Haste Not In Best Interests of Our School System

Thursday night, February 13, 1958 may well be a very important date for taxpayers of Burkburnett Independent School District to remember. We are informed that on this date the majority of the members of the school board will vote against extending the contract of Supt. Ralph Davis. We do not believe this action would serve the best interests of this school district. School board members are elected by the taxpayers of the school district. It is their duty, so far as is possible, to carry out the wishes of the majority of said taxpayers and to look out for the best interests of the school.

We beg the members of the school board to give this proposition more serious thought and consideration. Make your decision AFTER talking with more of the taxpayers and school patrons. There is no need for haste in this matter.

Mr. Davis' contract expires in June, 1958. There will be an election in April of this year to elect two members to the school board. We are further informed that the majority of the present school board wishes to elect a successor to Mr. Davis BEFORE the school board election. Why all the hurry? If the present board does not renew Mr. Davis' contract, it is almost a certainty that two NEW board members will be elected in April. We believe that if a vote of the taxpayers were taken that 90% of them would vote as being in favor of the efficient manner in which Mr. Davis has administered school affairs in the past.

Ralph Davis stands head and shoulders above any group of educators he may be among. Not only in stature, but in his ability and love and devotion to his profession. He is a fine, upright Christian gentleman, many years a teacher of a men's Bible class. He is a devoted husband and father. He gives generously of his means and time to all civic improvement projects. When a school activity is going on at any of the school buildings, even up to six nights a week, Supt. Ralph Davis is there to protect taxpayers property, and to ride herd on our children and yours. If you want information about any phase of local school operation go to Supt. Davis' office. He will turn to a filing cabinet, get out a file and go into the details with any interested person. He familiarizes himself with every school problem and spends hours and hours helping to work out such problems. Just what more could be expected of a school superintendent?

Every few years the cry arises, "Let's get rid of Ralph Davis." Why? you ask. "He has been here too long. He runs off our best teachers to other schools. As to the latter, we have lost some mighty fine teachers through the years. But Ralph Davis had nothing to do with it. Some of our good teachers go to other jobs for sometimes $1,300 more per year than this district pays. Why blame the Supt? If companies got rid of their men because they had been with them too long, then there would be no dinners held to honor a number of men on their retirement, some with 40 years service, and some even 50 years service with the same company.

Please, let's not be hasty, and let's not let personalities enter into any decision so serious.

Wolfe Motor Co. Hopes to Have Formal Opening Last of Month

Father and Son Stationed At Sheppard AFB

Like father, like son. Such is the case of Master Sergeant Joseph R. Wooton, Sr., and Airman Basic Joseph R. Wooton, Jr., both assigned to Sheppard Air Force base, because the younger Wooton is beginning the same career that his father chose almost twenty years ago.

The younger member of the family, who enlisted in the United States Air Force Dec. 6, 1957, took his basic training at Lackland AFB, and now is attending the aircraft jet engine mechanic course here. A resident of Burkburnett since Nov. 1949, he attended Burkburnett High school where he was active in the band.

Sgt. Wooton is an instructor supervisor in the Department of Aircraft Mechanics and has been assigned to Sheppard since August, 1, 1956, when he returned from an overseas assignment to Thule, Greenland. He had previously served here from November, 1949 until 1955 when he went overseas. On his first assignment here he was an instructor and phase chief in the Engine Change branch of the Aircraft and Engine school.

A veteran with 19 years and nine months service, Sgt. Wooton also was in England from 1942 until September, 1945. Before coming to Sheppard Sergeant Wooton was at Eglin AFB, Florida, where he worked in the experimental guided missile group.

He began his military service with the US Army in the Field Artillery and transferred to the Air Corps in 1942.

The decorations and awards which he has received are Good Conduct, American Defense, European Theatre with six battle stars, World War II Victory Medal, National Defense and American Campaign.

Sgt. Wooton and his wife, Lorene, have two other children, Walter Howard, a student in the Eighth grade and Elizabeth Lorene, who's in the fifth grade at Burkburnett. Sergeant Wooton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John D. Wooton of Jennings, Okla.

Pat Clack Biography Featured In Drum Major Magazine

The National Baton Twirling Association, Janesville, Wisc., in conjunction with the editors of the Drum Major magazine, today announced the release of their ninth annual library edition of "Who's Who in Baton Twirling."

Featured in the book is a picture and biography of Pat Clack of Burkburnett, Texas.

The handsomely bound 1958 gold-trimmed edition is being distributed to leading public and school libraries across the country.

In the 448 pages of reading, pictures and reference material is the history of twirling from ancient ceremonial dances of Siam, Arabia and the Samoan Islands through the evolution of the early American wine jug on a stick to "pep up" the bandsmen down to the colorful wholesome art of today.

Of more than 500,000 baton twirlers now active in nearly every city and town in the United States, only 1200 have been selected to appear in this years edition.

The aim of the officials in screening these outstanding young men and women in the twirling field, all leaders with reputable achievements beyond their own local area, is to provide a useful and practical biographical reference tool in America's greatest twirling stars.

All America can be proud of its majorettes and baton twirlers, and those selected for this honor. They have established a symbol for today's youth to look up to. This was very accurately exemplified by J. Edgar Hoover when he said, "The knowledge that you young people are directing your energies and talents along such wholesome lines is very reassuring."

Wolfe Motor Co., new Ford dealership in Burkburnett, hopes to have their formal opening some time near the end of February. The new motor company was formerly known as Tom Britton Motors. Purchase of the dealership has gone through on a local level, but confirmation has not been received from Detroit yet. It is believed the final ok will come through in a week or two.

Owners of the new concern will be J. Harold Wolfe and his son, Joe K. Wolfe. Mr. Wolfe and his son have been in the automobile business in Wichita Falls for the past ten years. They will move their families to Burkburnett when suitable housing is available.

Personnel for the new concern has already been engaged. Mrs. Ruth Larson will be bookkeeper. Leon Pace, parts manager. Joe Eastman and Walter Leonard, mechanics. C. W. Carter and T. E. Austin, salesmen.

Watch for announcement of the formal opening in the near future.

Information About H. C. Herndon Is Being Sought

Pierre, S. D. Feb. 7, 1958

Dear Mr. Brookman or Mr. Dodson:

I am writing you for some help and would appreciate any information you can give me. I am trying to find my grandfather and I have looked and written different places for some twenty years. Only a week ago I find that he lived in Burkburnett, Texas, 1914 is the last time any one knew of him alive and he was in Burkburnett. I understand he raised Steel Dust quarter horses, was married and had 4 children. He is supposed to have lived there until his death.

His name was H. C. HERNDON, or perhaps Hays Herndon.

Before he moved to Texas he was in El Nora, Indiana and his wife died in child birth. He had a son, William Herndon. After his wife's death he moved to Texas and his sister raised his son. In 1915 William Herndon came to South Dakota. In 1916 he married and I was born in 1917, then in 1918 my father died. Little is known of my father and even less about my grandfather. I have looked for so long. Maybe you may have an obituary and where he is buried, also if any of his other children may be alive.

Thank you very much, Rose K. Duphala Box 614 Pierre, S. Dakota

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CUERO, TEXAS, RECORD: "Jules Verne wrote about space travel back in 1865 and predicted that the Americans would be first to reach the moon, and the Russians second. If it works out that way, we'll forgive and forget those sputniks."

PILGER, NEB., ENTERPRISE: "How wonderful would be this world we live in if we could all keep Christmas in our hearts—all year round; if we could will our hearts with love and do away with hatred and intolerance; if we could replace the yearning for the gold and pleasures of the world with the virtues of faith and moral courage."

RAYNE, LA., NEWS: "Basic research is the quest for fundamental discoveries which can open new pathways for technical advancement and human betterment. It can be carried on in the laboratories of government and industry. But it is best conducted in the atmosphere of dedicated free inquiry which prevails in our colleges and universities."

BALTIMORE, MD., DAILY RECORD: "It is obvious that competition in all lines is growing keener. This puts a new premium on good selling, good public relations and a keen analysis of the market in which we operate."

Huge Waste In Military Aid

"How much of the $24,000,000,000 appropriated by Congress for this (military assistance) program has been wasted?"

The House government operations committee asks the question and at the same time indicates that the waste runs into billions of dollars.

Specific cases are spelled out. Planes have been given to countries that had no pilots to fly them. Vehicles have been given to countries that had no gasoline to fuel them. The Army in Germany bought an 84-year supply of boiled linseed oil and more than 100 tons of nails because it wanted to use up some counter-part funds before the time limit on them ran out.

The United States gave Britain $112,000,000 worth of machine tools, only to find itself paying rent on use of its own machines. The British government rented the tools to British plants, which charged off the rent as a part of the contract and passed it on to this country.

These are some of the facts that the committee determined. How many more instances of the kind there have been, one can only guess. The committee had difficulty getting at the facts since reports on such expenditures are labeled secret and "the agency being investigated decides how far the investigation shall be of use by those who have the right and duty to investigate. This practice is indefensible."

Congress has every right to determine the facts so as to guide it in future legislation. Interference with its investigation is indeed indefensible.

The committee's principal criticisms, however, were not directed at specific examples of waste but at the lack of clear policy to guide military assistance advisory groups in foreign countries. "Diplomatic and political considerations often dominate and outweigh military considerations." The result is that countries get arms which might not be able to furnish a single soldier for the free world cause. The committee might well have cited the example of Yugoslavia, which could but would not be of assistance to the free world in case of war, but which has been given a vast volume of modern weapons including jet planes.

"Obviously," the committee stated, "a complete review is called for." It certainly is. A complete review and report should be made before any action is taken on the President's foreign aid request for fiscal 1959.

Why Insurance Rates Are Higher

Insurance costs are going up—a fact which provides one more example of how inflation and other dollar-depreciating forces come straight home to us all.

The why of the matter can be simply explained.

Since 1950, for instance, the costs of building materials and labor have advanced more than 37 percent, according to the government issued Construction Review. This means that every time a fire occurs the cost of making the necessary repairs is far greater than it used to be. Thus, fire insurance rates that once were adequate are no longer and rate increases are unavoidable.

That situation is comparable in the case of windstorm insurance. North Atlantic hurricanes alone in 1954-55 produced windstorm losses of $250 million and 1957 windstorms in the South and west were in greater number than ever before. So higher windstorm insurance rates are needed to offset higher wind loss payments.

Then we come to the automobile. Modern cars with their drape-around windshields, complex tail fin assemblies, Christmas tree lights, and other such features, become ever more expensive to repair. Juries tend to bring in bigger and bigger verdicts in casualty cases, even for comparatively minor injuries. Hospital and medical care costs are up. This year, the highway death toll may approach or reach 40,000 and there will be more than 1 million injuries. It all adds up to the plain fact that the insurance companies must meet steadily increasing costs—and the only solution is higher rates.

Finally, here's the point to keep in mind. Over the long pull, we, the policy holders, make the insurance rates. If losses soar, rates must follow. If losses go down, so do rates. We can help reduce insurance costs in the future by diligently practicing fire prevention in our homes and places of business, and by avoiding excessive speed and all the other accident producing driving habits.

News From The Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

The continuing decline of our economy continue to cause great concern. A number of witnesses that have appeared in general tax hearings that have been held by the Committees on Ways and Means have testified one way to cure the downward trend is an immediate revision of our present oppressive Federal tax rates. History has demonstrated on a number of occasions that when taxes have been reduced, actually the revenues of the Federal Government have gone up. I am hopeful that some reasonable reductions and revisions can be made in our tax system during this session of Congress.

Everyone is familiar with the discussion that is taking place about who might take over if a President became incapacitated. The confusion in this situation is caused by the fact that there is no provision in the Constitution in determining the disability of a President. Mr. Eisenhower was the first to suggest that some solution to this problem should be reached. The result has been that many plans have been advanced. The one that seems to be most likely to be adopted is one that would provide for a commission composed of seven members. That would be the vice President, the Secretary of State, the Speaker of the House, and the Majority and Minority Leaders of both the House and the Senate. At least five of these seven members would have to agree in any action, and such action could only take place after competent medical advice. An important feature of this plan is that it is between the Executive and Legislative branches of our Government.

At one time or another nearly everyone has received obscene and filthy literature through the mail. Two measures that would prohibit the movement of this type of literature in the United States mails will shortly be considered by the Congress. There is a real need for this legislation, and I hope that it will get speedy approval.

Mr. Flynn Stewart was a visitor in Washington this week.

Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District News

Earl Sargent, past manager of the Agricultural Department of the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce, has been selected as business or professional man making the greatest unselfish contribution to soil conservation during 1957. Fenton Dale, chairman of the Board, has announced.

Sargent became radio farm director of KWFT, Wichita Falls on Jan. 1, 1958, Dale added.

An engraved plaque will be presented to Earl Sargent at the Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District Banquet of Champions tentatively scheduled for April in Wichita Falls, according to Fenton Dale.

The district board pointed out that as manager of the Agricultural Department of the Chamber of Commerce, Sargent assisted in District Agricultural workers council (DAWC), Bridwell Soil Builder's Awards Program, Farm and Ranch club, Frank M. Wood Wildlife Program, North Texas and Southern Oklahoma Area Development Association, Wichita Irrigated Valley committee, and served on the district program committee.

Programs on soil conservation have been scheduled each year by the Farm and Ranch club that pointed up districts, water and soil conservation. Bridwell Program added stubble mulching which is a most needed district conservation practice; DAWC held land and grass judging clinics that provided training for our youth and furnished stronger teams at contests sponsored by the district, Dale commented.

Mr. Sargent is recognized for his help to districts in furnishing publicity about events, programs, practices, and cooperators on his radio and TV programs. Conservation experiences and benefits received high priority on programs prepared by him.

The district board has summarized Sargent's assistance and are forwarding it to Fort Worth Press for regional and state judging.

Current Lit. Club Presents Ping Pong Set To Youth Center

The Current Literature club of Burkburnett has given to the Youth Center a new Ping Pong table complete with net, paddles and balls. This is a most generous gesture of the club and is very much appreciated.

The Youth Center is doing very well at the present time. The response of adults in giving time in a supervisory capacity was very good. Over one hundred boys and girls paid their dues to the center in January and many more should avail themselves to the opportunities offered by the Center.

The City Light department has put up two flood lights near the Center and the Park lighting is being kept in excellent condition. If anyone has usable card tables, games, good magazines, chairs, that they would be willing to donate to the Center, the Board members would be delighted to pick them up at your convenience.

The Board of Directors is called to meet at the Center Feb. 17th at 6:00 p. m. Anyone interested in the Center and its activities are most cordially invited.

SPRING CLEAN-UP

Perhaps it is a little early for Spring Clean-up Time, but have you noticed that our old Telephone building is gone and that our whole backyard is undergoing a face lifting? This project will be completed soon with fencing, additional paving, rearrangement of our service garage, and landscaping of the whole premises at 317 East 4th.

Work began this week on rearranging our cable facilities in Burkburnett, and cable splicing and cutover work associated with the dial conversion last fall. New cable projects are scheduled along the Sheppard Field Road and to serve the Chambers and Brown Additions to Burkburnett.

These projects are designed to furnish more and better telephone service and to keep pace with the growth and development of Burkburnett.

AT YOUR SERVICE

Some friends of mine are high in their praise of the telephone for its dependability in practically any kind of weather, day or night. They're happy with their telephone service and we're glad they are. But we're not content to rest on our laurels.

To improve their and your service, new ideas to improve telephone equipment are constantly tested by telephone scientists. New methods are continually put to work to help your calls go through easier and faster. Behind the scenes, experienced telephone employees work "around the clock" to give you the best in telephone service.

These three reasons, new ideas, new methods and experience, are why telephone service never stops improving, yet remains easy on the family budget.

OUT OF THE PAST

I was thumbing through some old magazines the other day and found some household hints that had been published during the war years. One column suggested using an egg-timer to limit your Long Distance calls to three minutes.

I started wondering if anyone is still using an egg-timer out of a force of habit. I hope not because you certainly don't need to.

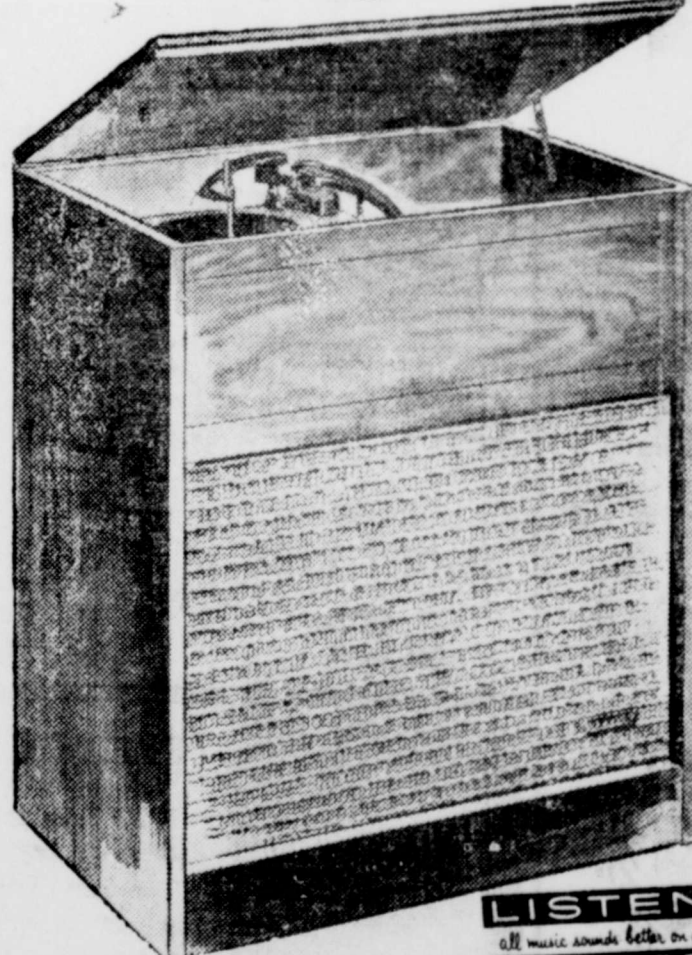

Today, there are plenty of Long Distance lines. You can talk as long as you like and as often as you like. In fact, it's wiser to take your time on Long Distance calls and say everything you want to say. One six-minute call always costs less than two three-minute calls. The longer you talk, the less it costs on a per-minute basis. And, you save an additional one-third when you call station-to-station.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Texas Tax Bite $3.8 Billions For Year 1957

In 1956 Texans paid a total of $3.8 billion in taxes, a sum equal to one-fourth of their personal income for that year. Federal taxes amounted to $2.6 billion, or 68% of the total. State taxes were $169 million, or 17%; local taxes were $537 million, or 15 percent.

These facts are contained in the first research staff report made for the Texas State Tax Study commission to provide it with facts upon which to base its report to the 1959 Legislature. This commission was created by the 1957 Legislature to conduct a comprehensive study of the entire state and local tax structure. Other salient facts brought out in the report are:

1. The total 1956 tax bill averaged $420 for each man, woman and child in Texas.
2. State and local taxes in Texas totaled $1.2 billion in 1956 as compared with $385 million in 1946 and $853 million in 1950.
3. In 1946 the average per person was $28.90 in state taxes and $24.70 in local taxes. By 1956 the per person average was $89.30 of state taxes and $60.20 of local taxes.
4. Property tax collections account for about 90 percent of Texas local revenues. The state however, has in recent years shifted toward greater reliance on selective sales taxes (gasoline, cigarettes, alcoholic beverages, motor vehicles, etc.), severance taxes (on oil, gas and sulphur), and business taxes. Today only about 5 percent of state tax revenue comes from property.
5. Over the past 25 years, the Texas tax structure has changed significantly. In 1932, local governments raised two-thirds of the combined state and local revenue. By 1940, the state-local division was equal. When World War II ended, state government was collecting 54 percent and local governments 46 percent. This ratio has continued unchanged.

Sen. William S. Fly of Victoria is chairman of Tax Study Commission. Representative Frates Seeligson of San Antonio is vice chairman. John McKee is secretary. Other members are Senators Otis Lock, Lufkin and David Ratliff, Stamford; Representatives John A. Hueber, Sr., Bay City and Richard Slack, Pecos; and Hugo Loewenstern, Amarillo, and John R. Stockton, Austin. Six members of the Texas Research League's professional staff have been made available to form the Commission's own staff.

Grade School News

Section 6-3 has been studying about the Constellations and where they are located in the sky when visible in the winter and the summer. We also found out how to identify each of the constellations. We have also been studying about forests and how we can help in taking care of them and the many uses we can gain from the forests. It is also most exciting to go and see the beautiful trees and to find out how many products we can gain from the trees.

All of our sections are looking forward to the time of year when a young man's fancy turns to lighter thoughts of love and this is manifested by Valentine. The small Red Hearts will fill the air on Feb. 14th, so come by and help join in the fun.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Adams had as their weekend guests, her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Wilkinson of Ft. Worth.

PAUL BUNYAN, PLEASE NOTE Calligian WATER CONDITIONING It just can't be, but it is! A continuous stream of water (and soft water, at that) flows from a giant faucet attached to nothing but space. Paul Bunyan could have used this in his home, and from all outward appearances would have saved plenty on his water bill. The mystery faucet, developed by Calligian, Inc., Northbrook, Ill., manufacturers of water softeners and water conditioning equipment, is not really as mysterious as it seems. A centrifugal pump inside the drum forces water up a glass tube into the faucet, from where it tumbles down the outside of the tube back into the drum. The water is then forced up through the glass tube and into the... but this is where we came in. Calligian used the device to demonstrate the giant capacity of its new completely automatic water softener. The new softener has an electronic device which can be set to regenerate at any interval—weekly, daily, or any combination of days—depending on soft water requirements.

COOPERATIVE HOME EXTENSION FAMILY SERVICE COMMUNITY HD

Mrs. G. O. Baley, Mrs. Bee Bryant and Mrs. J. H. Meyer, family economics demonstrators for the Cooper Home Demonstration Club have met and completed their plans for the year.

Family economics demonstrators develop a demonstration, in their own home, to improve the business procedures of the home. Some of their work includes: 1. Keeping income-expense records. 2. Organizing a family file and business center. 3. Giving children an allowance. 4. Study of the family insurance program. 5. Making a will. 6. Securing birth certificates. 7. Improving management of the bank account, etc. Any family could surely profit by selecting some of the goals for the year.

Mrs. Bryant has been a demonstrator for 3 years, Mrs. Baley for 2 years and Mrs. Meyer is starting her first year.

Risk is a part of anything that has to do with the future—change is normal. However, most families want to reduce financial risk as much as possible. Family planning can help guide the direction of change and reduce risk, says Thelma Wirges, county HD agent.

Economy seems to be slowing from the high gear of recent years to a less inflationary level. Many families may have difficulty in adjusting budgets, especially if the wage earner has an irregular income or is out of work for a time.

Food, clothing and shelter are first considerations. No family can afford to risk poor health if it can be avoided. After these primary needs are met some families may have little for such items as security, while others may be looking for a safe place to invest capital. Each family must decide what risk can be afforded.

A well-made family spending plan will help avoid monthly commitments. It will help control expanding wants. Plans may need to be adjusted from time to time, to fit changing needs. But a well made plan will help reduce financial risk and family stress and strain. It is sure to promote greater satisfaction in family living. Plan now to reduce financial risk by careful planning.

Mrs. J. L. Graham, Lester Brooks, Woodrow Harris, Miss Thelma Wirges and Miss Ethel Lynn Geslin have just returned from a district training meeting for HD club women. The meeting was held in Haskell.

Officers of the City View Rural Neighborhood held their training meeting this past week. Plans were made for programs for the new year, committee work and for organization of the record book to be entered in the District contest, sponsored cooperatively by the Farmer Stockman Magazine and Extension Service. Those attending were: Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cissell, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. McHugh, Mrs. C. E. Nolen and Mrs. Guy Ragland.

Then, here were the two inebriates at the bar. "It says here that they produced over 50,000 carloads of grapes in California last year," said the one to the other.

"Start drinking man," replied his friend, they're gaining on us.

More than 250,000 people per year visit the Texas National Forests.

It's an easy trick to turn a white cotton sweat shirt into a smart siesta jacket. Open the shirt down the front and finish the edges. Then make a colorful border design using Wright's rick rack and bias tape. When it needs laundering, simply toss the jacket into the washing machine.

Enforcement of Egg Law Begins Monday, Feb. 17

Only a few more days remain before the Texas Egg Law becomes effective.

On Monday, Feb. 17th official enforcement of the new law is inaugurated by the Texas Department of Agriculture. After that date, Texas will no longer be the only state in the union without legal protection for the egg industry.

The new egg law is essentially a grading and labeling act. Briefly, it requires all eggs sold with in the state to be properly marked as to its grade, and the eggs must meet the specifications indicated on the carton or crate whenever inspectors from the department makes one of their frequent spot checks at any level of trade.

The end result of this new law will benefit all person connected with the industry. The producer is given an incentive to market high quality eggs that bring a premium price. The better his eggs, the more his profit and his good quality product will not have to compete on the same levels with inferior eggs.

The housewife, too will be relieved of the hit-or-miss method of egg buying. No guesswork is involved when she picks her eggs at the market. The grade on the box is the grade of the egg inside and she still will have a wide choice of quality and price according to her cooking needs.

The entire egg industry can expect a boost, also. For years, Texas eggmen have been plagued with raise or misleading labeling methods within the trade. Various phrases were used in advertising which led to confusion in trying to buy high quality eggs. Now the trade has a uniform system of grading on which to base their price.

In addition, egg handlers can buy and sell Texas eggs of a known quality without having to rely on out of state purchases for accurately graded eggs. This will help to keep Texas money in Texas.

When the Legislature passed the egg law, it also set up a Texas Egg marketing advisory board to aid in policy making and enforcement problems. Agriculture Commission John White is chairman of this board, with D. W. Reneau of Seguin serving as vice chairman.

Other members of the board are T. D. Craddock, Hamilton; G. F. Siebel, Burton; Jim W. Whitaker, Paris; Jack Dubose, Jonzales; Marvin Gilbreath, Weimar; Dewey Stringer, Houston; Tom R. Booth, San Antonio; and Frank Ehrle, Childress.

News From The County Agent

Applying fertilizer to the farm pond not only increases the amount of food in the water but also is one of the best practices for controlling submerged mosses in the pond, says B. T. Haws, county agent.

The first application of fertilizer should be made immediately he says. Since the pond water is usually deficient in the same nutrients as is the soil over which the water flows into the pond or tank. Haws suggests the use of the same commercial mixture as is used for crops on the farm. An initial application of 100 pounds for each surface acre of water is suggested. This amount should cause a change in the color of the water. This is due to the development of a great amount of planton which is used for food by the fish and organisms upon which fish feed. Bloom is another term used to describe the water in a properly fertilized pond.

Haws advised periodic checks of the pond to determine when additional fertilizer applications are needed. He says to submerge the arm into the water to elbow depth and if the thumb can be plainly seen, more fertilizer should be applied. Only the amount required to get the desired bloom should be applied and this may be about half of the first application.
