

PIGGLY WIGGLY DESTROYED

Parker Plaza Hard Hit By Fire

As everybody probably realizes by now, we have a new President and Vice-President and both have hopes of solving our major problems and getting things back to what we at least call normal.

I think they can too, if the major news networks will leave them alone and stop trying to stir up trouble.

Folks, I dread to even think of the problems we face if it ever comes to the point that government will censure the news and has the news media in the palm of its hand. But facts are facts, and something has "gotta" be done.

What I'm speaking of isn't exactly the news media that is causing all the trouble, but rather the big networks and their commentators.

Nothing infuriates me more than to have a "news commentator" (and I use the term very loosely) come on the air seconds after the President speaks to tell me what the President really said was . . . They don't give you and me the credit for having enough intelligence to sit and listen with our own ears and to understand what a man speaking in the English language is saying. They tell us that what the President said isn't what he meant, and what he really meant but wouldn't say was . . . How in Sam Hill do they know what he meant?

If you will listen to the three different sets of commentators following a news cast by the President, you will many times find that they are telling you "what the President meant was . . ." yet all three will have a different story and each will be telling you something entirely different from the others.

I don't have any answers to the problem, but that still doesn't keep me from getting cussing mad every time it happens.

From this time right until the major elections, we'll be getting a lot of comments from the commentators. The best thing I can think of to do right now is to turn off the radio or television immediately following the speech and not listen to the commentators tear down everything the President or who ever is giving the speech is trying to say.

But, if you listen to them just remember they are only human, they put their pants on like all men (one leg at a time) and that their opinions are just that -- opinions, and that your opinion is just as good as theirs. Don't believe everything they say just because it comes from them. Make up your own mind, and I believe we'll have a better country for it.

Enough of my soap box. Now folks, do you know what Happiness is . . . ? Well, according to a friend of mine it's going to a stag party and recognizing the girl who jumps out of the cake as your new neighbor!

Two things need to be noted about the upcoming Monday holiday. One, get your news, etc. in early (tomorrow) cause the ole editor wants to go fishing Monday so the newspaper and almost all of Burk Burnett will be closed. Two, if you travel, be careful.

The Department of Public Safety states that the traffic deaths in Texas have been on a steady rise as there has been an upward trend to heavier traffic and a disregard for the 55 mile speed limit.

Some 34 lives are expected to be claimed on Texas highways over the holiday weekend. I guess I'm selfish, but I don't want a one of those 34 to be an Informer/Star reader.

Also take a special note of this little fact and your weekend excursion might not be so

FIRE DAMAGE--These related pictures depict a portion of the huge loss suffered by Piggly Wiggly as the Saturday night fire completely destroyed their store.

TOASTED BREAD--Pieces of ceiling insulation lay in the bread aisle of the Piggly Wiggly Store following the fire.

EVERYTHING DESTROYED--Fire, heat and smoke damaged the entire contents of the Piggly Wiggly store. All merchandise was condemned by the Wichita County Health Department.

WHERE FIRE STARTED--The fire reportedly began near the meat vault or the dairy case, shown on the right.

One of the biggest fires in the history of Burk Burnett racked Parker Plaza shopping center Saturday night causing over a half a million dollars in damages. The fire destroyed much of the 12,000 sq. ft. Piggly Wiggly building and all of its contents as well as producing heavy smoke damage in Wacker's and Triple D. It took the Burk Burnett Fire Department some three hours to extinguish the blaze.

The fire apparently started about 10:40 p.m. as that was the time showing on an electrical clock inside Piggly Wiggly which was hit heaviest by the fire. Burk Burnett Volunteer Fire Department responded to the call which came in to the fire station at 10:58.

Heard Crouch, spokesman for the center, stated that damages to the building structure could run as high as $100,000. Tenants of the center all stated that damages would have been extremely higher if it had not been for the outstanding work of the local fire department.

All the stock in Piggly Wiggly was destroyed by the fire, smoke and heat. The Wichita County Health Department Monday condemned all goods in the store as well as the edible goods in Wacker's. They were expected to do the same to edibles in Triple D Discount. These condemned edible goods will be taken to the dump where they will be buried.

The fire apparently started over the dairy case or meat vault in Piggly Wiggly. In a matter of minutes it swept the store and filled others with smoke.

"There's nothing salvagable at all in our store," stated Louis Alexander, district manager for Piggly Wiggly. "We'll begin the clean-up immediately and then we will build back with a totally new food store. We will have all new counters and equipment," continued Alexander. As stated earlier all the stock in the store was condemned and is to be buried.

Crouch, speaking for the owners of the center, stated it would be 60 to 90 days before the building would be remodeled and ready for Piggly Wiggly to open.

Marvin Taliferro, manager of Wacker's, stated he expected the smoke damage to his store to run in excess of $60,000 when the replacement costs began adding up. "We'll be working all week trying to clean up the store where we might be able to open again the first part of next week," continued Taliferro. It was expected to take some 300 man hours to clean up the store prior to re-opening.

The ceiling insulation in Wacker's was charred on one side as the tremendous heat built up in the store.

Triple D Discount manager Mrs. Jean Stevens stated she expected smoke damage in her store to hit between the $40,000 and the $50,000 category.

Shirleen's, carrying a heavy stock of young girl's and women's clothes, received the least damage of all. Some 15-20 persons helped owners Ray and Shirleen Hatcher unload the clothing from the store. "The people were tremendous," stated the Hatchers. "they helped us load almost our entire stock into a couple of vans and a huge U-Haul truck. The fact they were able to move their stock of clothing away from the fire and smoke and that they were able to open their doors to the store where the smoke could get out seemed to greatly reduce what loss was suffered by the store.

Citizens also helped the Triple D Manager remove several cases of shot gun shells from their store.

The one thing in common from all the store owners and managers was their praise for the Burk Burnett Volunteer Fire Department and the assistance given by the police department.

"When you write the article for the paper be sure to include high praise for the fire department," requested Alexander. "They stayed until seven the next morning watching over the rubble to be

News Due Early

Readers and advertisers in the Burk Burnett Informer/Star are asked to try to bring their articles in early this week, as Monday is a national holiday.

The newspaper will be printed on its regular schedule and persons will receive the paper on Thursdays as always, but the Monday holiday will cause some problem for Tuesday (press day).

Don't forget--news, etc. should be in by this Friday if at all possible. The Informer/Star will be closed Monday, and Tuesday noon is the news deadline.

Football Contest Slated

Once again the Burk Burnett Informer/Star will publish a football contest for the avid sports fans of Burk, with the first contest being September 6.

The last one published by the newspaper had as many as 300 entrants a week at one time. There will be 20 high school and nearby or major college games listed each week in the contest.

The persons picking the most winners of the twenty games will be declared the winner of the contest. Ties, if a tie ever exists, will be broken by a tie breaker game.

Only in the tie breaker game will the entrants be asked to pick the score. On all other games only the winner, not the score must be indicated.

The person having the closest to the correct score of the tie breaker game will be the contest winner, if a tie exists.

The contest will be sponsored by local Burk Burnett merchants.

A's Take Softball Tourney

The Wichita Falls "A's" came up in the bottom of the last inning in the second final game to take the Johnson Magnavox team and the tournament trophy Sunday night in the Boomtown Jaycee sponsored slow pitch softball tournament.

Johnson Magnavox came all the way up through the losers bracket to reach the finals. They were defeated the first game of the double elimination tournament by the "A's".

In the finals, however, Magnavox defeated the "A's" 14-2 in their first game, but dropped the second game 12-11.

Third place in the tournament went to Jim Gentry's Banditos and Fourth to Lamar Baptist Church.

The local Burk Merchants team made a better showing that what was rumored they would. They won over the Civics the first game 20-19, and over the Pumpers 9-6 their second game before losing to Uncle Sam's 16-3.

Tony Battista of the Burk Merchants was the only local team member to be selected to the All Tournament Team.

Ed Schalbs of Johnson Magnavox was selected the tournaments Most Valuable Player.

A total of 38 games were played before crowds that reached as high as 500, according to Jaycee president Gregg Williams.

All proceeds from the concession stand will go toward the Jaycee sponsored Christmas Party for local children.

Bulldogs To Take On Coyotes Friday

The Burk Burnett Bulldogs will travel to Wichita Falls Friday night for a controlled scrimmage with the Wichita Falls Coyotes.

"We've got a lot of work to do before we can handle the Coyotes and even more work before we will be ready for the real battle of our first game just over a week away," stated Bulldog Coach Pat Smiley.

In speaking of last Friday's scrimmage with Altus, Smiley stated the Bulldogs looked fair, but committed too many errors to win a ball game. The 'Dogs fumbled six times and threw two pass interceptions. But, this is what scrimmages are for, stated Smiley, to work out your mistakes and to get you ready for the regular games.

Although the Bulldogs weren't able to score during their ball possession limit of plays they did make it to the ten yard line several times. The 'Dog defense only gave up one score to the heavy Altus team, which some say will win the state crown in Oklahoma school-boy football.

Jay Lippard suffered a knee injury in the Friday scrimmage and isn't expected to be able to play this Friday.

With the cooling of the weather, good workouts this week were reported by the coaches and a number of

SCHOOL IN PROGRESS--Tuesday's enrollment figures showed a total of 3,691 students in the Burk Burnett School System, with a few more students expected after Labor Day, according to James Pearson, local superintendent of schools. Enrollments in the various schools showed High School, 1179; Jr. High, 901; Hardin Elementary, 590; Sheppard Burk Elementary, 533; Southside Elementary, 399; and 89 in the afternoon kindergarten. This year's enrollment is down slightly from last year's total of 3,730, but kindergarten is not compulsory this year.

AUSTIN, Tex. — Battle lines are drawn for the State Democratic Convention here September 17.

Liberal delegates, although apparently outnumbered, asserted their intentions at a recent meeting in San Antonio to claim their full share of convention plums.

— First, they made clear, they will fight for proportional representation on the State Democratic Executive Committee, the party's policy-making and house-keeping body in Texas.

— Second, they are demanding their share of the 76 delegates to the national Democratic mid-term convention in Kansas City next December.

— The liberals also made preparations for expressing their views on the party platform, resolutions and rules.

— Finally, they indicated they may challenge Gov. Dolph Briscoe's choice for SDEC chairman and other top committee officers. Choices of incumbent governors for these posts traditionally have gone unchallenged where they have majority control of conventions.

The "open party" Democrats at the San Antonio session adopted a platform committing themselves to a state party organization that will support Democratic candidates and principles at all levels rather than "promoting the policies of incumbent governors."

Bob Bullock of Austin, Democratic nominee for comptroller, is being urged to appoint incumbent SDEC Chairman Calvin Guest of Bryan, Governor Briscoe's choice for a second term.

Meanwhile, the national Democratic charter commission broke up in anger when party regulars and reformers clashed over reform measures in the proposed Democratic constitution.

GOVERNORS TO MEET — Governors of the southern states, Puerto Rico and the Virgin Islands will meet near here September 8-11 to discuss a wide range of problems, including economy and energy.

Governor Briscoe is host to the Southern Governors Conference which will meet at Lakeway, a luxury resort on Lake Travis 20 miles northwest of the Capital City.

About 300 reporters will join the 19 governors and their staffs for the three-day business meeting, and the social rounds of tennis, golf, sailing and parties.

Gov. Melvin Evans, governor of the Virgin Islands, is chairman of the Southern Governors Conference for 1973-74.

INSURANCE JARGON HIT — The State Board of Insurance is declaring war on "the fine print, double talk and gobblede-gook" in insurance policies, according to Board Chairman Joe Christie.

Christie said the average policy holder cannot understand policy jargon, and recent tests show Einstein's theory of relativity is more readable than an average hospital insurance plan.

Christie said efforts will be made in the next session of the legislature to improve "the readability factor" of insurance policies. He recommended that other state agencies give some attention to similar readability problems involving documents over which they have jurisdiction.

No-fault auto insurance will be another subject for legislative consideration in 1975, Christie told Texas Bankers Association at a conference here. He said a recent study on the subject by the Lyndon Baines Johnson School of Public Affairs will be of major help to lawmakers.

AG OPINIONS — The University of Texas must give a legislator access to files on UT land leases, but may keep confidential land appraisals and sealed bid contents, Atty. Gen. John Hill held.

In other recent opinions, Hill concluded:
• Records of a city's exercise of licensing authority over electrical installations is public information and should be disclosed.

• Police supplementary reports of accidents, including witnesses' statements and photographs, although involving possible litigation against a city, are part of the official record and are not excepted from disclosure.

• A faculty member who fails to exercise the option to participate in the optional teacher retirement system does not have the right to a second opportunity to exercise that option on returning to teaching in Texas after terminating previous employment and leaving the state to seek an advanced degree.

• Whether a water pump and irrigation casing are fixtures within terms of taxation depends on facts in a particular case.

• An individual who is not a registered engineer may not display or use membership in or certification by an association using the term "engineer" in its name in his professional or business activities.

COMMITTEES NAMED — State Democratic Chairman Calvin Guest named an election advisory committee to plan statewide rallies and extensive voter registration and get-out-the-vote campaigns to help Democratic nominees.

A pre-election statewide telecast is also under consideration for the party's nominees.

Members of the committee include all statewide Democratic nominees, Guadalupe County Democratic Chairman Lem Allen, Travis County Chairman Ken Wendler, Midland County Chairman Vann Culp, Tarrant County Chairman Estil Vance, Swisher County Chairman R. T. O'Daniel.

Also Democratic Congressional Candidates Bob Krueger of New Braunfels, Jack Hightower of Vernon and Mike McKool of Dallas and seven members of the State Democratic Executive Committee.

SCHOOL AID APPROVED — Seven Texas school districts and four regional education service centers will receive a total of $191,091 in federal funds to develop modern planning, budgeting and program evaluation techniques in 1974-75.

The grants will go to El Paso, Galveston, Birdville, Waxahachie, Irving, New Caney and Lockhart and to ESC regions in Edinburg, Corpus Christi, San Angelo and El Paso. A second round of grants totalling $79,599 will be awarded later this fall.

SHORT SNORTS

A Houston federal court decision held unconstitutional a requirement that campaign literature contain both the name of the person paying for it and identification of the printer or publisher who prepared it. The state will appeal.

Texas Republicans generally expressed disappointment that National GOP Chairman George Bush of Houston did not get the vice presidential nomination, although most had no objection to Nelson Rockefeller.

Joe Bill Watkins is resigning as executive assistant to Attorney General Hill, and will be succeeded by David Kendall. Watkins will return to law practice in Houston.

Governor Briscoe has asked Armstrong County be added to the list of counties designated as disaster areas due to prolonged drought in Central and West Texas.

State Banking Department received an application for a Twin City State Bank at Texarkana.

A statute of former President Lyndon B. Johnson was unveiled at LBJ State Park near Stonewall Saturday (August 24).

The Department of Public Safety denied it made any surveillance or background reports on members or staff of a joint committee on prison reform.

Texas Water Rights Commission set October 10 hearings on creation of Meadowlakes Municipal Utility District (Burnet County) and Timmeron MUD 1 (Hays County near Wimberly).

WTC Opposes Ban On 245-T Chemical

The Executive Committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce opposed any governmental legislation or regulations that would curtail or ban the use of 245-T chemical for brush control in West Texas, at the summer meeting in Hereford.

WTCC president, Burl B. Hulsey, Jr. of Fort Worth, says that "the most common use of 245-T in West Texas is in the area of brush control. Our Agriculture and Ranching Committee works closely with several of the leading universities and experiment stations researching and applying brush control methods, and we have been advised by them that there is no meaningful data at this time to indicate adverse human effects as a result of the application of this chemical to brush."

"Annually, hundreds of thousands of acres of mesquite and other brush infested range land are treated with 245-T. It is the most economical method of control yet devised and, for all practical purposes, the ban of its use would result in brush control on a mass basis coming to a standstill."

In the position paper, it was emphasized that the West Texas Chamber of Commerce has not in the past, nor does it at the present time, advocate practices detrimental to human good but it is time that legislation which abruptly alters food production to the economic detriment of every American be based on legitimate probabilities, and not on one in a million possibilities.

Landowners in West Texas are willing to spend millions of dollars annually in the application of 245-T for brush control so that more food can be produced at a lower cost for the consumer. Banning the use of 245-T would leave producers only the alternative of using mechanical methods which are totally impractical on a large scale and would consume at least 100 times more petroleum products and to a lesser degree other scarce products.

For many years 245-T has been used on a mass basis on the W.T. Waggoner Estate which covers over 500,000 acres in six West Texas counties.

Dick Yeager of Vernon, chairman of WTCC's Agriculture and Ranching Committee, and farm manager for the Waggoner Estate, says that "during the long period that 245-T has been used on our range lands we have never observed or had reported any detrimental effects to man or animal."

Alexander's comments were re-affirmed by the Hatcher's. "The people of Burkburnett don't really know how lucky they are to have this type of fire department. They are extremely knowledgeable about fighting fires and they handled this one as well as any other fire department could (or better). Must Now

Accept Job

Under a proposed regulation announced today by the U.S. Department of Agriculture, an individual who wants to retain eligibility for food stamp program benefits would have to accept a job which requires joining a bonafide labor organization recognized by the National Labor Relations Act. The regulation would not require the recipient to join a company union.

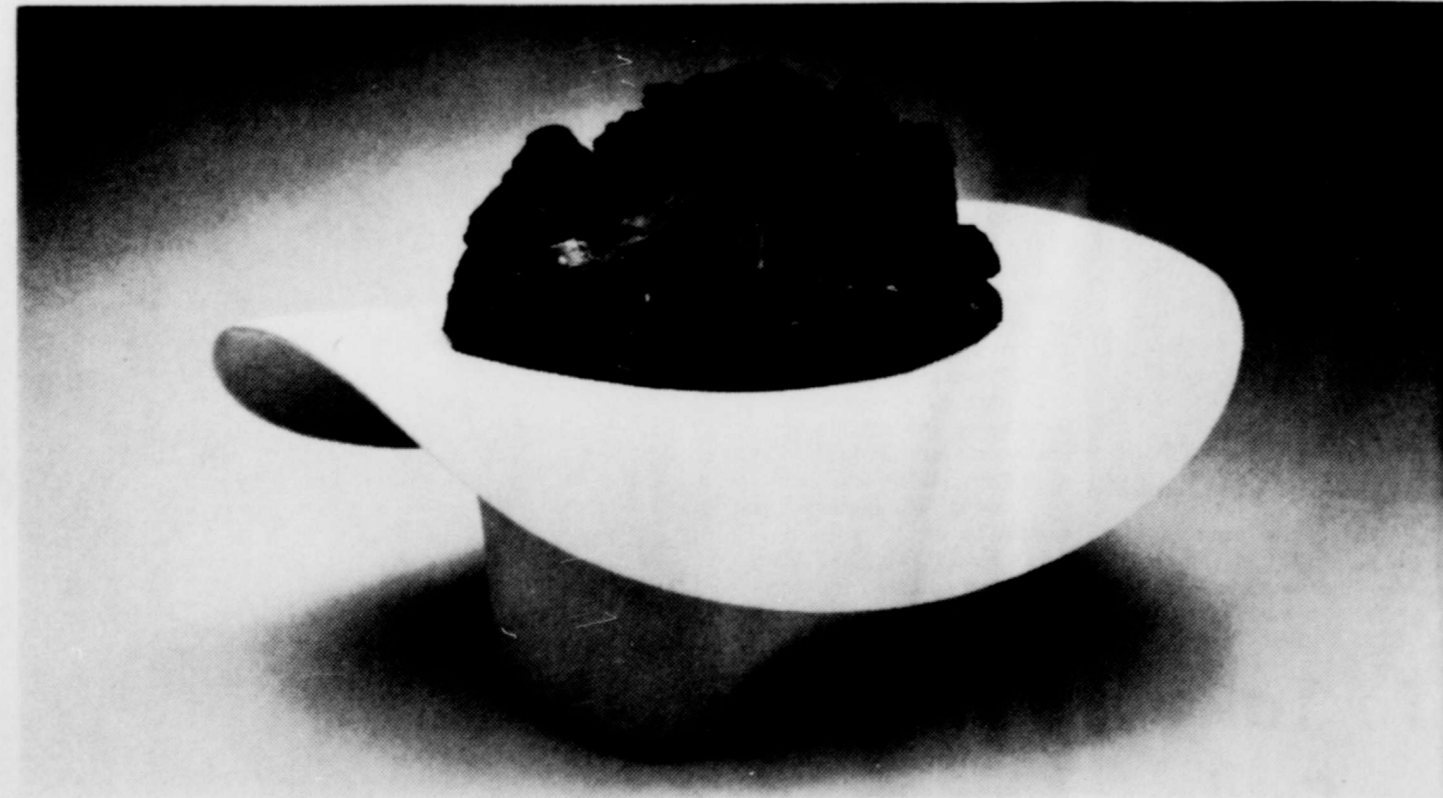

In order to participate in the food stamp program all recipients, with certain exceptions, must register for and accept employment. Current regulations, however, permit a recipient to refuse a job in which he is required to join, resign from, or refrain from joining any legitimate labor organization. The proposed amendment is in line with regulations for the Work Incentive Program of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare.

Texas is full of surprises. Like coal.

In certain areas of Texas there are sizeable deposits of a soft coal called lignite.

Several years ago Texas Electric, along with two other companies, began acquiring rights to some of this lignite because we saw that new supplies of natural gas and oil, our basic fuels, could become increasingly expensive and difficult to obtain.

Today, Texas Electric is using this lignite to generate electricity in our Big Brown plant near Fairfield. Two more lignite plants are under construction.

Using this lignite will help reduce our dependence on natural gas and oil. And one other advantage of using lignite for the generation of electricity is that it isn't being used extensively any other way.

But plants that use lignite cost a lot more than gas/oil plants.

While this means electricity will have to cost more in the future, the cost won't be as much with lignite as it would be with natural gas and oil, even if we could get adequate new supplies.

At Texas Electric, we're continuing the orderly development of our power system so that you'll continue having the electricity you need.

With the increased costs of regular commercial fertilizers, many products appear on the market with fantastic and unrealistic claims as to their value. Thus customers should beware of such products and should take close note of the label before making a purchase.

The Texas fertilizer law and regulations require that products sold as fertilizer show on the label the per cent nitrogen (N), phosphorus (P2O5), potassium (K2O) and other nutrients, if claimed. Those products which do not indicate specific percentage of plant nutrients should not be purchased for application to soils as fertilizers. Fertilizers supply nutrients needed for plant growth. Since most soils contain most of all the essential nutrients, plants will grow without fertilization. Fertilizers just make them grow better.

Nitrogen and phosphorus are most often deficient in Texas soils, with potassium being third. Therefore, the primary purpose of fertilization is to supply one or more of these three major plant nutrients. Wide variation exists between soils as to the levels of available nutrients present. A soil test can provide valuable information about these levels and serve as the basis for determining what nutrients should be in the fertilizer.

If the label does not show what is present in the product -- beware.

Cases of blackleg in cattle are increasing over Texas. Cattlemen are urged to take the necessary precautions to protect young animals from the fatal disease.

Raising calves without immunization is hazardous. Most cattlemen realize the danger of blackleg and routinely vaccinate their calves. However, some become complacent because they don't hear of blackleg outbreaks and therefore fail to vaccinate.

Vaccinating calves too early can cause blackleg. Calves up to three months of age fail to develop a lasting immunity. Vaccination should be at the age of four months and should be repeated annually until the animal is at least two years old.

Before beginning a preventive vaccination program, I would suggest a visit to the local veterinarian for advice on disease problems in the particular area. Certain vaccine combinations are available at a relatively low cost that will protect calves from a series of diseases.

An increase in the demand for American food points to full farm production. This demand has been brought on by an increasing world population, prosperity and devaluation of the dollar. The world population is expected to almost double in the next 25 years. And people want to eat more and higher quality protein. Some eight million more acres were planted to crops in the United States this year, 800,000 of them in Texas.

The Texas 4-H Youth Development Foundation was formed in 1961, and since that time public support for 4-H has grown and flourished throughout the state. The foundation garners private support for 4-H, points out a 4-H and youth specialist for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. It works on a cooperative basis with the Extension Service and is governed by a board of 26 trustees who are leading Texas business executives. The 4-H foundation sponsors many leadership and awards programs on a year-round basis.

The cattle feeding industry is still in a depressed economic situation. Since much of the equity capital of commercial feeders has been used, financing is a real problem. And the loss situation of feedlots is now being felt by cow-calf producers in the form of reduced prices for replacement calves. Cattle numbers on feed as of July 1 will not provide a large marketing level for the fourth calendar quarter, with marketings expected to be down about 15 per cent from last year's level. Feeders will have to be stimulated by profit opportunities before they will refill feedlots.

The latest estimates of feed grain production by the U.S. Department of Agriculture are surprisingly low despite drought conditions in the Midwest. The short crop will put the pressure on prices through much of 1975 although current prices should not show a drastic increase unless the demand picture changes. Total usage of feed grains should be off sharply from last year due to a drop in cattle feeding and a better feed grain balance abroad.

Local Man Heads Farm Organization

A state farm organization leader told a meeting of Wichita County farmers and ranchers at Burkburnett Thursday night that "the recently issued crop report indicates the need for a national food policy to replace the no-policy attitude in government which is becoming a game of Russian roulette."

Jay Naman of Waco, President of Texas Farmers Union, painted a pessimistic picture concerning what he said is "desperate food and feed supply situation." Naman, who was in Burkburnett to present the charter to the Wichita County Farmers Union, a newly organized affiliate of Texas Farmers Union, pointed out that recent crop reports indicate that the carry-over of feedgrains and wheat supplies will be "by far the lowest in our lifetime." He said that this indicated the "desperate need for improved federal farm programs with provisions for the establishment of a food and fiber reserve in case of a disaster."

"Present agricultural policies foster extreme problems for farmers and ranchers. The boom and bust features of farm policy are bad for the producer as well as the consumer. Present conditions spell chaos for the livestock producer, but in the future will be just as precarious for the feedgrain, wheat and cotton producer who continues to face high risk and uncertainty," Naman said.

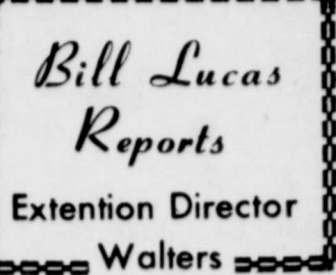

The farm organization president told the newly organized county affiliate that it is time for all farmers to join hands and present a united front to the new president and his administration. He said that most of the nation's farm organizations are now working together through an informal coalition, with only one major farm organization not participating. Naman said, "we have a great opportunity to influence the new administration to strengthen the farm programs and to provide the incentive necessary for an abundant agriculture."

The charter meeting chairman was Jake Fite of Burkburnett & the co-chairman for planning was George Streit of Electra. The members elected the following officers to serve for the coming year: President, Jake Fite; First Vice President, J.B. Riley, Jr.; Second Vice President, Bill McLean; Secretary-Treasurer, Anita Streit; Program Director, Dan Schaffner; Youth Director, Mrs. Ray Arthur; Coop Director, Howard Hinkle; Publicity Director, George Lee Streit; Financial, Larry McAllister, and Legislative, Don Holtzen.

If pecan growers haven't already sprayed for the pecan weevil they should check their trees and start a spray program immediately if two or more weevils are found per tree.

The pecan weevil has become one of the most destructive pests of pecans in Oklahoma. It is also one of the most difficult to control. However, economic control is possible to achieve if weevil sprays are properly timed. Timing of spray applications vary from year to year depending on the emergence of adult weevil from the soil. The adult weevil emerges from the soil any time from late July to October. However, heavy emergence does not normally occur until there is good moisture in the soil, and this often follows a good rain in August. If weevils emerge from the soil and begin feeding before the shell has hardened, the nut will fall from the tree within a few days. Any unusual or excessive nut drop during late July or early August should be investigated to determine if weevil feeding is the cause.

Feeding by the weevil after shell hardening will not cause the nuts to drop. While feeding in this nut may occur any time after weevil emergence, egg laying does not begin until the kernel has solidified. For this reason certain early maturing varieties such as Stuart often have a much higher rate of infestation than late maturing varieties. Several methods may be used to determine when to spray for pecan weevil. One of the best methods is to spread a tarpaulin or sheet beneath a tree which has a history of weevil infestation and then spray the tree with sevin, guthion, malathion, or zolone. If weevils are present they will begin falling onto the sheet within a short period. Four or five trees should be checked. Another method is to spread a sheet or tarp beneath a tree and jar or shake the limbs to dislodge the weevils from the tree where they will fall to the sheet. When two or more weevils are found on a tree, spraying should begin. Any unusual shedding of nuts in late July or early August may also be evidence of weevil feeding. If this is the case spraying should begin. Emergence of weevils from the soil may extend over a period of eight or twelve weeks in dry years and as many as four to five applications of insecticide may be required for control.

SCS Urges Proper Farming Of Terraces

Building terraces can help control erosion, at least for a while. But how terraces do their job depends on how they are farmed.

So says David Springer, district conservationist for the U.S. Soil Conservation Service at Iowa Park.

"Unfortunately, too many farmers plow across their terraces or fail to maintain them properly," Springer said. "Gradually, the terraces lose their capacity to intercept runoff water. Then when heavy rain strikes, many terraces are broken." Springer said SCS has published a new booklet "Farming Terraced Land" which describes ways to farm terraces so that their original capacity is maintained. The illustrated publication gives step-by-step methods for plowing terraced land with a minimum number of trips.

Free copies of "Farming Terraced Land" can be obtained from the local SCS office at Iowa Park, P.O. Box 818, telephone 592-4176.

Water Needed For Livestock

Water is as important as grass in livestock production. Clean water and ample forage are essential for livestock to be finished out in a marketable condition. Inadequate stock water supply in pastures and range areas could mean serious livestock losses, prevent use of needed grazing areas, and encourage overgrazing near existing water.

Not only must enough watering places be developed to satisfy the need for stock, it is important to have the water supply in a central location. Good grass can not be fully utilized if water is not accessible to livestock grazing on any part of the area. Development of enough livestock watering places help in establishing beneficial water conservation practice on range and farm land.

Grazing can be restricted on overgrazed and eroded pasture and range land, and the livestock can be rotated over other areas according to the available forage. Enough watering places in pastures encourage more uniform grazing.

This summer is the time to plan and construct a good Stock Pond and have it when the winter rains come.

Wild Horses On Increase

Wild horses and wild burros are far from being a vanishing breed, reports the U.S. Department of Agriculture and Interior.

A report on the Wild Free-Roaming Horse and Burro Act indicates that the number of animals using public lands is substantially greater than had been reported prior to passage of the act in 1972.

Data available in 1971 indicated there were approximately 17,000 wild horses and 10,000 wild burros on lands administered by Agriculture's Forest Service and Interior's Bureau of Land Management.

Today it is estimated that there are 27,000 wild unbranded and unclaimed horses and 14,000 burros grazing on public lands. Another 17,000 horses and 100 burros have been claimed as privately owned.

Expanded efforts to locate wild herds, improved inventory methods and population growth were given as the reasons for the increase.

THOUGHTS

From The Living Bible

When he came to the village of Nazareth, his boyhood home, he went as usual to the synagogue on Saturday, and stood up to read the Scriptures. The book of Isaiah the prophet was handed to him, and he opened it to the place where it says: "The Spirit of the Lord is upon me; he has appointed me to preach Good News to the poor; he has sent me to heal the brokenhearted and to announce that captives shall be released and the blind shall see, that the downtrodden shall be freed."

Home Demonstration News

By Dee James
County Extension Agent

As September quickly approaches the fifteen Wichita County Home Demonstration Clubs are getting ready to start a new year. This year should prove both fun and educational with programs ranging from "Bread Making" to "Furniture Refinishing".

Home demonstration clubs are composed of homemakers of all ages wishing to stay up to date with current information in all areas of family living, child development, clothing, food preservation, foods and nutrition, home management, housing and home furnishings. Home demonstration clubs work under the guidance of the County Extension Agent.

Home demonstration clubs meet twice monthly under the direction of club officers elected by their membership. Educational programs are presented at each of the club's meetings. Clubs are composed of neighborhood group's giving neighbors a chance to get together for fun, fellowship and educational information.

If you are interested in being part of a home demonstration club now is the time to join as clubs are getting underway for a new year. Clubs meet in all areas of the county and at different times during the day, but if there is not a club near you, you may want to form a new club.

If you are interested in a less formal organization you might want to form an Extension home economics study group. A study group would have a series of programs on a single subject matter area, such as home care and maintenance or home furnishings or the programs may cover several subject matter areas.

For information on a club near you or how to organize a new group call the County Extension Office, 766-0131 or come by 1620 Midwestern Parkway in Wichita Falls.

Thomas-Gilbreath Wedding Held

Miss Rhonda Dell Thomas became the bride of Gerald Glenn Gilbreath in a 7:00 p.m. ceremony Friday, August 23 at Calvary Baptist Church, Haleyville, Alabama. The couple chose this specific date to celebrate the groom's birthday. Officiating was the bride's father, Bill Thomas.

swept to a chapel-length train.

Her three-tiered Juliet veil was made of imported English nylon illusion. Each tier was trimmed with re-embroidered Alencon lace. The bride's bouquet was of yellow sweet-heart roses, white pom pom mums, and baby's breath with yellow ribbon streamers tied in love knots.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W.D. Thomas, Phil Campbell, Alabama, and Mr. and Mrs. H.W. Gilbreath, Wichita Falls. Grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Bishop, Bear Creek, Alabama, and the late Mrs. Bessie Thomas and J.W. Thomas, Haleyville, Alabama, and Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Morris, Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Nova Gilbreath and the late Roy Gilbreath, Haskell.

Nuptial music was provided by Miss Teresa Porter, Haleyville. Songs played were "A Time For Us," "Somewhere My Love," "Colour My World," "We've Only Just Begun," "Bridal Chorus" and "Wedding March." "The Lord's Prayer" was played for the candle-lighting.

A white fanning candleabra entwined with ivy and containing 15 yellow tapers centered the stage. Arrangements of white gladioli and yellow and mint green carnations graced each side.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a floor-length gown of white silk organza posed over Anglemist. Imported English net, lavishly applied with re-embroidered Alencon lace, adorned her basque bodice, formed her high Victorian neckline and cuffs at her full bishop sleeves. Her demi-bell skirt that fell from a cummerbund at her waistline

Mrs. Wayne Gilbreath, Jacksonville, Florida, sister-in-law of the groom, served as Matron of Honor. Maid of Honor was Miss Kathie McMurry, Russellville, Alabama. They each wore a sleeveless, floor-length gown of pastel yellow polyester which featured an empire waistline. Their matching headpieces were a yellow satin bow which held circlets of matching yellow bridal net. They each carried a single, long-stemmed white mum with yellow ribbon streamers tied in love knots.

Flower girls were Misses Regina Thomas, sister of the bride, Phil Campbell, Alabama, and Greta Gilbreath, sister of the groom, Wichita Falls. They wore identical pastel green floor-length gowns which featured empire waistlines, high necklines, and short puffed sleeves. The cuffs of the sleeves and the waistlines were trimmed with mint green lace. They each carried a tiny white wicker basket which held summer arrangements of yellow rosebuds, baby's breath, and greenery.

The bride's brother, Terry Thomas, Haleyville, Alabama, served the groom as best man. Groomsmen was Wayne Gilbreath, Jacksonville, Florida, brother of the groom. Ring-bearer was Kent Gilbreath,

"THERE IS A TIME FOR EVERYTHING..." Ecclesiastes 3:1, The Living Bible, Tyndale House

GOD'S FIVE MINUTES

GOD'S WORD IS OUR DEFENSE

Texas Ranger Captain John C. Hays came to Texas in 1837 and to fame with this saying, "Strike the foe while he is not on the alert." A participant in one of Captain Hays many successful strikes said, "The wild Texas yell so excited the enemy's infantry that they overshot us."

The Bible tells us that, "Satan roams this world like a roaring lion, seeking whom he may destroy." Many times his "roar" has enough psychological impact on us that we overshoot him, and then attempt to flee for our lives.

We have a defense against such stampeding tactics from that old dragon. A poet put it so beautifully, "Old Satan certainly flees when he sees the weakest saint upon his knees." He never stampeded Jesus with his sudden attacks in the wilderness. God's word was our Savior's defense and it is ours also.

"Resist Satan and he will flee from you."

Rifle Club Shoot Held

The Red River Rifle & Pistol Club held its third monthly metallic silhouette shoot Sunday, August 18. A large number of local and out-of-town shooters turned out to compete for the four trophies that were awarded to the winners.

The first place trophy winner was Harry Morgensen of Lawton, Okla.; Second Place, Coy Green of Burkburnett; and Third Place, Greg Cotner of Wichita Falls. A special trophy was also donated and awarded by L&L Garage of Burkburnett. Competition for this trophy was restricted to persons who had not previously competed in any of the club's silhouette matches. This "High New Shooter Award" was won by James M. Burden of Burkburnett.

Club President Jerry Burden said, "I would like to take this opportunity to thank the many people who have organized, conducted, and competed in the club matches and helped to make them such a success."

All interested persons are invited to attend the club's next meeting in the National Room of the First National Bank at 7:30 p.m. on Tuesday, September 10, when plans will be made for the next match scheduled for September.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U. S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. My wife and I are legally separated, but I still pay for her support. Can I claim her as a dependent?

A. No. A wife is not considered a dependent. You are permitted an exemption for her only by reason of the marital relationship. Thus, if you were divorced or legally separated at the end of the year, you may not claim her exemption, even if you contributed all her support.

Q. Can I deduct the cost of building a recreation room in my basement?

A. No. Such expenses are not deductible, but the cost of the improvement can be added to the basis of your house, so that it will be taken into account in the event you should sell your home.

The cost of building a room for business or rental use may be depreciated. For more information, see IRS Publication 530, "Tax Information on Deductions for Homeowners." It's available free from your IRS office.

Q. After an audit, the IRS disallowed some of my deductions. I paid the tax, but I still think the IRS was wrong. How long do I have to wait before I can file suit in Federal court?

A. Claims are usually processed shortly after they are filed. If your claim is rejected, you will receive a statutory notice of disallowance of your claim. If the IRS has not acted on your claim within six months from the date you filed it, you can then file suit for refund in your United States District Court or in the U.S. Court of Claims. You can obtain information about procedures for filing suit in either court by contacting the clerk of your district court or the clerk of the Court of Claims, 717 Madison Place, N.W., Washington, D.C. 20005.

Q. The Veterans Administration is paying my college tuition and other expenses under the G.I. Bill. Are these amounts taxable?

A. No. Veteran's benefits paid under any law administered by the VA to veterans and their families are not taxable.

"No Need To Hide" To Show At 1st Baptist
It all began with a lonely boy's search for love... NO NEED TO HIDE, an eye-opening and heart-warming color film that retraces the life story of Nicky Cruz, a former warlord in the ganglands of New York, will be shown at First Baptist Church at 6:00 p.m. on Sunday, September 1. Television star, Art Linkletter travels with Nicky on a return visit to the ghettos of Manhattan to meet former friends, many of whom are still involved in a gangland intrigue. Together they retrace the steps and describe the life that made Cruz one of the most feared gang leaders in the Bronx. Very early in life Nicky Cruz was rejected by his mother. Broken, bewildered and certain that no one cared, he ran the gamut of human emotions and by the time he reached 18 was guilty of almost every crime known to man. Then he had a personal encounter with Jesus Christ! So dramatic was the change that Nicky rounded up his gang and marched them to the police to surrender their arsenal of weapons. In return they asked the shocked and disbelieving police to autograph their Bibles. The story of Nicky Cruz as told in NO NEED TO HIDE is a thrilling experience that will help restless youth and adults find meaning and purpose for life. Produced by Stitt, Combs and Evans. NO NEED TO HIDE was filmed on location in California, New York and Carolinas. Released by Gospel Films Inc. of Muskegon, Michigan, producers of such award winning films as THE TONY FONTANE STORY, FLIP SIDE, HIGH ON THE CAMPUS, and A MAN AND HIS MEN.
