Immunization Necessary For 1st Year Students

Pupils who will enter school for their first year must be immunized against diphtheria and small pox, according to Ralph Davis, Supt. The requirement is backed up by the State Board of Education and parents should see that their first-year students are ready when school opens in September.

Rotary Club

County Attorney elect, Ray Martin, talked to the members of the Rotary Club when they met for their noon luncheon last Tuesday. Mr. Martin gave pointers on how to conduct yourself on the witness stand if ever called to court. The talk was very instructive and enjoyed by all. I. C. Evans was in charge of the meeting and Alvin Hill gave the invocation.

Arthur G. Abbott of Electra, Andy Andrews, Will Duncan, Frank Schram, Sid Kring, John B. Barbour, Tom Edwards and Ted Krohn all of Wichita Falls were visiting Rotarians.

Glen McCurley, Gene Mowery and Chief Petty Officer, Bob Mowery were all present as Miller, Grandfield guests of Burn Alexander. Dr. Wm. G. Kitchell was guest of John Barbour and Geo. Mc-Clarty had as his guest, Will Teal. The program next week will be in charge of George Schneider.

With the daily water consump-tion still running near the six Ford Sales Manager hundred thousand gallons mark, the situation from the standpoint of fire danger is critical, Wednesday afternoon a two truck fire alarm sounded about three o'clock. On the way to the fire firemen wondered how they would fight the fire after the water in the two booster tanks was exhausted. Luckily, the fire was quickly brought under control without having to hook on to a hydrant. At that time the storage tank behind the city hall was empty.

Daily consumption now is averaging more than 200,000 gallons than any day last year.

During the night the storage tank is filled, but it holds only 65,000 gallons, so it is emptied in a short time next day. Then lines were read in the presence the only water on hand is that which is pumped into the mains

Politics Makes Strange, Etc. Peculiar deals involving congressional war profiteering revive similar shenanigans by legislators in the past. About a century ago a group of business men borrowed $200,000 and incorporated the Central Pacific railroad. Then they used the 200Gs to bribe congressmen to steal railroad franchises. The 200Gs eventually secured land grants for 9,000,-000 acres and a federal loan of $27,000,000!

The swindlers became rich and powerful railroad owners without investing a penny of their own money!

The Tweed Ring was the most corrupt gang that ever afflicted New York. Boss Tweed filched millions via bribery and legalistic hocus-pocus-until he was finally put behind bars. But Tweed beat the rap many times. After one grand jury failed to dig up enough evidence to indict Tweed, an editorialist wrote that it reminded him of the man who had been discovered dead and the jury was puzzled as to what caused his death The jury finally issued this report: "It was an act of God under BRIGHTER days ahead . . . and very suspicious circumstances."

Pointing out the importance of these commodities to the carriers, Scandrett said that present low rates have been based on the Hoch-Smith resolution adopted in the late 1920s during the existing depression in agriculture.

Citing increased labor and material costs since 1940 and an anticipated slackening in the record wartime volume, the carriers' request for a permanent 25 per cent rate boost would supplant the temporary raise of 6 per cent on most commodities, and 3 per cent on agricultural products.

ATOMIC CONTROL: Russ Rejection Even as Bikini reverberated with the explosion of the second atomic bomb test in the Pacific, Russia turned thumbs down on the U.S. proposal for international control of the atomic energy.

Addressing a closed meeting of the United Nations atomic energy committee on controls in New York, Soviet Representative Gromyko asserted that the U.S. suggestion that the veto be eliminated in atomic regulation could not be accepted by Russia because it would tend to destroy the principle of unanimity among the Big Five in preserving postwar peace.

Gromyko also rapped the proposal for establishing an independent agency for the control of atomic energy, declaring that the U.N. security council consisting of the Big Five as permanent members possessed both the power and means to deal with the problem.

POLIO: On Rise

Despite the rising incidence of infantile paralysis, the U.S. public health service stated that it expects no major epidemic to occur this Red army and his transfer to a garyear because cases are more wideber of states.

Figures showed 3,242 cases reported so far this year compared to strip the powerful military wing with 2,048 for the same period in 1945 and 2,320 in 1944, the second worst year for polio. For the week ended July 20, 646 new cases were reported compared with 403 the preceding week.

Apprehensive over spread of the disease, public health officials issued these precautions: Avoid fatigue and plunging into cold water on hot days; delay mouth, nose and throat operations; observe personal cleanliness; wash fresh fruits and vegetables carefully, and be on the watch for such polio symptoms as upset stomach, diarrhea, vomiting, headache, fever or signs of a cold.

RUSSIA: Political Shakeup

Reports of Marshal Georgi Zhukov's dismissal as chief of the great rison command in Odessa were inly distributed among a larger num. terpreted as evidence of the Communist party's efforts to strengthen its postwar position in Russia and of political influence.

Precedent for the demotion of Russia's No. 1 soldier lay in the subordination of Marshal Michail Tukhachevsky from top leadership of the strong Red army he had built to an insignificant provincial command before his execution. It also was said that Zhukov had lost Stalin's favor because of the breakdown of Red army discipline after victory had been won. As a result of the Soviet troops' manhandling of conquered people and the looting of their possessions, Russia has suffered a huge loss of prestige in eastern Europe.

DIPHTHERIA: Shows Increase

The number of diphtheria deaths in 93 large U. S. cities has increased by 108 over the low 213 figure of 1941, according to the Journal of the American Medical association.

In a three-year report, covering 1943, 1944 and 1945, the Journal stated that for the 88 cities for which data are available since 1923 there occurred 311 deaths from diphtheria in 1945, more than for any single year since 16

The word "honor" carries with it a great many things, but perhaps the three outstanding elements. are respect, obedience and affection. But men do not wish to follow God's direction, so we see next II. The Responsibility Evaded (Mark 7:9-13).

Such an important commandment naturally held a high place in the thinking of the community. To violate it involved a measure of shame which men sought to avoid. So the Jews of Christ's day devised a scheme which made it possible for a man to appear to be very religious even as he deprived his parents of the honor and help to which they were entitled by the law of God.

The man who did not wish to support his aged and needy parents could entirely evade that God-given ers include work in the Ohio valley responsibility by declaring that his property was "Corban": that is, dedicated by a vow to God. Thereafter no matter how great was the need of his parents they could receive nothing, and yet he could keep it and use it for himself.

Thus do men make "the word of God of none effect" (v. 13) through their traditions. The method differs but the spirit persists even in our day.

Jesus made short work of such trickery and evasion. He declared their man-made creeds and traditions to be simply a means of making the command of God of none effect. Once more he condemns that formal religious observance which serves as a cloak for sin and selfishness.

III. The Responsibility Fulfilled (Luke 2:51-52; Eph. 6:1-4).

The manner in which children should be obedient to their parents and honor them in the home is beautifully exemplified in the life of our Lord, living as a boy in Nazareth. In the home the growing youth finds the best place for normal, wellrounded development (v. 52). There is no substitute for the home.

The words of the Holy Spirit through Paul in Ephesians 6:1-4 stress the same truth and enlarge upon it.
