MONTE WILLIAMS

This had to be one of the most wonderful Christmases ever. They seem to get better as time goes on. Why, would be a real tough question to answer. Maybe it's because another year has gone by and we still enjoy the freedom and luxury that no other country in the world can enjoy. Maybe it's because people are beginning to realize that Christmas is more than receiving gifts and making all the kids happy. This is a very important part, but not the most important part. Maybe it's because Christ, himself, was born on Christmas. At least, that's when we celebrate his birthday.

Or Maybe it's because, we enjoy the holiday with friends, neighbors, and family, being able to look eye to eye with whoever you want and truly express your feelings whether by words or with a gift.

Maybe your Christmas was a good one because of a hundred things but we hope it was a good one at least because of all these things.

Now, we have a brand new year coming up. Monday morning starts everything off for another 365 days and the year 1973. Go ahead! Make yourself some resolutions. Maybe you won't be able to keep them all, but then again, maybe you will be able to keep some of them. Some is better than none ya know.

We at the Informer/Star wish you and yours a prosperous new year. We hope that next year at this time we can be printing something along this same line to you. But if there is anything we can do about it, it will be on a more progressed basis.

Noon Lions

Collecting Old,

Broken Glasses

The Noon Lions Club of Burk Burnett is now collecting broken glasses and frames in the area. Each year, Lion Clubs around the world collect these broken glasses and frames and turn them in to professionals, who rebuild them and fit them to needy people. There is no charge whatsoever to those receiving these glasses, so if you have any, please drop them by the lobby of the First National Bank in Burk Burnett as soon as possible. Discarded frames and glasses can be of great value in sight conservation.

Woman Killed In Explosion

A Burk Burnett Volunteer Fireman works desperately to extinguish the furious blaze that erupted when an explosion ripped through the home of M.T. Porter, 214 West First. Mrs. M.T. Porter, 69, was killed. A window screen from the home dangles in the branches of a nearby tree, evident of the blasts brute force.

Only short moments following the explosion, the entire house was in flames. Debris can be seen scattered in the front yard.

Volunteer firemen fought the blaze through heat and smoke. Their efforts saved one neighbors home from serious damage as the intense heat started its roof on fire. It was quickly extinguished. The Maxwell home, just south of the Porter Home, was gutted by fire which spread from the Porter home.

When it was all over, little was left. Mother nature's fire had burned the home completely to the ground.

A powerful explosion, followed by fire, completely destroyed a Burk Burnett home last Wednesday afternoon killing Mrs. M.T. Porter, age 69. The force of the blast scattered debris from the home up to 50 ft. in all directions. Some bricks and various pieces of the dwelling were found in the streets bordering the home lot.

Mrs. Porter was alone in her home at 214 West First, when the blast occurred at approximately 3:00 P.M.

Members of the Burk Burnett Volunteer Fire Department and Police extinguished the blaze and began the search for Mrs. Porter nearly two hours later. The body was uncovered at approximately 5:15 p.m. J.M. Adams, assistant Wichita County Medical Examiner, pronounced Mrs. Porter dead at the scene.

Bill Mize, Chief of the Burk Burnett Volunteer Fire Department said that the fire and explosion were probably caused by a natural gas leak but stressed that the cause was definitely still under investigation.

After Tragedy Burk Residents Aid Maxwells

During the tragic fire which took the life of Mrs. M. T. Porter Wednesday, the heat became so intense that a nearby dwelling caught fire and was so seriously burned that everything within was destroyed. This home belonged to the Charles G. Maxwells. The Maxwells lost everything they owned but luckily escaped with their lives.

Mrs. Maxwell said that she heard a rumbling like an earthquake, ran outside and saw all the flames and the Porter house falling down. She quickly ran back inside, grabbed her 22-month-old baby and her two other children and ran down the alley.

She heard another explosion and saw flames engulf her own home. Everything was lost. The Maxwells lost their entire home, clothes and all other goods. They had worked and saved a long time for their household and were especially fond of the new baby things which were also lost. Mrs. Maxwell is expecting her fourth child.

Thanks to the efforts of concerned residents of Burk Burnett, the Maxwells now have a place to live and clothes to wear. The local fire department paid the first months rent and utilities for the Maxwells and good ol' Burk people provided clothing and enough furniture to get along in a partly furnished apartment. The Chamber of Commerce found the apartment at 604 Avenue C and also acted as a central receiving post for some of the goods received. The First National Bank opened the C.G. Maxwell Fund for money received and Police Chief Buck Abbott placed money in that account that he received at his office.

Chamber of Commerce Manager, Raymond Greenwood, talked with Charles Maxwell Tuesday and Charles said that the family had everything that they needed and have even had to turn people away who wanted to help.

Charles Maxwell also said that he and his family were thankful to friends and neighbors during their time of disaster.

Letter To Burk Residents

22 December, 1972

On 20 December, there occurred in our city a terrible tragedy, which cost the life of Mrs. W. T. Porter and destroyed two dwellings. We are aware that all of our citizens were shocked and grieved by this tragedy.

However, we were severely hampered in our efforts on that day by the numbers of people who crowded together at the scene. Whatever your motives were in being there, whether a genuine desire to be of help or a sense of curiosity, your presence was a hindrance to emergency vehicles attempting to avert further tragedy and to put out the fires. It was dangerous for you to be there, and it was also illegal.

Citing from the Texas Motor Vehicle Laws of 1971-1972:

Article XIII, Section 100:

The driver of any vehicle other than one on official business shall not follow any fire apparatus traveling in response to a fire alarm closer than five hundred (500) feet or drive into or park such vehicle within the block where the fire apparatus has stopped to answer a fire alarm.

Article XIII, Section 101:

No driver of a street car or vehicle shall drive over an unprotected hose of a fire department when laid down on any street, private driveway, or street car track, to be used at any fire or alarm of fire, without the consent of the fire department official in command.

We must insist that these state regulations be observed. They were written for your own protection, as well as to guarantee free access of emergency vehicles to the scene of any and all crises.

We appeal to all of you to abide by these regulations in future. With your cooperation, we will be better able to serve you. We are hopeful that the good citizens of Burk Burnett will recognize and accept their own responsibilities in this matter.

Stay away! Let the fire department and the police department do their jobs in the most efficient way possible. Make no mistake about it! In future, citations will be issued to all of those who disregard this warning and ignore Texas state laws. We will not fail to act from this day forward to enforce these regulations.

Sincerely yours,

M. L. Abbott, Chief
Burk Burnett Police Department

Billy Ray Mize, Fire Chief
Volunteer Fire Department

BOOMTOWN RESTAURANT--First, you have to use a little of that good, hard to get, elbow grease. Then you need a few days to get around to everything. Pretty soon things are beginning to sparkle even more than you thought they would. Next, a good paint job to make things look as good as new. It's all taking place at the New Boomtown Restaurant in downtown Burk.

Boomtown Restaurant Opens Sunday In Downtown Burk

Letters To The Editor

Dear Monte,

This letter to the Editor is to say that our loss is indeed Burkburnett's gain in the appointment of our Raymond Greenwood to the post of Chamber Manager of the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce.

Raymond Greenwood, I can assure all who do not know him, will give 100% effort in this new endeavor. Ray is a 100% type of individual in his work, in his ability, in his character. It has been my pleasure to have been associated with Raymond in Burkburnett over the past two years in the operation of the Informer/Star. His loss to us as the publisher of the newspaper is one of which we do not intend to try to minimize. For there are very few young men with the total well-rounded characteristics and ability in the newspaper field as Ray Greenwood has proved he possesses.

I feel that the Burkburnett Chamber will discover in the days and months to come the real asset they have in selecting Greenwood for the position. I am happy and unhappy in this matter. I hate to lose Ray - but I am glad Burk gets him! Raymond, as I do, loves Burkburnett and believes in its future and always has.

I wish you the best in the finest city in Texas - a place I still call "home" - whether it claims me or not. Congratulations on the first issues of the paper.

Warmest personal regards,
Lon Williams

Francis Smith To Compete In Fort Worth Ranch Show

Frances Smith of Burk Burnett will be among 75 pretty young ladies vying for a share of $5,450 in prize money during the Ranch Girls Invitational Barrel Race at the 1973 Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show in Fort Worth, Jan. 26 through Feb. 4.

Sponsored by Smith Ranch, Burk Burnett, the young lady will be racing her horse against the clock in the four go-rounds scheduled during the 20 performances of the "World's Original Indoor Rodeo."

A part of the Fort Worth Horse Show, the barrel racers are the most skilled competitors and are entered by "invitation only." This assures the audiences of the best in barrel racing.

Dressed in colorful costumes, the charming contestants will run a cloverleaf pattern in the arena of Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum. The excitement, speed and color makes the Invitational Barrel Race a favorite of Fort Worth Rodeo crowds.

The racers are sponsored by a ranch, city or town. Last year's big winner was Glenda Froman Bowen, who scored a total of 74.28 seconds, in four rides.

Special guest entertainer at the 1973 Fort Worth Rodeo will be Leroy Van Dyke and the Auctioneers, a popular country and western singing group from Nashville. Van Dyke will sing his all-time hits "Auctioneer" and "Walk On By", and other favorites.

Rodeo action events will include bareback bronc riding, steer wrestling, saddle bronc riding, calf roping and bull riding. Also, the comedy of the Wild Horse Race is sure to excite the crowds. Top cowboys will be competing for a share of the over $90,000 rodeo purse.

Tickets for the 1973 Fort Worth Rodeo are available by mail from the Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas, 76101.

COUNTY AGENT NEWS

B.T. HAWS--Wichita County Agricultural Agent

Are you interested in learning the latest information on Farm Income Tax? If so you will want to attend a meeting on Thursday, January 4, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the ASCS Agriculture Room in Iowa Park. Both men and women are invited to attend the meeting.

Norman Brints, Area Economist-Management, from Vernon, Texas, will be the principal speaker. A supply of the 1973 Farmer's Tax Guide will also be available.

The U.S. Department of Agriculture recommends that Texas growers of fresh spring vegetables in 1973 plant four per cent more acreage than in 1972. USDA suggests that growers increase plantings of spring cantaloupes five per cent and reduce spring watermelon acreage by five percent.

The planting guidelines are based on the prospective market situation and are intended to help growers balance supplies with consumer needs.

Nationwide the total planting recommended for the 13 principle vegetables is 271,980 acres. If growing conditions are normal in 1973, this acreage can be expected to yield per cent greater than in 1972. Output of watermelons on a suggested 62,400 acres would be seven per cent more.

Market analysts believe that if spring vegetables and melon crops are in line with the guides and if harvest time is normal supplies should adequately meet anticipated market requirements.

Specific acreage recommendations for individual vegetable crops range from larger plantings of snap beans, cauliflower, celery, sweet corn, cucumbers, lettuce, onions, green peppers, spinach and tomatoes, to slightly smaller plantings of cabbage. No change in acreage is suggested for broccoli and carrots.

Store idle farm equipment properly for the winter so that it will be ready to use for the next crop season. Failure to do so can result in early bearing failures, slipping belts, slip clutches that don't slip when they should, balers that won't tie a knot, plows that won't scour, sheet metal with rusted holes in it, and fertilizer mechanisms that won't turn. These troubles not only add to repair bills and shorten the life of machines but also cause lost time at crucial periods.

Proper storage means protecting metal parts of a machine from rust and corrosion and rubber parts from deterioration. An engine may deteriorate more due to rust and corrosion during periods of non-use than from wear during operation. Here are several pointers for caring for idle machinery:

1. Clean machines thoroughly and lubricate all bearings which normally require lubrication.
2. Remove belts and store in dark and cool areas. Loosen those that cannot be removed.
3. Remove roller chains, clean and store in oil.
4. Coat unprotected metal parts with a rust preventive. Most oil companies carry these in their industrial oils. Liquid rust preventatives may be sprayed on.
5. Safely block up machines to take weight off tires.
6. Store machines inside if at all possible.
7. While preparing machines for storage, note any needed repairs and make plans to take care of these before next season.

FARM REVIEW

American Farm Bureau Federation Hopes To Extend Farm Program

Farm Bureau will be pushing for a temporary extension of the current farm program when Congress convenes next month, according to Texas Farm Bureau President J.T. (Red) Woodson of Fannin County.

National policies on this and other matters were adopted by voting delegates at the 54th annual meeting of the American Farm Bureau Federation Dec. 15 in Los Angeles.

Woodson, who was elected to the AFBF Board of Directors at the close of the convention, said that the Agricultural Act of 1970 permits increased freedom and flexibility to plant and is an improvement over previous legislation for wheat, cotton, and feed grains.

"We favor continuation of the set-aside program with no further expansion of grazing and no harvesting of any commodity," Woodson said, "and we oppose per farm payment limitations."

He said Farm Bureau's objective is to "create a climate" which will enable agriculture to return eventually to the market price system.

"New programs should be designed and administered so that market opportunities will be enhanced, to the end that farmers ultimately will not be dependent upon government payments but will earn their income in the marketplace," Woodson said. He added that Farm Bureau wants a land retirement program to assist in the adjustment to a market-oriented agriculture.

Woodson said that pending development of programs that will better serve producers, Farm Bureau favors not only the temporary extension of the 1970 Act, but also protection for other commodities. He said this includes:

1. A peanut program providing that growers keep supply in line with demand in return for a price support.
2. Continuation of the Agricultural Act of 1958 with respect to supports and allotments for rice.
3. Incentive payments under the National Wool Act.
4. Opposition to acreage controls or marketing quotas for soybeans. Also recommended is a soybean support price set at a level "which will not stimulate over production."

5. Continuation of the Sugar Act with amendments to permit U.S. producers to have larger share of quotas.

6. A tobacco program providing that growers keep supply in line with demand in return for price support.

Corduroy is back as a leading fashion fabric in men's, women's and children's wear; expressing a variety of moods and textures. Corduroy is not a plain fabric, it's found in colorful prints and such designs as classic tartan plaids and abstract geometrics. It may be ribless, pinwale, wide wale, or nevelly wale such as thick and thin. Corduroy also offers rich and interesting colors--from hunter and loden green to chrome yellow or cocoa brown.

The pile and napped surface both absorb and reflect light stimulating interest and unusual effects. The fabric may be 100 per cent cotton or a cotton-polyester blend. Addition of polyester helps resist wrinkling. It helps provide shape and crease resistance through numerous weavings and launderings. Corduroy may also be processed with a durable press finish that aids in ease of care.

Here are some tips on care of corduroy:

First, turn the garment inside out before laundering. This helps prevent lint from clinging to the pile, otherwise thorough brushing would be required before the garment could be worn.

Next the lint screen on both the washer and dryer should be checked to make sure they are free of lint. Also care should be taken to sort clothes so that lint-producing items such as towels and pile fabrics are not washed with corduroy.

Since some clothes tend to fade, garments should be tested for color-fastness. Deep colors, especially red, can "bleed" so should be washed separately or with others of the same color. The hotter the water temperature, the more fading will result.

Fabric softeners added to the final rinse water will help fluff up the corduroy pile. Machinery drying will also restore fluffiness and eliminate the need for pressing. However, the garment should be removed from the dryer while it is still damp. Then straighten the seams, collars and hems with fingers and hang it up to dry completely.

Should touch up pressing be needed, do it on the wrong side of the garment. To prevent crushing the pile place either a thick terry towel or a piece of self fabric under the garment while pressing.

Ready made garments are required to have a sewn label which supplies information as to the permanent care of the garment. Yard goods also should have this information supplied. These instructions are the best guidelines available to the successful care of corduroy and all other fabrics.

"Due to the size of the cowboy entry list--over 500--and the scope of the Fort Worth show, I have contracted with 4 other outstanding rodeo production firms to join with me in supplying stock for the rodeo here."

In addition of Minick's championship stock, bucking horses and bulls will be on hand from Beutler Bros. & Cervie of Sterling, Colo.; Reg Kesler of Missoula, Mont.; Wayne Vold of DeWinton, Alberta, Canada; Harry Vold of Fowler, Colo., and Neal Gay of Mesquite, Tex.

Cowboys will be contesting for over $90,000 in rodeopurse money. Reportedly, all the current cowboy champions of the various events will be joined by many aspiring challengers. Phil Lyne of George West, Texas, all-around world champion cowboy for the last two years will be here.

In all, Minick has lined up 110 bulls, 250 horses, 150 calves and 150 Mexico steers. Included in the bucking stock will be 100 head which have qualified for the National Finals Rodeo in recent years. NFR is the "world series of rodeos" held each December in Oklahoma City.

"Incidentally," Minick pointed out, "we have brought in 50 of the wildest range mustangs from an Indian reservation in Great Falls, Mont., for the Wild Horse Race feature of the rodeo. These horses have never been handled and will be tough to ride."

Rodeo tickets are available by mail from Southwestern Exposition and Fat Stock Show, P.O. Box 150, Fort Worth, Texas 76101.

Small Grain Figures Released... Wheat Pasture Grazing Limited... Milk Production Declines... Cotton Production Estimate Declines... Screwworm Reports Needed.

Complete reports on 1972 small grain plantings for Texas have been released by the Texas Crop and Livestock Reporting Service. Oats, barley, wheat, rye, and flaxseed plantings and yields per acre for the state are included. For example, more oats were seeded in Central Texas than in any other area of the state. Texas is 13th in the nation in oat production, 20th in barley, 10th in rye and fourth in flaxseed production.

Top counties in oat production in Texas are Denton, Cooke, Grayson, Collin, Coleman, Hamilton, Hunt, Kaufman, Brown, and Limestone. Top counties in winter wheat production are Ochiltree, Carson, Hansford, Deaf Smith, Parmer, Sherman, Lipscomb, Randall, Wilbarger, and Moore.

A copy of the report is available free by writing Texas Department of Agriculture, Box 12847, Austin, Texas 78711. Ask for 1972 Texas Small Grain Statistics.

GRAZING of Texas wheat pastures on the High Plains and Rolling Plains has been delayed due to extensive snow and rain. Cold weather hindered wheat growth but prospects continue good with the additional moisture.

About 60 percent of the fall-seeded wheat acreage had sufficient growth for pasture compared with only 40 percent a year ago. The number of cattle on wheat pasture is about 300,000 head under last year.

COTTON production for the state is now estimated at 3,900,000 bales. This compared to only 2,579,000 bales last year. The present estimate is about 300,000 bales under the November projection.

Yield is expected to average 359 pounds per acre compared with only 263 pounds last year. Harvested acres this year are expected to total 5,220,000 compared with 4,700,000 in 1971.

Harvest on the High Plains continues to lag due to bad weather.

Production of American-Pima cotton is expected to total 31,000 bales compared with 35,300 bales in 1971. Yield is expected to average 431 pounds of lint per acre compared with almost a bale per acre last year.

MILK production in Texas declined the past month by about three percent. Milk production per cow averaged 715 pounds. This is slightly under the nationwide average of 742 pounds per cow.

Nationwide, total milk production during the first 11 months of 1972 was two percent more than the same period last year. Milk cow numbers were down one percent.

LIVESTOCK producers in South Texas as well as Arizona and California are urged to continue to send in samples of suspected screwworm cases to the fly laboratory at Mission.

Cold, freezing weather has halted screwworm infestations over most of the state. But constant vigilance and reporting is needed in the southern part of Texas to assure the eradication of the pest in the overwintering areas along the U. S.-Mexican border and to help prevent a build-up in the spring.

Screwworm officials are concerned that inadequate reporting from livestock producers could mean that sterile flies would not be released where they are needed most. About 200,000,000 sterile flies per week are being produced and dropped in South Texas and northern Mexico at present.

Plan Ahead For New Year For Soil Conservation Reasons

Plan now for conservation in 1973, advises District Conservationist Gary Batte of the Soil Conservation Service in Iowa Park.

Batte said that most farmers and ranchers in North Texas are busy making plans for the new year. "Why not plan to fix that wash or build those terraces that you've been putting off?"

Next spring promises to be a good one for conservation work which includes grass planting. Adequate moisture now in the ground should help grasses get off to a good start. See your SCS office for recommended seeding dates and rates.

You'll never know how big a paycheck your brood cows can deliver until you winter 'em on

New Purina Range Breeder II

New PURINA RANGE BREEDER II is a high-quality supplement for wintering brood cows. It contains all the high-quality proteins, processed grains, minerals and vitamins (A and D) you get in Purina's all-natural protein Range Breeder Checkers plus a low level of urea. Only two percent, but enough to lower your wintering costs without sacrificing brood cow performance in any way.

A 5-year study with 400 Hereford cows at Purina's Oklahoma beef research ranch proved that calves from cows wintered on Purina Range Breeder supplement outweighed control-group calves by 19 lbs. per head. At $30 per hundred-weight, that's $5.70 per calf.

A 3-year Purina research study shows that cows fed on new PURINA RANGE BREEDER II performed at the same high level (and sometimes even better) than cows fed Purina's all-natural protein Range Breeder supplements and at lower cost; $1.00 per calf lower.

Let us show you how your brood cows can deliver a bigger paycheck (as much as $6.70 per calf) with new PURINA RANGE BREEDER II.

Saxon Receives Achievement Award

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- Captain Vernon P. Saxon Jr., a T-38 flying training instructor with the 80th Flying Training Wing at Sheppard Air Force Base, received a Junior Officer

Council Achievement Award Tuesday morning. The certificate was presented by Major General Robert L. Pettit, commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, during the Junior Officer Council (JOC) meeting. The certificate recognized his outstanding service to the Sheppard AFB Junior Officers Council from September 1971 to September 1972.

The captain served as president of the council during that period. He was instrumental in getting the council to sponsor work at the Movie and Darlie Fowler Home for Children in Wichita Falls and in getting support for the JOC's mission oriented activities for airmen and junior officers on the base.

The certificate was signed by the council president, First Lieutenant Kenneth C. Emery, the advisor, Major Ronald B. Morley and General Pettit.

First Second Lieutenant Bachelors Recalled To AFB Living Quarters

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- Many first and second lieutenants will be returning to Sheppard's Bachelor Officer Quarters beginning between now and Jan. 15, 1973.

All officers of the above ranks have been notified that due to a surplus of bed spaces in the Bachelor Officer Quarters (BOQ), they will be recalled to move back on base within 30 days.

Of course, if the officer chooses to continue to live off-base, he may, but at his own expense. All persons who fail to report to take up residence in the BOQs will automatically have their Bachelor Allowance for Quarters discontinued Jan. 15.

Colonel S. D. Berman, base commander, stated that recall will be made on a rank and date of rank basis, with the junior member being recalled first until quarters are filled.

"Officers may continue to reside off base at their own expense," said Colonel Berman. "This does not effect a male member married to a female member assigned to Sheppard. Officers must notify Base Billeting if this is the case."

Officers being recalled will be provided full maid service, TV and telephone installed at a cost of $1 per day. If the person chooses not to have maid service, he must maintain quarters to the Air Force standards at no cost. TV and telephone service is available at cost.

Looking To The Future

Project Transition Prepares Servicemen

by Sgt. John Clark
SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- The cubical is about the size of a telephone booth. Twice every hour a man steps into this claustrophobic nightmare, and sits down to face nothing but a tiny desk, a microphone and a glass window.

To his left a sign reads "Open Mike." He watches the sweep hand of a clock on the wall as it moves toward the number 12, casually puts on a set of earphones, and signals to the man on the opposite side of the glass. His words are spoken in carefully measured tones into the large black "mike". "This is Ron Stahl, KTRN Thirty-three News."

While Ron Stahl is reading the afternoon news, another man is patiently welding a strange looking instrument from behind an even stranger looking iron mask.

"That's pretty good Bill," says a man at the masked figure's side. The figure pushes his mask to the back of his head, stares critically down at his handwork and smiles proudly back at his compliment-er. What do Ron Stahl, the radio newsmen, and Bill Dunn, the welder, have in common? Well, they are both sergeants in the Air Force stationed at Sheppard, and more importantly, they are both participating in Project Transition.

Project Transition was begun by the Air Force primarily to assist Air Force members leaving the service to qualify for and obtain civilian employment.

"The Air Force is fortunate to have skills that are marketable in the civilian labor community," said Captain Jerry P. McGowan, the chief of the career assistance and counseling branch at Sheppard's Consolidated Base Personnel Office. "However, many individuals require additional tra-

National Weather Service Assumes Weather Duties Of Sheppard AFB

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- The National Weather Service assumed duties Dec. 6 for surface weather operations previously done by Air Force people of Detachment 12, 24th Weather Squadron at Sheppard.

According to Captain Steven Sokol, a weather officer, the move was part of an overall draw down in Air Force Weather Service to save money on equipment and people.

The captain also added that as part of the austerity measure, the old base weather tower will eventually be torn down. "Detachment 12 forecasters will continue to provide forecasts on a limited daily schedule," said the captain.

Captain Sokol pointed out, however, that there will continue to be an Air Force observer on duty 24 hours a day to give conditions to the pilots and other organizations on the base in the event of severe weather.

Furthermore the Sheppard weather observers are backed up by military people at Altus AFB, Okla. They inform Sheppard of any severe weather approaching the base.

Civilian Workers Receive Awards

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- Eight civilian employees at Sheppard AFB recently received awards for exemplary performance of their respective duties.

Outstanding performance ratings were approved for Karen F. Massey of the School of Health Care Sciences; Vivian A. Lawrence of Sheppard's Staff Judge Advocate office; and Alice J. Odum of the Executive's office of the Center command section.

A quality salary increase was awarded to Sammie C. Landrum, secretary with the Center Safety Office.

William J. Billner and Earleen V. Fields, both from the USAF Regional Hospital earned sustained superior performance awards of $200.

Awards of $150 went to Helen H. Fleming and Minnie R. Wesley of the 3750th Civil Engineering Squadron.

ing necessary to obtain employment. Resume preparation and occupation information is also available.

"Transition eligibility is six months prior to the member's separation or retirement date," stated Captain McGowan. "Individuals using this service are classified in two priorities for training."

"Priority One includes those persons who do not have a marketable skill. These individuals may train during duty hours and need not compensate the Air Force for the time spent in training, except when the training period is less than eight hours a day.

"Priority Two consists of people possessing a marketable skill who want training leading to employment in another skill. This category must compensate the Air Force for the time spent in training."

The captain also pointed out that in all instances pertaining to training, overall local mission requirements must receive first determination.

Beginning with the second quarter of Fiscal Year 1972, based on the Direction of President Nixon, stronger emphasis was placed on improving services and expanding efforts in the Transition Program.

The Departments of Labor and Health Education and Welfare set up counselor courses to help each base's transition counselors improve counseling techniques and provide ready information of the national job market.

"Sheppard's office contacted local business firms through the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, the Lions Club and the City of Wichita Falls Squadron Adoption Plan, placing virtually every major industry in the city in the program--plus 65 private business firms," said Captain McGowan.

"Also the School of Applied Aerospace Sciences has trained more than 75 people with local on-the-job training officers adding to the list. Educational efforts are made through vocational and technical training by the Base Education Office and the Manpower Development Training Act (MDTA).

"Sheppard now has an MDTA sponsored welding course and has requested funds amounting to $80,000 for additional courses in auto body repair, drafting and radio and TV repair for the Fiscal Year 1973. These courses will be conducted at the Vocational and Technical School Branch in the Wichita Falls School System."

Cub Scout Pack 31 Decorates Tree For Detention Area

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- Cub Scout Pack 31 at Sheppard AFB presented a decorated Christmas tree to the base detention facility during their December meeting.

The tree was trimmed with decorations made by the cubs, and presented to Technical Sergeant John R. Kent, noncommissioned officer in charge of the facility.

Awards were presented during the meeting by Webelos Den Cubmaster Harold L. Hawkins and Committee Chairman John E. Novak.

Scouts and the awards received were Jimmy Beasley, one-year pin and Silver Arrow Point; Donald Ruth, one-year pin and Gold Arrow Point; Thomas Hughes, Michael Scott and Tony Lamson, Wolf Badge and Gold and Silver Arrow Points.

Also Sammy Bordwine, Silver Arrow Point and Tony Smith received the Wolf Badge and was advanced into the Webelos Den. Steve Lung was named Denner and Chris Davis, Assistant Denner for Den 3.

The pack received a visit from Santa Claus, and refreshments were served by Den mothers, Mesdames Robert Davis and Dorwin L. Thomas.

Old Hair Samples Sought By University To Analyze Intake Of Dangerous Chemicals

"Samples of old hair from lockets, hair wreaths, and Bibles are needed for a University of Michigan study attempting to gauge the human intake of potentially harmful chemicals over the last 200 years. This study, under the auspices of the National Science Foundation Chemistry Department, is concerned with analyzing samples of both historical and present day hair because trace metals in hair can be easily detected.

Meaningful data can be obtained by analyzing hair that is enclosed in jewelry such as brooches or lockets as well as hair woven into floral wreaths or bouquets. In addition other hair samples that were saved in Bibles or other books can frequently be of use, especially if information is available on the person from whom the hair was cut.

Only a tiny amount of hair is needed for the study and the encasement can be opened by trained University of Michigan personnel. Any individual who can help should contact Dr. Gordus, Department of Chemistry, University of Michigan, Ann Arbor, Michigan 48104. Please include a description of the item.

For Education Benefits

Post-Korean Veterans Advised To Use GI Bill By May 1974

May 31, 1974, is a crucial date for most Post-Korean veterans who haven't started using their GI bill education benefits.

That's the date their benefits expire, and Jack Coker, Waco VA Regional Office director, points out that unless they begin training soon, they could lose part or all of their benefits.

The deadline reminder applies to Post-Korean veterans discharged from military service between January 31, 1955, and June 1, 1956. Benefits for these veterans were not authorized until enactment of the current GI Bill on June 1, 1966; thus, they must complete training within eight years of release or by the May 31, 1974, deadline, whichever is later.

The deadline does not apply to veterans interested in flight training, apprenticeship and on-job and farm cooperative training, however. These particular veterans have until August 30, 1975, or eight years after discharge, whichever is later, to complete training. This is because these training programs were not available until October 1967, Coker explained.

More than two million veterans are expected to train under the GI Bill during the current fiscal year. Enrollment in October totaled 1.2 million, 17 percent higher than October a year ago.

Coker feels recent increases in training allowances will encourage more persons to enter

VA training programs, and enable many already training to continue their programs.

New rates start at $220 monthly for single trainees going to school full time under the GI Bill. Those with one dependent get $261 monthly; those with two dependents, $298, and they receive $18 for each additional dependent.

Rates for GI Bill apprenticeship and other on-job training begin at $160 monthly for single trainees. Those with one dependent receive $179 monthly; those with two dependents, $196 plus $8 for each additional dependent.

Eligible wives, widows and children going to school full time under VA's Dependents' Educational Assistance Program are now entitled to $220 monthly.

Coker urged eligible persons interested in educational benefits, especially veterans whose benefits expire in May 1974, to contact any VA office, veterans county service office, or local representatives of veterans service organizations.

After the program, the members exchanged Christmas gifts with Mrs. J.T. Brady acting as Santa Claus. The meeting was dismissed by members repeating the club collect.

An attractive Christmastable arrangement was displayed by Mrs. J.A. Johnson.

Delicious refreshments were served to 15 members and 1 guest, Mrs. Willmon. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. B.L. Turner.

Friberg-Cooper Group Celebrate Christmas With Season Dinner

Guidelines of Life

WITH CHRIST IN OUR HEART

by William W. Penn, pastor, First United Methodist Church

It is easy for us to let religion become dull and stupid. If not dull and stupid, at least humdrum with nothing to lighten the load, or lift the heart, or quicken the step. Those who have studied the Christian faith say that is the only religion that gives us both the ethical concepts for life, and the zeal for reaching these ideals.

Tracing the origins of our Christian faith, and starting with the life of Jesus Christ, it took the best of all the living religions of the people, and made it into a religion of "all things to all people", so to speak. In this regard it has a touch of "oriental speculation", a sprinkling of Jewish "asceticism", but of course and most especially the ideals of goodness in all forms. It was in such a frame of reference that Saint Paul admonishes us in his epistle to the Philippians,

"Finally, brethren, whatever is true, whatever is honorable, whatever is just, whatever is pure, whatever is lovely, whatever is gracious, if there be any excellence, if there is anything worthy of praise, think on these things." PHILIPPIANS 4:8

Of course, religion should be more than a mood of ecstasy. It should give us real power and a lasting force in life. And to all of us who follow the Christ, we know that there is no other source of inner strength that compares with the power of God in our hearts. Even in our most trying hours, we can feel God, standing behind the shadows, keeping watch over us. But in the midst of joy and rejoicing we are also aware that God is also there, and the song in our heart is the song of salvation.

FAMILY HEALTH

THE 20-SECOND GERM KILLER FOR YOUR HOME
Twenty seconds can make the difference in eliminating cross infection in your home. For that's all it takes to wash your hands with a potent (non-hexachlorophene) antiseptic. Then, you don't have to worry about transmitting germs to a new-born baby or any family member in your house after you handle food, wash dishes or do other housework.

Extensive testing of this antiseptic at hospitals and other medical institutions brings this home. At a recent symposium at the New York Academy of Medicine, participating researchers, clinicians, surgeons and microbiologists agreed that research conducted at their institutions showed that routine hand washing, for at least 20 seconds with Betadine Surgical Scrub Skin Cleanser, may be the keystone of hospital infection control. And, if used in the home, you can achieve the same results.

Dr. Warren Litsky, Commonwealth Professor of Microbiology at the University of Massachusetts, told the assembled medical group that tests conducted at his laboratory showed that hexachlorophene and other soap preparations most commonly used for hand hygiene purposes are relatively ineffective against many germs and only inhibit the growth of bacteria rather than destroy them. In contrast, the study showed that Betadine Surgical Scrub Skin Cleanser killed most germs on contact within 20 seconds and did not have to depend on repeated use.

Another researcher, Bertha Litsky, a bacteriologist at the University of Massachusetts, told of a pilot study wherein she observed and repeatedly tested a food handler for a three-month period to determine the amount and kind of bacteria transmitted from handling raw meat and chicken. Not only did she find that meat and chicken have a very high number of bacteria that may be transmitted to the food handler, but that the same germ killer tested by her colleague, Dr. Litsky, showed the most promise in reducing the bacteria count to a safe level.

She also noted that some 5 million cases of food poisoning occur each year due to salmonella passed on by food handlers and food processors because they wash their hands superficially and/or wash with a soap that is not effective against these specific germs.

Based on the research evidence presented, the scientists reported that the advantages of Betadine Surgical Scrub Skin Cleanser appear obvious in both surgical and general medical hand wash. Pharmacists have long recommended this same antiseptic product for skin degerming use in the home, too.

Travel SAFETY

Driving with worn tires can cost more than the price of replacements. In one year almost 25% of fatal accidents along the Pennsylvania Turnpike were caused by tire troubles.

When you plan a trip to a tropical country, it's a good idea to get whatever inoculations are appropriate for the region you'll be in, whether or not the countries you're visiting require such inoculation or not. Ask your family physician about this.

Use travelers checks to provide the equivalent of cash without the worry because they're refundable if stolen or lost. Available through most banks, none has wider world acceptance than First National Travelers Checks, which are acceptable everywhere and are refundable in more locations (30,000) around the country and overseas, than any other travelers check.

To avoid leaving anything valuable behind, list the contents of each piece of luggage on the inside of the lid. When you repack, make sure everything on your checklist goes back in--including new purchases made on your visit.

1. CHECK YOUR BICYCLE IN A LOT WHERE IT IS IN FULL VIEW OF AN ATTENDANT OR GUARD. IF YOU CANNOT DO THIS, CHAIN IT TO A TREE OR OTHER IMMOVABLE OBJECT.

2. BUY A GOOD CHAIN AND LOCK. THE CHAIN SHOULD BE LONG ENOUGH TO BE STRUNG THROUGH BOTH WHEELS AND THE FRAME AND THEN AROUND THE IMMOVABLE OBJECT.
