GRASS ROOTS OPINION

GARNER, IOWA, Leader: "There has been a great deal of talk about taxation. It is surprising to find the lack of knowledge that exists as to how taxes are determined and where tax money goes."

PAMPA, TEXAS, Daily News: "A point that often seems lost in any discussion of the federal income tax is that the present law provides the machinery for taking all of the income of every producer. That is actually how the law is now set up. There is no limitation on the extent to which the government can go in the confiscation of any one's income other than the judgement of the bureaucrats in Washington who determine just how much the public will stand."

REYNOLDSVILLE, PA., Star: "The American people from the Boston Tea Party thru the 18th Amendment have failed to cooperate with any law that they did not personally understand and accept. This American attitude sometimes leads them into actions that are dangerous to the lives of others as well as their own. This is often true in their attitude toward traffic safety. The dangers of driving too fast, particularly during the heavy traffic summer months, must be told and retold."

FISSION CAN BE FUN

We have just read that the US and seven other countries, Britain, France, Canada, Australia, Belgium, Portugal and South Africa, are now dotting the "i"s and picking the commas in an agreement establishing an international agency under the UN for the development of peaceful atomic energy. The Soviets may come in too, or they may prefer to exploit their nuisance value otherwise.

All that is no doubt fine and dandy. At least it is a serious and concerted effort to distract the nations from the more spectacular and anti-social aspects of the atom. But we come a lot closer to understanding what it's all about, however, when we learn that in West Milton, N. Y. they're running electric fans and making ice cubes with atoms these hot days. Actually the electricity developed from atomic fission is a very small trickle of the total power required by the town. But it is there, in the line, and comes from a G. E. reactor similar to the one that will go in the US Submarine Seawolf.

And there is further reassurance in the news that General Electric is now in the nuclear reactor business, and sells four different types with maximum power ratings from 30 to 5,000 kilowatts. So now, if you want a little reactor for your home or research laboratory, you know where it get it. The company will even install it for you, crank it up and show you how to run it. They also give service.

We can't think of a better way of not getting a bang out of the atom.

MANNING OUR FACTORIES

We commonly think of a farm mechanization in the light of the revolution it has brought about in the life and work of the farmer and the farm family. It has transformed that life, making possible maximum production at the minimum cost in time and human effort.

That does not end the story. For farm mechanization has been a major force in the development and expansion of industry as well—and in lifting the living standards of the people in the towns and cities along with those on the farms.

Here's what has happened. A century ago, 85 percent of our population was needed to produce the country's food and fiber. So a mere 15 percent was left to produce everything else we needed or wanted. This meant, obviously most people didn't have much above the bare necessities.

Today less than 15 percent of the population can produce all the agricultural products we require, plus substantial amounts for export. So more than 85 percent have been able to leave the farm and enter other forms of enterprise. These people help produce automobiles, TV sets and the legion of other goods and services which make up the American standard of living.

The point is that all Americans, including those who spend their entire lives in the crowded metropolises and rarely see open country, have benefited from farm mechanization.

Thomas C. Rushing With Marines

Pfc. Thomas C. Rushing, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Johnson of 609 E. First St. Burkburnett, participated in amphibious training exercises July 19-27.

The 1st Marine Division's 7th Regiment (Reinforced) sailed from San Diego July 19 with a Navy Task Force. After five days of training off the Southern California coast, the Leathernecks attacked a beach objective in an amphibious landing July 26 on the Camp Pendleton reservation near Oceanside, Calif.

The Marine tested new amphibious landing techniques, including helicopter operations.

From where I sit ... by Joe Martin

"Light" Snack For Ducks

Coming back from Balesville the other night I noticed a powerful light at Whitey Fisher's Duck Farm. Seemed to be shining out over the water.

I stopped to ask Whitey what went on. He took me down to his pond and pointed out a 200-watt bulb—rigged up on a pole about three feet above the surface. The light was attracting thousands of insects for the ducks to eat.

Seemed kind of odd to me—but Whitey was enthusiastic. "Best idea I ever heard of," he claims. "Keeps the feed bill down—and the bug population, too. Why do you suppose I never thought of it before?"

From where I sit, Whitey's type who's always ready to try a new trick. I stick to old methods. Just a matter of personal feeling. I guess like the way you may prefer coffee with meals while I always prefer a traditional glass of beer. No, that I'd claim you're wrong—respect for the other man's opinion is my "guiding light."

Trees Grow, But Wood Is 'Made'
Does wood "grow" or is it "manufactured"?
The layman is likely to say "grow." But within the lumber industry, wood is spoken of as a "manufactured" product.
Both terms are correct. Nature, of course, does the growing of a tree, but a tree is just the raw material for finished lumber. For example, before a window can be manufactured, the wood itself must be "manufactured" by a series of steps that includes seasoning, grading, careful machining, water-repellent preservative treatment, and storage.
Proper seasoning by oven drying or air drying is as important to wood as pre-shrinking is to a shirt—it helps the product keep its size and shape. Only after the natural shrinkage in drying has taken place is the wood ready for the millwork manufacturer's cutting and shaping tools.
Manufacturers need a straight-grained wood with a smooth, light surface that readily takes any kind of stain, varnish, or paint. Lightweight and strong, ponderosa pine is easy to work both by hand and machine tools, and therefore well-adapted to the precision millwork that goes into windows, panel doors, and kitchen cabinets.
The wood is strictly graded on the basis of appearance, strength, and other properties. Millwork manufacturers use the highest quality lumber.
To prevent warping and sticking of windows and exterior panel doors, the manufacturers give their products a scientific water-repellent, preservative treatment. Chemicals used in the treatment repel wood parasites and water, and together with seasoning, protect the installed window from swelling, shrinking, warping, and rotting. As a result, the sash slides easily in the frame, air infiltration around the edges is minimized, and the finish is protected from blistering and peeling.

Texas Safety Association
"An intelligent driver doesn't argue with a train!"
In those words, Mr. E. C. McFadden of Dallas, Vice President of Employers' Casualty Company and President of the Texas Safety Association, Inc., today warned motorists to use extra caution at highway-rail intersections. Mr. McFadden spoke in support of the Signs of Life program which the Texas Safety Association, the Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council are conducting in Texas.
"In 1954," Mr. McFadden said, "there were 167 motor vehicle-train grade crossing accidents in rural areas despite the fact that highway-rail intersections in Texas are marked by signs and signals to protect the motorist and pedestrian. Mr. McFadden said, "that many motor vehicle grade crossing accidents occur at crossings protected by gates, flashing lights, bells, wig-wag signals or watchmen, in addition to such devices as the crossbuck and the round approach sign. The kind and amount of protection varies with the complexity of the situation."
"These Signs of Life which the railroads and government agencies furnish can be of no help to motorists who ignore them as many do," Mr. McFadden said. "And it's certainly a mystery why drivers will be so careless when it's obvious that the automobile always comes off second best in any encounter with a train."
He said, "statistics show that while highway railroad crossing accidents do not account for a high proportion of all traffic accidents, their severity is much greater. About one out of five persons injured in motor vehicle train accidents dies as compared to one out of 42 for those injured in all traffic accidents."
Mr. McFadden advised both motorist and pedestrians to observe the following rules in crossing railroad tracks:
1. Be sure all tracks are clear. Even though one train has gone by, there may a second train coming.
2. Where there are no lights or audible signals, listen for the train whistle and the noise of its approach, and look both ways.
3. Where there are other protective devices, wait until they

NEW FOR AUTOS
New this summer are automobile seat covers made of cotton terry cloth. Fitted to the front seat of any car, Terry-Tuck covers protect seats from wet swim suits and grime. This young lady won't damage the seat of her Ford convertible with a wet swim suit because the upholstery is protected by the absorbent terry. The cover can be removed easily and laundered without ironing.

Veterans Education Center
A disabled Korean veteran could draw GI unemployment pay and GI training allowances at the same time? I understand that normally the dual payments are prohibited by law.
A—There are two exceptions to the law barring simultaneous receipt of both payments. Korea veterans taking GI correspondence courses, as well as those in school less than half-time, may be eligible for GI unemployment allowance at the same time as they are drawing GI training allowances.
Q—I want to apply for disability compensation, but, since I do not live near a VA office I cannot pick up an application form. Could I apply merely by writing VA a letter and describing all the facts in my case?
A—Yes. Your letter will be considered as an "informal claim" VA will send you a formal application which you must fill out and return. The date of your filing will be the date of your original letter, so long as VA receives the formal application within one year.
Q—I am planning to buy a house with a GI loan. Is it absolutely necessary to have the property appraised?
A—Yes. Appraisal is required by law, in order to protect you. The law requires that the purchase price be no more than the "reasonable value" as determined by proper appraisal made by an appraiser designated by the VA.
Q—I am going to college under the Korean GI Bill. Will I receive my GI training allowances during the summer vacation months, when I am not in school?
—No. The GI training allowances will not be paid during the summer vacation months when you are not actually in training.

Lady Beetles As Insect Killers
During the last few weeks we have had several inquiries from farmers in Wichita County about the effectiveness of lady beetles in controlling injurious insects of cotton. Certainly, we can not overlook the value of lady beetle other predators and parasites that feed on destructive insects. However, we should not place too much emphasis on their importance in a control program, according to B. T. Haws, County agent.
Lady beetles are general feeders on aphids, spider mites and may also destroy a small percent of the eggs and very small larvae of the bollworms. The primary food supply of lady beetles is aphids, therefore when aphids are present, the beetles are not likely to feed on other insects. Before any beneficial insects increase in cotton or any other crop there first must be an adequate food supply available. Perhaps one of the most important that influence the lack of abundance of beneficial insects is weather. Weather conditions may favor the increase of harmful insects but suppress or completely stop build-ups of beneficial insects. When adequate food supplies and favorable weather conditions exist, predators and parasites will increase rapidly. Rapid increase of harmful insects will often severely damage the crop before the beneficial insects can build up or be added in sufficient numbers to control the injurious insects.
Other predators such as flower bugs, lace-winged flies, spiders and wasps are much more effective in suppressing many injurious insects, especially bollworms, than are lady beetles.
Beneficial insects are helpful in preventing increases of some pests, but remember, the lady beetle is primarily an aphid feeder and one of the least effective for bollworm control. No substitute has been found for frequent and regular checks for destructive insect infestations and using recommended insecticides when the damaging pests build up faster than beneficial insects can control them. Growers should never rely entirely on beneficial insects to control destructive pests of cotton.
Release of lady beetles is not recommended for bollworm control or any other injurious pests of field crops.
Isn't it funny how a dark corner gives a man a bright idea.
Nowadays the manufacturers who advertise a car to fit your purse must be selling the small foreign makes.

GMC Truck Sales Lurching Forward
Heavy demand for 1955 "Blue Chip" GMC trucks during the past two months has placed GMC Truck and Coach Division in the forefront of the nation's leading truck manufacturers in sales percentage gains, according to R. C. Woodhouse, GMC general truck sales manager.
He said GMC sales in May and June climbed 57.8 percent over the corresponding months of 1954. "Starting early in May, when the GMC dealer organization received the new 1955 models in enough volume to meet the enthusiastic customer reaction, GMC has made greater gains than any other leading truck manufacturer," Woodhouse said. "This sharp upsurge in sales is additional proof that the beauty of line and sound engineering advancements combined in the new 1955 GMC are features that discriminating truck buyers are looking for."
He pointed out that all of the division's wholesale sales zones and the great majority of GMC dealers have chalked up much higher sales figures this May and June than in the corresponding two months of 1954.

Bob Hope Strikes Bonanza of Fun In The 7 Little Foy's

When a man determines he's going to remain single and falls for the first girl he meets, that's life, but when a great performer makes the same vow and ends up the greatest father of them all, that's Eddie Foy and "The Seven Little Foy's." It's also the wonderful ingredient for a film story loaded with rollicking humor and rich human drama.

Starring Bob Hope, "The Seven Little Foy's" will be showing at the Palace Theatre August 14th and 15th and judging by the reports of damp eyes and hearty laughter of advance showing audiences across the country, it's one of the most delightful screen biographies ever to come our way and the opening of a new dramatic career for the great comedian.

The story of Eddie Foy, an immortal star of the entertainment world, this sometimes hilarious sometimes poignant film co-stars Hope with lovely Milly Vitale, excitingly refreshing Italian newcomer and features Geo. Tobias, Angela Clarke, and in the roles of the seven hooligan, Eddie Foy fathered, seven of the liveliest, most lovable kids ever to appear on a movie screen. And added to this superb cast is the sensational entertainment bonus of James Cagney, recreating the George M. Cohan characterization that won him world wide acclaim and an Academy Award.

Eddie Foy's name alone carries for most people the nostalgic flavor of the old-time vaudeville and the aura of greatness that surrounds a performer of his caliber.

ibre. But the man himself was even more fabulous than his stage career, and it is this fascinating behind the scenes story that Bob Hope recreates with a portrayal that has been called his greatest performance.

Foy was doggedly determined to remain, single, onstage and off. But chance threw him together with the Italian ballerina who charmed him into marriage, and Nature took over after that. One child followed after another, to the total of seven, and a wild bunch they were, with a rolling stone for a father. The only way to control them was to put them into the act, and The Seven Little Foy's became the most no-talent, hilarious and successful team on the boards. It's an absolutely delightful story.

In lavish VistaVision and Technicolor, with nine beloved songs and wonderful dances, Paramount's "The Seven Little Foy's" is a bonza of humor, drama and tender romance. It has everything and everything it has is tops.

BWC Met With Mrs. A. B. Fields

The Business Women's Circle of the First Baptist church met Tuesday evening at 7:30 in the home of Mrs. A. B. Fields for the Royal Service program. The meeting was opened by all singing, "When I Survey the Wondrous Cross" and was followed by prayer by Mrs. C. W. Ramsey.

Mrs. Lena Warren, circle chairman, had charge of the business session. A report was made from mission chairman, Mrs. Fields, on the program rendered to the colored people in July. It was also reported that the circle had given $5.50 to send one of our Baptist boys to the RA camp at Vernon.

Mrs. Fields had charge of the mission program and gave out scriptures to be read by different members to provide a devotional. The program was on alcohol and was discussed by Mesdames John Brookman, Lena Warren and A. B. Fields. The meeting was dismissed in prayer by Mrs. Mintie Miller.

Delicious refreshments were served to Mesdames John Brookman, Ralph Davis, Mintie Miller, Sam Wood, Lena Warren, A. B. Fields, C. W. Ramsey and Mrs. R. P. Thaxton.

"The 7 Little Foy's"

On stage they were a smash vaudeville team — offstage they were the greatest parents of them all. "The Seven Little Foy's", Vista-Vision, Technicolor rib-tickler and eye-dampener, showing at the Palace Theatre Sunday-Monday, co-stars Bob Hope and Italian newcomer, Milly Vitale.

Hornflies Easy To Control Now

Hornflies — a problem on livestock this time of year — are causing many producers to lose 20 to 30 pounds of beef per animal annually. But the pests can be controlled with simple steps and nominal costs.

About half the size of ordinary houseflies, hornflies suck the blood of livestock causing irritation which leads to loss of weight and other disorders, explains B. T. Haws, county agent.

Sprays of 5 (five-tenths) percent DDT, toxaphene or methoxychlor are recommended for hornfly control. Any type hand or power sprayer is effective in making applications which should remain potent to the flies for three weeks or longer.

While some producers are using cable type rubbing devices, Haws believes a good spray program gives much better control of the costly pests.

Judging from the sounds we have heard recently a raving beauty is a girl who didn't win first in a beauty contest.

Mast Optical Offers School Visual Service

Mast Optical in Wichita Falls is currently offering its annual "Back-to-School Visual Service for Children". This special public service to school-age children is just one more of the many services offered by Mast Optical, 918 Indiana Avenue.

School age children are urged to visit the Mast Optical office accompanied by a parent. This special visual analysis is free of charge, and there is no obligation. Parents learn the exact condition of their youngsters' eyes, and whether glasses are needed to help them study better during the approaching school year. Glasses are prescribed only if necessary.

"Back-to-School Visual Service for Children" last year, after surveys proved that 85% of students making unsatisfactory progress in school were found to have vision problems.

There is nothing wrong with the younger generation, except that we don't belong to it anymore.

Rid Your Farm Of Mosquitoes

Mosquitoes can be a severe problem, as well as an annoyance on the farm. They often cause livestock to lose weight by driving them away from lush pastures and may also cause poultry to lose weight and lay fewer eggs, says B. T. Haws, county agent. This is especially a problem in the irrigated valley, states Haws.

To get rid of the mosquitoes, the county agents suggests that you first look for standing water on or near your property. Mosquitoes breed in such places as temporary rain pools, flooded areas, irrigated pastures, ponds and even in water caught in tin cans, rain gutters or discarded tires.

Wherever possible, eliminate these breeding places by removing the water. In the case of ponds and irrigated pastures, the entire water surface should be sprayed or dusted with an insecticide.

The following sprays are recommended for controlling mosquito larvae in standing water: (1) a one percent emulsion or oil solution of DDT, chlordane, toxaphene TDE or methoxychlor; or (2) a 0.5 (five-tenths) percent emulsion of oil solution of lindane, dieldrin, or heptachlor. Each of these should be applied at a rate of 1 ounce per 100 square feet, or about 10 quarts per acre of water surface.

If it is easier to dust the water surface, a ready mixed 5 to 10-percent DDT dust may be applied at a rate of 2 to 5 pounds per acre. A very light mist of pyrethrum is recommended to kill mosquito larvae in fishponds and ornamental pools without poisoning fish or plants. This is available for use from insecticide dealers. No more than one ounce of spray should be applied per 100 square feet of water. It may be necessary to apply residual spray on areas where adult mosquitoes rest for this purpose a 5 percent percent chlordane, or 1 percent lindane spray, applied to tree trunks, logs and other surfaces will be effective for a more.

 Secretary of the Air Force, also he was a close personal friend of the President. But the resig nation was inevitable, and has been taken for granted for days.
 The President has said again
 and again those in his administration must conduct themselves im impeccably, and the hearing of Mr. Talbot's partnership in the Paul B. Milligan Management engineering firm, made it exceed ingly clear that the Secretary had used his Pentagon office to con duct private business affairs.
 It has been a question of ethics particularly to the President, and it was on that basis that Mr. Tal bot was prepared to make a de cision. But because of the Presi dent's stress on the impeccability of public servants in their every act and associations, it was in creasingly clear, as the hearings
 continued, that the President
 could not continue to keep Mr.
 Talbot in his post and at the same time hold high the moral banner with which he entered the White House. It was signi ficant that practically no Repub lican senator came to Mr. Talbot's defense on the ethics involved.
 And this lack of support by Senate members of his own party helped persuade the Secretary

that his resignation was obliga tory.
 Politics then did enter into the issue; but it was the ethical ques tion that decided the day. The Secretary's conduct did not meet the President's high ethical stand ard and so he had to go. Temp tations to blur the ethical line are widespread. How widespread is clear when one considers the conflict of interest which can easily arise in the minds of con gressmen who retain business in terest often affected by their committee activities and votes.
 Farmers in Congress may help pay for their crops; bankers may have a personal stake in banking legislation; manufacturers in tariff rates. So the whole answer should not be expected from the execu tive side.
 The Talbot affair raises another issue almost as important as the ethical question involved. That is, how one can induce successful businessmen, with incomes from $100,000 to $500,000 a year, to enter the government service
 when they are required to divest themselves of stock in concerns dealing with the government?
 The Talbot affair has revived his whole question, to which a presidential commission could well be assigned.

Make Farming Safe

The week of July 24-30 should be for every Texan on and off the farm a practice period in prevention of accidents. The pe riod has been designated as Texas
 and National Farm Safety Week.
 The Texas Farm and Fanch Safety Committee believes that accidents on farms do not occur
 because farmers and their fami lies are more careless than other citizens. But with excess work and fatigue they often neglect necessary precautions in working with power equipment and edged tools, and in keeping in good re pair articles which are used fre quently.
 Prevention of accidents has a deeper importance than merely keeping people fit to do their work. The waste of human lives, the pain and sometimes perman ent crippling resulting from ac cidents, and the disruption to family life when a member is injured are of even greater con sequence. The distressing thing, points out the committeemen, is that so large a part of accidents which are happening daily could be avoided by caution and com mon sense safeguards.
 Hazards to life and limb in homes and farm buildings are many and obvious. A systematic check will reveal them, and knowledge of them is urged to remove them. Falls cause more injuries in the home than any other type of accident. Looking before stepping could reduce such accidents, suggests the Sa fety Committee.

 Finally, the committee suggests that these seven days should take on special significance. It is time that farmers and their families and neighbors pooled their efforts toward making their industry as safe as any other in the nations. And as stated in the theme for Safety Week, "Your Safety is in Your Hands."
 Wichita County 4-H clubbers are putting up safety displays in the towns during Safety Week.
 Wichita County farmers are be ing urged to conduct a clean-up campaign on their farms during the week.
 The four communities in the Rural Neighborhood program, are Clara-Farview, City View, Valley View and Friberg-Cooper, will be conducting a clean-up cam paign during the week.

Seven new "high-voltage" high-compression valve-in-head engines!

Here's hour-saving, dollar-saving power for your job . . . the biggest choice of engines in Chevrolet truck history! And they're the most modern engines in the industry!

You've got it good under the hood with a new Chevrolet Task-Force truck! With two new V8's and five new sixes to choose from, you can pick the power that does your kind of hauling with low ton-mile costs and hour-saving efficiency.
 Shortest Stroke V8's in any leading truck! Both of Chevrolet's new truck V8's have an ultra-short stroke—shortest of any V8 in any leading truck. They're of modern oversquare design, which means that the piston stroke is smaller than the bore. The result is less piston travel per mile . . . longer engine life. Also, Chevrolet's compact truck V8's deliver exceptionally high horsepower per pound of engine weight. More power is actually available for hauling your loads!

 A modern 12-volt electrical system. You get this great development in all new Chevrolet truck engines—both V8's and sixes. The 12-volt electrical system delivers twice the punch for quicker cold-weather starting (up to 30% faster cranking speed). It also provides a hotter, fatter spark for better ignition, and gives you a greater electrical reserve supply.

 Come in and command the most modern power for your job in today's most modern trucks — new Chevrolet Task-Force trucks!

V8 you get the right power for your job!

Salt, Water, Fences Listed As Range Management Tools

Tools are equipment used for doing specific jobs. The quality of the tools used is important but equally or more so is how the tools are utilized for doing the job. B. T. Haws, county agent says, the salting and watering facilities and fences on the range are excellent management tools, but how well they are used determines their value.

Most operators, either from habit or because of convenience, salt at the watering places. Haws explains that better distribution of grasses and less trampling of plants is secured by salting away from the watering facilities, a fourth, half or even a mile away. Research studies, he adds at the Sonora Station have shown that more uniform grazing is obtained from cattle, sheep and goats when the water is at one end of the pasture and the salt at the other.

Salt should be placed on knolls, benches, openings in the timber or the gentle slopes says the county agent. Cattle need an average of two pounds of salt each month with more in the lush growing season. Sheep need about a half a pound each month and granulated salt fed in protected troughs is recommended.

Haws says place the watering facilities to get a balanced utilization of forage and this means proper grazing distribution. In excessively steep and rough country, water should be available each half mile and in relatively flat country at intervals of one to one and a half miles. Earthen tanks should be deep with a small surface area to cut down on evaporation. In some sections of Texas from five to seven feet of water are lost annually to evaporation, says Haws.

Be sure to build the fence for the purpose intended. Smaller pastures give better distribution of livestock, make deferred grazing possible and lend themselves to systematic range improvement practices, such as brush control and seasonal growing. Finally, Haws says, use a map to spot these management tools if the most value is to be obtained from their use on the range.

SHEEP DON COTTON JACKETS!

Even sheep are wearing cotton! Coats of cotton for bearing animals are the latest fashion on the western range. The jacket is a new idea that has caught on with ranchers as a way of protecting the animal fleeces from dust. Last winter, Dick Sheep and wool marketing specialist with the New Mexico Service, carried out a demonstration which proved that the blankets kept four pounds of dust and dirt out of each fleece. Coyotes are afraid of the jackets and keep their distance from strangely garbed sheep!
