Membership In The Legion Auxiliary

The time is here to renew your membership in the American Legion Auxiliary for another year. At a time like this there can be no question about continuance of patriotic service. Of course you are going to continue your Auxiliary membership and continue to aid the Auxiliary in its great work and the even greater work ahead. Even though we are at peace once again there must be no faltering by any of us. The Auxiliary must have all of its old members and many new ones in its ranks to give strength and security "for those who have borne the battle," and for the peaceful progress of the nation.

The Manhattan Changes Owners This Past Week

The Manhattan department store changed owners, effective October 29th. C. M. Archer and associates purchased the store from Mrs. Florence Pearlman.

Mr. Archer was discharged from the Coast Guard September 10th, after serving for 42 months. He served on the West Coast and was discharged at Long Beach.

Prior to entering the service Mr. Archer was associated with Perkins-Timberlake Co. for 13 years, working in the capacity as store manager and department manager at Wichita Falls, Frederick, Okla., Electra, Vernon, Ardmore, Okla., then back to Wichita Falls.

This is a return engagement for Mr. Archer in Burkburnett. He was here in 1921-22-23, with the Anderson Dry Goods Company.

Mr. and Mrs. Archer have taken up residence here on East Fifth street.

1,000 Poppies To Be Sold

The women of the American Legion Auxiliary will sponsor the regular poppy drive Saturday, November 10 with a booth located at the Corner Drug Store. Mother Majors a charter member of the Auxiliary will be on hand to help with the issuing of the poppies and handling funds which are turned in.

One thousand poppies have arrived from Legion, Texas, where they were made by disabled war veterans. Each little poppy is a replica of those blooms that grew so bravely on the battle fields of the first World War. Since each is shaped by hand, each is slightly different from its fellows but every flower, no matter what its shape or form, carries the same message and dedication.

The school children have showed great interest this year in the little poppy. The 7th grade pupils have made some very interesting posters which will be displayed in the store windows of Burkburnett, beginning Monday, Nov. 5th.

War stamp prizes will be awarded for the poster judged as the best, the rules by which they will be judged will be announced in the next issue of the Burk Star.

When you wear a poppy, you show the world that you are saluting the war's dead and doing your bit for the war's living victims. Let's make this a real poppy day, the first since V-J Day.

BETWEEN THE DEADLINES

(by H. C. D.)

This week a letter came addressed to Hairbreadth Harry and Honest John. It was from Andy (Wildcat Willie) Thomas, formerly manager of the theatres here. Andy is now manager of the theatre at Canadian, "way up on the Plains. Andy says that is "tall grass country, big hats, boots and everything." He says put him on the mailing list to receive the Star each week.

The big Cycamore trees in front of the City Hall got a pruning this week. They were topped, pruned, clipped and shaved. Looks kinda bare now.

Lots of sprucin' up goin' on. Everybody trying to get "lit." Edd oBokout at the City Cafe has installed Fluorescent lights to illuminate his place. So has Jimmy Still at his jewelry store. Jimmy has lots of pride about the appearance of his store and expects some new show cases in the near future.

Louis Littlefair, new manager at the Palace Theatre has been burning midnight oil getting the face of the theatre building lifted. The lobby and front received a new coat of paint this week and other dressing up is on the program.

Harry Mayes is all grins this week. He recently painted the floor of his store and now he has a new electric refrigerator on display.

Not long ago firemen answered a call out to the Katy Railroad bridge North of town. The City had a bulldozer pushing trash down the bank when the blade knocked a hole in an oil line. At the time, high gravity crude was being pumped through and several barrels scaped before linemen could come and place a collar over the hole. Two little colored boys came up to watch the operation and one of them said "I wonder if that would make a big 'fah'?" He struck a match and workmen had to run for their lives. The oil had run down the creek under the wooden bridge and as the flames spread the bridge caught fire. Both trucks joined in the fight and saved the bridge, which was afire all over. Although the structure was weakened, the trains continued on schedule after hurried repairs.

The soap shortage was about over, then along came Hallowe'en and the kids soaped every window in town. Aside from this nuisance the pranksters were moderate in their celebration. Youngsters under 12 came down town in costumes and had a noisy good time, while grown-ups just stood around and watched the fun.

Burkburnett citizens are proud of three new asphalt streets. Commissioner W. T. (Slim) Holman and his workmen have completed black topping Preston, Park and Tidal streets. This is such an inexpensive method of surfacing that every street in town could be paved with slight cost to property owners in cooperation with the City. How about some more smooth as glass streets?

Army Recruiters Here Monday

Sgt. Brown and Cpl. Collins, recruiters for the army, will be in Burkburnett Monday to interview applicants for the army. Those who are interested may see them at the Chamber of Commerce office.

Donald Dodson, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Dodson, was honorably discharged from the Army at Randolph Field on October 28th. Donald plans to take up his school work where he left off at Hardin Junior College when he went into the service.

Members of the Lions Club had the pleasure of hearing Capt. Clyde Fillmore at their regular meeting Tuesday night. Capt. Fillmore was a member of the Lost Battalion and held captive by the Japs since the fall of Java. He brought first hand information about how American prisoners were treated by the Japs and as he related these incidents, tears came to his eyes.

Lions Bill Bean and Wylie Browning had charge of the program. Capt. Fillmore was introduced by Lion Browning. Preceding the talk of the captain Lion Bean presented Billijo Harrison who sang two numbers accompanied at the piano by Sweetheart Mamie Browning.

THE CORNER DRUG

National Pharmacy Week is November 4-10, and heralds an institution that has had as varied a career as any business in America. Each generation has seen a change in the neighborhood drugstore, for we never spoke of going to the pharmacist's. It has grown from a panacea for ills to a department store without yard goods. Chain pharmacies compete with almost every merchant and maybe this is handy to get roller skates, paints, shoes, kitchenware alongside cheese on rye and aspirin tablets. The tall bottles of colored water used to denote the business to us as the cigar store it's Indian, but the neon sign has its day now, maybe with a door that is opened by a amgic eye. Always there is a section where prescriptions are filled, though. Even if the display and atmosphere has changed with the years, the pharmacy still remains as a remedy for the ills of Burk Burnett, the pharmacist a real friend and dispenser of service to his community.

WHO SAID CORNBREAD!

Stop mumbling about world affairs, haranguing on national ills and lets talk about cornbread. Friendships have been cooled, Ladies Aid meetings interrupted, neighbor's disturbed, over cornbread. It is as argumentative a subject as clam chowder, and like that, much may depend upon the part of the country one calls home. To get the cook started, ask her if yellow is better than white meal, should the cornbread be heavy with richness or light and fluffy. Should true cornbread be sweetened with sugar and the batter mixed with flour. It can even lead to whether or bought in sacks from the store. Schools of thought even argue whether it should be cooked on top of the stove and if in a skillet. But one thing all of these believers and non-believers agree upon, that you can't get real cornbread from a package already mixed but adding water.

Burk Burnett . . . History

As revealed by the files of the Star 10 years ago.

Arrested in Burk Burnett by Bill Stapp and carried to Wichita Falls by the deputy sheriff, a young man that gave his name as Ted Robbins, pleaded guilty of theft before a Wichita court last Friday. The young man was arrested after pilfering $2.70 from the cash register of the Gulf Filling station, and when he was arranged before the court the judge assessed a fine of $25.00 and costs. Earlier in the day, according to the police officials, the young man had attempted to pass some checks here, but failed to do so. The residence of the young man was listed as Oklahoma. He will receive sentence imposed by the judge.

Robert Ripley would be happy to see the turnip that was brought into the Star Office this week. It is a vegetable that evidently got in a tight place and decided it needed a pair of pleyers. The root of the turnip grew right through the hole in the handle of the wire cutters. The turnip was grown on the Brady and Gibbs garden near Burk Burnett. It would constitute a real believe it or not for Ripley. The turnip was about 2 inches in diameter and the entire patch was producing an excellent yield on the vegetables according to the owner.

Mrs. H. C. Preston entertained a group of children at her home this week honoring Brack Preston on the occasion of his 9th birthday. The house was decorated with the Halloween motif, and the 33 friends that gathered were led in a series of interesting games during the afternoon. In the contest that was played Richard Whitesides won the prize.

Youngsters' Party Delight—Ice Cream Clowns
(See Recipes Below)

Children's Party
How long since the youngsters had a party of their own? It doesn't have to be birthday time to celebrate, because parties for the younger set are fun to have, and essential for developing social poise.

Parties like this are easy on mother because refreshments must necessarily be simple. A little imagination and flair for decoration will do the rest.

Good wholesome food prepared attractively will go a long way toward satisfying the little guests. Add a few gay tablecloths and napkins, some easy but exciting games and you have all the ingredients for a successful party.

If you are serving sandwiches, cut them into shapes with animal cutters. A cool glass of milk, or hot chocolate with a frothy blob of whipped cream—now returned to the grocery shelves—will bring forth cheers from Jimmy's or Joan's friends.

The favorite dessert is cake or cookies with ice cream of course! Anything you can do to make this latter partyified will all be on the credit side of the party.

Now that cheese and meat are easier to obtain, you can again have fun with sandwiches. Not too much seasoning, though, because youngsters' stomachs are sensitive. Here are some good suggestions:

Bologna Filling.
(Makes 15 to 20 sandwiches)
1 pound bologna
1/2 cup chopped pickles or relish
1 cup mayonnaise
1 tablespoon minced onion
Dash of tabasco sauce
3 hard-cooked eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup ground raw carrots
1/2 cup chopped celery

Grind bologna and mix thoroughly with relish, mayonnaise, onion and sauce. Divide in half and to one part add 3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped, and 1/2 teaspoon salt. To the other half add the carrots and celery.

Deviled Egg Filling.
4 hard-cooked eggs
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon pepper
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
4 teaspoons vinegar
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
4 tablespoons mayonnaise

Chop the eggs fine. Add other ingredients and mix well.

Deviled Cheese Filling.
1/2 pound mild cream cheese
1 small onion
3 canned pimientos or chopped green or red peppers
3 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon paprika
4 tablespoons mayonnaise

Lynn Says:
Don't Ration Eye Appeal: Foods that look their best usually taste the best, too, because they've been cooked and served properly.

When garnishing daily dinner and luncheon platters, simplicity is the theme. A few freshened carrot tops, lettuce leaves, strips of green pepper or tomato wedges make the difference between the family's liking the food and merely eating it quietly.

Candles, simple flowers or a bowl of fruit add to the table immensely. They even seem to make the food more palatable. Serve meat balls and chops on a bed of watercress and watch the difference.

Or, cut grapefruit rind into fancy shapes with a cutter and set them against a background of green.

Lesson for November 4

THE CHURCH AS A FELLOWSHIP
LESSON TEXT—Romans 12:3-18.
GOLDEN TEXT—Be kindly affectioned one to another... in honor preferring one another.—Romans 12:10.

The greatest and most important institution in the world is the Church. The home, which we have been studying in recent weeks, is the primary unit of society, but its relationships are primarily of a personal nature. In the church there is an organized fellowship within a God-made institution, the living organism through which the Lord brings such blessing to the world—the Church.

Here, in God's house, among God's people, the believer finds strength and joy. The Lord's people are:

I. Different Yet United (vv. 3-8).
God is different in uniformity, but He does want unity. In the Church are all types of gifts and personalities, each one useful to God. He does not want them all reduced to that drab uniformity which characterizes so many man-made products.

Prophecy, ministry, teaching, giving, ruling—yes, all the various works to which God calls men should be done diligently for His glory. No man is to think of himself as more or less useful to God. His work is different, but it is God's work, and when all serve as they should there is unity and efficiency in the accomplishing of His blessed purpose.

The unity of believers in Christ (v. 5) is something which needs emphasis in our day. The forces of Protestantism are so divided as to be largely ineffective in many important fields.

Not only are they divided but there are almost endless divisions within denominations—yes, and even in local churches. Sometimes there are issues which cannot be met except by separation, but there are also many unnecessary divisions, dishonoring to God and weakening to the Church.

Let's remember we can be different (God wants us to be!) but we can still be united! God wants that, too!

II. Active Yet Kind (vv. 9-11).
God puts no premium on laziness or indifference. We are not to be "lothful" but "fervent" in spirit. Sometimes one feels that the Church has gone sound asleep. It is alive but inactive. It professes to have a zeal for God, but if there is any fervency of spirit, in most places it must be well hidden. But that is not possible, is it?

How much we need a stirring revival in the Church to bring the people of God into active service for Him. If your church as a whole does not respond to the Lord's Word, why do you not as an individual ask God to rekindle His fire in your heart?

There is to be a humility (v. 10), a fine cleanness of thought and life (v. 9), an unfeigned love for the brethren (v. 9), along with all the fervency of spirit and zeal for service.

There is much talk of uniting Christendom and no little danger of compromise for the sake of an outward unity. Such schemes are destined to failure, but unity in Christ, which recognizes Him as the divine Head of the Church, that we do desperately need and should seek for His glory, for the good of the Church and for the blessing of a world lost in sin and strife.

III. Troubled Yet Peaceful (vv. 12-16).
The Church of Christ is in the world to witness for and to serve Him. Hence, it must face all the persecutions and trials which an unbelieving world will bring upon it. Christians are not exempt from the troubles and sorrows common to all mankind.

Therein we find one of the great opportunities for effective witness, for as the Christian and the Church rightly meet such difficulties, they testify to the grace of God which can give peace in one's heart in the midst of turmoil and distress.

Read the verses. Persecuted, but not embittered thereby; weeping but also rejoicing; meeting evil with good and crookedness with honesty; meeting pride with humility and division with unity; yes, living at peace (as far as it is possible) in a belligerent world.

There is something essentially fine and noble and inspiring about the Christian Church wherever and whenever it lives up to the Lord's purpose for it and its members. There is something dismal and discouraging about the Church when it fails the Lord and His mighty cause.

Some feel that the Church is in just such a state of failure and impotence in our day. If it is true of your church, why not pray and work for a revival which will sweep all the deadness out and bring in a new refreshing breath of power from the very throne of God? Do it now!

Deep Rooted Plants Aid Soil
Plants that root deep, including trees and some grasses, are important agents in enriching the surface soil, the department of agriculture has found. The deep-ranging roots draw from the deeper layers of the soil the various plant nutrients, particularly minerals. When the plant dies and decays these are returned to the soil, but are concentrated in the top layers where shallow-rooting plants can draw on them.

WILL YOUR PLANS FOR A HOME

Condensation is caused by warm, moist air striking a cold surface, depositing water. Everyone has noticed how beads of sweat form on the outside of a glass of cold water in a warm room. That's condensation.

Condensation takes place in your home in this same manner when non-vented, inadequate heating methods are used. This is called "house sweating," and its results are both expensive and inconvenient. It causes uncomfortable living generally, and damages walls, floors, and furnishings.

Condensation Can Be Easily Eliminated

By installing the ADEQUATE, VENTED, AUTOMATIC method of GAS HEATING you eliminate the deterioration and inconvenience caused by condensation. HERE'S HOW IT'S DONE . . . (1) VENTED heating units remove the moisture resulting from combustion to the outside air by means of flues, doing away with one source of "house sweating." (2) Another cause of "house sweating" is inadequate heat, which leaves corners, walls, and furnishings cold, and it is these cold surfaces that permit condensation. ADEQUATE heating equipment prevents this by warming the entire area evenly, eliminating all cold surfaces. (3) AUTOMATIC gas heat, made possible by a small, inexpensive thermostat, guarantees greater comfort and health protection for your home 24 hours of every day, permitting you to get the full benefit of natural gas, the world's finest fuel.

AVA Method Of Gas Heating Is Economical And Easily Adaptable

Considering its many advantages, the ADEQUATE, VENTED, AUTOMATIC method of gas heating is economical both from the standpoint of original purchase and the savings in repair bills. This type of heating equipment is easily adaptable to your home, and may be installed in the attic, closet, the floor, or in an adjoining garage. Choose any make equipment you desire—but be sure the heating equipment you install in your home is ADEQUATE, VENTED, and AUTOMATIC.

Sure, we've won the War

BUT THE COST GOES ON!

IT WILL COST MILLIONS TO BRING OUR ARMIES BACK and it's just as expensive as it was taking them over. Meanwhile, thousands of our men who stay behind in occupied territory must receive their pay, be clothed, housed and fed at Uncle Sam's expense.

WE OWE THEM A RETURN TRIP TICKET TO HEALTH. The rehabilitation and care of over 300,000 wounded are among America's gravest peacetime problems. This obligation is one which every American can share in—by investing in the Great Victory Loan.

America Must Take Care of Her Own In the Great Victory Loan!

It's too much to expect that the cost of a war which lasted many years can stop overnight. Although the fighting is over, the paying has to go on for some time to come.

So once more it's ALL TOGETHER in America's Great Victory Loan. Start off your peace and prosperity—and your country's right by investing in the biggest quota bonds you've ever bought.

UNCLE SAM MUST STILL PAY FOR THESE. Although America had already started to cut down on production of various kinds of war materials, the swift ending of the war left many planes, tanks, battleships, guns, made at the last minute, still to be paid for.

MRS. JACK TRACY IS HAPPY NOW

KNOXVILLE, TENN.—Mrs. Jack Tracy, 1632 Martin Mill Pike recently wrote this letter to Faultless Starch Company:

"I am writing you just a line to express my happiness after starting to use Faultless Starch. It makes my wash turn out lots better on ironing days. I am very grateful for this wonderful starch. I will use no other starch as long as I can get Faultless Starch."
 Have you ever used Faultless Starch? It is a different kind of laundry starch. And as Mrs. Tracy says, "It makes my wash turn out lots better on ironing days. I am very grateful for this wonderful starch." Special ingredients mixed into Faultless Starch make this wonderful difference.

Save Starch-Cooking Time
 One big difference in Faultless Starch is that you don't have to cook it to make it turn clear. Just cream Faultless Starch with a little cool water. Then add boiling water while stirring. That's all. This advantage alone can save five to fifteen minutes of hot, tiresome work each busy washday.

MAKES IRONING EASY
 Another big difference in Faultless Starch is that it makes ironing smooth, easy, beautiful. Here again special ironing-aid ingredients do the "work" for you—saving you the pulling and pushing that comes with a "sticky" iron. Your iron goes smoothly along—makes ironing a joy, not a job.
 You want your wash to look clean, fresh and beautifully ironed. So let Faultless Starch help you. You deserve the advantages of Faultless Starch. Start using Faultless Starch now — and you will probably say, as Mrs. Tracy says, "I will use no other starch as long as I can get Faultless Starch." So ask your grocer today for Faultless Starch.—Adv

Things I Never Knew Till Now About Atoms:

This gives you an idea of the atom's size: If a drop of water were magnified to the size of the earth, the atoms in it would hardly be the size of oranges. . . . Most of the atom is composed of empty space. It is made of an orbit of electrons revolving around the nucleus much as planets revolve about the sun. An electron is merely a particle of electricity. . . . The atom's nucleus contains all its colossal energy. It took scientists more than 50 years of research to unlock the nucleus so it could give up that power. . . . Uranium has made the atomic bomb the most devastating explosive. Yet the bomb uses only one-tenth of one per cent of uranium's potential strength. . . . Another reason why the United Nations should stick together: They possess three-quarters of the world's uranium supply.

Few motorists realize that their cars are driven by atomic power. Gasoline is rich in hydrogen atoms, and they provide most of the power that drives the car. . . . Atomic power is one of the few great discoveries that was the goal of the longest and most difficult series of researches in history. Most momentous discoveries were accidents: The invention of fire, the discovery of America, the discovery of oxygen and the X-ray were all the result of accident.

In 1905, a young patent office clerk in Switzerland developed a theory which involved the idea that under certain conditions matter could be changed into energy and energy into matter. According to that theory, a very small amount of matter could produce tremendous quantities of energy. This has become the basic principle for atomic power. Yet science ignored this theory for 15 years. The young patent office clerk's name: Albert Einstein.

You've probably read that the atomic power in a breath of air could operate a powerful plane for a year continuously; that the ap. in a handful of snow could heat a large apartment house for a year, etc. However, Prof. Einstein believes "it will probably take many years" to channel uranium's energy into peaceful pursuits. Einstein also points out that other substances might be found "and probably will be found" to accelerate its commercial use.

On Dec. 10, 1941 (a day before we declared war against Germany), Princeton University scientists issued a report which was buried in gazettes' inside pages. Today the significance of this report cannot be over-estimated: It revealed that the scientists made much headway in planning means to defend America against any type of atomic attack. Similar research is now continuing. . . . Some day the result of this work might make the atomic bomb obsolete. . . . The peacetime role of atomic energy will depend upon one consideration—relative cost. Until a method of producing the energy has been revolutionized and brought down to a low figure, it is likely to provide a source of energy in extremely concentrated form only for highly specialized industrial purposes. . . . One scientist has observed: "Splitting the atom is like discovering the other half of the world—the biggest half."

Uranium is used for atomic bombs because it has the largest atom of any of the known elements and would be easier to split. . . . When the atom is cracked, the fragments of its nucleus are hurled off with an energy of 100,000,000 electron volts. . . . The machinery which produced the atomic bomb has given the world its greatest destructive force. Very little attention has been given to the fact that such machinery is being used to save life, not only destroy it. The atom-splitting cyclotron is a potent medical tool and is an invaluable aid in the fight to lick cancer. . . . We have pointed out that the nucleus is the source of the atom's power. It staggers the imagination to realize the nucleus is only one-millionth of a billionth of the size of the atom!

The energy in just one gram of uranium is strong enough to lift the Empire State Building 20 miles in the air. . . . More than five years ago, Dr. R. M. Langer (physics research associate at the California Institute of Technology) wrote in a mag that uranium could create a civilization in which man would dwell underground for better living; where national boundaries would be obsolete because of swift travel; and in which meaning of the gold standard would be lost because of decreased living costs.

Veterans' Administration Has Capable Leader

General Bradley Has Fatherly Interest in Veterans; Actions Show His Ability to Administer This Big Job

By BAUKHAGE
 Commentator and News Analyst

WNU Service, 1616 Eye St., N. W., Washington, D. C.

I have just come back from a visit with the father of 15 million. That isn't such a far-fetched figure to use in describing the tall, rangy Missourian, who is in charge of "the biggest business in the world," which is how they describe the Veterans' Administration in Washington.

To call Omar Nelson Bradley "father" of the service men and women isn't stretching it. Ernie Pyle once said: "If I could pick any two men in the world for my father except my own Dad, I would pick General Omar Bradley or General Ike Eisenhower. If I had a son, I would like him to go to Bradley or Ike for advice." Ernie was a pretty keen judge of human nature on the hoof. I thought of that when one of Bradley's co-workers in the Veterans' Administration, who is almost a decade older than the general, said "fatherly" was the way to describe the manner in which he was treated the first time they had a problem to straighten out with the boss.

And then I met the General. I found a weather-beaten, wiry, long-legged soldier, whose eyes twinkled brighter than the four stars on his collar. Fatherly, yes —and I'll have a word about that a little later. But I found out something else. I found out why he ought to be able to run one of the hardest jobs in the government. And I'll admit, right off, it sounds almost too good to be true.

We had been talking about the details of the reorganization of the agency which is now going on and with which General Bradley is minutely familiar. Then I asked him what it was, if anything, in his military training and experience that he could use in his present position.

He said that he thought it was the same with all jobs such as this. And here is the theory on which he works:
 "First, build your organization on functional lines. Second, get the right man to head up each function. Third, give him full responsibility to act on his own authority."

How, I inquired, does this fit in with your military experience, having had some of that branch of adventure myself—although running a platoon isn't running an army.
 "It's a good deal like the army," he answered. "You have your staff. You have say 20 sections, each with a special function, working under your chief of staff. Sometimes, of course, you group some of the functions, but the organization is along functional lines."

And how, I asked, do you choose the men to head up these various activities? His answer came back without the slightest hesitation.
 "I choose a man, first for his ability, second for his loyalty—and I count heavily on the loyalty. Get loyal men of ability and you've gone a long way toward solving your problems in any organization."

That sounded pretty good to me, but what about the present situation where, after all, there is always a Congress on Capitol Hill, a Congress with constituents who have votes and some of whom want jobs. I asked the General, what about politics? He didn't seem worried. He said that he hadn't had any trouble.
 "I'm not a politician," he said. "I never intend to run for office." That was all he would say, but here is a story I picked up later at the other end of Pennsylvania Avenue.

A certain Congressman got a hot letter from a constituent who had been fired from the Veterans' Administration. No doubt with due cause. He hot-footed it up to the General and spoke, as legislators often do to officials, with considerable vigor.
 "I want the man re-hired at once," the Congressman demanded. The General was polite but sorry.

BARBS . . . by Baukhage

Mahomet went to the mountain. The Mikado went to MacArthur. This, it seems only fair to say, merely demonstrates the excellent judgment of all parties concerned.

As I look back over a few decades I have enjoyed on this mundane sphere, the only things I regret seem to be the things I missed.

LABOR CRISIS TESTS TRUMAN

The fast-growing labor crisis presents Harry S. Truman with the first big problem he has faced on a hitherto well-charted Roosevelt sea. Up until now, most policies, especially those dealing with war and peace, had been pretty well established by Truman's predecessor. In settling the current labor turmoil, however, Harry is completely on his own.

For some time, labor advice from White House insiders has differed. Truman's labor department has argued that labor troubles after wars were inevitable, that both Wilson and Harding had to call out U. S. troops after the last war, that labor has been in a strait jacket since Pearl Harbor, is bound to feel its wild oats now; finally that big business was equally in a strait jacket and equally willing to row with labor especially if it could get labor in wrong with the public. . . . advice to Truman: Don't stick your neck out; let both sides battle it out for a while.

Opposite advice came from another wing of the White House. . . . while admitting that all the above is true, other advisers urged that both labor and industry needed guidance. For four years both labor and industry have had the Little-Steel Formula as their guide. They were supposed not to go above this. . . . Now labor finds itself losing its overtime wages, with take-home pay dropping way below lush war days, yet with the cost of living still high. Therefore, Truman was urged to step forward and set a national policy, suggest a wage increase which would partly offset the drop in take-home pay. . . . It is this group of advisers which Truman finally has decided to follow.

FARMERS VS. LABOR UNIONS

Last week Florida citrus growers came to Washington, worried sick over the future market for grapefruit and oranges. They feared a return of the old days when their fruit was dumped into Florida rivers. . . . The army has just cancelled orders for several million cases of orange juice. Simultaneously it has turned back to the civilian market several million more surplus cases. This backlog is bound to have a depressing effect on citrus fruit. . . . Citrus fruit growers know that with wages dropping, the civilian demand for oranges and grapefruit will also nose-dive. When workmen get paid less, first thing they quit buying is fruit. . . . Cattlemen also figure on a drop in prices. Not only will the army buy less, but workmen eat less meat, when wages are cut. . . . Same is true of many other farm commodities, including dairy products. . . . Never before has the average American eaten so well—despite rationing—as during the war years, largely because wages were high. . . . Seldom before also have farmers been so prosperous. . . . Seldom before, however, have farmers been so sore at labor unions. They were looking forward to buying new autos, new farm machinery. Now all this is delayed by strikes. Also they were looking forward to the return of cheap labor from cities to farms. So far this hasn't materialized.

UNIONS LOSE MONEY

Big industrial unions naturally don't want any trek back to the farm. It means loss of dues. The United Auto Workers' 1,000,000 dues-paying membership has now dropped to about half of that. The drop was so severe that the cost of running the union went in the red. . . . UAW chiefs are going about their wage protests in an orderly, fair-minded manner, have done their best to stop the Kelsey-Hayes wildcat strike. . . . But some union leaders prefer strikes. It helps increase their power in the union. . . . In Schenectady, General Electric's Charles E. Wilson long has advocated higher wages. He says it helps him sell electric refrigerators, electric irons, etc. He has been ready to make upward wage adjustments voluntarily, just as wise Standard Oil of N. J. increased its pay immediately and automatically at the end of the war.

However, certain CIO Electrical Workers seem more interested in a strike than a voluntary or negotiated wage boost. . . . some labor leaders, unfortunately, seem deliberately looking for strikes—among them John L. Lewis. They bring disfavor on the heads of other labor leaders, have given the entire labor movement a bad setback with public opinion. . . . Public opinion in some areas is now so anti-labor that Truman would get thunderous applause if he called out U. S. troops as strike-breakers.

Tarragon Vinegar
 Tarragon vinegar is a favorite in dressing summer salads. The dark green leaves of tarragon are used for seasoning the vinegar. They are used both fresh and dried. This herb needs a little covering of litter and leaves for winter protection.

Cage Crickets
 In the Orient the chirping noise of the house cricket is highly appreciated and many households keep them in cages, the cages often elaborately wrought and decorated.

Two-Headed Stream
 The Rhine river rises as a two-headed stream in southern Switzerland, enters the Boden See (Lake Constance), and emerges to continue its winding 850-mile course to its multi-mouthed outlet in the North sea. In its oceanward journey it picks up several important tributaries, such as the Lahn, the Neckar, the Main, and the Ruhr from the east, and the Mosel from the west. In some stretches the river is an international boundary. It is a frontier between Switzerland and tiny Liechtenstein, between Switzerland and the old Austria, between Switzerland and Germany, and between France and Germany. Through Germany the river flows in a general northwesterly direction, turning sharply west at the Netherlands line to enter the North sea.

Freshen Grass With Fertilizer in Fall

Late August or September is the best season to give lawn grass a "lift." After the hard summer season, some refreshments in the way of fertilizer, and possibly lime, is called for. Thin stands of grass are particularly in need of help. If your lawn has not been limed in the last few years, it is suggested that you apply 50 to 75 pounds of ground limestone per 1,000 square feet. This will sweeten the soil and make it possible for the grasses to respond better to fertilizer treatment.
 The addition of 10 to 20 pounds of fertilizer per 1,000 square feet of lawn will do wonders. Fertilizers such as 5-10-5, 4-12-8 or those of similar ratios are well adapted for thickening lawn grasses. Uniform distribution can be obtained by spreading the material in two directions. Measure out half of the fertilizer needed for the lawn and spread it in a north-south direction. Then spread the other half in an east-west direction, and there should be little difficulty in getting even coverage.

Lawns given a tonic in the manner described soon will assume a good healthy color and develop a dense stand of grass. Lawns composed of dense turf will resist invasion by undesirable weeds such as crabgrass, buckhorn and dandelion.

Combustionable Hay
 Experienced farmers know that hay, if incompletely cured at time of storage—meaning that it has moisture content of 25 to 30 per cent—is subject to spontaneous combustion.

Perk Up Potato Salad
 Potato salad will taste better placed in the refrigerator to chill several hours before serving time. This gives the onions and seasonings a chance to permeate the salad, making it uniformly delicious.

Trail-Makers
 The first trail-makers in America were buffaloes.

Better Egg Care—Better Egg Prices

The increase in demand for topquality eggs always brings a rise in price of three or four cents a dozen on the market. In a year's time this extra revenue from quality eggs makes a nice showing on your labor return per hen.

Gather Eggs Often
Eggs should be gathered often

In hot, dry weather the moisture in the egg is evaporated quickly, breaking down the yolk and making the white thin. An egg in this condition if of poor quality. In the winter the eggs will freeze if not gathered frequently, and such eggs also are always of low grade. It is recommended that a wire basket be used in gathering the eggs so there will be less breakage, less dirt, and faster cooling.

Cooling Eggs

By cooling eggs as soon as possible after gathering and by keeping them at a proper temperature and humidity, their freshness can be preserved for a considerable length of time. Inexpensive coolers can be made and are well worth their cost. However, a well ventilated basement or cave will be quite satisfactory. The air in a basement or cave usually is moist in addition to being cool, and this promotes the keeping qualities of eggs.

As soon as the eggs are gathered they should be taken to the cave or basement to be held for 10 or 15 hours in wire baskets or trays for cooling. A temperature of 60 degrees F. with humidity at about 75 percent is ideal for the cooling room.

Preventing Dirty Eggs
First of all to prevent dirty eggs, plenty of clean nests one to every five hens are necessary. Washing dirty eggs causes them to deteriorate more quickly, but if eggs must be washed, use a cloth dampened with a mixture of half vinegar and half water. It is much better, however, to use fine sandpaper nailed on a small block.

Harry Harris

Harry was overseas with the 15th Air Force in Italy, an engineer-gunner on a bomber. When his plane was shot up, the crew had to bail out over Roumania and he spent 3 months as a prisoner of war.

Mr. and Mrs. Harris reside in Roselawn addition. His mother, Mrs. B. C. Harris, lives in Wichita Falls.

Clifford Wells At Tom Britton Motors

Clifford E. Wells, a veteran of the Air Corps with 39 months' service, has taken charge of the paint and body department at Tom Britton Motors. This is the type work Clifford did before going into the service and he and his wife are glad to get settled down in Burkburnett.

Clifford served in widely separated areas while in the service, first on the East Coast on anti-submarine patrol, then to the West Coast for the same duty, plus ferrying trips to various points from Panama to the Aleutians.

When he left the West Coast he went to England and made 35 missions in a B-17 before being sent to Spokane, Washington, where he was placed in charge of his first love, a large paint and body department maintained by the Army to instruct convalescent veterans. On the B-17 Clifford was a radio operator-mechanic and gunner. The narrowest escape he had over Europe was when a piece of flak knocked a hole in his helmet.
