County Results of T-B Chest X-rays

The following report comes from the office of Miss Margaret Hall, Executive Director of the Wichita County Tuberculosis Association.

The phase of the over-all tuberculosis "control" program is to find unknown and unsuspected cases of tuberculosis must be found before it can be treated and then tuberculosis is found in its earliest stages—before the patient has any pains or warning symptoms—that person has a chance for QUICKER RECOVERY. Chest X-rays find evidence of TB in its early, more advanced stages.

Because TB is contagious IN ANY STAGE, all cases should be found early. By getting the patient into the hands of family members and close working associates, the dangers of infection—and starting new cycles of the disease.

Over the past ten years, in co-operation with the Texas Department of Health, the Wichita County TB Association has conducted an annual county-wide MASS SURVEY. This health service is designed to find tuberculosis in all its stages; "early", "moderately advanced" and "far advanced".

Chest X-rays also find lung cancers and tumors and heart conditions.

Camp Fire Growing In Burk

The news that Burkburnett has organized additional Blue Bird and Camp Fire groups will be welcomed by all who have ever had any experience with those organizations or the Boy Scout movement. Blue Birds and Camp Fire offers to girls the same advantages that Scouting offers to boys all over the world.

Boys generally seem to have a love for the outdoors. In or out of Scouting, boys have many more opportunities to enjoy outdoor life than girls have. It is only through Blue Bird and Camp Fire groups that many girls will ever have the opportunity to know and love the great outdoors. If teaching the love of outdoor life was the only virtue of Blue Birds and Camp Fire, they would have a very good reason for existing. But that is only one of the many good things they learn. They learn to do by doing. All kinds of handicrafts are taught. Many of the girls learn to do their first cooking and sewing after they enter the Blue Bird or Camp Fire groups. The social life is another important aspect.

The good ladies of Burkburnett who have volunteered their services to further the cause of Blue Birds and Camp Fire are to be congratulated. Their compensation will come from knowing that they are contributing immeasurably to the welfare of young girls here.

Carol Faye Benton Oil Progress Queen Of High School

The Burkburnett High School Faculty selected Miss Carol Faye Benton, daughter of Mrs. M. M. Benton and the late Douglas C. Benton, to represent Burkburnett in the Annual Oil Progress Queen Contest, Oct. 4th.

Carole was born in Nocona, April 6, 1940, but moved to Burk when she was four and one half. She has spent her entire school life in the Burkburnett system.

Carole, who is an honor student, was co-valedictorian of her graduating Junior class and received the English scholastic Award for 1956-57.

While playing with the Junior High School band, Carole was the solo-chair alto saxophone. During her freshman year in High School, Miss Benton served again as solo chair alto saxophone, was a member of the dance band, and was chosen majorette.

Another High School honor Carole has received is that of serving as student director and soprano soloist in the High School choir for three years. At many banquets, she has provided entertaining dinner music. Last spring when the Junior Class presented their annual play she was cast as the feminine lead.

Carole has had some civic honors too. For the past three years she has had the pleasure and honor of being the Sweetheart of the Burkburnett Rotary club. In Burkburnett's Boomtown parade of 1955, Carole rode on the float of the Modern Study club which won first place. This past summer, she again rode on a float sponsored by the Junior University Study club which won third place.

Carole intends to go to college where she will major in Business Administration and minor in Music Education qualifying herself to teach.

New Camp Fire and Blue Bird Groups Are Organized In Burk

Interested mothers met at 8:30 a. m. Wednesday, Sept. 18th in the Camp Fire Room in the basement of the Bank building to organize new Camp Fire and Blue Bird groups. Over forty parents were present. Mrs. Don Pemberton is acting chairman for the Burkburnett Leaders' Association.

After those present signed up for the category in which they wished to help, it was found that Mesdames B. B. Six, C. W. Koenig and Jack Reed would have charge of one second grade group, Mesdames C. R. Patrick and M. D. Glover formed another second grade group and the third group of second grade Blue Birds will be led by Mesdames Roy Brown, J. B. Ellis and Bill Edgman. Two third grade Blue Bird groups were organized with the following leaders: Mesdames H. W. Cope and E. Green; Joe Logan and R. Wooten. Another third grade group will be organized as soon as a leader can be secured.

The two fourth grade Blue Bird groups will be led by Mesdames B. R. Magee and P. L. Williams, Dick Hudson and Harlan Mullins. The fifth grade group of Camp Fire girls will have Mrs. Robert Beavers as their guardian with Mrs. W. B. Halsey, assistant Guardian. Here, too, another leader is needed. Mrs. Floy Wilson will be Guardian for the sixth grade Camp Fire Girls, with Mrs. Harman Biggerstaff as her assistant. Seven Blue Bird groups and two Camp Fire groups were organized and will start holding regular meetings next week.

The Lowanna Horizon club has been the only active Camp Fire group in Burkburnett for the past 3 years. These girls helped in the organization of the new groups and will meet with them to assist the leader in any way possible. Over one hundred Burkburnett girls have registered as members of Camp Fire or Blue Bird groups.

The groups formed Wednesday are affiliated directly with the National Camp Fire office in New York and the Burkburnett Leaders will operate under that office's guidance as independent groups.

Bulldogs Humble Childress, 37-7

Jack Robertson's Bulldogs hit the winning column last Friday night when they humbled the Childress Bobcats 37 to 7 on the local field.

Led by the brilliant running and passing of Gary Jennings, Richard Hinkle and Mike Lacy and the sterling defensive play of Jennings and linebacker Johnny Veach, the Bulldogs took an early two touchdown lead and never let the Bobcats score until the final period of play.

Burkburnett scored twice in the first period, twice in the second and twice in the final quarter of play.

The last Bulldog score came on the final play of the game. Jennings crossed the goal line after the gun had sounded with a pilfered aerial that he had intercepted on his own five yard line and converted into a 95 yard scoring run.

Johnny Veach set up the first score when he pounced on a Childress fumble on their five. Kenneth Durham went into the end zone to score on the next play.

Jennings scored on an end run from the 18 for the second marker. He also converted—the only extra point after touchdown for the Bulldogs.

Richard Hinkle scored from the nine in the second period. In this period Childress drove to the 2 but were halted on downs by Mike Hoffman, Frank Morton and Veach.

Burk took over on their own 2 and six plays later scored the fourth touchdown. Hinkle broke loose for a sixty yard dash, crossing the goal line after the half time had run out. The score counted, 25-0.

Mike Lacey scored from the six on the opening play of the fourth period.

Childress' lone score came in the fourth period when Cawthon scored from the one. The score was set up by a 50 yard pass combination from Cawthon to James Braley. Don Mitchell converted.

Childress went to the air in desperation in the closing minutes. Gary Jennings gathered up one of their aerials in the closing seconds and raced 95 yards to score for Burk's final tally.

Hinkle carried the ball 18 times for a total of 161 yards. At Olney This Friday Night The Bulldogs go to Olney this Friday night for their first conference game. Olney is reported to have a very strong team. This game will give some inkling of which teams will be in the running for district honors.

Tickets for the game may be secured at the local High school prior to the game.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Powell of Fort Worth visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Randall, over the weekend.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

ANCHORAGE, ALASKA, DAILY NEWS: "Who will be next? Whose life must ebb away because of this high speed nonsense? Fifty miles an hour will get you there—alive! You can save time to the grave yard—at 60, 70, 80 or 90."

HEBRONVILLE, TEXAS ENTERPRISE: "Every industrialist in the United States—in fact every employer—should hear this—'if Thomas A. Edison and the Wright brothers were twenty years old today, they would have great difficulty in finding technical positions worthy of their talents.'"

"This is the view of Carl G. Sontheimer, an executive of a leading electronic research and development laboratory, who believes that much of the country's inventive talent is being wasted, ignored and overlooked through the frantic efforts of industrialists to latch onto college trained engineers, regardless of their creative abilities."

JEFFERSONTOWN, KY., JEFFERSONIAN: "The 400 independent light and power companies in the United States supply about 80 percent of all electric customers, and seem to be doing a reasonably good job."

BAYONETS DO NOT HELP

It should be the prayer of every American north and south black and white, that the White House meeting of President Eisenhower and the five Southern Governors is productive; and that, in spite of the President's desire to broaden the discussion to cover "problems of school integration," the conferees bear down on the subject urged by the Governors' Conference, "withdrawal of Federal troops from Arkansas at the earliest moment."

Whether or not President Eisenhower acted within the law in sending regulars into Little Rock to enforce integration at Central High School, will doubtless be argued at great length by sundry authorities. But the fact of the paratroopers' presence, which Governor Faubus called "the military occupation of Arkansas," the fact of their herding school-children with naked bayonets, and with what Senator Richard B. Russell has called "Hitler-like conduct," supersedes theories of constitutional law to compound an error that can not be soon erased. Yet it is only one of a series of errors that began with a Federal revision to the spirit of the reconstruction days in sending a northern judge to rule on the most explosive problem of our time.

There is at least the suspicion that Washington may be coming to a realization of its error in the announcement of Army Secretary Brucker that he had revoked orders to commanders in Atlanta and San Antonio for riot-training of their troops.

It is all very well to affirm piously that there must be law or there will be anarchy. But where interpretation of the law causes such an upheaval in the traditional life and customs of the community, as has the desegregation ruling in the South, there must be patience and understanding. From the Southern viewpoint, great progress has been made, even in Arkansas and in Little Rock. But bayonets do not help.

It has been reported that when a paratroop officer was asked how long the regulars would stay, he replied: "Indefinitely. We stayed in Germany for years."

The Southern Governors have a right to know if theirs is to be "occupied territory."

PREVENTION THE ONLY CURE

National Fire Prevention Week, from October 6th thru 12th, is important to Americans everywhere. It is time for everyone to consider how and whether he can improve his own fire protection. But in the country and on the farm, this annual reminder is of the most vital and dramatic significance.

The farmer is not only isolated from the water mains and at a distance from community fire-fighting equipment, but must face the hazards of fire from many more causes than the city man. Further, he is in grave danger of losing not only his home but his barns and all his buildings, his livestock, his machinery, his harvest—all the means by which he makes his living. And everyone who has ever seen a fire in the country or joined in the battle against the flames is reminded of the fact that farm fires claim three thousand lives a year.

Yet despite these risks, there are mighty few farmers who can afford to do all the things they would like to do in the way of fire prevention. A farmstead is a matter of evolution. It is not created all at once, with all its buildings and equipment of the same quality and up-to-dateness. Old buildings, like old machinery gradually give way to new, and about the best most farmers can do is to see that replacements and repairs give the utmost in fire protection.

For this reason, asbestos-cement building materials, in the form of fire-proof roofing and siding, board and corrugated sheets, are increasingly popular with thoughtful farmers. An asbestos-cement roof for the house or a barn, if you can go no farther, is probably the best possible protection against the building catching fire from the flaming brands of another. Later, on board or siding of this same tone-like, unburnable impervious material can be added. And when new buildings are needed, asbestos cement will make them virtually indestructible—proof against rats and mice, even termites!

Fire Prevention Week is a warning and check-up week. It's not a week in which you can accomplish, especially on the farm, all the corrections and improvements that might or even should be made. But it is the time to start, the time to see what should be done first, the time to remember that fire is no respecter of good intentions.

Junior High News

FOOTBALL GAME

Thursday, Sept. 19th, the Jr. high football team went to Iowa Park for their first game of the season. Burkburnett Bullpups kicked off to the Iowa Park Hawks. The Hawks made two first downs before the Bullpups got the ball. James Payne made a long run around the right end but the Hawks brought him down on about the 40. The half saw both teams fighting hard but the score was 0-0. Burkburnett threatened several times in the first half but at last fumbled the ball.

When the second half started the Bullpups received and went down on about their own 35. During the third quarter James Payne intercepted a pass and ran it for about 15 yards. Parry Hoover ran for about 50 yards but it was called back because of clipping. The Hawks were forced to punt. James fumbled, the Hawks recovered. The 4th quarter the score was still 0-0. In the last 30 seconds of the game, James Payne went around right end for the 45 yard touchdown. Hollie Marvis ran the extra point. The final score was Burk 7, Iowa Park 0.

Lone Star "Kitchen Show" at the State Fair In Dallas October 5-20

Kitchens to charm the entire family, each with its array of beautiful and labor-saving gas appliances will be the star of the "Kitchen Show" at the Gas building during the 1957 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 5-20. Five magazine kitchens and the handsome new Mayfair all gas-kitchen will be on display, with the theme, "Appliances of the Stars," following the current Hollywood trend of using beautiful gas kitchens and appliances in new movies. Local theatres will be showing some of these movies during the Fair, and movie stars may drop in on the gas exhibit.

Convenience without confusion makes the Youngstown Idea Kitchen of the Ladies Home Journal a center of hospitality for many family activities. The universal gas built-in oven is installed at eye-level to eliminate stooping and there is a glass door for checking foods without opening the door. Next to it is a long counter top with the counter-top gas burners on the other side. Another long expanse of work area stretches from the opposite side of the top burner. Rotating shelves in upper and lower corners of the cabinets are within easy reach. The wall separating kitchen and laundry is lined with welcome storage and work space. Featured here is a handsome hardwood counter, equally adaptable for kitchen-desk area, breakfast and snack service or children's table. Around the corner is the laundry with its automatic gas dryer and a second sink. Shelves and cupboards contain all washday equipment.

Designed for the whole family the Party Pantry American Kitchen from Parents magazine presents a center of living for children as well as a beautiful room that can proudly take its place in any home. In a space only 10 by 20 feet is located a room for the entire family, where the children can entertain and dad can barbecue with adequate base and wall cabinet space for all needs. The Party Pantry wall next to the patio door makes outdoor serving simple, with an under counter 3 tier cart for heavy loads. A gas built-in barbecue unit brings this cooking indoors. Walls of glass do away with the hemmed in feeling and add light to this room. A lazy susan cabinet makes even the corner useful and pull down canisters mounted on the wall keep counter space free. The cooking in this beautiful kitchen will be done on an American Kitchen gas built-in oven and Roper top burner units.

A gas kitchen and laundry are combined with a dining area in one room to form the "three-in-one" Mutschler kitchen from the April, 1957, issue of Household magazine. With an L-shaped floor plan the activities of three rooms are brought within one set of walls. The large gas appliances are grouped in two separate areas, for preparing meals and for laundering, with the areas separated by irregular and curved counter tops. Cabinets are beautiful wood units in a soft fruitwood color. The kitchen end of the "L" has an efficient work triangle with sink and dishwasher on the left, built in gas burners and oven close to the dining area and Servel gas refrigerator on the right. The other end of the room contains a quiet dining area next to a cherry greenhouse window.

The St. Charles Kitchen from the current issue of "Better Homes and Gardens" is keyed to the "light look" trend in modern furniture. Storage units and appliances are off the floor to give a sense of spaciousness and to keep all of the storage area within easy reach. A full-height storage wall plus convenient base units provide detailed work storage centers. Decorative and functional lighting accentuates the straight horizontal lines of modern design. Open shelving offers practical storage of condiments, canister sets and small serving pieces, as well as decorative relief to the overall texture of the wood front storage wall. Color and texture are used as part of the equipment design not only within individual walls but as contrast between walls. View the kitchen from one direction and everything is brown birch wood fronts. Turn around and all fronts are colored steel. This contrast adds variety and interest to the overall design. Roper gas built-in units are included in this kitchen.

The versatile IXL kitchen to be featured in an early 1958 issue of Household Magazine contains beautiful "softone" hardwood cabinets, rich and liveable as only natural grain wood can be.

There's Color, Fun At The Fair, You Can Capture It All On Film

By ARTHUR W. SEDLER

Technical Editor, Eastman Kodak Company

Ever think of lassoing the whole big State Fair of Texas? Like to bring it back home with you complete in all its color, action and thrills?

This is easy. Just take your camera along. Advance planning and careful use of your still or movie camera will let you capture the Fair and hold it for years on film.

Here's some simple advice to help you make better pictures at the State Fair:

The first suggestion is important to a good cook or a seasoned traveler as well as a photographer: plan ahead. What you've read about the Fair will provide good ideas of what you'll want to see and photograph. Decide on the sequence of pictures you'll take at the Fair. Later on, this sequence will tell a complete story about the day your family spent at the Fair. And to make it a complete story, plan to take pictures before and after your actual stay at the Fair. Snaps, slides or movies of the family getting ready for the Fair should be included as well as pictures of the sleepy children arriving home at the end of an enjoyable day.

Be sure you're equipped to take good pictures. If the family camera has been on a shelf for several months perhaps it should be checked by a photo dealer. You can have this done at the same time you buy enough film to shoot all the pictures you'll want at the Fair.

Take enough pictures. The professional photographer often shoots several hundred negatives on one job. To be sure, this is more than the family snapshotter will need, but by "overshooting" you'll be sure to have all the pictures that will tell your story. Too often, the "perfect picture" is spoiled because its subject blinked his eyes or a stranger walked in front of the camera.

Many of the finest pictures you'll find at the Fair will come up fast. You'll see and shoot . . . to capture fast action or a charming expression. Keep the camera ready for instant use.

Other shots should be carefully arranged. But when posing people, don't make their presence in the picture meaningless. A straight line of people looking at the camera is uninteresting and unrelated to what's going at the Fair. Have the family watch some one of the Fair's attractions when you snap their picture. Compose adults and children in different poses. And vary your camera angle and distance too. Shoot some pictures from eye-level, others from a kneeling position or get up high and look down at the subjects. Try close-ups of facial expressions, tight group shots and long-range pictures to achieve variety.

Some of the most exciting activities at the Fair take place indoors and at night. Here's where you'll probably need to use flash. A tiny flash bulb packs a lot of action-stopping light. Even in daylight flash can be an effective means to better pictures. It fills in the shadows of facial expressions, makes outdoor photos extra snappy. A supply of bulb flash is convenient to carry when you're shooting Kodachrome or Ektachrome transparencies outdoors.

How about exposures . . . what lens opening and shutter speed to use? There's a wide range of cameras and films on the market today and the best general advice is to follow the manufacturer's instructions which are enclosed in each carton of film.

At the State Fair of Texas, you have a center where photographic experts are on hand to answer any and all questions about picture-taking. Drop by and ask for the answers at the Kodak Photographic Information Center, General Exhibits Building.

Featured in the room will be the IXL Wonderwall, providing valuable storage space yet adding beauty to the room. The Tappan gas oven and top burner units, across from the Wonderwall, are flanked by long counters. All shelves in the wall cabinets are fully adjustable, making the kitchen easily adaptable to any situation. Swing out mixer shelves keep appliances out of sight, yet keep them within easy reach. A black recessed toe base does away with dust-catching spaces beneath cabinets yet still eliminates any stooping.

The Mayfair Kitchen, on display in the building's charming patio, may well prove to be the hit of the show with its great beauty and economy. Using gas throughout it opens an entire new field to prospective home-builders. A package kitchen, it is designed to be sold and installed as a single unit.

Also in the Gas building will be a collection of gas built-in cooking equipment, a group of gas heating and air conditioning units and a "Pot of Gold" laundry exhibits, featuring money-saving gas appliances.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner.

THE REST IS UP TO YOU!

How illnesses, like the so-called "Asiatic Flu", affects you and your family may well depend on you and your habits of health, according to the Medical Dept. of the Equitable Life Assurance Society.

Your general physical condition and habits of living are often determining factors in how you come through a bout of illness. Dr. Norvin C. Keifer, Chief Medical Director of The Equitable, said today. A sound and moderate approach to the fundamentals of good health is necessary. For example are you and your family getting enough sleep and rest, and regular exercise? Eating balanced meals for daily stamina and energy? Practicing the rules of cleanliness. Attending promptly to medical and dental needs?

Each of these principals for better health has a long history of investigation, accumulated knowledge and un-answered questions. Take rest and sleep. Though its basic mysteries are still unknown, certainly everyone from ancient Greek poet to present day physiologist, has recognized how important sleep can be to a feeling of well-being and general health. Scientific studies have not yet revealed what causes sleep, whether it is produced by a "sleep center" in the brain, a decreased flow of blood to the brain, or sleep-producing chemicals, to mention a few of the theories. Investigation does show, however, that the simple act of lying down gives your body a chance to rest up, time to recuperate from strain and stress.

But what is enough sleep? It varies from individual to individual. One way to tell if you are getting enough sleep is to answer the question, "Does your sleep really rest you?" If you feel so reluctant to get up that you can talk yourself into thinking you're "coming down with something" and ought to be in bed all day, take a closer look at your habits of health. Unless you are ill, if this of thing happens to you it may mean that you are getting enough restful sleep. And, if you aren't, you are taking a closer look at the possible reasons why.

For instance, you may sleep enough hours, but with some fresh air in the room, an uncomfortable bed, perhaps a sagging or too soft mattress. Or perhaps you were bed too strained and tense yesterday's activities to be fully for most of the night.

Many people find a routine for bedtime helps to get to sleep quickly and lax more. A prolonged tepid bath often soothes a tired and irritated nerves and pleasant and relaxing pre-sleeping custom. (Some children stimulated, instead of soothed by a bath before bed. When is the case, bedtime can be earlier and a quite story just before sleep.) You may not like a hot drink at bedtime, but if you are a heavy sleeper, it may be to choose a non stimulating like warm milk. A firm mattress, smooth sheets, and unwrinkled but not too tight blankets, you need them, all help. In addition, you might make sure your bedroom is quiet and dark. Setting the alarm a little earlier may help too. If you time both for dressing and good breakfast, you're likely find the day goes better. A well paced day will help.

Social Security Information

Some Burk Burnett social security beneficiaries have been caused unnecessary embarrassment and hardship in recent months, according to Erton F. Tate, local district manager. The difficulty could have been avoided by these people if they had understood what earnings count toward determining how many social security insurance checks they could receive for a year.
He mentioned the case of a young mother who was receiving survivors benefits for herself and her children based on her deceased husband's wage record. She works for a non-profit organization and her job is not covered by social security. Because of this she assumed that she could receive all of her benefit checks regardless of the amount she earned. She did not know that all earnings from employment or self-employment must be considered whether the work is under social security or not Tate said. By the time she found out differently, she had been overpaid several months and was required to make full refund of the amount.
Another recent case by Tate was that a Burk Burnett man who applied for his social security several months ago, drew one check, and then had them stopped because he expected to earn over the $1200 limit. Several months later he found that he had needlessly deprived himself of his benefits. His expected earnings was stock dividends and a pension that his former employer paid him. Earnings such as these do not count in figuring income for the retirement test, so this man's monthly old age payments were resumed and his back payments sent to him.

Some other non-earned income which does not affect social security benefits are: Income from savings, investments, insurance and rents. Tate advises all social security beneficiaries who are not certain about their rights under the retirement test to contact their local social security office for further information.

Petroleum Industry Roundup

Of the past 12 months... a world oil crisis... the Suez Canal closing... Texas oil ranks high... the Free World's safety...

In pointing to rising petroleum industry costs, Simons said hikes in wages and steel materials since the 1953 crude oil price increase have jumped industry costs 35 to 50 cents for each barrel produced.

Drilling and production phases of Texas petroleum industry operations employ more than 129,000 Texans. These workers and 48,000 refinery employees enjoy the highest wages among the state's industrial groups, Simons said.

As of July, 1957, drilling and production workers were earning an average weekly wage amounting to $109.62, while refinery workers were earning an average of $121.41 each week.

Since 1947, average hourly earnings of both Texas oil and gas production and refining workers have risen 69 percent, he said.

From 1947 to year end 1956, steel and iron prices jumped 63 percent, according to wholesale price indexes, while metal products rose 52 percent, and machinery and motive products climbed 43 percent.

From 1947 to present, crude oil prices have increased only 18 percent, he said.

An increase in the value of crude oil is not wholly applied by the producer to offset rising production costs, but is shared proportionately with land and mineral owners, he pointed out.

Simons said that oil men last year lost some $377 million in dry holes alone.

A study by the Texas Mid-Continent shows that the sale of oil, which currently runs at more than $3 billion a year, is a basic part of the Texas economy and ranks in importance with agriculture ($1.8 billion) and value added by manufacture ($2.6 billion).

Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation News

Improvement of native ranges by deferment from grazing can be seen on the Dr. W. H. Ogdon farm northeast of Iowa Park, according to Elvy Sargent, Soil Conservationist of Iowa Park.

Dr. Ogdon has one 40 acre pasture which was rested during growing season. It will be grazed with replacement heifers during the winter and spring. Sargent added. An electric fence was used to protect 160 acres from grazing.

Dr. Ogdon and Sargent found some big Bluestem showing up in mixture with buffalo-grass, blue grama and sidecoats grama. Weeds were a problem but less weeds were found where grass covers were adequate, Sargent stated.

Good seedings of KR bluestem and buffalograss on waterway and land retired from cultivation were observed on Otto Mundkowsky's farm recently by Mr. Mundkowsky and Elvy Sargent. Some small loss of plants due to dry summer was reported but adequate plants have survived, according to Sargent. Weeds were controlled by mowing new seedings, and pastures were deferred from grazing.

Soil Conservation Service technicians ran diversion terrace lines and staked waterway for Math Weisenfeld of Electra.

Albert Brockriede, district co-operator of Electra, is constructing field terraces and a diversion terrace.

A farm pond has been completed for A. L. Dowden of Electra.

Conservation booths at Texas-Oklahoma Fair are co-sponsored by Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District. Fenton Dale, chairman of the board, reports this year's entries drew 11 fine booths. First place went to Bellevue FFA chapter. Don Hamm is chapter advisor. Bellevue booth showed a farm scene after treatment with coordinated conservation as compared with an untreated farm. Burk Burnett FFA chapter under leadership of Bryan Farris, took second place honors with a booth on range conditions. Cottle County 4-H clubs received 3rd place awards. Kirby Clayton is the County Agent.

News From The County Agent

Proper harvesting and handling of seed cotton can add from $2.50 to $19 a bale to the income from this year's cotton crop, says B. T. Haws, county agent. Careless methods of harvesting and handling on the other hand can cause great damage to lint quality and lower its value.

Here are his suggestions for maintaining the inherent qualities of the crop. Do not harvest cotton when it is wet. Wait until 9 or 9:30 to start harvesting operations regardless of whether hand or machines are used. Cotton harvesting machines should not be operated at night when dew is present.

Machines should be kept clean and in good repair and serviced at the end of each day in accordance with the operator's manual. It must be remembered that the most elaborate gin cannot be expected to remove grass from lint cotton. Haws advises defoliating when necessary. It will check or prevent boll rot and aid in preventing green leaf stain which lowers quality.

If a stripper is to be used, the county agent advises waiting from 7 to 14 days after pentra or other dissicants are applied before starting the stripping operation. A green boll box should be used on the front of a wire-sided or slat-sided trailer and bolls caught, if infested with boll weevils or pink bollworms, should be burned. The stripper should be equipped with a blower under the elevator and cotton should not be trampled in the trailer.

Haws says cooperation with the ginner in grouping cotton on the gin yard according to method of harvesting, moisture and trash content can add dollars to price of a bale of cotton.

Mechanical harvesting of cotton, points out Haws, means much more than putting machines in the field. It includes all aspects of production including plant breeding, field arrangement, soil care, crop residue disposal, seedbed preparation, fertilization, planting, weed insect and disease control, harvesting and improved ginning.

High production, long period of lay, low death loss and good feed efficiency are the "bread and butter" of the present-day egg producer.

If any of these are neglected the result is a lower profit, says B. T. Haws, county agent. The modern hen, they say, is bred to lay at a high rate, but skillful management must be practiced to gain maximum profits.

TEXAS CRUDE OIL PRODUCTION came from 194 counties during the 1956 fiscal year, according to this map by the Texas Mid-Continent Oil and Gas Association. Four counties produced gas only. Lipscomb County, northeastern Panhandle, broke into the production column for the first time, while Edwards County, southwest Texas, dropped out. Culbertson County, far West Texas, resumed production during the fiscal year after a year's absence.

Only healthy pullets should go into the laying house. Give them ample ventilation and fourteen hours of light a day to increase egg production.

Health is important. If a disease appears, a prompt and reliable diagnosis should be made. Carefully check some birds each week for external parasites, and if found, begin treatment at once. At the first signs of cannibalism or feather picking, de-beak the birds. Cull sick or injured birds for four or five months after birds are in production and dispose of dead ones by completely burning or using a disposal pit.

Gather eggs at least three times a day and if possible store them at 55 degrees F. to help preserve egg quality. Keep a good set of records. They are so important that an operation may fail without them.

Sanitation must be practiced in a floor operation. The best prevention of disease and parasites is clean and sanitary living conditions. Use about three inches of litter on the floor and give each bird about three square feet of floor space. Provide four to six inches of feeder space and one inch of water space for each bird. Furnish one nest to every four hens and keep non-layers out of the flock. Do not mix pullets with old hens.

A hen in a cage depends on the producer for food, water and proper living conditions. Remember this and give them the care they deserve in regard to sanitation, ventilation, feed, water and disease and parasite control.

If you are buying small grain seed, don't let the small extra cost stop you from buying certified seed. B. T. Haws, county agent says a farmer can save his own planting seed of good varieties, however, there's always the danger of mechanical mixing in the combine or drill.

So the rule Haws suggests to follow is when you buy small grain seed, buy certified seed. The small extra cost is mighty good insurance of the origin of the seed, that they've been inspected by the State Department of Agriculture and they are the variety that you wish to plant. Another advantage, certified seed must come up to high germination standards as well as being free of weeds and disease. So, examine the tag on the seed you buy and if you buy seed, buy certified seed.

An egg grading school will be held in Wichita Falls on Jan. 15, 16 and 17th, announced B. T. Haws, county agent. Poultry producers interested in learning to grade eggs should make plans to attend this course. It will be free.

A field day will be held at the Agricultural Experiment Station, Spur, Friday, Oct. 4th and Mr. Paul Marion, Supt., has extended county agents, farmers and ranchers of District 3 a cordial invitation to attend.

Most Texas stockmen have had a five-year lesson on what it's like to be without grass so they are extremely careful about fire in their pasture. However, there is always the danger of lighted matches or cigarettes dropped along side highways or in the woods by hunters. County agent B. T. Haws has suggested plowing fireguards around deferred pastures that contain an abundance of dry grass.

Then too, it is also a good idea to protect farm woodlands and farm buildings with fire guards. A little extra time and effort to help protect grass, woodland and buildings will certainly pay big dividends.

Positive action by families and entire neighborhoods can greatly reduce farm and home accidents. The harvest season is in full swing and warns the Texas

Farm and Safety Council means longer hours for and their families, more way travel with farm equipment and increased chances of accidents. Be safe by eliminating accident hazards.

A tamale salesman who can't speak English had a driver's license finally after justice went out of its way to help him get one. The salesman, Fabian Hernandez, 29, was hauled into court for the fourth time for driving without a license. Asked, "Why in the world don't you get a license?" Hernandez replied that he had been to the state high way license department several times, but no one there could understand what he wanted. Arresting Patrolman Raymond Church offered to go with Hernandez to get the license, but Church can't speak Spanish. A Spanish-speaking secretary solved that problem, and Hernandez passed the test with flying colors. Judge Harold Hall was so pleased he dismissed the last two tickets against the tamale salesman.

IT'S NOT THE SIZE THAT'S MOST IMPORTANT!
And so it is with your credit. It's not the size or the number of purchases you make that counts most, but the way you handle the credit you have been given. Remember that PROMPT PAYMENT is the most important thing in credit. It's just "common sense" to help yourself by paying EXACTLY as agreed.

First Meeting of Current Lit. Club Was September 26

The re-assembly of the members of the Current Literature club for the resuming of study and activities for the year 1957-58 was observed with a brunch Thursday morning, Sept. 26th in the home of Mrs. C. M. Archer. Mrs. Fred Hunt was co-hostess.

For this occasion, Mrs. Hunt gave the invocation. The guest tables, with their appointments of silver and china, were centered with bud vases with pink roses. A dainty and delicious refreshment plate was served.

Following the coffee, a business session was presided over by Mrs. Ralph White, president. The meeting was opened with the members reading the club collect in unison. The resignation of Mrs. Roy Magers as recording secretary was accepted with regret and Mrs. J. L. Caffee was elected to fill the place.

The treasurer's report and a brief one from the project-committee were given. Mrs. C. M. Archer, chairman of the committee for the Antiques display during the 50th Anniversary Celebration was given a rising vote of thanks for the commendable work done on this project.

The proceeds of this display went towards the purchase and installation of a loud speaker system for the town hall. Mrs. John Brookman, project chairman, and her committee, together with Mrs. White, president, and other members are especially to be commended for the consummation of this outstanding project.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. J. L. Caffee. Mrs. White, president, extended greetings to the old members and welcomed one new member, Mrs. E. B. McCabe. Using the ship theme which was used at the installation of officers this year, Mrs. White said "Our ship has been anchored in the harbor this summer, but that the crew had been busy with community activities. Now we are ready to embark on the sea for a new year's work."

Mrs. W. W. Chambers, year book chairman, gave a preview and brief resume of programs featured throughout the year. Other members of this committee include Mrs. J. L. Caffee and Mrs. F. M. McMurtry. A vote of thanks was also given them for their splendid work.

Miss Ella Billingslea gave the club counselor's report after which Mrs. A. H. Lohofener gave an inspirational talk on Advancing Spiritually. Her scripture was taken from Cor. 16:13 "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith quit you like men, be strong."

One of the most impressive state ments that she made was "Honesty, integrity, sobriety, truth, faith, love, such are the safe stars by which we steer our ship."

The program was concluded with the reading of the constitution and by-laws by Mrs. Marjorie Kauer.

An atmosphere of enthusiasm stimulated by good fellowship and heightened by the awareness of progressive planning characterized the program.

Those present for the meeting included Mesdames C. W. Boyd, John Brookman, J. L. Caffee, C. R. Chambers, W. W. Chambers, O. L. Clark, Fred Hunt, F. G. Jeffers, L. R. Jones, Marjorie Kauer, Roy T. Magers, E. B. McCabe, D. H. Smith, J. S. Vanderberg, W. C. Vann, R. W. White, A. H. Lohofener, Archer and Miss Ella Billingslea.

"You are richer than I think," I said. John startled. "Who, me?" asked skeptically. "Yes, John, over the years you've accumulated things around your house that you probably don't need. In clothing alone you have more than you can use. I don't doubt that your house is full of things you don't need. It's time to get rid of them. I'll give you $1000 worth out of the coverage."

"I guess you're right," he answered. "And that only $1000 to cover all the contents of your home you think it's adequate for all your jewelry, appliances, kitchen utensils, silverware, rugs and carpets, furniture in every room, picture books, hobby and equipment?"

"Golly no," he said. "Imagine it would total over $7000. But I'd realized before just that policy covered. You said $2000 on the furniture sounded okay. But when I saw the contents of my house, I can see it is really short of the mark."

"Make a rapid inventory of the contents of each room tonight. Then let me know tomorrow how much insurance you'll need."

"Fine," John said. "May we assist you?" Telephone JO-9-3161
