Burkburnett, Star, Burk Burnett, Texas.

Gentlemen:

Please find enclosed check for another year's subscription to the Burk Burnett Star. I read the September 18th issue of the Star with a great deal of interest. Especially did I find interesting the article captioned B. W. C. and I shall quote from that article. "Miss Katherine Beckham reviewed the book 'Now Is The Time' which portrayed an appealing realistic picture of the immediate need of missionaries in China, Europe, Latin America and Africa."

Very truly yours,
Garland F. Johnston.

"Locket" Heroine Fair Gem Thief

A provocative story of three men and a lovely but neurotic woman is developed in "The Locket," RKO Radio's absorbing drama starring Laraine Day, Brian Aherne, Robert Mitchum and Gene Raymond showing at the Palace Theatre Wednesday and Thursday.

Miss Day has the role of beautiful Nancy Patton, whose irresistible mania for stealing jewels ruins the lives of the men associated with her. Mitchum, temperamental artist, is the first to discover her failing, and his career is wrecked as a result of her activities. So is that of Aherne, a psychiatrist, married to Nancy for years before he realized how mentally ill she is. Raymond is about to become her second husband when Aherne reappears from the past to warn him and precipitates a poignant climax.

Directed by John Brahm from Sheridan Gibney's story, the picture features a strong supporting cast including RKO Radio's child actress, Sharyn Moffett, Ricardo Cortez, Henry Stephenson, Katherine Emery and Reginald Denney. Bert Granet produced and John Brahm directed.

Siegley, 1722 McGregor in Wichita Falls. The officiating minister was Rev. H. Liemer, pastor of the Lutheran Church in the Clara Community.

Music for the wedding was provided by Miss Sallie Mae Arwood of Wichita Falls, vocalist, and Miss Mamie Browning of Burk Burnett, pianist. Tuesday Is Burk Day At Co. Fair

Iowa Park, Texas, Sept. 24—(Special)—This community, geographic hub of a territory rich in natural resources, is all set to play its annual role as the show window of the Northwest-Texas-Southern Oklahoma area at the Texas-Oklahoma Fair which opens its gates next Monday, September 29th.

Off the back shelf and into the exhibit booths, that all the neighbors may observe their qualities, will be brought the commodities, in the production of which this country has gained a reputable name over the years since its settlement 60-odd years ago.

This is one of the prime purposes of any fair—"to show off our wares"—those discovered beneath the soil by our own toil, those shaped by our own hand out of the soil, those fattened and marketed off the soil at our direction, and finally, that handiwork created by our own practice and devotion to self-attainment.

John B. Barbour, Dr. Gordon G. Clark, T. Leo Moore, Ira Campsey and other members of the fair board's ambitious group, have undertaken to bring the best, nothing less, to the 1947 edition of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair. One brief visit to the fair grounds next week will assure the most critical observer that the fair association's directorate meant what it said.

In addition to being a mecca of mirth and fun this year, Iowa Park counts heavily, too, on establishing itself securely as a haven for Herefords from over the nation and as the Quarter-horse capitol of the world. The quarter horse and Hereford events, with the fattest premiums in history, will lure the classiest stock in the fields to Iowa Park for the competition here. Under the able supervision of Allan Krohn and Wayne Hammon, these two divisions will capture the attention of the most discerning eyes at the fair.

Tuesday is Pioneers' Day, also Burk Burnett Day. Special attractions and entertainment have been arranged for each day of the big show.

A Christine original beige felt covered with gold veiling and bedecked with twin gold feathers. Her other accessories were brown suede and her only jewelry was a cameo pin, gift of her groom. She completed her costume by carrying a bouquet of talisman roses.

Attendants

Maid of honor for the bride was Miss Christine Turner of Wichita Falls who wore a brown crepe afternoon dress, matching felt hat with soft feather trim, and other accessories of brown kid. Her flowers were yellow spider chrysanthemums arranged in a corsage.

Little Misses Pamela Kay Logan of Houston and Martha Ann VanLoh of Burk Burnett participated in the wedding to serve as bearers for the two rings. Respectively, they wore dresses of blue and yellow and, in their hair they wore matching ornaments of ribbon, net and tiny button chrysanthemums.

Raymond L. Tollett of Big Spring was best man for his brother; and preceding the ceremony, the candles in the nuptial space were lighted by Charles Wayne Counter of Burk Burnett.

Cake Cut

Immediately after the wedding the bride's cake was cut and served, with other refreshments, from a beautifully appointed table placed at one extremity of the long living room. The board, featuring a handsome cover, was centered with a miniature bridal scene. The picture was complete with a satin-covered altar before

Uncle Sam Sees The Light

Way back in the old days the United States Government boycotted margarine and did everything possible, and unreasonable, to prevent its sale. A few days ago the District of Columbia purchasing officer gave out a statement saying that uncolored margarine costs the District 27 cents a pound wholesale as against 75 cents a pound wholesale for butter and that it is as good food as butter. Therefore, the Government of the United States has refused to buy butter for its own public institutions, and it has virtually eliminated butter from tables for which the District is responsible. The District purchasing officer okays margarine. It took a long while for the United States to cut out that foolish discrimination.

How Are We All Going To Eat

It is an accepted fact that the World's worst food shortage of modern times is at hand. Senator Vandenberg says that there is need for a special session of Congress before January, to act upon relief to the starving people of Europe. Senator Taft does not favor the extra session. It is the President's responsibility to call that session, if the Congress is to be reconvened.

There is another side of this same question, and that is the high cost of food right here in every part of the United States.

There are several million Americans who are working on "slave wages"—and not one of them belong to a labor union. Thousands of deserving folks don't get pay enough to buy sufficient food to keep themselves and their families going, no matter how hard they struggle to keep off public relief rolls.

So, while the politicians are crying their eyes out about people in foreign lands they should spend more time preventing pyramiding of wages in many industries that have reached the peaks.

How can poverty-stricken people pay around a dollar a dozen for eggs, and nearly a dollar for a pound of butter.

If you have the answer you are doing better than most of the politicians who are managing our National Government.

GOOD FEEDERS ARE BEST LAYERS

Are the appetites of your laying hens up to par.

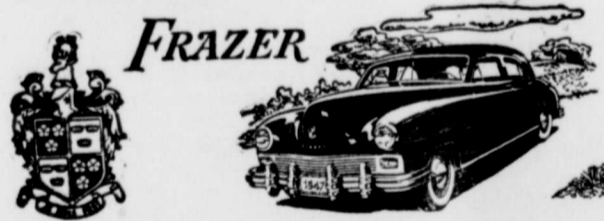

The same question could as well be put this way: how well are your birds laying and how much money are they making for you. Other things being equal there is a closely drawn line between feed and consumption and egg production. Poor feeding and good production just don't go together.

Birds with healthy appetites almost invariably produce more eggs than those that don't get their share at the feed trough. And yet the cost of feeding a flock of poor eaters, when judged against the comparative amount of eggs produced, is greater than the expense of providing for a similar number of healthy birds.

For instance, statistics have shown that 100 four-pound hens which are in 40 per cent production will require nine days to produce a case of eggs and that during this time they will consume 216 pounds of feed. A similar number of four pound hens having healthy appetites and producing at the rate of 70 per cent will lay a case of eggs in 5.1 days while consuming 153 pounds of feed. In other words, while she eats more each day, her production of eggs is so rapid that she is a far more economical boarder than her weaker sister. She is paying her way.

The 40 per cent flock consumes 24 pounds of feed daily compared to 30 for the better producers, but their owner has to supply more feed to get a case of eggs out of them.

Good feeding and good laying can be regulated. How you feed and what you feed can determine how much profit your flock will show. Ask your feed dealer what your birds are going to need to keep in high production. See that your flock has plenty of the right kind of nourishment. Make sure there's enough room at the feeders so that each bird can have an adequate diet. Don't skimp on grit and oyster shell. Above all, look after the health of your chickens — a well managed flock usually will be in good condition and their appetites will be on a scale that guarantees good production.

America's greatest furor was that created by Jenny Lind, the Swedish singer, during her concert tour (1850-1852) says Collier's. SEVENTEEN THOUSAND DOLLARS from 50 acres of single cross hybrid seed corn! That was one of the accomplishments last year of Champion Farmer John J. Gannon and his father, William P. Gannon, on their 785-acre farm near Valeria, Iowa. Hog sales totalled over 400 head. In a recent month, 16 purebred Guernsey cows, three of them dry, returned $504.78 over feed costs. Seventy head of purebred Aberdeen-Angus cows, and their calves, provide a profitable outlet for roughage. So does a flock of sheep. The Gannons bale 7000 bales of hay annually. Careful pasture management, manure and commercial fertilizers, and a soil conservation program keep the farm highly productive. For economy and efficiency in operating their farm equipment, Champion Farmer Gannon has found it pays to depend on Firestone tires. When he and his father buy new tractors, they specify Firestone Champion Ground Grips. In the photograph, Shelia Ann Gannon with her grandfather, William P. Gannon, and her father, Champion Farmer John J. Gannon.

Champion Farmers Specify Firestone CHAMPION GROUND GRIPS

TO GET extra pulling power... longer tire life... and smoother riding, Champion Farmer John J. Gannon and his father specified Firestone Champion Ground Grips for their new tractor.

Tests show that Firestone Champion Ground Grips clean up to 100% more effectively, pull up to 62% more, last up to 91% longer, and roll smoother over highways than any other tractor tires. . . important facts to cost-conscious farmers.

Only Firestone Champion Ground Grips are made with connected curved traction bars. These bars clean with a plowlike action . . . giving the Champions more pulling power. Extra tread rubber in the bar connections gives them a "Center Bite" in the heart of the traction zone. This, too, means more pulling power. The extra rubber in the connected tread increases tire strength . . . lengthens tire life . . . money-saving points you can't overlook when you buy new tractor tires. So when you buy . . . buy the best . . . buy Firestone Champion Ground Grips.

McMurtry; the Topic, Rural Churches; Mrs. Preston; Baptist Cooperative Program, Mrs. Avon Frields; How the Women can do more for Stat Missions, Mrs. Jimmie Johnson; The song, Church in the Wildwood, was sung by all, followed by a prayer by Mrs. Will Teal. The meeting then adjourned for delightful covered dish luncheon.

After lunch, all assembled for the business session of the day. Mrs. Carswell presided with the devotional being brought by Mrs. O. L. Clark. The minutes were read and approved and reports from the various circles were given. Round table discussion predominated the business session as various committees were appointed, officers nominated, and plans for the new year outlined.

The meeting closed with a prayer. There were 21 ladies in attendance with two children in the Sunbeams ably led by Doris Collins.

Installation of new officers will be held September 29, at 7:30 p. m. and husbands are invited. All women of the church are urged to find your circle and attend.

which a tiny groom awaited his miniature bride who approached along a pathway of fresh white flowers from beneath an archway covered with fern fronds and white delphinium blossoms. From the central wedding scene, white satin ribbons, studded with tiny clusters of flowers and greenery, extended to the four corners of the table calling attention to larger nosegays and white delphinium blossoms and greenery. The two extremities of the board were marked by the wedding cake and the punch bowl, each surrounded by white flowers and green foliage.

Mrs. Victor C. Melville of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Harlow Nachtigal of Olney presided at the punch bowl and the cake, respectively. Miss Jean Reynolds presided at the bride's book to secure signatures of the guests.

The reception preceded the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Tollett for a honeymoon to Monterrey, Mexico City and points in South Texas. For travel, the bride chose a cinnamon gabardine suit with which she wore a green blouse and hat, and other accessories of brown alligator. Her corsage was of orchids.

Guests Here

Out-of-town guests for the wedding and reception included Mr. and Mrs. Jack Logan and daughter of Houston; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond L. Tollett of Big Spring; Miss Kay Tollett of Dallas; Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Nachtigal and son, Dennis, of Olney; Mrs. Bell Stanford, Mrs. Thelma Lewallen and Hugh Alton, all of Dallas.

The wedding united two well-known Wichitans. The bride, who has been making her home in this city, is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. VanLoh of the Clara Community. She received her early education in the latter community and also is a graduate of Draughon's Business College here. She has been employed in the office of W. H. Peckham.

The groom, son of F. M. Tollett and the late Mrs. Tollett of this city, is a graduate of Wichita Falls High School and Hardin Junior College and holds a bachelor of business administration degree from the University of Texas. During the war he served as a captain with the United States Army attached to a tank destroyer unit and his record included many months of overseas duty in the European Theatre of Operations. He is now engaged in the oil field supply business in Corpus Christi where he and his bride will be at home.

Rehearsal Party

Autumn flowers in the bronze and gold colors chosen by the bride for her wedding, were used to decorate the Siegley home when the wedding rehearsal was held Saturday evening.

Following the practice session, the bride and groom exchanged gifts and presented their attendants with remembrance occasion.

Newspapers Get
Feed Advertising

A consistent year around advertising program in Oklahoma and Texas newspapers will spearhead the new fall and winter campaign of the Chic-O-Line Feed Mills, Chickasha, Oklahoma, according to Ivon Smith, manager of the feed division of the Chickasha Cotton Oil company.

"Our choice of newspapers as the chief medium was due to two reasons," Smith said. "First, they are the media most read in smaller communities and by farmers and second, they offer us an opportunity to identify our dealers and help establish them as a service institution in their town."

The new advertising campaign, starting in September, will include regular ads in more than seventy newspapers, ads in the Oklahoma Farmer Stockman, dealer display and selling material and roadside advertising.

Smith stated that although the Chic-O-Line Feed Mills had been advertising for over twenty years, this was the largest and most aggressive campaign in the history of the company. Erwin, Wasey Advertising agency, Oklahoma City, handles the account.

Cloys Tedder, business manager of the Clinic Hospital, underwent an appendectomy in the Wichita General Monday noon.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

Corn Estimate Reduced Again; Swift Aid for Europe Urged; Set New Housing Investigation

EDITOR'S NOTE: When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of Western Newspaper Union's news analysts and not necessarily of this newspaper.

REPEAT: Less Corn The 1947 corn crop, estimates of which have been shrinking like a $10 suit ever since August, was reduced by another 33 million bushels in the department of agriculture's September report.

Total estimate cuts since August 1 were 256 million bushels, and the expected output this year now has been placed at 2,403,913,000 bushels. There was more potential bad news, said the department: In case an early frost should blanket the corn belt, another reduction would be likely. Crop reporting board said that "it now seems likely that at least 75 per cent of all corn in the 12 corn belt states will have matured by the average date of the first killing frost," but warned that if it were a week early, it would catch about 40 per cent of all corn at an immature stage.

Meat Supply Meat production can be maintained at a high level in the next year, despite the curtailed corn crop, animal feeding authorities declare. Extensive and efficient use of vegetable oil meal and other products will enable farmers to produce pork freely at less cost than if corn were used exclusively in feeding.

Convicted that race for Republican presidential nomination is a "wide open" contest, Harold E. Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, announced that he will make his formal entrance in the campaign at a Milwaukee rally November 24. Stassen is probably the only politician in the country who openly admits he wants to be president in 1948.

Excitedly, the issue, naturally, was the Taft-Hartley labor law, and the outcome was a two-to-one acceptance by the voters of the law and what it signifies. If Pennsylvania is as much a political weathervane as it is claimed to be, the Lichtenwatter victory forecasts a cold, bleak wind from the north for Democrats in 1948.

Republican hoop-la called the vote "a smashing rebuke to the radical labor bosses who chose to make the Taft-Hartley labor management act the paramount issue of the election."

The Democratic line, however, caught another meaning: "We carried seven of the eight wards (in Allentown, Pa.) where we concentrated our forces. We've just begun to fight. We don't consider the vote as a repudiation on the Taft-Hartley labor law issue."

Intolerable cold and hunger are the immediate threats facing Europe, he said. The crisis calls for "urgent consideration."

What would it cost this time? Marshall said that there was as yet no estimate of stop-gap needs, but he didn't deny reports that William L. Clayton, undersecretary of state, had cabled from Europe a request for a special session of congress to vote 2.5 billion dollars for aid now.

The special session was far from assured. If it came to a showdown, GOP leaders probably would oppose it openly, and they could, if they wished, stifle any economic aid legislation.

ON AGAIN: Housing Probe Another in a long and distinguished line of housing shortage investigations was being organized in Washington by a joint house-senate committee.

First step, said the group, would be an attempt to discover basic causes of "skyrocketing" costs and shortages of material and labor. The congressmen also would look into reports that middlemen are receiving unnecessary pay-offs for their distribution of materials.

Conferring with housing officials, the committee learned that the U. S. needs 1.5 million new housing units annually; that materials in the coming year will be too scarce to allow construction of even a million units, and that more than two-thirds of available construction laborers are engaged in work other than the building of homes.

It was a gloomy beginning, even for a congressional investigation. Further complications were likely to arise from the fact that government officials are reluctant to take any drastic remedial steps, preferring to explore first the more orthodox (and futile) avenues to increased building.

Millions of ill-housed and un-housed Americans, hearing of the planned investigation, wondered idly whether this would be another case of "same song, umpteenth verse."

Farm Machinery Costs Farmers spent approximately 800 million dollars last year for new farm machinery other than tractors, the department of agriculture has estimated. That was about twice as much as their annual average expenditure for the same machines between 1935 and 1939, and 12 times as much as they spent for that type of equipment in the depression year of 1932.

Worthy Objectives Lesson for September 28, 1947

THE Book of Ecclesiastes, written by Solomon, B. C. 977, is profitable in the fact that it discloses the findings of a very remarkable man on life. Solomon tells us that he had tried every tempting offer of the world, but found it vanity. "Vanity of vanities, all is vanity," he declares.

Excellent Advice EVEN so, Solomon was ready, by the time he wrote Ecclesiastes, to give some excellent advice. He had discovered that pomp and ceremony are meaningless—that they turn at last to ashes.

Words of Wisdom THE next section of Sunday's lesson brings us to one of Solomon's greatest confessions. He says, chapter 3, verse 14: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be forever; nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it; and God doeth it, that men should fear before him."

ATOM TRUST: Soviet Line Possibly ordered by the Kremlin to get his diplomatic dander up and turn on the theatrics, Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet U. N. delegate, made one of the harshest speeches of his career before the United Nations atomic energy commission.

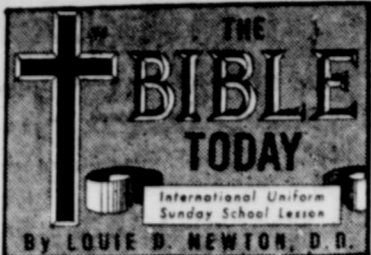

IN NEW YORK . . . Margaret Truman, coloratura soprano, was unanimously approved by the board of governors for membership in the American Guild of Musical Artists (AGMA) as a junior vocalist in good standing.

IN TOKYO . . . Hidekei Tojo, former Japanese premier, now on trial for his life as a war criminal, peered into the future, chose an epitaph for his tombstone: "By Buddha's grace all sins committed while living are absolved."

IN LONDON . . . Elliodor M. Libonati, visiting Legionnaire from Chicago, paused in front of No. 10 Downing street, the prime minister's residence, wickedly waved a handful of dollar bills in the air, attracted no takers.

IN TALLAHASSEE . . . Sen. Claude Pepper (Dem., Fla.) opened his mouth to say that if the Democratic party should feel that he could render "greater service in some other way, I would be greatly influenced by that feeling," turned around to find that his friends were booing him for vice-presidential nomination.

IN MILWAUKEE . . . Mrs. Lucy Nostrand stepped from a bus at a busy intersection, was knocked to the pavement by a hit-and-run cow, a refugee from a meat company shipment.

SCRIPTURE: Ecclesiastes. DEVOTIONAL READING: Ecclesiastes 3:1-7.

Worthy Objectives Lesson for September 28, 1947

THE Book of Ecclesiastes, written by Solomon, B. C. 977, is profitable in the fact that it discloses the findings of a very remarkable man on life.

Solomon tells us that he had tried every tempting offer of the world, but found it vanity. "Vanity of vanities, all is vanity," he declares.

Solomon was a very wise man in many of the manifestations of his life. He had every advantage, but yielded to selfish pursuits of pleasure when he might have been serving his day and generation by the will of God.

Why do I point to Solomon as an unwise man? From his own testimony—"I gave my heart to know wisdom, and to know madness and folly; I perceived that this also is vexation of spirit. For in much wisdom is much grief; and he that increaseth knowledge increaseth sorrow."

Excellent Advice EVEN so, Solomon was ready, by the time he wrote Ecclesiastes, to give some excellent advice. He had discovered that pomp and ceremony are meaningless—that they turn at last to ashes.

Words of Wisdom THE next section of Sunday's lesson brings us to one of Solomon's greatest confessions. He says, chapter 3, verse 14: "I know that, whatsoever God doeth, it shall be forever; nothing can be put to it, nor anything taken from it; and God doeth it, that men should fear before him."

ATOM TRUST: Soviet Line Possibly ordered by the Kremlin to get his diplomatic dander up and turn on the theatrics, Andrei A. Gromyko, Soviet U. N. delegate, made one of the harshest speeches of his career before the United Nations atomic energy commission.

IN NEW YORK . . . Margaret Truman, coloratura soprano, was unanimously approved by the board of governors for membership in the American Guild of Musical Artists (AGMA) as a junior vocalist in good standing.

IN TOKYO . . . Hidekei Tojo, former Japanese premier, now on trial for his life as a war criminal, peered into the future, chose an epitaph for his tombstone: "By Buddha's grace all sins committed while living are absolved."

IN LONDON . . . Elliodor M. Libonati, visiting Legionnaire from Chicago, paused in front of No. 10 Downing street, the prime minister's residence, wickedly waved a handful of dollar bills in the air, attracted no takers.

IN TALLAHASSEE . . . Sen. Claude Pepper (Dem., Fla.) opened his mouth to say that if the Democratic party should feel that he could render "greater service in some other way, I would be greatly influenced by that feeling," turned around to find that his friends were booing him for vice-presidential nomination.

IN MILWAUKEE . . . Mrs. Lucy Nostrand stepped from a bus at a busy intersection, was knocked to the pavement by a hit-and-run cow, a refugee from a meat company shipment.

800 Scouters Attend Electra Meeting

Monday night, September 22, more than 800 Scouters gathered at Electra for the Northwest Texas Council 4-M Round-Up. A chuck wagon feed in the ball stadium preceded the meeting held in the High School Auditorium. Separate sessions were held before the impressive closing address.

Regional Executive Visits Round-Up Scouting Veteran of Many Years

Harold W. Lewman has had varied experience in Scouting. He started as a Scout, then assistant Scoutmaster, Scoutmaster and then became Executive at Helena, Mont., in August, 1924.

HAROLD W. LEWMAN
Regional Scout Executive, Region Nine Boy Scouts of America

Lewman continued as Deputy Regional Executive in Region Nine, 1925, became Regional Executive of Region Five in 1927, Deputy Regional Executive in Region Three in 1938, Executive of Region Three in 1939, with headquarters in Kansas City; and Executive of Region 3 in Philadelphia in March, 1945.

Lewman visited the Northwest Texas Council for the first time during the Four-M Round-Up at Electra, September 22nd.

Lewman was asked to act as an Advisor to the meeting of the Administrative Section of the Round-Up meeting. This was attended by all members of the Executive and Institutional Representatives.

Lewman visited all other sections of the Round-Up one time he said, in part:

Fine Leaders

Permanent values from the Scouting program can be found only as leaders can be found who understand the ideals of Christian education. Troop leaders and Scoutmasters need to be men of fine character. They must understand the religious education program of the Church, that they may see where the program fits in as a part of the larger Church program. It is the Church which finds such leaders and them in what the Church expects of its Scout Troop leaders of the Church Program of Christian education. Some of the finest values of Scouting come through the contacts with men of superior character. From the point of Christian education this means men whose spiritual qualities are contagious, and who influence the habits, and attitudes of a boy by what they say, and by what they do. This was the teaching of the greatest Teacher of all, as He walked the hillsides of Galilee and the hillsides of Judea, in company with His disciples, who gained a vision of the Kingdom of God among men from His teachings and from the Spirit in His life.

A Challenge To Parents

Homes need the influence of Scouting. The Boy Scouts of America is deeply interested in the growth and development of your son. But it is you, his parents, who have the primary responsibility and opportunity. Nothing can take the place of the influence of a good home and good parents. Parents will find answers to many of their problems in the development of son, when parents and Scouting work together on an understanding basis. Scouting becomes for the boy a richer experience and a more powerful factor in shaping his future life and ideals.

Scouting is an outdoor program for your boy-to-help make him a happy useful citizen and to help develop to the fullest the ability and talent which every youngster has in him. Scouting aims to do this in such a way that the boy sees only the adventure and fun of doing things with other boys his own age. This is as it should be. But Scouting needs your help and the help of every parent, if it is to accomplish its deeper aim of citizenship and self reliance in the lives of our American boys. Just what can we do to help our boy get the most from the Scout program should be the cooperative attitude and suggestion of every parent of a boy.

J. L. Smith, Jr., of Corpus Christi is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Smith in Burk.

MODERN LIVING CLAIMS VICTIMS

Soft, refined foods and lack of exercise are responsible for increasing thousands of constipation victims. Intestinal muscles become sluggish, waste matter accumulates and gas is formed. Often there is a tired, restless, listless feeling. It's cases like this that the new improved ADLERIKA is designed to help. This scientifically compounded Tone-Up laxative is quickly absorbed by the gastro-intestinal system... gas pressure is relieved and waste matter is moved gently through the digestive canal. When you eat well and digest your food well, you'll find a new joy in living. Order a bottle of ADLERIKA today.

Scouting for Boys Twelve or Older

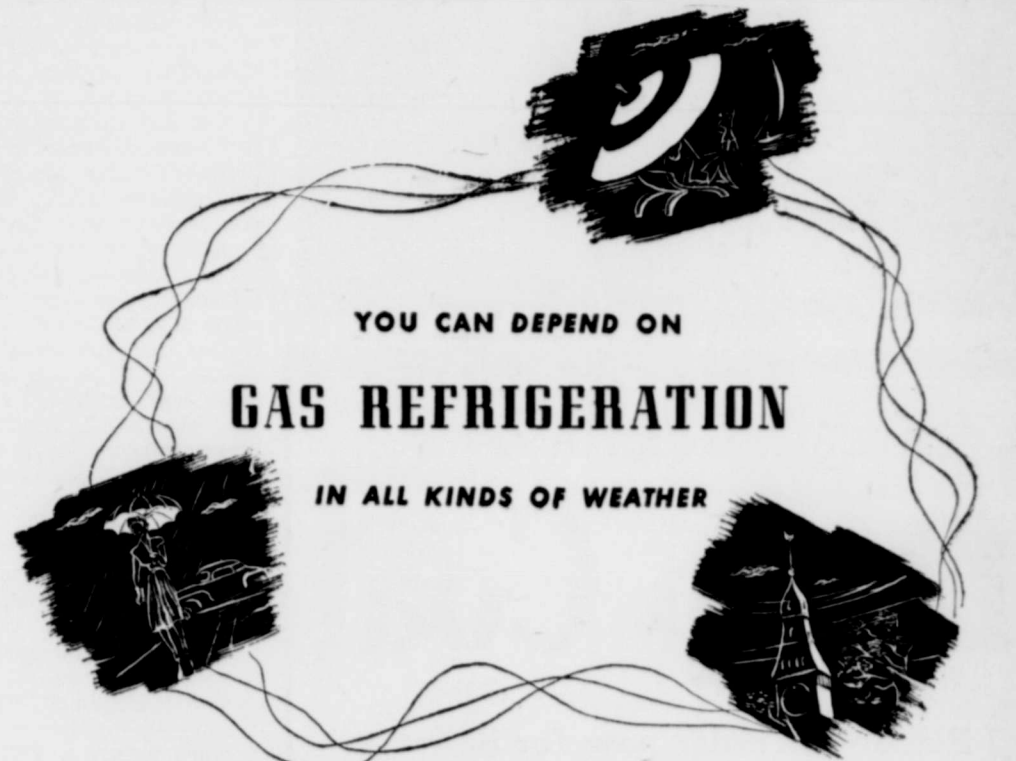

There is no break in the boy's interest as he passes through Cubbing into Boy Scouting at his twelfth birthday. In fact, the final stage of the Cub Scout Program prepares the boy for his Boy Scout Tenderfoot tests.

By qualifying in these he becomes a full-fledged Boy Scout. Then the outdoor world of Boy Scouting beckons him and, as a matter of course, he advances into the Scout Troop. Here, for three or four years the boy's growing energies and aptitudes are given ample opportunity for expression.

In Navasott, there is the Tumble Inn.
And the Meyer Hotel of Comfort urges, "Rest in Comfort!"
And, speaking of signs, one of the oddest I ever saw was over a country store and it read, "Why go elsewhere to be robbed?"
In San Angelo, the B & H Grill has a sign, "Capacity 1,000—14 at a time." Also in San Angelo there is this sign, "We will tan your hide." It is a leather shop, of course.
Coming into Sequim from Cuero, I couldn't see a highway sign telling how to get to New Braunfels, so I stopped, got the information and ate breakfast. I guess the State Highway Department figured I'd be hungry, anyhow.
And as I entered Fredericksburg, there was no sign telling how to get to Mason. So I stopped again and got the information at a bakery shop and bought some coffee cake. They bake mighty good coffee cake in Fredericksburg.

This column has been appearing for over nine years. Countless individuals and towns have been mentioned favorably — yet the thank you letters could be counted on the fingers of your two hands. What prompts this comment is that the proprietors of El Sombrero, the quaint looking roadside cafe at Bangs, wrote a letter after the place was mentioned in this space and invited your columnist to drop by and have a bowl of chili.

THIS IS TEXAS' MILLIONTH TELEPHONE!
Making the first call is Mrs. Gunter W. Koetter, pretty war bride from Luxembourg. Looking on are Mr. Koetter, Houston architect and veteran of 4 1/2 years of Army service, and 14-month-old Jay Koetter.

Millionth TELEPHONE IN TEXAS

SOUTHWESTERN BELL'S millionth telephone in Texas was installed late in August at the home of a Houston architect, his Luxembourg war bride, and their 14-month-old son.
Mr. and Mrs. Gunter W. Koetter had been waiting for a telephone for many months. And, like many another Texas family, the newer's new telephone is on a four-party line with telephone factories and installation crews to catch up with Texas' post-war needs for telephone service.
When the millionth Texas telephone was installed, no one was happier than Mrs. Koetter. "I can hardly believe I'm going to have a telephone of my own. Back in my native Luxembourg, only the very rich can afford telephone service."

Less than 10 years ago—in 1938—Texas had only half a million telephones!
On V-J Day—just two years ago—Texas had 750,000 telephones!
Thus, Texas has added as many telephones in less than 10 years as were installed in the previous 60 years! And despite postwar shortages, we've gained more telephones in Texas in the two years since V-J Day than were added in the 10 years preceding the war!
Yet—despite this record, 137,000 Texas families and business concerns are now on the waiting list for telephones. Although we're installing service several times faster than ever before, it has been impossible to connect telephones as fast as Texans are applying for them.

WE'RE PROUD to be growing with Texas. And, we're hard at work on the biggest telephone expansion and improvement program in the history of the state. We shall continue to do everything within our power to bring telephone service, as early as possible, to everyone in Texas who wants it.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

We All Need Fun

Nobody in our Town is exactly lazy (even though Pete Swanson's missus claims he sleeps till seven A. M.) But the hardest working man of all is Doc Hollister — on call, morning, noon and night.

Funny thing, Doc's favorite prescription to his patients is: You ought to have fun. The pace of modern living, even on the farm, demands some relaxation.

And as Doc says — fun is a personal thing. For the missus it may mean a movie or a good book; for Dad, a mellow and refreshing glass of beer; and for the kids, parcheesi or the radio. Doesn't mean everybody has to like the same thing — so long as they relax, have fun, together, in the home.

Doc doesn't have much time himself. After a hard day, he'll relax before the fire with a glass of beer — and wait for the phone to ring again. And from where I sit, Doc deserves each well-earned minute of that relaxation.
