Bell Oil & Gas Buys GATHERING System From Sinclair

The Bell Oil and Gas Company of Tulsa has purchased from the Sinclair Refining Company, Pipe Line Department, portion of the gathering system of that company which has been running oil in the Sunshine Hill and Clara districts in Wichita County, Texas.

The Bell system, originating at Burk Burnett, was contiguous to the Sinclair System, crossing the system at several points.

The Sinclair system will be tied into the Bell system at a point a few miles south of Clara, Texas, and the Bell will take over as of June 1, 1946.

The Bell is planning some immediate improvements and extensions to the new line and will be able to handle considerably more oil from the Clara District and Sunshine Hill district than has hitherto been possible.

There is considerable drilling activity in the Sunshine Hill District and as a result of the extensions the Bell anticipates securing many new connections. The crude oil thus secured provides additional supplies of crude for the Bell refinery at Grandfield and represents the third gathering system that the Bell has purchased over a period of years to augment its supply of crude.

U. S. O. Dance Set For Wednesday Night

All Burk girls are especially urged to attend the formal dance at the USO Hall, Wednesday night, June 12. This will probably be the last dance at the hall before the closing of Sheppard Field. Arrangements have been made to have an orchestra from Sheppard Field.

Announcement has also been made of a Fathers Day Buffet supper to be held at the USO Hall, June 16.

Corner Drug Store Moving

This is moving week at the Corner Drug Store. For many months George McClarty has had his store next door to Majors Variety Store, while remodeling work was in progress on his corner location across the street.

Although the new and larger quarters will be opened next week, there will be no formal opening until a later date. No fountain service will be offered until the new fountain arrives and is installed.

Crosby, Hope In New Film

According to all advance notices, hitting the newest road with Bing Crosby and Bob Hope is going to be a hilarious adventure. The boys travel light and speedy with a nifty little package known as Dorothy Lamour keeping the scenery well over par in Paramount's latest "Road" picture, "Road to Utopia", which comes to the Palace Theatre Sunday and Monday.

Reputedly one of the most uproarious films yet produced with an unusually long script written by Norman Panama and Melvin Frank, the trio's current screen safari takes them to the Yukon where Dotty's inherited gold mine is being threatened by two rough and rugged desperadoes played by Robert Barrat and Nestor Paiva.

Johnny Burke and James Van Heusen have provided a number of tuneful melodies, among them "Welcome to My Dream," "It's Always Spring" and "Personality."

Visitors In Minick Home Last Week

Mrs. Letha Faye Halsey from Las Vegas, Nevada has been visiting her son Phillip and parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fred O. Minick. While here her sister, Mrs. C. W. Duke and daughter of Ft. Worth came for a visit.

Mrs. Letha Halsey and son Phillip returned to Las Vegas Sunday. Phillip has made his home with his grandparents for the past year.

Devol Wildcat Has Possible Deep Gas Pay

Johnson-Flesher Drilling Co. and associates has earmarks of a pool-opener Tuesday at the No. 1 McCullough, in NW SE NW of 17-4s-13 near Devol in Cotton county.

An unidentified lime—possibly the Eilenberger was encountered at 4,510-40 feet, with gas that cut the mud and threatened to blow out while tools were being pulled.

Tools were stuck at 480 feet from top and possibly the pipe will be shot off to clear the hole. In some of the heads of mud there was a little free oil. Field reports said the pressure was high.

Location is on a block of 1,400 acres, assembled by J. Frank Richardson of Oklahoma City. He turned the deal to L. A. Chaudacoff and Johnson-Flesher for the well. Globe Oil & Refining took four 80-acre leases in the block. Sinclair-Prairie has a 160-acre close in lease which it has had for some time.

Geology was worked by James M. Nixon of Wichita Falls, who retained an interest with Richardson in the block.

Scout Troop 155 Had Good Meeting

Boys in Troop 155 had the most interesting meeting Monday night in several weeks.

The group will leave Texas Electric Service Co. office at 1:30 for Perkins Reservation. All boys and dads who expect to go in swimming must have a physical examination card from a doctor.

Mothers are also invited for the trip out to the Reservation.

Bank Building Has Facelifting

Workmen have been laboring day and night this week at the First National Bank, where considerable streamlining and remodeling is taking place.

A door has been cut on the Northeast corner and offices moved from the East to the West side at the front entrance.

Heavy wire around the cashiers' and tellers' cages has been removed and replaced with marble. Some months ago the ceiling was lowered to conform with more modernistic lines. Visitors at the bank will be impressed with its modern appearance.

Who Said Perfect?

Many a woman doesn't think much about trying to make-over her husband, figuring she has one of the general run of men and tho he has his faults she loves him in spite of them. Some other women answered a poll of married folks to register their pet peeves against their mates. They were: men take wives for granted, are not sufficiently affectionate or attentive, don't pick up their clothes, don't take care of their belongings, don't help around the house, are late for meals and engagements, say the husbands: wives nag, talk too much, are late, are untidy housekeepers. This doesn't, of course, mean Burkburnett husbands and wives.

BOYCE HOUSE "Gives You Texas"

Texas had had many colorful names on the bench—like Judge Bean, the saloonkeeper, and Brangel Dubbs, the buffalo hunter—but history has rather favored Colonel Smithers (we'll call him that), who was justice of the peace at Fort Griffin when that town was the liveliest spot on the frontier.

Justice Smithers was a former army officer. He held the rank of colonel during the War Between the States, but with the end of hostilities he had to step back to his permanent rank as lieutenant. He came to Fort Griffin for a tour of duty shortly after the war and after a time resigned and settled down near the fort to make a home.

The judge was well regarded in the community and when the citizens came to see the need of a justice of the peace he was elected to office without opposition—and held the post until the fort was abandoned and the Griffin
"Flat" became a country village.

The ex-colonel, so say those who knew him, was one of the boys, always ready to take a part in a game of chance, or go the rounds of the saloons—and more than once, after a festive night, he appeared on his bench in the morning sporting black eyes and a swollen countenance. But this didn't, in the least, interfere with his administration of justice.

Sitting back in his chair, he would assess a fine on his comrades of the night before without the slightest hesitation, notwithstanding their looks of astonishment and their muttered comments. But they knew better than to protest too openly for the Colonel used more than law books to back up his decisions.

He kept in the pigeon holes of his desk—prominently placed so that all might behold—an ornate brass-barreled horse pistol and a long-bladed Turkish knife, and when the effects of too much firewater made some of his defendants obstreperous, Smithers emphasized his decision by letting his right hand rest near the butt of the pistol or the haft of the knife. It seemed that the weapons—commonly called "The Colonel's peacemakers" had the desired effect for the justice never had to use them. The big horse pistol became almost legendary.

As one cowboy described it—
"The Colonel mows prairie grass for his hen nests with that gun.
He just fills it to the muzzle with bird shot, then steps down into a gulch so that his arm can come on a level with the grass,

then gives a sweeping motion
as he pulls the trigger and down goes the grass."

Anyhow, such stories were told that none among those coming up for arraignment ever dared question the judge's ruling—especially after getting a glimpse of him sitting on the bench picking his teeth, as he sometimes did,
with that terrible Turkish knife.

Burk Girl Writes Poem For Brother In Navy

The following poem was written by Beulah Wallace of Burk-burnett for her brother Robert P. Wallace S1/c who is stationed with the Navy in Massachusetts.

My Brother Bob
My brother Bob has gone away;
But I know he'll come back some day.
He's fighting this war in the Navy you see;
And I'll thank God when he comes back to me.

I miss the way he used to play;
I wish I could hear him this very day.
I wish he were here so I could touch
The wonderful person I love so much.
And I know good help he will lend
So this terrible war will come to an end.

"Don't bust your buttons, Pop!"

There's PLENTY of HOT WATER"

There's hot water for the whole family when you have an automatic gas water heater... hot water for baths, shaving, laundry, dishes—steaming hot water if you want it—in abundant quantities. Natural gas service is an everyday miracle providing comfort and convenience in your home, providing clean, efficient fuel in your factory.

WHAT IS THE SECRET OF THIS MIRACLE OF SERVICE?

There's really no secret at all... just huge underground reserves of natural gas, plus thousands of miles of transmission lines to carry gas from the wellhead to your burners.

United Gas Pipe Line Company, with more than 6,000 miles of main pipe lines in the Gulf South area, transports natural gas to the city gates of 169 communities in Texas alone—to 312 cities and towns in the Gulf South. The United Companies are good citizens of the area they serve—spending millions of dollars in payrolls, taxes and royalty payments every year. This money benefits every family in Texas in one way or another.

Guests signatures were secured for the bride's book by Miss McGinnis, who was presiding at the book. For the occasion the Brumley home was most attractive with gorgeous arrangements of colorful spring flowers which were used in profusion throughout the reception rooms and the dining room. Roses in shades of delicate peach and pink, together with larkspur and lilies, were featured in an attractive grouping on the mantel. Various occasional tables were ornamented with artistic arrangements of Regal lilies, nasturtiums and other seasonal blossoms. This beautiful setting was reflected in a huge mirror over the mantel.

The refreshment table was particularly lovely covered with an exquisite white Maderia cloth, and centered by a basket filled with Burrbank daisies, Tailsmans roses and mock orange blossoms. Miss Allen presided over the lovely crystal punch bowl placed on one end of the refreshment board, and was assisted in the duties of serving by Mesdames Stephenson, Cropper, Lundberg, Vann, Henry and Pogue. The color scheme of pink and white was noted in the refreshment plate and the tea napkins bore the inscription, "Lilla and Jim", in gold lettering.

For the presentation of the gifts, Mrs. D. F. Douglas gave a most clever reading, after which the handsome collection of gifts was displayed. The hostesses' gift was china. Mesdames Grubbs and VanLoh presided at the gift table.
