reported. The fish were taken on worms, shrimp, and marshmallows while drifting. Bass fishing has been an on and off proposition. Spinner baits, and worms have been more productive than anything that we have heard about. A "Herb's Dilly" fished around the weed beds is a good producer. in these areas. The other trip to Lake Arrowhead was with my good friend and counter part Bill Naylor. Just going for coffee with Bill is an experience, but going fishing or hunting with him is something else. Bill reminds me of an old maid that lived as a hermit all of her life. Everything has to be letter perfect before he will even leave the boat ramp.

I do admire Bill for being that way, but boy it sure taxes the nerves. Bill is either smoking a cigar or chewing Beech-Nut all of the time. It's not that I mind him or his habits, it's just that riding in the back chair getshairy sometimes. I have had my eyes burn from smoke of his cigar. I also have had to take a spit bath because of the tobacco ______ juice before going home.

Frank was chuggers to spinners, from telling me that he averaged spinners to worms, and from training over thirty dogs a year worms to all types of exotic for the past 15 years, so I baits. Bill is the type of fisherman that believes in visiting while fishing. In fact, Bill visits with everyone on the lake, and some of them twice. He has a very fine bass boat with all of the latest equipment on it, including a two-way radio. Bill may cross the lake to fish in a certain weed bed, then cast twice and decide that he should be fishing the trees on the other side. What I do like about Bill is that you do not have to catch a fish in order to have a good time. Bill is a barrell of fun even when having motor trouble. Ole Bill never loses his temper at anyone except his wife, and he tries to save that for Christmas day. Some of my best trips have been with Bill Naylor, but he still acts like an ole maid. Just guess I will have to put up with it. I spent one day this past week with my good friend Frank Brown, the birddog man on his training lease south of Archer City. The bird (Quail) crop is as good as it's been in several years. Frank made a statement that really bears this out. He said, "Jim, there are four different age birds at the present time". "Some are very young but they will be grown by December 1".

Frank is training and conditioning about thirty dogs this year. He tells us that two things are really hampering his progress and they are tall and thick cover, and hot weather. Frank can only run for about twenty to thirty minutes because of the heat and pothole water. The pothole water is practicaly non-existant, and this is something that you have to have this time of the year.

Frank has only killed four

TOPS Texas #636 held their regular weekly meeting October 29th at the Central Baptist Church. Sixteen members were present.

Georgia Turney was cited as Best Loser with a 5 3/4 pound loss. Other winning losers in October include Lee Milam, and Susan Weitzel. Geraldine Cook and Zora Nieto were welcomed back into the club. A new contest among members was started and will continue for five weeks. Each person will keep a daily food intake chart, encourage other members, and lose weight in the process.

TOPS members are reminded that next week will be awards night with a low calorie dinner following the meeting. Anyone interested in TOPS may obtain more information by calling 569-2703.

Recently it has become obvious to some that the new base nursery has some growing pains. Specifically, the number of children being brought in has out-grown earlier expectations, and consequently the squeeze.

Pete Landrum, base recreation director, indicates that the civil engineers have commenced rehabilitation of a building across the street from the nursery. This will be used as spare nursery facilities to take the bind off the main nursery during the overload periods. Meanwhile there are a couple of things which can be done to

It is mighty easy to shrug your shoulders, after you have committed some wrong and say, "Well, nobody is perfect," as if that excused all our sins.

One old timer, whose theology was superior to his grammar said:

"I ain't what I oughter be; I know that. But I ain't what I uster be, neither; and, praise God, I ain't yet what I'm a gonner be either, by His Grace.

Some poet put it more beautifully: "The satisfied flower is one whose petals are about to fall."

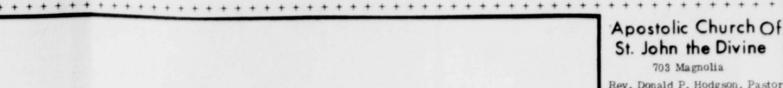

No man, no church, can expect to grow if fed on the husks of yesterday's achievements. In God's house one will find a necklace of beautiful tomorrows!

SAFB Fuel-Saving

Program Is Success

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS --Results released this week indicate that the fuel conservation program at Sheppard AirForce

Major Donald Seamands, chief of the Transportation Di-vision, 3750th Maintenance and Supply Group, reports computations show that during September the center used only 27,305 gallons of fuel. This figure is contract to the 30,545 gallons used during the same period in Fiscal Year 1973.

According to the major, this represents a 10.6 per cent savings over last year's gasoline usage. Sheppard's FY 74 goal is an overall nine per cent savings.

However, Major Seamands points out that since the base's fuel conservation effords did not get underway until August, a month after the fiscal year began, everyone should do his share to conserve fuel.

The program is designed to cut down on fuel usage in all areas of government vehicle operation.
