When a man says his salary goes to five figures, he probably means the wife and four kids.

One's estimation of a living wage depends on whether he is getting or giving.

Burk Laundry Adds New Presses Now Offers Complete Finishing

With the addition of two new steam presses, the Burk Burnett Laundry is now in position to offer a complete laundry finishing service second to none in Wichita County. The two new units are a sleeve presser and a collar and cuff presser. This completes the cycle for doing a 100 per cent job on shirts. Companion presses to the two new ones are a yoke press, back press and a general utility press for all wearing apparel.

A demonstration to a Star representative showed a shirt being finished beautifully in less time than it takes to tell about it. First the sleeves are pressed; then the shirt moves to the next press where both cuffs and the collar are pressed in one operation. The shirt then moves to the yoke press, then to the next press where the front and back are pressed. The final operation is on the general utility press where the sleeves are creased to complete the job.

Finished clothes were hanging everywhere—white shirts, khaki shirts and trousers, uniforms, curtains and dozens of other finished pieces.

Moving from the press assembly you come to a large mangle press for finishing sheets, pillow cases, and all kinds of flat work.

Other equipment to be found at the Burk Burnett Laundry:

Three Bendix Gas Dryers.

Ten Bendix Automatic Washers.

Twelve Maytag Washers.

Two boilers, one for furnishing plenty of soft hot water for the washing machines, and one to feed steam to the six presses.

In talking with H. D. Smith, owner-manager of the laundry, he said: "You have to be progressive and keep up with the times if you want to do a good job and stay in the business. That's why I bought these new presses. Next year I plan to buy a large 50-pound automatic washing machine." The slogan of the Burk Burnett Laundry—"You Wash 'em or We Wash 'em—Complete Finishing Service."

Lions Club

Meets Each Tuesday Night at 7:00 O'clock at Town Hall

Wyllis Browning and A. R. Buntstine had charge of the program. Browning introduced the Honorable Frank Ikard, Congressman of the 13th District, who talked about the issues which will confront Congress when it convenes shortly after the first of the year. He listed the following, which will probably come up first:

Agricultural Program will be up for early discussion. Contrary to popular belief, the Congressman said Federal expenditures for agriculture have been reduced some 40 per cent since 1940. He said he believed any program to be successful must take proper consideration of soil and water conservation. Fifteen per cent of our population feeds the other 85 per cent. In many other countries the percentage is reversed. We are able to produce more on fewer acres by the use of machinery and sound conservation practices.

Free Trade—"The only way I see we can dispose of our surplus products is by free trade."

Defense Set-up—"I favor an adequate defense establishment at all times." Ikard explained that total unpreparedness prior to World War I and II and the Korean action had cost us billions of dollars by having to devote all our energies to produce the necessary supplies in the shortest possible time. He believes adequate defense measures will cost much less in the long run.

Foreign Affairs—"We can no longer subsidize every other nation of the free world. We cannot purchase friendship." Ikard believes we can aid other nations in many ways other than financial, and accomplish more for their security and ours.

Taxation—"I doubt a sales tax can pass Congress now." Certain provisions of the income tax law expires next year. If allowed to expire, which Ikard believes Congress will do, a 10 per cent reduction in income taxes will be realized. "By substantial reduction and savings in armed forces expenditures and foreign aid, we can operate on anticipated revenue," the Congressman asserted.

J. R. Brock was a guest of Pat Patterson. Brock is in the legal department for the Navy, at present in the international law division.

Next week Buddy Byars and J. L. Caffee will bring the program. Lemon custard cups were compliments of Winford Henry's Pastry Shop.

ATTENTION MOTORISTS

Did you ever stop and think "why do we have law enforcement officers?" The answer is a simple one. We need police officers to protect us — from other people and, if we are honest about it, even from ourselves.

Take the case of the traffic officer for instance, when he arrests an intoxicated driver, he does it so that the other motorists on the street or highway will not be endangered by someone who cannot drive safely. That is the sole purpose behind the work of the traffic officer. Every arrest he makes or warning he gives is to protect the safety of the public. If you have gotten a traffic ticket for some moving traffic violation, the officer actually did you a favor. Maybe you didn't look at it that way, but you should have! It cost you money, true, but at the same time it reminded you that you had done something that was dangerous to you and to the other motorists.

Every traffic law in the state of Texas was made in an effort to protect the people. Did you ever think about it in that light? If you break a traffic law, you have done an unsafe act; if the act was not unsafe, there would be a law prohibiting it. If a motorist runs a red light and is not seen by a policeman, he hasn't hurt the policeman, he has simply risked his own safety. If he is caught and fined and as result becomes a better driver, then the policeman actually did that driver a good deed. That one small fine may keep that man from killing or injuring himself and others in an accident later on.

Why not start looking upon the traffic policeman and highway patrolman as a friend? If a man saved your life, you'd count him as a friend, wouldn't you? If a patrolman arrests a drunk driver or a driver of a car without headlights five miles down the road from you, then he has protected you from having to risk your life when you would have met them farther down the road. He has done the same thing when he stops you and tells you that the tail light on your car is not working. He may have prevented your death or injury when a car ran you down from behind, unable to see your car because your tail light was not working. Simple? Yes, but important!

The law enforcement officer is your servant. He works long, hard, thankless hours everyday for moderate or inadequate pay.

Take the advice of your Texas Safety Association and let your police department know that you appreciate their efforts and can count on you for your support and cooperation. Pay them a visit, ask questions and learn more about the men who work each day to protect the health and safety of you and your loved ones.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MOUNTAIN VIEW, Ark., Leader: "The right and freedom to join a labor union is no longer denied anywhere in this country. It is protected by federal law. But then corresponding right and freedom to stay out of a union is not so protected and is now becoming rapidly extinguished in this, our 'land of liberty.'"

OSKALLOSA, Iowa, Daily Herald: "The railroads have long since incorporated the study and practice of safety into their operations as a vital department, with such good effect that over the past 30 years they have reduced passenger fatalities by 85 percent and employees fatalities by 80 percent."

FORT PAYNE, Ala., Times New Era: "We note that every time the administration recommends that an appropriation for some government agency be reduced somebody breaks out cry. 'They're trying to destroy this agency. It appears that it never occurs to a bureaucrat or bureau backer that such a bureau should be called upon to economize and get along on less money.'"

ONTARIO-UPLAND, Calif., Daily Report: "Preservation of the U. S. Free enterprise system depends upon our intelligent acceptance of a few bumps along with the tremendous rewards."

Jones-Parrack Wed In Church Rites

When Miss Barbara Sue Jones became the bride of Marlin Dale Parrack, she was wearing a gown designed by her mother, Mrs. Coy E. Jones and Mrs. Monroe Prinzing, both of Burkburnett.

Fashioned of slippery satin, nylon tulle and Chantilly lace, the gown featured a fitted bodice with a scalloped neckline and long tapered sleeves. The bouffant skirt was designed with alternating gores of ruffled nylon tulle Chantilly lace over satin; the back gore, of ruffled tulle, extended into a full train. Her fingertip veil was attached to a crown of seed pearls. She carried a white orchid atop a white Bible. Mr. Jones gave his daughter in marriage.

The couple exchanged vows of marriage during a Sunday afternoon ceremony performed in the Burkburnett First Methodist church by the pastor, Rev. T. M. Jensen.

The nuptial setting was enhanced by an archway entwined with white gladiolus, chrysanthemums and greenery. Baskets of the same white flowers were placed on each side of the archway. Soft illumination for the ceremony was provided by burning tapers.

A program of traditional wedding music was presented by Mrs. Joe Chandler of Wichita Falls, vocalist, and Miss Maxine Creel, accompanist.

For her role as maid of honor Miss Cherry Lynn Kolter of the Friberg community, wore a costume of antique purple taffeta, fashioned with a strapless bodice over which she wore a tiny shrug jacket, and an iridescent waltzlength skirt, which featured a large orchid sash. She carried a bouquet of orchid chrysanthemums.

A similar costume on antique orchid taffeta trimmed with iridescent purple was worn by Miss Phyllis June Holder of Wichita Falls, who served as bridesmaid. She carried a bouquet of chrysanthemums. Ruffled net dresses in the same orchid shades were worn by the two flower girls, Donna Rose Green and Kathaline Mitcher, both of Burkburnett.

Jimmie M. Hunt was best man and Trent Turpin was groomsman. Charles R. Caffee and Mike Harms served as ushers. The four masculine attendants are residents of Burkburnett.

graduates of Burkburnett High School. She attended Drughons Business College in Wichita Falls where she now is employed by Joe K. Bailey and Don C. Wiley, oil operators.

Millar-Wheeler Wed Recently

Miss Maxine Millar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul H. Millar, became the bride of Mr. Ed Wheeler of Paoli, Indiana, in a marriage ceremony performed on Saturday, Sept. 5th at 7:45 p. m. in the home of the brides parents.

The couple stood before a beautiful floral arrangement of salmon pink gladiolas and fern foliage with small white wedding bells. Rev. Roy McCoy, pastor of the Nazarene church, read the wedding vows in the single ring ceremony.

The bride was a beautiful picture in a suit of navy blue wool trimmed in white and wearing a small white hat, trimmed in seed pearls, and grey lizard shoes. She carried a white Bible covered with white satin and topped with red sweetheart roses with white satin streamers.

Miss Mary McCoy was the brides only attendant. She wore a beige suit of file with black accessories. Her corsage was a large bronze mum.

MAN

by R. D. L.

I have heard it said that man is at once the most sublime and most ridiculous, most profound and most superficial, most heroic and most cowardly, most self-sacrificing and most selfish, most kind and most cruel, most faithful and most inconstant, most sympathetic and most inconsiderate of all creatures of earth.

And that he is an aggregation of contraries, and in his nature a combination of opposites, of conflicting and antagonizing thoughts and impulses, sentiments and emotions, and that one day he disgraces himself by some contemptible action the next by some self-sacrificing deed he makes his name immortal.

And that sometimes he is affected in his condition of mind by his environment, or the circumstances of his present condition. At other times he rises majestically above them as the lark rises singing above the mist and fog of the valley to the beauty and glory of the sunlight hills.

That unlike the material creation, which is subject to and always in obedience to the laws of nature, which law oppose but do not antagonize each other, man can exercise his own opinion as to whether or not he shall be obedient to those laws, and this is why he is so often in trouble. But it is my belief that this is what makes him a man, this liberty of choice, otherwise he would necessarily be as are material things, without intelligence, a mechanical automaton.

But looking upon him at his best, man is to be admired, respected, wondered at. With this view can be seen in him the image of his Creator as to mind and power, wisdom and reason. This is because of the impartation by his Infinite Father of spiritual and mental faculties not possessed by any other terrestrial being. It is then that we see him as did Shakespeare when he made Hamlet say: "What a piece of work is man! How noble in reason! How infinite in faculty. But viewing from the other side, one is disposed to remark somewhat as Hamlet did when he said, "Man delights me not; no, nor women neither."

That is just it. Sometimes man delights us with his achievements for good, his wonderful attainments as to the acquisition of knowledge, his heroic sacrifice and logical reasoning.

Proving that man has never fully realized his own possibilities is the fact that he has accomplished what he himself pronounced impossible only a few years ago, the same from then on back a few years farther, and so on to the beginning. Notwithstanding all this, however, he has always had a rather exaggerated estimate of himself. It might be that his self estimate has been exaggerated only as to his significance in the infinite scheme of things. At any rate he has been surprised at what he has been able to do.

The modern man is disposed to laugh at the pitiful ignorance of his forbears as to many scientific things. Their theory as to the solar system and astronomy generally, their ignorance of Geography, their slight process in chemistry, and their consequent failure to avail themselves of the service and satisfaction present knowledge of these things afford, he smiles at.

The modern man also is disposed to speak somewhat contemptuously of various and numerous superstitions of his progenitors. In this respect, however, one is inclined to believe he has less cause for boasting than in some others. So long as he allows himself to be subject to fear of certain time-honored "signs" of forthcoming "bad luck" he has best use the soft pedal as to superstitions.

But this wonderful creature man up to date, modern, scientific, learned man, does some, if not all of these silly things. He may be ashamed of them, but he does not want to see him do them, does the same things, and he's ashamed of it. But they both do them.

"Man is like unto vanity; his days are as a shadow that passeth away."

So, varied, so different, so antithetical are the different elements of his make up that one not only concedes at once that he has a dual nature, but feels constrained to think that he has a multifold nature.

Seniors Receive Rings

The members of the Senior class of Burkburnett High School received their senior rings Monday afternoon, Sept. 14. The rings feature a new line which is making its appearance this fall.

One of the new features is an extremely wide band. This is to help prevent against the wearing off the band caused by many years of wearing. Another added feature is that the crown of the ring is white gold while the rest of it is yellow gold. The name of the school is set down in the crown with the person's initials raised on each side. The date is featured on either side of the initials.

G. A.'s Hold Regular Meeting Sept. 21st.

The GA's met in their regular meeting Sept. 21. The president Janelle Sanders, called the meeting to order by our GA song "We've a story to tell to the Nations." The secretary, Dee Ann Welborn, called the roll and read the minutes. We had 11 members present. The minutes were read and approved. Marian Parrack had charge of our program. It was about the Mary Hill Davis offering for state and western missions. Mrs. Price led us in prayer. Then we had refreshments and were dismissed with a prayer.

Mrs. Mamie Long reports that she is feeling much stronger and better at the present time. She wishes to thank everyone for their many kindnesses during this past summer.

WTraffic Safety Signs Citizenship

"Being careful in traffic is good citizenship," Col. E. B. Churley, president of the Texas Safety Association, and Service Advisor for the Gulf Oil Corporation told the boys and girls of Texas today.

Col. Tillely was speaking in connection with the September child traffic safety program being sponsored by the Texas Safety Association in cooperation with the National Safety Council.

"A driver who has to dodge a careless child may hit another car or a building, and cause a bad accident," he said.

And sometimes a motorist can't avoid hitting a child who runs into the street without looking, he pointed out.

"Boys and girls are being good citizens when they do their best to prevent such accidents by observing all traffic safety rules themselves, and by helping their friends to remember to do the same," he explained.

He reminded children that, to be safe in traffic, they always should follow five basic rules, which are:

1. Obey all traffic officers, school patrols, traffic signs and

2. Use roller skates, tricycles, wagons and scooters on the sidewalks only.
3. Practice the rules they learn about crossing the street and playing in unsafe places.
4. Always take the safest route between school and home.
5. Walk on the left side of the road, facing traffic, if there are no sidewalks.

While there, Mr. Smith and Mr. West did a little fishing. Mr. Smith caught a fish with a tag on it and it may mean something for him when he learns what the prize is for catching the fish.

Visitors in the Melvin Bailey home over the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. James Hudson, Jr. and children Sherry and Angela of Lubbock, Mrs. Dale Woodard and boys Gary and Evan of Wichita Falls, Mr. Gary Woodard of Burkburnett and Mrs. James Hudson, Sr. of Benjamen.

Each Tuesday Noon At Town Hall

F. A. Jamieson, program committee chairman, introduced Congressman Frank Ikard as the guest speaker. Ikard related some of the most significant actions of the recent Congress. "I believe one of the most significant actions of the recent Congress was the refusal to raise the debt limit to 290 billions of dollars," said Ikard. He also stated there are some 15000 full time employees working to prepare the national budget. Sixty-seven people—and only 50 of them full time employees have the responsibility of checking the proposed budget for Congress—and they have only 30 to 40 days to do the checking! In speaking of the huge national debt, Ikard said "Total unpreparedness at the time of World War I and II is one of the big reasons for billions of expenditures." Ikard said he believes adequate defense preparedness at all times would cost much less in the long run.

In speaking of foreign aid, the Congressman stated, "The time has come when we can no longer extend unlimited economic aid to the entire free world." He was critical of our foreign aid policy and said, "We cannot buy friendship." He cited Italy and France, where we have poured billions of dollars in aid.

Mighty Midget Starts Revolution

THIS IS A "TRANSISTOR" . . . the most important single invention ever developed by telephone scientists. Now used mostly for military purposes, it promises to revolutionize the design of many everyday electronic devices, from hearing aids to television sets. In telephone equipment it is expected to replace vacuum tubes — doing the same job, but taking up far less space and using far less power. Not all the new ideas developed by telephone research are as exciting as this. But every year an average of 260 inventions and improvements are made to help us keep our telephone service high in value—low in cost. SOUTHWESTERN BELL . . . Is he in business "to stay?"

When you buy a used car from a Ford Dealer, you're dealing with an established business man who has a large investment and his good name at stake. We're here today, and we'll be here tomorrow!

Does he really know cars?

Ford Dealers are in the service business, too; work with cars day in and day out. We know how to spot trouble fast. And our expert mechanics have the equipment and "know-how" to handle any service job.

Are his prices really fair?

Ford Dealers handle used cars and trucks as a service to customers who trade them for new ones. We get a lot of trade-ins. And we keep them moving to free our working capital. That's a good reason why we offer our used cars and trucks at rock-bottom prices.

Is he interested in you?

Remember—we Ford Dealers want to keep your good will because we want to take care of all your automotive needs. Someday we hope to sell you a new car, or another used car, and in the meantime, we want your service business.

Do his cars meet A-1 standards?

When you go to a Ford Dealer's and see the A-1 label on a car, you know it has met with the dealer's A-1 standards. And because you can trust the man you bought it from, you can trust the car.

IT'S WHERE YOU BUY IT THAT COUNTS!

-YOUR FARM BUREAU-
BY MARYE ECKELKAMP

Dear Mr. Farmer:

In this year of 1953, you are being challenged to create a farm program that you feel will enable you to continue your farm business on a stable and productive level. Farming is big business. You have an average individual investment of $17,000 compared with the rest of business investments average of $7,000. The soundness of this investment depends almost entirely upon the action that you take in 1953 and 1954.

The Farm Bureau promised the farmers in Wichita County that they would make every effort to give each of you an opportunity to discuss in an open forum the issues before us. At Town Hall, Monday night, Sept. 21, 8:00 p. m. you are invited to attend the second in the series of Farm Hearings being conducted by this organization. The first meeting was held at Pumpkin Center with favorable results.

If you don't like what Farm Bureau has been doing, come to this meeting and tell us why. Between now and Monday night, take a little time off to think about what you consider to be the best solution for stabilizing the net farm spendable income. Is more inflation, some deflation, or a stable general price level best for agriculture? How can supplies best be kept in line with demand? Do we want more or less government action, ownership, or control in agriculture, business, and labor? How can we make efficient use of resources today and in the future?

What role should agriculture play in the efforts to establish and maintain world peace? What are the credit requirements of modern agriculture and how should they be provided? Should we develop mutually satisfactory two-way trade, continue to provide tax paid aid, or allow exports to decline? These are just a few of the issues that are challenging the farmers of America. These are critical issues for they affect the welfare of agriculture as well as the future of our children's children.

Are you satisfied with the present county tax program, your schools, or the road program? Is there a need for more education on lowering production cost? The question can go on and on. It may appear that these issues can be resolved in several ways. But which way is best? Where will each solution to a problem lead? Which course is best for you? Your children? The public? Which way lies greater freedom? To intelligently reach the necessary decisions, you must have the facts against your judgement and that of your neighbors and take a good long range look at both sides of the issues. Remember, we are going to have to live with the next farm program for four or five years.

Your farm Bureau has been busily at work assimilating the facts to present to the people at the farm hearings. No effort will be made to supply the answers. That will be your pleasure. The one purpose motivating these meetings is an honest desire by the leaders to get a clear understanding of what type of farm program the majority of the farmers in this county want.

You, Mr. Farmer, will be most welcome Monday night regardless of whether you are a farm Bureau member or not. There will be some good ideas, a short talk on Adult judging, a short program of entertainment and refreshments for you at the hearing. We will be looking for you there.

P. S. Don't forget to bring along the family, farming is their business too.

Party-Shower Is Prenuptial Honor For Miss Jones

Miss Barbara Sue Jones, bride elect of Marlin Parrack, was complimented with a party-shower given Monday evening by a group of her close friends.

The event, which was designated as a miscellaneous bridal shower, was held in the Wesley Room of the Burk Burnett First Methodist church.

Orchid and purple, chosen colors of the honoree, were featured in the party decorations. Floral arrangements for the refreshment table included asters, queen's lace and snapdragons. The base of the crystal punch bowl was surrounded by similar flowers, which also were featured on the table where Mrs. F. W. Roderick presided at the guest book.

Mrs. Jude Willingham presented a program, which included vocal selections by Miss Anita Netherlain, who was accompanied by Miss Donna Ady, pianist. Readings were given by Mrs. A. A. McKinnis and Miss Paula Garland, who also presented Miss Jones with a collection of miscellaneous gift items.

The hostesses' gift to the honoree were selections of pottery in Miss Jones chosen pattern, a coffee maker and a wool blanket, Miss Jones, her mother, Mrs. Coy E. Jones, and Mrs. V. E. Parrack, mother of the groom elect, were presented with aster corsages.

Approximately 60 guests were registered during the event.

Miss Jones and her friends are to recite nuptial vows during a ceremony planned for Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Burk Burnett First Methodist church. Officiant is to be Rev. T. M. Jensen.

Granddaughter Of Mrs. H. S. Vanleave Wed In Ft. Worth

Miss Mary Jo Armstrong, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Frank Armstrong, of Ft. Worth, became the bride of Arthur Henry Berryman of Washington, D. C., at 8:00 p. m. Saturday in a ceremony read by Rev. Louis F. Martin in St. Andres Episcopal church.

The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Watson Berryman of Baltimore, Md.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. Her original gown by Galina was a re-embroidered Chantilly lace and nylon illusion over satin. The molded bodice of lace had a deep decollete neckline and long fitted sleeves. The skirt was designed with a deep lace yoke formed of tapering points from which fell the cloud like illusion skirt which terminated in a cathedral train. Her long veil, was attached to a cap of pearl encrusted lace. She wore a single strand of pearls as a something old, she carried an heirloom handkerchief belonging to Mrs. Henry A. Griffin. Her bouquet was a shower of lillies of the valley and an orchid atop a prayer book.

Urns of white chrysanthemums graced the altar and the pews were marked by clusters of white chrysanthemums.

A garden reception was held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. James Henry Grammer immediately following the ceremony.

The couple left for Silver Springs, Md. where they will make their home.

Doesn't she deserve an ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER?

It's so simple and easy to dry clothes quickly in an AUTOMATIC ELECTRIC CLOTHES DRYER that it makes old-fashioned clothesline drying in these days of electrical living about as obsolete as the horse and buggy.

The soft, gentle heat of an electric dryer leaves clothes fluffy, clean and sweet-smelling... free from outside dust and grime. Protects them from sun-fading, too. They're easier to iron and many pieces require no ironing at all.

Free your wife from the back-breaking, time-consuming drudgery of clothesline drying. Let Reddy Kilowatt help her enjoy more leisure time with the family.

They're all talking "best deal in town" BUT WHO'S GOT IT?

We challenge them all on a value check of the following points

- Modern contour styling. Check it for greater all-around visibility, wider doors, more room, more luggage capacity.
- Famous Packard-built engine.
- Famous Packard ride—"Rides like a Packard" is the highest compliment you can pay any car.
- Famous Packard Ultramatic, designed and built by Packard for Packard CLIPPER—the smoothest power shifting of all—no whirr, no whirrrr, no jerk, no jump.
- Famous Packard-built power brakes and power steering!
- Famous Packard CLIPPER back-saver seats.
- Top trade-in value.

Are you really sure that the car dealer who gives you "the best deal in town" really gives you the best BUY in town?

As you well know, the best BUYS are based on value.

Because value lasts longer than any other quality—and, in automobiles, that means longer motoring pleasure, greater safety, lower upkeep, and a better trade-in allowance later on.

"The Buy of the Year!"

The new Packard CLIPPER has made news all year long as "the buy of the year." Way back last winter, the "insiders"—men of recognized automotive experience and instinct—tagged the CLIPPER as the car of the year in the medium-price field. A real, old-time PACKARD value.

You know very well that you never bought an automobile right off the printed page. You bought it ONLY after a demonstration when features either come to life or amount to nothing.

So we urge you: before you take that "best deal in town" . . . take a demonstration in the new Packard CLIPPER and value-check the features with which we challenge all other cars!

Drive the new Packard CLIPPER then you'll know why you needn't pay more—why you can't be content with less!
