Temple Shell Will Ask For 2nd Term Judge of the 78th District Court

Shell, the present judge of the 78th District Court, announced that he would ask for a second term. In making his announcement, he stated first, to say that it is his desire to serve the people of Wichita County as Judge of the 78th District Court, and also to give the people of Wichita County the privilege of serving under the District Judge of the past term. His announcement was made at the office of the District Judge, an important office, and in the mind of the past three years, the trust which you have placed in me. I have worked hard and I have worked hard to give you the confidence of our people. I feel that my record during my first term, I have handled hundreds of cases, without a jury; and, out of fourteen cases appealed, I have been upheld in eight of those cases. At experience which I had as your District Judge, I will assist me in making a second term judge if you honor me with a second term.

Tuesday noon members and guests of the Rotary club heard speeches concerning the coming Red Cross drive for funds.

President Clark Gresham introduced Harold Thomas of Wichita Falls, County Chairman of the drive, who spoke of the work of the Red Cross during the war on fronts all over the world. Mr. Thomas was with the Engineers in the South Pacific and told of actual experiences with Red Cross services.

Mrs. Cliff Deaton, County Red Cross worker, was the next to speak. She explained why the county quota of $55,000 for this year is higher than the amount asked for last year. A hold-over amount from the budget set up when Sheppard Field was in operation, but which was not needed after the field was shut down, was applied to last year's budget.

Mrs. Deaton related the many services rendered by the Red Cross in Wichita county, among them the maintenance of a blood bank where plasma can be supplied on a moment's notice.

Last year Texas received one-seventh of the amount of total Red Cross expenditures in the United States. For the Texas City disaster and other relief for Texas during the year was $11,000,000.

Mrs. Deaton explained duties of any Red Cross chapter. Two are requirements: 1. Services to armed forces and veterans. 2. Preparedness for any disaster in their locality.

Several guests from Wichita Falls attended the meeting.

H. M. Steinert Not His Own Grandpa But Age Confusing

H. M. Steinert has a hard time keeping up with his age. He has a birthday on each Feb. 29, which doesn't happen often. Sunday he will be celebrating his 14th birthday. Not counting the birthdays, but counting the years he will be 60 years old.

Mr. Steinert is wondering if he will be here on his 21st birthday, which usually permits one to vote. His 21st birthday will be in 1972. But, he will be 88 years old by then. So-o-o confusing, says Mr. Steinert, who would like to vote a few times anyway.

At one time one of Mr. Steinert's grandchildren had had more birthdays than he.

STANDING ON THEIR OWN FEET

The European recovery program stresses the point that we give the necessary aid, to help others help themselves. Huge sums of money for reconstruction seems necessary to promote peace and understanding, but this is water down the drain if such money doesn't encourage those who receive it to try and improve their economic difficulties by exerting themselves to get back on their feet. This nation has been accused of being Imperialistic, of wanting to rule the world, of trying to buy our way. Such assertions are absurd and unfounded.

At a meeting with representatives of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, Secretary of State Marshall emphasized this point of helping others help themselves. The Junior Chamber of Commerce had a suggestion to make, along this same line. Their idea is to offer prizes, such as a trip to the U. S., to those young farmers abroad who make important contributions to foreign agriculture. They believe that, by these young farmers competing to raise the standard of farming in their communities, it would be a definite gain in the "helping themselves" program. Spokesmen for the Junior Chamber also suggested that the outstanding young farmers of foreign countries, be invited to an annual exposition in this country, in order to exchange ideas about soil conservation, livestock breeding, farming procedures and so forth. Such group thinking, by such an active body of young Americans, is encouraging to those who have felt that too much of what goes abroad is to have no return on the investment.

A NEW SLANT

We hardly expected the American Automobile Association to add their opposition to the longer skirts for women, but they do and for a good reason. The fact is, the stocking clad legs catch the auto driver's eye, especially at night and this light stocking gives the feminine pedestrian a better chance of safety. During night time, if the long skirt is a dark color, the driver doesn't see the pedestrian as readily and consequently the accident hazard is greater. Of the many reasons heard in Burkburnett for disliking longer hemlines, this one of the New Look perhaps being the Last Look, had not been one of them.

THE CURFEW TOLLS

A California town has instituted a curfew to sound at 10 o'clock each night, to warn those under 18 to clear the streets and public places, unless accompanied by an adult. Parents are held responsible for children and fines from $25 for the first offense to $500 for each offense thereafter and imprisonment from 10 to 90 days, are part of the ordinance. This is the city father's challenge to juvenile delinquency. Curfews used to be a common thing in many towns, years back. Perhaps they helped to curb child delinquency, we can't say. Such an edict may seem severe and unjust to youngsters, but as a local parent put it, "why should minors be loitering around the streets after 10 o'clock, curfew or not?"

WATCH OUT FOR FLOCK COLDS

Infectious coryza (commonly called colds) is a common respiratory disease of chickens which occurs most frequently during the cold weather months. While it does not cause heavy mortality in most instances, it is feared by most poultry raisers because of its marked effect on egg production and because it creates many culls.

Coryza is a common problem among birds which are exposed to cold drafts and dampness. It causes the severest harm in young adult flocks, although it affects birds of all ages.

A characteristic symptom of infectious coryza is the discharge from the affected bird's nostrils. In the early stages this material is thin and watery, but later it becomes thick and sticky. The face, wattles and skin of the neck often become swollen, the swellings being filled with fluid. Sometimes the bird's eyes are completely puffed shut due to the swelling. Difficult breathing and coughing may also be symptoms.

Warm, Comfortable House
The danger of a coryza outbreak is lessened considerably when birds are quartered in tight, well-ventilated houses which are warm and free of drafts.

Within recent years sulfathiazole has been used extensively to control coryza outbreaks. This drug when used as soon as the early cold symptoms appear, hastens recovery of affected birds — the diseased fowl usually appear normal within 48 hours after treatment has been started. Sulfathiazole is now available in commercial form as a drinking water medicine for easy use.

Mrs. I. E. Harwell Entertains Ladies Bible Class Thurs.

Among the many social meetings of the week was a covered dish luncheon given Thursday by Mrs. I. E. Harwell in her beautiful home on Ave. C., when she entertained members and guests of the Ladies Bible class of the Church of Christ.

For the occasion the dining table was laid with a linen cloth and featured a centerpiece of vari-colored cut flowers in a low container. A similar arrangement on the piano in the living room further enhanced the party rooms.

Lunch was served buffet style. Roy L. Foutz, teacher of the class offered the invocation.

Present and enjoying the hospitality were: Mrs. S. E. Lee and daughter, Kay Harris of Chicago, Ill.; Mrs. Jennie Studyvin of Atlantic, Iowa; Mrs. Gene Robertson and Marilyn Lee; Mrs. S. C. McClurkan and sons, Clem and Danny; Miss Nola Faye Willhoit; Messrs Roy L. Foutz, N. H. Harris and R. P. Reagan; and Mesdames T. A. Banning, D. C. McNeill, R. P. Reagan, C. N. Ellis, N. H. Harris, M. R. Hewell, Wm. Willhoit, G. T. Smith, Roy L. Foutz, F. C. Roye, Hugh Preston, Clark Gresham, S. E. Daniels, Mack Currey, A. Buck, J. M. Matthews and the hostess, Mrs. Harwell.

European Check-Up

How would you like to be able to take a five-weeks' trip to Europe to see if what you've heard is true? Mr. Ernest T. Weir, chairman of the National Steel Corporation of Pittsburgh, did just that. He made informal contacts with people of all sorts. Then he had opportunity to interview outstanding men of finance and industry in each country.

Because of Mr. Weir's nationally recognized leadership, and because I consider him a far-seeing and capable observer, I want to give you some of his conclusions.

People Must Work

English businessmen he interviewed think England must work out her own salvation. They said more U. S. dollars poured into England would be harmful. Our $4 billion loan to them has been wasted, they told him, and has kept England from facing problems squarely. "England's greatest need is for better government, more hard work and greater production."

France, excepting war-torn areas, was in about the same physical shape as England. "The most serious condition in France is the black market in money," he added. The black market offers twice as many francs for a dollar as the government allows officially. "The great problems of France are bad government, encouragement of the people to believe they can live without working, and the consequent failure of the people generally to produce."

Follow Up the Money!

Mr. Weir thinks the German people must have full liberty in the reconstruction of their country. He branded the Morgenthau plan, as applied in Germany, "one of the great crimes of history." America should stop lending or giving money without proper planning and full investigation of the use of the money. At the same time, he believes Germany a safe place to put funds for reconstruction, with proper plans.

The individualism of the people in England, France, and the United States makes communism an unreal danger. He believes the people in these countries will never, for long, permit "the iron heel on their necks." It is his belief that a program financing foreign nations so they will not go communistic is without justification. "People who will stand for Communism will go in that direction irrespective of what we may do to the contrary."

Need for Leadership

Europe is loafing on the job of genuine recovery, he believes. "The day they roll up their sleeves and go to work, recovery will begin." Visitors find the English and French, supposedly starving, working only 40 hours a week. Mr. Weir asks: "Why don't they adopt a six-day week, which would greatly increase the production of all materials?" There are enough resources and manpower. "Given the right kind of leadership and adequate incentives . . . the peoples of Europe would work harder and more productively."

Mr. Weir's phrases "right kind of leadership" and "adequate incentives" suggest the key to this entire puzzle of European difficulties. Take away the profit motive and people lack incentive to work. Then add tax oppression and all the decay of leadership that Europe has had to put up with. The result is unrest and economic chaos. Grabbing the nearest "ism" will not bring prosperity, nor freedom of any kind, for anyone. That is the way to shackles that bind men: hands, feet, and ideals.

District Meeting Farm Bureau Conducted Wed.

The most outstanding district meeting for this area ever held in the history of Farm Bureau was conducted Wednesday at the Labor Temple in Wichita Falls when 350 were in attendance and when the program was equal to that of a state convention. Loys D. Barbour, district director, presided throughout the day. Lunch was served at noon by the Holt Hotel management. Young County with 53 present, led in the attendance count.

Riley G. Arnold, organization director of the Southern Region which comprises 13 states, graphically described what the $9 billion dollar investment owned by agricultural interests and the one and one third million members of the American Farm Bureau could do for the farmer and stockman. Illustrations brought home the work of Farm Bureau as the speaker told how through organization the parity prices for farm products were maintained through the Bankhead - Stegall bill. He also described the outstanding accomplishments and the yet unfinished task of the soil conservation and the soil fertility programs, naming the need for a national farm program that insures the continued productivity of the land as a first requisite. The third thing that the American Farm Bureau can do for the farmer was the offering of services, three kinds being described as legislative, local and special, the latter being open to members only.

Dave C. Meier, head of the insurance service from the office of the Southern Farm Bureau in Jackson, Mississippi, correlated the advantages of Farm Bureau membership program with the insurance program and gave the details of organization for the life insurance and automobile casualty insurance service which now are available in Texas.

Walter Hammond, state president, told how the Farm Bureau does maintain prices and gave suggestions as to how a depression can be averted. He urged the farmer to organize in order to look out for his interests and the welfare of people in general, for it is true that the trend in agriculture is indicative of the welfare of a nation.

George Moffett, senator, commended the Farm Bureau for being an organization which did not speak until it had in hand the information on any question. He remarked that through research and study the promoters of the organization spoke with authority and thus commended the respect of those to whom they spoke. He gave the credit for the 90 per cent parity price on wheat to the Farm Bureau organization.

Director of organization for Texas, Marvin Carter, outlined the plan for the membership drive set for the state on March 2. At the state convention in November the annual drive was transferred from the fall of the year to the spring, when the farmers are not so busy with harvesting and planting.

On Tuesday, at the Holt Hotel, a meeting of presidents, secretaries, and directors of the counties in District 3 was held for the purpose of learning more about the functioning of the Farm Bureau organization not to shape the policies of the organization. A similar meeting will be held following each meeting of the state board of directors, the next one being called for March 29, at the Holt Hotel.

Mrs. Harry Felgar was returned to her home last Friday from the General Hospital in Wichita Falls where she has been a patient for several months. She is improving rapidly.

Minga Attending Council In Nashville, Tenn.

Rev. T. Herbert Minga, pastor of the First Methodist Church, is in Nashville, Tenn., this week attending the National Council of Duke University held at the Hermitage Hotel.

Lighted shot such as this, the use of a flash bulb to supplement outdoor lighting helps brighten the shadows on subject's face.

Flash in Daylight

More people seem to be concerned about flash outdoors, inquiring into when to use flash in respect their interest in two reasons. First, they noticed that photographers often use flash and second, more and more today are equipped with flash synchronization cameras.

Since the light of a flash bulb will not be effective over a very great distance. And you'll want to use a different exposure than for flash shots at night; otherwise the background of your picture will "go black"; it will look like a night shot.

A good general rule to follow for exposures of this sort is to set the camera just as you would if you were making the shot by sunlight using no flash. This gives good exposure for highlights, background areas, or the sky—parts of your picture upon which the flash has little or no effect.

Then, rather than use the naked flash bulb at full strength, drape a white handkerchief over your flash reflector. This will cut the light by half. As a result, you'll have sufficient flash illumination to brighten the shadows without making your picture appear unnaturally bright. What you are actually doing, of course, is striking a balance between the sunlight and the artificial light.

PANIC.
Traacherous Killer

In America's never-ending parade of fires, panic claims hundreds of tragic victims year after year.

May you never be trapped in a deadly fire. But if you are, know what to do to avoid panic and you'll increase your chances of escaping alive.

It is just as important to know how to prevent fires from ever starting.

How to avoid panic is only one of many things you'll learn if you interest your schools, your clubs, your local authorities in a program to stop fires in your community.

WHAT KIND OF A TOWN WOULD THIS TOWN BE?

A town may be likened to a chain, and "a chain is only as strong as its weakest link." "Am I contributing to the strength or weakness of my community?" is a question every citizen may profitably ask himself.

The individual cannot be responsible for his neighbor's activity, but he can keep a close check on his own actions. Such actions should add to the strength of his home town.

"If you want to live in the kind of a town, like the kind of a town you like," you'll have to be a builder with vision. Your town will progress as you grow in outlook and endeavor.

The municipal light plant is a community project worthy of your loyalty. If you want a prosperous place in which to live, remember — "It isn't the town, its you."

THE STATE OF TEXAS
 To: Walter Lyons Defendant,
 Greeting:
 You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 89th District Court of Wichita County at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 29th day of March A. D. 1948 then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 13th day of February A. D. 1948, in this cause, numbered 44162-C on the docket of said court and styled Betty June Lyons, Plaintiff, vs. Walter Lyons, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:
 After alleging jurisdiction, plaintiff further alleges that she and defendant were married on or about November, 1942 and continued to live together until November, 1945 when by reason of the cruel harsh and improper treatment on the part of defendant towards this plaintiff was of such a nature as to render their further living together as husband and wife insupportable; that there were no children born of this marriage and that there is no community property;
 Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and upon trial hereof she have judgment for divorce and for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general in law, and in equity that she may show herself justly entitled to receive.
 If this citation is not served within ninety days after date of issuance, it shall be returned unserved.
 The Officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law and make due return as the law directs.
 Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 13th day of February A. D. 1948.
 (SEAL)
 Attest:
 Glenn Haynes, Clerk,
 89th District Court,
 Wichita County, Texas.

A wagon wheel and a mailbox are prosaic items—but they combine in an interesting picture because the man behind the camera saw the possibilities in the scene.

Pictures Everywhere

A FRIEND of mine who went to a school in the city of Niagara Falls confessed not long ago that he visited the Falls themselves. "I knew, of course, that the Falls were one of the natural wonders of the world. But I knew, too, that they'd still be there tomorrow or next week. And this week always seemed filled with things to do."

My friend's admission only goes to prove how easy it is for us to overlook the familiar, how often we may fail to take advantage of the world around us. Most of us, to be sure, would welcome the picture possibilities which a wonder like Niagara provides. Yet many of us are probably passing up other picture possibilities—blinded to them, in fact, by our very familiarity with them.

Thus a city dweller may see the picture in a twisting fence which the farmer looks upon only as the boundary line marking the end of some pastureland. Or the farmer sees the picture in the twisting street of a city which the urban man regards as a shortcut on his way to work.

All of which makes me wonder when I hear someone say he finds little to photograph. Or that he's shot all the picture possibilities which abound around him. Or, perhaps, that he only uses his camera when he goes on trips.

The fact is, that picture possibilities are almost limitless—consider the changes that the season may make in a field, or in the way in which the morning and afternoon light may make two different scenes of the same street. Consider how a fruit tree in blossom offers one type of picture and the same tree, barren of leaves but with snow coated branches, offers a second picture in winter.

The answer, of course, lies with the picture taker. For it's his world around him. By training himself to think in terms of pictures, by learning to recognize picture possibilities, by practicing to see the picture in each scene, he increases his joy in his camera.

Where Does Your Money Go?

Read the other day where country folks and farmers spend more money, proportionately, on their homes than city dwellers do.

Doesn't seem hard to believe when you think it over. Take the folks in our town, for instance: They're home-loving people—who'd rather spend an evening by the fire with a mellow glass of beer than go out in search of entertainment or diversion.

So it's only natural they put more into what means most to them and to their children: their homes. They may not have too much to spend—but it goes for those permanent, abiding comforts that make home a nicer place to be.

And from where I sit, that budget calls for some of the niceties of home life too—like cider and popcorn for the kids from time to time, and a friendly glass of beer for Mom and Dad... things that belong with what we mean when we say "Home."

THE STATE OF TEXAS
To: Walter Lyons Defendant,
Greeting:
You are hereby commanded to appear before the Honorable 89th District Court of Wichita County at the Court House thereof, in Wichita Falls, Texas at or before 10 o'clock A. M. of the first Monday next after the expiration of forty-two days from the date of the issuance of this citation, same being the 29th day of March A. D. 1948 then and there to answer Plaintiff's Petition filed in said Court, on the 13th day of February A. D. 1948, in this cause, numbered 44162-C on the docket of said court and styled Betty June Lyons, Plaintiff, vs. Walter Lyons, Defendant.

A brief statement of the nature of this suit is as follows, to-wit:
After alleging jurisdiction, plaintiff further alleges that she and defendant were married on or about November, 1942 and continued to live together until November, 1945 when by reason of the cruel harsh and improper treatment on the part of defendant towards this plaintiff was of such a nature as to render their further living together as husband and wife insupportable; that there were no children born of this marriage and that there is no community property;

Wherefore plaintiff prays that the defendant be cited to appear and answer herein and upon trial hereof she have judgment for divorce and for costs of suit and for such other and further relief, special and general in law, and in equity that she may show herself justly entitled to receive.

If this citation is not served within ninety days after date of issuance, it shall be returned unserved.

The Officer executing this process shall promptly execute the same according to law and make due return as the law directs.
Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Wichita Falls, Texas, this the 13th day of February A. D. 1948.

A wagon wheel and a mailbox are prosaic items—but they combine in an interesting picture because the man behind the camera saw the possibilities in the scene.

Pictures Everywhere

A FRIEND of mine who went to school in the city of Niagara Falls confessed not long ago that in two winters there only once had he visited the Falls themselves. "I knew, of course, that the Falls were one of the natural wonders of the world. But I knew, too, that they'd still be there tomorrow or next week. And this week always seemed filled with things to do."

My friend's admission only goes to prove how easy it is for us to overlook the familiar, how often we may fail to take advantage of the world around us. Most of us, to be sure, would welcome the picture possibilities which a wonder like Niagara provides. Yet many of us are probably passing up other picture possibilities—blinded to them, in effect, by our very familiarity with them.

Thus a city dweller may see the picture in a twisting fence which the farmer looks upon only as the boundary line marking the end of some pastureland. Or the farmer sees the picture in the twisting street of a city which the urban man regards as a shortcut on his way to work.

All of which makes me wonder when I hear someone say he finds little to photograph. Or that he's shot all the picture possibilities which abound around him. Or, perhaps, that he only uses his camera when he goes on trips.

The fact is, that picture possibilities are almost limitless—consider the changes that the season may make in a field, or in the way in which the morning and afternoon light may make two different scenes of the same street. Consider how a fruit tree in blossom offers one type of picture and the same tree, barren of leaves but with snow coated branches, offers a second picture in winter.

The answer, of course, lies with the picture taker. For it's his world around him. By training himself to think in terms of pictures, by learning to recognize picture possibilities, by practicing to see the picture in each scene, he increases his joy in his camera.

—John van Guilder

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Where Does Your Money Go?

Read the other day where country folks and farmers spend more money, proportionately, on their homes than city dwellers do.

Doesn't seem hard to believe when you think it over. Take the folks in our town, for instance: They're home-loving people—who'd rather spend an evening by the fire with a mellow glass of beer than go out in search of entertainment or diversion.

So it's only natural they put more into what means most to them and to their children: their homes. They may not have too much to spend—but it goes for those permanent, abiding comforts that make home a nicer place to be.

And from where I sit, that budget calls for some of the niceties of home life too—like cider and popcorn for the kids from time to time, and a friendly glass of beer for Mom and Dad... things that belong with what we mean when we say "Home."

Popular School Teacher "Fire"

When Supt. McMann calls teacher Carl Elmer the carpet because he discussed social and moral in his classroom, a heated argument results from the new educational film, "Mom and Dad." Superintendent maintains delinquency is something the Law to punish and control. The teacher sees the problem of the home and the school, maintaining delinquency cannot be controlled by punishing it—preventing it. "Mom and Dad", Hollywood's hygiene picture comes to the Palace Theatre.

World Mission of Church

Lesson for February 29, 1948

JOHN WESLEY said, "The world is my parish." Many another Christian has entertained this great concept, and that is precisely what Jesus wants us to understand concerning the sweep and scope of his Kingdom.

Dr. Newton

Sunday's lesson brings us to consider three great passages - Acts 16:9, 10; Romans 10:8-15; Ephesians 3:8-12.

CHURCH AROUND THE WORLD

GO YE into all the world and preach the gospel to the whole creation," said Jesus, Mark 16:15. There is no backward definition of the mission of the church in these great words of Jesus.

REACHING THE WORLD

JUST as Paul went from one land to another, so may every Christian boy and girl do. Each church can reach out hands of blessing to all the world.

PUBLISHING SALVATION

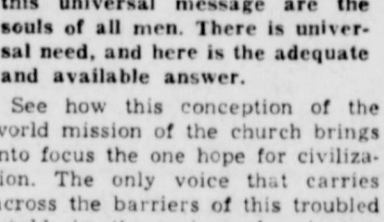

HOW beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth glad tidings, that publisheth peace... that publisheth salvation," Isaiah 52:7.

THE UNSEARCHABLE RICHES

AND what are we to say about the message we have to publish? Paul puts it well in Ephesians 3:8-12, when he declares:

AROUND THE HOUSE

Protect your rubbers from oil and soil. Oil causes blistering, and soil will cause rubber articles to chip and crack and lose their resilient strength.

Keep on hand: Percolator tops, electric fuses, an assortment of corks, waxed paper, paper napkins, a box of tacks, an extra can-opener, extra light bulbs, a ball of twine, bicycle tape.

Excessive use of oil or thinners will reduce the covering power of any paint.

Keep acid foods, such as tomatoes, lemons and vinegar off the porcelain enamel of a range or refrigerator. They cause stains that won't come off.

Thread a dozen needles with different colored threads and put them in a pin cushion hung from the wall. It is then an easy matter to repair a garment promptly instead of placing it in the ever-growing mending bundle.

Editor Horace Greeley was famed for his illegible handwriting, which few people could decipher. Once, after an argument with an employe, he wrote the man a letter informing him that he was fired.

Several months passed. Then one day the former employe stopped by for a chat.

"You're the fellow I fired some time ago, aren't you?" asked Greeley. "How are you getting along?"

"Oh, just fine, thanks to you, Mr. Greeley!" laughed the other. "You remember that letter you sent me? Well, I showed it to an editor the following day and told him it was a letter of recommendation from you. He gave me a job immediately—and for more money!"

"Loyalty to Christ"

Pastor T. Lynn Stewart, First Baptist Church, announces services for Sunday and next week as follows:

9:45 A. M. Sunday School, with eight complete departments and a class for every age, taught by consecrated, Bible believing teachers.

11:00 A. M. Morning Worship. Sermon: "Loyalty to Christ." "From over hill and plain there comes the signal strain, 'Tis loyalty, loyalty to Christ."

Hear this message, heart stirring, soul filling preaching.

6:30 P. M. Training Union for all ages. "We study that we may serve."

7:30 P. M. Evening Worship. Sermon: "Can I read my title clear?" This is the third and last message in a series the pastor is delivering on the security of God's people. Don't miss this sermon, some puzzling questions will be answered in the light of sacred Scriptures. Bible preaching and good gospel singing at all services.

Wednesday, 7:00 P. M. Officers and Teachers meet for the study of next Sunday's lesson. The pastor teaches this lesson.

Hour of Power, prayer and praise service. This is a warm spiritual service of prayer, praise and Bible study. Nearly 100 are attending this mid-week service in the lower auditorium.

Remember Revival services March 12-21 with the pastor doing the preaching and M. A. Huddler leading the singing. Plan now to attend every service.

You Pay for It

Other day that classic journal of ours, the Arkansas Gazette, commented: "The government has it all figured out what people do with every penny of their money. Now, if only the people could figure out what the government does with it." That is a real poser! To be sure, government has to spend a lot of money. We are a big nation. Moreover, we find it necessary to take on obligations in many foreign lands.

But whether the government (specifically the federal government, where they throw around big sums) spends no more than is needful is important to everyone. Government is not a luxury; it is a necessity. Yet, to read the budget figures you would think all operations were on a luxury basis.

Government Spends
That government is expensive was proved again by John T. Flynn, who showed in Reader's Digest that TVA, a government project, forgot to include certain items in its book-keeping. Instead of the indicated profit, there was a real deficit of $130,000,000 to June 30, 1944. Flynn shows there was an actual loss in sales of power to that date of $15,000,000. This demonstrates that efficiency is a quality unknown to government operations.

Here's a prophecy. Wait until the budget is presented to this Congress, then watch the departments and bureaus fight any reductions. Increase the appropriation and swell the payroll — but shrink the swollen department? Never.

Way to Depression.
This kind of selfishness means meager tax savings. It permits little tax reduction for folks who so much need relief. The more we tax and the more we spend for government, the nearer we get to depression.

Taxes of all kinds are too heavy these days. Corporation taxes are burdensome. Income taxes on all levels are too high. The individual income taxes cut down the rewards of the wage earner, keeping him from saving and investing. Instead, his tax payment is earmarked: "government expense." Some people oppose tax reductions for corporations and individuals, without realizing that continued heavy taxes will undermine our economic system and their own standard of living.

Decisions Lie Ahead
Obviously, one of the quickest ways to halt wasteful and unprofitable bureaucracy is to stop feeding fuel to its fires. Government, without a plentiful supply of tax money, could be wasteful government. Congress has the power to say what the government shall spend and what amount it shall collect in taxes. It is up to us to see that our Congress keeps a proper rein on collections and expenditures.

Unwise spending and taxing could take this nation into the bankruptcy of communism. It could do it more quickly than anything else. Indeed, the power to tax is the power to destroy. We must see to it that America keeps an efficient and well-managed government, not a wasteful bureaucracy. That will be a powerful factor in deciding, in the coming months, whether America will remain prosperous and economically stable.

Texas Gas Now Used In One-Time
Greatest Gas Field

Twenty years ago the gas field at Monroe, Louisiana, was believed to be the largest in the world, with reserves of 22 trillion cubic feet. Since then larger fields have been discovered including the Panhandle and Hugoton fields and the reserves in the Rio Grande field, but recently it was learned that Monroe's gas needs are now being met by gas coming from the Carthage field in Texas.

In the meanwhile the consumption of gas from the Panhandle and from Hugoton has increased so rapidly that a representative of the Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, appearing before the Federal Power Commission, stated that in his opinion the remaining reserves of those vast gas fields would not support another large diameter pipe line.

The Hugoton gas fields of Oklahoma and Kansas are related or connected with the Texas Panhandle field, so that it is possible for the Federal Power Commission to authorize withdrawals in Kansas and Oklahoma that will deplete the Texas supply.

The area covered by these fields was once the home of the vast and inexhaustible herds of Buffalo that became extinct in a few years. There should be a lesson to be drawn from this experience.

LOVELY TEXAN TELLS COTTON'S FASHION STORY

Blonde and beautiful Matilda Nail of Ft. Worth, Texas, the cotton industry's 1948-Maid of Cotton, has begun a 35,000-mile cotton goodwill tour which will carry her to more than 40 key cities in three countries. She's pictured here in three of the 1948 cotton creations which are included in her glamorous all-cotton wardrobe. On the left, Matilda wears a romantic evening gown done in cotton chambray and organdie by Dorris Varnum. In the center, she poses in a sophisticated cotton suit with the new slim skirt done by Herbert Sondheim. And on the right the Maid of Cotton shows a modern version of the Gibson girl blouse and skirt in white cotton batiste and black poplin from Alice Stuart. The Maid of Cotton tour is sponsored by the National Cotton Council, Memphis Cotton Carnival, and the Cotton Exchanges of New York, Memphis, and New Orleans.

Right Or Left Don't Be Wrong

You have to keep left to be right, according to George Clarke managing director of the Texas Safety Association.

But let me tell you what I mean, before you think I sound mixed up, he said. "A left turn in heavy traffic is one of the most difficult maneuvers in an automobile, and it causes traffic tie-ups and accidents when bungled."

Clarke said that the Texas Safety Association is cooperating in a nationwide "Know and Obey Traffic Laws" program during February, and he cited National Safety Council statistics to show the need for such a program.

At least 31 1/2% of all fatal pedestrian and non-pedestrian accidents involve a turning vehicle, and improper turnings was reported in from 4 to 5 per cent of all accidents.

Pointing out that about twice as many accidents involve left turns as right turns, Clarke listed five rules to remember in making a left turn.

Keep next to the center line of the roadway, so that no car will approach from behind on your left as you turn.

Turn around two points, one where the center of the street or road you are on meets the crosswalk or property line, and the other where the center of the street or road you are turning into leaves the crosswalk or property line.

Start to get in the proper lane for turning far enough back, at least a block before the turn.

Use hand signals before making the turn and be sure to make a full turn. Don't cut corners.

Always respect the right of way of other drivers who are at the intersection or approaching so close as to be a hazard.

FARM FACTS
WORTH KNOWING

Q. How much feed does a rat eat? What measures should be taken to overcome the rat menace?
A. Experts at New York State College of Agriculture estimate that a pair of rats eat the equivalent of 100 lbs. of feed in a year, not to mention the amount they waste. A concerted Rat Riddance campaign would save millions of bushels of badly needed corn and other grains. Some suggested steps are:
1. Store feed where rats can't get at it.
2. Get rid of trash and rubbish piles which attract rats.
3. Use good rat poisons. Products containing Antu or Red Squill are both effective and both of them should be used in the order mentioned. Rats which may obtain a sublethal dose following a single baiting with Antu will acquire a temporary immunity against this poison. This resistance usually lasts for a period of about 30 days. During this interval it is recommended that these survivors be baited with a product containing Red Squill. Although both poisons are relatively non-toxic for dogs and cats, it is a good practice to place rat baits out of reach of these or other animals.

Q. Why is it important to worm pigs and when should this be done?
A. Ridding pigs of worms at 12 weeks of age may save up to two bushels of corn per pig, thus increasing the hog raiser's profit and aiding the grain conservation program.

Q. How can a dairyman judge when heifers have reached the proper weight for breeding if he has no scale available?
A. The Ralston Purina Company, St. Louis 2, Mo., offers a weighing tape that measures the size of the heart girth and tells the approximate weight of the heifer. This weighing tape has a high degree of accuracy and is a great convenience to dairymen who do not have scales on which to weigh their cows.

Gas Co. To Spend Millions In 1948

One of the greatest construction and development programs in its long history is planned for 1948 by United Gas Corporation, according to N. C. McGowen, president.

The corporation and its subsidiaries, all of which have headquarters in Shreveport, plan to spend more than 26 million dollars on extensions of service and development of gas and oil fields during the year.

McGowen said the companies have spent more than 200 million dollars on similar projects since 1930.

More than 27,000 homes, stores and factories will obtain natural gas service as a result of the extension program, he said. All of these new customers will be served directly from the distribution lines of United Gas Corporation. Many other gas service connections will be made during the year by distribution firms to which United plans to provide additional gas for resale.

One subsidiary, United Gas Pipe Line Company, contemplates expenditures of more than a million dollars during the year within the five-states area currently served. Construction include a new gas line to Carthage, Texas, major additions to existing transmission lines, and the extension of new lines to adjacent communities.

THIS IS A Paper WORLD

Natural resources made the pulp and paper industries possible in Texas. The forests, the water, the chemicals, the natural gas. But none of these would be worth a cent unless they were put to use...for the benefit of mankind.

Take natural gas, for example. Stored deep in the earth, natural gas is a worthless resource. But it becomes valuable when it is gathered, processed and moved to market where it can be used as a convenient, inexpensive fuel. This is the function of the United Gas companies—to give value to a natural resource that would otherwise be worthless or wasted. This is practical conservation, for it stimulates industrial development, creates jobs, and benefits all the families in Texas.

PULP AND PAPER

The 33 pulp and paper establishments operating in Texas during the year of 1945 employed 3,902 persons with payrolls amounting to $8,671,000. The industry's production during this period was valued at $28,626,000. This is another example of Free Enterprise at work—private capital and private citizens working together to bring prosperity to Texas and all her people.

Calvary Baptist Church
Sunday School at 10 A. M., with all classes studying Hebrews, chapter two—"Christ's Salvation Is Better."
Preaching at eleven o'clock. Sermon subject of pastor, "How Can I Be Saved And Know It?"
A better knowledge of this subject would be of great benefit, not only to the unsaved, but to many doubting and uncertain Christians. Get your crowd together and come hear this message.
Evening services begin with the young people meeting at 6:45. A special program is planned.
Song and preaching service at 7:30. Special singing, along with old-time gospel singing, is a feature of this service. At this hour the pastor is preaching a series of messages from the book of Revelation. This is really an exposition of this great book. Don't be fooled by some who spiritualize the meaning of the book away, or who say it cannot be understood. Read Rev. 1:3, and then come hear the pastor's third message in this series. This study will be in the second chapter, and it will be shown from these scriptures that the heaven (hell) is leaving the whole lump — spiritual conditions getting worse and not better. The extreme modernistic conditions in the churches of today points out the age in which we now live. Come and hear the plain, unadorned teaching of the Word of God. It will do you good. You have a warm-hearted welcome at the friendly church with an open Bible for all men with open hearts.
