Cemetery Clean-up Makes Progress Jaycees Want Help Again Sunday

Some thirty to forty Jaycees and others gathered at the Burkburnett Cemetery last Sunday afternoon and had a wonderful time slaying high weeds and grass on graves and grave lots. Wonderful progress was made toward cleaning the place up by nightfall, but the job is only half completed. Several brought their power mowers, which speeded the work considerably. Gene Robertson, President of the Jaycees, says they are going to renew their efforts again Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2:30, and they want all the help they can muster. They especially need power mowers, and if you have one you will lend, call Gene Robertson, W. P. Boydston or Cliff Wampler. They will pick it up, take it to the Cemetery and find someone who's hands fit the handlebars. If you possibly can, be on hand to help complete a most worthy undertaking. The Jaycees appreciate all the efforts put forth last Sunday and ask the Star to convey their thanks to all who helped.

$5,000 Bonds Set In Robbery Case

Bonds of $5,000 each were set for Edsel Don Robertson, 25, of 1011 Third, Wichita Falls, Texas, along with Clint Smith, 24, of Walters, Oklahoma, after they waived examining trial before C. B. McConnell, Wichita Falls Justice of the Peace, on a joint charge of robbery by assault and violence.

District Attorney Clyde Fillmore filed the charge Saturday morning in connection with the alleged beating and robbing of W. E. Parrick, 39, of Burkburnett, Friday night at the Texas end of the Red River bridge from Oklahoma. Parrick, reported beaten following an argument over damages in a minor automobile accident, was said to have been robbed of $70.00.

Red Stafford, 40, of Burkburnett, a passenger in Parrick's truck, was reported to have been knocked unconscious in the altercation.

Parrick was taken to Wichita General Hospital late Friday, with severe cuts on the face.

George Willingham, deputy sheriff, investigated, and called Wichita Falls on his two-way radio equipped car. Within 30 minutes the defendants were arrested at a drive-in by Wichita City Patrolmen Olen Andrews and Wayne Hendrickson. Parrick was returned from the hospital Wednesday. It is now believed he will not lose the sight of one eye, although it was severely damaged.

IT ISN'T ALL BLACK

Perhaps the call into uniform hasn't touched your home as yet, but it has many others and one never knows how long it will be before a youngster leaves his family's bed and board to enter the armed services. It is always a heartache to parents, the feeling of danger involved, the process of altering plans for the boy's education, employment. Naturally there are parental misgivings and regrets. But, military training has its brighter side, has many advantages. In some cases, military discipline alone, is a benefit to some lads. If a boy is inefficient in his efforts in civilian life, military service offers him food, clothing, housing, medical care, educational instruction, that may return him to his family a better citizen. He may "find himself". There is the advantage to certain boys to have new companionship, new sights, lead a new kind of life. There is a protection also, that we forget in our emphasis of the dangers. No doubt you can find numerous veterans right around town who can tell you of many instances where the Army made men.

CHEAPER BY THE POUND

Talk about bright ideas and modern marketing methods. An imaginative auto salesman in New Jersey handled these little British automobiles that are gaining in popularity. He put five of them in a large shopping place where they were entirely surrounded by fruit and vegetables. The five little cars were bought up as quickly as five bunches of carrots. You see, this salesman was

PROGRESS

In the space of a few short years, an idea . . . a dream . . . has grown into an industrial colossus that has enriched the lives of millions of Americans. The fabulous growth of television is a product of American technological genius, industrial drive—and in no small part, the result of financing through the banks. You, as depositors here, have thus contributed to the financing of this great new industry—and you earn interest on its progress . . . further proof that savings benefits you and benefits the nation at large.

inspired to offer the cars at SO MUCH A POUND. They figured at 72 cents a pound for an automobile was cheaper than most of the beef, over at the meat counter. You may be able to sell your wife on the idea of a new car if you can persuade her that it will cost less than hamburger, and dirt cheap compared to filet mignon.

WE REPEAT!

An index of wholesale prices based from the year 1926, finds today's dollar worth a bit over 50 cents. The Korean war has caused further inflation, on the average of 3 per cent since June and it increases daily. The accompaniment of inflation is strikes. When prices go up, wages go up or striking results. Prices and wages go hand in hand. You who say it is unpatriotic to strike during stress of war, should say it is unpatriotic to exert pressure for higher prices. Stabilize one you must stabilize the other. One does not need a high school diploma to understand the logic of this, but a lot of our congressmen don't know it.

Valuable Tips When Housing

After your laying house, or laying houses, have been repaired, remodeled, cleaned and disinfected, and generally put in good shape for the coming season, you are ready to begin culling your pullet flock. But before you do this, consider other management duties to be handled at this time. Remember, housing time is an important and strategic period in poultry management.

Of course, the proper time to house birds varies with the section of the country, but as a general rule, it is good practice to house pullets before production hits 10 per cent. By following this procedure, you are less likely to interrupt egg production and throw your birds into a molt.

Cull Carefully

As you begin culling your flock, it may seem difficult to pick out the birds most likely to develop into high producing layers. And there's good reason for this difficulty. At this stage of development, birds do not readily stand out or show particularly outstanding laying characteristics. Therefore, it is recommended that you cull only the obviously underdeveloped birds. You may keep the culls on the range for a while or market them immediately.

And when culling, remember to limit your flock to the number of birds the house will accommodate. Leghorns must have 3 feet of space per bird, and heavy breeds require 4 square feet. Never overcrowd your layers.

Worm Layers

While you are handling the birds, take advantage of the opportunity and worm each selected layer individually. In this way, you give birds an effective worm treatment and eliminate extra work later on. Always put worm-clean pullets in the laying house.

This is also a good time to examine birds for lice, mites, ticks, and other external parasites. If necessary, delouse your birds. When handling the pullets, delousing may be done by application of a good louse powder.

If you have not vaccinated as yet, and it is necessary in your area, housing time affords you a convenient time to vaccinate. Pullets may be protected against fowl pox by vaccination with pigeon pox vaccine. This provides temporary immunity and does not interrupt egg production. Birds may also be inoculated with bacterins, which build resistance to such diseases as cholera and typhoid.

The SNAPSHOT GUILD

A picture such as this is one which may express someone's concept of the American way of life.

Picturing the American Way of Life

MOST of us have at some time or another thrilled to a patriotic tune or the sight of our flag waving in the breeze. But have you ever tried to make pictures which "speak up for freedom" or better express the American way of life?

If you have—or if you've seen any such pictures made by any other photographer, Freedoms Foundation, Inc., of Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, wants to know about it. This year, in one of the greatest nationwide photographic searches ever held, they are going to award $5,000 in cash for the pictures which best fill those specifications.

These awards are part of an overall program in which more than $100,000 in cash, plus honor medals and certificates of merit, will be awarded for projects which "speak up for freedom." Such divergent means of self-expression as sermons, cartoon strips, and advertising campaigns are among the various projects that will win awards.

But don't delay! The time to speak up for freedom and express your feelings about the American way of life is now! Closing date for the 1950 awards is November 1. Write to Freedoms Foundation, Inc., Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, today and ask for an official nomination form so that you may submit your own work—or recommend that of others. Your pictures may in this way help to perpetuate the American way of life.

Since these pictures will be such a personal matter, I won't venture any suggestions as to subject matter. But I would like to point out that, if the picture is to "speak for freedom," it must be one that tells a story—one that can be read at a single glance and one with a forceful impact. Needless to say, it must have photographic quality to make it reproducible for wide distribution if it is to achieve its purpose.

Plywood Made Of Hardwood Gaining Favor

Hardwood plywoods faced with handsomely figured wood veneers are increasingly demanded by home-owners who want an "exclusive touch" for the interiors of their dwellings, says American Builder magazine.

With wood veneers being used on hardwood plywood for wall panels, flush doors and built-in furniture as well as for factory-built furniture and radio and television cabinets, the numerous species of hardwood plywood are gaining favor with builders and the public alike, the magazine says.

"The basic justification for the manufacture of plywood is to improve on wood," American Builder explains. "Plywood improves on wood by making possible larger panels that are stronger, more rigid, split-proof, puncture-proof, light and dimensionally stable. Plywood is modern because it is a structural and a decorative material in one."

"Newer uses are being discovered for hardwood plywood, and with greater realization of these uses, plus the undoubted beauty of the wood veneer surfaces, builders find potential home-owners increasingly aware of hardwood plywood's possibilities."

Explaining the beauty of the different hardwood veneers used in plywood manufacture, American Builder says they "have different colors, vary in texture, and have a wide range of grain figures."

Spread over a period of four to six weeks, the exercises stressed battle efficiency during air, sea and amphibious attacks. The U. S. Sixth Fleet operates under the command of Vice Admiral John J. Ballentine and is a division of the U. S. Naval Forces, Eastern Atlantic and Mediterranean.

Same Raw Material Used in Making Roofs and Roads

The roofs on most Americans' houses are basically the same as many of the roads on which they drive their cars.

A main raw material of both roofing and paving is asphalt, a petroleum derivative. Produced scientifically in oil refineries, asphalt is the part that remains after gasoline, oils and other lighter products have been separated from the crude petroleum.

In manufacturing asphalt shingles, felt is saturated with asphalt. The felt is coated with a harder asphalt, and then mineral granules are embedded in the surface. The finished product is fire-resistant and is available in a variety of colors.

Taylor-Stubblefield Recite Vows During Impressive Ceremony

Miss Betty Rhae Stubblefield and Lonnie Taylor, both of this city, were united in marriage during an impressive service which was read Saturday evening at 8 o'clock in the Sam Lax home on Avenue D.

Rev. T. Lynn Stewart, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiated during the double ring service which was conducted before a audience of friends and relatives of the couple.

For the ceremony the couple stood before the fireplace which made an attractive background with its arrangements of pale pink gladiolus and carnations. Pink candles in branched candleabra were placed on either side of the fireplace providing light for the service.

Mrs. A. C. Todd, vocalist, sang "Always" as a prenuptial selection. She was accompanied by Miss Blanche Butler, pianist, who also provided a medley of piano numbers intermingling throughout the ceremony, as well as the traditional wedding marches by Lohengrin and Mendelssohn.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a sable-mist gabardine suit with which she wore navy accessories. She completed her costume with an orchid corsage.

Mrs. A. C. Todd of Electra, was matron of honor for her sister. She was attired in suit dress of pastel blue and chose accessories of sable mist. Her corsage was of pink carnations.

Finis Taylor, brother of the groom, served as best man.

Mrs. Taylor graduated from the Burkburnett High School with the class of 1947 and has been employed at the Palace Theatre. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Stubblefield.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Taylor and is associated with the Garland Furniture Company in this city.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the Lax home. The lace covered refreshment table featured the lovely three-tiered wedding cake, topped with wedding bells. The cake was served by Mrs. Howard Clement, with Miss Hazel Beckham presiding at the crystal punch service.

Mrs. D. L. Patton of Burkburnett secured names for the bride's book.

Out of town guests for the wedding and reception included: Mr. and Mrs. Joe Rushing of Ft. Worth, Mrs. Lorene Winclowski of Wichita Falls, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Todd of Electra, and Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Taylor of Randall, Oklahoma.

The couple will establish residence in Burkburnett when they return from a honeymoon trip to Denver, Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Gilbow attended the wedding of Mr. Gilbow's cousin, William E. Gilbow and Miss Anita Turner in Wichita Falls Saturday evening.

Orders Are Orders For Reservists

Orders are still orders in the Navy. When you get 'em, you've got to go, even though some hard-hit naval reservists may get temporary delays in reporting for active duty.

Naval District headquarters at New Orleans, which controls naval reserve affairs in Arkansas, Louisiana, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas.

Ten days, including travel, are usually allowed for recalled reservists to report, Rear Admiral W. K. Phillips, USN, district commandant, said. In exceptional cases longer periods are being granted, but each case is carefully considered by a board of senior officers and no delays are granted for more than six months.

Requests for deferment must be submitted in writing within 48 hours after orders are received, he warned. Department of Defense policy, announced in Washington several weeks ago, is closely followed to determine eligibility for deferment.

The policy covers extreme hardship cases, key personnel in essential industry, scientific graduate students and research technicians and students who may be, depending on the merits of each case, deferred until the end of a school term. "Don't rest easy because you have requested a deferment," Rear Admiral Phillips counseled. Reservists whose requests are denied or who fail to receive replies in time must comply with orders, he said.

Procedure has been set up, he added, to release eligibles to inactive duty if they appeal their cases after reporting for duty. Written requests for deferment of recall should be sent via the same chain of command through which they were issued, it was announced.

Lumber Output Stepped Up; Other Materials Adequate

Despite continued shortages of construction lumber, fears of sharply rising home prices are being alleviated as production of other essential building materials continues in step with demand.

Another cheering fact for prospective home-owners is that even lumber supplies are beginning to show signs of becoming adequate for the mammoth need.

Until late in May, lumber production had been lagging behind orders by nearly 20 percent for most of this year. But in the last full week of May, output exceeded orders by 10 1/2 percent, as reported by the National Lumber Manufacturers Association.

Shortages have been caused largely by poor weather in the Northwest, biggest lumber producing section of the United States, where severe snowstorms slowed operations in January and February.

Typical of the production pace of other building materials is the capacity rate at which asphalt roofing plants are being operated. Asphalt roofing manufacturers, the volume producers in the roofing business, are turning out enough of their colorful fire-resistant product to meet more than 80 percent of the nation's requirements.

Normally, about two-thirds of all asphalt roofing is used for reroofing. Now it is estimated that more than half is going for new construction.

Plan Carefully For Cabinets And Counters

Cabinets and counters occupy more space in a kitchen than does any other kind of equipment, says American Builder magazine. For this reason, the magazine adds, arrangement and size of cabinets and counters should be carefully planned.

"For greatest efficiency, storage space in the kitchen should be planned according to the size of the family," American Builder says. "And, if possible, the arrangement should be determined before planning the placement of windows. Otherwise, windows can limit the effectiveness of cabinet arrangements."

For a family of four persons, the building industry publication recommends a minimum of 5 feet, 3 inches of wall cabinets and 8 feet, 6 inches of base cabinets, in addition to space for storing dinnerware.

"When the amount of storage space to be used is determined, it is important that this space be available where it is most needed," American Builder adds. "If appliances are properly arranged according to recommended planning principles and if manufacturers' cabinets are used, there is little chance of error in establishing correct availability of storage space."

"Manufacturers of wood and metal cabinets, largely responsible for the rapid progress in development and standardization of kitchen units, today offer integrated units styled to harmonize with appliances. Cabinets are available to fit any kitchen requirements and are usually designed to complement work areas. Base cabinets under counters where mixing is done, for example, usually have provisions for the storage of staple items used in mixing foods, while dinnerware storage is usually arranged in wall cabinets directly above the serving area.

"Shelves should not be higher than 72 inches from the floor, and wall cabinets should not be higher than 15 inches above the work surface of counters."

American Builder says that minimum amounts of counter space as recommended by a recent Small Homes Council study are 15 inches beside the refrigerator, 36 inches at right of sink bowl, 30 inches at left of sink bowl, 24 inches beside, or near, the range, and 36 inches for food preparation.

Removal of Old Roof Usually Not Necessary

Asphalt shingles are widely used for new roofs on old barns and other service buildings. A basic advantage of this type of material is that it can be applied on top of most old roof surfaces. Removal of the worn roofing, which would be an added expense, is not necessary.

Farm-owners are advised that proper application of asphalt shingles is necessary if the material is to give the full service of which it is capable. Nailing is important. Six nails are recommended for each three-tab, square butt strip shingle. In areas where high winds are prevalent, strip shingle tabs can be fastened down with quick-setting asphalt cement.

New Furniture Good in Design

An increase in the amount of popular-priced modern furniture of good design has been noted at recent furniture shows, where dealers were given previews of furniture pieces to come on the market in the immediate future.

Ranch-style furniture, intended especially for the many single-story houses being built today as well as for apartment living, is expected to be one of the most popular types. It is an adaptation of American Provincial design.

Beautiful wood veneers, frequently of cherry, oak, birch or maple, give warmth and distinctive appearance to much ranch-style design. Veneers of many different imported and domestic woods are used not only for attractiveness but because hardwood plywood, of which the veneers are a part, resists splitting and warping more than solid wood does.

The large windows found in modern houses also are having a distinct influence on furniture design. Big windows leave less wall space for furniture. At the furniture show in Chicago, small end tables intended to help solve this difficulty were shown.

Make Roofs Safe From Flying Sparks

For all buildings in areas where there is any possibility of flying sparks, either from outdoor fires or from chimneys, fire-resistant roofing is recommended as a safety precaution.

The material most frequently used for this purpose is asphalt roofing. Approved by Underwriters' Laboratories, asphalt shingles will not be kindled into flame by chimney sparks or airborne fire brands.

Our Daddy Could See You Now . . .

In the title of today's column only be spoken by and it is to the mothers who say that. That I am . . .

When the family isn't on vacation or there isn't a particular occasion which leads Dad to take it out. That isn't the right way to do it, if you want to accumulate a worthwhile picture record of your youngsters. Dozens of interesting things, well worth picturing, happen every day. If all of the things worth remembering were reserved for special occasions, life wouldn't be much fun. So don't wait until Junior's cowlick is slicked into unfamiliar submission and Cynthia dressed in a rare state of unwrinkled perfection. Pictures are more fun and more appealing if your subject is—as is.

Many mothers are getting excellent story-telling pictures of their children—indoors and outdoors. The formula? Keep your camera loaded with film and ready for action, and your eye alert when that "if-Your-Daddy-Could-See-You-Now" moment presents itself. It may never happen again.

Alumni Banquet

The Devol Alumni met at the High School Saturday night, with Hugh Morris Frye, president, in charge. Babe Frye was Mistress of Ceremonies. Mrs. Floyd Uthe offered the invocation and Mrs. Marie Hudson Moran gave the welcome with Mrs. Odessa Uthe Bolf, the response.

Using the Western theme, the stage was attractively decorated with an old corral built around the piano, adorned with lanterns, saddles, ropes, guns and wagon wheels. The tables held arrangements of fall flowers, Western napkins and Cowboy favors.

During the serving of the meal by members of the Eastern Star, guests were entertained by the Girls Glee Club.

After each class was introduced, several talks were made and a general sing-song was enjoyed. Mr. and Mrs. Otis Weaver of Washington, D. C., traveled the farthest to attend the banquet. The largest family of graduates in attendance were six sons of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Frye and three daughters-in-law. One mother and daughter, Mrs. Floyd Uthe and Odessa, were among the group.

During the business session, Mrs. Angie Mae Randall was elected president for 1951; Dan Parton, vice-president, and Mrs. Grace Uthe, secretary and treasurer.

Due to the delicious meal served, the Eastern Star was asked to serve again next year. The waitresses and Glee Club were all dressed in Western regalia. The group dismissed by all singing, "Goodnight Irene."

AMERICANISM and CHRISTIANITY or COMMUNISM and ATHEISM... which do you want? The inescapable challenge facing the Christian world today is COMMUNISM. COMMUNISM is OFFICIALLY ATHEIST. To destroy the American principle of FREEDOM of WORSHIP is the declared intention of this ANTI-AMERICANISM.

ABOUT twenty years ago the Comintern declared: "The ultimate aim of the Communist International is to replace world capitalist economy by a world system of Communism... It will bury forever all mysticism, religion, and superstition." That anti-God declaration has never been challenged. In fact, it has strengthened its atheist principles to a point that has rarely been seen before in history. The Truth is, Communism cannot live with Christianity, because it is a religion unto itself, as much so as it is a system of politics and economics.

COMMUNISTS declare theirs is simply the "scientific" application of the teachings of history. They also say theirs is not only a "scientific" system but is the ONLY SYSTEM. Communists say Christianity is superstition. They refer to Christianity as something especially designed to capture the masses for exploitation by capitalist masters. Communists say "DOWN WITH THE CROSS WHICH IS THE SYMBOL OF FAITH FOR THE CHRISTIAN WORLD."... Therefore, Communism and Christianity become the two great rival Faiths of the Twentieth Century.

CHRISTIANITY believes one thing about the nature of man and his destiny, the nature of morality, the basis of ethics, and the nature of the Universe; COMMUNISM believes the exact opposite. CHRISTIANITY believes in the INDIVIDUAL and in the RIGHTS OF MAN. COMMUNISM believes the individual is the wholly owned SLAVE OF THE STATE.

THIS atheistic, materialistic, conspiracy threatens to engulf the whole world. Unless it is stopped our liberties, political, civil and religious rights, will go the way of the unfortunate nations which have already been crushed to earth behind the iron curtain of Moscow. If you believe in God and the Bible of the Lord God Almighty, won't you help hold high the CROSS. It is being threatened by Communist enemies. For the sake of all that is dear to you... attend your church and support her good work.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you"—form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

SNAPSHOT GUILD

This scenic is not only an example of the basic points of composition—it won a snapshot contest prize.

Here Composition Really Counts

Composition is important in the taking of a picture, but more important than the scenic snapshots it is to break such a picture. I had occasion to take a picture of a landscape on the very next day I took the above picture which I practice almost every day I had to say in my mind that, if there is a good object, such as a tree, avoid centering it with the camera until the tree is in the way from the balance it with distant objects. I had a camera with a lens of 35 mm. I was aware of having the picture in two, suggesting this line should be used of the way from the foreground to the background. If the clouds are the point of emphasis, it should be a third of the way from the bottom.

When the subject of "framing" the scene to add to its beauty came up, I named, as one possibility, the arch formed by a tree trunk and branches. Mentioning roads and streams, I pointed out that, if possible, they should come in near a corner and lead the eye into the picture.

As far as using people in scenic is concerned, I had written that it all depended on the picture—that in some cases it is essential to establish scale or to add human warmth. I was emphatic about having the people look at the scene, and not at the camera.

In other words, the picture above can serve you well as a guide to scenic composition.

partment which investigates such matters—and may insist on legal action when it finds that a violation has occurred.

The penalties for such violations can amount to a fine of $10,000, and for a second conviction for a similar offense a fine of $10,000 and as much as six months imprisonment, or both.

"The intended curb on the employment of our youth at an age before they are ready to participate in our working force was made effective by directly prohibiting the employment of oppressive child labor—generally boys and girls under 16 years of age—in interstate commerce or in the production of goods for interstate commerce."

In agriculture, it now is unlawful to employ children less than 16 years of age during school hours.

"That means," Mr. Nunn said, "that if the school for the district where such children currently live is in session, the children should be in school, and not in the fields."

There are only four exemptions from the child-labor provision of the Federal law, he said. These four exemptions permit: (1) Employment of children in agriculture outside of school hours for the school district where they live while so employed; (2) Employment of children engaged in the delivery of newspapers to the consumer; (3) Employment of children as actors or performers in motion pictures or in theatrical, radio, or television productions; (4) Employment by a parent, or a person standing in place of a parent, of his own child or a child in his custody under 16 years of age in any occupation other than manufacturing, mining, or one found by the Secretary to be particularly hazardous or detrimental to the health or well-being of children between 16 and 18.

The farmer is made responsible for knowing the correct age of the young workers he employs.

Mr. Nunn pointed out that the Federal law does not forbid children working in agriculture on their parent's own farm. But he emphasized that most states have school attendance laws and that the law which sets the higher standard, whether state or Federal, is the one which governs in any particular case.

"When school is in session, all children belong in school—and we are going to do our best to see that they are not illegally employed and so kept out of school," he declared.
