ORDINANCES COVERING SANITATION

There are many worthwhile projects for Stanton raising their heads seeking a place on the spring and summer program to be consummated, introduced by the Martin County Chamber of Commerce, the City of Stanton, and the City-County Health Sanitarian, Mrs. Leo Turner, that should have the support of every citizen when the campaign of action gets under way.

The Chamber of Commerce is getting its house in order to launch a drive on "Clean-up, Fix-up" in Stanton, date to be announced later. When this campaign starts to rolling every home owner, every renter of property, should join the parade of citizens with shovel, hoe, and rake, to clear the property of all rubbish, remove spots in the back yard where slop waters from the kitchen have been thrown, providing a collecting place for flies to swarm, and a spot from which rises an odor that is anything but pleasant to the smell.

Mrs. Turner, is already in the campaign to carry out her work of remedying the sanitary condition of Stanton, including having notices printed and tacked up in conspicuous places, notifying owners that the tax must be paid on their dog by April 30, or the canine will be picked up and impounded to remain a certain period of time and if not called for it will be destroyed.

The complaints of the encroachment of dogs on property other than that of the dog owners, and damaging the premises by digging holes in lawns and flower beds, and toting off daily newspapers thrown into yards by carriers, and creating a general nuisance, have come from many residents. Mrs. Turner is "up in arms" over that situation and intends to eliminate the nuisance as far as possible. Her problem has been to secure the services of a dog catcher to pick up the tagless dogs and to provide an enclosure to impound them when picked up. The firmness of hand that Mrs. Turner intends to apply in enforcing this ordinance, the dog nuisance in Stanton will be entirely wiped out, if not entirely, the menace will be cut to a minimum.

The sanitation officer's duties are many and their size are of gigantic proportions. They are fraught with a setup that invite tempers to arise and heave many derogatory remarks at the Sanitarian for doing her duty.

Her duties include making inspection of all city property to locate spots that are unsanitary and injurious to the health of the citizens of Stanton, and call the attention of the property owner or renter, to the unsanitary condition, and to remedy it.

In recent weeks city ordinances have been passed by the City of Stanton as an aid to the Sanitarian to carry out her duties, incorporating fines to be assessed the violator when it was necessary to enforce her warning. An ordinance regulating slaughter houses inspecting meats and meat products, etc., in the City of Stanton, has been passed, carrying with it a penalty that upon conviction the violator shall be fined not less than $1.00 and not more than $100.

A place of nuisance is defined in another ordinance passed. Included in the nuisance: are dry closets, cess pools, carcasses of fish, fowls, animals, flesh of any kind, offensive manure; prohibits expectorating or throwing any remains of chewed or smoked cigar or cigaret upon any sidewalk, and many, many other objects of nuisances are included in the ordinance. One found guilty of violating this ordinance shall upon conviction be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction, fined not less than $1.00 nor more than $100.

Another ordinance passed defines the control and regulating places where livestock or fowls may be kept. The ordinance sets up the size space to be occupied by horses, cows, goats-sheep, chickens, hogs and swine, and rabbits. It covers a multitude of things the owner of such property must comply with to meet the requirements of the law. The penalty for disobeying the law the party shall upon conviction be fined not less than $1.00 and not more than $100.

Ordinance on the City's "statute books," has to do with food, food establishments, employees, utensils, health danger, etc. It says: "It shall be unlawful for any person to operate a food establishment in the City of Stanton, Texas, who does not possess an unrevoked permit from the City-County Sanitarian, such permit shall be posted in a conspicuous place." This feature of the ordinance has been complied with by Mrs. Turner, and the local food establishments passing the inspection of the Sanitarian, have been issued their permits and have them posted in conspicuous spots in their places of business.

Mrs. Turner has her hands full and deserves the support and co-operation of all citizens by obeying her instructions, thus to a degree aid in lightening her load of discharging her duties, and at the same time place Stanton as the ranking clean and sanitary town on highway 80.

True Worship Must Be Spiritual From the Heart

WE need something more than just churchgoing and Sunday worship. We think of worship as the adoration of God. But true worship is more than that. It is a search for means to express God's will and an attempt to follow His guidance. To sum it up: It is a quest for help in daily living.

Jesus explained this when he said that God is a spirit and those who worship Him must do it in both "Spirit and Truth." But this also must be explained. What do we mean when we say "Worship God in Spirit"? This means that worship is not a mere matter of formality nor compliance with certain rites. It is a sincere expression of the soul and the soul must participate.

Also, what is meant when we say "Worship in Truth"? This is best explained by saying that our worship must be related to facts. It must have a tie with real life. It cannot take us into some remote, imaginary world, but should bring God to us.

The Old Testament gives solemn warning of the fate awaiting any race or nation when God is forgotten. Words found in Deuteronomy warned the people of Israel. They were told not to forget the past when God guided them through the wilderness and not to forget their covenant with God. They were also warned not to forget their dependence on their God.

But alas, Israel did forget and the nation built on the glory of Solomon went down in ruin and exile. These things are happening in our own time. And these ancient words are as full of warning for us today as they were for the Israelites of centuries ago.

True churchgoing in itself cannot save a nation. But this would be an indication of a search for something higher and better.

New Pill To Ward Off Effects Of Atom Bomb Is Said Big Mistake

Editor's note: The Martin County Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Mustang Draw, apparently has his tongue in his cheek this week, although there's always the possibility it could be something else, say chewing tobacco.

Dear editor:

The trouble with scientists is that they're always workin' against each other and for every step one of em makes toward progress another one of em takes a step to head him off. We don't get anywhere.

Take the atom bomb. Here we had a fine instrument of civilization, y o u might say the peak of civilized ingenuity in so far as eliminating more people at one time is concerned, civilization these days you know bein' measured not only by the greatest good for the greatest number but the greatest number bumped off in the shortest time.

The atom bomb, you might say, was the ultimate dream of the first cave man who dropped a rock off a cliff on the head of his neighbor. It multiplied the man's power so many times he could now eliminate people by cities instead of handfuls. It looked like we might be gettin' somewhere toward scaring the daylight out of each other and coverin' us into final world peace.

And what happens? We spend billions of dollars and endless hours of scientific research to get it perfected and then what?

Some scientists not willin' to let well enough alone gets busy and invents a pill to counteract the effect of the atom bomb's most valuable aspect, its ability to send mysterious rays out and kill people merely by radiation. Accordin' to an account I read in a paper yesterday, all you have to do now is take this pill before an atom bomb goes off and, if you're out of the immediate vicinity where the thing explodes, you're safe from the devastating radiation that used to make the bomb such a masterful instrument of slaughter.

I tell you, that pill has set us back twenty-five years. Now we've got to start all over again and work out something to add to the bomb that'll overcome the effects of the pill, and as sure as we do some scientist will develop another pill to overcome that, and civilization will be right back where it was before. I wish scientists would make up their minds. We'll never get anywhere this way.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Smith-Doxey Program Ready For Martin County Cotton Farmers

The annual Smith-Doxey program is ready for Martin County cotton farmers, H. J. Matejowsky, in charge of the Abilene Cotton Cladding Office, announced today.

Sponsored by the U. S. Department of Agriculture PMA Cotton Branch, the Smith-Doxey program enables cooperating cotton improvement groups to get their cotton classed without cost. They can also get free market price quotations from which they can gauge local cotton values.

Application forms for the 1953 program can be obtained from the county agent, Abilene Cotton Cladding Office, or local ginners. One application by the group leader covers all members.

Last year, 852 farmers in the county took advantage of these services, Matejowsky said.

WEST TEXAS PRESS COMMENTS

It's a sporty town—that town where the Alpine Avalanche ambles forth every week, spreading the news to the denizens living over a wide area of the Big Bend country. For the fifth time in as many years a game between two major league baseball teams was played in Alpine last week. The game was between the St. Louis Browns and the Chicago Cubs held in the Kokernot Park. There were 2,000 baseball fans attended the game. H. L. Kokernot, Jr., the sponsor of the Alpine Cowboys and owner of the ball park gave the following prizes: home runs, $100 each; strikeouts $20, most assists each team, $50, first hit each team, $25, first double each team, $35, first triple each team $50 most RBI's each team, $50, most runs each team $25, winning team, $500. The Browns took the last-named prize by winning 9-4.

Roy Craig's newspaper, the Stamford American, won second place in competition with other weekly newspapers in the region at the Panhandle Press Association meeting in Amarillo last week. The American's Texas Cowboy Reunion edition won the second place honor with the Shamrock Texan taking first. This makes some five or six second place awards the American has won in newspaper competition over a period of eight years.

Several of the newspaper exchanges arriving at this desk last week, reported receiving a booklet bearing the name of "The Southern People's Common Program for Democracy, Prosperity and Peace. Examining the booklet the editors said it's Communist propaganda. The booklet is issued by the Southern Regional Committee of the Communist Party U. S. A. The booklet ranked the temper of Editor King causing him to vent his spleen in this way in his Mitchell County News "the booklet is full of lies and misrepresentations from beginning to end, and close with the invitation to all to subscribe to and read The Worker, the Communist publication in the United States." This desk missed that copy, thank heaven. Just as well. It lightened the load of our wastebasket "slopping over" each week with worthless publicity propaganda.

It's quite natural for some editors to "blow quite expansively" over their accomplishments, only to have the "blow" flare back in their face. Publisher Eddie Warren of the Post Dispatch, the week before Easter, let the readers of his paper know that he had made a very snazzy Easter hat for his wife, far superior to any ladies' headgear found in any of the elite fashion shops for ladies. Last week he reported in his "Out On the Limb" column: "I didn't mind so much some of my wife's friends pointing at the snertzy Easter bonnet I made for her, but it burned me down when my neighbor's bird-dog pointed at it."

The Anton News is "back in its home town" again—that is it's being printed in its own shop after several months the plant was in storage and being printed in Levelland. The Anton News building has undergone a remodeling and paint job, and old equipment replaced by new reports Publisher A. E. Richards.

And it's a woman from now out that will preside over the City Police Court in Wink. It's a new court set up in Wink one that all offenders of the city's laws will be brought before to be tried. Heretofore, offenders charged with making a U turn out of turn, illegal parking, and other infractions of the law, were hauled before the justice court and that court had a minimum fine of $14.15, rather a steep fine for very minor offenses, hence the city has been lax in enforcing the laws.

Cal Farley, head of Boys Ranch at Old Tascosa, the frontier town west of Amarillo that boasts of "boot hill cemetery" made a talk before the Panhandle Press Association meeting recently. He is anxious to provide his Boys Ranch with a vocational training building. Architects of Texas A. M. College have drawn the plans for the building which will cost in the neighborhood of $110,000. The newsmen at the meeting agreed to chip in their bit by giving the project complete publicity coverage to interest the people make donations of money to a most worthwhile undertaking for the boys at Boys Ranch.

We have the Bible to prove that it once rained. That was the evidence a Hamlin filling station attendant produced the other day to a tourist that stopped for a re-fill. The motorist remarked, "mighty dry around here. When did it rain last?" The station agent answered: "Do you remember the story in the Bible about the flood?" The tourist replied, "of course." The agent said: "Well, we got a half inch then?" That very enlightening conversation appeared in "Popvalve," June Jones' column in the Hamlin Herald.

It was an Outlaw that skipped off with the crown for being the champion eighth grade speller in the Cochran County spelling match. She was Jackie Outlaw and won the championship on spelling two words correctly that her opponents missed. They were "academic" and "absolute."

Fort Davis, the mile-high city in the Davis Mountains, went over the top with some to spare in its Red Cross fund drive. The quota was $700, and at last report the amount raised was $821 and more coming in, the chairman of the drive reported. The percentage of the business concerns of Fort Davis contributing to the Red Cross fund was 98 per cent.

Stanton Study Club Has Program On Education

"Education", was the program theme of the April 9 meeting of the Stanton Study Club. The group met in the dining room of the Rite-Way Restaurant with Mrs. Dave Foreman as hostess.

In concluding the program, Mrs. Moseley, spoke on "Is Ours A Good School," and presented a picture of education from the local standpoint. Qualifications of teachers, the variety of accredited subjects offered, the student enrollment and a description of the floor plan, room furnishings and decorating of our schools were included in her discussion.

Blue Panic Grass On Hoot Tom Farm Survives Drought

Blue panic-grass survived the drought of 1952 and furnished an animal-month of grazing per acre on dryland on the farm of L. G. (Hoot) Tom in the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District west of Stanton.

Tom is so well pleased with the grass that he is completing the planting of a 70 acre field this spring.

Although the plants were grazed close to the ground, they survived the winter in a good stand and were making new growth before the middle of March.

The grass was planted in 40 inch rows in the spring of 1951, at the rate of 1 1/2 pounds of seed per acre. Tom used lister points with the wings removed to open shallow furrows in the sandy loam soil. He obtained some grazing the first year, and in the summer of 1952 grazed 30 cows for 2 months on 50 acres, despite the drought.

April Proclaimed Cancer Control Month; 1000's Die Yearly

AUSTIN — Volunteer cancer control workers all over Texas are launching Cancer Crusade activities in behalf of the American Cancer Society.

Set by Act of Congress, and proclaimed by President Eisenhower and Governor Shivers, April is Cancer Control Month. During all or part of it, county committees will carry out extensive educational and fund-raising campaigns.

Travis T. Wallace, president of the Texas Division ACS, told a group of persons assembled in Austin for the Texas kick-off that "Early indications are this will be the finest Cancer Crusade we have ever had."

Statewide planning stresses the importance of public education about cancer. Mr. Wallace pointed out that from one-third to one-half of the 8,700 Texans now dying each year of cancer could be saved by prompt and adequate treatment.

"Their lives depend on our reaching them with a message which will get them to their doctor at the first sign that may mean cancer," he said.

Funds raised during the Cancer Crusade are used for the expanding nationwide cancer research effort and for local programs of education and of voluntary service.

A statewide group of volunteers governs the Texas Division, and small committees or larger executive committees are active in most of the state's 254 counties.

TEXAS RATES AMONG TEN TOP STATES FOR VACATION TRAVEL

The Lone Star State is ranked among the ten top vacation states, and indications point that Texas will enjoy this year the biggest tourist year in its history.

It is estimated that Texas will attract a substantial share of the 21,033,000 American families who will this year spend their vacations away from home.

It is also recorded by those who keep abreast of the dollars spent by the tourist travel it will mount into the figures of $235,-039,350 spent in beverages, food, and lodging.

An increasing number of large American corporations are now giving their employees three, instead of the traditional two weeks with pay.

Stanton is due to share in the tourist trade this summer and it behooves the citizens to see that highway 80 through town is brightened up and inviting to the tourist, so much so, that he will want to stop and spend some of those tourist dollars.

LAYING HENS IN COMPETITION

It's apparent the laying hens in Martin County have gone into competition with each other—not to see who can lay the most eggs, but can produce the largest one. Mrs. Erma Hardy's hen laid an egg several weeks ago which she brought to The Reporter office and the fact was published.

R. L. Donelson, living about six and a half miles south of town, came into The Reporter office Tuesday morning, mighty proud of one of his hens, and produced the evidence in the way of an egg that measured 5 1/4 and 8 1/2 inches in circumference. It proved the Donelson hen read of the feat performed by the Hardy hen, and she intended to do something about it.

32% Jump in Volume Makes Price Cut Possible!

DETROIT: In announcing lower truck and car prices, L. L. Colbert, president of Chrysler Corporation (builders of Dodge "Job Rated" trucks) said:

"Since the first of this year, Chrysler Corporation has built 32% more automobiles and trucks than we were able to turn out in the corresponding period last year under government price controls. With the spring selling season just beginning, our dealers are already setting a pace more than 50% ahead of last year.

"We are very pleased that we can take this action so shortly after the new administration's prompt ending of price controls on cars and trucks for which materials can be obtained in a free competitive market.

"These lower prices indicate Chrysler Corporation's confidence in the wholesome effects of these moves.

"Now that higher volume is being achieved and we may reasonably expect it to continue, we are lowering prices accordingly."

Stanton Marine In Training For Sub-Zero Warfare

THIRD MARINE DIVISION Camp Pendleton, Calif.—Clad in newly-perfected cold weather clothing, 1100 Marines of the Third Marine Division recently faced the problems of winter warfare at Pickel Meadows 6800 feet up in California's High Sierras.

Private First Class Frederick tin County citizens. Petree is a farmer in the Stanton community, who a few years back, served about six years as a trustee in the same district.

Reed, is one of Stanton's young business men, owner of the Stanley Reed Barber Shop. These two newly elected officials will prove valuable additions to the school district's board of trustees.

"Congress shall make no law . . . abridging the freedom of speech of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances."

So reads the First Amendment to the Constitution. And it was just recently that the joint House and Senate conference committee of the State Legislature closed the doors on the press while they went into a secret meeting to wrestle with the appropriations bill. If my memory serves me right, it was a short time ago the Texas State Legislature went on record as opposing such tactics carried on in the United States Congress.

NORTH AND SOUTH DAKOTA have just ended a fight over the buried remains of Sitting Bull, the Sioux Indian warrior chief. Sitting Bull met his death in 1890 at the hands of Indian police. He was buried off the reservation in North Dakota. South Dakota wanted the old warrior's bones dug up and re-buried in that state, and this precipitated a war between the two D's. The kinship of Sitting Bull gave South Dakota authority to dig up body and re-bury it in that state. The result South Dakotans swooped into North Dakota in a blinding snowstorm and dug up the Sioux chieftain. It was in 1876 that Sitting Bull welded together his braves and wiped out General George Custer and his 276 men of the 7th cavalry in the famed battle of Little Big Horn.

E. Carstensen, 22, son of Fred Carstensen, Star Route 1, Stanton, Texas, was part of the Battalion Landing Team, consisting of the Third Battalion, Ninth Marine Regiment and supporting units.

Serving in an anti-tank company, the Marine underwent 11 sub-zero days of cold weather training including a tactical maneuver to which a touch of realism was added by an "aggressor" force provided by the Cold Weather Battalion permanently stationed at Pickel Meadows.

Designed to instruct Marines in combat and survival in extreme cold weather, the training covers such subjects as preparation of the individual to winter warfare, use of cold weather clothing and equipment, and methods of obtaining heat and shelter while in the field.

Pfc. Carstensen's unit returned to its home base at Camp Pendleton to embark on another phase of combat training at the conclusion of the maneuver.

West Texas Gas Company Completes Latin American Lines

The West Texas Gas Company has completed installation of gas lines to the Latin American section of Stanton. The new area now being served is the southwest corner of town and includes approximately sixty homes. The district was already served by water and electricity.

Clifton Clark, manager of the local West Texas Gas Company office, said that considerable delay in completing lines was caused by slowness in the arrival of materials.

Clark said that residents of the area now getting gas service may be tied onto the new line by applying at the city hall for such permit. "We want residents to come to our gas office and discuss the procedure which may be taken to get the gas service in their home," Clark said.

"It costs so little to Cook Electrically for my family!"

"Economical? I certainly have found that true. Why it costs only about a penny per person per meal to cook for my family. And, cooking electrically offers so many advantages in easy cooking, time saved, and dependable results that it's a real value." No wonder so many modern housewives sing the praises of electric cooking. They fully enjoy the advantages of fast . . . clean . . . dependable cooking at such a moderate cost.

We knew Mrs. Bralley several years ago in Sweetwater, as Billie Jo Hudson, and a mighty sweet little girl at that! So, you see now, why we were so very happy to help this nice family. They are now living at 411 South St. Mary Street, so some of you ladies go to see her—you'll love her, too!

WE HAD A VERY SPECIAL visitor this past week, and she is a hony. She was Patricia Ruth Haislip, little six months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bob Haislip. We want to congratulate the mayor and city councilmen upon their far-seeing and wise decision to start recreation facilities for the summer. As you read in last week's paper, this program includes preparation for the grounds in the city park, for tennis, croquet and volley ball. CITY SECRETARY George B. Shelburne came by for a short visit the other day, and brought a letter from a lady who lives in Seal Beach, California. She stated that she'd passed through here recently, had noticed our sign, but didn't quite get the full and complete wording of it. She had requested more information. So, between Mr. Shelburne and this office, complete information is now on the way to her. She stated: "I do think it was the most outstanding 'Welcome' sign we noticed on our 7,500-mile trip!"
