There is some difference in opinion of farmers as to the amount of good the rain will do early wheat.

Tanks that were drying up are now level full. Stock water is assured for a long time.

Million Dollar Rain Increases Grain Prospects

A million dollars is a lot of money. But, we got a lot of rain that did a lot of good. The above figure may sound it little high, but if you take in enough territory it will be correct.

Sunday night and Monday the kind of rain this area needed came—Slow and steady, so that most of the moisture that fell soaked in when it struck the ground.

There is some difference in opinion of farmers as to the amount of good the rain will do early wheat. Some say it will make little difference in the yield of early grain.

One point is agreed on by all. The rain did help late wheat and row crops already planted.

Fire Convention Recesses To Witness Blaze At Boyd Home

Delegates to the West Texas Firemen Association convention took time out Wednesday from their business to watch the local fire department battle a real-life blaze.

The Burkburnett volunteers quickly brought under control the fire in the home of Dale Boyd, 200 block West Main, while the 150 delegates on the sidewalk cheered and offered verbal assistance.

Damage to the home was $750—but that didn't take into account the damage done to the local firemen's dress white uniforms. The firemen had donned their best to play hosts to a gala barbecue supper here this evening. After fighting a fire, they were in no condition for the party.

Frank Williams, state firemen's pension commissioner from Austin, commented that the Burkburnett team gave the delegates an exhibition "of real proficiency in fire-fighting."

Speaker of the morning was Col. H. R. Brayton, director of the firemen's training school at Texas A&M College. He spoke on the school there which will be held July 11-17, and stated that Texas is leading in the training of firemen, especially through these district clinics throughout the state and the annual school at A&M.

A PRICELESS POSSESSION

No price can be placed upon the head of a child. No family would name a sum that could compensate for that young life. Yet, that same family will permit a youngster to ride a bicycle and pedal-push into danger of losing life. A parent can see that bicycles are mechanically safe, that lights and reflectors are provided for night riding and can instruct children that they are bound by certain bicycle rules and regulations. Tell them to obey traffic rules, use signals, not hitch rides on autos, don't stunt in traffic, don't pull chums on roller skates and don't ride 'bic' through heavy traffic but walk.

AN AMERICAN

A custom originated in 1940, through presidential proclamation, is observed the third Sunday of each May. "I Am An American Day" arouses community and national patriotism with programs of songs and speeches dedicated to the foreign-born and the "coming of age" for native Americans. In wartime the devotion and enthusiasm for citizenship more pronounced, finds more public recognition. When that which we hold carelessly in time of peace, is threatened in time of war, we place a higher value upon it.

Good citizenship is a force that makes a nation great and must be expressed by more than mere lip-service. It has been said that the rights of citizenship mean more to the foreign-born than to the native-born who have received these rights without effort, taking them for granted and regarding them lightly. Since the foreigner must renounce many of his old loyalties, must make a serious decision in seeking a new country, must study and then wait for citizenship, it is perhaps true that the appreciation is greater. This should not be so, but such is human nature that we do not place so great a value upon food, water, health, friendship and freedom, until we are without them. The native-born should highly prize the protection his country offers, the glorious heritage handed him, and guard the prize as an essential need for the pursuit of his happiness.

Manage Range Birds Carefully

Birds go on range when they are six weeks of age or as soon thereafter as the weather permits.

The range period is an important stage in the chicken's growth. It is during these months that birds are expected to build up body strength and develop into sturdy, ready-to-lay pullets. They should come off the range as well feathered birds in the best of health, capable of holding up under the strain of high production in the laying house.

Range Problems

The range is by no means free of obstacles, however. The poultryman must anticipate certain problems such as lice, worms, unfavorable weather, and disease. And he must be ready to cope with these difficulties as they arise.

Avoiding such problems, of course, should be his first consideration, so we shall list here some of the things the poultry raiser can do to keep his range flock in good health.

Grass is food, and a good range will provide up to 10 per cent or 15 per cent of the bird's food requirements. The ideal range is well sodded with young immature grass. Long grass gets matted down, the sun cannot penetrate to the soil, and it does not have the food value of younger vegetation. Some of the better range crops are clover, alfalfa, perennial rye grass, timothy, and ladino clover. Mow the range frequently to keep grass cut short at all times.

Give Them Shade

Provide plenty of shade. If there are no trees, shade can be created by planting a few rows of corn or sunflower. Shelters are

An Eye For The Future

When citizens built the Municipal Light Plant in Burk Burnett, they were looking for future benefits as well as immediate ones.

They were thinking of advantages to the city and its citizens in the months and years to come. They knew their children would reap the benefits of municipal ownership as well as they themselves would.

The establishment of a municipal light plant was an investment for all times. Share the dividends by patronizing it.

another good source of shade. Keep the area around the shelters clean. Near and in the shelters, droppings will accumulate rather rapidly and they should be cleaned up frequently.

Examine a few birds periodically for lice, and, when needed get a good delouser from your local poultry supply dealer.

MICKEY FINN FOR GERMS

Put Dr. Salsbury's GERMEX in your flock's drinking water to prevent transmission of disease through this medium. GERMEX inhibits growth of many disease-causing organisms in the water. Easy and economical to use. An excellent all-around disinfectant, too—Dr. Salsbury's GERMEX deserves a spot on your shopping list today.

HOW TEXAS INDUSTRIES PUT NATURE'S RESOURCES TO USE FOR THE BENEFIT OF MANKIND

Everybody LIVES IN GLASS HOUSES...

Glass is so closely linked with everyday living that you can't imagine doing without it. No, and there is no more vivid example of Nature's resources put to work for mankind than in glass. Sand, lime and soda by themselves have little value, and their uses are relatively few. But when they are united in the form of usable glass products they take on new importance.

So it is with natural gas, too. This great natural resource would be worthless if left in the ground. It is only when companies like United Gas move it to market—make it available for use—that it is given value.
This is practical conservation... putting Nature's resources to work.
Efficient, low-cost natural gas sparks industrial development, creates new jobs, benefits all the families in Texas.

Keep regular this healthful way—

The juice of a lemon in a glass of water, when taken first thing on arising, is all that most people need to insure prompt, normal elimination. No more harsh laxatives that irritate the digestive tract and impair nutrition! Lemon in water is good for you!

Generations of Americans have taken lemons for health—and generations of doctors have recommended them. They are rich in vitamin C, supply valuable amounts of B<sub>1</sub> and P. They alkalize, aid digestion.

Not too sharp or sour, lemon in water has a refreshing tang—clears the mouth, wakes you up. It's not a purgative—simply helps your system regulate itself. Try it 10 days.

QUESTION: Please give me correct information on the refinishing of enamel, porcelain and glazed surfaces.

ANSWER: If you mean a new porcelain finish, that work cannot be done at home. The hard gloss of the surfaces is baked on at the factory and is impossible to duplicate at home with paint or anything else. Chipped places can be restored with a porcelain patching preparation that is on sale in most hardware stores.

QUESTION: Can linoleum be painted?

ANSWER: Worn linoleum can be painted with any good brand of floor paint or deck enamel, but there is no special kind of paint made for that purpose. For best results all traces of wax should be removed from the linoleum. A stripped effect in two colors (two shades of tan are practical) will show dirt less than one solid color.

MINERS: Temporary

Let not the public be deceived by the spell of quiet that is reigning in the nation's soft coal mines and the temporary evaporation of John L. Lewis from the stage.

As it looks now, this peaceful situation is good only until June 30. Even while the miners continue to chop coal in the pits, they make it clear that they expect to go back to their fishing on that date.

June 30 is the day the present wage agreement between the United Mine Workers and the coal operators expires. It is possible, of course, that a new agreement may be reached before then, but it is practically impossible to find anyone who thinks so.

After Lewis' tussle with Federal Judge T. Alan Goldsborough in which he and the union were fined a total of $1,420,000, the miners went back to work after hearing John L. Lewis' wish that they do so. This, however, is regarded as merely a temporary truce.

One of the reasons advanced for Lewis' cantankerous delay in coming to terms on the pension dispute was that the mine leader was eking out the work stoppage as long as possible in order to deplete the nation's coal reserves and so put himself in a better bargaining position when the contract negotiations came up.

That he accomplished that end there is no gainsaying. Coal stocks went down almost to zero all over the country, resulting in curtailment of steel production, a cut in rail travel and various major and minor industrial shutdowns.

It is a fact, too, that industry will not have recovered its balance sufficiently by June 30 to cope adequately with whatever emergency Lewis might precipitate this time.

OUR BEST IN WORSHIP

PASSAGES in the first, second and third chapters of Malachi reveal the lack of sincerity on the part of the priests in the worship which they offered and which they taught the people to offer. Here we see that unclean hands can never bring an acceptable offering unto the Lord. He looketh on the heart. He knows what is in man.

Using the house of God to make a show before men was one of the shameful evils of the priests in the days of Malachi. It did not fool God then, nor will it fool him today. Unless our worship is an expression of something fine and sincere, he will not accept it.

THE DAY OF RECKONING

"BEHOLD, I will send my messenger, and he shall prepare the way before me; and the Lord, whom ye seek, shall suddenly come to his temple, even the messenger of the covenant, whom ye delight in. . . . But who shall abide the day of his coming?"

One would think that such words of warning would have brought the priests and the people to their senses in humble contrition before God; but they continued to disregard the words of God's messenger.

"For, behold, the day cometh, that shall burn as an oven, and all that do wickedly, shall be stubble; and the day that cometh shall burn them up, saith the Lord of hosts, that it shall leave them neither root nor branch."

Thus did God warn. And the day of reckoning did come—a day in which priests and people went down beneath the chariot wheels of the invaders. And once again the warnings of God, though despised, were fulfilled to the last word in the terrible punishment upon those who forgot him.

OREGON: Next Up

After whirling breezily through Ohio to the thorough discomfiture of Sen. Robert Taft, campaigning Harold E. Stassen set his political sights on the May 21 Oregon primary election where he was due to joust with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey for that state's Republican convention delegates.

In a kick-off address in Portland Stassen refurbished his foreign and domestic policies for the edification of Oregon voters who will elect the 12-member GOP delegation.

Stassen was taking his Oregon campaign seriously because a large measure of importance was being attached to the election insofar as it would provide the first test of West coast opinion on Republican presidential contenders.

SHORTAGE: Farm Machinery

Behind the present shortage of farm machinery in the U. S. lies a now all-too-familiar story: More such machinery is being produced than ever before but it isn't enough to meet the demand.

Waiting list for farm machinery is phenomenally long, yet 132 per cent more tractors, cream separators and other pieces of farm equipment were produced in 1947 than were available in 1939.

Malachi Demands Sincere Religion

Lesson for May 16, 1948

GET ready for some straight talk in next Sunday's lesson. Malachi reveals the dark picture of unrequited love, polluted offerings, impious priests, unfaithful husbands. You wonder if Sam Jones has come back to life. He begins by crying: "The burden of the word of the Lord to Israel by Malachi." We shall miss the entire meaning of this lesson if we fail to read every word of the Book of Malachi. We cannot claim any of the promises of a better day, as indicated in the latter section of Malachi unless and until we deal with such hypocrisy as may infect our lives today, even as the priests and people were consumed with iniquity when Malachi prophesied unto them.

GIVING OUR BEST TO GOD

"A SON honoureth his father, if then I be a father, where is mine honour? and if I be a master, where is my fear?" Malachi 6:6.

How can God bring good out of evil, when his people hold back their best from him? Let us bug it closer home, and ask, How in our earthly parents do their best for us, when we give them half-hearted allegiance?

Wichita County Farm Bureau News

From the Office of
MRS. M. L. HINES
Secretary-Treasurer

A matter of major importance discussed at the meeting of the directors of the Wichita County Farm Bureau Tuesday evening was the Farm Bureau Service Program to be held at Seymour on May 17 when a large delegation from Wichita County is being invited to join with delegations from the north half of state, including districts 1, 2, 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, and 8. A like meeting for the southern half of the state is being held at Corpus Christi.

The May 17 program will be held at the City Auditorium, beginning at 10 A. M. President J. Walter Hammond of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation, Dave C. Misher of the Southern Farm Bureau Life Insurance Co., and Larry Williams of the Iowa Park Farm Bureau will be featured as speakers.

Those who heard Larry Williams at the state convention in Amarillo will agree that he is one of the most inspirational speakers but will want to fill their cars with passengers headed for Seymour.

A second item brought up for consideration, which is of great importance to every farmer, was the National Land Act Policy, which is in the form of HR6054, known as the Hope Bill, which repeals most of the principles set up by the Farm Bureau for the past 20 years, and on which hearings are being held before the Agriculture Committee this week. This bill repeals the Soil Conservation and Domestic Allotment Act of 1937, which embodies most of the National Farm Program since that date.

The Board of Directors unanimously voted to send telegrams of protest to W. R. Poage and Eugene Worley, committee members, and to Clifford Hope, chairman.

Jeb Had the Folks in Stitches!

At the Friday Night Social, Jeb Crowell had the audience in stitches—doing a take-off on the blustering character who belittles everybody and everything that isn't from his own home town.

Well, we can laugh at that sort of character because from where I sit, Americans are just the opposite. We like to boast a bit perhaps, about the paint job on the new barn, or the missus' style of cooking—but we aren't intolerant of people who don't think or act exactly the same way we do.

In our town, for instance: Some folks like band concerts, others don't—some families serve beer with dinner; others, buttermilk—and as for politics, there's plenty of healthy disagreement.

But when it comes to denying folks the right to think or act as they choose... no, we're like you—we don't believe in it, whether it goes for serving beer, or speaking one's mind on public affairs.

Mrs. T. H. Minga Writes Poem

Ann Barcus Minga, wife of the Rev. T. H. Minga, pastor of the Methodist Church, Burkburnett, Texas, is author of a poem entitled "The Good Old Songs" in the May issue of The Church School, a monthly magazine prepared by the Methodist General Board of Education through its Editorial Division especially for pastors and superintendents of Methodist Church schools.

THE GOOD OLD SONGS
by Ann Barcus Minga

I love to hear the good old songs
That my grandparents sang
When with their lusty caroling
The Country churches rang.
"There is a Fountain," "Come Thou Fount—"
How dear the old tunes are.
They bring back scenes of days long gone
And places lost afar.

I love to sing the good old songs
They link me to the past
In sturdy satisfaction
That here are things which last.
"Amazing Grace," "All Hail the power,"
And "Rock of Ages"—these
Have words that flood the heart with joy
And gracious melodies.

I'm glad I know the good old
songs,
For when I'm tired or ill,
They flash across my troubled mind
Until my fears are still.
"O For a Thousand Tongues to Sing"
Can give a sweet release,
And "Jesus Lover of My Soul"
Will bring abiding peace.

Thank God we have the good old
songs;
They bless us on our way:
"On Jordan's Stormy Bank I Stand,"
"Old Hundred," "Happy Day."
They fill our mouths with goodly words
To mold our speech like leaven;
They keep our feet from straying paths
And guide us home to heaven.

Should Be Baptized?

A question of great importance and it is one that has caused a great difference of opinion. We are not interested in, however, but only in the precepts and examples of the word of God. In the days of the New Testament, when the word was first preached, it was believed, and then confessed their faith in Christ and then baptized. On the day of Pentecost, 3,000 heard the word, and were baptized, and repented before they were baptized. The Samaritans heard Philip, believed in the heart, and were baptized, "both men and women." The Corinthians heard, believed and were baptized. Thus we see that a person must be capable of believing and repenting before he is a subject of baptism. Surely we can understand that an infant is not of the age of these and, therefore is not to be baptized. Until that child has the ability to hear and believe, and need of repentance, he is not a subject of Bible baptism. The Lord must be personal, and cannot be by proxy, as is done in the practice of infant circumcision is not a type of baptism, for it was for male children only. The "household" baptism of Acts, viz., Cornelius (ch. 10), Lydia the Phrygian jailer (ch. 16) do not suggest infant baptism by the suppositions of man.

When we consider this question closely, we must conclude that it is IMPOSSIBLE to baptize an infant. Baptism is a physical thing, it is not the "putting away of the flesh" 1 Peter 3:21, but it is an act of obedience to God's commands. An infant could be dipped in water, but it would not be baptism unless he turned from his iniquity, and was baptized, or even immersed, but it would not be baptism, because it would not be obedience to the command of the Lord, but only a meaningless ceremony. There is neither Bible command or example.

The Bishop's Wife Great Cast Assembled As Time Marches On

Twenty years ago, in 1927, in Manhattan a young writer, just out of Harvard, was hard at work on a new novel. His name was Robert Nathan and his book, published the following spring, was entitled "The Bishop's Wife."

At the same time, also in New York, a new Oscar Hammerstein musical called Golden Dawn was enjoying a run. Far down in the cast was the name of Archie Leach, in the role of Anzac, a native chieftain.

At the same time, in Hollywood, Colleen Moore was making a silent picture called Naughty But Nice and giving some helpful advice to a 13 year old ingenue named Gretchen Young.

Now, two decades later, Samuel Goldwyn's production of "The Bishop's Wife" is being released by RKO Radio. Archie Leach, who has since changed his name to Cary Grant, and Gretchen Young who has since changed hers to Loretta, are co-starred in the film with David Niven, whose longstanding difficulty with mathematics did not prevent his rising to the rank of lieutenant-colonel in the recent war. And featured in the cast is ex-Professor Monty Woolley, whose beard meanwhile has flourished and grown famous.

E. W. Stevenson, Jr., is attending college at North Texas State Teachers College in Denton, Texas.

Calvary Baptist Church
Ave. B. and College

Sunday School at 10 a. m. with all classes studying Hebrews, chapter 13—"Going Forth Unto Him Without The Camp." We use the Bible only as our literature.

Preaching services at eleven o'clock. The choir will sing, and there will be special quartette and duet numbers. The pastor will preach on this theme: "By Faith the Harlot Rahab Perished Not With Them That Believed Not, When She Had Received the Spies With Peace." Heb. 11:31.

Night services begin at 7:45 with a good gospel song service. The sermon subject of the pastor will be, "So Great A Salvation." Many so-called teachers of the word of God belittle this great salvation by their ignorance of it. We don't know so much, but we would like to show you from the Word of God just how great this salvation is. It is complete from start to finish, and sealed by the blood of Jesus Christ our Lord.

God is wonderfully blessing Calvary Baptist. We are having additions and baptisms every Sunday now. We welcome the three additions last Sunday. There will be another baptism next Sunday night. We are just an old-time missionary Baptist Church, with an open Bible for people with open hearts. We extend to one and all a warm friendly welcome. Come and see—go and tell. Ray C. Morrow, Pastor.

Cotton and
The Community

● "Howdy, neighbor! How's the cotton crop?" This is the way we say good morning on the corner of Main Street in every community across the wide expanse of 19 Cotton Belt states during the season when the cotton crop is on the make.

Although the cotton farmer is the one most vitally interested, the butcher, the banker, and the man who runs the grocery store also have a high stake and keen interest in the number of bales that go to the gin. All are eager partners during the season of tending, watching and waiting until the crop is laid by and the stalk becomes heavy with bolls.

What many of cotton's citizens fail to realize is that the job is just begun when the bolls begin to open and the first army of pickers invades the field. Our support must be given all the way to the retail sales counter, for unless the sheets and shirts made from last year's crop are moved from the shelf, we are not free to grow another crop without creating a surplus.

The welfare of cotton's people is entirely dependent upon the sale and use of cotton products.

Buy cotton products. Build your own welfare.

The message above is published by this institution in behalf of the cotton industry of surrounding counties in Texas and Oklahoma.

Card of Thanks

To my many friends in Burk Burnett and surrounding communities, it is impossible to express in words how truly grateful I am for all of you, and how much I appreciate your thoughtfulness to me during the past few weeks. ## Announcement

I would like to take this opportunity to advise my many friends in Burk Burnett that I am no longer in the Paint and Body business at 700 East Scott in Wichita Falls.

I have sold my business and am now in charge of the paint and body shop of the Morgan Motor Co., Inc.

My former employees,

K. E. ELDERTON and W. C. SMITH are still with me.

This is also an invitation to visit and inspect this new, modern division of Morgan Motor Co., 706 11th, Wichita Falls. E. A. FLATT, Jr.
