Burk Banker Top Berry Grower

Virgil Brookshear, president of the First National Bank in Burk Burnett, grows strawberries as a hobby.

There may be better strawberry growers than Virgil Brookshear, but until he shows his hand we're booming this Burk Burnett banker as the ace of spades.

Brookshear is fast becoming known as the strawberry grower who banks as a hobby. In view of his accomplishments with the big lucious berry, this description of him isn't too out of harmony with facts.

From his small plot of ground scarcely 15 by 3 feet, Brookshear could supply the Dionne quintuplets with daily birthday cakes. Every other morning during the production period he gets practically two gallons of strawberries from the patch.

The strawberry patch is part of a huge backyard garden Brookshear is cultivating behind his home at 508 Magnolia Street in Burk Burnett.

He grows the usual garden vegetables plus many other products the average home gardener considers beyond his pale.

For example, Brookshear has 10 varieties of peach trees, three varieties of plum trees, three varieties of apples including two crab apples; three of cherries and one of apricots.

Besides the vegetables and fruit, Brookshear has some beautiful flowers and shade trees which he irrigates from a well he dug himself.

All of this is part of Brookshear's back yard garden. It's a sight to see—especially those strawberries.

Burkburnett Water Sold Fast At Wichita Falls

Last Thursday at the Shrine Ceremonial in Wichita Falls, sale of Burkburnett water was a thriving enterprise. Above is shown the water wagon, powered by the one cylinder donkey. Truman Garland, a novice, is at the head of the conveyance, fixing to crank up and go to a new location. Before the day was over he decided he needed a new plug. The other fellow, an unidentified candidate from Electra, is turning on the switch and yelling "contact". Total sales for the day totaled more than $20.00.

WHY CAN'T WE HAVE SOME SUGAR

Housewives throughout this country, as well as industrial users of sugar like the bakers, confectioners, canners, ice cream manufacturers and others, would like to know why they "can't have sugar."

The war has been over for months and sugar is still scarce—still rationed. Why? What are the facts of the sugar shortage?

Sugar is a major and vital part of this country's diet, particularly those in the low income brackets. Sugar is the least expensive of all the basic foods. It is highest in energy value.

Housewives and the industrial users want an adequate supply of sugar at all times at a reasonable price. There doesn't seem to be any doubt about that.

Cuba, the largest sugar producer in the World, has been prepared to make available just such an adequate supply, according to the United States Cuban Sugar Council in New York City, but has often been prevented from doing so by restrictions imposed by the U. S. Government.

"No one will need to fear a sugar shortage, even in war-time," said a recent statement by the Council, "if the sugar trade between the United States and Cuba were put on a sounder basis."

U. S. Government figures show that Cuba supplied almost 60 per cent of the total sugar made available to the United States and the Allies in World War I and over half the supply made available in World War II. Cuba has maintained, throughout war years, its high sugar production record when other suppliers of the U. S. market, for one reason or another, have been unable to do so.

Cuba, according to official figures at Washington, can produce sugar at a lower cost than any other major U. S. grower. Cuba has demonstrated both the capacity and the willingness to ship an adequate supply of sugar to U. S. consumers.

Sugar-hungry Americans can serve their own best interests by insisting that low-cost Cuban sugar reaches their dining table and the plants which use sugar for many other kinds of foodstuffs.

'Twas Embarrassing Moment for the Lady
After having completed her spring housecleaning, a housewife found she had a lot of junk to be hauled away. But after several days seeking, she was unable to find a man to do the job. Then one morning she saw a big truck coming along the street heavily loaded with an assortment of articles. Running to the curb, she hailed the driver, and when he pulled up to a stop, she told him she had a load of trash for him. Drawing himself up with all the dignity he possessed, the man replied: "Lady, I'll have you know I'm not hauling trash! We're moving!"

AROUND THE HOUSE
A bird house with a hinged roof makes an attractive clothespin box when attached to a clothesline post.
Slip buttons over a wire hairpin and twist the ends together the minute buttons are removed from the garment. Drop them into your regular button box and they're ready when you need them.
Accidental cuts in garments usually tear threads both ways and should be mended at once. Otherwise the cut will stretch and lose its shape making mending the more difficult.
Never crowd the rinse tub. Clothes must move freely under water to get the soap out. Also lift each piece of clothing up and out of water when rinsing clothes. Otherwise dirt in the soiled water remains in the fabric.
Sitting on the edge of a bed causes the mattress to sag.
Heavy paper bags in which clothes are returned from the cleaners make excellent storage coverings for bedding. Place bedding in the bag and seal the ends with gummed paper, scotch tape, or adhesive. Mend any breaks or cracks in the bag. For moth protection, see that bedding is clean, and that the bag contains some moth preventive.

If you are smart, you will place knit garments in drawers rather than hang them up. Hanging stretches them.
Never set a vase or bowl of flowers in a draft. If you do, they will soon wilt.

ATTENTION IN BEHALF JOHN LEE SMITH NAMED BY VETERANS

DALLAS, TEX., April 8, 1946. A group of 25 Harris County War II veterans Tuesday certified check and a $100. requesting that Lt. Gov. Lee Smith's name be accepted as candidate for governor by the Democratic Committee, Wilbur H. Posey, group leader, requested.

They feel Lt. Gov. Smith has been a consistent advocate of those principles for which the youth of this country fought and died, especially the following points:

That ex-servicemen must be given preference in all jobs, public and private, and that his honorable discharge should be the only requirement for employment. It should not be secondary to a union membership.

A Veterans' State Employment Commission should be created.

Gen. Smith announced for former about a month ago. Previously his filing fee already has been paid.

Mr. Posey identified himself as commander of the Texas Veterans Political Council, a new organization with posts recently established in seven Texas cities. He added: "John Lee Smith was the only prominent State Official who had the courage to oppose the strike."

He is the only candidate who says that the veteran should be free to get a job without paying some labor racketeer for it.

Card of Thanks

DEAR FRIENDS:—
In time of need nothing is more comforting than friends. This being the case I am justified in being happy and comforted. To all of you who have been kind and thoughtful, please accept this sincere but feeble thanks from the depth of my appreciative heart. When I view and feel the graciousness and warmth of so many hearts, I truly say to myself that God has been merciful to me.

Sincerely,
Rev. Paul Kaiser and family. 40-11c

Washington News Letter

By Congressman Ed Gossett

The President this week signed the so-called Petrillo Bill. This law was long overdue. To some extent it clips the wings of James Caesar Petrillo head and czar of the American Musicians Union. It will prevent Petrillo from exacting royalty on each phonograph record used in broadcasting. It will keep him from forcing theatres, radio stations, and entertainers from paying union musicians even when they do not use them. It will stop a lot of racketeering which Petrillo has carried on for years.

The house this week passed a bill extending OPA for nine months. This bill will be severely criticized by columnist, radio commentators, and others. Two extreme schools of thought prevail concerning OPA. One group says we cannot get along without OPA control of everything. Another group contends that we cannot survive under OPA operations. Perhaps a middle group would be more nearly correct. The House bill in general does three things. First, it provides that price controls shall be released when supply equals domestic demand. Second, it provides for the gradual termination of subsidies. Third, it allows producers reasonable profit.

Another view of OPA operations which honest men and good citizens must face is the black market. When most of a commodity moves in the black market, the legitimate operator, the one who observes regulations, is penalized and injured.

Again, none of us can expect the farmer, the manufacturer, the worker, or anyone else to produce at a loss. We must have voluminous production if we are to have prosperity. We can more easily share in an economy of abundance than of scarcity.

Some weeks ago I made complaint on the House floor about extensive construction of commercial buildings in the City of Washington. Numerous theatres are under construction. I learned when home on March 2 that fourteen theatres were then under construction in Dallas. I am glad to see that Housing Expediter Wilson Wyatt is now trying to prevent this sort of building in order that scarce materials may be used in the building of homes.

The House yesterday took a ten day Easter recess. Most members have left for home. I shall follow suit as soon as our children recover from the measles and mumps now plaguing our household.

Mr. and Mrs. Clark Gresham and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kearns were in Fort Worth last Friday to view the Texas Electric House of Magic exhibition at Will Rogers auditorium.

Mrs. C. M. Archer and Mrs. Clifford Dodson visited in Frederick Tuesday.

For years, I have broken out into a sweat when the dentist began drilling on one of my teeth—but recently, he drilled and I smiled sweetly. The ravages of time made a bridge necessary and he was drilling on the bridge while holding it in his hand.

I can understand the sentiment of the cowboy who had a tooth pulled and said he wanted to keep it in a glass and look at it and say, "Now, ache, darn you."

Traveling over Texas: Bluebonnets seem earlier than usual this year; saw my first ones just north of Ennis on April 2.—Little lambs along the hillsides in Coleman and Rannels counties—Just out of Athens, besides the highway, a big dogwood tree, with thousands of blossoms; and near Rusk a thicket against a hill with so many dogwoods in bloom that the trees looked as though they were sprinkled with snow—Approaching Jacksonville plumes of smoke hovering over a valley at twilight; they came from burning sawdust piles and were held low by the damp air; a fresh sawdust burning has a fragrance of its own.

South of Alto, the Neches was in semi-flood and a house on stilts was surrounded by water. Seated on the porch was an old negro, unconcernedly reading a newspaper—Judge Hal Leaverton who was mayor in Breckenridge and then county judge of Gregg County is now living in Carthage—Timpson was probably the smallest town in the United States about 1,500 inhabitants, with a daily paper; the daily paper was discontinued, however, a year ago after 43 years.—A sign in Stephenville, "If you are too busy to go to church, you are too busy."

The only sea voyage I ever took was to Catalina Island, off the coast from Los Angeles. True, the distance was only 25 miles but the ship's deck developed quite an angle at times and walking wasn't easy.

The craggy island rises high from the sea, presenting a sight familiar to movie-goers for it has furnished the background of many a saga of the ocean shipwrecks, marooning of sailors and hunts of pirate treasure; and it has been the locale for any an idyl of a South Sea isle. On the way, you see flying fish.

There are many beautiful homes—including the one that belonged to Novelist Zane Gray—escorted on the precipitous slopes, which are clad in shaggy, green bushes. Then there is a drive over the island and from the crest you look down upon what seems a toy village, and creamy waves, incredibly little, break against a miniature shore. But none of these constituted the most memorable feature of Catalina Island, which by the way is owned by William Wrigley, the chewing gum magnate, and he spent millions of dollars in the original purchase and in its beautification.

Nor was the most vivid experience the ride in the glass bottomed boat, though you saw many marvelous ferns and flowers growing in the water and fish of many kinds glided at your very feet and stared at you with their big eyes; and as the climax, the diver went overboard and you beheld him far below, on the bed of the sea, and after what seemed a minute, he started back to the surface with a big shell in his hand.

No, the most remarkable thing about the island, and it was literally about the island, was the water that lapped its shores, water not blue but actually purple—so rich in hue that it looked as though it had been dyed; but of course that could not be for it stretched far out to meet at least the baby-blue of the arching sky, which was dimpled with clouds.

You'd like Catalina Island.

Mr. G. A. Holloway, associational B. T. U. director will bring his traveling unit from Sheppard Field to put on a program at Cashion Church next Sunday night. Everyone is invited to come.

GEN. OMAR N. BRADLEY
Administrator of Veteran Affairs

DALLAS, Tex., April 23.—Encouraging progress in processing Texas, Louisiana and Mississippi veterans' disability claims and providing adequate hospitalization was reported Tuesday by General Omar N. Bradley, Administrator of Veterans Affairs, who came here on a trip of inspection.

The four star general, making his second visit to the Southwest since his appointment by President Truman, said the claims pattern in this area is the same as elsewhere. The VA is able to handle all disability claims on a current basis except where it cannot get medical records. The Army, he announced, has promised speedier help in this respect.

A shortage of space for administrative purposes and lack of sufficient doctors are still plaguing the administration, General Bradley announced. He said the taking over of the Ashburn and McCloskey Army Hospitals at McKinney and Temple, Texas, and LaGarde Hospital at New Orleans would alleviate the shortage of beds for veteran patients.

Maisie's Way To Ward Off Wolves

The importance for dressing for a job has never been emphasized more forcefully than in Ann Sothern's latest adventures as the heroine of "Up Goes Maisie," opening on the Palace Screen next Wednesday.

After Maisie discovers that hunting a job as a secretary eventually resolves itself down to track-meets around prospective employers' desks, she adopts an ill fitting brown suit, brogues a slicked back hair-do and a Queen Mary hat. Then, to cinch the old theory about men never make passes, she effects a pair of heavy, horn-rimmed spectacles.

It works. Discovered in this masquerade, she attempts to explain to her boss, George Murphy, that this is not a disguise but the only protection for a girl whose boss make her a compulsory defense worker.

"If I didn't wear this," she says, "I'd have to resort to boxing gloves and a catcher's mask." Together with Murphy, the cast of "Up Goes Maisie" features Hillary Brooke, Horace McNally, Ray Collins and Jeff York, under the direction of Harry Beaumont.

Card of Thanks

We wish to express our thanks and deep appreciation to our friends for all the nice cards and letters; for the beautiful floral offerings and for their kindness shown us during the time of illness.

The twenty-five posts in the 13th District of the American Legion will hold their Annual Spring Convention, called by District Commander, C. F. Johnson of Burkburnett, at Munday, Sunday, May 5.

Department Commander, Herman G. Nami of San Antonio, who has five District Conventions upon the date has chartered a plane and plans to attend them all. He is scheduled to fly from Marshall to Munday and to arrive before the Convention closes Sunday afternoon.

The convention will start with a school for County Service Officers which will start at 9:30 o'clock Sunday morning. The school will be conducted by Fred Brookman of Waco, one of the five Department Service Officers maintained by the American Legion. Delegates and Alternates will attend church services starting at 11 o'clock, Sunday morning.

Business session of the Convention will start at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Fourth Division Commander, Howard Hudgins of Vernon is scheduled to be present. A delegate and alternate to the National American Legion Convention to be held in San Francisco next October will be elected.

Under the dynamic leadership of District Commander Johnson, the 13th District has made great strides the past year. Last year's district membership was 2704 but the date the 1946 membership has soared to 5,333 to practically double that of last year.

Commander of the Host Post at Munday is Jack Mayes, who has prepared an outstanding program for the convention.

Mr. J. E. Haney is in the Wichita General hospital in serious condition after being found in an unconscious state at his home April 17. His daughter, Mrs. Hester Duncan and children of California, and two sons, Harrell E. of Beaumont and J. E. Jr., of Russell, Kansas are with him.

Billy Jackson, formerly of Burkburnett, visited friends and was guest preacher at Cashion Church Sunday night. He is a ministerial student at Oklahoma Baptist University at Shawnee, Oklahoma.

Baptists To Observe Mothers Day With Hospital Gifts

Baptist churches throughout Texas will observe Mother's Day May 12 with their second annual Mother's Day Fund collection to provide charity care for the needy sick in the five Baptist hospitals of the state.

Sunday schools, church congregations and all church organizations will participate with every member invited to make a gift to the sick poor as a personal tribute in honor, or in memory of his own mother.

In the initial collection last year, Texas Baptists gave $30,000. All gifts are used solely for giving free hospitalization to critically ill patients in need of hospital therapy but unable to pay for such treatment. The five Baptist hospitals are Hendrick Memorial Hospital, Abilene; Baylor University Hospital, Dallas; Valley Baptist Hospital, Harlin;

Memorial Hospital, Houston; and Hillcrest Memorial Hospital, Waco. Patients cared for under the fund are accepted from all parts of the state and need not be Baptists nor of any denomination.

Betty Jane Lentz, daughter of A. R. Hill of Burkburnett and a student at North Texas State College, is included among 371 students at North Texas State College named in the spring term dean's list, campus honor roll. The total is an increase of 168 over last semester's 203, keeping pace with North Texas State's increasing registration figures.

Collegians who have met the requirements do not have to observe class absence rules, which deduct grade points for unexcused absences from class. Students having completed at least 12 semester hours of class work with an average of B are eligible for the honor roll.

Miss Lentz is a graduate student at NTSC.

The bodies as well as the souls of men, need the stimulus which comes from united worship. Many people say they do not come to church because they do not feel well, but the time will come when we will generally recognize that often the best way to overcome physical depression is to attend the services of the church. Come to church next Sunday and see if you do not feel better all week for having done so.

Melvin Kerner arrived home this week from the South Pacific. He has received his discharge.

Senior News

It's drawing near our very last days of school. As much as we've anticipated it all the school years, we now dread for the end to come. The only things we won't miss are the tough exams which at times confront us.

We can hardly wait for the Senior trip. If we have half as much fun as we expect, it will still be more than enough. The Junior-Senior banquet, so promises great fun, even we do have to polish up on table manners a bit.

Washington MERRY-GO-ROUND by DREW PEARSON

RUSS DON'T LIKE U. S. A. WASHINGTON.—Inside reason why the Russians are pulling wires to have the capital of the United Nations moved back to sleepy Geneva is that American public opinion has been too powerful a champion of the smaller nations.

So the Russians have been working behind the scenes to corral votes in favor of the Geneva transfer and can count on Yugoslavia, Czechoslovakia, Poland and France.

The Russians also can't count on the Latin Americans. In the old days, Pan-American diplomats loved lolling in Paris most of the time and turning up in Geneva a few days of the week.

The Russians, who originally favored an American city as the U. N. capital, now consider this a serious mistake. They dislike the fact that American newspapers publish columns and columns of front-page news on every move made by the Russians.

In Europe, they also believe, no photographer or newspaper would have the energy to trail Ambassador Gromyko on his famous and circuitous trip around New York City when he almost stopped in at the Security Council meeting, but didn't.

If the Iranian question had been discussed at Geneva, instead of New York, the Russians figure, it never would have attracted so much attention and the Soviet would have come off with a complete victory.

NO ARMY RACE PREJUDICE A Negro, former master sergeant in the army, Marion F. Green, testified before General Doolittle's "caste system" board the other day, that there was little evidence of racial prejudices and discrimination in the army.

"Colored soldiers found some resentment against them when they first joined the army, but this was quickly ironed out after a few months of training. In February, 1941, we had some fights and riots while I was stationed at Camp Livingstone, Louisiana.

The ex-G.I. also suggested that saluting of officers be optional when enlisted men are off duty and off the post, to which Lt. Gen. Troy Middleton, now an executive of Louisiana State university, countered: "Wouldn't optional saluting such as you propose tend to tear down discipline?"

POWER AND NYLON LOBBIES Many congressmen will vote against dynamic Speaker Sam Rayburn in a secret committee session, but don't have the nerve to stand up and oppose him on the floor of the house.

Sam Rayburn really has fire in his eye when he talks about the power lobby. And today that lobby ranks with the real estate buttonholers as one of the most potent on Capitol Hill, has even gone to the extent of dangling nylons before the wives of congressmen in order to win votes against the government's southwest power authority in Texas, Oklahoma, Arkansas and southern Missouri.

The question at issue is whether the government can construct its own electric lines to distribute electric power from the Denison dam on the Texas-Oklahoma border and the Norfolk, Ark., dam. Without such power lines, the government merely generates the power but can't sell it. The power lobby wants to prevent this sale.

So far, the power lobby's technique has been successful with the appropriations subcommittee, which knifed the construction of the distributing lines, Cong. Ben Jensen of Iowa, Henry Dworshak of Idaho, Robert Jones of Ohio, and W. F. Norrell of Arkansas were the gentlemen reported to have fallen for the wives of the lobby.

However, when the bill comes out on the floor of congress, Sam Rayburn, together with the dean of congress, Adolph Sabath of Illinois, plans to stage a real battle.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS Cut Civilian Meat Supplies; MacArthur Affirms Purge Policy; House Conservatives Curb OPA

Released by Western Newspaper Union. (EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysis and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

Presently held by Italy but sought by Yugoslavia, strategic Adriatic port of Trieste has been troublesome bone of contention in the peace-making. During visit of United Nations commission to area, Yugoslavs staged rally demanding port and civil guards are shown dispersing straggling demonstrators with fire hose.

MEAT: Cut Supply Following close upon the restoration of slaughtering quotas to provide for a more equitable distribution of meat, the department of agriculture announced that civilian supplies would be lower in April, May and June than in the previous months though well above the same period last year.

In renewing slaughtering quotas, the department sought to check the heavy diversion of livestock from major packing centers by smaller operators. The big packers' inability to match smaller buyers' bids and remain within OPA ceiling prices pointed up charges that much of the meat being processed was diverted to black markets.

With 15 per cent of the April, May and June meat supply allocated to the army and foreign relief, civilian stocks will be at a rate of 132 pounds per person as against 147 for the first three months of the year. Despite the reduction, the supply still will be 16 pounds over that for the same period in 1945.

FAR EAST: Mac Answers Russ In answering Russian inquiries on the effectiveness of his purge of anti-democratic elements in post-war Japan, Gen. Douglas MacArthur stood by his past actions and reaffirmed intentions of continuing to carefully weed out undesirable elements from commanding positions.

Gen. MacArthur

Holding fast to previous measures, MacArthur disputed the four-power Allied council's authority to review his past administrative actions in the defeated country. He also met insinuations that he might have dealt lightly with Japanese figures in some instances by asserting that the council possessed sufficient data to study his measures and did not require copies of all directives issued.

Answering Russia's request for a new election if the recent balloting resulted in the selection of undesirable representatives, MacArthur said he could not take any action which might reflect upon any party or favor another. Undesirable elements would be removed from parliament through continuing investigations, he indicated.

CONGRESS: Curb OPA Demanding equal profits for all and the free play of economic forces to spur production and reduce the threat of inflation with more goods, the southern Democrats and conservative Republicans again banded in the house to curb OPA control and extend the agency's life for nine months instead of one year.

Even before house action, the bill was appreciably modified by the banking committee. Attacking OPA practice of compelling retailers to absorb part of higher manufacturing costs, the committee decided to allow them a full markup, and it also abolished the OPA regulation requiring clothing makers to balance output of cheaper and more expensive lines.

When the bill reached the floor, industry briefs... While a host of new building products will appear in the postwar period as the government's housing program gains momentum, most of them will represent improved forms of old materials rather than revolutionary innovations, the trade predicts.

MUSK-OX: Taking advantage of winter conditions unparalleled in the U. S., American observers at the Canadian army's arctic "Exercise Musk-ox" are making discoveries expected to prove valuable not only to the army but also to civilians living in the extremely cold winter climates of the northern United States.

Improved Uniform International LESSON SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON Lesson for May 5

Lesson subjects and Scripture texts selected and copyrighted by International Council of Religious Education; used by permission.

LESSON TEXT—Mark 3:14-17; Luke 9:42-43; 1 John 4:7, 8. GOLDEN TEXT—And this commandment have we from him, that he who loveth God love his brother also.—1 John 4:21.

Intolerance is soundly condemned in our day, and we agree that the spirit which hates or hinders a man because he is of a certain race or creed is definitely wrong.

A word of caution is needed, however, lest we come to extend our tolerance to that which is sinful, wicked or destructive. One should never tolerate poison in a child's food, or in his textbooks. One does not tolerate a fire while it destroys one's house.

James and John were outstanding in their places of leadership for God. We learn in our lesson for today that I. God Wants Powerful Men (Mark 3:14-17).

There seems to be an impression current in some places that being a Christian is practically synonymous with being a weak, frightened, negative person without either personality or power.

The fact is that the gospel of our Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ rightly interpreted, and fully received into the heart and life of a man, brings such a tremendously enriching and transforming experience that it appeals to all, including the vital, dynamic type.

These two men were "the sons of thunder"; that is, they had that flashing alertness and power of personality which made them quick to understand and decisive in action.

II. God Wants Balanced Men (Luke 9:49, 50). Power goes to a man's head, and he needs the balance of God to keep him from going astray.

III. God Wants Patient Men (Luke 9:51-56). The friction between the Jews and the Samaritans dated from the time when the latter—a half-Gentile people—were denied the right to help in building the temple.

IV. God Wants Loving Men (1 John 4:7, 8). Love is not merely something that God shows toward men or inspires in their hearts. God is love. Being God, he is love, and that love is not a passive quality but an active one. He loves.

Because he is love, those who profess to belong to him are also to love one another, to love a world lost in sin, yes, to love even the utterly unlovely.

Volumes have been written on this subject, but here we must be satisfied just to state the fact and to ask ourselves the direct question. Do I manifest the love of God in my life? Well, do you?

Segregate Hens And Young Birds When On Range

Wood has arrived home his discharge.

Chicks require a great amount of attention and care all thru the growing period, and one notbe-overlooked need is protection from the hens. Not that the hens is to be classed as a bully, but they are good reasons why her presence amid the chicks can prove harmful to the latter.

By themselves, chicks will thrive and grow faster. Hens which are allowed to mingle with chicks just turned out on the range will prove to be a retarding factor in the development of the young stock for several reasons.

Hens As Carriers

The older birds, because of their age and more hardy nature have built up a resistance which the chicks may be unable to ward off. Hens which have encountered respiratory diseases sometime during their lives and have to all appearances recovered may often as carriers of these diseases and infect the younger ones.

Furthermore, the hens being larger and more aggressive, will very often fight off the chicks attempting to feed at the hoppers, thus upsetting their feeding schedule. This disruption, if prolonged will lead to a deficient diet.

Select Clean Range

You'll have better pullets this fall if you give your chicks a free hand on the range now by segregating them from the hens.

Another important consideration in putting your chicks on the range is to select an area you know to be clean and free of contamination. Here again the older chickens may be the harmful influence since the ground if covered with the droppings of a previous flock, may prove to be laden with germs or parasites that will wreak inroads on your flock of youngsters.

National H. D. Week May 5th to 12th

National Home Demonstration Week will be observed in Texas, as elsewhere, on May 5 to 12. But the Texas observance is expected to differ considerably from those in the 47 other states and in Alaska, Hawaii and Puerto Rico.

In addition to receiving public acclaim, club women and 4-H Club Girls will work actively in a program to help rebuild war-wrecked homes in other parts of the world. The Texas Extension Service is asking club women and girls to join the Texas home demonstration staff in a gift of gratitude for the things home demonstration club work has brought to them.

The clubs in Wichita County are planning a meeting at the Wichita Valley Farms Community House on Tuesday, May 7, from 10 A. M. till 4 P. M. Each of the 20 home demonstration clubs and 16 4-H clubs will participate in the meeting.

Texas Electric Show...

College Gymnasium and Auditorium by Texas Electric Service Company, which has secured the co-operation of leading electrical appliance manufacturers throughout the nation.

Radar, the workings of television, walkie-talkies, the House of Magic and other recent electrical developments will be presented as part of the Show. In addition, complete electric kitchens, several model all-electric homes, dozens of the latest models of all conventional electrical appliances and many new innovations in electrical home-making will be displayed by the electrical manufacturers.

The Texas Electric Show of '46 will be one of the most interesting shows of its kind ever presented in Texas. Not only will visitors find a most imposing array of electrical appliances, but will also find continuous entertainment features, including moving pictures, the House of Magic, an Adequate Wiring display, a new dramatization of the Evolution of Tone, radar demonstrations, wire recorders in action and walkie-talkies.

The farmer and rancher will find the Show of great interest, for considerable emphasis is placed on demonstrations of practical applications of electricity to farm and ranch operation. Feed grinders, milkers, chicken brooders, cream separators and water pumps are only a few of the electrically operated devices which will be shown. The farm and ranch exhibits has been arranged by our company with the assistance of the Agricultural Engineering Department of Texas A & M College and with the cooperation of leading manufacturers of electrical farming equipment.

School children, especially those enrolled in science courses, will be interested in the electronic demonstrations. The house of magic show, with its dozens of mystifying tricks and electrical phenomena, will appeal to teen-agers and grown-ups alike. Souvenir programs are being prepared and will be available at the show. The souvenir program includes a section designed for the taking of notes on where and when specific electrical appliances will be available locally.

married and have two small daughters. I graduated from the law department of the University of Texas in 1926 and began the practice of law here that same year. During the past 19 years I have practiced law in Wichita Falls. For the four years before I was elected county attorney I worked in that office as assistant county attorney. During that period as assistant county attorney and during the past one year as your county attorney I have gained much experience in the county's business.

Important Duties
I realize this office is an important one and that the duties are many. Your county attorney has the duty of advising with all of the officers of the county and is the legal advisor of your commissioners court.

"Upon taking this office at the beginning of last year I appointed as my assistant Henry J. Anderson, a married man with a family, a capable lawyer and an enlisted man, honorably discharged.

"During this my first term of office, we have endeavored at all times, to enforce the law with all the vigor and industry we possess. The county auditor's report for 1945 shows that the county attorney's office earned a surplus for the officer's salary fund over and above all expenses of that office. If elected to a second term, I shall continue to enforce the law as written, fairly and impartially to the best of my ability, and if you need the assistance of your county attorney's office all facilities of the office will be available to you.

"I have at all times co-operated with all of the officers of the county and shall continue to do so if re-elected to the office.

"My platform is one of law enforcement backed by legal experience.

Proper Hearings
"I shall continue the practice of giving a proper hearing to each individual who comes to the county attorney's office for legal information.

"If you feel that I have made you a good county attorney during this, my first term of office, then based upon that record and my experience it is only natural and in keeping with the old Democratic principle that I ask the endorsement of the people of Wichita County for the customary second term.

"It is my desire to see each of you personally and I will do so on such occasions as the duties of my office will permit.
"To those of you whom I may be unable to see, I want you to consider this my personal solicitation for your influence and vote for a second term as county attorney."

First Baptist Church

Sunday School, 9-45.
Preaching Services, 11.
Training Union, 7.
Preaching Services, 8.

Over the 400 mark again in Sunday School, which gives a mighty good average through the year, over 350. However, surely we are not satisfied even with this good average attendance. We should lift up our eyes and look about us, and also un-spot our ears to the crys, and uncover our consciences to the responsibilities of the multitudes that do not attend Sunday School or church.

When He said, "Go out into the highways and hedges and compel them to come in" He surely was looking even into the far distant future when there would be multitudes unenlisted. The Training Union has a place for you on Sunday evening, where you can train, and be trained, for the glory of the Lord.

A great big welcome awaits you at the First Baptist Church each Lord's Day.

Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Archer spent Sunday in Grandfield visiting Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Moore.
