An Important Date for Burkburnett Double Funeral Tuesday, November 13th

Tuesday, November 13th is a very important date to Burkburnett and its citizens. That is the day when voters will decide whether our towns has a chance to grow, or whether we are doomed to remain as we are. That is the day when voters accept or reject a revenue tax bond in the amount of $375,000.00 for water improvements.

This past summer parts of our town were entirely without water during some of several days. Our present water pumps were going full blast, but they could not force enough water through the small lines, even for necessary household use.

Burkburnett is extremely fortunate in its location. New sources of well water have been found East of town, near some of our present source of supply. Tests show cemetery that our water supply can be doubled from these wells. Some towns our size, also short on water, could spend $2,000,000.00 and still not rleieve their water shortage. That's why we can consider ourselves fortunate. An expenditure of only $375,000.00 will solve our problem for a few years, at least.

A sixteen inch line is suggested from the pump station to town. True, that is larger than our immediate needs. But, the cost of a smaller line, one which would barely take care of our immediate needs, would not mean a savings of very many dollars. The cost of laying the larger line does not add appreciably to the total cost.

The proposition to be voted on Tuesday is a revenue bond issue—not a property tax bond. In the order for the election, we find this paragraph: "That the holder hereof (of the proposed bonds) shall never have the right to demand payment of this obligation out of any funds raised or to be raised by taxation".

These bonds are to be repaid from revenue from the Water, Lights and Sewer Departments. NO RAISE IS PROPOSED FOR THE LIGHTS AND SEWER DEPART-MENTS. THE MINIMUM WATER RATE WILL NOT BE RAISED. There is a slight proposed increase for water rates AFTER 1,000 gallons. Small homes or apartments using only 1,000 gallons of water per month will NOT have an increase. Users of larger amounts will have

With an ample supply of good water (and we do have good water) it is safe to say some two or three hundred new homes would be built here in less than two years. If we don't get the water, then we can not expect any more growth so long as we are out of water each summer. Our growth right now is entirely dependent upon our making water available—not only for household use, but for other uses as well: flowers, yards, gardens and parks.

We will grow or become smaller. YOUR vote will decide which way we go.

If you have rendered your property for taxes, and are otherwise a qualified voter, you may vote Tuesday

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

SANTA PAULA, CALIF., Daily Chronicle: "The round of labor strikes, settled invariably by granting higher wages, in several major industries has only fed inflation. The big steel strike laid the foundation, as predicted, and with its settlement, new price increases in iron and steel products were immediately announced. Aluminum followed steel, with more increased prices. There is no known way yet devised to increase costs without price increases, so we travel in a circle.'

JUNCTION CITY, ORE., Times: "Voting is more than just a privilege of our citizens - its a duty and an obligation. And that's something to remember in these coming pre-election days. As individuals, we don't owe anything to these politicians, our obligation is to secure the highest type of good government, at local, state and national level."

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY., Jeffersonian: "Men and women willing to stem the tide of over spending should not only be encouraged to run for public office, but should be militantly supported once they decide to make the sacrifice. And a sacrifice is what it really means, to oppose well organized pressure groups that are willing to make demands for legislation for their benefit at the expense of the general taxpaying public.

DUBLIN, GA., Courier-Herald: "Perhaps government should not be operated as a business, but there are certain principles of economics that ought to be considered in the operation of any division of government. One principle is that when the outgo exceeds the income, something serious is bound to happen.'

A Freighter Goes Aground

A short time ago a freighter named the Seagate went aground on the Washington coast. And this led the Portland, Ore., Journal to print an editorial highlighting some of the differences between U. S. Merchant ships and their foreign competitors.

The Seagate was Greek-owned and had Liberian registry. She carried a crew of 28 men, which is about 20 fewer than an American flag ship of the same type would carry. Her wage levels were much lower. She was not insured by Lloyd's or American marine underwriters, because, the Journal says, "Those insurers of ships and cargoes have learned that many Liberian registered ships involve too much risk for normal rates.

The Seagate also lacked navigation equipment of the latest type and is said to have been 80 miles off course. To quote the Journal once more, "Better navigation would cost more money, another reason why the cost of keeping the American merchant fleet on the high seas is greater than for vessels such as the

That cost difference is felt, and felt heavily, in everything that has to do with our merchant marine, from building, fitting and maintaining the vessels to wages and working and living conditions for the men who man them. This is why the American government has wisely adopted laws and policies designed to keep our flag flying on the seaways of the world, to serve our commerce and to support the national defense.

The Freedom To Take Risks

The United States holds unchallenged leadership of the worlds oil industry. "Why?"

One answer, of course, is that we were blessed by Nature with vast underground resources of this black gold. But that is far from a complete answer. The head of an American Oil Company, points out that oil was discovered at about the same time in both the United States and Russia. Russia also has an abundance of oil underground. Yet, to date, U. S. oil production has exceeded Russian production by the incredible figure of 44 billion (yes, billion) barrels. One reason for that, he went on, is that government monopolies, such as Russia has long had, just won't take the risks that American oil men working under our free enterprise regard as routine. He used the state of Oregon, where he was speaking, as an example. Nearly 200 dry wells have been drilled there. Oil has not yet been found. Maybe it will be in the future and maybe it won't be. But the American oil men will keep on trying, just as they keep on trying all over this and other countries. To quote the oil official once more, "If it were not for democratic form of government and our private enterprise system we could not have this important freedom to take business risks and our economy would stagnate. "Natural resources are vitally important, but they are of little value unless there is a climate of freedom that encourages their wise development. That goes for oil and everything else.

fin houses an integrated tail and back up lamp and a safety reflector. The rear projection of the oval tail lamp is protected by a projection in the rear bumper which also serves as an exhaust port on cars equipped with dual exhausts.

A missile outline trim of stain less steel sweeps the entire length of the car on each side. The Star Flight styling of the 1957 Pontiac is further accentuated by a windsplit molding in the rear fender. On the Star Chief models this torpedo-shaped windsplit is sheathed in stain less steel. The same material, brushed to a satin finish, is used on the vaned wheel discs. A full range of excitingly modern colors is available on the 16 body styles.

The eye catching appeal of the 1957 Pontiac is not limited to exterior styling for the new cars offer the most luxurious colorkeyed interiors in Pontiac history. Star chief series models are upholstered in the finest handbuffed leather in "dream car" colors of Silver Beige, Kenya

NO FISHING.... NO SWIMMING.... NO HUNTING....

This Water Means Business

Water for swimming, fishing or hunting is fine. But some water is sayed to go on dry soils to relieve thirsty crops. It's no time for play when the soil needs water. The water must go on the land—and quick.

Whether the water is pumped from wells, or comes from rains, it is good business to conserve every bucket full that reaches the land. Organic matter in the soil helps to hold the moisture until it is taken up by the roots of crops. Your county agent can suggest crops that will help build up the organic matter in your soil.

It is good business to save money for times when it will be needed. It's not an emergency when you have a bank account.

When the mother works, chances are more money will be spent for food for the family. New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

They "flattened" Yukon mountains with the most modern truck V8's of all!

Rated G.V.W. of these payload-carrying heavyweights goes all the way up to 32,000 pounds

New V8-powered '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded, made one of the world's toughest roads look easy! In a straight-through test run, they rolled over the famous ALCAN Highway to Alaska-in less than 45 hours (normally a 72-hour run). Here's proof-in-action of power that'll handle your toughest jobs-and keep coming back for more!

Whatever your job, there's an Alcan-proved Chevrolet Task-Force truck ready right now to save you time and money! Six new Task-Force huskies made the run. And six ultramodern Chevy engines proved their power and performance-with gas mileage up to 18.17 miles per gallon! Two of the engines were not stopped once, and they hummed along at peak efficiency the entire 1,520 miles!

Chevy's big V8's-including the new 283-cu.-in. Super Taskmaster-turned in top performance jobs. They hauled typical loads up and down towering grades and through washouts that sucked wheels into hub-deep mud. They roared on through miles of heavy dust that narrowed visibility to a few hundred feet. And in spite of the varying altitudes and temperatures, not a single truck was forced to drop out or turn back! Stop by and see them soon! by the AAA.

Proved on the Alcan Highway Champs of every weight class!

Hardtop styling is achieved by Mercury in its exciting new station wagon. A lone, canted center pillar on each side, gives picture window visibility and style. Windows wrap around at the back, and the rear window rolls down into the tail-gate, eliminating the cumbersome lift-gate and adding open-car ventilation to closed car protection. Mercury station wagons offer "passenger car" riding comfort featuring the industry's first aircushion rear suspension. A special station wagon series includes six models of four-door 6 and 9-passenger and two-door 6-passenger wagons. Ten inches longer than current wagons, the new Mercurys also are lower and wider and roomier inside for passengers and have more cargo carrying capacity. This Colony Park 9-passenger station wagon has simulated grained wood exterior trim. A choice of two powerful engines is offered — a Turnpike Cruiser 290 hp. V-8 or a Safety-Surge 255 hp. V-8.

Egg Prices Higher

Egg prices during the first six months of 1956 averaged 11 percent above the same period for last year while feed prices were T. Haws, county agent, it now ap pears that egg prices during the latter half of 1956 will be lower than for the same period of a year ago.

Two factors will be responsible the nation's laying flock will be larger and the trend toward a higher rate of lay will continue. A seasonal rise in egg prices is probable for this fall but it will be less and the peak is likely to be reached earlier than in 1956. Cold storage holdings of shell eggs in the nation on July 1 were and for the West, South, Central states which include Texas holdings were down 57 percent. The county agent points out because egg production now varies less from season to season than in former years, seasonal pattern of egg prices is also smoother. Too, the usual seasonal price rise from spring to fall no longer justifies storage of as large a proportion of spring production in shell form as in previous

Time To Destroy Cotton Stalks And Boll Worm Residue

Conditions are ideal for destroying cotton stalks and boll residue because of the early harvest brought on by the drouth. County agent B. T. Haws says the practice should be stressed for it is one of the best for con-trolling pink bollworms and other cotton insects.

The use of stalk shredders is highly recommended since these machines kill many of the pink bollworms left in the field after harvest. The county agents say it is desirable to plow the shredded residue under to a depth of six inches within five days after cutting but that when the shredded material is spread thinly over the ground, hot sun-shine and soil temperatures will kill many of the dreaded worms.

Most dryland cotton, in areas where stalk destruction is recommended has or is now being harvested and the county agent again emphasizes that stalk de-struction should immediately fol low harvest. He points out too, that in years such as this one, all cotton insects are attracted to late irrigated fields. The farmer, they say, who attempts to produce a top crop on late irrigated cotton will encourage a tremendous population of boll weevils and pink bollworms. The earlier the stalks are destroyed the long er will be the starvation period for the insects.

Finally, the county agent points out, early stalk destruction is also one of the best control methods for all major cotton destroying insects. Too, it is also a good farming practice from the standpoint of soil and water conservation and soil preparation.
