedule today with no recurrence of the irregular heartbeat that put him in the hospital over the weekend, the White House said.

Presidential spokesman Marlin Fitzwater said Bush's heart rate was monitored throughout the night. "It was perfectly normal all night long and this morning," Fitzwater said.

In addition, Bush had a complete electrocardiogram test this morning immediately after getting up. The EKG test showed no irregularities, Fitzwater said.

The president, who went to bed at 8:40 p.m. Monday night, was up at 5:20 a.m. today and arrived at the Oval Office for a full day's work at 7:23 a.m. Fitzwater said. "He looks good," the spokesman said.

"He slept good and feels rested. Mrs. Bush said this morning 'he slept like a log,'" Fitzwater said.

The president's heartbeat registered normal within 25 minutes of his return to the White House on Monday morning from a two-night stay at Bethesda Naval Hospital brought on by an irregular beat.

It has remained normal ever since.

Scurry County Country

SCS Notes

By Terry Hefner,
District Conservationist

The newly formed Big Country Resource Conservation and Development (RC&D) area is seeking proposals on how to make use of natural resources in this region of the state to boost economic development and the standard of living of rural people. The RC&D area, which was established in February by the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, is accepting proposals, said Jimmy Apel, coordinator of the program.

Proposals for projects should be sent to the Big Country RC&D area, P.O. Box 1114, Sweetwater, or can be delivered in person to the Soil Conservation Service office at 3423 Ave. T in Snyder.

The RC&D area has a budget of $110,000 per year. The RC&D is administered by a board of directors, with banker Charlie Henderson of Snyder as president and Sweetwater car dealer and rancher Don Sheffield as secretary-treasurer.

Approximately 65 representatives for the sponsors of the 12 counties in the Big Country RC&D area met March 12 in Sweetwater to discuss proposals. At the meeting were representatives for commissioners courts, soil and water conservation districts, chambers of commerce and the West Central Texas

Council of Governments. In Scurry County, the sponsoring organizations for the area are Scurry County Commissioners Court and the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District.

At the March 12 meeting, representatives accepted project proposals for a water quality project for Lake Trammel and Oak Creek Reservoir; establishment of a Texas grant research center; improvement of the water works at Hermleigh; creation of a cotton and wool mill in Fisher County; expansion of the Fisher County hunting cooperative; improvement of the Theater on the Brazos; development of a water distribution system for Jayton; installation of a sewage disposal system for Jayton; development of a multi-county underground water conservation district; and reduction of the flooding in the community of Big Spring.

There are currently 11 RC&D program areas in Texas covering 103 counties, Apel said. The program was begun in the United States 29 years ago.

The information given herein is for educational purposes only. Education programs conducted by the ASCS and SCS serve people of all ages regardless of socioeconomic level, race, color, sex, religion, handicap or national origin.

FOUR WAYS TO DECREASE SUGAR IN YOUR RECIPES

Sugar contains nothing but calories. Amazingly, over 130 pounds of sugar are consumed by the average person each year. Try these ways to reduce your sugar intake.

1. Decrease or eliminate sugar when canning or freezing fruits. Buy unsweetened frozen fruit or fruit canned in its own juice or water. Once the container is opened, you can always add your own sweetener.

2. Try reducing sugar by one-quarter to one-third in baked goods and desserts. Do not decrease the small amount of sugar in plain yeast breads because it provides food for the yeast and promotes rising.

3. Non-sugar sweeteners can be used in moderation to decrease your sugar intake.

4. Increase the amount of cinnamon or vanilla in a recipe to enhance the impression of sweetness.

WOOL AND MOHAIR PROGRAM CHANGED

Producers participating in the wool and mohair price support program will be subject to payment limitations, according to the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Wool and mohair producers are now subject to regulations that are consistent with limitation provisions for other programs.

Beginning with payments for the 1991 marketing year, no producer may receive wool and mohair payments from more than three entities in which the individual holds substantial beneficial interest, or if the individual is receiving payments from more than two other entities.

Under the 1990 Act, wool and mohair producers are also sub-

Bush's cardiac problem not life threatening

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Bush's cardiac problem, called atrial fibrillation, is shared by millions of Americans.

For those with generally healthy hearts, like the vigorous 66-year-old president, the condition poses little threat. But controlling the problem can make a big difference in the quality of life.

Bush is back at work, his abnormal heartbeat controlled by drugs. But he will be monitored closely until doctors are sure he is receiving the correct dose of the right medicine.

Here are some questions and answers about this common condition:

Q: What is atrial fibrillation?

A: It is a type of cardiac arrhythmia in which the upper, or atrial, chambers of the heart lose their steady, synchronized beat and slip into a spastic quiver. This results from a disruption of the electrical signals that pace the heartbeat. Blood is no longer smoothly moved into the lower chambers of the heart, the chambers that actually pump blood about the body. Because the heart is moving less blood with each beat, the heart must beat much faster than normal.

Q: Is it an immediate threat to life?

A: Not in a healthy heart. But since it lowers the pumping efficiency of the heart, atrial fibrillation can aggravate other types of cardiac disease. For a person who is generally healthy, such as Bush, the condition will not shorten life or cause it to be less vigorous.

Q: What causes atrial fibrillation?

A: Doctors could not determine why Bush developed the disorder. This is often the case. But it sometimes can be caused by infection, metabolic problems, such as shortage of potassium, or by an overactive thyroid gland. It is known that episodes of atrial fibrillation can be set off by stress, fatigue, exercise or alcohol. There is some evidence that caffeine can play a role.

Q: If it is not immediately dangerous for a healthy person, why treat it?

A: For two reasons. Atrial fibrillation that continues untreated for weeks can cause blood clots to form. These clots could clog up arteries in the brain, causing strokes. Some patients must take drugs to prevent clot formation, but doctors said this is not necessary for Bush. Secondly, atrial fibrillation can lower the efficiency of the heart by 15 percent to 20 percent in an otherwise healthy person. Doctors say patients are more vigorous and energetic when the efficiency of the cardiovascular system is restored.

Q: How is atrial fibrillation treated?

A: There are a variety of medications, plus a technique called electroconversion. For Bush, two drugs, digoxin and procainamide, restored his normal heart beat. If these don't work, doctors have a large arsenal of drugs from which to choose. The most common are called beta blockers or calcium antagonist. In electroconversion, the patient is put under a light anesthesia and an electric charge is sent through the chest. This stops electrical activity in the heart momentarily and a normal beat is restored.

Q: How long must a patient take medication?

A: Some patients take drugs for a lifetime. For others, atrial fibrillation ends "as mysteriously as it began," one doctor said.
