THURSDAY, JUNE 5, 1941
Sacrifice a la 1941

So far, this "great sacrifice" which the government says we are going to be called upon to make has been about as much of a hardship as it is far a woman to give up her winter hat for Lent.

The farmers, who thought they would be called upon to "give until it hurts," are now slated to be on the receiving end of more government aid than they ever have had before.

Labor, which feared it might have to postpone its ambitions for pay increases has been left free to use defense production as a lever for forcing such increases.

The white collar employees, who thought they might have to begin wearing hair shirts, are finding that defense means more opportunities and better pay.

The industrial leaders, who still feel they are the ones who are going to be called upon to do the real dollar sacrificing, are at least having a "respite before taxes" which is giving them an opportunity to store up a reserve for a rainy day.

We know heavy taxes are coming, cutting of government expenditures is coming, scarcity of some products is coming, price increases are coming and other sacrifices are due soon.

But when you go to a good movie there is no sense in not enjoying it thoroughly because the previews of Coming Attractions don't sound too hot.

Peace And The Church

It seems quite possible that when peace is finally restored to the world, it will be accomplished by the church leaders of this and European countries.

This is indicated by the intelligent attitude toward the complicated problem of a future durable peace which is taken by the Federal Council of Churches in a memorandum issued to guide churches throughout this nation in their discussions of the subject.

The council emphasizes that any permanent peace depends upon our government and the governments of other countries studying all proposed legislation on foreign trade with the view to determining its affect upon other nations.

The memorandum urges recognition of the fact that in this shrinking world "what one nation does in relation to its raw materials, markets, immigration or money, may vitally affect millions elsewhere" and that "a sovereignty system which accords the right to use economic power irresponsibly has become an anachronism no longer consistent with peace."

Because of the calm, fair-minded attitude assumed by most church leaders, they have proven in many instances that they can achieve agreement on issues which would violently disrupt any conference of politicians or diplomats.

The possibility of the church being able to achieve a durable peace of which the governments themselves seem incapable is summed up in the federation's memo with this statement: "The church has actually demonstrated a capacity to function internationally which peculiarly qualifies it to contribute toward the healing of the nations."

The Gravest Danger

Writing in the Saturday Evening Post, Harry Scherman, the author of "The Promises Men Live By", discusses the danger of inflation. He points out that individuals who believe they can save themselves from loss if inflation comes, or even profit by it, are simply deluding themselves. There is, he says, but one way to beat inflation—and that is to avert it. He makes a number of suggestions for specific action.

First, all of us, to the limit of our ability, must lend to the Federal government, in order to keep our present huge money supply from dangerously rising.

Next, we can insist that the government demonstrate that it will never repudiate this debt by further writing up the value of gold. It can only demonstrate that fully by again restoring gold to circulation.

We must demand of Congress that it at once enact into law, the proposals made some time ago by Federal Reserve officials to control money and prevent inflation.

We can insist upon being burdened with far greater taxes—in order to prevent dangerous increases in the national debt, which is in itself a sure road to inflation.

We can demand that all non-military government expenditures be cut to the bone.

Finally, we must demand that our leaders—in industry and in local government, no less than in Congress—stop driving us along the road to bankruptcy. To quote Mr. Scherman, "Every little portion of pork we get from the Federal government . . . we shall surely pay back later with usurious interest in the loss we shall sustain in an ultimate inflation."

Inflation is the greatest danger any such gigantic national effort as we are now undertaking, produces. Inflation means ruin. Inflation means death of democracy—as the history of Germany so vividly and grimly proves. We must make great sacrifices if we are to prevent it—but no sacrifices could be more worth while.

A college education is all right, provided the graduate has sense enough to get along with less fortunate human beings.

This is a free country, if you want to operate your automobile 70 miles per hour, unless some cop happens to see you.

There may be plenty of money in circulation, but we have yet to meet the man in this vicinity who has enough of it.

FISHING SEASON OPENS TOO EARLY

Either the Texas fishing season opens too early or the executives of almost all of the southern states are wrong. The majority of the bass fishing seasons in southern states open from two weeks to a month later than the May 1 date prescribed for Texas by the Legislature. The Game, Fish and Oyster commission does not have the authority to regulate the season on game and fish in the Lone Star state.

It is known by aquatic biologists of the game department that almost every species of fish is still spawning in all Texas waters when the season opens May 1. In the northern part of the state many fish continue to spawn through the early part of June. Thus millions of eggs are destroyed each spring.

Two southern states, according to the executive secretary of the Texas department, have opening dates the same as Texas. They are Louisiana and Mississippi.

DOES ROUTED COYOTES

Imagine the surprise of a Texas game warden when he topped a rise on a ranch west of Webb, in southwest Texas, the other evening when he saw two does and a yearling deer chasing a coyote across the country. "And that coyote was really leaving there," the warden reported to the Austin office of the game department. "I have often seen coyotes chasing deer, but this is the first time I have ever seen the tables reversed, and I have been in the out-of-doors practically all my life."

Last year a similar report reached the game department office, but in that case it was a doe with a fawn giving chase to a coyote. Her fawn was extremely young and the maternal instinct undoubtedly produced that phenomenon. There is no such explanation for the latest deer-chasing coyote incident.

QUAIL AS 4-H PRIZES

Getting boys and girls interested in the conservation of game and fish is one of the aims of the Texas department. One method used very successfully by biologists of the department, in co-

MAKE THAT 'DULL' JOB INTERESTING

In 1928 a man moved to Schnectady, New York, to look for a job. He looked everywhere, but could not find one. His name was Martin Sjostrand. He was a carpenter, and was handy with tools.

He was told that there was a carpenter's job at the General Electric company; so he hurried there as fast as he could go. At last! But when he got there he found that the person who had told him had been too optimistic. The job was merely that of a repairman in the refrigerator department.

Re pairman? He was above that! But it was the only job he could get; so he decided to accept and make it a good job. Instead of bemoaning the fact that he had the humblest job of anyone in that section of the plant, he started in to see how he could develop it and make it worth while.

Everything seemed against him. He had been born in Sweden, his parents so poor that he didn't even finish grade school. At the age of 14, he had been obliged to help support the family.

There were few jobs, little opportunity, so he had raised money to come to America when he was 19. He got a job as a farm hand in Minnesota during the summer. During the winter he worked as a carpenter. In the meantime, he married. His wife was from Schnectady; she wanted to be near her father so Sjostrand moved to that city.

And now he was working as repairman in the refrigerator department!

He knew nothing about refrigerating machinery, but he was determined to learn. He stayed after hours, asked questions, read books on the subject. He acquired a set of tools and began to experiment at home in a little workshop he had rigged up.

One day he made a suggestion for improving the work in his department of refrigerator-building. The surprised manager accepted the suggestion. It was not long till he turned up, with another idea. Good.

Well, Martin Sjostrand became the greatest idea man in the great General Electric company. In ten years he turned in 127 suggestions, of which 78 were put into practice. Each one brought a cash reward of from $2 to $35.

During the year 1939 he made so many suggestions that the company voted him the highest honor in its power—the "Charles A. Coffin reward", bestowed each year on the man in the organization who does the most outstanding work. There are 65,000 employees of the company, and last year the reward went to the emigrant from Sweden (who still pronounces "just" as "yust")—once a handy man in the repair department of a big company.

What did Martin Sjostrand do? He took a dull and uninteresting job and made it interesting. Not only did he make it interesting, but made it so outstanding that he got the highest reward in the company. If you have a dull routine job, why can't you do the same thing? Make it interesting!

HOW TO BE YOUR OWN DECORATOR

By Helen Rhea Dickson
Director, Good Housekeeping Studio

"Built-In" Convenience

"Look before you leap" is something which should be borne in mind in all decorating for if ever one thing led to another in anything, it does in decorating. Today there is a very definite tendency to have built-in features and when well planned and well executed there just isn't anything more satisfactory.

We all know the convenience a kitchen and house are given by well planned cupboards, broom closets, a housemaid's closet on the second floor, but have you considered what a comfort and what decorative charm corner cupboards may be in the dining room or even the living room? Or what pleasant effects can be gained by built-in bookcases? Your nearby lumber dealer can give you prices on ready built cabinets in excellent design. What may amaze you will be the low cost at which these cabinets can be bought and installed. Or, perhaps there is a handy man around who can put them up and paint them to match the woodwork without cost. For instance a Colonial corner cabinet which would fit in many a house costs from $28.00 to $39.00. Labor, if you need it, would be about a day's work. For as little as this you have something to hold and to show off your best china, as well as shelves for linen. Sometimes a pair of cupboards on either side of a mantel, or on either side of a door or group of windows, will give you needed storage space and add greatly to your room.

Another good thing is that if you don't own the house you can take the cabinets down and put them somewhere else if you have to move.

In a living room the same thing can be done, using the lower shelf for books and the upper one for ornaments. The cupboard below will hold games, playing cards, etc. Or another suggestion is to make a drop leaf or a drop leaf and use it as a small desk. There are endless possibilities if you want to look for them and let your imagination go a bit. And, of course, instead of paint, the unfinished wood may be given a stain to match your other pieces and be waxed. In fact, if you can do things with your hands you can do it yourself. I have done all sorts of things and never had felt more pride, than when I turned an old "second-hand piece" into a beautiful antique by elbow grease and wax, or made a shabby piece as good as new with paint.

For "built-in" bookcases for a living room, remember that their depth is only eight or nine inches finished. Therefore if there is a fireplace, window or door on a short side of the room, bookcases on either side give architectural character to the room and give you the storage space you just must have. You may wonder about how to finish the top. Personally I like these bookcases to go to the ceiling; the upper shelf may be used for less needed books or for a favorite china figure, plate, brass or pewter piece. In finish, consider the room of course. If you have wall papered walls, with white or colored woodwork, let the bookcase match the woodwork, and paint the inside a solid color. In bedrooms the built-in cupboard in a closet, if space permits, gives an extra dresser, as it were, for clothes not in daily use.

Hospitalization Plan Offered To Local Citizens

We are informed by Mr. M. E. Reichert, area manager of Group Hospital Service, Inc., that Burkburnett is now offered this service.

Hospitalization protection benefits have heretofore been available only to industrial and business workers, most in large cities. Now the individuals and families in Burkburnett and vicinity will have an opportunity to share in this wonderful protection given by the Group Hospital Service, Inc.

This hospitalization plan is simple. Men, women and children may enroll for a limited time and secure a plan of assured saving needs, good in any member hospital of their choice.

Persons living in the rural district outside of Burkburnett can secure this service by applying at the Burk Clinic for the next few days.

Included among those who have endorsed this plan 100% are the following business men and civic leaders: Mr. J. V. Brookshire, Pres. First Nat'l Bank; Rev. Jack Manning, pastor First Baptist church...

This prepayment hospital service helps patient, hospital and taxpayer. The hospital receives its payment promptly, the patient is freed from financial worry by obtaining hospital service as often as needed without concern about the bill.

1941 Sales Are Higher

It was reported by the University of Texas bureau of business research that Texans are spending nearly 10 per cent more money this year in department stores than they did in 1940.

April sales at 91 stores scattered throughout the state were 22.5 per cent above April 1940, and 8.3 per cent above March of that year.

Statewide gains in dollar sales over last year were uniform, with only Cleburne showing a 1.4 per cent decrease from 1940.

Biggest increase from March to April this year came from men's clothing stores, posting a 45.6 per cent gain. For the first four months of 1941, dry goods-apparel shops were 12.2 per cent ahead of 1940, men's clothing stores, 8.9 per cent, and women's specialty shops, 6.8 per cent above last year's figures.

PRAIRIE CHICKENS HARD HIT

Texas lost practically its entire 1941 crop of the Attwater prairie chicken when flood waters in Colorado and several other south central Texas counties swept away the nest of the birds...

Prairie chickens, once very abundant in Texas, are now so scarce that the Texas legislature recently passed a bill maintaining the present closed season on the birds.

Destruction of the nesting areas of the prairie chicken is the biggest cause of their decline in number. Cotton and other crops now grow where the chickens once thrived in the panhandle...

Washington, June 5 (NWNS)

The largest radio audience which ever listened to any program is believed to have heard the President's fireside "chat" to which reactions have poured in from all over the world.

The President's plea to the American nation has not, however, consolidated opinion in Washington, where the debate between interventionists and isolationists has become more furious than ever.

There are many congressmen who have not given a clear expression of their opinion on the great issues at stake, some of them waiting for further insight into public opinion and others waiting for the authentic report on the present state of our defense program which the President is scheduled to make in the next few days.

The President is required by the lease-lend bill to make a report on the progress of our defense program every 90 days. The report which he is now preparing will cover its progress up to about the twentieth of May.

A large number of government officials are following the progress of our defense program with keener interest than the developments of the war in Europe itself, realizing that whatever part we play the safety of this nation depends on a miracle of production only possible by a united effort of the whole nation.

The shipyard strikes on the Pacific coast brought about by a comparatively small group of machinists who were seeking a wage increase from $1.12 an hour to $1.15 an hour, have resulted in angry demands from people in every state for congress or the President to take action to make such a condition impossible in the future.

Admiral Emory S. Land, chairman of the maritime commission, proposed the use of federal forces if necessary to bring about a resumption of work in the shipyards and other navy officers have suggested that the yards be taken over by the government.

Plainly worried over our shipping situation, Admiral Land, who recently gave out figures which were interpreted to show that few ships carrying goods to Britain were being sunk, explained in a speech to navy men...

Emphasizing the scope of the production job we have to do, Stacy May, chief of the bureau of research and statistics of the Office of Production Management, compared our production of durable goods in 1940 with plans for 1941 and 1942.

"In 1940," said Mr. May, "our durable goods production totaled in value about $15,500,000,000 and of this total only two and a half billion was for military use. That was only 14 per cent of the total. This year, 1941, our production in durable goods for military use will total almost 10 billion dollars in value, or about 64 per cent of our 1940 production."

Civilian organization, which has again and again been referred to by government leaders as vital to the success of our defense program, but which has not been adequately defined or crystallized, has been stimulated by New York Mayor LaGuardia, recently appointed by the President as director of civilian defense.

Most officials in Washington consider the fiery mayor to be a good man for the job, because of his great energy and organizational ability, but there is considerable objection to permitting this important job to be a part-time job. Mr. LaGuardia, in addition to his new appointment, is continuing his time-consuming occupation as the mayor of the largest city in the world.

Delegation Proposes Completion Of Roads

A delegation composed of representatives from Beaumont, Port Arthur, Orange and Houston, expressed their belief to the state highway commission that the completion of the Evangeline highway on the stretch from Beaumont to Vidor would lessen traffic congestion in that area.

The roads have become very congested due to national defense activities in that area. Were the proposals of the delegation carried out, the highway would then be completed all the way to New Orleans, and motorists would save 41 miles by taking the new route from Beaumont.

Crutsinger said several vacancies still exist in the primary course and urged immediate application by persons interested in joining the class. It is hoped that groundwork in the primary class will be started not later than June 10, he said.

I Give You Texas

By Boyce House

When I was a boy I lived in Texas until my father's death and then, when I came back after growing up and becoming a newspaper reporter, it was with the determination to write something about the great romance of oil. I'll never forget the thrill of seeing, south of San Antonio, my first derrick, though the view was from a train window and at a distance.

While doing some temporary work for Doc Sellers' Brady Sentinel, I received two offers, one from Coleman and the other from Eastland Sellers (now publisher of the Rising Star Record) knew of my desire to be in the oil fields and so he recommended that I go to Eastland, capital of the county that had witnessed the development of the famous Ranger and Desdemona districts.

As the one-man staff of the Eastland Daily Oil Belt News, the slender, young editor had no time for anything else; but all through the crowded weeks that lengthened into months that glided into years (including editorships in Cisco and Ranger) I was storing up information, much of it subconsciously—in short, was absorbing atmosphere, color, incidents, characters.

A few days ago, the first copy of "Oil Boom" arrived from the nationally-known publishers, the Caxton Printers of Caldwell, Idaho — and the long-cherished ambition to write a book about the romance of oil had been achieved.

To tell you of the trips crisscrossing the State to get thousands of facts—to keep your story from being slow and dull, you discard ten facts for each one you use but you have to know the other ten so as to know for sure which should be chosen); of how Col. J. K. Hughes of Mexia said, "I'm giving you information that I have refused to a dozen interviewers, and I don't know why I'm giving it to you"—but he did; of digging up photographs of booms 25 or even 40 years ago; of listening throughout a Sunday afternoon while Walter Cline, with hardly a question necessary, fluently and vividly told of Burkburnett; of a chance meeting with Garland Adair in Austin who had traveled with

Col. Humphreys, "king of the wildcaters"; of discovering an elderly man in San Antonio who is entitled to be called the "father of Spindletop," which was the birthplace of the present-day Texas oil industry; of innumerable conversations with old drillers, teamsters and shoe-string operators; and then finding time, mainly at night, to write—anyhow, enough has been said to show that a book is no slight venture.

At least, "Oil Boom" wasn't—for me, anyhow. And if you're interested (and I hope you are) "Oil Boom" is a portrait gallery of famous oil rushes, all but one in Texas: Spindletop, Burkburnett, Mexia, Desdemona, Ranger and Smackover, the last-named being in Arkansas.

In all parts of the nation, horse-racing is setting new records in interest, attendance and taxes paid. Tropical Park in Florida had the greatest season in its history. Maryland has to go back to the boom period of 1929 for an equal to Pimlico's big meet and the State has already received almost $500,000 in taxes with only one-third of the Maryland season over. One track in New York—Jamaica—has paid the state $1,101,000, an increase of $284,000 over the previous year, and the average daily attendance was 15,400, compared to 12,600 in 1940. And everybody knows that the Kentucky Derby, at Churchill Downs, attracted a throng of 90,000, the biggest in the long history of that classic. If racing were permitted, Texas would draw thousands of tourists who would spend millions of dollars which would benefit every line of business, advocates of racing believe, pointing to these all-time highs in other states.

Zeke Says

Ezekiel Brown (Special)—This is a momentous week in the history of legislation, both nationally and locally. At the national angle, the President's new proclamation of an all-out emergency is a tremendous piece of news. The coming weeks will mean many new moves and many new moves mean much to these states.

The 47th legislature has fast into the habit of vetoing the Governor's veto of any kind of legislation that it categorically looks at. At the week-end, it looked at the legislature is still in session from adjournment.

Re-election
San Antonio last week election ended in the effusive Mayor an admittedly strong of the New Deal. E. K. Quinn took over again this week. The commissioner of San Preston L. Anderson, a member of the legislature life has been spent as an operator on the Express. Anderson's is an excellent official. His successor will be June 28th, the date of election.

Press Association and other newspapermen and others from all over the state gathered in LaGrange last Sunday to do honor to Maestro Ben F. Harigel who is celebrating his 50th year at the job with the LaGrange Journal. There is not a finer man in the profession in the southwest or anywhere, all of his friends agree. The city of LaGrange, through its chamber of commerce, helped to arrange the big event, which included a delicious dinner and a complete program, both entertaining and enlightening. The LaGrange committee consisted of G. C. Franz, B. F. Siebel and C. G. Robson. A special anniversary edition of the Journal will appear this week. It deals mostly in historical data of the area during the half century. Friends wish Ben Harigel many long happy years to come as he is still at the helm in a most active way. His "Rambler's" column is one of the most unique and interesting carried in any paper in the state. Ben Harigel Jr., is now full-time associate editor of the paper.

Bills Still Pending Before Legislature
There are many bills still pending business before both houses in Austin with the oil proration bill being one of the most important. Other bills not yet passed by both houses include a number of the various appropriation bills that must be taken care of before the legislators go home. It looks now as though the legislators have about decided to play a game with the governor and wait to see whether or not he will be elected to the Senate and, if so, if he will resign so Coke Stevenson can become governor. If Coke once gets in the chair, legislators believe he would call a special session to consider any unfinished business. In the meanwhile, the two houses are "marking time" mostly on their five dollars a day, just sort of waiting and watching. The readiness with which they pass bills over the governor's veto indicates something, maybe a little feeling that they would like to see the governor resign. But then, supposing the governor does not get elected to the senate, then he will still be governor. And the fight would really be on between him and the legislature.

ORDINANCE No.

AN ORDINANCE WHEREBY THE CITY OF BURKBURNETT, TEXAS, AND THE SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY AGREE THAT THE TELEPHONE COMPANY SHALL PAY AN ANNUAL INSPECTION FEE AND SERVICE CHARGE TO COVER THE COST OF AND TO COMPENSATE THE CITY FOR SERVICES RENDERED BY THE CITY IN EXERCISING ITS POLICE POWER OR REGULATION AND INSPECTION OF POLES, WIRES, CONDUITS, EQUIPMENT AND OTHER TELEPHONE CONSTRUCTION OF THE SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY IN THE STREETS, ALLEYS, HIGHWAYS AND PUBLIC GROUNDS OF THE CITY; AND REPEALING ALL ORDINANCES AND AGREEMENTS AND PARTS OF ORDINANCES AND AGREEMENTS IN CONFLICT HEREWITH.

WHEREAS, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, hereinafter referred to as the "Telephone Company", is now and has been engaged in the telephone business in the State of Texas, and in furtherance thereof, has erected and maintained poles, wires, conduits, equipment and other telephone construction in the streets, alleys, highways and public grounds of the City of Burkburnett, Texas, hereinafter referred to as the "City," for many years pursuant to such rights as have been granted it by and under the laws of the State of Texas, and subject to the exercise of such reasonable rights of regulation under the police power as have been lawfully granted by and under said laws to said City; and

WHEREAS, in exercising its said rights of regulation under the police power it is desirable that the City regulate and inspect the construction of the Telephone Company's poles, wires, conduits, lines and equipment in the streets, alleys and highways of the City; and

WHEREAS, the City incurs expense and renders services in connection with said regulations and inspection, which expense should be borne and compensated for by the Telephone Company,

THEREFORE

BE IT ORDAINED BY THE BOARD OF COMMISSIONERS OF THE CITY OF BURKBURNETT, TEXAS:
Section 1. That from and after the effective date of this ordinance the Telephone Company shall pay to the City of Burkburnett an annual inspection fee and service charge in an amount equal to two per cent (2%) of the gross receipts for the preceding year received by the Telephone Company from the rendition of local exchange telephone transmission service within the corporate limits of the City. the ROAD AHEAD

Old Man Texas is today looking ahead and planning. Beside the great farming and ranching country which Texans have built, he sees a new industrial empire here. Already the start has been made. Some industries, such as petroleum, are now showing what can be done to utilize Texas' vast natural resources. Today this industry refines with Texas labor over four-fifths as much oil as the State produces. Its products make up nearly one-half of all Texas manufacturing. Altogether petroleum provides the living for almost one-sixth of our people. But this is only a beginning. Texas has many other raw materials, unexcelled by any other State. Texas has in oil and gas the cheap and dependable fuel supply essential to industry. Texas is the gateway to Latin America, our new foreign market. Each new industry means more jobs. It makes added tax values for our State and local governments, bigger payrolls for our workers, and greater prosperity for you and every other Texan.

FD Asks Johnson To Stay Upon Campaign Trails

(SPECIAL TO THE STAR)

Austin, June 5 — President Roosevelt today had requested Cong. Lyndon Johnson to continue laying before Texas people in the senatorial campaign the vital issues now facing this country.

The president's telegram was in response to one sent him by the congressman offering to return to Washington at once if the president needed him.

The president's telegram said: "I have your message of May 31 in which you say that if I as your commander in chief need you that you will come at once. I have declared a national emergency because the seriousness of the present emergency warrants it."

"However, we should not lose sight of our ultimate objective which is the defense of our democratic way of life."

"If the people of Texas by taking part in the election of June 28 of a United States Senator thereby present a convincing demonstration of our democratic process at work. In my opinion the people of Texas are entitled to be informed of the issues by the candidates for that office and I can think of no better way to present the issues than through personal appearances by all the candidates. Therefore I suggest that you stay in Texas during the campaign unless conditions change so radically that your presence in Washington is necessary. If that happens I will send for you. Please return immediately after election. Franklin D. Roosevelt."

Quick and Easy Salad

NATIONAL DEFENSE! Every one is talking about it these days. Unfortunately, many of us are apt to forget that our own Health Defense Program is the basic essential to the success of the other.

We are blessed in this country with a plentiful supply of all the foods necessary for a well-balanced diet, yet too often our daily diet is lacking in fruits and vegetables. Check up on your own menus and see whether you are providing your family with the ammunition so vital to good health. Do get some kind of fruit and at least two fresh vegetables every day?

Warm weather is coming along, and jellied salads and desserts made with plain unflavored gelatine are cooling ways of including plenty of these foods in the diet.

Grapejuice Luncheon Loaf (Serves 6)

1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin 1/2 cup cold water 1/2 cup boiling water 1 cup cold grape juice 1/2 cup sugar

2 tablespoons lemon juice 1/2 teaspoon salt 1/2 cup chopped celery 1/2 cup chopped apple 1/2 cup cut up fresh grape fruit segments

Soften gelatine in cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Add grapejuice, sugar, lemon juice and salt. Stir well and cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in celery, apple and grapefruit. Turn into loaf mold which has been rinsed out in cold water first, and chill. When firm, unmold onto lettuce and serve with mayonnaise. Bottom of mold may be garnished with circles or wedges of unpeeled red apple before pouring in gelatine mixture, if desired.

Tomato-Vegetable Ring (Serves 6)

1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin 1/2 cup cold water 1/2 cup boiling water 1 cup cold tomato juice 1/2 cup sugar

1 cup shredded raw carrots 1/2 cup chopped celery 1/2 cup shredded raw cabbage 1/2 cup sliced radishes 2 tablespoons chopped parsley 2 tablespoons chopped green pepper

Few drops tabasco sauce. Soften gelatine in cold water and dissolve in 1/2 cup hot tomato juice. Add remaining 1/2 cup cold tomato juice, salt, vinegar, lemon juice, onion juice and tabasco sauce. Stir well and cool. When mixture begins to thicken, fold in remaining ingredients. Turn into ring mold which has been rinsed out in cold water first, and chill. When firm, unmold onto platter, garnish with lettuce or chickory and serve with mayonnaise.

The wise hostess is always prepared for any emergency. Here is a delicious salad that may be quickly and easily prepared on a moment's notice, if you will always see that you have a can of fruit cocktail and a box of plain unflavored gelatine on hand.

Quick Fruit Salad (Serves 6)

1 envelope plain unflavored gelatin 1/2 cup cold water 1/2 cup boiling water 1/2 cup cold fruit cocktail 1/2 cup cold tomato juice (No. 2's can)

NOTE: May be served on a base of cottage cheese, if desired.
