It would seem to me that this past week would have been a good time to be the owner of stock in Alka-Seltzer or eye drops. I've never seen so many stuffed individuals with eye strain in my life as was the case over the Thanksgiving holidays.

The football games were so close together that I couldn't keep the teams apart. Of the games, none (including the Texas and A&M game) surprised me as much as USC's 55-24 romp over Notre Dame. I just couldn't believe any team could be behind Notre Dame 24-6 at half-time and then come back to hold the Irish scoreless while scoring 49 points themselves.

'Tis the Christmas season already as you will notice from the number of local merchants advertising their Christmas gifts in this week's edition of the paper. As always, I would urge that we all buy as many of the gift items we purchase as possible from our local merchants.

It may be a Chamber of Commerce saying, but Buying in Burk, does help Build Burk.

Also in regard to Christmas, our local high school choir under the direction of Ted James will be presenting a Christmas concert on Dec. 18 from 11:30-12:00 and 12:30-1:00 in the lobby of the Burkburnett

In a recent report from Congressman Bob Price he stated that interest is gathering in Washington in support of his suggestion to include animal protein foods in foreign and domestic food relief programs.

"The Agriculture Committee's tour of the Sahel Region of Africa showed that Africans are willing consumers of meat and dairy products, and in fact efforts are underway there to improve local animal herds.

Addition of canned and cured beef, pork, poultry and dairy products to U.S. overseas food relief programs, and our domestic ones as well, would not only provide nourishing food for those facing starvation, but would also help our domestic livestock industries by helping to eat up the excess of livestock now on our farms and ranches and in the feedlots."

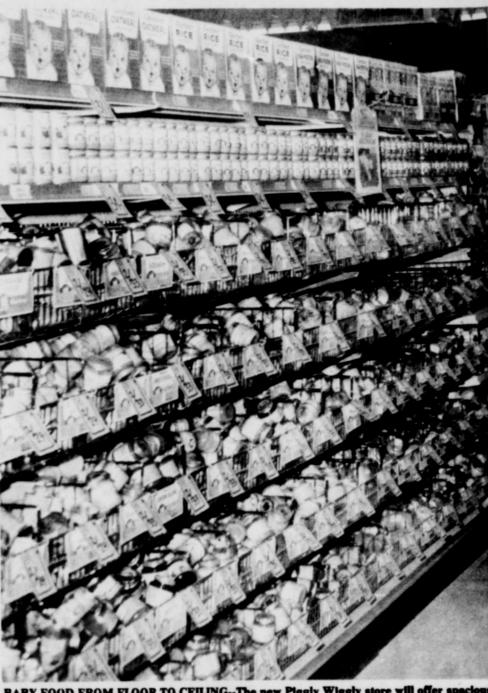

I hope something good comes from the project. I've always wondered why we couldn't send some of our surpluses instead of money to help those countries.

Fellow newspaper friend, Roy Bilberry of Graham, had something of interest about the cattle situation. Roy wrote . . . "I read a story this week about a rancher near San Marcos. With the opening of hunting season and the bad market conditions of the beef industry, it is particularly timely. It might give some local landowners an idea.

The San Marcos rancher took out a quarter page ad to run a "Hunter's Special." For $200 per gun per day, he offers to allow hunters to kill one each of the following: a buck or doe, a steer or heifer, a rabbit (either sex) and an armadillo (either sex).

There are plenty of ranchers in the Graham area who would be glad to get $200 for a steer or heifer, and who would not mind throwing in a deer, rabbit and armadillo. Or turn it around

Feedlot Manure Cheaper, And Saves Energy, Too

COLLEGE STATION--Not only is it cheaper to fertilize your land with feedlot manure, it is also a good way to save energy, believes Dr. John Sweeten, agricultural engineer with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

"Use of manure as a fertilizer can save energy used in the manufacture and distribution of commercial fertilizer." says the Texas A&M University System

'It takes 5.6 million BTU's (British Thermal Units) of energy per acre to manufacture distribute and apply commercial fertilizer at the rate of 180-60-0, while the energy needed to collect, haul and apply feedlot manure at 10 tons per acre is only 1.2 million BTU's," says Sweeten. "This is an energy savings of 4.4 million BTU's per acre or .44 million

BTU's per ton of manure." Another way of conserving energy from feedlot manure is to refeed it in beef cattle rations, says Sweeten. "The energy saved by refeeding one ton of feedlot manure would equal the amount of energy needed to produce one ton of alfalfa in the Texas High Plains, 4.2 million

Energy can also be saved in producing anhydrous ammonia by using a process to convert manure, air and water into hydrogen and nitrogen. "This process would require little or no additional fuel to produce ammonia," says Sweeten, 'and would save more energy than any other process using feedlot manure. Some 39 million BTU's of energy are now required to produce a ton of

THE PROCLAMATION OF CHRIST

Christianity did not begin as a new social gospel, nor has it become one today to those who are true believers.

The preaching of the Word led to the proclamation of Christ, and this provided an undeniable holiness of life on the part of those who received the Gospel. This was, and is, the secret of the true Gospel of Christ.

Look for it in any age of man, in any city of the world, in case of any crisis that may befall Christian men-

- They will be true to the Word . . . God's Word . . . the Bible
- They will exhibit holiness of mind, body and life
- They will show forth the power and presence of the Holy Spirit in all their contacts with their fellow men.

Any other gospel is spurious and is to be spurned of the Texas House of Representatives, served as a delegate to the seven-month Consititutional Convention in Austin earlier this year.

"The convention was a learning experience not only for those who served as delegates but for all Texans," Finnell said. "The knowledge we have gained will be beneficial in many areas of public concern." Finnell observed, "If and when there is to be another effort toward this end, there should be delegates elected solely for that purpose. Never again should the Texas Legislature sit as an ex-officio' Constitutional Convention.

"I am honored to have been asked to leave these papers to such a worthwhile area-wide historical organization," Finnell said.

The public is invited to attend the event at 10:00 a.m. on Saturday at Fort

Mail Early Says Local Postmaster

Postmaster Zimmerman wishes to remind you that the Burkburnett Post Office can help make your holidays happier with your cooperation in mailing early and often and following wise mailing practices. This in turn will help them speed their work at the post office.

You are probably already aware of the suggested mailing dates of December 10 for surface parcels; December 15 for cards and letters; and December 21 for air parcels. Please observe these dates.

They would also appre ciate your careful attention to a few other points such as using ZIP Codes in addresses. It would help them tremendously if you would bundle large mailings for "LOCAL" "IN STATE" and "OUT OF STATE" deliveries. And don't forget to use strong packaging materials when wrapping those Christmas parcels for mailing.

Mr. Zimmerman wants you to know that they are anxious to receive all your mail and postal employees stand ready to insure prompt delivery during the holiday season. Please help them have another successful Christmas by mailing early.

Mr. Zimmerman stated, We wish to thank everyone and we wish everyone happy holidays"

Burk scored first in the third quarter, but Childress then ran off eight unanswered points to pull to within four, 27-23. Marty Ray then sank a pair of free throws to give the JV some breathing room after three quarters, 31-25.

The big story of the fourth quarter was Rick Mc-Crackens' performance. McCracken, who had 21 points for the night, scored all fifteen Burk points in the period. McCracken had seven field goals and sank seven shots from the free throw line.

Next high scorers for Burk were Brett Patty and John Lonsdale, with six each. High point men for the Bobcats were John Smith, Gary Shelton and John Shelton, all with nine points.

Childress Over Burkburnett, 55-51

The Bulldog Varsity basketball team began their season with as much flair and excitement as basketball fans have come to expect. The only unexpected turnout was that the Bulldogs lost the close battle to the Childress Bobcats 55 to 51 on Nov. 21.

The loss might be attributed to the 18 turnovers of the Bulldogs, 6 of which were in the last two minutes of the game. Other than turnovers, the 'Dogs played a fine game offensively as well as defensively. Burk ran a zone and Chi'dress virtually rebounding 16 times.

Burk JV's Slap Rider

The Burkburnett Junior Varsity, as strong this year as last year, showed Rider how to play basketball as they dominated the whole game 75 to 62.

The Rider JV defended their goal with a man-to-man defense and a court press. Their offense was mainly a run and shoot type with the JV 'Dogs rebounding most of the time, led by Rick McCracken and Gary Willman. Riders' running score was due primarily to the shooting abilities of the twin brothers, T. Williams and S. Williams.

The Bulldogs took advantage of the Raiders turnovers and the rebounding as they ran away with the game. John Lonsdale and Rick McCracken led the Burk team in scoring with 20 and 15 points respectively. The Dogs scored mainly from under the basket with John Lonsdale scoring continuously from the outside. The JV also made 21 of 34 free throws to average 62 percent

Reduce Barky Cotton

LUBBOCK--As if summer drought, a well fall, disease, hail and low prices were not enough, some cotton producers now may have to face the prospects of reduced grades and possibly even yield due to "barky" cotton.

The strange condition is the result of prolonged periods of wet, humid conditions during the latter part of the season, says Dr. Robert B. Metzer, Cotton Specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service.

Cotton plants that were killed by desiccants, verticillium wilt or other diseases prior to the prolonged wet spell now have deteriorated to the point that limbs and stalks break off during stripping, he explains. Strips of bark are peeled from these broken sticks and limbs in harvesting and ginning operations.

The former Lubbock-based specialist who now serves the state from Extension headquarters at College Station says that barky cotton will be reduced by delaying stripping until the cotton plant has time to dry out.

With green stalks, it is difficult to remove the bolls from the plant, requiring close setting of the stripper rolls to get the cotton," he adds. "Under these conditions, considerably more barky bales can be expected.

"Under dry, open weather conditions, stripping will improve each day. Grade, whiteness of the cotton, also will improve with open weather. But, excessive delay of harvest will result in deteriorated plants, and thus bark, loss in grade and even yield can be expected," he Sheppard AFB, Texas -Two officers and 24 enlisted men at Sheppard Air Force Base will retire at the end of November following 20 or more years in military service.

The two officers are Lieutenant Colonels Ray D. McLaughlin, commander of Detachment 2, 2nd Bomb Wing, Strategic Command (SAC), and Albert G. Schneider, air operations officer at Base Operations, 3750th Air Base Group of Air Training Command. Colonel McLaughlin is retiring in Little Rock, Ark., after 23 years of service and Colonel Schneider, in Columbus, Ohio, after 28

Chief Master Sergeant Howard Kendrick, senior airman advisor at Sheppard Technical Training Center, is retiring in Wichita Falls after 31 years.

Retiring in area towns are Senior Master Sergeant Vern M. Mikkelson, ground radio communications superintendent, 2054th Communications Squadron, Air Force Communications Squadron, who has completed 23 years of service; and Master Sergeant Samuel P. Hassell, aircraft maintenance superintendent, 3751st Field Training Squadron of SAAS, years. Sergeant Mikkelson is retiring in Iowa Park, Texas, and Sergeant Hassell, in Burkburnett.
