School Board Votes To Leave Schedule Intact

The Burkburnett School Board met Monday night to discuss problems caused by Daylight Savings Time and to decide whether or not to alter the present schedule. The main problem was that due to DST, students must go to school while it is dark outside.

Superintendent Pearson opened discussion by reporting that there was no organized meeting at Austin concerning Daylight Savings Time last week as he thought there might be. He also added that some schools had altered their schedules and some had not and that there are good and bad points on each side.

Following Pearson's statements, board president Gene Bankhead opened the meeting to anyone in the room for discussion.

Board member John Gill announced to the rest of the school board that he had some 180 signed names preferring a schedule alteration since traveling to school in the dark is hazardous to school children.

Following his remarks, James Kaspar (a guest) said that his neighborhood in the south part of town was in favor of changing the time. He said, "The percentage of people I've talked to are in favor of the change in time."

After his statement, visitor Sharon Granger said that she is definitely for the change. She added that this is the first time she has ever been forced to drive her children to school because of the darkness and that this is causing congestion on the streets. "People are afraid to put their children on the streets," she said.

Aderan Dunn, head of the Hardin PTA, then announced that he had taken a poll of parents at Hardin Grade School by sending out questionnaires which asked, "Would you like to leave the time at 8:25 or advance it one hour." There was also an extra space for further comments. The response was that about 50 percent of the questionnaires sent out were returned. Forty-nine percent voted to leave the time at 8:25; 37 percent voted to change the time to 9:25; 7 percent wanted to change the time from 9 to 4; 3 percent wanted a return to standard time.

Visitor Glenda Galvez then spoke up that she had the signatures of 85 responsible working parents who were in favor of leaving the time as it is.

Bankhead then said, "I am opposed to changing this thing one hour because of the madhouse on main street since quation of the public was splendid," the Postmaster said. "Most holiday mail was in the pipeline well before the normal suggested deadline for seasonal mailing."

Local Postmaster Praises Public For Mail Efforts

Mail moved more rapidly and more efficiently this past Christmas than ever before, thanks to the cooperation of the public in mailing their cards and packages earlier than usual, Postmaster W.T. Zimmerman reported today.

The Postmaster gave credit for the success of the holiday mail movement to the mailers themselves.

"The assistance and cooperation of the public was splendid," the Postmaster said. "Most holiday mail was in the pipeline well before the normal suggested deadline for seasonal mailing."

Impressions

Thoughts Of A Newsman

by Leon Smith

It was good to see so many people getting involved in the Jr. Livestock Show Saturday. The organization and planning were excellent, which made the show even better. I've covered events similar to this one in the past and some of them very very close to being failures because of a lack of good organization.

Judging went fairly fast at Saturday's show, considering the number of entries; and awards were given out quickly, which saved time. Many hours of hard work went into building the new show barn; and the results Saturday proved the project worthwhile.

The maximum speed limit will be 55 miles per hour starting Sunday. The purpose, as almost everyone knows, is to save energy due to an alleged energy shortage. We receive numerous news releases at the Informer/Star office each week which refer to an energy shortage, but we have not received any strong proof that there is an energy shortage.

Several people on the streets have even confronted us with statements like, "Do you really think there is an energy shortage?" and "I wonder if this energy thing is a hoax."

I think it only fair that people be given the facts and the truth of such matters before or when legislation is passed; and by facts I mean accurate percentages of figures, not opinions.

Much legislation which is passed causes hardships on the average American. We elect our officials; at least we should be able to know the reasons why they rule as they do.

Burkburnett Schools Receive $175,745.00 In Federal Funds

Burkburnett Independent School District was informed last week that federal assistance has been granted under Title I of Public Law 81-874 according to Health, Education, and Welfare (HEW) reports.

These funds provide for federal assistance for school systems with certain categories of students whose parents live or work on a military installation.

Burkburnett received $175,745 in immediate payment of the tentative amount for Burk which is $351,490. Therefore, Burkburnett received 50 percent of what it is entitled to. The rest is expected later in the year.

School systems are entitled to the money through House Bill 874 (Federal Impact Aid).

Burkburnett Superintendent James Pearson said that the local school system was glad to receive the money and that the totals were about what was anticipated. The money will go into the general operating fund.

Pioneer Real Estate Grand Opening Is Scheduled

Pioneer Real Estate will have its Grand Opening Friday, January 18, at their location on 302 N. Avenue D. The time of the event will be 10 a.m. and there will be ribbon cutting ceremonies sponsored by the Burkburnett Chamber of Commerce. Everyone is invited to attend.

Reopening Of Park Near Burkburnett Is Discussed

The Sheppard Area Community Relations Council met in the Burkburnett Civic Center Monday morning and discussed the possibility of reopening a 185-acre park located next to the Red River about five miles southeast of Burkburnett.

Mayor T.M. Cornelius told the council that the park would be excellent for recreation for persons in the Sheppard Air Force Base, Wichita Falls, Burkburnett area. He said that the park would be for the good of everyone.

Burkburnett City Manager Gary Bean told the council that the park was acquired in 1970, but due to vandalism problems, procedure in the development of the area was greatly hindered. Bean also remarked that the park was ideally located for the entire county and would be a natural thing for everyone. He added that a baseball park and tennis courts might even be considered.

Bean noted to the council that the first thing needed would be a full-time security guard for the park.

Maj. Gen. Robert L. Pettit said that he felt the people do like to get out and enjoy the outdoors and that Burkburnett would probably be the leader in the project with the council lending its help when needed.

"We should work closely with Burkburnett on what can be done with the park," he said. Pettit is co-chairman of the council and commander of Sheppard Air Force Base.

The council agreed that the recreation and education committee should work with Burkburnett and report to the council on the next meeting.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Lawmaker delegates to Texas' first Constitutional Convention since 1875 got off to a bumpy start last week.

They lost little time in election of House Speaker Price Daniel Jr. as "president" but they wrangled for two and a half days over procedural rules.

The rules fight appeared to center largely on concern of some delegates over yielding too much authority to the presiding officer and professional staff.

Some observers feared the preliminary wrangles indicated a minority of delegates really do not want a new constitution at all.

Some were sniping at Daniel, and others were following legislative custom and trying to leave their imprint on the rulebook of a historic event.

Top officials, including Gov. Dolph Briscoe, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby and Daniel, offered words of encouragement to delegates and predictions of success.

Main citizens are supposed to get their chance to express their views to the delegates when committee hearings get underway, probably this week.

Convention planners hoped to run off a fast-paced 81-day schedule before the spring primary election, but hope for keeping that pace dimmed with the drawn-out rules debate. Mood of delegates appeared to be to take all the time they want. They can work until July 31 if they insist on it.

SPEED LIMIT CUT — Starting January 20 at 12:01 a.m., the speed limit will be 55 — not 70 — miles per hour.

Governor Briscoe issued the official proclamation hours after the Texas Highway Commission approved lowering the limit in line with federal directive as a fuel-saving measure.

President Nixon January 2 signed a new law providing for withholding of federal highway aid funds in those states which refuse to establish a 55 mph limit in 60 days.

An earlier effort by the Commission to reduce the limit was rejected by Atty. Gen. John Hill, who said special legislative authorization was necessary. Briscoe then called the legislature into session and asked for a new law giving the Highway Commission power to lower the limit with his concurrence. Lawmakers granted that authority last month.

Efforts will be made to protect those who get early speeding tickets under the law from jacked-up insurance premiums as a result.

POLITICIANS IN, OUT — Some state office holders bowed out of and some jumped into statewide races during early January.

Comptroller Robert Calvert, 81, announced he would retire at the end of his present term. And Speaker Daniel indicated it is unlikely he will enter any state race.

Meanwhile, Railroad Commissioner Mack Wallace of Athens, appointed last year by Governor Briscoe to fill a vacancy, said he is seeking an elective term.

State Sen. Jim Wallace of Houston sounded like a likely contender for Calvert's job, as did Hugh Edburg, head of the comptroller's accounting, revenue and statistics section. Former Secretary of State Bob Bullock of Austin has been campaigning for comptroller since last summer.

COURTS SPEAK — The State Supreme Court found a Jefferson County welder was due the maximum 200 weeks of workmen's compensation benefits for an injured knee, although he refused corrective surgery.

In other cases the High Court held:

- Lower courts were wrong in directing a Nacogdoches highway contractor to pay school taxes on construction machinery located outside the school district.
- Claims by 14 ex-employees of a pipeline construction company that the company owed them $71,728 in bonuses on promise of the president are not valid.
- A divided (3-2) Court of Criminal Appeals once more ruled against the appeal of former State Representative Walter Knapp from a four-year prison sentence for theft of $1,200 in state postage stamps.

PORT HEARINGS SET — Texas Offshore Terminal Commission January 10 began a series of public hearings on plans for a state-financed $300 million superport 30 miles off the Texas coast from Brazoria County.

First of the hearings was in Freeport January 10. The second was slated January 15 in Austin and the third at Dallas January 17.

The Commission will meet again in Houston January 24 to consider adoption of the superport plan before it goes to the legislature.

GAS FIRMS HIT — A Texas Railroad Commission official charged refusal by natural gas pipeline firms to give the state information on their reserves is delaying development of an apportionment plan.

The Commission can't draw a plan for dividing gas over the state until it finds out specifics about reserves, installations, where gas is coming from, how much companies pay for it and how much is being piped out of state, according to Frank Youngblood, TRC gas utilities director.

What TESCO is doing to provide the electricity you'll need.

We're spending $700 million on new construction during the next five years.

We must have new plants that will permit us to diversify the types of fuel we use to generate electricity.

Natural gas is our major fuel at Texas Electric now, with oil used on a standby basis. But both these fuels are in increasingly short supply.

So Texas Electric, along with two other electric utilities, is building plants in East Texas that use lignite coal, a fuel that is not being used extensively for any purpose other than the generation of electricity.

One lignite plant already is in operation, and two others are being built. But it costs about twice as much to build a lignite plant as one that uses natural gas.

A nuclear-fueled plant is scheduled to be operational near Glen Rose by 1980, and this one will cost more than three times as much as a gas-fueled plant.

Financing the essential expenditure of more than $700 million in just the next five years is what makes an increase in electric service rates necessary.

We're working to supply the electricity you'll need, but it will have to cost more in the future.

Airforce Hospital Offer Medical Treatment Similar To That Of Athletes

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Athletes such as Bill Walton and Joe Namath often seem to have gigantic recuperative abilities, or at least special health secrets. Over and over they receive injuries, but come steaming right back into action. They are back playing again in just a fraction of the time it would take most people to recover.

What's the secret? How do they keep injuries from being serious and time consuming? Much of their success is through the quick medical attention they receive. Their treatment revolves around preventing the injury from getting worse and in speeding the body's ability to heal itself.

In the Air Force the physical therapist works in a similar manner to the athlete's doctor. He also works to stimulate rapid healing of injuries which would otherwise take much longer.

A common method of treating injuries, both on the playing field or in Air Force hospitals, is with cold, or cryotherapy. Cold treatment slows down swelling, lessens hemorrhaging and works to relieve pain. Thermotherapy, or applied heat, is often administered with hot packs, infrared lamps or whirlpool baths. This acts to sedate nerves, relax muscles and decrease pain.

Unlike the athlete's injuries, few people have their own injuries treated the minute they occur. It might be hours or even days before their sprains or minor injuries are taken to a physician. If he prescribes physical medicine treatment, the patient is then sent to the physical therapy clinic. There a physical therapist and assistant can begin corrective measures, but the lost time usually makes it harder. Much of the treatment is administered by physical therapists who have been trained at Sheppard Air Force Base's School of Health Care Sciences.

Training in the physical therapy program involves 12 weeks of bookwork, lecture and then practice in a simulated clinic. After background studying in basic science, including anatomy, physiology and physics, they receive orientation to the behavioral sciences or psychology and psychiatry.

During the course students learn the treatments they will use to bring many aches and pains under control. Their studies include thermal therapy, cryotherapy, radiation therapy, hydrotherapy, electrotherapy, actinotherapy, massage and therapeutic exercise. Each area complements the body's functioning and aids quick recovery.

Electrical stimulation helps the therapist test muscle and nerve functioning, and to exercise and reeducate muscles. Skin conditions such as psoriasis and acne may receive ultraviolet light treatment. Ultrasound therapy has a wide range of effects. Sound in the one million cycles per second frequency range produces different thermal, mechanical, chemical and biological effects within the body. Conditions treated with it include inflamatory joints and nerves and muscle spasms. A massage, or manipulation of the body's soft parts, can stimulate or sedate nerve tissues. Besides relaxing and toning muscles, massage improves waste product removal from muscles and blood vessels.

Therapeutic exercise is one treatment that is especially effective for athletes. They work to build up particular muscles, such as in the knees, to make them more stable and less prone to injury. In a hospital, therapeutic exercises are used to maintain or restore functioning to the body as a whole or part of it. To maintain or improve body function and posture a clinic usually has several different exercise apparatuses.

It takes time and effort to rehabilitate patients. The specialist often works to help them readapt to daily living through the use of self-help devices such as crutches, canes, wheelchairs, braces and splints. Physical therapy clinics at most base hospitals handle short-term injuries. Long-term ones go to a rehabilitation center.

SCHOOL BOARD

people will be getting off work. I don't think one hour would be logical at all."

After further discussion, board member Frank Morton said, "This problem was put on us by people we elected and if we go against them, we might all be walking." He said that we should not work against our own government, that they have a plan and we should stick to it.

Superintendent Pearson then said, "Either way we go we'll make 50 percent happy and 50 percent unhappy. It's a serious thing as far as safety is concerned. Safety is paramount in everything we do."

Board member Norman Roberts said that the people at Sheppard-Burk have started a car-pooling system, which made bicycle use much less. He added that the energy shortage has helped get some of the congestion off the streets.

James Pearson then told the board that they might consider starting the school day at 9:00 a.m. for six weeks and afterward go back to the regular time. He also said that the school would have to assign teachers to supervise students when they get to school early, and pay the teachers something extra for coming to school earlier.

Board member Thurman Allison then said that this idea should be acceptable to both sides.

Bankhead said that he disagreed with the idea, and board member Ted Harris expressed the opinion that ten or fifteen minutes would be enough of a change to offset the darkness.

Norman Roberts said that people are adjusting to the darkness very well and are putting out an admirable effort to travel safely.

John Gill then made the motion that the time be changed for school to start at 9 a.m. and dismiss at 4 p.m. for six weeks, at which time the old schedule would go into effect. Thurman Allison seconded the motion. After further discussion, a vote was taken on the matter. Allison and Gill voted for, and Schroeder, Morton, Harris, Roberts and Bankhead voted against the schedule change.

Bankhead then appointed a committee to further investigate the problems and make suggestions at later meetings. Heading the committee is Thurman Allison and working with him are Frank Morton and Ira Schroeder.

Next on the agenda, Allison represented a committee which recommended the purchase of a $995.00 pitching machine for the Athletic Department. After some discussion, the motion was made and passed by all to purchase the machine.

The athletic committee recommended the construction of a field house. The one discussed was about 100 x 60 in size with a wide variety of aids and equipment inside. The committee was assigned a figure of $50,000 to work with while investigation of the issue would proceed.

Upgrading the football stadium lights was also recommended by the athletic committee. Football coach Pat Smiley reported that The Burk Burnett Bank has agreed to buy a scoreboard for the baseball field. James Pearson reported to the board that an outside group wants use of the school athletic grounds for a tournament. All proceeds would go to youth sports programs. The Board approved.

'Dogs Bulldog Steers 66-65 In Double Overtime

The 'Dogs pulled off another big one last Friday night in Graham by beating the Steers by a slight margin of just one point, 66-65 in double overtime.

The Bulldogs took a first quarter lead of 24-11. The second quarter was more of the same with the Burk team outdoggging the Steers to a 43-31 halftime lead.

But the Steers came out in the second half looking to take away the lead that they had never gotten at the end of a period. But the 'Dogs held on at the end of the third period with a 49-47 lead.

The fourth quarter was a different story. A famous commercial says, "We're bullish on America." Well, the Steers were saying, "We're steerish on Steer Country!" And they had decided that overtime would be better than a loss, so they tied the game at 60-60.

Thus the game went into overtime. At the end of the first overtime, the Steers decided again that more overtime was better than a loss. So they tied it up again at 62-62.

This was the first time for all good shooters on the Steer team to do their job. First Billy Arrowood got two of the most precious things in the overtime, points. And then, adding his one point worth in just as good of Graham as was Steve Oliver. But, that just couldn't be the "old ball game", could it? Certainly not! Just as good of Graham thought that they had this one all wrapped up, two Bulldogs baskets and the final seconds of the second three minute overtime wrapped it up for the Bulldogs.

The high point man for the Bulldogs was Chris Berg with 21 points. Skip Dean was good for 12 while Larry Martin and Jimmy Koulovtos hit for 9.

This win sets the 'Dogs at a 3-2 district record for the first half of the season.

DOUBLE OVERTIME

Rosa Marie Ross Retires From Sheppard Regional Hospital

By Sergeant Lewis Luyster SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS-- "I always tell the mothers that I like them, but I love their babies."

Thus Rosa Ross, a nurse assistant who retired this week after more than 17 years of work in the new-born nursery at Sheppard's Regional Hospital, summed up her career.

It has been a life filled with work with new babies, all of whom managed to steal her heart.

She has seen many of them grow to children and then into teenagers, although she hated to see any of them ever leave the nursery.

"First I called them my babies," she said softly, "now I call them my children."

But Mrs. Ross feels it is time to leave her beloved babies--she says she is no longer able to face the prospect of driving on icy roads to get to work. She lives in Burk Burnett.

She will be sorely missed. Most of the staff views her as an institution. And to help the nursery do without her presence, she has spent the past month writing a summary of all the little things she has managed for 17 years.

Her replacements must be able to wrangle supplies, assure that the incubators all have lights, and watch the house-keeping chores. In addition they must be sensitive to all the little things Mrs. Ross has gleaned through many years of experience.

Mrs. Ross began her career at Sheppard during World War II. She spent two years as a nurse assistant in the pneumonia ward at the Sheppard hospital which was then a maze of one-story buildings located at the present hospital parking lot. She left her job in 1946 when the base closed.

In 1956 she returned, this time to the obstetrics (OB) ward. She has been there ever since.

During World War II, the patients affectionately called her Lieutenant Ross. After some time in the OB ward, she gained the unofficial title of Colonel Ross. "Now," she muses, "I suppose they'll just call me Rosa."

But as "just Rosa," Mrs. Ross will still be thinking of her babies. "I don't know what I'll do in the next few months," she wonders aloud. "Sometimes I wake up nights worrying about what I'll do."

"I'm a compulsive worker," she adds suddenly, "I don't take coffee breaks and I don't smoke--I'm too busy working. But constant work gets tired, and maybe this is one reason I'm retiring."

"Normally we keep a baby just three or four days," she says. "But in the case of preemies (premature babies), we sometimes have them for 30 to 40 days. When they leave, it's just like giving up one of your own."

Instead of totally giving up the preemies, though, Mrs. Ross has maintained a scrap book of all of them she has dealt with.

Obviously, with such attachments to a job, total retirement is out of the question.

Mrs. Ross has volunteered to come back, once good weather returns, to work two or three days a week on the ward.

She must be near "her" babies.

Thus Rosa Marie Ross, a nurse assistant who retired this week after more than 17 years of work in the new-born nursery at Sheppard's Regional Hospital, summed up her career.

When a newborn arrives It will be at a loss Because of the absence

Of dear "Colonel" Ross. We'll always hear those orders "Fold those diapers! Do this circ!" But we'll all remember It was just to make us work. Before she has to go We just want her to know It will be our GREATEST loss! When we say goodbye to Rosa Ross. by AIC John Hughes

Because she is gone It will make us all aware That she gave a lot of extra time and Tender Loving Care.

The nursery will be in chaos You just wait and see Because all the things that Rosa did Will be left for you and me.

Burk Junior Varsity Defeats Hirschi 53-51

The Burk JV battled the Hirschi JV in a hard game last Tuesday to become victors by a tooth rattling 53-51.

Head scorer on the 'Dogs was Hambo Davis with a whopping 20 points. Leading the Huskie cagers in the point department was an old Burkie, Keith Easterling, right behind Davis with 19 points.

This win gave the JV an impressive 9-3 season record.

Hirschi Slips By Bulldogs 48-47

The BHS Varsity cagers took on the Hirschi Huskies here in Bulldog Gym only to suffer a loss by a score of 48-47. This one point loss put the 'Dogs at a 2-2 district standing in the first half of district competition.

The high point man was Skip Dean with 18 while Chris Berg and Terry Thompson picked up 12 and 10 consecutively.

The Huskies shot for 48 percent while the Bulldogs hit 41 percent of their shots. It was a hard fought game. The final 18 seconds could tell the story.

With 18 seconds left on the clock, the ball was passed to Skip Dean. The 'Dogs had gone into a stall, Dean shot and missed. Paul Taylor got the rebound and went up for another shot. As he went up, he was fouled. Taylor had two free throws. The score at this time was Burk 46, Hirschi 46. Taylor missed one of the foul shots but made the other one. And now the score was Burk 47, Hirschi 46.

The Huskies got the ball back with 8 seconds left. Then one of the Burk players fouled Jenkins, one of the Huskies. Jenkins hit both of his free shots to make the final score Hirschi 48, Burk 47.

Junior Varsity Cagers Defeat Graham 56-42

The old trusty Burk JV team backed up another victory last Friday against the Graham JV. This was one of those types that ends up with a score like 56-42.

With a most impressive 17 points for the night, was Doug Carrison who played one of his best games of the season. Randy Burke hit for 13 and Hambo Davis chalked up 11. High point fellow on the Graham team was Mike Hammond with 8.

This win puts them at a 10-3 season mark.

Burk Children Enjoy Several Parties During Holidays

Children of the Burk Burnett Child Development Center enjoyed many Christmas parties given by parents and clubs from Burk Burnett recently.

Western Auto gave approximately $90.00 in toys to the children and Theta Epsilon #2757 made gifts for each child to take home. Patients from Evergreen Manor made a beautiful door wreath and presented it to the children.

Mrs. Larry Bedford and Mrs. Linda Barrows gave the children a party serving ice cream, donuts, cookies and punch.

Friday, Dec. 21, 1973 was the busiest day of the holiday season. To begin with, the high school sociology and psychology club picked the children up and took them to the high school for a party. Students had baked all kinds of cookies and served punch. Santa then passed out gifts that were purchased by the students. When time to leave for the center, Santa told the children that they could take a bright, red, shiny car and motorcycle with them.

After nap time the Junior Auxiliary of the American Legion came with party favors, cookies and punch.

Later, C.A.C. and the Shepherd Firemen combined to give the children fruit, toys, sandwiches, and punch. The children played rhythm band music for the many that attended.

Grace Lutheran LWML will again this year sponsor all the birthday parties and will also make stuffed toys for each child to take home.

Sheppard AFB Notes

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Major James R. Burger, a former prisoner of war in Vietnam, was presented six medals in ceremonies at the 80th Flying Training Wing at Sheppard Air Force Base Friday afternoon.

Major Berger received the Distinguished Flying Cross (DFC), the Air Medal and First Oak Leaf Cluster, the Air Force Commendation Medal (AFCM), the Purple Heart and First Oak Leaf Cluster.

Colonel Kirk A. Brown, commander of the 80th Flying Training Wing made the presentations in ceremonies at wing headquarters.

Major Berger was a prisoner of war for six years and three months. He was captured Dec. 2, 1966 when his F-4C jet aircraft was shot down while flying a combat mission over North Vietnam. At that time he was assigned to the 480th Tactical Fighter Squadron, 366th Tactical Fighter Wing at Da Nang Air Base, Vietnam.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Seven people at Sheppard Air Force Base were honored this week for various accomplishments.

Airman First Class Louie E. Huff Jr. was named airman of the month by 3750th Maintenance and Supply Group. A native of Cincinnati, Ohio, he is a clerk in the passenger and household goods section.

Airman Robert S. Doty was named airman of the month for the 3780th Student Squadron of the School of Applied Aerospace Sciences. From Fellesmere, Fla., Airman Doty is a student in the Aircraft Maintenance Specialist course at Sheppard.

Five men received safe driver awards. They were Technical Sergeant John R. Kent of 3750th Security Police who has completed 14 years; Staff Sergeant Richard F. Whitmore and Robert F. Mooday, Jack Love and Nathaniel H. Wesley, all civilian drivers with 3750th Maintenance and Supply Group. Sergeant Whitmore has 10 years of safe driving; Mr. Moody, 15; Mr. Love, 18; and Mr. Wesley, 11.

Wood Is Great Energy Saver

Energy saving tips seem to be coming out of the woodwork these days.

As a matter of fact, the use of woodwork itself can be a big energy saver, freeing more fuel to heat our homes and more gasoline to power our cars according to an officer of the Southern Forest Products Association.

"Wood frame construction can help ease our nation's energy crisis in two ways," explains William R. Ganser, Jr., executive vice-president of SFPA. "First, it takes far less energy to produce wood building products than metal or other materials. And second, wood is the best insulator of all structural building materials, requiring much less energy to run heaters and air-conditioners."

About 20 percent of all the energy consumed in the United States is used to heat, cool and light residential homes, according to the Report of the President's Advisory Panel on Timber and the Environment. And the production of materials gobbles up another 13 percent of the available energy.

So Ganser thinks Americans owe it to themselves to at least know about the enormous energy-saving value of wood as a building material.

Trees use only the energy of the sun to grow, he points out. At the sawmill after harvesting, only 1,310 kilowatt hours of electricity or its equivalent is required to produce a ton of lumber. In contrast, states the President's Report, a ton of rolled steel consumes 12,600 kilowatt hours and a ton of rolled aluminum 67,200 kilowatt hours.

Wood is also a natural insulator, Ganser says, with millions of tiny air cells trapped within its cellular structure providing a barrier against heat and cold.

Ganser calls attention to a report of the American Society of Heating, Refrigerating and Air-Conditioning Engineers which shows that wood is four times as efficient an insulator as cinder blocks, six times as efficient as brick, 15 times as efficient as concrete or stone, 400 times as efficient as steel and 1,770 times as efficient as aluminum.

"Wood is also the only renewable industrial raw material we have," Ganser adds. "By using it for house framing and other purposes we can significantly extend the supply of depletable resources such as bauxite, iron ore, coal, petroleum and natural gas."

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--Paul Wiley of the Recreation Center will teach a free 11-week-long dog obedience course at Sheppard Air Force Base. The course began Tuesday in the center.

The course is open to people who are active duty, retired or dependents and who have dogs five months old or more with valid rabies certificates.

Mr. Wiley, past president of the Manhattan, Kansas Kennel Club, previously taught a course in the center. Seventeen dogs graduated on Dec. 11.

There will be one hour of classroom work per week plus owners work with the dog during the week.

This is the basic novice course towards an American Kennel Club companion dog obedience degree.

Dogs do not have to be registered. Owners should bring a six foot long light leather leash or a lead and a light choke chain.

Interested dog owners should call the Recreation Center at 851-2302 for more information and registration for the course.

SHEPPARD AFB, TEXAS--"The role of the Air Force wife is the art of the possible," stated Mrs. David W. Winn, wife of the vice commander of Sheppard Technical Training Center, as she summed up her discussion of the topic, "My Experiences and Philosophies as a Military Wife."

She spoke during the coffee meeting of the Sheppard Officers Wives Club.

Mrs. Winn, whose husband was a prisoner of war in Vietnam for four years, seven months and 12 days, shared some of her experiences in the early days as well as in the years while her husband was held captive by the Vietnamese.

She described her years in the role of an Air Force wife in superlatives -- great joy, great love and in recent years, great tribulations. She explained that many things are possible with positive attitudes.

She told of her better understanding of news media following her experiences with them during the time her husband was a POW. She also told of her meeting with General John D. Ryan, chief of staff of the Air Force and many other dignitaries in Washington including Secretaries of State and Defense and staff members at the White House.

In talking about her experiences during those years she expressed appreciation to everyone who wrote letters and wore bracelets in behalf of the POWs and stated that these movements helped the plight of the POWs.

The vice commander's wife also discussed the importance of tradition and values. She stated that even though there is constant change, there is no change in the importance of family, friends and ordinary things.

When asked about families of the men still listed as missing in action, Mrs. Winn said that there should be another groundswell of letters to the same people that Americans wrote to before. These should be in protest of the one-half to two-thirds of those captured in the Vietnamese War who are still on the MIA list.

Mesdames Lawrence Youngblut and Nicholas Hinch were introduced as newcomers. It was announced that Mrs. Ray McLaughlin is a member of the Reservations committee succeeding Mrs. John Riccetto. Mrs. Marty Cottrill stated that the exercise classes will resume at the main gymnasium on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings from 9 to 10 a.m.

Applications for the three $500 scholarships to be given to graduating seniors of OWC members will be available by Feb. 13 and the deadline for submitting applications will be March 13. Winners will be honored at the April luncheon.

Hostesses were wives of officers assigned to the 88th Flying Training Squadron of the 80th Flying Training Wing. Mrs. Allan Viers, chairman, was assisted by Mesdames Charles Voxland, Louis Campbell, John Pearson, Lewis Clauner, James Richard, David Porter, Larry Wagner and David Wall.

Hwy. Commission Sets Speed Limit At 55 MPH

AUSTIN--The Texas Highway Commission today set a state-wide maximum speed limit of 55 miles per hour, effective at 12:01 a.m., Sunday, January 20.

The action was taken in keeping with the law passed by the recent special session of the Texas Legislature, empowering the Commission to set lower speed limits to comply with federal energy saving actions.

Under the terms of the Emergency Highway Energy Conservation Act signed by the President January 2, a state not establishing a 55 m.p.h. maximum speed limit would not receive its share of federal highway construction funds.

Federal taxes on items related to the operation of motor vehicles--notably a four-cent-per-gallon levy on gasoline--go into the Federal Highway Trust Fund. These funds are apportioned back to the state for the federal government's share of highway construction.

Texas' share amounts to some $240 million annually which would be withheld if the lower speed limit were not set by early March.

Today's action is subject to review within eight days by Governor Dolph Briscoe. The lower speed limits will apply to all highways in the state, including highways under the control of the Texas Turnpike Authority, cities and counties.

New speed limit signs replacing the old 70-m.p.h. maximum speed limit on the State's major highways will be in place by the effective date. The Highway Department will begin immediately the task of making and posting the new signs.

The Commission also directed the Highway Department to monitor and document circumstances "which might relate to the establishment of speed limits and to report to the Commission on a monthly basis." This is in order that the Commission may make findings as to whether the 55 m.p.h. limit should continue in effect.

Many motorists in Texas already have voluntarily reduced their driving speeds to below 55, Highway Department spokesmen said.

Dogs, Cats Must Be Vaccinated

City Ordinance #250, Section 5, states that the owner of a dog or cat shall keep said animal under restraint at all times and shall not permit such dog or cat to be at large off the premises or property of the owner, unless on leash and under the control of a competent person.

Section 2 of the same ordinance states that all dogs and cats must be vaccinated for Rabies; and must be licensed by the City of Burkburnett. Dogs and cats must be vaccinated by the time they are three months old. Licenses are renewable twelve months.

Penalties provided under this ordinance are not less than $15.00 nor more than $200.00; each and every day of such violation shall be deemed a separate and complete offense. We need the complete cooperation of all dog and cat owners in order to control the dog problems in our city. There are too many violations of this ordinance, and as you know, no law works without the cooperation of the citizens of the society in which we live. I want to urge all of you to keep your pets under restraint; not only will you be abiding by the rules of your community, but also you will notice a cleaner and better maintained community, with no trash cans overturned and no dog packs roaming the streets.

It is my hope that this reminder will be sufficient; if not, more drastic measures may have to be adopted.

Jim Scheer Speaks To Friberg Cooper Comm.

The Friberg Cooper Community met Monday night. Mr. Olen Bailey, vice-president, led the meeting. A committee was appointed to select new officers for the year of 1974. The committee includes Olen Bailey, Cecil Jarvis, and Bee Bryant. Following, thank you notes were read from officers for Christmas gifts. B.T. Haws passed out Farmer Tax guides and asked if anyone wanted trees to put out for wind breaks. If so they should contact him and he will order them for $3.00 a hundred from East Texas Nursery. He introduced Jim Scheer who works in the Farm and Ranch section of the City National Bank of Wichita Falls. Scheer spoke on financial planning for the energy crisis. He said that people need to have a vision and plan for the future or else they will perish. He added that the man who succeeds is the man who pays the price with a well-rounded life; including family life, health, exercise, social life, spiritual life, and mental exercises. The man must also understand himself. The next meeting will be Feb. 4 and Mr. Cecil Jarvis will lead a program on home improvement. Refreshments were served to 11 members and two guests, B.T. Haws and Jim Scheer.

Learning early to move farther from home, step by step, brings a child the independence and confidence he'll use to approach life. These qualities take as long to learn as math, reading or writing—in the short span of time from childhood to adolescence. Parents need to start early helping their youngsters learn to tackle new things and places. They do this by showing they are clearly confident that youngsters can get to school okay by themselves on the second or third day—or that a child can take a trip to a nearby park with lunch and bicycle in the company of another child who already knows how. An established pattern serves as a guide: the child learns to go with someone who has gone there before. He shares the experience with one or two friends. And he has his parent's confidence that he is sensible and won't get into trouble. The child knows he's not adrift. He knows what the limits are and has no doubt he can get all the help he might need to face anything he can't handle. Also, while he has many of the beliefs of his parents, he can develop some of his own--with which parents might disagree--without losing their love. In this step-by-step trail-blazing, the maturing boy or girl discovers how to find the way, what to look for in a companion, and how not to over-extend himself. He learns to be resourceful, to avoid emergencies and to meet them when they occur. These are lessons to learn by late childhood. Then the adolescent finds that he can safely cross an assumption or a continent--that he can take a job far away from home. He becomes an adult who knows he has the competence to take his own path in thought and action.

Texas Hay Crop Up; U.S. Down

AUSTIN—Excellent hay production in Texas combined with a two per cent decline of the commodity nationwide may create an out-of-state demand for Texas hay, Agriculture Commissioner John C. White has announced. Dr. Roland Smith, Extension Service grainmarketing specialist, reported this conclusion in the Texas Livestock Market News, a publication of the Texas Department of Agriculture. Dr. Smith also noted that the outlook for feed grain prices in 1974 "will be quite sensitive to export demand and prospects for next year's crops both in this nation and abroad." Production of grain sorghum is up 20 per cent from last year, Smith said. "If this is realized, less corn and barley may be needed in western cattle rations than earlier predicted. The feed self-sufficiency is another indication that prices may soften in early fall," he said. Texas also more than doubled its 1972 winter harvest this summer with a record-breaking 29 bushel an acre yield and near-record. "All indications point to a bumper crop," Commissioner White said. "We're sure to top the $28,000,000 mark in cash receipts for hay posted last year."

Weekly Health Tip
from JOE GILLESPIE

Winter itch is a condition causing discomfort most often to the elderly. It seems related to the tendency to people in our society to be excessively clean. By soaping away the natural oil of the skin, it leaves the skin dry and free to chafe and itch. An oil is available from your druggist which will help to relieve winter itch. Some doctors advise using soap only to cleanse hands and face.

WICHITA FALLS--Midwestern University has plans to establish schedule information for students traveling to and from locations outside the city of Wichita Falls during the spring semester to better enable them to form car pools.

This project is designed to assist in the conservation of fuel during the energy shortage situation. Information will be compiled by the Student Personnel Office regarding the commuting students and their schedules.

The resultant data will be posted at strategic areas on campus to enable these students to make individual arrangements for sharing rides.

Information forms were distributed during the Jan. 10-11 registration period and may be turned in any time before Jan. 25 to the Student Personnel Office in Clark Student Center.

FIRESIDE THOUGHTS

Small events can often have tremendous import. Witness this true story.

A wife had shown great disinterest in religious matters. Her husband, in the meantime, had found himself being drawn closer to God.

He quietly read his Bible each evening. He attended the services of his church regularly. His language and temper had been brought under control.

She prepared herself every day with the things she would tell him should he broach the subject of God to her.

One night, as they sat before the fire, a little bird flew in the window. In only a moment it found an open window on the other side of the room and darted away.

"That is all life is," the wife said, "out of the darkness, into the light, and into the darkness again."

Her husband spoke softly and erased all her doubts in one sentence, "But the bird has its nest beyond these walls."

Hightower Is Named Chairman Of Convention Administration Committee

AUSTIN - Northwest Texas got two chairmanships out of only 13 available when officials of the 1974 Constitutional Convention were announced by Convention President Price Daniel, Jr. and Vice-President A.M. Alkin, Jr.

Sen. Jack Hightower of Vernon was named chairman of the Convention Administration Committee and Sen. Max Sherman of Amarillo was selected to head the Committee on Style and Drafting.

In addition, Hightower will serve on the highly important Education Committee while Sherman was appointed to the Executive Branch Committee.

Delegates to the convention are the 181 members of the Texas Legislature.

With the exception of Sen. Tati Santiesteban of El Paso, Hightower and Sherman were the only West Texans named to play key roles in the convention.

Hightower, a member of the Board of Regents at Baylor University and former Regent of Midwestern University, was chosen for the Education Committee because of his expertise in the field of education.

The Committee on Style and Drafting, which Sherman will chair, is charged with responsibility of putting the language of the proposed Constitution in final form, and will perhaps be one of the hardest working panels during the convention.

Hightower commented that "because of the critical situation facing funding of public school education in Texas, I am especially pleased to have been assigned to help author the proposed new Constitution's language on education."

Sherman said his assignment as chairman for style and drafting "is one of the greatest challenges a public official can have, because the language of the Constitution will have much to do with its acceptance by the people as a lasting document."

ADDRESSING THE COUNCIL . . . The Sheppard Area Community Relations Council met Monday in the Burk Burnett Civic Center. Burk Burnett Mayor T.M. Cornelius (right, in left photo) explained to the council that a 185-acre park near Burk would be excellent for a recreation area. He added that it would be accessible to Wichita Falls and Sheppard AFB also. Burk City Manager Gary

a little bit recently. Now they're ginning full blast, though. So far this season a total of 3,400 bales have been ginned and the number is likely to go well over the 4,000 bale mark. (Informer/Star Photo)

Legion Drive Underway

The local American Legion Post, Frye-Vaughn Post 264 and the Ladies Auxiliary have a membership drive planned for January 24 beginning at 7:30 p.m. Free pizza and refreshments will be served to all who have a 1974 membership card. They are encouraging all those who have not renewed their membership to come by and enjoy good fellowship and some very fine eating and renew their membership.

The officers extend an invitation to all prospective new members to also attend. If you have served in the Armed Forces during the time of conflict, you most likely are eligible to be a member of the American Legion. The slogan this year is "Be Counted Again."

February 1, 1974, all members who have not renewed their dues will be delinquent. The local Post has several members who have not renewed their dues. Members are encouraged to be counted again.

Commander Charlie Pulliam and President Bobbie Cozby have reached and surpassed their assigned quota set by the Department of Texas. They are now trying to reach an all time high in membership, which both are only a few members away from.

Question:
Is Lone Star doing everything it can to hold down costs?

Answer:
Yes!

We're operating more efficiently than ever before. But our costs are going up none the less... just like yours. For instance, the interest rates on money we have to borrow for constructing new gas supply systems have increased dramatically. These rates have recently been at all time highs. Within the last 18 months, we have invested nearly $100 million:

- to build a large diameter, 400-mile pipeline from West Texas to the Dallas-Ft. Worth area,
- for other facilities along this pipeline,
- to attach major new reserves and
- to pay for well drilling by producers... all for the purpose of assuring continuing natural gas supplies to our customers.

These investments don't even include the cost of all the gas we must buy to fill the line. In 1969, natural gas cost us about 19 cents per thousand cubic feet. Recently we paid more than 85 cents for major new supplies. And the price is still rising. Costs like these are the price Lone Star must pay for your continuing natural gas supplies. It's important that you understand our need for adequate rates so we can continue to deliver clean gas energy to your home for winters to come. We're doing everything possible to hold down controllable costs. But even with gradual rate increases, natural gas from Lone Star will still be your most economical and efficient non-polluting fuel.
