THE PRICE FOR PEACE

The Noble Peace Prize of 1949, goes to a farmer. Once a plowboy who grew up loving the soil, understanding farming, the present Lord Boyd Orr has devoted his years to studying the food problems that plague man and countries. A graduate of Glasgow University, in arts, science and medicine, owning a large farm in Scotland, he has a sound foundation for his knowledge of food, its bearing on peace and war. A career of public service at home and abroad lead to his being named president last year of United World Federalists, the movement to favor development of UN into a world federation "to preserve peace and prevent aggression through enactment and enforcement of world law." Lord Orr, knowing seeds of war are too often sown where food is scarce, is trying to promote a world food policy.

To most, the farm has always been a symbol of the peaceful, tranquil life. The quiet and serenity of the pastoral scene has brought calm to many troubled by the fast pace of modern, city living. Whether it is a rustic view in a magazine, a painting on a wall, a picture in a movie, a description through words, it speaks of a peaceful way of life. Perhaps this is so because we think of these farms producing enough to keep millions fed. But, hunger of a nation can lead to war over these same quiet, productive acres of the farm scene. It is fitting that a farmer be given an award for peace.

TELL YOUR WIFE

If you want to start a discussion in Burk Burnett homes, bring up the subject of Italian wives. Is the Italian wife better off than the more emancipated American wife? In Italy it seems that young girls are taught, at an early age, to be good housewives, to have contented husbands. The husband has absolute authority over all domestic affairs with the responsibility of the children. All the housework is the wife's lot. Men are free to lead outside social lives but the womenfolk have no outside interests such as clubs and card groups. But, though thus restricted, the Italian wife has complete security in her marriage. These lines seem too harsh and antiquated for the American woman, with her freedom, variety of interests, role as homemaker and partner. What a price to pay for security, says a feminine reader.

IN THE COUNTRY

City motorists are apt to forget that rural school children, walk along the highways, as city children do the sidewalks. The rural youngster hasn't the protection that is offered the children in the towns. It is in the wide open spaces of country highways, that you increase speed and it is in such places where children are often hit by motorists. Children on bicycles along the highways, should be given careful consideration. Country lanes may be a beautiful place for fall driving, but children can come darting across these peaceful, quiet roads. Take it easy, blow your horn, be ready for the unexpected. Be especially cautious when young ones are either going to or coming from school.

Challenge to Ingenuity
 Monthly Farmers' Meeting Nov. 19

ROBERT L. STONE
 V. Brookshear, president of the First National Bank of Burkburnett has announced that Robert J. Stone of Ft. Worth, agricultural representative of the Territorial Development Division of Texas Electric Company, will address the monthly meeting of the club Saturday evening, November 19, 1949. Farm organizations and urban civic groups in numerous communities have heard and commend Mr. Stone's fact-packed talk as information which every farmer or business man should hear. Every farmer, land owner, or individuals otherwise interested in agriculture is urged by Mr. Brookshear to attend the meeting.

Mr. Brookshear points out that particularly, in changing times such as these, when anxiety exists over recurrence of surpluses of agricultural products and consideration is being given as to how to maintain a high economic level for the country's basic industry—agriculture, "Challenge to Ingenuity" should prove itself a stimulating, interesting talk to this area's progressive agricultural people. Mr. Stone's talk points out that opportunity in Texas and Oklahoma for agricultural development; that the Southwest is actually a slumbering giant in the utilization of its vast agricultural lands of widely diverse productive abilities. Mr. Stone goes down the line pointing out specific needs for and opportunities for agricultural and related industrial developments. Existing production problems are highlighted. Opportunities for new crops to supply within our country those hundreds of tons of oils of agricultural source, fibers, drugs, extracts, dyes, medicinals, and other agricultural productions shipped into this country from abroad.

are discussed. Developments in the laboratories of science which are providing many, many new outlets for our surplus products and waste materials such as corn cobs, cotton seed hulls, stalks, etc., are discussed. Mr. Stone uses an interesting group of pictorial charts and a display of various agricultural raw materials and products which will keep you right abreast and visualizing every work of a fast-moving informational talk which will interest most farmers and agriculturally interested persons. Local Lions and Rotarians will recall Mr. Stone's appearance before these clubs earlier this year.

Snooper for Burk Garden Club

THIS POEM WRITTEN BY
MRS. R. P. REAGAN

In appointing a Snooper, I'm sorry to say
Your president was mistaken on that bright spring day.
A Snooper should be one who can travel afar
But this "stick-in-the-mud" can't even drive a car.
But there are some things she's seen, and others she's heard
As a lovely flower, or the song of a bird.

Now in Billie B's yard the mums are in bloom
There are yellow and white and lovely maroon.
And beautiful tall dahlias or extra big size
Just drive by for a view that will gladden your eyes.

And next door is a yard that's a beautiful sight
For Adelaide has flowers from purple to white.
You forget for the moment that winter is near
When you look at those colors you think "Spring's here."

And in Maude's pretty garden there's so much to see
There are yellow and white and a tall pecan tree.
There are cocks' combs in yellow and red, as of old
And a tree of persimmons, like apples of gold.

Now farther away, when we pass Lela's home
We think we'll just stop here, and never more roam.
The place seems so peaceful and lovely and quiet
And that tall pyracantha a most beautiful sight.

But we journey on, down a quiet little street
Where the stately shade trees, over the center meet
When we see Ruth's nandinas with berries so red
We soon realize that Christmas is just ahead.
She has a pyracantha with red berries too
Yes, surely that holiday is long overdue.

Eilene! Now there you have a brilliant little lass
She has planted her lawn in San Augustine grass
Which grows through all the seasons so pretty and green
A lovelier sight I'm sure you have never seen.

Effie Mae has a plant for believe it or not
It's a pale pink wegelia, with red polka dots
Did you ever hear of anything just like that?
You'd think I was describing a dress or a hat.

Now when Ethel moved we know she left behind her
The garden she loved, with scarcely a reminder
But when she builds that new home so modern and fair
We know that she'll plant a lovely garden there.

When Bertha was Snooper, you remember, I guess
She made us believe her place was really a mess
But if you do think that, you just try driving by You'll find a vision of loveliness, as did I.

Little pincushion mums, and phlox lovely and tall
You will see when you pass the home of Edith Hall
If you don't believe it, why, just stop by her place
She will show you around, with courtesy and grace.

Dear Mother Majors, what gardening she has done
Her flowers have been planted in the hearts of everyone
There is scarcely a home, or a place in this city
But what has been touched by her love or her pity
So let's not forget when we meet her any day
To remind her we love her in the good old way.

Bessie has flowers of almost every hue
And she takes great interest in beautiful birds too
The drip from her cooler made a nice little pool
Where oriole, cardinal and mocker kept cool.

Mildred has some red coleus, a rose and a tree
Her garden is a great inspiration to see
And there is one thing you can't afford to pass
That's the beauty and the grace of her tall pampas grass.

Would you like to see an iris that blooms in the fall?
It's a very deep purple, but not very tall
Where it came from or how, Juanita doesn't know
Like Topsy in the story, it seem Just to Grow.

Now we drive out the street toward the big setting sun
Where we find a garden that's a beautiful one
For Laura's green thumb seems a power to weild
Over trees and shrubs and the flowers of the field
That day-lily is a most unusual sight
And that delicate pink canna, lovely and bright.

Lucille, too, seems to possess a strange power
In her garden, she too, spends many a long hour
Beautiful roses she grows, with such tender care
And other flowers too, so lovely and so rare.

Do you know Rhetta has sort of a green thumb too
She has flowers of pink, and of purple and blue
And a tall pecan tree gives a very good shade
With its delicious fruit many good things she's made.

Julia has geraniums so healthy and green
With dark red blossoms, prettier you've never seen
She has a pyracantha with red berries, too
You should see its beauty against a sky of blue.

Now Chloe, as we know has been much too busy
(This whole summer, you remember, she's been in a "tizzy")
The great question has been, will it be a boy or girl
And at last she was happy to greet "Caesar Pearl"
Now, she wants me to say, since her grandson is here
She's going to try gardening again next year.

Now at last we come to the little Lazy R
With a house and a yard that are too big by far
Where there are lots of chickens, with feathers so white
That the wind blows around till the yard is a sight
But even at that, we like the shrubs and the trees
It's a very cool place, where there's always a breeze
So I guess we'll just love it, as long as it's home
We'll stay right there, and never very far roam.

What a wonderful bargain!

Mrs. J. E. Brasac, 118 Grotz Street, Houston, Texas

Tuesday—Ordered a baby gift, to be gift wrapped and delivered. Saved 10 miles.

Wednesday—Mrs. M. can make my new slip covers. Only 2 blocks, but lucky I phoned before she started another job.

Thursday—Felicia, my daughter, asked my advice on new refrigerator. 12 miles to her office.

Friday—Felicia called. Some good buys advertised in morning paper.

Saturday—Evening paper wasn't delivered. Complained to circulation department. 3 miles to their office.

For five days Mrs. J. E. Brasac kept an accurate record of all the telephone calls she made and received—and here's just a sample of the shopping she did and the steps she saved. Altogether, she carried on 44 telephone conversations, figures they cost her less than 2¢ each and covered a total of 183 miles.

"I don't know where you'd get a bigger 2¢ worth," she comments. "My telephone keeps me in touch with my family and friends, helps me run my household, and it's always there to call for help in an emergency. Thanks for a wonderful bargain!"

Thank you, Mrs. Brasac, for your kind words. We are working constantly on technical improvements so you can hear better, get your calls through quicker, enjoy more trouble-free service. Every year we're adding new telephones so that you can call more people, more people can call you. Hayes-Burns Vows Read Monday In Impressive Rites

Clusters of white chrysanthemums and gladiolas, arranged in handsome floor baskets, and lighted tapers in wrought iron standards, were used to provide a seasonal decorative motif for the wedding ceremony read Monday evening in the First Methodist Church of Burkburnett to unite Barbara Burns, Kansas City, Mo., and Dr. H. R. Hayes, Jr., Burkburnett, in marriage. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Ruth Blake of Selma, Oregon, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. R. Hayes of Burkburnett.

The candles were lighted by Mary Carolyn Mayes and Mike Harms before the ceremony.

Rev. T. H. Minga, pastor, officiated in the single ring ceremony. A medley of organ selections was played by Mrs. Geo. Yarbro, during the prenuptial hour.

Mrs. Bill Vincent accompanied Mrs. Joe Bob Tyler as she sang. Because, preceding the ceremony and The Lord's Prayer immediately following the rites.

J. N. Anthony gave the bride in marriage. She was smartly attired in a forest green gabardine suit, cocoa brown accessories and a winter white hat and blouse. She carried a brown orchid corsage atop a White Bible. The bride carried on the traditional something old, something new, something borrowed and something blue.

Attending the bride as matron of honor was Mrs. Howard Clement. She wore a navy blue suit with pink accessories. She used a pink carnation corsage to complement her ensemble.

The groom was attended by Howard Clement, Burkburnett, as best man.

Immediately following the wedding, the couple was honored with a reception held at the home of the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Hayes. They were assisted with hostess duties by the groom's grandmother, Mrs. A. H. Bazell.

Profusions of chrysanthemums adorned the reception suite and a distinctive arrangement of pink gladiolus and small chrysanthemums were used in the centerpiece on the beautifully appointed bride's table. The table was laid with a hand made outwork linen cloth, and the crystal punch bowl adorned one end of the table with the two-tiered wedding cake at the opposite end. Mrs. T. H. Minga attended the cake while Mrs. Harry Mayes and Mrs. Princeton Head officiated at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Clement presided at the bride's book to secure signatures of the wedding and reception guests.

Also assisting in the house party were Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Bunstine and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Mayes.

The bride is a graduate of Kansas City, Mo., High school, and recently has been an employe of Joseph T. Ryerson and Sons, Inc., in Kansas City. Her groom completed high school in Burkburnett and attended Texas Technological College, Lubbock, and recently completed his College training, receiving his DDS degree, from the University of Kansas City. In that school he was a member of the Delta Sigma Delta Fraternity. He is a First Lieutenant serving with the United States Army and now is enroute from Camp Hood, Temple, to Fort Richardson in Anchorage, Alaska.

Dr. and Mrs. Hayes plan to leave soon for a wedding trip to California and Washington and from Seattle they will fly to Alaska where they will establish residence.

Out-of-town guests present for the wedding and reception were: Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Ladd, John White, Bob Boyd and Mr. L. D. Ryan, all of Wichita Falls, and Mrs. Bazell of Eunice, New Mexico.

Gifts were on display during the reception.

Mrs. Beulah Hall has returned home after a month's visit in Newportnews, Va., with her son, Milledge Hall. She also visited relatives in Washington, D. C. before returning to Burkburnett.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Harris of Los Angeles, California, and Mr. and Mrs. Walter Adams of Cordell, Okla., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Harris the past week. Mrs. Adams is a sister of Mr. Harris, and Arthur Harris is his nephew.

Mrs. Carl Ramsey, Rev. and Mrs. Lemar Lewis, Mrs. Clyde Peed and Mrs. J. Pemberton of Thrift attended the Baptist State convention at El Paso, last week.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

All over the world today there are people teaching bitterness and hate.

Here in America we have learned to live together in friendship.

For us here at A&P, it has been a wonderful and thrilling experience to get from those with whom we compete day after day such astounding evidence of friendship and respect.

The things that have happened since the anti-trust lawyers from Washington brought suit to destroy A&P have amazed us.

While we sincerely believed that we had earned the friendship of millions of consumers for whom we have provided better food at lower prices, and the friendship of millions of farm families for whom we have provided a better market for their produce, we were not prepared for the avalanche of offers of support.

But most of all, we have to confess that we had underestimated the fine sportsmanship of many of our competitors all over the country.

Can anyone believe that these competitors would rush to our defense if, as the anti-trust lawyers allege, we had been trying to put them out of business?

We and they have fought hard for business.

There are nearly 350,000 individual grocers competing with us. They have a larger share of the nation's grocery business today than they had ten years ago or twenty years ago.

Many of them do as good a job as we do, and they make it plenty tough for us.

Now, day after day, these same competitors are letting us know that they are in our corner.

All we can say is, thank you from the bottom of our hearts.

Isn't America A Wonderful Country!

Who hollered for Uncle?

Who wants him to break up A&P?

COULD IT BE INDEPENDENT GROCERS? Doesn't seem likely. In ten years America's independent storekeepers almost tripled their business. In 1938 they did just under 5 1/2 billion dollars worth of food business. Last year the independent storekeepers handled over 15 billion dollars worth of food.

WHOLESALE GROCERS? Hardly. For many of them are directly or indirectly engaged in or supporting some form of voluntary or cooperative chain to match chain economies.

THE EMPLOYEES? That would be funny—except that some folks probably believe it. Actually, less than 25 years ago many food chain stores could have paid all expenses—rent, heat, light, wages, etc.—out of the money a store manager alone gets paid now. And the store manager of 25 years ago would have been happy to get what a clerk gets today.

PRODUCERS? Well, take farmers. Certainly part of their prosperity must be attributed to the markets that big chains create for them. The big chains buy the entire pack of many a cannery. Those canneries pack the farmers' crops. What would the farmer do with his highly perishable crop if the food chains were eliminated as big volume buyers?

COMPETING CHAINS, MAYBE? No. Practically every chain in the grocery business had more sales last year than the year before. One chain that we know a lot about increased its food business 21% last year and is up 19% in the first eight months of this year.

THEN IT CERTAINLY MUST BE THE PEOPLE! Like fun. If the people hated food chain stores, would they have spent 9 1/2 billion dollars in them last year? Folks like the low prices and high standards of chains—and the better the chains are run, the better folks like them.

Does This Sound as Though We Need Help? The Thorofare Super Markets came into existence 10 years ago. The food chains Thorofare replaced were doing about three million dollars worth of business a year. Housewives liked our policy well enough to boost their purchases in our 97 stores to about 30 million dollars a year.

We call that a vote of confidence. And we're going to keep right on proving that as long as we stick to good brands and better-than-average selections at rock-bottom prices, we can compete with anybody in the business. And keep right on growing, too!

We don't believe any chain will be punished for being efficient, or for pleasing housewives so well that it is forced to grow.

We, too, believe that it is a storekeeper's duty to bring the public the best food at the lowest possible prices, and hope to see the chain store way of doing business vindicated.

And as long as the producers, the employees, the customers, the wholesale grocers, the independents and the competing chains thrive so well, we will continue to think it's a good way to do business.

We Don't Want the A&P Put Out of Business

The owner of the undersigned store is an independent merchant in this community. We run our own store, set our own prices, maintain our own policy. We consider the Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co. as a chain store. Because they are a chain they give us stiff competition. The competition offered by the A&P keeps us on our toes.

The Department of Justice has brought a suit against the A&P claiming that the A&P is a monopoly.

Whether it is or not we are in no position to judge.

What we do know is that the A&P doesn't do all of the grocery business in this area. We are here and ready to serve our local customers.

WE DON'T WANT TO SEE THE A&P PUT OUT OF BUSINESS.

The A&P is keeping food prices down. We in turn keep our prices down; and that helps us to sell more goods.

KUGLER'S SUPER-FOOD MARKET PHILADELPHIA, PA.

I Welcome A&P Competition BECAUSE

•••• like myself, many hundreds of independent grocers got their start with the TEA COMPANY.

•••• The great A&P is not detrimental to the progress of the grocery business. On the contrary, A&P has always been beneficial to any open-minded businessman who believes in FREE ENTERPRISE. Founded on the principle of FAIR PLAY and FAIR PRICES, A&P developed from a humble start to its present commanding position in the field of retail merchandising.

•••• My experience as a former employe of the TEA COMPANY has served me well. I attribute my success to the ideas and methods tried, tested and proven by the A&P stores—at a great cost.

•••• A&P upholds the rights and privileges of a good worker. I know this from personal experience. A&P is ever on the lookout to promote sincere and ambitious employes to trustworthy and important positions and has never crossed the efforts of any employe to enter into business for himself. A&P helped me to start in business... IS THAT AN ACT OF A COMPANY MONOPOLIZING THE GROCERY BUSINESS? NO!

A&P taught me to serve the public BETTER—MORE ECONOMICAL and MORE EFFICIENT, thanks to the start given me by B. F. VINSON.

•••• During the depression of the thirties, A&P paid higher wages than any other chain. A&P has striven to keep up the standard of living in this country. I shudder to think what would happen to its 110,000 employes if it was forced out of business.

•••• I am not afraid of A&P competition—I welcome it. It's democratic—it's the American Way.

We Agree With A&P

Yes, we want our A&P competitors to stay in business on their present scale because we know what it would mean to the American people without them.

We are only one store and are striving to serve our community with good food at low prices, but the A&P is a nationwide organization serving the American people everywhere with good food at low prices.

Destroying the A&P would mean eliminating competition nationally in the food field which every poor man knows consumes the major portion of his salary.

We congratulate the A&P for a job well done. Keep up the fight.

We welcome any fair competition which helps us bring lower food prices to the consumer.

SCHWEGMANN BROTHERS GIANT SUPER MARKET 2222 St. Claude Avenue New Orleans

A COMPETITOR'S OPINION of The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea

The self-styled "trust busters" of the government recently made head-destroy the A&P.

Frankly, we don't like it.

A&P is charged with having control of SOME of the production and processing ends of the food business. As a result, they can offer foods at low prices.

So What... And if monopoly of the food business is charged, that sure hands us a laff. We... at P.P.M. are growing like wildfire. Seems like we're able to sell better foods at better prices.

Your increasing patronage of our stores is positive proof that A&P has no monopoly on the food business. Let's get down to good old American horse sense. A&P is doing a good job of serving the people of this country. They're no bogey men. We are for them 100% in this controversy.

This suit is another threat against our great American system of free enterprise. Mrs. Daniel Sheriff Heads T-B Drive

Mrs. Daniel T. Sheriff, prominent portraitist, whose paintings bear the name "Virginia Sheriff," has been appointed chairman of the 1949 Christmas Seal Sale committee in Burkburnett, according to an announcement today by Alan T. Bryce, county Seal Sale chairman. The purpose of the campaign, part of the nationwide Christmas Seal Sale to be conducted from Nov. 21 to Dec 25, is to raise funds for the 1950 program of the Wichita County Tuberculosis Association. Mrs. Sheriff is among the 3 community leaders in Wichita County chosen to direct local Seal Sale committees in Wichita County's municipalities. In accepting her appointment,

Mrs. Sheriff said: "We want to make the 1949 Seal Sale in Wichita County the best ever conducted here. Success of the county's Seal Sale will depend, in the final analysis, on its success in each municipality. And on the success of the county Seal Sale will depend the tuberculosis control work of the Wichita County Tuberculosis Association during the coming year. "Although no age group is safe from tuberculosis, the disease kills more young people between the ages of 15 and 34 than any other disease—kills Americans at the rate of one every eleven minutes, almost a thousand every week, close to 50,000 every year. Moreover, it is estimated that there are approximately 500,000 cases of the disease in the United States at this moment.

"One way all of us can participate in the fight against tuberculosis is by buying and using Christmas Seals. For funds from the sale of Seals constitute the sole support of the Wichita County Tuberculosis Association which is waging a relentless battle against the disease for us right in our own community."

The Wichita County Tuberculosis Association, working in cooperation with the Wichita Health Unit, where the Association's X-ray machine is located, provides free chest X-rays for all people who handle food in the county. This includes people who work in dairies, butcher shops, packing houses, grocery stores, wholesale and retail, and to all persons who work in public eating establishments. All food handlers are required to have a chest X-ray once each year.

Free X-rays are also given to every graduate of every high school every year and to all enrollees at Hardin College. This requirement is based on the fact that tuberculosis kills more people between the ages of 15 and 34 than any other disease.

The Association also gives free X-rays to all practical nurses of the county and to all baby sitters, to all school teachers and to all persons employed in public school cafeterias. Free X-rays are also given to all persons of all ages and races who are unable to pay private physicians' fees.

In 1949, the Wichita County Tuberculosis Association contributed $500 toward the purchase of needed chest surgery instruments kept in the Wichita General Hospital.

The Association carries on a year-round program of education.

All this work is made possible solely through the annual sale of Christmas Seals. "The Tuberculosis Association is not connected with any governmental agency and does not receive one penny from any governmental agency," asserted Mrs. Joella Terrill Butler, president of the local association. Members of the board of directors give their time and efforts to the Association in the hope of eradicating tuberculosis.

When the first tuberculosis association was organized in 1904, tuberculosis was the leading cause of death. Since the first nationwide Sale of Christmas Seals in 1908, the tuberculosis death rate has been reduced 85 per cent, thus saving approximately 4,000,000 lives.

Think It Over

We have ask you for a return to the Bible. Do you think it would be better to do so? Could you suggest anything better than a return to the Bible? But what do we mean by a return to the Bible? To us it means to accept the Bible as our only rule of faith and practice, to BELIEVE it, to TEACH it, to LIVE it. Peter is right when he says: "The Bible came not by the will of men," II Peter 1:21. Paul wrote more of the New Testament than any other apostle and he says, "I did not receive it of men, neither was I taught it, but I received it by revelation," Gal. 1:12. Therefore the Bible is right and it cannot be wrong because it is from God. That which is right will be made wrong if it is changed. Let us go back to the Bible and take it for what it says. For surely God knows what to say, and how to say it better than we do. I shall never be the man to say the Lord is not able to say what he means.

You should take the Lord for what He says. But not man's explanations. If you cannot understand, how do you know some other man's explanation is correct? Maybe he does not know any better than you do. Jesus said preach the gospel, but nowhere said explain it. I had rather read and follow the Bible than man's explanations.

When Jesus said, "Upon this rock I will build my church," He means the church he built is his church, because that is what He said. When the Bible says we are saved by faith, it means we are saved by faith for that is what it says. But we do not believe that we are saved by faith only, because the Bible does not say that. Men say that, not God. The Bible says we are justified by works and we believe it, because that is what the Bible says. We do not believe we are justified by works ONLY, because the Bible does not say that. We believe we are saved by "faith that works by love" for that is what the Bible says in Gal. 5:6. The Bible says, "we are NOT saved by faith only." Therefore the "Faith Only" doctrine is absolutely not true. No man can believe the Bible to be true and at the same time believe the "Doctrine of Faith Only." See James 2:14-26.

Nicknames in Football
Do you know your "names" in football? Most everyone remembers some, like the Four Horsemen of Notre Dame — Jim Crowley, Harry Stuhldreher, Elmer Layden, and Don Miller. The famous number 77 was worn by the Gallatin Ghost — Red Grange. The Fordham line of 1936 was called The Seven Blocks of Granite. Do you remember "Automatic Jack" — Jack Manders? How about Little Boy Blue (Albie Booth) and Gloomy Gil (Gilmour Dobie)? I know you'll guess this one: Mr. Inside and Mr. Outside — Doc Blanchard and Glenn Davis of Army. "Bad News" was George Cafego of Tennessee.

Some of the later day greats are to be remembered by such names as Slingin' Sammy Baugh, Pitching Paul Christman, Whizzer White, Waddy Young, and many others.

Coaches, too, are well remembered by their nicknames. There's Glenn "Pop" Warner, "Biff" Jones, Leo "Dutch" Meyer, "Hurly Up" Yost, "Buck" Shaw, "Doc" Stevens, and many others. Names like these add much to the color of the sport and the memory of its great players. How many more greats can you name by nickname?

If you went to Crowell you saw the Bulldogs line a hitting and running outfit. The boys in the back field were running hard and calling the plays right to advance down the field.

Every player is an example of clean sportsmanship and teamwork. Let's get behind the team 100 per cent and see them off to a District championship.

The game here tonight (Thursday, November 10) will be one of the hardest fought games this year. DON'T MISS IT.

From where I sit... by Joe Marsh

Clam Chowder Can Be Dynamite!

If Smiley Roberts is a friend of yours, like he is mine, and if you want to keep his friendship, like I do, don't ever let him hear you say that good clam chowder can be made without cream.

In New England, where Smiley comes from, friendships have been broken over tomatoes versus cream in clam chowder. Experts say that south of Boston the tomato reigns supreme, but north of Boston it's cream—or else!

From where I sit, whether it should have cream or tomatoes is simply a matter of taste. This is plain to anyone who doesn't come from clam chowder country.

What a great world this would be if we could all see that most prejudices are matters of taste only. Some like hot coffee. Some like it iced. Some people like a temperate glass of beer. Others prefer ice-cold lemonade. My grandmother used to say, "Prejudice that sees only what it pleases, cannot see very plain."
