BURKBURNETT STAR TO GIVE $300.00 IN PRIZES

FREE RODEO TO BE HELD SATURDAY EVENING

CHAIR RACE TO FEATURE EVENT POSTPONED FROM LAST WEEK

The Free Rodeo which was to be held in this city last Saturday afternoon was postponed on account of the heavy rain and will be held this Saturday afternoon.

Buster Morgan, the promoter, states that practically the same program will be carried out this week that was scheduled for last week with the business men's chair race to feature the program. The Brahmas, roping calves and wild horses are all in good shape. The merchants whose ads appear in this week's paper are offering some "red hot" specials for the throng that is expected to be here Saturday and it will pay you to take advantage of these bargains. This is next to the last rodeo for this year. These rodeos have been sponsored by the merchants of Burkburnett and are free to the public. The next rodeo will be held Nov. 10, when a big program is planned under the direction of the American Legion.

DON'T BE MISLED

Food prices are going up the coming winter far above what they should be, but Burkburnett citizens are hereby warned against rumors of a probable shortage. It has been discovered that merchants in several parts of the country have been frightening their customers into hoarding foodstuffs by telling them there is going to be a scarcity on account of the drought.

There is no Adjustment Association. Supplies of canned fruits and vegetables, he claims, promise to be close to six percent greater this year than last. This is also borne out by the Department of Agriculture. Reports to the latter organization warrant the statement that there are ample supplies of fresh fruit and vegetables, so there is no necessity for hoarding. Supplies of vegetables for canning were reduced slightly by drought but only moderately under the average five-year output. Canned vegetable supplies in 1934-1935 are expected to be nine percent greater than last year. Canned tomato supplies will likely be 14 percent above the five-year average. Canned sweet corn, green peas, beans, etc., will be plentiful although 11 to 24 percent under the supplies in boom years when folks ate more. Canned fruits will be about two percent greater than last year. Keep those figures in mind and refuse to be stampeded into food hoarding when there is no occasion for it.

NEW DEAL FOR OLD DOBBIN

Folks around Burkburnett used to say "a car in the garage does not eat anything." The argument was that autos and tractors are cheaper in the long run because they only eat while at work. On the other hand the horse, with some exceptions, eats only while at work, and then he is usually in the pasture. But a new side developed to the picture, and old Dobbin and his long-eared half-brother, the mule, are again in demand on the farm. Farmers are beginning to see that the auto, truck and tractor, when they eat, require liquid food that takes cash to buy. Dobbin and shave-tail can eat of crops that are already at hand. Not only that, they can get rid of a surplus that is none too profitable as it is, and pay their way with their work. So the horse, in the guise of farm relief, is on the road back to stalls and pastures.

It is estimated that a horse or mule doing farm work consumes each year about an acre of pasture grass, about a ton and a half of hay, some 20 bushels of corn and 70 bushels of oats. Or, otherwise put, the draught animal consumes the crops from three to five acres of land.

The result is that there is now an increasing demand for horses, and horses are scarce. Horse and mule breeders in past years have taken for granted that these animals were on their way to extinction because of the advancing machine age. There was no market for them. Today they are taking an entirely new view of the situation. The increasing demand for horses and mules puts a new value on them. It's the truck and the tractor that will now have to fight for a place on the farm.

What became of the old-time Burkburnett man who could quarrel with his wife without reminding her who earned the money?

You can always tell when a Burkburnett husband is henpecked. He stands silent and looks miserable while his wife is bawling somebody out.

There are two things that are difficult to keep down—a good man and taxes.

All a reasonable Burkburnett parent asks is that his 20-year-old child be as sensible as 25 more years have made him.

If we could see ourselves when drunk as others see us we'd never speak to ourselves again.

What became of the old-fashioned woman who was perfectly satisfied with her kitchen.

Now and then a political candidate discovers that the trouble with their backers is that too many of them back out.

Another good way to start a conversation with a stranger is to ask him how his foot troubles are coming on.

Can you remember the old-time preacher who seemed to think that everybody who sat in the back seat was a sinner.

There are men who would license an evil if it brought revenue to a hard-hit town, but not even the law can make a wrong right.

BUSINESS MARCHES ON!

With the opening of Barrow-Grace Chevrolet Co. in new quarters, Burkburnett again witnesses proof that progress is the law of the times.

Barrow-Grace Chevrolet Co. has won its success through business deals of sound judgement tempered with a spirit of fellowship. That its policies are in keeping with the new business era is emphasized by the hearty good wishes of the company's customers and associates.

We wish for Barrow-Grace even greater success in its new home than it has experienced in the past.

duction in 1923. There were assembly plants at Janesville, Buffalo and Norwood, Ohio. Another was an export plant at Bloomfield, N. J., opened May 1, and the fifth was a new pressed steel plant at Flint, which got under production March 1. On Feb. 27 of this year the 1,000,000th car was built. Many new sales zones were established and the one formerly at Fort Worth was moved to Dallas.

Mr. Knudson became president and general manager of Chevrolet on Jan. 15, 1924. In May of the same year R. H. Grant came into the organization as vice-president and general sales manager, and in September Chevrolet for the first time began using the facilities of General Motors proving at Milford, Mich., where the Chevrolet test cars now pile up a million miles a year.

In 1925 for the first time volume was more than 500,000 cars, and made Chevrolet the world's largest builder of three-speed transmission cars, a record consistently maintained since that date. This year the utility express truck was introduced and on July 16 the two millionth Chevrolet—a coach—rolled off the assembly lines at Flint.

Record sales necessitated a huge $10,000,000 expansion program in 1926 which brought the production capacity to a million cars a year, and gave Chevrolet more than a half million square feet of factory floor space. Practically all plants were enlarged and a new motor plant was erected at Flint which relieved the Tarrytown plant of all but assembly operations. An experimental laboratory also was erected at Detroit for engineering work, and new parts distributions plan was launched which called for an expenditure of $2,400,000 and involved the erection of parts warehouses at zone headquarters and major parts depots at assembly plant location.

In 1927 volume for the first time was more than a million units and made the Chevrolet Motor Company the world's largest automobile manufacturer for the year. On Jan. 13th, the three millionth unit—another coach—was built at Flint. The sales division was enlarged in May, with Mr. Grant becoming vice-president in charge of sales, H. J. Klingler general sales manager; and M.

D. Douglas and D. E. Ralston assistant general sales manager, in charge respectively of Eastern and Western United States. Two million dollars was spent for a new parts building and an administration building at Flint, and a $2,500,000 assembly plant for Atlanta was announced in the Fall which got into production the following April. It has a capacity of 350 cars a day. A $4,500,000 foundry at Saginaw, Mich., also was purchased in September.

Two new regions were created as of Jan. 1, 1928. On January 11 the four millionth car—still another coach—was built at Flint, and many of the plants were enlarged and re-equipped to bring capacity to a million and a quarter cars a year. In April the Atlanta plant started production and in May work was started on another assembly plant, of the same size as the one at Atlanta, for Kansas City.

This year also saw Chevrolet abandon its position as the then world's largest builder of four-cylinder cars to enter the six-cylinder field. The six was announced on Nov. 18, 1928, and was placed on exhibition at various points throughout the country on a staggered program between that date and the close of the year. The 1928 output was 1,200,000 cars, a new record in the history of the company.

In 1929, with production exclusively sixes, the output mark rose to 1,320,000 units—four times the number ever built in a similar period of time by a six-cylinder car manufacturer. The same year also saw R. H. Grant leave the Chevrolet division to become a vice-president of General Motors, and H. J. Klingler succeed to full control of the Chevrolet sales organization with the title of Vice-President and General Sales Manager. This change was made in May, 1929. Other changes in personnel also were made during the year.

In 1930 a new spring plant, in Detroit, was erected and placed in production, and the production facilities were further increased by the purchase, in October, of the Martin-Perry Corporation body plant at Indianapolis and 21 branches maintained by this company in various parts of the country. The plant was equipped for immediate production of Chevrolet commercial car bodies. Purchase of this development brought the number of

BE CAREFUL

- IF any laxative is dispensed (makes you thirsty). IF it affects your appetite. IF you need more today than the first time you took it. IF it drains the system by too watery a movement. IF a bad "burning" is felt. IF there is severe griping.

If you have children who are occasionally constipated, you should know this.

If you are "not yourself" because of a constipated condition, don't blame it on your blood condition, or your age, but first try this treatment that safely relieves sluggishness in children or adults.

The Proper Treatment

You can't safely relieve the bowels with any medicine if you can't regulate the dose. To regulate dosage, you should have a liquid laxative. When necessary to repeat, you can gradually reduce the dose. And that is the secret of safe relief from a sluggish, constipated condition at any age.

A liquid laxative can be measured. Its action can be thus controlled. If properly made, of such natural laxative elements as senna and cascara, it forms no habit—even in the youngest child. And such a laxative will help the bowels to help themselves.

Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin is an approved liquid laxative containing herbs, active senna, and castor oil and is the one widely used, can always obtain it at any drug store. Why not make the "test" which has attracted so much attention of late? It helps everyone who tries it. It makes you feel better overnight. The children will like it, too; Syrup Pepsin has a delightful taste.

If you will risk sixty cents to cover the safe, pleasant action of Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, believe bowel worries will be for your household.

ALWAYS FORWARD--

That Is Burkburnett's Aim In Both Civic And Business Endeavor

A progressive step—your new home, Barrow-Grace. We commend you and your organization. We rejoice with every forward step for the business concerns of Burkburnett, for such progress denotes growth of the entire community.

Your growth in business is occasioned by your service to the public. We congratulate you on your new improved quarters, and we congratulate the public for having such a firm for its business dealings.

THE BULLDOGS GROWL

Edited by the Students of Burkburnett High School

BURKBURNETT, WICHITA COUNTY, TEXAS FRIDAY, OCTOBER 19, 1934

VOLUME 1

Our Seniors

Beatrice Elizabeth Baumhardt
Beatrice was born on June 15, 1918 in Archer County Texas. She is sixteen years old and four feet and 8 inches tall. She is considered rather plump.

She moved to Burkburnett in 1927, and is another one of those farm girls, in fact she helps her dad run the diary. Some of her favorites are: teacher, Miss Morgan; subject, Home Economics; hobby, horse back riding; sport, football; food, spinach and crackers; pastime, reading Love Stories; actress, Katharine Hepburn; actor, Bing Crosby; boy, She is like God, she loves them all.

Howard Bentley

Howard, better known as "Fat", the talkative captain of the football team, was born in Taylor (or at least that's the name of the nearest store; if you want to find it on the map it's five miles east of Randlett) on February 11, 1917. He reports that he now lives in a half-dugout near Hare Valley, Oklahoma and that he never attended school before coming here and entering the seventh grade.

A "few" of his favorites are: Girl (girls are not in his line) Johnnie Baptiste will be O. K.; gum, Double Bubble; food, spinach or pineapple pie (can't decide); actress, Minnie Mouse, actor, Mickey Mouse; subject, football, drink, Paul Jones, teacher, Mr. Hill; flower, sweet pea; color, black; music, radio.

With much effort a few more interesting things were obtained. The facts that could possibly be printed are as follows: Best looking girl, (had never given it a thought) G. L. Shafer would pass; best looking boy (something else that never was given much space in his vacuum) Doc Sims; most popular boy, Owen Hatcher; most popular girl, (during football season girls aren't even considered) Othor Wheeler is near enough to it; pastime, loafin'; ambition, to be President of the USA, hobby studying football (Mr. Hill, he has done his best to make a good impression).

His Waterloo

By Barbara Crissey

They had always called him "The Weakling" and laughed at him when he wouldn't talk in class. "Well I'll show 'em," thought the weakling, otherwise known as Geo. Gore. He squirmed into his football suit. "They've got pretty good men on that Waterloo team. I don't know whether we've got a chance to win or not, but it won't hurt to try," and he walked out on the field with the rest of the boys.

While trying to catch a ball, George fell. One boy, Bob Smith yelled, "Ho, Ho, the weakling can't even stand up." This enraged George and he started toward his offender, but was stopped by Joe Kelly, his closest friend. Soon the game began.

"Quite, please," ordered the pretty young nurse to the football boys who came in the hospital. "If you want to see George Gore I'm afraid that you can't. He was seriously, perhaps fatally injured last night. You may sit here in the waiting room," a few minutes after boys had arrived. Her face was very white. Mrs. Gore was followed by the doctor.

He spoke to one of the boys, "You are Joe Kelly, aren't you?"

"Why, yes I am," Joe replied, a bit puzzled.

"Then come in here with me please," and the doctor opened a door. Joe was led to George's room.

George was there on the bed as white as the pillow his head was on. He was smiling at Joe.

"How are you feeling, George?" asked Joe. George shook his head; his eyes rolled around. The nurse went for Mrs. Gore.

Joe soon left the doctor, nurse, and Mrs. Gore and entered the waiting room. All jumped up at his arrival. "How is he?" asked the coach.

"Coach," said Joe, "last night we defeated Waterloo, but George lost."

Library News

High School students will be glad to know that, according to a recent letter from the bookbinding company, the box of rebound books was to leave the bindery about October 18. This means that the books may be back in Burkburnett and ready for use next week.

The library now owns a copy of the "Handy Volume Atlas of the World", published by C. S. Hammond & Company. This book is carefully indexed and contains maps of the various countries of the world with a descriptive gazetteer of the countries. It contains also, in alphabetical order, maps of the states of the United States.

Football Poster

The attention of students and faculty members is being attracted this week to a poster in the bulletin board entitled "See the Bulldogs in Action," which was made by Corinne Morse. The members of the opposing team seem to have been pretty hard hit, judging from their black eyes and cars. All the members of both teams are staging a breath-taking fight, as evidenced by the way their tongues are hanging out. Perhaps the most interesting feature of the poster is the fact that the players' jerseys are numbered so that observers can pick out each member of the Burk team and see just how much his tongue is wagging. This poster serves as a constant reminder to both students and teachers that there is to be a hotly waged game of football "Friday night," and the poster may not be exaggerating in the least just what may be seen on Wester-Field when Burk encounters Throckmorton.

Lions Club Dinner Guest

Some students of Burk High School are looking forward to getting their report cards next Wednesday for more than the usual reason. The unusual reason happens to apply to boys only.

Each six weeks the high school boy making the highest grades for that six weeks will be honor guest of the Lion's club each Tuesday night of the following six weeks. This plan is to be in effect throughout the present school year. A boy must be taking at least four subjects to be eligible to compete in the contest.

Aside from the facts that the winner misses a night of study, gets a good meal free, associates with some of the business men of the town, enjoys a good program, and enjoys greatest incentive for having these privileges no doubt comes in the fact that they are the means by which recognition for making the best record is called to the attention of townspeople and fellow students. Think over the various reasons, boys and see if there are not incentive's for you.

Pep Squad News

The pep squad accompanied by the band and some of the business men went to Wichita Falls, Friday afternoon at four o'clock and paraded in order to advertise the game with Seymour. The parade attracted the attention of everyone.

Wichita Falls was represented by a large number of people who cheered for the Bulldogs.

The pep squad made an "S" for Seymour in their formation which brought cheers from the entire audience and then they made a "B" and carried it off the field.

They were very proud of the Bulldogs and will back them in every game.

Freshman Flashes

Mr. Foreman: (In General Science Class) "How many ribs have you?"
Bill W. (Squirring at the thought) "I don't know I am so awful ticklish I've never counted 'em."

Laverne Patton attended the Dallas Fair.

Miss McClure: "Now, in getting a meal, what is the first and most important thing?"
La Nelle: "Find the can opener."

Virginia Vaught visited relatives in Emory, Texas, and on her return trip stopped at the Dallas Fair.

What Student?

1. Can't get down the halls alone?
2. Is ineligible for football Friday?
3. Is so musical in the halls?
4. Never has a fountain pen in class?
5. Wears a cap—always?
6. Received a bottle of hair oil from a girl friend?
7. Dearly loves to avoid assembly?
8. Receives letters from a certain Cashion blonde via hand-to-hand carriers?
9. Didn't go home after the game Friday night?
10. Prefers to go to Randlett rather than come to a football meeting?
11. Was at a disadvantage Friday night due to a boil on his lap?
12. Drives girl friend's car after the game?
13. Is a good "hot dog" vendor?
14. In Senior class is crazy about a freshman girl?

The decrease in marriages may be due largely to the increasing difficulty in supporting both the government and a wife on a present day income.

Mr. Reeves was giving his class of pupils a test on a recent natural history lesson.

"Now, Marvin," he said, "tell me where the elephant is found."
Marvin hesitated for a moment, then his face lit up.
"The elephant, teacher," he said, "is such a large animal it is scarcely ever lost."

Will someone please tell Mary Virginia Coats what position "Shift" plays on the Burk High School football team?

Office News

All students making the honor roll for both semesters last year are requested to leave their names in the office as soon as possible. The requirements for the honor roll are that the student must be taking three full time subjects and make one G with no grade lower than S. Mr. Duncan states that they would like to award these pins in December. The cooperation of the students is requested.

The High School Officials wish to thank the men teachers of the grade and high school for their aid and cooperation in helping take care of the tickets and guarding the fences at the football games.

Senior Picnic

As the Seniors like the wide open spaces, and in some cases need to work off some surplus energy, they are going to the country once again for their entertainment. This time it is a weiner roast at the home of Frances Clark. The time is 7:30 Saturday night. Seniors will miss the time of their life if they are not present at this picnic. Please leave your "Senior Dignity" at home for this one night, as we are going to have another one of our entertainments that go over with a bang!

F. F. A.'s At The Fair

A short business session was held after the noon hour Friday, Oct. 12 in order to elect a representative from Burk to attend FFA State convention which is being held at the State Fair, Dallas. The nominees were Bert Waldon, John Garner, Tollie-McKown, Louis Sims, Howard Bentley and Hubert Gragg. After much confusion they finally cast their votes in favor of Howard Bentley, Louis Sims and Hubert Gragg for their representatives.

These students expect to go to Dallas Friday night and come back Sunday.

Fans Parade in Wichita

To let the people of Wichita Falls know about the Burkburnett Bulldogs, a parade consisting of the Band and 35 cars paraded in Wichita Falls Friday afternoon. Oscar Archibald Kemp, chairman of the committee and acting as General, led the parade.

The parade was met just out of Wichita Falls by a special conveyance from the police who stopped the traffic for the march which passed down 6th to Indiana and up Scott back to 6th.

Through the courtesy of W. B. McClurkan & Co. news of the game was broadcast from station KGKO Wednesday and Thursday evening at 6:30 and on Friday afternoon at 1:10.

Senior Stand

The Seniors of '35, finding that the fans of the Bulldogs are fond of all kinds of dogs ranging from Bulldogs to "hot dogs", after long consideration and deep meditation, have decided that they will do their best to cook all of the hot dogs the fans can eat, although it may take the aid of all the kings horses and all the king's men.

La-a-di-e-s and gent-ul-me-en, there will be thirty dozen hot dogs barking for masters at the Senior Stand Friday night. Come and take your pick.

You will also be able to secure pie, coffee, candy, gum, peanuts, and cold drinks. The seniors will be prepared to "dish it out" to you Friday night; so bring on your orders and don't disappoint them.

Pups Thrash Electra Juniors

Led by Pace and Teal the Pups whipped the Electra Juniors 18 to 6. With the addition of Wayne Pace, new quarter back, the pups showed greater improvement over their previous game. His accurate kicks and passes put the Pups on the higher end of the score. Two of the touchdowns were made by the gridiron demon, Pace, and he passed to Teal for the other marker.

Coach Culpepper and Coach Williamson's boys showed greater improvement in the forward wall than in their previous game, being led by Wolfe, center, and Blanscet, end.

The Electra Juniors scored in the third quarter for their only marker against the strong local team.

Rip

His name is "Rip," his ancestors inhabited the streams of southern Texas. His mother, and no doubt numerous cousins, uncles, and other relatives dwell in and among the marshes and swamps of the Sabine river near the Gulf of Mexico.

His mother, in searching for a favorable place for her next generation to discover America, located an old drift which seemed to furnish ample protection; and there among leaves, logs and other rubbish deposited eighteen eggs.

At this point man, the self styled "monarch of all" who is every ready to demonstrate his various abilities entered the scene. The eighteen eggs were removed from the drift and placed in the warm sand that spread over much of our sunny southland. In due time eighteen children discovered Texas and America from eighteen eggs placed in that natural incubator of the sunny south.

Then man again took a hand. And as a result the eighteen children were carried from the sand and placed in an artificial home. "Rip" came all the way to Burkburnett to live in a small glass house in the biology laboratory, where he amuses various students by standing on his hind legs in his attempts to "break jail." However, a more delightful way of amusing them, thinks Rip, is by crouching a nice piece of beef or a nice fat worm as he moves slowly through the shallow water of his glass house.

Rip is not so handsome with his turned up nose, chinese eyes, scaly covering, and rough features but he occupies a place in the heart of biology students which might well excite the envy of many much more handsome or even beautiful creatures.

His house contains water at one end with nice clean sand in the other which gradually tapers off into the water, resembling very much the natural home of his forefathers. He delights in lying in the sand as the rays of a warm autumn sun plays him—ah, who wants to write anymore about an alligator anyway.

G. L. "Will you marry me, honey bunch?"
Malene: "Certainly. Trial, companionate, or fight-to-a-finish?"

Bulldogs Down Seymour In Annular

OIL WORKERS—John L. Coulter, Secretary and Treasurer Int'l Ass'n enroute from San Francisco, where he has been in attendance at the American Federation of Labor Convention, will be the principal speaker. Mr. Cutler will have much of interest for all class of workmen. The Reverend E. G. Gregory, pastor of the Thrift Baptist Church and chaplain of the organization will deliver a special address on "Crime". Reverend Gregory will outline his reason for believing it impossible to segregate our basic causes of crime from the injustices practiced in our economic and social systems. The public is urged to attend this meeting, as it the desire of the organization to become openly identified with a movement which seeks to correct the ills of our present social system, which offers economic security to only a few at the cost of the moral stability of our youth. This is the first of a series of educational programs to be put on by the Local Order.

'Chained' At The Palace Sun.-Mon. In "Chained" Joan Crawford and Clark Gable are co-starred in a story written especially for them by Edgar Selwyn, noted writer, director and producer. They are cast in the kind of roles which each has made famous—Joan as a vivid young lady of Manhattan, and Clark as a young American rancher in Buenos Aires. With Otto Kruger as the "other man," a rich, gentlemanly, middle-aged New Yorker, also in love with Joan, the story takes on dramatic power.

AMENDMENT—Aid on roads and relief—thus losing millions of dollars to the 47 other States. 9. The last Democratic State Convention condemned this Amendment.

University Land Tax Amendment This amendment would tax University lands for county and school purposes, said taxes to be paid from the University Fund which is now used to reduce the cost to the taxpayer of Texas of operating the University and A. & M. College. It should be defeated for the following reasons: 1. It is unsound public policy to tax State trust fund property for the benefit of the subdivision in which it is located. (If adopted it would logically lead to the taxing of the State hospitals and educational institutions.) 2. It would reduce the already seriously limited budgets of the University and A. & M. The University is now operating, through necessity, at a lower cost per student than any other first class University in America—further reductions would be disastrous. 3. If the few counties wanting this amendment need more revenue they can get it by assessing valuable oil and surface leases now escaping practically all taxation. All friends of education and good government should join in defeating these dangerous amendments.
