Whooping Cough Spreading

Inasmuch as the incidence of whooping cough in Texas has shown an increase during the past two months, Dr. Geo. W. Cox State Health Officer, released a statement today urging that strenuous efforts be made to control the spread of this debilitating childhood disease.

Whooping cough can only be contracted by direct exposure to the disease, and isolation of cases must be universally practiced if the incidence is to be controlled.

The infectious agent or germ of whooping cough is transmitted by droplets expelled in coughing, sneezing, or speaking.

The first sign of this disease is usually a dry cough, which persists day and night and tends to become increasingly severe.

Prevention and control of whooping cough, especially among infants and small children may be accomplished through use of approved vaccine and convalescent serum.

Mrs. Flora Bernice Allison Passes Away December 25th

Born September 6th, 1894 in Comanche County, Texas. She passed away while in the Methodist Memorial Hospital, at Fort Worth, Texas, December 25th, 1944.

She was the oldest of five children born of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Ferrill. She has one sister, Mrs. George Evett, Sidney, Texas, and three brothers, Oldham Gerrill, Comanche, Texas; W. L. Ferrill of Fort Worth, Texas; W. C. Ferrill of Ogden, Utah.

Her parents were pioneers, and lived on a farm and ranch of their own. Her father passed away August three years ago.

Bernice Ferrill was married to John G. Allison of Burk Burnett June 15th, 1924, where they resided since that time.

To her, three sons were born, John Glenn and Billy Winn, who are twins. John Glenn passed away in infancy. The third son is Leon Calvin.

She became a member of the Church of Christ in her teen age, and was a faithful wife. The ones who knew her best loved her most.

Now I wish to take this means of thanking everyone for the many flowers, kind deeds and help that was offered, hours of service, sleepless nights, food, gifts. Nothing seemed to be spared by this community for miles around that may have added to her comfort.

I am proud to live among people who have been so kind and nice to her during her 14 months and one week of illness.

One dozen friends gave their blood. Dozens volunteered with eagerness to help. I will always feel obligated to our friends in Burk Burnett.

Thanks again, John G. Allison and Sons.

With The Boys IN SERVICE

Burk Chaplain

With the 44th Division of The 7th Army, France. An army Chaplain is supposed to be able to do a lot of things, but Capt. Ramming, 44th Division Chaplain, of Burk Burnett, Texas, has added a specialty that fast moving infantrymen of the 44th Division heartily endorse.

Chaplain Ramming is an expert at making delicious meals out of captured German foods. And GI's who have been chasing Germans so fast that the supermen have been leaving hot meals simmering on the stoves and pantries stocked, are properly appreciative of the chaplain's skill.

However, they still claim his greatest triumph was the night he made presentable, and edible, hamburgers out of Army "C" rations.

Wright of 611 Prairie street, Harlingen and Don C. Lewis of Olney.

Maj. Richard R. Shoop, director of flying at SPAAF, awarded the new flight officers their wings in a ceremony at the Post Theatre.

The new officers have completed one of the most rigorous training schedules in the Army Air Forces Training Command, which already has sent thousands of trained men into battle against the Axis.

At SPAFF, the graduates trained in CG-4A gliders, which proved their value in the Normandy invasion and other operations on major battlefronts.

Chester Todd, who is on the USS California, somewhere in the South Pacific, writes his grandmother, Mrs. Minnie Todd, that he is doing fine and sends her this poem:

A W O L
A mans a man for all of that;
Yet his worth is proud by his deeds;
While the heart sews brotherly seeds,
There's more to being a good man-o-war's man;
Than just flashing the clothes you wear,
There's the code of the Navy in the making;
Of treating your shipmates fair.

When you fail to return from your liberty;
And you stay AWOL on the shores;
Some shipmate who is loyal and trusty;
Has to perform his duty and yours;
Your ship is your home and your castle;
Each man has a task to perform,
The enemy glady welcomes the stragglers;
When your ship weathers battle an storm.

Our country called men to the colors;
Men who took an oath to defend,
And to stick to their guns to the end,
Your loved ones at home are praying;
And their live sare always suspense,
Your loyalty and manhood protects them
Their arms are your recommendation.

Leave and liberty are granted in trust;
To uphold the trust and the honor;
That the uniform he wears prescribes;
"Don't forget to remember"
And let it always be said,
That you answer a proud "Here Sir,"
When the muster roll is read.

Food Outlook For Next Year

Next year's food outlook is about the same as during 1944 and while some items will not be in sufficient supply to take care of expected demands this will not prevent civilians from being well-fed, Dan L. Boyd, WFA's Office of Distribution, has announced.

Reviewing major food items based on present forecasts, he said total meat supplies and popular types of canned fish, excepting tuna, probably will be less plentiful, with chicken limited in some areas because of army purchase requirements.

This year's record breaking wheat and corn crops move grain and cereal products into the abundant list, along with a large production of fresh fruits. Plentiful supplies of eggs also are forecast.

In dairy products, Mr. Boyd explained butter supplies may be less, fluid milk slightly more, and evaporated and powdered whole milk "tight" because of heavy demands of the armed forces. The army will continue to take major portions of most cheeses but cottage cheese will be in good supply. Sugar remains in the "tight" category because of heavy war demands, he added.

The majority of canned fruits will go to fill army needs as they did this year, Mr. Boyd said, adding that adequate supplies of canned fruit juices will help supplement the civilian supply. In the same manner victory gardens will offset supplies of canned vegetables required in considerable proportions for the armed forces.

Crop production goals are about as great as they were last year and crops harvested should be sufficiently large to assure all civilians efficient, adequate, and appetizing diets through 1945, the WFA representative said.

Mildred Garland returned last week from San Diego, Calif., where she had been visiting her husband, Truman Garland, who is in the Navy stationed there. She had planned to return to Burk before Christmas but got caught in the holiday traveling jam and couldn't get back until last week.

Postal Receipts Show Big Gain

Figures released this week by A. H. Lohoefer, Postmaster, show that the local postoffice had a gain in receipts over 1943 of $3,203.70.

Each quarter showed a gain over the corresponding quarter in 1943. Receipts during 1944 were $23,929.36, against $20,725.66 for 1943.

According to Mr. Lohoefer, Christmas mailing was steady from about the first of December until the 25th. The usual rush just before Christmas was not so noticeable this year. Because of equipment an dotter factors, some packages did not arrive at this postoffice in time for delivery before Christmas. Delivery on some were made as many as five days after Christmas.

Texas Division Commended By Corps Commander

With the 36th Texas Division Of the Seventh Army In France—

The 36th Texas Division has been commended by Major General Edward H. Brooks, Commanding General, VI Corps, for its part in the fighting through the Vosges Mountains in Eastern France. His commendatory message, addressed to Major General John E. Dahlquist, Commanding General of the 36th Texas Division, reads:

"As you pass to another command I want to express to you my deep appreciation for the part played by the 36th Infantry Division in clearing the enemy from his strong positions in the Vosges Mountains.

"Your sagacious handling of the troops at your disposal, spread over an extended front, and their constant pressure and aggressive attitude for several days prior to the Corps attack, held the attention of the enemy and forced him to commit local reserves which later were not available to oppose the main thrust of the VI Corps.

"The capture by the 36th Infantry Division of the St. Marie Pass and its continued attacks, culminating in the debouchment into the Alsation Plain near Ribeauville, not only blocked the enemy on the right but forced him to fight and continued to deny him the use of his troops elsewhere.

"This was all done without fuss or feathers and in a manner worthy of the splendid Americans under your command."

Sgt. and Mrs. Clifford Wells left Thursday for Muleshoe, Texas, to visit her people. Clifford is going on to Spokane, Wash., where he is stationed.

Ensign Rike Peevey, visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. R. Peevey, of Austin, Texas, over the holidays.

Mrs. A. R. Bunstine, Mrs. Raymond Holland and children left Wednesday for Oklahoma City for a few days visit.

JIM'S Ration Reminder

Housewives are urged to destroy all food ration stamps that have been declared invalid, the Office of Price Administration said today. Use of these stamps by consumers, as well as acceptance of them by retailers, is a violation of rationing regulations, OPA said.

At the same time, OPA explained that red ration tokens continue good and housewives may use them for buying meats-fats. Grocers will continue to give them to housewives as change for the red 10-point stamps.

Blue ration tokens, however, have not been good since October 1 and, therefore, cannot be used for canned fruits and vegetables. They are no longer needed as change for the 10-point blue ration stamps used for processed foods because point values for these items are set in multiples of ten.

Ration stamps which were invalidated as of 12:01 A. M., Tuesday, December 26, 1944 and which are not good for consumer use are:

Red Stamps A8 through Z8 and A5 through P5.

Blue Stamps—A8 through Z8 and A5 through W5.

Sugar stamps 30, 31, 32, 33 and 40, along with all home canning coupons outstanding.

Stamps continuing to be good—and those soon to be made good are:

Red Stamps Q5, R5 and S5, which became good December 3. In addition, five more red stamps T5, U5, V5, W5, and X5 will become good on Sunday, December 31.

Blue stamp X5, Y5, Z5, A2 and B2. In addition, five more blue stamps—C2, D2, E2, F2, and C2, will become good on Monday, January 1.

Sugar Stamp No. 34, which became good on November 16. Another sugar stamp will become good on February 1, 1945.

Expiration dates have not been set for the stamps that still remain good.

HOW ABOUT WAR BONDS?

The last word will not have been said about the wisdom of buying war bonds until a common understanding is reached in the public mind that the most substantial investments to be found anywhere are Government bonds. The loosest-wagging-tongues must admit that the Government of the United States is 100 per cent safe, sound and substantial, and that its securities could not collapse until everything else went to the bow-wows. This means that war bonds are better than currency, or gold or silver—because they are in fact United States money, and they draw a small amount of interest for all purchasers of bonds.

Irvin S. Cobb said: "If it ever becomes my misfortune to go insane, I want to go live in Washington where I will not be noticed."

"Power for Victory"

TRIBUTE TO OUR EMPLOYEES

At the beginning of the New Year, we take special pleasure in making this public recognition of the excellent work done during the past year by the men and women that make up our organization... Their loyalty and unstinted effort played an important part in the Company's ability to supply dependable electric service for all essential war and civilian needs—in spite of unprecedented demands for electricity.

Under many difficulties, this group has done a great job of supplying not only our regular customers but also the heavy demand for electric power—used in many industries in this part of Texas which are turning out products that directly or indirectly are vital to the all-out war effort... on farms where electricity is aiding the production of "food for victory"... and in homes, whose comfort and convenience depend largely on electricity.

REFRESHING

There is something refreshing in the statement recently published by one of the country's leading oil companies. It said: "A forward-looking company serves the public in four ways: 1—The consumer through fair prices, good service, and the development of new and better products. 2—The community through actions that promote local and national welfare in peace or war. 3—Its employees through job security, fair wages, and opportunity to advance. 4—Its shareholders through a fair return on their investment."

Why is this simple statement refreshing. Because there is no mystery about it. It is a clear, constructive declaration abounding with hope and faith, an dis representative of the policy which has enabled the American oil industry to play its dramatic role. It breathes the optimistic philosophy of the American business man. It recognizes the responsibilities of industry to the community. It is rich in promise to those who feel the stirring of ambition. Above all, it is voluntary and comes from the desk of an independent citizen, rather than as an edict from the office of a bureaucrat.

DON'T EXPECT TOO MUCH

Most schemes incubated in official quarters, professing to guarantee farm prosperity, involve expenditure of many billions of tax dollars. Sooner or later government is going to have to stop pouring out these uncounted billions for what in reality are nothing more than ill-concealed attempts to cover up the increasing cost of producing food. When it does, the farmers will be on their own as never before. Millions of them are preparing for that inevitable day by strengthening their farmer-owned marketing cooperatives.

Hospital Equipment

Complete equipment for 5,000 civilian hospital patients in ten hospitals in the U. S. R. soon will be provided by the American Red Cross for priority shipment aboard Soviet government ships to Russia, where hospitals are badly needed.

Your BABY

By Lillian B. Storms

Babies think before they talk, the psychologists tell us. But you don't need a professor to help you understand your baby when he has made up his mind he wants something. He may not be able to put his wants into words, but words aren't necessary.

We impatient grown-ups find it hard to let babies work out their own problems in their own way. If baby falls down, we rush to pick him up instead of letting him find out for himself how to get up. At first he may need some encouragement, but let him think he is doing it. Notice if he isn't far more interested in setting up a block where he wants it than in your placing the block.

The longer your baby works patiently at a job he wants to do, the longer he is contentedly occupied. Babies have lots of patience and will try, try again, if not interfered with.

When he wants to hold the cup of milk, let him hold it. The cup doesn't need to have much milk in it for the first attempts. When he shows interest in feeding himself with a spoon, let him try cereal first. You can make the cereal a little thicker than usual so it will stick to the spoon. The ready-to-eat dry cereals absorb considerable milk so that by using less milk it is thicker. If he wants to eat his strained vegetables and they are a bit thin for an unsteady hand, thicken them with some of his cereal. Even fruits thickened with cereal taste as good and are less apt to spill.

Ernie Pyle's Slant on the War: Taken to War Like Galley Slaves, GIs Stage Gala Show American Soldiers Were Quick To Adjust Themselves to Algeria

By Ernie Pyle

(Editor's Note): This dispatch was written and first published when Pyle was with the GIs during the landing at Algeria. He is now on his way to cover the Pacific war zones.

IN ALGERIA.—I came to Africa by troop transport, in convoy. Our convoy carried an enormous number of troops, and we had a heavy escort, although no matter how much escort you have it never seems enough to please you.

It was a miserable English day when we sailed—cold, with a driving rain. Most of us just lay in our bunks, indifferent even to the traditional last glance at land.

The ship seemed terribly crowded, and some complained bitterly of the food, and didn't eat for days. The worst trouble was a lack of hot water. British standards of sanitation are so different from ours that the contrast is sometimes shocking.

The water for washing dishes was only tepid, and there was no soap. As a result the dishes got greasy.

In our cabin we had water only twice a day—7 to 9 in the morning, and 5:30 to 6:30 in the evening. It was unheated, so we shaved in cold water.

We correspondents knew where we were going. Some of the officers knew, and the rest could guess. But some of the soldiers thought we were going to Russia or the Murmansk route, and some thought it was Norway, and some Iceland. A few sincerely believed we were returning to America. It wasn't until the fifth day out, when the army distributed booklets on how to conduct ourselves in North Africa, that everybody knew where we were going.

The troops were warned about smoking or using flashlights on deck at night, and against throwing cigarettes or orange peels overboard. It seems a sub commander can spot a convoy, hours after it has passed, by such floating debris.

One night a nurse came on deck with a brilliant flashlight guiding her. An officer screamed at her—so loudly and viciously that I thought at first he was doing it in fun. He bellowed:

"Put out that light, you blankety-blank! Haven't you got any sense at all?" Then I realized he meant every word of it. One little light might have killed us all. I was sorry he didn't kick her pants for good measure.

Smoking was prohibited in the dining room. There was a bar with soft drinks, but no liquor was sold. As someone wisecracked, "We catch it both ways. We can't smoke because it's a British ship, and we can't buy liquor because it's an American troopship."

GIs Show Talent. The trip no sooner started than rehearsals for an enlisted men's variety show began. They dug up an accordionist, a saxophonist, a trumpeter, a violinist, two banjo players, a dancer, a tenor, a cowboy singer and several pianists.

They rehearsed every afternoon. The big night came a couple of nights before we got to Gibraltar. They put on two shows that night. For the enlisted men only. Word got around, and the officers and nurses wanted to see the show, so the night we were approaching Gibraltar they put it on again.

The show went over terrifically. There was genuine talent in it, and serious music as well as the whizzbang stuff. But the hero of the evening was a hairy corporal—Joe Comita of Brooklyn—who did a strip-tease burlesque of Gypsy Rose Lee.

His movements were pure genius. Gypsy herself couldn't have been more sensuous. Joe twirled and stripped, and then when he was down to his long, heavy GI underwear he swung to the front of the stage, lifted his veil, and kissed a front-row colonel on top of his bald head.

The whole show was marvelously good. But there was something more to it than just that: There was the knowledge, deep in everybody's mind, that this was our night of danger.

The radio had just brought word that Germany's entire U-boat pack was concentrated in the approaches to Gibraltar. More than 50 subs were said to be waiting for us. I doubt that there was a soul on board who expected the night to pass without an attack.

And in that environment the boys from down below went through their performances buoyantly. We sat with life preservers on and water canteens at our belts. We laughed and cheered against a background of semi-conscious listening for other sounds. As the show ended a major said to me:

"That's wonderful, those boys doing this when they're being taken to war like galley slaves down there in the hold. When you think of people at home squawking their heads off because they can only have 20 gallons of gasoline it makes your blood boil."

At Last—Fighting. From now onward, stretching for months and months into the future, life is completely changed for thousands of American boys on this side of the earth. For at last they are in there fighting.

The jump from camp life into front-line living is just as great as the original jump from civilian life into army. Only those who served in the last war can conceive of the makeshift, deadly urgent, always moving-onward complexion of front-line existence. And existence is exactly the word; it is nothing more.

The last of the comforts are gone. From now on you sleep in beds on under little tents. You wash whenever and wherever you can. You carry your food on your back when you are fighting.

You dig ditches for protection from bullets and from the chill north wind off the Mediterranean. There are no more hot-water taps. There are no post exchanges where you can buy cigarettes. There are no movies.

When you speak to a civilian you have to wrestle with a foreign language. You carry just enough clothing to cover you and no more. You don't lug any knickknacks at all.

When our troops made their first landings in North Africa they went four days without even blankets, just catching a few hours' sleep on the ground.

Everybody either lost or chucked aside some of his equipment. Like most troops going into battle for the first time, they all carried too much at first. Gradually they shed it. The boys tossed out personal gear from their musette bags and filled them with ammunition. The countryside for 20 miles around Oran was strewn with overcoats, field jackets and mess kits as the soldiers moved on the city.

At the moment our troops are bivouacked for miles around each of three large centers of occupation—Casablanca, Oran and Algiers. They are consolidating, fitting in replacements, making repairs—spending a few days taking a deep breath before moving on to other theaters of action.

They are camped in every conceivable way. In the city of Oran some are billeted in office buildings, hotels and garages. Some are camping in parks and big, vacant lots on the edge of town. Some are miles away, out in the country, living on treeless stretches of prairie.

THE CHILDHOOD OF JESUS

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 2:13-23. GOLDEN TEXT—Behold, I am with thee, and will keep thee in all places whither thou goest.—Genesis 28:15.

Matthew is the Gospel of the King and His kingdom. It stresses the fulfillment of prophecy in the coming of Christ, the King. After His rejection, it tells us of the Church, "the kingdom in mystery," and of the death of Christ for our sins, His resurrection for our justification, and His glorious coming again.

This then is an important book which we study for the next three months. Teacher and student alike should be enthusiastic and expectant.

The genealogy of the King, and the story of His coming to earth as the babe of Bethlehem (both important matters), are covered in chapter 1. In our lesson we find Him as a little child. Observe how man received Him, and how God cared for Him. Without assigning definite verses to our points we note that:

I. Men Received or Rejected Jesus.

It has always been so. Men, then as now, were either for Him or against Him. The world of today is far different from that of the first century, but the difference is all on the outside. Almost breath-taking have been the developments of modern science, but these have not changed the heart of man. He still fears and hates and fights and sins.

His attitude toward Christ is unchanged. There are still only two classes of people in the world—those who have received Christ and are saved, and those who have rejected Him and are lost.

1. Men Are Against Christ.

How do men show their rejection of God's Son? Just as they did at His birth:

a. Fear. Herod was afraid lest the coming of this One should result in the loss of his ill-gotten gains. His anger and fear made all Jerusalem afraid.

b. Indifference. When the Wise Men asked where Christ was to be born, the priests and scribes knew exactly where to find the facts in the Holy Scriptures, but having done so, they relapsed into utter indifference. They had no interest in the fulfillment of the prophecy.

c. Hatred. Herod poured out the violence of his heart by killing the first-born. He was the first of many who have raged against the Christ in futile anger.

d. Sorrow. The tears of the mothers of Jerusalem but foreshadowed the weeping and wailing which characterizes Christ-rejection both in time and eternity.

2. Men Are For Christ.

Thanks be to God, there were those in that day who were for Christ and, like those who follow Him today, they showed:

a. Spirituality. Men have marveled that the Magi knew of the birth of Christ. They must have studied the prophecies of the Word and been responsive to the teaching and moving of the Holy Spirit. Can we say as much for ourselves?

b. Interest. Not content to know and to marvel, they showed interest in this great thing which had come to pass.

c. Love. They brought themselves in worship and they brought rich gifts from their treasures. You can give without loving, but you cannot love without giving.

d. Action. They came. They persisted until they found the Christ. Then they listened to God and protected His Son by not returning to Herod.

II. God Protected and Prepared Jesus.

The ruin which sin had brought into the world could only be met by redemption which Christ had come to bring. Some men had already shown their hatred for Jesus and their rejection of Him. But God still ruled, and for the sake of those who received Him (and would receive Him in all the centuries since), He kept the Child Jesus from harm. We find Him:

1. Protecting Jesus. Men may hate and seek to destroy God's Son. Satan may inspire them with ingenuity and cunning. But see how the Eternal One spoke to Joseph in dreams, how He prepared a place of refuge in Egypt and ultimately in Nazareth, where the boy Jesus might increase in wisdom and stature and favor with God and man.

2. Preparing Jesus. God knew of the days of public ministry which were ahead, and above all, of that day when on Golgotha's hill Christ was, in His own body, to prepare salvation for you and for me. God is never taken by surprise. He moves forward to the completion of His plan with the stately tread of eternity.

He took Jesus to Egypt. He brought Him again to Nazareth. In it all He was preparing His Son for the days of ministry which were ahead. All this was in fulfillment of prophecy (see vv. 15, 17). God's Word is always sure.

Bobsledding on Mountain Our Most Dangerous Sport

The most dangerous sport in America is bobsledding down the Mt. Van Hoevenberg run at Lake Placid, New York, a fast four-man sled making this mile-and-a-half run with its 26 abrupt turns in 100 seconds, says Collier's.

So spills may be reported at once, the passing of each sled is announced successively from seven telephone stations set along the course; and every person making the trip, including professionals, is first required to sign a waiver, relinquishing his right to sue for damages in case of accident.

"I'd Have Been a Goner . . ."

STAFF SERGEANT JOHN SCHUSTER, infantryman from Stelton, New Jersey

"Hit the ditch, boys; here come the Jerries." Like the rest of the men I dove for the nearest hedgerow in a Normandy field on the road to St. Lo. The low-flying planes dumped their bombs along the road. Only one missed, and that one hit near me. I was badly wounded by the shell fragments and the next thing I knew I was in an evacuation hospital and an Army nurse was giving me blood plasma. If it hadn't been for that I'd have been a goner. I'm an old hand at plasma for I've had it twenty times. Now they're giving me whole-blood transfusions. There were Army nurses with me all the time and, tired as many of them were, they'd spend their off-duty time with us wounded men, helping to bring us back to where we thought things were really worth fighting for. We need all the nurses we can get. If you can, join the Army Nurse Corps."

Ideal Wardrobe Saves for Bonds

Suits fill a definite need in today's wardrobe, with popularity divided between tailored or dressmaker styles. The Junior members of the American Women's Voluntary Services selected this brown dressmaker suit with trouser-pleated skirt for their ideal wardrobe. Many will make felt hats and bags trimmed with fringe of felt. These girls can take pride in the appearance of their costumes styled at home, and in saving money for extra War Bonds. Similar patterns may be obtained at local stores. U. S. Treasury Department

P. O. Receipts Up

Climbing high into the million dollar bracket, postal receipts in Texas during November totaled $2,557,573, the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research reported today. October receipts, with overseas mailing, were $2,868,232, and receipts in November 1943 were $2,204,849. Although the large cities of Dallas and San Antonio reported considerable increases in receipts, the smaller cities like Denton, Snyder, and Kerrville also reported large increases.

TEXAS MILK AIDS VICTORY

ONE of the greatest assets in wartime and a direct aid to allied victory is the 55-billion-quart U. S. milk production, according to the Milk Industry Foundation. Faced with the greatest demand for milk ever known, the dairy industry's wartime record is outstanding. Never in history has there been such a steady flow of milk to so many people.

Milk from U. S. cows literally girdles the earth as the requirements of our armed forces, allies, lend-lease and liberated nations assume global proportions.

U. S. Milk production since Pearl Harbor has reached new high levels and indications are that 1944 may top 1943.

Our armed forces get fresh milk daily wherever possible. Milk is in pharmaceuticals used by military hospitals, butter from America helps restore Russian wounded, powdered milk is in emergency rations. Cheese is valuable to Great Britain, China and Africa get milk powder and liberated youngsters milk products.

On the home front milk drinking, now widely popular in war plants, lessens fatigue, reduces accidents, cuts losses in man-hours, improves production and earning power.

"Milk and its products comprise over 25 per cent of the 1700 pounds of principal food estimated to be consumed annually by the average American," the Foundation says. "Milk is the largest single source of gross farm income and was 15 per cent of all farm income in 1943—larger than cattle or hogs, twice eggs, over twice cotton, four times wheat, six times tobacco. One out of every 15 U. S. families is dependent on milk for a livelihood.

"Americans enjoy the best milk in the world with sanitary safeguards and widespread distribution. This war has proved the economy and value of milk as a food containing vital components of the diet."

Texas' 1,425,000 cows on farms each produced an average of 1,433 quarts of milk in 1943. Total milk production was 2,041,000,000 quarts. In addition to the large quantities consumed as fluid milk and cream, Texas milk was used for making 36,739,000 pounds of creamery butter, 14,694,000 pounds of cheddar cheese, 21,799,000 gallons of ice cream and other products. Farm cash milk income totaled $90,481,000 in 1943.

Importance V-Mail Is Stressed

Use of V-Mail by civilians in writing to service men overseas must be stepped up in 1945 to conserve critically needed transport space, the Office of War Information reported today on the basis of facts from the Army and Navy. An intensified campaign urging the public to increase its use of V-mail will be opened January 1, 1945 by the War and Navy Departments with the cooperation of OWI.

While the total volume of Army and Navy V mail, incoming and outgoing, is almost twice that of 1943, recent drops in the use of the microfilm service by both service men overseas and civilians at home has been of concern to the Army and Navy.

Reasons pointed out by high ranking officers for the importance of extended V-mail use by the public included:

- 1 The increase in the numbers of service men now overseas, with a consequent rise in the volume of mail to be handled.
- 2 The need for the maximum utilization of cargo space of all kinds, especially in air transport.
- 3 Extension of supply lines as action progresses in both theaters of war.
- 4 Continuing importance of a steady, frequent flow of letters to service men's morale.

TROUBLE ABROAD

European nations hit the headlines with their political troubles and our Allies make proposals and take definite stands in these foreign affairs. We ask ourselves what principle of expression America should voice. What is to be the American policy and action in regard to such governments as France and Greece and Italy and so on, settling their affairs and disagreements in revolution and rioting. Is it our choice that the liberated countries should decide completely for themselves, with a hands off policy from us? Would it follow that we sanction revolution and rioting? We must find out what the Allies stand for, what influence they plan to exert, how they will work together on these questions that are constantly arising. Are we to be left, holding the bag? Unity is necessary. We want to know where we stand, what road we take.

Jolly Duck for Toy Or Lawn Ornament

THIS wheelbarrow is easy to make from scraps of lumber. The wheel is cut out of wood and held in place with a bolt. You may be able to salvage a metal wheel from some discarded toy. The ducks are cut out of plywood.

with a jig saw or by hand with a coping saw. They are then nailed to the sides of the wheelbarrow and the fun of painting and stenciling begins. You just trace the pattern on the wood and follow the color chart.

NOTE—Pattern 258 gives an actual-size cutting and painting pattern for the large wheelbarrow ducks and for smaller ducks to be used for lawn ornaments or applique designs. Large diagrams showing how to cut and assemble the wheelbarrow and a complete list of materials required are included. Ask for pattern 258 and enclose 15 cents with name and address, direct to:

SNAPPY FACTS ABOUT RUBBER

The popular size tire for bombers is the 56-inch, the making of which takes as much time as the building of seven large truck tires. And an active bomber may need an entire new set of tires each month.

Statisticians have developed the fact that the rubber used by the U. S. in the war up to date averages about 145 pounds per man in uniform. In World War I rubber consumption represented about 32 pounds per man.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

German Drive Reminder of Last Desperate Fling in World War I; Farmers Harvest Banner Crops

Released by Western Newspaper Union. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Attired in civilian clothes, and with some of their number carrying mace-like antitank projectiles, Heinrich Himmler's home guard parades in Berlin.

WESTERN FRONT: History Repeats

To many, the mighty German counter-offensive Field Marshal Von Rundstedt launched against Allied armies on the western front was reminiscent of General Ludendorff's last desperate throw of the dice in 1918 in an effort to improve Germany's position for the negotiation of a peace.

Then, Ludendorff's drive failed; this time, resolute U. S. troops moved in to stem Von Rundstedt's attack, with decisive Allied counter-measures expected to not only blunt the enemy's thrust but also sap the most formidable part of his force and reduce his war potential for next spring.

There was one difference between Ludendorff's suicidal gamble in 1918 and Von Rundstedt's of this war, however, and that lay in Heinrich Himmler's success in holding the German home front together to supply the wehrmacht with men and materials for the big drive. In 1918, on the other hand, Ludendorff was faced with a crumbling home front, often rising to a bawling rage in those months because a tottering government failed to provide sufficient troops and supplies.

As the Germans' desperate drive developed, it followed the pattern of other major Nazi attacks of World War II, with powerful armored spearheads punching through forward defenses and then speeding on to deal with opposing elements surrounded to the rear.

It was thus that the Germans wiped out the Poles; broke France, and marched a third of the way across Russia. This time, however, the enemy faced a stronger, better equipped, more resolute foe, and as his attack developed, U. S. reserves thrown into the battle moved to dam the surge.

In launching the offensive, Von Rundstedt followed the 1940 invasion pathways, pointing spearheads across Belgium and Luxembourg. In choosing this battleground below Aachen, the Nazi field marshal concentrated the bulk of his forces against the First Army, which had thrown the Germans onto the edge of the Rhineland plain.

In the early fighting, the Nazi thrust against Monschau was appreciably contained by the Yanks, but the spearhead farther south probed as deeply as 22 miles to the important road juncture of Stavelot in Belgium. Still another Nazi force pushed across the Belgium border and threw a pincer around St. Vith.

In Luxembourg to the south, the Germans drove through the Ardennes forest beyond Echternach after meeting stiff U. S. resistance.

Once the German attack got underway, the battle turned into a slugging match, with the enemy pouring men into the initial breaches to exploit their breaks, while the Allies moved reserves to the front to check the drive.

Coincident with Von Rundstedt's smash to the north, Gen. George S. Patton's U. S. First Army encountered stiffening Nazi resistance in the Saar, with the enemy following his favored pattern of throwing in short, sharp armored counter-attacks in an attempt to momentarily check the Yanks' push.

Meanwhile, it was announced that Himmler himself had taken over command of German resistance in the Colmar pocket in Alsace, throwing in strong detachments of his motley but fanatical home guard units.

PACIFIC: Put on Heat

All through the scattered Philippine islands, the enemy came under increasing pressure of U. S. land and naval forces as the Americans speeded up their attack on this great archipelago guarding the Japs' vital inner imperial lines.

Latest threat to the enemy was the U. S. landing on Mindoro island, where the Yanks drove forward against negligible opposition to establish air bases from which land-based bombers could join carrier planes in hammering the main island of Luzon to the north, nerve-center for the whole Jap defense in the Philippines. Even as the doughboys plodded forward, carrier planes ripped at enemy shipping feeding island garrisons from the main staging point.

On Leyte, General MacArthur's triple-pronged offensive continued to squeeze the Japanese into an ever narrower corner on the island.

STATE DEPARTMENT: O. K. New Setup

Amid fierce debate, in which charges were leveled that the recent reorganization of the state department put the House of Morgan in an influential position in the shaping of U. S. foreign policy, the senate confirmed President Roosevelt's appointments of William L. Clayton and Nelson Rockefeller as assistants to Secretary of State Stettinius.

With ardent New Dealers Pepper (Fla.) and Guffey (Pa.) leading the attack, it was charged that the new setup in the state department following Secretary Hull's resignation might indicate a reversal in a liberal al U. S. foreign policy, which Senator Connally (Texas) replied that President Roosevelt would chart the country's course regardless of the reorganization.

As the storm over the state department reorganization first mounted then subsided under presidential pressure, Mr. Roosevelt told newspapermen that the Atlantic Charter was not a formal document signed by this country and Britain, but merely a statement of principles to guide the Allies' war aims.

CROPS: Banner Year

Surmounting weather and manpower problems, American farmers again answered the nation's call for high level production with a near record output of crops, 24 per cent above the 1923-'32 pre-drought average, the U. S. department of agriculture reported.

Pointing to near record acreage, the USDA said: "... Farmers planted only when they could and they kept on planting past the normal season as long as there seemed half a chance of success. ..."

Production of grains, fruits, nuts and commercial vegetables were all above last year, with all-time top harvests of corn at 3,228,361,000 bushels and of wheat at 1,078,647,000 bushels. Output of dry beans and peas, oil seeds, tobacco and hay and forage crops has been seldom exceeded. Cotton was about average.

People in the News

Testifying that her husband refused to work as long as Mr. Roosevelt was president, Mrs. Catherine Ingrassia of Detroit, Mich., was granted a divorce.

Only a few days after purchasing his own plane, 24-year-old Howard Hoy of Urbana, Ill., was killed when it crashed in the barnyard of his own farm.

Delivery of a premature two pound baby boy to Mrs. James Snodgrass of Forest Park, Ill., came as a complete surprise to both husband and wife. "We had no idea we were going to be parents again, and I ought to know," said Mr. Snodgrass. "I've got two boys already, one seven and the other eight years old." The child was born after Mrs. Snodgrass' complaint of a back-ache.

POSTWAR PLANNING: Stability Sought

Looking forward to the day when the war will end and the cessation of wartime production will pose problems of providing adequate opportunity for a peacetime economy, senate and house committees busied themselves in developing a program for the prosperous employment of both labor and agriculture.

Most specific action taken was by a senate committee headed by Montana's Senator Murray, which submitted a proposal for an annual estimation of the amount of expenditure necessary for full employment and the probable outlays by private industry, with any differences to be made up by federal investment. Before the government would undertake any expenditures, however, every effort would be made to stimulate the flow of private capital.

While Senator Murray's committee presented the proposal, a house committee held hearings in Chicago, Ill., on means of bolstering postwar agriculture.

While advocating a reappraisal of farm credit needs, international agreements to dispose of surplus commodities and lowering of trade barriers, Edward A. O'Neal, president of the American Farm Bureau federation, also called for realistic marketings based on feed and labor costs to replace subsidies.

Movement of 2,000,000 persons from farms after the war to provide them with sufficient income and guard against overproduction was advocated by Chairman Oscar Helme of the Iowa Farmer Grain Dealers association. In agreeing, Prof. Noble Clark, chairman of the Land Grant Colleges' committee on postwar agricultural policies, urged a broadened educational program to equip rural youth for occupational opportunities.

WAR COSTS: Pricing Policy

Aiming to cut government costs and at the same time impose greater efficiency on some firms with a resultant release of manpower and material, the war department announced the adoption of a new pricing program employing teams of experts that will comb over contracts before letting.

Expressing the belief that lower prices would lead to greater use of manpower and material, Col. Fred C. Foy, director of army service forces purchases, said: "... Whenever a contractor's selling prices are close to his costs, the contractor has an incentive to lower his costs to increase profit. ..."

To firms establishing close pricing policies went the promise of consideration for a higher rate of return in reviewing contracts for excess profits and maintenance of work in case cutbacks, or reductions, are made in their line of war production.

AGRICULTURE: New Crop

Thanks to a new oil extraction and harvesting process, the raising of sunflower seeds may develop into an important farm crop in the middle west, following successful experimentation in Illinois' Piat county.

Due to a new solvent process of bio-chemist Ezra Levin, oil now extracted from the sunflower seeds and the resulting mash no longer become rancid, while the construction of a new combine cuts the once high harvesting costs.

Planted in 40-inch rows and cultivated twice through the season, 1,600 pounds of seed were obtained from an acre, with a yield of oil at 14 1/2 cents per pound reportedly higher than that obtained from a similar planting of soybeans. Not only is the oil good for salads and cooking, it was said, but seeds were found to have protein content of 53 per cent.

WAR SHIPPING: Big Profits

With nine American steamship lines having made $26,847,000 in profits on $31,364,000 worth of business from April to September on lend-lease runs to the Middle East, the U. S. maritime commission started court action against seven of the operators to recover excess income.

Operating on rates that the commission itself set at the time when subs were scourging the seas and ships were needed to haul material to the British in the middle eastern and north African sectors, the companies averaged $300,000 profit per vessel, or 910 per cent of the book value of each.

Although two of the companies have refunded $300,000, the others have refused to make remittances, claiming that they merely charged prevalent rates, recognized by the British themselves.

TIRES

With increased military demands and manpower shortages limiting supply, no passenger tires will be available for "A" card holders or less essential "B" card applicants through the first three months of 1945, trade circles reported.

At the same time, it was said, the supply of heavy truck tires during this period will be the smallest for any quarter since 1941. Release of experienced workers from the army was proposed to help remedy the truck tire shortage.

"OLD CAT..."

Whose Hard Work Yesterday Helped Make Peak War Production Possible Today?

You and your pals were the first, the original pipeliners. "Old Cats," you called yourselves, and it was a proud title. Dixie Mike, Texas Joe, Louisiana Red . . . the names are mileposts along today's widespread network of Natural Gas pipe lines in the Gulf South

You pioneered an industry with your hands, in the muck of the early days. Though you could not know it, you laid the groundwork for Gulf South Natural Gas service, which today is helping your country win a bitter war for freedom and security for the future.

Texas To Join Paralysis Fight

The 1945 fund-raising appeal of the National Foundation For Infantile Paralysis, in celebration of the President's birthday is being opened officially throughout Texas this week with establishment of state headquarters in Dallas. Appointment of leaders in every county to direct the local campaigns will get underway immediately.

The appeal will attain its intensive period from Jan 14 to 31, with Texas people joining in balls, bazars, benefit concerts, sports contests, the March of Dimes and other events to raise funds for waging the war against infantile paralysis.

In 1944 America sustained the second worst epidemic of infantile paralysis ever to hit the nation. More than 18,000 people were stricken and many of the victims will require prolonged medical care and treatment. Mr. Briggs reported. Funds from this year's celebrations will help continue treatment for children in every community crippled by the disease, and will finance national research looking toward eventual eradication of the dread affliction.

Lutheran Church Announcements

The swift change of time strikes home with frightening power. The desire for security is therefore strong in the hearts of men at the beginning of a new year. It is the motive behind much of the planning for the future which is being done. The security, however, which human planning can give does not reach very far. It cannot reach the deepest fears of the human heart.

Only the Creator of the world and of human life can do that. No other helper is strong enough to be the Hope and Trust of our life.

Attend the church of your choice next Sunday for the strengthening of your faith and for real security in 1945!

You are welcome at any of the services listed below.
