Wins at regional...

SHS one-act due for 21st state try

Snyder High School's 21st appearance at the state UIL one-act play contest was assured Saturday as the play "Blood Wedding" was chosen to advance from regional.

In addition, Snyder's Robert Neblett was chosen best actor of the contest and SHS players comprised four of the eight all star cast selections and a sixth cast member received honorable mention for all star cast.

Neblett plays the character of death in the play.

Selected to the all star cast were Corey McDaniel as the bridegroom; Coy Berryman as Leonardo; Rebecca Vestal as the wife of Leonardo; and Amber Adams as the bride.

Earning honorable mention was Casey Franks, who portrays the play's moon character.

The appearance of "Blood Wedding" at state May 5 will mark director Jerry Worsham's 19th appearance at that competition. Worsham has directed all 11 of Snyder's first place plays at state, the latest being last spring's "The Corn is Green."

He also took "Blood Wedding" to an earlier first place win at state in 1976.

To again reach Austin, Snyder's one-act has won at zone, district, area and, on Saturday, the regional meet held in Brownwood.

"Blood Wedding" is by Spanish playwright Federico Garcia Lorca.

Other female members of the cast include Kristi Mize as the mother; Cinimin Carney as the neighbor; Emily King as the mother-in-law; Erin Rambo as a young girl; and Melissa Hodges as a servant woman.

The other male cast members include Jeff Franklin as the bride's father; Chris Robbins, John Griffin, Clay Travis and Jeffrey Corkran as woodcutters.

The play's technical crew is headed by Jason Best, Tommy Reeves and Lei Holcomb with understudies and production crew members to include Bryan Brunson, John Lack, Jason Presley, Julie Johnson, Amy Hodges, Jennifer Purcell and Marcus Best.

ONE-ACT WINS — Cast members from Snyder High School's one-act play cast won honors at regional Saturday to include, front row from left, all-star cast members Coy Berryman and Corey McDaniel and; (back row), Casey Franks, honorable mention all-star cast; all-star cast members Rebecca Vestal and Amber Adams and best actor Robert Neblett. Q. — We all know that Easter fluctuates as to dates each year. How is it determined?

A. — The formula, established in 325 A.D., is tied to the date March 21 and what is known as the Paschal Moon. The Paschal Moon is the first moon whose 14th day comes on or before March 21. Easter is then held on the first Sunday after the Paschal Moon. In this century, the earliest Easter fell was on March 24 in 1940 and the latest was in 1943, when it fell on April 25.

Bush off to 'good start' after 100 days

CHICAGO (AP) — President Bush, nearing the 100-day milestone of his administration, said today he was off to a "good start" — citing bipartisan agreements on the budget and Contra aid — but that "difficult decisions lie ahead."

Bush said his administration is now "mapping strategies for a period of remarkable change in international affairs," and he referred to upcoming high-level meetings with Moscow. A foreign policy review, which some had hoped would be completed far earlier, is now due in late May, he said.

Bush issued the report on his first three months in office during an address to publishers gathered for the annual luncheon of The Associated Press. He flew here after attending a memorial service in Norfolk, Va., for the 47 sailors killed in the gun turret explosion on the battleship Iowa last Wednesday.

"To all who mourn a son, a brother, a husband, a father, a friend, — I can only offer you the gratitude of a nation, for your loved one served his country with distinction and honor," the president said.

"We will not — we cannot, as long as we live — know why God has called them home. But of one thing we can be sure — this world is a more peaceful place because of the USS Iowa."

Beginning a four-day trip, Bush also planned stops today in Bismarck, N.D. and San Jose, Calif. The 100-day mark of his administration falls on Saturday and Bush was expected to beat the drum for his presidency in a succession of out-of-Washington engagements this week.

"In three short months, we've made a good start coming to grips with issues demanding urgent attention and decisive action," Bush told the publishers.

He took credit for drafting a plan to rescue the savings and loan industry, a proposal to tighten ethical standards in

Students advance to state

Snyder High School earned three first place prizes, one second and one third at the UIL regional contest Saturday in Brownwood, qualifying these students for the state UIL meet in Austin May 4-6.

Snyder's Corey McDaniel and Kristi Mize placed first and second respectively in the poetry interpretation event, and other first place wins were earned by Robert Neblett, ready writing, and Ken Gartman, typing.

In addition, Darrell Dolliver won third overall in the science events.

Snyder entrants in the speech events also won two first alternate posts for state UIL.

Jay Burns was first alternate in persuasive speaking and Tom Galyean was first alternate in informative speaking.

Snyder High School had qualified eight students to the event. Neblett also competed in literary criticism and Dora Jean Rumpf competed in typewriting.

Producers announce May 19 as '89 uniform planting date

The Scurry County Producers Association has set May 19 as the Uniform Delayed Planting Date for cotton.

Farmers are asked to hold off planting until this date to delay the appearance of "squares" on the emerging cotton plant, the portion of the plant necessary for boll weevil survival and development.

Cotton planted after May 19 is not expected to move into the "square" stage until after most overwintered weevils have emerged and died from starvation.

A weevil egg must be laid in at least a one-third grown square for the egg to develop into an adult weevil, notes County Entomologist Deanna Holladay.

Weevils emerging from overwintering sites can survive approximately two weeks, she noted.

It is estimated that a May 19 planting date will not produce one-third grown squares until approximately July 1. Only weevils emerging after June 15 would survive long enough to successfully reproduce, she said.

The peak period of weevil emergence is typically the last week of May and the first two weeks of June. The peak number of weevils in an average year should emerge and die before the appearance of one-third grown squares.

Estimates from extension service entomologists in Lubbock and San Angelo indicate that approximately 50 percent of the weevils in overwintering died as a result of frigid temperatures.

They estimate, however, that high numbers of weevils also went into overwintering last fall. As a result, they are projecting a "significant number" of weevils are possible for area cotton field infestation.

Ira one-act due at state contest

For the first time in the school's history, Ira's one-act play, "And They Dance Real Slow In Jackson," will advance to the state competition to be held Saturday, May 6, at the University of Texas in Austin.

Regional competition was held Saturday at McMurry College in Abilene. Saturday's outing marked the fifth time one of Ira's one-act plays had advanced to regional.

Ira thespians also won several individual honors including Justin Spradlin as best actor. Those named to the all star cast include Kerri Carter, Kyle Sorrells and Lloyd Bennett. Kristi Carter was named to the honorable mention all star cast.

Other members of the cast include Susan Johnson, Lori Clark, Brian Martinez and Holly Scott.

Crew members include Sherry Goswick, Laura Blagg, Stephanie Webber and Rodney White.

Sue Parham is the director.

Vernon pays tribute to Roy Orbison

VERNON, Texas (AP) — Fans and friends of singer-songwriter Roy Orbison gathered in this North Texas city over the weekend to pay tribute to their native son who made rock'n'roll history.

Although he is claimed by the West Texas town of Wink, Orbison, who would have been 53

Sunday, was born in Vernon, about 160 miles northwest of Dallas.

The full-day recognition on his birthday was something Orbison had always hoped would happen while he was still making music, said Orbison's widow, Barbara, who attended the activities. Orbison died Dec. 6, 1988 of a massive heart attack.

"Had it been sooner, it would have given us a reason to come back to visit with his old friends in Vernon, but Roy always knew that the people in Vernon loved him," Mrs. Orbison said.

About 5,000 fans of the man whose voice spanned three octaves and who made famous "Only the Lonely," "Oh, Pretty Woman," "Crying," and "In Dreams" jammed the the Santa Rosa rodeo grounds for the commemoration.

Also attending were former members of Orbison's bands, The Wink Westerners and Teen Kings.

A local band started the activities, playing classics from the 50s and 60s including all of Orbison's hits. During breaks, spectators sang along to tapes of Orbison's classics and also sang Happy Birthday.

Before he died, Orbison returned to the charts doing an album with the Traveling Wilburys. Orbison also did a solo album.

Mrs. Orbison, a resident of Malibu, Calif., was presented with the proclamation passed by the state Legislature in January that declared Sunday Roy Orbison Day in Texas.

"I wanted to spend his first birthday by myself with my kids, but I'm so glad I did come," Mrs. Orbison said. "It's wonderful to see so many of you and to hear so many stories about him. It's wonderful that you took the time out to remember Roy. He was a special guy, a hell of a singer and my favorite Texan."

On a huge stage erected in the center of the rodeo grandstands, interviews were conducted with several of Orbison's friends who related anecdotes about the Rock'n'roll Hall of Famer.

Orbison's family moved to Wink when he was 10, to follow the oil boom. Orbison's father, Orbie Lee Orbison, was an oil field worker and his mother, Nadine, a nurse.

The town of Wink observed its own Roy Orbison Memorial Day three days after Orbison died while visiting his mother in Hendersonville, Tenn. Officials in Wink, about 60 miles west of Midland, named a street after Orbison before he died. The Chamber of Commerce is attempting to raise money for a statue to be erected on the lot where the home he grew up in formerly stood.

Organ Donors' Gift of Life Is Precious Legacy to Living

By Abigail Van Buren

© Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: Just a note to give you a report on your column concerning body donations to medical schools. Since that column appeared on Nov. 30, we have received more than 2,500 requests for medical school addresses from every state in the union, and they are still coming in.

I doubt if you realize how much this has helped our senior citizens' planning, as every year funeral expenses become a more serious concern for them.

Every time you publish that beautiful piece, "To Remember Me" by Robert Test, and ask your readers to contact us for donor registration forms and information, we are inundated.

Please don't forget us the week of April 23, Abby. It's been designated as National Organ/Tissue Donor Awareness Week.

BRUCE B. CONWAY, EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR, THE LIVING BANK, HOUSTON

DEAR BRUCE: Forget you? Never! First, that magnificent piece:

TO REMEMBER ME

"At a certain moment a doctor will determine that my brain has ceased to function and that, for all intents and purposes, my life has stopped."

"When that happens, do not attempt to instill artificial life into my body by the use of a machine. And don't call this my 'deathbed.' Call it my 'bed of life,' and let my body be taken from it to help others lead fuller lives."

"Give my sight to a man who has never seen a sunrise, a baby's face or love in the eyes of a woman."

"Give my heart to a person whose own heart has caused nothing but endless days of pain."

"Give my blood to the teen-ager who has been pulled from the wreckage of his car, so that he might live to see his grandchildren play. "Give my kidneys to one who depends on a machine to exist from week to week."

"Take my bones, every muscle, every fiber and nerve in my body and find a way to make a crippled child walk."

"Explore every corner of my brain. Take my cells, if necessary, and let them grow so that someday a speechless boy will shout at the crack of a bat and a deaf girl will hear the sound of rain against her windows."

"Burn what is left of me and scatter the ashes to the winds to help the flowers grow."

"If you must bury something, let it be my faults, my weaknesses and all prejudice against my fellowman."

"Give my soul to God."

"If by chance you wish to remember me, do it with a kind deed or word to someone who needs you. If you do all I have asked, I will live forever."

ROBERT N. TEST

Donor forms are available by writing to: The Living Bank, P.O. Box 6725, Houston, Texas 77265. I have carried a donor card for more than 15 years and feel there is nothing I can leave after my death that will be of greater value.

This is strictly a non-profit organization, operating on a shoestring as a public service, so please be a sport and send a dollar or two along with your request. It's tax deductible.

Houston mayor trails, poll says

HOUSTON (AP) — Despite a poll showing that he leads Mayor Kathy Whitmire by 9 percentage points, mayoral candidate Fred Hofheinz says he is still the underdog in what is predicted to be a highly competitive race.

Mrs. Whitmire, now in her fourth term as mayor, has yet to formally announce her reelection campaign, but a Houston Chronicle poll shows Hofheinz already holds the early advantage.

Hofheinz, who announced his candidacy March 30, would take 41 percent of the vote now and Mrs. Whitmire 32 percent with 28 percent unsure or refusing to answer, according to the Chronicle's copyright report published Sunday.

"It's still going to be a difficult campaign against an entrenched incumbent," said Hofheinz, who served as mayor of Houston from 1974 to 1977. "I consider myself the underdog."

The survey of 672 registered voters who said they likely would vote Nov. 7 has a statistical margin of error of plus or minus 4 percentage points. The survey sample generally reflects the geographic and ethnic makeup of the electorate in recent mayoral contests.

"There is a sense that eight years is enough, not so much in terms of her performance but because it's time for a new mayor. That works to Hofheinz's advantage," said University of Houston political scientist Richard Murray, who directed the survey April 12-19 through the school's Center for Public Policy.

More than half of all the voters surveyed approve of the job Mrs. Whitmire is doing as mayor, and she receives relatively high personal positive ratings, indicating she could turn the numbers around, Murray said.

"This should be a very competitive, lively race with a lot of voter movement possible," he said.

When the relatively small number of firmly committed supporters is considered, the race is a dead heat: 19 percent of all the respondents call themselves strong Mrs. Whitmire supporters, and 18 percent call themselves strong Hofheinz supporters.

Murray cautioned that the early trial heat in no way predicts how the election will turn out.

Lucille Ball in good spirit

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Comedian Lucille Ball is in good spirits and everyone is optimistic she'll make a full recovery from a heart attack and emergency surgery, a hospital spokesman said.

The 77-year-old entertainer, who remained in serious condition, has gotten out of her bed and into a chair a few times under doctor supervision, said Ron Wise, spokesman for Cedars-Sinai Medical Center.

"Everyone is very optimistic that she is on the road to complete recovery," Wise said Sunday. "She's awake. She's alert. She's talking to her husband, to her daughter, to her doctors, to her nurses."

Miss Ball underwent surgery last Tuesday to repair part of a major heart artery and a heart valve with donor tissue.

Jabbar receives Rolls-Royce from his teammates

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Basketball star Kareem Abdul-Jabbar played in the final regular-season game of his 20-year professional career, and walked away with a Rolls-Royce from his Los Angeles Lakers teammates.

The Lakers' owner is also having a tennis court built on Abdul-Jabbar's estate in Hawaii and a street near the Forum has been named after him.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) One-on-one relationships could become abrasive today if they are not handled diplomatically. Try to keep in mind the team has two players.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) If you have to contract for some special type of service today, be extremely watchful for hidden charges. Be sure you understand everything properly before giving the OK to begin.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) In order to enjoy yourself to the fullest, you'll require freedom of choice in your social arrangements today. Knuckling under to appease someone else will spoil the day for both of you.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Your assessment of situations today may be more accurate than the judgments of people who are trying to advise you. Be a good listener, but don't discount your own insights.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) There's a chance you might have to deal with an individual today who is basically argumentative by nature. Don't let this person bully you.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Be very careful regarding money matters today. Operate at your own pace and don't let anyone coerce you into making impulsive moves against your better judgment.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Your behavior may be governed today by the behavior of people with whom you'll be working in close conjunction. If they are uncooperative, it will set the tone for you to follow.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) You're not apt to function too well under pressure today so don't allow tasks to build up on you. Try to do what needs doing in an orderly, productive manner.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Try not to get caught today between two friends who recently had a disagreement. One or both may try to force you into the undesirable role of a mediator.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Where your career is concerned today, don't try to bluff your way through situations that involve an important client. You will lose respect if you're caught faking it.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Your plans may be only partially developed today and therein lies a potential problem. Trouble could ensue if you try to force concepts you don't fully understand on others.

Adams enjoying new life

By James Jacoby
 GROVE CITY, Ohio (AP) — The world has changed since 1977, and Randall Dale Adams is trying to adjust by taking things one day at a time.
 Adams, 40, spent the last 12 years in a Texas prison for the slaying of a Dallas policeman — a murder he said he did not commit.

(Phil Donahue show," Adams said. "For one thing, it was the first time I had actually been before a live audience to receive the audience response. Plus just of the fact of being in New York for the first time in my life — it was an experience."
 Adams also is looking forward to testing his chess skills against a computer and his first opportunity to go dancing.

All charges against Adams were dropped, and he moved last month to his mother's home in this Columbus suburb.

Separation won't hurt

There, Adams likes to listen to 1960s tunes on the radio and marvel at how much the cost of living has soared since 1977.
 "(Corvettes) that used to go for $10,000 go for $35,000 now," he said. "You used to be able to get a house for that."
 A doctor told Adams to modify his diet, so for the next month, salads and fish will replace pork, which was served to him twice a day in prison.
 But Adams' plans to quit smoking must wait.
 "I would like to cut down to a half a pack a day. I smoke a little over a pack a day now. I would like to quit, but that's not realistic now," he said.
 Adams has spent much of his time since his release on talk shows discussing his case and the documentary it inspired, "The Thin Blue Line," directed by Errol Morris.

WAPATO, Wash. (AP) — In central Washington's Yakima Valley, where fruit trees bloom in blazing sunshine, fear has taken root because of an outbreak of a contagious disease that has killed six people this year.
 Twenty people, including four infants, have become ill with meningococcal bacteria, which can lead to meningitis and other illnesses.
 Doctors are swamped, firefighters worried about giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, parents pulled their children out of preschools, and about 18,000 people have been vaccinated.
 The greatest worry is that there is no effective vaccine, therefore no protection, for children under age 1.
 In Wapato, a poor town of 3,300 on the Yakima Indian Reservation, two infants have died and three children have become sick from the disease.
 "The group of people dying and being hospitalized is the group we can't do anything for," said Fire Chief Tom Kehm, who has helped set up emergency vaccination clinics. "They can do nothing."
 The bacteria has mostly struck poor Hispanics and American Indians, living in crowded, unsanitary conditions.

 It is carried in the nose and throat and is passed through sneezing and other secretions from the nose and mouth. It is not considered highly contagious.
 However, stopping the spread has been difficult because carriers older than age 25 usually do not become ill, but can transmit the disease to children.
 The outbreak appeared to be over in mid-March, when there were no new cases reported for about two weeks, prompting Yakima County Health District director Dr. Bob Atwood to cautiously predict it had run its course.
 But a 4-month-old Wapato infant died on March 24, sparking a new round of mass vaccinations.

Three weeks passed without a new case, but the 19th case — a 5-month-old Wapato girl — was diagnosed April 13, renewing fears and frustrating medical workers.
 And on Friday, health officers in nearby Franklin County announced that a 5-month-old boy who had been hospitalized and released was confirmed as the outbreak's 20th case. The boy had moved from Yakima on April 14, the day before he became ill, said Dr. Larry Jecha, county health officer.
 Atwood is no longer willing to predict when the outbreak will be over.
 But the federal Centers for Disease Control in Atlanta, which has been monitoring the outbreak, believes it may be winding down.

Dr. Jay Wenger of CDC's meningitis center, said meningococcal disease typically fades away with a few sporadic cases.
 The Yakima outbreak started with two cases in January, exploded with 12 in February, followed by four in March and two so far in April.
 "That's sort of a classical wind down," Wenger said.
 The disease is most common in poor African countries like Chad, Sudan and Ethiopia, where Wenger said epidemics sicken people at a rate of 500 per-100,000 population.
 In this country, there are about 3,000 cases and 300 deaths each year.
 Yakima Pediatric Associates, whose doctors have cared for many of the stricken, has received up to 1,000 calls per day from anxious parents in recent weeks, said Dr. Bruce Hudson.
 People are quicker to bring in their children, he said, because the disease symptoms are similar to a common cold. It starts with a fever and progresses to vomiting, lethargy, stiff neck and irritability. There is also a purple rash.
 Kehm said firefighters in Wapato worried about giving mouth-to-mouth resuscitation until they learned the protective mask they use to prevent AIDS contraction also protects them from meningococcus.

Businessman claims his testimony was twisted by the panel

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Fort Worth developer who testified before the House Ethics Committee about buying 1,000 copies of Speaker Jim Wright's book has filed an affidavit clarifying his position because he says his testimony has been distorted to suggest wrongdoing.
 S. Gene Payte told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram he believes Chicago lawyer Richard Phelan, special counsel for the committee, distorted Payte's testimony to trump up two of 69 specific ethics infractions alleged against Wright.
 Last week, the committee said there is "reason to believe" that Wright tried to evade limits on outside income through sales of the book, the Star-Telegram reported Sunday.
 But Payte hopes his affidavit persuades the committee to drop the two allegations tied to his testimony.
 "He's indignant," said Fort Worth attorney Thomas Law, who represents Payte and is also the administrator of Wright's blind trust.
 Phelan said Payte had received 300 to 500 copies of the book, "Reflections of a Public Man," and that Wright received $3,300 in royalty income from the sale. The book royalties constitute unreported gift income.
 The book sold for $5.95, with Wright receiving 55 percent royalties from each sale.
 Payte obtained a transcript of his original testimony before the committee and signed the affidavit Friday, disputing Phelan's conclusions. Payte said he didn't say he paid for 1,000 books, but only received 300 to 500 copies.
 "Since testifying," Payte's affidavit says, "I have discovered positively that in fact approximately 1,000 books were delivered to me. While I believe this to be the case, I had not been absolutely certain of the fact."

"I now am certain," Payte said. "I had taken two large cases of books to the home which I have in Rockport and had forgotten this fact."
 Phelan's conclusion that Payte paid $6,000 but received fewer than 1,000 copies of the book apparently is based on a separate transcript of a telephone interview Payte had with a reporter, Law told the Star-Telegram.

Putting on the pressure

By James Jacoby
 No one has a gun pointed at your head forcing you to bid four spades just because you have a solid seven-card suit and a side-ace. It's far from certain that a partner who passed will have two tricks for you. But sometimes one trick in partner's hand will produce another as the opponents are put under discarding pressure. And if all you can take are your eight tricks, perhaps the opponents could have made something themselves.
 East made a good decision at trick one when he played his lowest club on partner's queen lead. A shift at the second trick to either red suit would cook declarer's goose. But West was blind to such subtlety and blithely continued clubs. East won the second club and would no doubt have now led a diamond if he could see all the cards, but he played a third club in the hope that partner might have something like Q-x of spades. No such luck. Declarer ruffed high and now began the parade of trump winners. In fact he played out all his trumps, leaving dummy with Q-5 of hearts, ace of diamonds and the 10 of clubs.
 This approach forced East to keep the K-J of hearts, queen of diamonds alone and a club honor over the dummy's 10-spot. Declarer now played a diamond to dummy's ace and led the club 10, on which he discarded a diamond. East won the trick and had to lead away from the king of hearts to let South make his contract.
 James Jacoby's books "Jacoby on Bridge" and "Jacoby on Card Games" (written with his father, the late Oswald Jacoby) are now available at bookstores. Both are published by Pharos Books. © 1989, NEWSPAPER ENTERPRISE ASSN.

Johnson wheels and deals; gets familiar faces in draft

IRVING, Texas (AP) - Jimmy Johnson's first NFL draft was one in which he wheeled and dealt to get extra choices and selected players he knew thoroughly.

With his initial choices Sunday, Johnson picked fullback Daryl Johnston, guard Mark Stepnoski, and defensive end Rhondy Weston, all of whom played for him in the East-West Shrine game.

"I was able to see them first hand when I coached in the East-West Shrine game and I know what they can do," Johnson said. "I was able to evaluate them first hand and it was a little bit more than a coincidence that I picked 'em."

Syracuse's Johnston was taken in the second round. In the third round, Johnson opted for 270-pound offensive lineman Stepnoski of Pittsburgh and then, with another third-round pick, shored up the defense with Florida's Weston.

Tony Tolbert, a speedy linebacker who will be converted to defensive end, was picked in the fourth round. The Cowboys had three picks in the fifth round and chose Clemson tight end Keith Jennings, Georgia Tech linebacker Willis Crockett and Florida defensive tackle Jeff Roth. UCLA quarterback Troy Aikman signed a $11 million six-year contract last Thursday as the Cowboys' top pick. He was in New York City on draft day.

Johnston, 6-2, 237-pounds, was rated one of the premier blockers in college football last year.

"He is an outstanding football player," Johnson said. "He's a good power runner, an excellent blocker, and can catch the ball.

Another one-hitter for Ryan

TORONTO (AP) - For someone who had just completed a 4-1 victory, Nolan Ryan wasn't very happy.

"Sure, I'm disappointed. I don't know how many more chances I'm going to get," the Texas right-hander said Sunday after a one-hit performance in the Rangers' victory over the Toronto Blue Jays.

Ryan, 42, was hoping to become the oldest player in major league history to throw a no-hitter. However, Nelson Liriano's one-out line drive triple to right in the bottom of the ninth kept Cy Young's record safe for now. Young was 41 when he turned the trick in 1908.

"The way I'm throwing, I feel I still have a chance to do it again," Ryan, 2-1, struck out 12 and walked three, including Lloyd Moseby twice, in going the distance for the first time this season.

"I had all three pitches working for me today," Ryan said. "The change wasn't as good as it was in Milwaukee, but it still got me a lot of hitters out." Ryan no-hit the Brewers through seven innings April 12 before Terry Francona broke up the no-hit bid with a leadoff single.

Ruben Sierra's fourth home run of the year, a wind-blown, two-run shot to right off loser Todd Stottlemyre, 0-2, put the Rangers up 2-0 in the top of the first.

Steve Buechele stroked a two-run double to left for a 4-0 Rangers lead in the fourth. The Blue Jays didn't come close to getting a hit off Ryan until Liriano's one-out triple in the ninth.

"I know he's a pull hitter," Ryan said. "I was trying to throw it low and away, so if he did hit it, he'd pull a ground ball. It was in the middle of the plate and down. That's his pitch to hit, and that's what he did with it."

Kelly Gruber drove in Liriano with a groundout. Liriano was philosophical about ruining the no-hit bid. "I'm just trying to do my job," Liriano said.

DR. GOTT PETER GOTT, M.D.

All test results should be reported

By Peter H. Gott, M.D.

DEAR DR. GOTT: In your practice, do you routinely give negative test results to your patients, or just results that are outside normal ranges? I find it disconcerting to pay for a test, then hear nothing from the doctor.

DEAR READER: I routinely report ALL test results, positive and negative, to patients.

I do this because I believe patients deserve the courtesy of a follow-up, not simply a telephone call if something is amiss.

I know that many doctors report only abnormal (positive) findings. This is pretty standard policy because it is easier for busy practitioners. But I don't agree with it. Since patients are paying for the tests (and worry about the outcomes), they should be informed of the results.

There's also a practical consideration. Not hearing about your test may mean that it was OK — or that the lab lost it and never reported it to the doctor. This glitch was brought home to me early in my practice when I thought I was being smart and "modern" to give only positive results. I'd done a Pap test on a woman and told her I would report any abnormality. I took the slide to the lab and promptly forgot about it. Three weeks later, the patient called back to check on the results. I didn't have them; the lab had mislaid the slide. It taught me not to assume that the test had reached the lab.

Therefore, I now report results and, I tell patients, if they don't hear from me within a week, call and bug the works. And, as you say, it's less disconcerting for patients.

For more information, I'm sending you a copy of my Health Report "Choosing a Physician." Other readers who would like a copy should send $1.25 and their name and address to P.O. Box 91369, Cleveland, OH 44101-3369. Be sure to mention the title.

DEAR DR. GOTT: My 6-year-old daughter has been getting boils on different parts of her body since she was a year old. What starts out as a little pimple swells with liquid and becomes very painful before it bursts and disappears. Then a dark spot remains. Several skin specialists have been unsuccessful in helping.

DEAR READER: Recurring skin lesions that start as blisters or boils can be caused by a variety of afflictions, some of which are common (such as staph infection) and others which are unusual (such as pemphigus).

Staph infection typically causes crops of large, pus-filled pimples. Because the diagnosis is easily established (by growing and identifying bacteria within the sores), I suspect that this is not your daughter's problem.

Pemphigus, a rare skin disorder in children, is caused by an autoimmune reaction (self-allergy) that a person develops to his or her own skin. It is marked by the periodic development of large, fluid-filled blisters that eventually burst, leaving denuded and crusted areas. Pemphigus must be differentiated from other skin disorders that cause bullae (blisters), such as drug allergies, viral infections and other unusual forms of dermatitis. This disease can be serious if large areas of skin are involved, but is often successfully treated with cortisone drugs.

Since your daughter's problem has stumped the experts, I advise you to take her to the dermatology clinic at a teaching hospital. In such a setting, specialists have experience in diagnosing unusual skin ailments.

Also, in a teaching hospital, ultra-modern methods of diagnosis are available. Let me know what happens.

DROWN UNIFORMS

FARMERS BRANCH, Texas (AP) — Farmers Branch police officers should be in the pink now that they'll be wearing blue.

Officers in the Dallas suburb had complained they were often mistaken for security guards — even by fellow officers from surrounding cities — because of their brown uniforms.

Now Farmers Branch officers can thrust out their chests proudly when they see the "Back the Blue" bumper stickers supporting their blue-clad colleagues from the Dallas Police Department.

Hance leads Bush in early sentiment poll for governor

HOUSTON (AP) — Railroad Commissioner Kent Hance, a likely candidate for governor of Texas in 1990, has emerged among Houston Republicans as the party's early favorite over George W. Bush, son of the president, according to a recent poll by the Houston Chronicle.

Among likely Democratic candidates for governor, Attorney General Jim Mattox and State Treasurer Ann Richards are in a dead heat, the April 12-19 survey of 672 registered Houston voters indicated.

Among the poll participants, 34 percent identified themselves as Republicans, 42 percent as Democrats and 21 percent as independents, with the rest not accepting a label, the Chronicle said in a report published today.

When asked their choice among three potential contenders for 1990 GOP gubernatorial nomination, 28 percent of Republican voters surveyed said they would like to see the Republicans nominate Hance for governor; with 21 percent choosing George W. Bush, the son of the president; and 10 percent preferring Secretary of State Jack Rains. The rest were unsure, refused to answer or said it made no difference.

Among Democrats surveyed, 14 percent said they would like to see Hance be the GOP nominee; 10 percent said Bush; and 4 percent said Rains, with the rest unsure, refusing to answer or saying it made no difference to them whom the other party chooses.

Among the identified Democratic city voters, Mattox and Richards are in a dead heat, the survey indicated: Mattox had the support of 32 percent and Richards 32 percent, with the rest unsure, refusing to answer or saying it made no difference who their party's nominee will be.

Forty-three percent of the identified Republicans said they would like to see the Democrats nominate Mattox for governor, 20 percent said Richards and the rest were unsure, refused to answer or said it makes no difference to them whom the opposition chooses.

The margin of error of the survey, conducted through the University of Houston Center for Public Policy, is plus or minus 4 percentage points.

Hance, a former Democratic U.S. House member from Lubbock, has made three statewide races, in 1984 for the U.S. Senate, in 1986 for governor and last November for the office he holds.

"He has built up some name identification and credibility as a candidate," said University of Houston political scientist Richard Murray, who directed the survey.

Hance, also mentioned as a 1990 candidate for re-election or attorney general, said he leans strongly to making a run for governor "and I think this is a good indication of the support we have."

Murray said the Republican results indicate that the president's son can't win on his name alone.

The younger Bush said his showing "is not bad for a non-candidate," and added: "I'm pleased to have anybody for me. If I were to run, obviously, I would like to improve those numbers."

He said he has still not decided whether he will seek the nomination. Noting he and his partners recently purchased the Texas Rangers baseball team, he said he has been "totally consumed by baseball."

Rains, who is not expected to formally announce his candidacy until early summer, said, "I'm delighted and surprised I even show up on the charts against such formidable opposition."

Mattox said that the results "show that, realistically, I'm probably the stronger candidate to beat the Republican when the time comes."

Mattox said he is convinced Ms. Richards hurt herself with "the more conservative members of our society" with her keynote speech to the Democratic National Convention last summer.

But Ms. Richards' consultant, Glenn Smith, said the match-up among Democrats shows Ms. Richards has a strong base in Houston. "Noting that Republicans favored Mattox, he said, "If I were a Republican, I'd want Jim Mattox to be the Democratic nominee."

Murray said Mattox "probably got a good shot" in voter approval from heavy television coverage of his presence in Matamoros, Mexico, the scene of the grisly slayings by drug-dealing cultists.

Congress rolls up sleeves on spending bill, budget

WASHINGTON (AP) — Fur is expected to fly this week in the year's first budget vote on the floor of Congress, despite the bipartisan amity that so far has marked lawmakers' deficit-reduction efforts.

The House is scheduled to vote Wednesday on a measure providing $4.7 billion in new spending this year for veterans assistance, anti-drug initiatives, education loans and other programs.

The legislation has run into opposition from members of both parties who say it would add to an already embarrassing 1989 deficit of $163 billion, and would trample spending limits that former President Reagan and congressional leaders forged in a budget summit pact two years ago.

"I hope I don't have to engage in immolation on the floor of the House, but this is the last line in the sand," said Rep. Bill Frenzel of Minnesota, ranking Republican on the House Budget Committee. "This would be a stunning indictment of Congress for being willing to go back on its word."

It is common this late in the fiscal year — which ends Sept. 30 — for Congress to provide money for unforeseen needs.

But with President Bush and lawmakers having recently shaken hands on a deficit-cutting pact for 1990 that has been criticized by some as phony and inadequate, many members of Congress are sensitive about adding even more to this year's shortfall. They also don't want to rupture relations with the administration, which has threatened a veto of the measure because of its cost.

"This is a crucial vote for Congress, as to whether it will stand by the spending limits of the 1987 budget summit and whether it will stand by the agreement just arrived at," said House Budget Committee Chairman Leon Panetta, D-Calif.

Frenzel and Panetta, who hope to trim the size of the bill, will also be busy next week on fiscal 1990 matters. The House Budget Committee plans to complete its work on a $1.2 trillion budget which the two lawmakers hope will incorporate $28 billion in savings

NOTICE OF SETTLEMENT MODIFICATION

In November of 1986, two classes, the first defined as all Mexican-Americans eligible to presently or in the future vote in elections for trustees to the Snyder Independent School District, and the second defined as all blacks eligible to presently or in the future vote in the elections for trustees to the Snyder Independent School District, were certified by the court in Malone, et al v. Snyder Independent School District, et al, Civil Action No. Ca-5-85-259, pending in the United States District Court for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division. After lengthy negotiation, the parties to the above referenced lawsuit reached a settlement which was approved by the Court on October 15, 1987.

Under the agreement, a new method of electing trustees to the Snyder Independent School District was adopted. Four of the seven trustees were to be elected from single-member districts and the remaining three were to be elected at-large. Subsequently, and in accordance with the terms of the settlement agreement, a fifth single-member district was created to replace one of the at-large spots. By doing this, the trustee, Mr. Ygnacio Benitez, Jr., who was originally elected to single-member district one was placed in single-member district four. At his request, and believing that he should be allowed to represent those who elected him, the school board for the Snyder Independent School District voted to change the boundaries of the new single-member district one to include this trustee's residence as well as other surrounding property. No other changes were made.

Because the court was required to approve the original settlement agreement, it must also review proposed amendments to that agreement. A hearing will be held on the 24th day of May, 1989, in the United States District Courtroom for the Northern District of Texas, Lubbock Division, at 1:30 o'clock p.m. at which time the court will consider the amendment. Members of the above defined classes will be given opportunity to object to the change. Their objections must be written and filed with the Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Judge, United States District Court, Room C-210, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Mr. Rolando L. Rios, Attorney for the Classes, 201 N. St. Mary's Street, Suite 521, San Antonio, Texas 78205, and Mr. Brian P. Quinn, Attorney for the Snyder Independent School District, 1722 Broadway, Lubbock, Texas 79401. All objections must be received by the court, Mr. Rios, and Mr. Quinn no later than the 17th day of May, 1989.

Since the court may wish to hold a hearing on any objection, anyone filing one must appear at the Federal Courthouse in Lubbock on May 24, 1989, at 1:30 p.m. and be prepared to present his contentions in open court. If he does not, the objection will be waived.

Mexico-Americanos elegible para votar actualmente o en el futuro en elecciones del Consejo Escolar del Independiente Distrito Escolar de Snyder, y la segunda definida como toda la gente negra elegible para votar actualmente o en el futuro en elecciones del Consejo Escolar del Distrito Escolar Independiente de Snyder, fueron certificadas por el tribunal en Malone, et al v. Snyder Independent School District, et al, Causa Civil Num. CA-5-85-259, pendiente en el Tribunal Regional de los Estados Unidos Americanos del Distrito Norteno de Texas. Division de Lubbock. Despues de negociacion extensa, los interesados de disputa sobredicha ilegaron a un arreglo propuesto que se aprobo por el tribunal el 15 de Octubre, 1987.

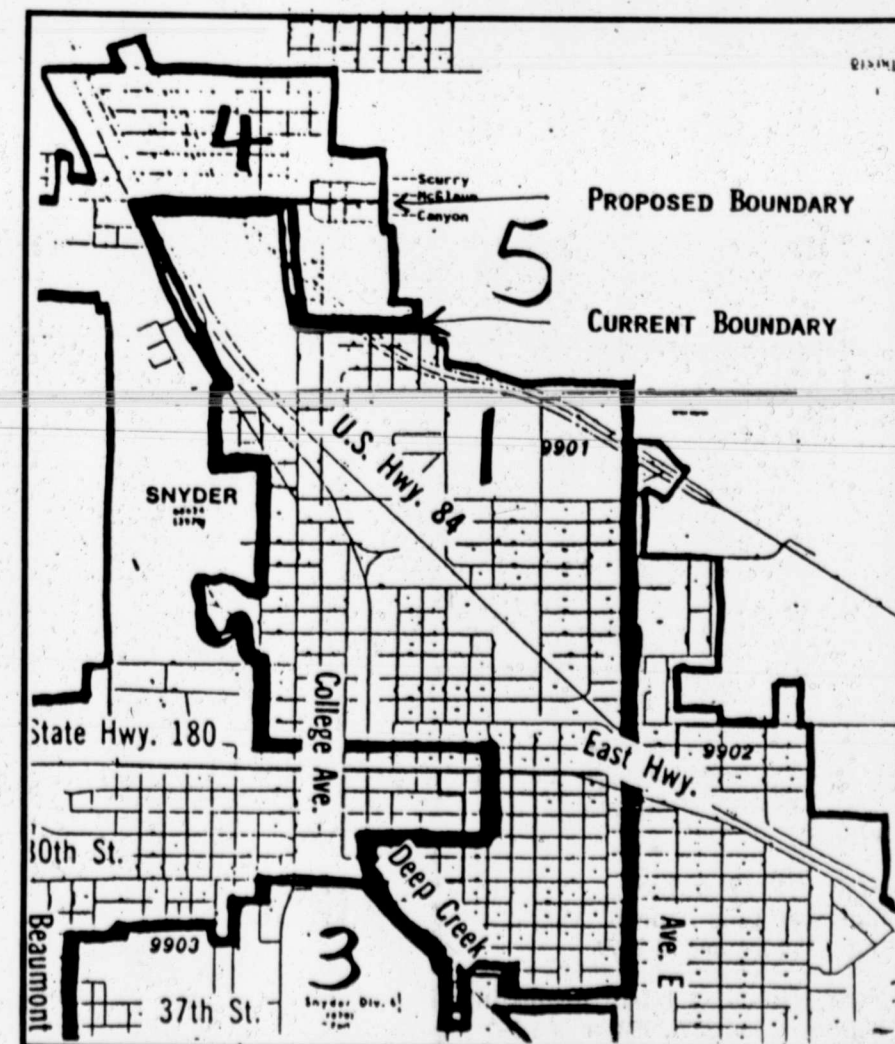

Segun el arreglo, un nuevo metodo de elegir miembros al Consejo Escolar del Independiente Distrito Escolar se adopto. Cuatro de los seite ciones del arreglo, un quinto distrito uni-miembro se creo para reemplazar uno de los puestos populares. En esto, el miembro, Sr. Ygnacio Benitez Jr., que se eligio originalmente al distrito uni-miembro numero uno se coloco al distrito uni-miembro numero cuatro. A peticion de si mismo, y creyendo que se le deberia permitir representar a ellos quines lo elegeron, el Consejo Escolar del Independiente Distrito Escolar de Snyder voto para cambiar los limites del nuevo distrito uni-miembro numero uno para incluir la residencia de dichomiembro tanto como otra propiedad cercana. Ningunos otros cambios se hicieron.

Asi como se requierio que el tribunal aprobara el arreglo original, tambien tendra que repasar enmiendas propuestas al arreglo. Habra una vista el dia 24 de Mayo, 1989, en la Sala de Justicia de los Estados Unidos Americanos del Distrito Norteno de Texas, Division de Lubbock, a la (s) 1:30 p.m. a que hora el tribunal considera la enmienda. Miembros de las definidas classes sobredichas tendran oportunidad determinada para protestar el cambio. Sus protestas tendran que ser por escrito y etabladas con el Honorable Halbert O. Woodward, Juez, United States District Court, Room C-210, Federal Building, 1205 Texas Avenue, Lubbock, Texas 79401, Sr. Rolando L. Rios, abogado de las clases, 201 N. St. Mary's Street, Suite 521, San Antonio, Texas 78205, y Sr. Brian P. Quinn, abogado del Independiente Distrito Escolar de Snyder, 1722 Broadway, Lubbock Texas 79401. Todas protestas se tienen que recibir por el tribunal, Sr. Rios, y Sr. Quinn no despues del 17 de Mayo, 1989.

Puesto que el tribunal guerra tener una vista tocante cualquier protesta, cualquiera que registre una protesta tiene que presentarse en el Palacio Federal de Justicia de Lubbock el 24 de Mayo, 1989, a la (s) 1:30 p.m. y estar preparado para presentar sus pretenciones en tribunal libre. Si no, la protesta sera renunciada.

Chinese students support protests

HOUSTON (AP) — Chinese students staging what was described as the first U.S. demonstration of support for the increasingly violent student protests in their homeland, called on President Bush to address the lack of human rights in China.

"Human rights in China are just as important as in the USSR," said Li Jin an organizer of the Sunday protest that drew about 20 Chinese students and recent graduates to the doors of the General Consulate of the People's Republic of China.

"We think the U.S. government should drop the double standard on the human rights issue."

The protesters, carrying signs reading "No More Dictatorship," and "Anti-Autocracy," were watched from a balcony by consulate officials, but had only a brief exchange when two men opened a heavy steel door, accepted some literature and then slammed the door shut without speaking.

"This is a fine example of Chinese government in action," protester Yimin Yu said. "They don't want to give the students freedom of speech, freedom of the press or a democratic China."

The Houston students unfurled computer-paper banners and talked to journalists during the quiet protest that drew little attention from passersby.

"We came here to the consulate because we wanted to show to the Chinese government that we want freedom and we want democracy and we are willing to fight for it," said Yan Yong-Xin.

"I would like to one day return to my country, but it will depend on how Chinese economic and political reforms are going," he said. "We all have to fight for a better China in which everyone can go back and have a successful career and a free and productive life."

The Houston protest was thought to be the first of its kind in the United States since the death of ousted Communist Party leader Hu Yaobang sparked violent protests by huge crowds of Chinese students.

In China, weekend unrest was perhaps the most violent since demonstrations began April 15, when the death of reformist leader Hu Yaobang stirred anti-government sentiments and an organized protest campaign by university students.

About 150,000 students and supporters demonstrated Saturday in Beijing against the communist system. The official Xinhua News Agency said that mobs in the ancient city of Xian burned buildings and vehicles, and that 130 security force members there were injured.

Scattered protests continued Sunday as students demanded radical changes in the structure of the communist system, including a free press and expanded human rights.

Bush salutes 47 victims of Iowa blast

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — President Bush today offered grieving friends and relatives of the 47 crewmen killed in the USS Iowa explosion the "gratitude of a nation" for the sailors' service to their country.

"We will not — we cannot, as long as we live — know why God has called them home. But of one thing we can be sure — this world is a more peaceful place because of the USS Iowa," Bush said at a memorial service at the Norfolk

Naval Air Station. Among the 3,000 people at the service were victims' relatives and scores of sailors and officers in dress blues. A bouquet of red roses was placed in front of the podium. Behind were an American flag and the battleship's banners.

shipmates and friends and left the Navy as brothers in eternity.

"To the Navy community, remember that you have the admiration of America for sharing the burden of grief as a family," Bush said. "You must be heroically strong now. ... To all who mourn a son, a brother, a husband, a father, a friend, — I can only offer you the gratitude of a nation, for your loved one served his country with distinction and honor," he said.

government and with making the District of Columbia a "test case for a full range of innovative anti-drug measures."

In unusual back-to-back appearances here, Bush was to speak shortly after Vice President Dan Quayle addressed the AP annual meeting. The publishers are gathered for the American Newspaper Publishers Association convention.

"We used to hear a lot about the presidency being too big for one man," Bush said in prepared remarks. "That talk stopped with Ronald Reagan."

The president noted that in his first three months, he forged a budget plan with Congress designed to reduce the deficit. "Difficult decisions lie ahead, but an important agreement has been achieved," he said.

Moreover, he noted the accord with Capitol Hill to continue the flow of humanitarian aid to the Contra rebels in Nicaragua.

"Of course, dealing with problems that demand immediate attention is only part of the picture," Bush said. "We need to look to the long-term as well — to focus now on the kind of future we want to see for ourselves and our nation."

He said his administration was "mapping strategies for a period of remarkable change in international affairs, change more wide-ranging and rapid than at any time in the post-war period."

"While we will lead, we also intend to consult and listen, to our friends abroad and to the Congress."

He noted that Secretary of State James A. Baker III will meet next month with Soviet Foreign Minister Eduard Shevardnadze.

Lightning sets off fires

Lightning set off two fires Saturday night, the first a grass fire at 7:10 p.m. alongside a county road 15 miles southwest of Snyder that firemen had been at for less than an hour before "the rain put it out for us," a department spokesman said.

Lightning from the Saturday night rainstorm was also given as the cause for a utility pole that caught fire near the Texaco plant 18 miles north of town on the Clairmont Hwy.

Firemen were at that scene for about two hours.

Tires said cut

Police are investigating a car vandalism case reported at 4:19 p.m. Saturday in the 200 Block of North Ave. W.

Jennie Ynguanzo of 203 N. Ave. W told officers that three tires had been slashed on a 1979 Cadillac belonging to Herman Smith.

Three of Latin America's four largest economies, Argentina, Mexico and Venezuela, had a growth rate of less than 2 percent in 1987, according to the Inter-American Development Bank. The bank added that Brazil's rate had been just under 3 percent for the year.

Court approves health care costs

Scurry County commissioners Monday approved seven budget amendments including a $50,000 change for the county welfare department to cover increased medical expenses created by the state's new indigent health care plan.

Welfare department director Marge Sealy said three major cases necessitating out-of-county care, two kidney failures and a lung cancer case, were primarily responsible for the increase from $65,000 to $115,000.

Commissioner Pcts. 2 and 3 were given back $15,000 each for 1988 road and bridge expenses that had been carried over into the new year and returned to the general fund.

Other amendments included the county auditor's allotment of a previously unbudgeted $1,850 for costs associated with changing over from a connection with Cogdell Memorial Hospital's computer system to the new system recently installed in the sheriff's office.

Sealy was authorized to hire a part-time employee for about 10 hours weekly at $4 per hour to provide relief when she is required to be away from the office.

Linda Scalf of the Noah Project reported that her office has cared for 199 family violence victims so far this fiscal year, and the group's contract with Scurry County was renewed.

The proposed funding is for $15,360 from the governor's Criminal Justice Division and $31,190 in local funding, which Scalf said includes 400 hours monthly of volunteers' time.

Bill Stephens of Stephens Office Supply, the area Xerox representative, appeared to discuss extending Xerox's three-year contract with the county to lease nine copying machines in various departments.

A new contract was approved at a reduced cost from $1,779 to $1,760 annually, with the installation on new 50 Series copiers planned.

Vehicle hits cow Saturday

The Department of Public Safety reported that a Snyder man hit a cow around 10:45 p.m. Saturday some three miles south of town on the Colorado City Hwy.

Jerry D. Morgan of Rt. 3 was northbound in a 1989 Plymouth when the animal reportedly ran in front of his vehicle.

Births

Barrie and Debbie Bowlin are the parents of a baby boy, Brett Vinson, born at 8:18 a.m. Thursday in Cogdell Memorial Hospital. He weighed 8 pounds, 2 ounces and was welcomed by a brother, Barrett, and three sisters, Courtney, Amber and Pamela. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Howard and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowlin.

Terry and Cary Scarbrough of Ft. Stockton are the parents of a baby girl, Lexi Rae, born at 11:53 p.m. Friday. She weighed 7 pounds, 1 ounce and was welcomed by a brother, Tye. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. R.L. Scarbrough of Snyder and Mrs. LaVon Alexander of Ft. Stockton.

Officials and advertisers tout Bush's words 'kinder, gentler'

by The Associated Press
When George Bush coined the phrase "kinder, gentler nation," he likely didn't know it would catch on. And on, and on, and on.

In Detroit, new road signs admonish motorists to be "kinder, gentler, safer drivers." In Windsor, Ontario, a strip joint advertises itself as a "kinder, gentler adult entertainment center."

Two weeks ago in Phoenix — one year after he was impeached for misusing funds and obstructing justice — former Gov. Evan Mecham vowed to run again and lead "a kinder, gentler Arizona."

And in South Carolina, plumber Curt Whisenant has erected a billboard on U.S. 1 in Columbia advertising his ABCOE Plumbing Co. as a "kinder, gentler plumber."

That may not have been what the now-president Bush had in mind when candidate Bush first used the phrase in his acceptance speech at the Republican National Convention last August.

The "kinder and gentler" saying and Bush's "thousand points of light" remark frequently have been lampooned by cartoonists and others who have poked fun at the attempt at presidential poetry.

But the phrase isn't without fans. "I think it's probably going to be more successful than 'Where's the Beef?'" said Charlie Claggett, chief creative officer for the advertising agency D'Arcy Masius Benton & Bowles in St. Louis.

"Where's the Beef?" was the Wendy's hamburger restaurant slogan co-opted during a 1984 presidential candidate debate by Walter Mondale against fellow Democratic hopeful Gary Hart.

"The trend today is toward neo-traditional values. When Bush made that speech, I thought, 'My God, this man is reading the same research we are.' And, of course, he is," Claggett said.

Even so, Claggett said, "I wouldn't dare go over to Anheuser-Busch and suggest they advertise a 'kinder, gentler beer.' How kind and gentle can we be, anyway?"

The phrase "meets a desperate human need at a time when you can step out of your house in Washington, D.C., and get shot down by cocaine sellers," said Ray Browne, head of the popular culture department at Bowling Green State University in Ohio.

"We're looking for something to save us from ourselves," Browne said. "It's a Madison Avenue phrase. I don't know who cooked it up, but it's tremendous."

"It seemed to capture the kind of tone he wanted for his presidency," Cooper said. "He's often joked about it. But he's also very well-defined what those two phrases are supposed to mean."

Berry's World

Helen Hayes first woman to receive Edwin Booth award

NEW YORK (AP) — Another all-male bastion fell with the induction of 30 women, including author Eudora Welty and actress Helen Hayes, into the Players Club, founded 100 years ago by Edwin Booth, a celebrated Shakespearean actor. The admission of women Sunday coincided with the club's centennial and with Shakespeare's birthday. Women had long been permitted into the club once a year on the anniversary of the bard's birth.

The 1,000-member club for actors, performers and writers also chose Sunday to bestow upon Miss Hayes the first Edwin Booth Award for her lifetime achievement in theater.

Alexander's can fight termite infestation

You can't escape from termites. They are hard at work in every area of every state, and they may be busy devouring somebody's home right in your neighborhood — maybe even yours.

You can't afford to take chances with costly termites. Your home is your largest dollar investment. It can be protected efficiently and scientifically at a pittance of the cost compared to the damage termites can do.

Call Alexander's Pest Control for professional protection, just to be sure.

By the time termites are discovered, the cost of repairing damage done by the termites could result in thousands of dollars. Once termites gain entry to your home, they spread rapidly through joists and floors. Wily termites are careful not to break through the surface of the wood, so your first clue of termites may come when a piece of furniture sinks into soft wood. Replacing floors and supporting framework could amount to as much as 10 times their original cost.

After getting inside, the appetite of termites is insatiable. They often follow the wooden framework of the house to upper levels and floors, creating havoc as they go. Once inside the house termites keep on with their destructive job until either the house is destroyed or until treated.

Just because your house is made of brick or concrete doesn't mean that it's safe from termites. These insidious insects are crafty and cunning in gaining access and getting into the wooden construction inside.

Voracious termites will eat anything containing wood or cellulose. They frequently damage valuable papers, books, expensive rugs and items in storage. Besides feeding themselves, worker termites carry food back to the colony for the queen, king, secondary reproductives and soldier termites. With this large family to feed, the worker isn't the least concerned about the value of your property.

A concrete foundation doesn't stop termites. Termites must return to their nests every 12 to 24 hours for moisture, and to feed the non-workers. Termite tubes under your foundation are a sure sign of infestation.

Mature termites develop wings and on a warm, moist day emerge from the colony as a swarm. This usually happens in the spring and sometimes in the fall. After flying a short distance, the wings drop off and new colonies are formed. If you see swarming termites, you had better call for an inspection.

Professional chemical treatment is the only way to be sure you're safe from termite damage, and this treatment is far more economical than repairs. Using proven methods, the soil around and under your house is treated to create a chemical barrier that stops subterranean termites cold. Alexander's makes sure every possible point of entry is blocked. Prevention is cheaper than costly repairs. Call today for an inspection and estimate.

Alexander's Pest Control also does all types of pest control. Call 573-7133.

Performing leads to group's success

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — The success of the country rock band Alabama doesn't rely on awards but comes from performing music the group enjoys, says band member Randy Owen.

"I think when we first started we were graded on the fact that we were different and we were given credit for a certain different sound," Owen said in an interview published Sunday in The Tennessean.

"Now, hopefully people are going to understand that our success has a great deal to do with our fans and with ... doing what we really enjoy," Owen said.

Owen and fellow band members Teddy Gentry, Jeff Cook and Merk Herndon recently were named Artist of the Decade by the Country Music Association and three times have taken Entertainer of the Year honors.
