PROCLAMATION

Public Schools Week in Texas is a special time set aside each year in which to place increased emphasis on our public schools. Parent visitation is encouraged, and the citizens of our communities are urged to take an active interest in the school systems and to co-operate with the officials and teachers in an effort to make Texas public schools the best in the nation. Today, more than ever before, the importance of our schools is being realized by an awakened nation. Education, both in scientific and liberal arts fields, has taken on a new perspective. However, with all the rush to train scientists and place satellites in outer space, it is important to remember that our public schools will furnish our leaders of tomorrow with the basic human, moral and spiritual foundations necessary for more advanced training and knowledge. THEREFORE, I, as Mayor of Burk Burnett, do hereby designate the week of March 3-7, 1958, as PUBLIC SCHOOLS WEEK IN BURKBURNETT, and urge each citizen to recognize the tremendous importance of our public schools. In official recognition whereof, I hereby affix my signature this 24th day of February, 1958.

H. D. SMITH, Mayor

Harlin A. Mills is building another large grain elevator in Burk Burnett. Foundation for the high structure has already been poured. When completed, the new storage bins will have a capacity of 341,000 bushels of grain, or slightly larger than the elevator he completed in the spring of 1957. That elevator has a capacity of 310,000 bushels. Another elevator located on the grounds where the scales and offices are built, holds 45,000 bushels. Still another smaller elevator, near the first large one built, brings the total capacity up to 700,000 bushels for the Mills Co. James Brothers Construction Company of Oklahoma City, builders of the other large elevator, also have a contract to construct the one currently in the process of being built. Completion date has been set for May 15th, in time to handle grain from the 1958 crop.

Patricia Clack Wins Twirling Trophy At Albuquerque, N. M. Nat'l. Meet

Former Burk Man Writes From Calif.

511 Meyer Lane Redondo Beach, Calif. Feb. 17, 1958

Dear Sir: I just received my copy of the Star and I would like to express my feelings in regard to the Ralph Davis situation. It makes me sick inside and almost ashamed to admit that I grew up from a kid on the streets to man in Burk. Up until now, I have boasted about Burk being my home town and how friendly the people have remained over the many years. However, I will say right now, if any of the men on the school board are anything like they were when I called Burk my home, they will get the bull by the horns and get to the bottom of all this. Their findings might be surprising. It will prevent one of the biggest mistakes of Burk's school history. I don't believe it can be said that any man is indispensable. But at the same time, he would be darn hard to equal. Burk should feel honored to have a man of Ralph Davis ability and character serving as their school superintendent. I feel sure that if it had not been his life's desire to be an educator, he could have gone much higher in life than a superintendent of small farm town school. There are men holding Governorships that would have a hard time coming up to Mr. Davis equal in many ways. He has been and is and will be a great asset to Burk. It is ridiculous for a man of Mr. Davis status to have his position kicked around as a Political football. Just because a few boys in long pants don't get their way all the time. Incidentally Burk has lost several fine clergymen in the same manner. I say hold the election off until April and then the wheat may be separated from the chaff, or at least the man will get a fair deal. It would be worth the time for every board member to read St. Matthew 27. It might prevent a second Judas, or a second Pontius Pilate to a man's career. V. E. (Red) Hensley

Miss Patricia Clack, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward E. Clack, has added another twirling trophy to her long list of trophies and medals. Last Saturday in Albuquerque, New Mexico, Patricia entered the National Baton Twirlers Association meet, competing against the best from a great number of bordering states. The meet was open to twirlers from all over the nation. When the final judging was over, Pat had copped every prize in the Senior A Division: First in Strutting, and First in Baton Twirling. Pat is a Junior in the Burk Burnett High school. Mr. Clack accompanied his daughter to Albuquerque Friday. They returned home Sunday. Mr. Clack reports Albuquerque is experiencing a period of its fastest growth. In 1945 the city had a population of 40,000. It now boasts more than 200,000, with many new residential areas under construction, and new business houses going up in all parts of the bustling city.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

CLEVELAND, O., NEWS-ENTERPRISE: "The worst mistake that the American people could make would be to let the government take over the public schools. What we need is for the teachers to go back to the system of teaching rather than the present system of 'developing the personality' of the student. A free mind will develop far greater than one that is controlled by radicals."

CAMPBELLSVILLE, KY., NEWS-JOURNAL: We are still hoping the wisdom man has gained over the ages will rule, that man will find a star as the wise men did, rather than be guided by a beeping, man-made satellite and all the other ingenious instruments he has devised."

GARNER, IOWA, LEADER: "The continued emphasis of crime in television programs accomplishes one end which few may realize. It has a tendency to cheapen life. Television characters 'die' by the dozens every day in racket shows, westerns, highway stories, waterfront dramas, police case histories, etc. A young mind is impressed, the wrong way."

HUNTINGBURG, IND., INDEPENDENT: "Pessimists might take a little trip to Jamestown, Yorktown and Williamsburg to view and relive some of the early history of this nation. There they would be reminded of the courage and faith of Captain John Smith and his first colony who built a nation out of wilderness and who died for the freedoms they sought. What is needed is a resurgence of faith in American ideals and respect for the human individual. These will inspire us to work out the means by which this country and the rest of the free world can be saved from destruction."

Driver Training Saves Many Useful Lives

(Editorial By FRANK GRIMES — The Abilene Reporter News)

The U. S. Public school system has been accused of wasting the taxpayers' money teaching such courses as ballroom dancing, personality adjustment, how to get along with the crowd and so on.

While some courses of that kind may be of value—but not if they interfere with fundamentals—there is one course set up in some Texas high schools that seems to yield real dividends in a pretty important aspect of modern living: the rate of survival.

It is driver education. Catch 'em young and train 'em good applies in this case. Many high schools carry on this work, but some authorities think it should really start in the junior high, since some kids under special circumstances start driving legally between 14 and 16, and a great many others start driving illegally under 14.

The Texas Federation of Women's clubs has been campaigning for high school driving instruction for some years, and the best authority in the state in such matters, the Public Safety Commission, seems to think such training pays off, since it will issue a driving license to any youngster who has completed an approved course.

The Federation thinks the time has come to take driver education out of the experimental, haphazard, take-it-or-leave-it stage, and make it a permanent part of our public school system. It would do this by inserting in the upcoming Gilmer-Aikin legislation a provision for driver education teachers. This would enable every boy and girl to learn the art of survival in traffic from qualified teachers, and raise up a new generation of better, safer and more responsible drivers.

This, it seems to us, is about as far from boondoggling as you can get, since experience has shown good driver training in high school really pays off.

You can hardly pick up a paper that you don't see where one or more high school students have lost their lives in traffic. The nation can ill afford this wastage of potentially good and useful citizens, the very hope of our future.

Ninety-nine percent of our school boys and girls will become drivers some day. A thorough, well-balanced course in driving under competent teachers not only teaches them how to handle a motor car and familiarizes them with rules and regulations, but inculcates in them a sense of responsibility at the wheel they might never acquire otherwise.

Two Jobs Cost $1,000,000

The oil industry has become a symbol of "big money" to many people. We read of great strikes, we know that incredibly large quantities of oil products are sold each day, and we tend to reason that the oil people are lucky indeed—that all they have to do is sit back and watch the profits roll in.

It isn't, however, nearly so simple as all that. Oil companies, naturally and necessarily handle a lot of money. But they are also faced with towering expenses.

A vivid little example of this is found in an item appearing in a publication of the Standard Oil Company of Indiana. This company is modernizing a refinery, and one of the new tools needed is a pipe bender. The bender that is to be replaced cost about $19,000 back in 1927 and has small salvage value. The new one will cost about $72,000.

To earn $72,000 of net profit after taxes, the company has to receive some $975,000 in income. So to replace a $19,000 pipe bender, the company will have to do almost a million dollars' worth of business in market place. And the new pipe bender, incidentally, will provide jobs for not quite two men.

The company publication observes, "Next time you hear somebody rave about high corporate profits, remember that pipe bender, and how much of its earnings Standard will have to plow into the business, to provide two jobs." That's sound advice. And remember that what's true of this company is true of all others.

Texas Safety News

With less than two months left in which to have motor vehicles inspected, Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., director of the Texas Department of Public Safety, urged motorists to obtain their 1958 inspection stickers immediately. In doing so, he said that 64 percent of the registered vehicles in Texas have not been inspected for the current year.

At the present rate of inspection it looks as though the usual ten percent who wait until the deadline for inspections will be waiting in line on April 15. With crowded inspection stations on this deadline date immediate service cannot be rendered and car owners will suffer an unnecessary loss of time and inconvenience.

Nearly half of the vehicles already inspected have required some adjustments or repairs which require more time for both the owner and the inspection station and can be handled better when not rushed.

The state police director said much time can be saved if car owners obtain their 1958 inspection stickers early.

Mr. and Mrs. A. G. Crosby and Judy of Eastland visited Mr. and Mrs. Jack Northcott and Nancy and other friends here over the weekend.

HEART SURGERY AIDS YOUNGSTERS — Four year old Alan Buck, shown here with Douglas B. Marshall of Houston, chairman of the 1958 Heart Fund is one of the scores of children and adults whose lives have been changed by open heart operations performed by Dallas and Houston surgeons in the past two years. Young Alan, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clint Buck of Houston, now has a normal life expectancy after successfully undergoing heart surgery at the Texas Medical Center in Houston. More than 350 similar instances of open heart surgery in Dallas and Houston by Texas physicians in the past two years have restored heart victims to normal or near-normal lives, according to officials of the Texas Heart Association. Contributions made to the current month long Texas Heart Fund will be used to expand scientific research and professional education programs of the THA and the American Heart Association, as well as by Heart Association chapters in Texas for their community heart programs, it was emphasized by Heart Fund Chairman Marshall.

News From The Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

As is always the case during the first couple of months of a session of Congress, there has been little action on the floor. The real work in the early days of a session comes in committee hearings, which, of course must precede any action on the floor. A round up of current committee action would give some indication of what really has been happening during the last few weeks. The Post office and Civil Service Committee is holding hearings on salary increases for postal and classified employees. The House Armed Services Committee is in Executive session hearing testimony on National defense measures with the Air Force currently furnishing the witnesses. The foreign Affairs committee is hearing testimony from the Comptroller General on the General Accounting Office's investigation of the spending of foreign aid funds. The public works committee is digging into the status and progress of the National Highway program. The Committee on judiciary is working on the troublesome Presidential disability bill. The committee on Ways and Means has completed tax hearings and at the present time is holding hearings on the extension of the Trade Agreement Act. The Education committee is investigating all the different proposals that have been made for scholarships, loans, school construction, work study programs, and aid to areas affected by Federal activities. This, of course, is not by any means all of the committees that are working, but it does give an idea of what is going on here.

As has been the custom for many years, the Congress adjourned on Washington's birthday, but before adjourning, listened to the reading of his famous Farewell Address.

Nine days of production for Texas oil wells during the month of March was ordered by the Texas Railroad commission points up the desperate need for effective control of the flow of foreign oil into this country. If the imports are not controlled effectively, our domestic industry faces complete ruin.

Rev. T. Herbert Minga, Rev. W. B. Slack, and Mr. Alex Dickie Jr., of Denton; Rev. Earl Hoggard of Wichita Falls; and Mr. George Coats of Knox City were Washington visitors this week.

Social Security News

Farmers, who will shortly be filing a combined Federal income tax and social security return for 1957, are reminded that they have an optional method of reporting their farm income that no other businessman has.

Erton F. Tate, district social security manager at Wichita Falls announced today. Every farmer needs to keep accurate records to determine whether his farming operations are profitable and to help him prepare his income tax returns.

Only items that represent income from farming operations should be included on his social security report. Rental income when the landlord does not materially participate in the farm management and sales of dairy, breeding or work animals should not be included. Farm expense items including depreciation and taxes must be deducted from gross receipts in arriving at net earnings from self-employment.

After arriving at his net earnings, the law permits a farmer with a gross income of $1,800 or less to use either his actual net earnings or 2/3 of his gross farm income for social security purposes provided the gross is as much as $600. If his gross income exceeds $1,800, but his net earnings are less than $1,200, he may report his net earnings as $1,200. This method may be used by farm partners as well as individual farm operators. It applies equally to farmers who keep their books on the accurate basis and those who use the cash method as well as farmers who use a fiscal year in reporting their farm income.

Anyone desiring additional information on social security can meet with the representative who will be in Burk Burnett at the City Hall on March 6th in the afternoon.

AND Sidelights

 TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

"How's business?" Whenever two men stop to talk, this question is almost sure to pop up. With state and nationwide interest focused on the slackening of the economy there's much searching for signs it means trying to decipher the economic analysts' jargon about downward plateaus and rolling adjustments. It also means watching whether the neighbors are buying new clothes or patching the old ones.

On the state level, the spotlight is on the Texas Employment Commission. Its weekly tabulations on the number of people making unemployment claims was for years regarded as the routine of routine reports.

Today TEC's reports are looked to, almost breathlessly, for the first sign of betterment. The most recent brought no encouragement. It showed that 75,746 persons covered by unemployment benefits were out of work. It was an increase of 3,586 over the previous tabulation and 32,816 more than at the same time a year ago.

February reports are of particular interest. Even in good years, mid-winter weather pushes employment down by keeping such job-making activities as farming, construction and retail trade at least partially socked in. February's final week usually is the beginning of the recovery period.

This year, as at no time in the past decade, TEC's end of winter reports are being looked to as a weather vane.

NEW BUSINESS BEGUN — Along with the gloomy, TEC has good news, 62 new businesses opened in Texas last month. They ranged from a cafe in Austin to a garment factory in Denton. Dallas got the lion's share, 15 new firms.

Immediate effect — 910 new jobs for Texans.

IAB CALLED 'MODEL T' — Texas had better streamline its industrial accident system before Washington steps in, warns H. C. Pittman.

It's a "Model-T" operation in a jet age," says Pittman, who is chairman of the Industrial Accident Board. Result is that Texas employers pay more and Texas employees get less than in almost any other state.

"I'm ashamed of it," said the board's chairman. He blamed the creaky operation on out-of-date laws (system was set up in 1913) and public indifference.

IAB is the state agency that processes, supervises and keeps records on payments of claims arising from industrial accidents. Its work has increased substantially in recent years.

Pittman spoke at the annual safety clinic of the Texas Highway-Heavy Branch, Associated General Contractors. Clinic is climax of year long effort to reduce accidents in construction.

Gov. Price Daniel presented awards to companies with the best safety records for the past year.

MASS SIGN UP BEGINS — Most state departments now have registration forms for those who come in asking for something for someone else.

Forms were put out as the new representation before state agencies' law, passed in the first special session last fall, went into effect. Law was designed to keep a check on those paid to seek help or favor from state officials.

There are numerous exceptions, telephone calls, visits for a public hearing, visits for information only and contacts at some place other than the state office.

But businessmen are being advised, when in doubt, register. Penalties are up to six months in jail, $500 fine.

NATUROPATHS' ILL MOUNT-

Texas Supreme court pushed naturopathy outside the realm of legal practice and slammed shut the door.

High court upheld a lower court injunction which barred a naturopath in Midland from doing business. Naturopaths had contested the prohibition on grounds it deprived them of constitutional rights by allowing medical doctors, dentists, chiropractors, etc., to practice, but not naturopaths.

Court's ruling pointed out that law permits these other groups to practice only after meeting certain qualifications and obtaining licenses. Naturopaths' licensing law was declared invalid some time ago, and no new one has been passed.

Effect of the ruling is to require a naturopath to qualify as a full-fledged medical doctor.

COEDS AT AGGIELAND? — One of the touchier issues confronting the Commissioner on Higher Education is whether to recommend that Texas A&M admit women students.

It is known to be under considerable pressure from both directions. Created by the Legislature in 1955, the Commission has responsibility to study and make recommendations for development and improvement of the programs in all Texas state supported colleges and universities.

To date, most time has been spent in study, but recommendation phase is coming up.

Dr. Ralph T. Green, executive director, is to report to the 15-member Commission on the A-M issue at a meeting April 14th. Commission will then decide what course to suggest to the college officials.

However, the commission cannot force the college to accept its decision. Chances are the question will be argued in the courts and the Legislature for some time to come.

A suit already has been filed in Brazos County in behalf of would-be women Aggies.

CLIMB IN CRIME — Newly organized Law enforcement Commission is beginning its work with a depressing array of statistics outlining its task.

John H. Crooker, Sr., Houston lawyer, is chairman of the nine-member panel. Group is to study ways to combat crime and report ten months hence to the 56th Legislature.

Defining the problems are these facts that were dumped in the Commission's lap:

1. Major crimes in Texas are increasing faster than the national average, 9.2% here as compared to 7.2 nationally.

2. Of some 154,000 major crimes committed in Texas last year, an estimated 50% were juveniles. Gov. Daniel has asked the Commission to give top priority to study of juvenile crime.

3. State correctional schools for youths are not equipped to handle the swelling tide of offenders, according to the Texas Youth Council. Gatesville school, with capacity of 655, has population of 898.

WILBARGER-WICHITA
SOIL CONSERVATION
DISTRICT NEWS

OUR SOIL ★ OUR STRENGTH

Farmers in Wichita Valley are planning the largest coastal bermuda grass establishment program ever undertaken, according to Elvy Sargent, Work Unit Conservationist for the Soil Conservation Service of Iowa Park.

The value of coastal bermuda grass is now accepted by all who have had the grass growing on their farm. The Martin Hereford Ranch of Iowa Park produced 324 pounds of beef per acre in 110 days of grazing during 1957. Shem P. Cunningham and John Hund harvested coastal bermuda grass for hay and cattle are making good use of the hay. Dr. Ted Alexander of Wichita Falls, who recently purchased the Jack Ellis farm, reports that his stock is eating the hay satisfactorily.

Fenton Dale, Wilbarger-Wichita SCD supervisor of Iowa Park is feeding 10 steers that grazed bermuda grass during the summer.

Facilities for sprigging and sodding coastal bermuda grass are on the increase, according to information for the Soil Conservationist.

R. H. King of Harrold and Cliff Brogdon of Electra are manufacturing a sprigging machine that will cover or partially cover the sprigs. Earl Lehman and Hoyt Watson of Iowa Park have purchased one of the machines and are doing custom work.

Mike and Lewis Hartmangruber of the George W. Graham Riverside Farm are constructing a semi-automatic sodding machine. They will do as much commercial sodding as possible.

L. J. Lane has the original sprigging machine of the Iowa Park area and will do sprigging for his neighbors.

Some of the farmers known to be planning coastal bermuda grass sprigging or sodding are Charles and Rufus King of Wichita Falls, 125 acres; Bing Miller, Iowa Park, 12 acres; Shem P. Cunningham of Wichita Falls, about 65 acres; D. H. Ford Valley View, 5 acres; C. C. Moore, Valley View, 12 acres; McCullough, Estate, 12 acres; Bernard Cure, Wichita Falls, 5 acres; Dave Bridges Iowa Park, 6 acres; Roy Folsom, Wichita Falls, 25 acres; Martin Hereford Ranch, Iowa Park, 35 acres; 77 Ranch, Wichita Falls, about 150 acres.

Wichita County ACP Program will pay $12 per acre on sodding $8.00 per acre on sprigging and $1.75 per acre for preparation of seedbed. Farmers are requested to make application for cost sharing at ASC office in Iowa Park if they desire cost sharing assistance.

The Soil Conservation Service is available to District cooperators in planning land needing permanent cover, assistance in a method of watering the grass, seed bed preparation and fertilizer recommendations.

Defeat only leaves a bitter taste if you swallow it.

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner.

A South Texas woman recently called the State Health Department's bedding division about a mattress she had purchased from an itinerant peddler. She had reason to suspect she had been defrauded.

When a bedding inspector checked the mattress, he found it unlabeled and filled with unacceptable material in violation of the State Bedding Law. The peddler was located in Houston, and given the choice of facing court action or refunding the woman's money. He chose to surrender the money.

The next time you buy an item of bedding—a pillow, mattress, or comfort, notice the attached label. It's a window through which you can see what is in the product and how it has been handled. Once attached, no tag may be removed.

If the product is made of all new materials, the label will tell you so. If it is made entirely or partly from second hand goods, the label will be printed in red ink and will clearly state its second hand status. If it has been used by someone else, traded in, and offered for resale, it will carry a "germicidal treatment" tag, certifying that it has been sanitized.

Even when you send a mattress out to be renovated, it will be returned with a label certifying that it has been repaired.

The State Bedding Law was written into the statute book in 1939 for two prime purposes: to prohibit the sale of soiled or contaminated bedding materials and to safeguard purchasers against fraud or misrepresentation. District inspectors cover every bedding manufacturing plant in the state to see that the law is complied with.

All manufacturers must be licensed before their products can be sold in this state. Some 1200 factories in Texas, and 400 outside the state, are currently licensed.

Well over four million items of bedding are sold in Texas every year. Every one carries a stamp on the label, which in effect says to the buyer: "As far as the law is concerned, you are getting what you paid for." Stamps are sold by the bedding division for one cent apiece, which goes toward supporting the division.

Second hand items of bedding may not be sold in this state until they have undergone germicidal treatment, and sterilization permits must be obtained from the bedding division, after plants have been checked for conformity with the law.

Most germicidal plants use the "dry heat" method. Bedding is placed in a large oven and literally baked for one hour at 230 degrees. Ovens must be checked every 90 days by a representative of the bedding division to insure proper operation.

Other health safeguards are requirements that factories meet high standards of sanitation, and that filling materials in new bedding be of acceptable quality.

News From The County Agent

More than 2,200,000 4-H members in the United States will observe National 4-H club week from March 1-8. They will salute their parents and recognize the important part that all parents play in guiding and influencing youth.

With continued large consumer incomes and about a five percent reduction in per capita egg supplies, egg prices to farmers in 1958 are likely to increase and the rise will be most pronounced during the first eight months of the year.

For the first time in several years, most areas of the state have adequate subsoil moisture. The crop potential for 1958 is good, but B. T. Haws, county agent, points out that plant nutrients instead of moisture could be the limiting production factor this year. He strongly advises the use of the soil tests for determining what kinds and how much plant food should be added for maximum yields.

Feed costs normally represent about one-half the cost of producing milk. If this cost can be reduced, profits can be increased. Replacing some of the grain and concentrates with high quality roughage offers possibilities for many of the states dairymen.

The steadily rising death toll from fires in Texas is ample proof, points out the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council, that families are not observing the rules of safety as they apply to home heating. They suggest that periodic checks be made of the heating equipment and that repairs be made whenever needed.

Mrs. G. R. Belue, kitchen demonstrator for the Ray HD club has planned to completely remodel her kitchen. She plans that she can combine the storage space if she uses new kitchen devices.

Do you need extra storage space in your kitchen? If you will like the idea presented in the new bulletin Mrs. Belue is using in her planning.

The bulletin entitled "Kitchen Storage Devices You Can Make" illustrates ideas in clear sketches so even an inexperienced home carpenter can follow through. Only simple materials are needed, and many of the cupboards accessories can be made from wooden boxes, pieces of lumber, or inexpensive softwood.

Ideas for narrow shelves to fit between the counter top and upper cupboards are illustrated. Removable step-shelves, hanging shelves are also shown. Different types of cutlery racks, towel racks and drawer liners also are pictured.

Get a copy of this new bulletin from your county HD agent, Thelma Wirges, 305 Federal Building, Wichita Falls and plans for improving your kitchen storage.

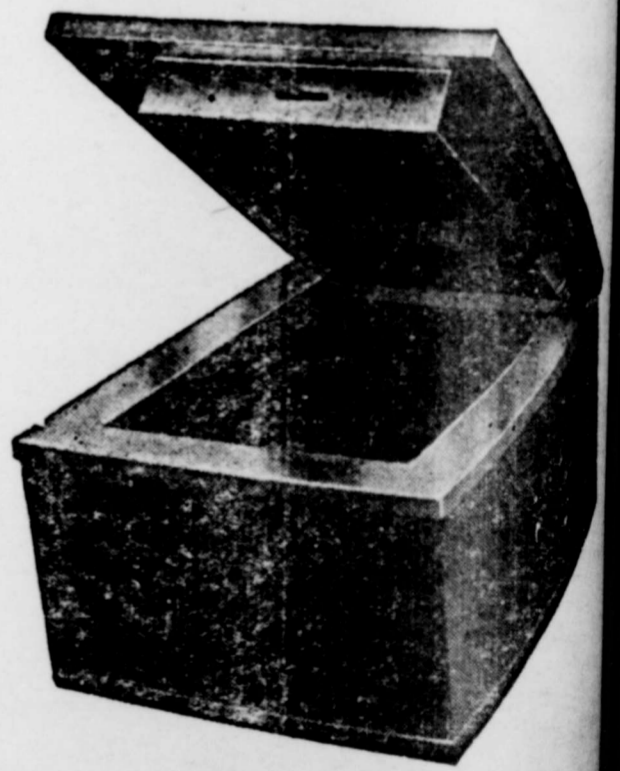

Demonstrators from all clubs are making plans for kitchen improvement.

for safe driving, make it a family rule that children are not permitted to distract the driver.
 Here's a checklist of driving do's and don'ts for harrassed and tired mothers who have to make so many extra "last minute" trips during the holidays.
 Remember, while such devices as nylon safety belts, dashboards lined with urethane foam, and laminated safety glass windows minimize injuries when accidents occur, they do not prevent collisions from taking place. It is also important to keep windshield wipers in good operating condition at all times, and glass areas free of snow, sleet, and dirt.
 Observe these 14 rules prepared by the National Safety Council, your SO* will put you at the head of the class:
 Never leave children alone in the car, regardless of whether the motor is left running.
 Have youngsters ride in back seat whenever possible.
 Allow no eating of lollipops or ice cream on sticks in moving cars.
 Permit no rough-housing, friendly or otherwise.
 Have family rule that children are not permitted to distract driver (remember, always pull over to the curb and stop car if it becomes necessary to admonish children).
 All riders must be seated while auto is moving.
 Hands, heads, and possessions must remain inside the car at all times.
 All doors locked when vehicle is in motion.
 No sharp-edged, hard or heavy toys permitted which might become lethal flying missiles in case of sudden stops.
 No objects stowed at any time on window deck behind rear seat.
 Infants firmly strapped in car bed or halter type safety seat at all times.
 Driver should be physically fit. Don't drive when tired or over-strung. Car should be mechanically safe also.
 Children in back should not be sitting in drafts. Crack side windows to provide necessary ventilation, prevent exposures leading to colds or infections.
 Always remember to be alert to the actions of drivers of other cars. They may not be as careful about their driving habits as you are.

News From The County Agent

Stored grain should be checked frequently to make sure that proper temperature and moisture levels are being maintained to prevent unnecessary spoilage and deterioration, advises B. T. Haws, county agent. The outer portion of stored grain is cooler than the center, so warm moist air rises up the middle, points out the county agent. Moisture will then accumulate to the top layer.
 The moisture content of this upper layer of grain may be as much as five or six percent higher than the general moisture level when the grain was stored, he adds. Insects prefer the warmer temperature so they will migrate to the center. This will then speed up moisture accumulation there.
 This high moisture content of the grain may be reduced by making proper use of an aeration system, Haws says. Even moisture and temperature levels can be maintained throughout the grain. For farmers who have no aeration facilities, he adds that they can stir it by elevating it from one bin to another. This will help reduce spoilage.
 Grain spoilage and deterioration can be quite costly unless steps are taken to prevent it, warns the county agent. Aeration is just one of the steps that can and should be taken to prevent loss.

Temporary pastures should be fertilized before or at the time of planting.
 Phosphate and potash should be worked into the soil either ahead of or at planting in the case of temporary pastures and may be put in during renovation or cultivation of permanent pastures. Nitrogen may be applied to the surface. It should be used as a side or top dressing only when adequate moisture is available.
 Haws advises taking a soil test to determine the exact needs of the soil. A dollar for a soil test is the best fertilizer dollar that can be spent.

Grade School News

We are working very diligently getting everything ready for Texas Education Week that will be observed from March 2nd thru the 8th. We are very anxious to have you come by and see some of the work that your children are doing. The Educational program is definitely affected by the interest and cooperation of every parent to the extent that the parent participates as a partner with the child. There are many factors involved that affect the working atmosphere and condition of each and every child and only by close cooperation between Teacher and parents can we improve upon working conditions within the classroom, and general attitude of the child. It is very important that each child has developed a desire and ambition to develop the ideals and standards to the highest level possible for him to attain then work diligently toward accomplishing the goals that he has set.

The interest, love and cooperation that you help to foster within your child vitally affects the ambition that is instilled as end products for the child to work toward.

Come by to see us the night of March 4th and visit your school and child's room and give encouragement as to progress that is being made. May we all join together and try to do a better job for each child.

Public Schools Week March 3-7

Our forefathers in their wisdom, recognizing the importance of education in the function and operation of a democracy, established the public school to make education available to all. The people of Texas declared, by the expressed terms of State Constitution, "a general diffusion of knowledge being essential to the preservation of the liberties and rights of the people, it shall be the duty of the Legislature of the State to establish and make suitable provision for the support and maintenance of an efficient system of public free schools." The 1854 School Law provided for the first Public School System in Texas. As the years passed our laws were strengthened to make sure that all children of a school age shared in this opportunity for public education. Today the importance of education is not a debatable subject. Our job is to see that the children of this generation get the best possible education we can give them.

By visiting the schools and familiarizing ourselves with the problems of teachers and students, we become more competent to safeguard and advance the institution that is so American—the public school.

What Should Our Schools Accomplish?

Provide all children with a knowledge of the traditionally accepted "fundamentals." These fundamentals were defined in the early elementary schools as reading, writing and arithmetic. As the pupil advances in school, these three R's should be accomplished by a study of such courses as higher mathematics, science, history and English. Upon graduation from high school a student should have had a specific training to do something—to go to work and be successful on a job—in the event he finds it impracticable to continue his education.

Enable each child to develop the power to think constructively and critically, and to solve problems.

Provide citizenship education opportunities that emphasize the American heritage and include knowledge and acceptance of the responsibilities and privileges of citizenship. More effective training for citizenship usually results where the school home, church and community work cooperatively.

Provide experiences for children and youth from which they learn self direction and responsibility for their own behavior.

Assist in the development of moral and spiritual values, acceptable social skills and attitudes, and the ability to get along with others.

Assist each youth in his efforts to make a place for himself in the community. Some students prepare themselves for higher education; others work upon leaving school; and still others prepare for homemaking. Programs of vocational education and of counseling and guidance are needed in achieving these goals.

Provide educational programs which take into account individual differences. Each child has the right to experiences which will assist in his optimum growth and development within his capacity. This includes programs of enrichment for the gifted as well as opportunities for other exceptional children, including the mentally retarded.

News From The County Agent

Kenneth Killion, assistant county agent and Herbert Propps from Electra left for Houston this week to attend the Houston Fat Stock Show. Herbert will enter the 4-H Beef Scramble on Saturday.

Jim Barbour from Iowa Park entered a steer in the Houston Fat Stock Show this week. Jim won this steer last year in the 4-H Calf Scramble at Houston.

With the appearance of the lush green grass in many parts of the county comes another problem to the cattle people. This is the problem of controlling and curing bloat. Animal husbandmen say that this is what they call the bloat season.

Here are some recommendations on how to control or to keep down bloat when cattle are grazing on the green pastures. If they are on a legume pasture, it should have at least 50% grass mixed with the legume. If there is no grass in the legume, the animals should be left on the legume pasture only two or three hours at a time, then they can be removed to an all grass pasture. Another way to prevent bloat is to feed the animals some dry hay before they are put on the green pastures. After grazing a few days on grass pastures, cattle should adjust themselves to the amount of green material they will eat.

It is a good idea to keep close observation on all livestock on green pastures. This is especially true if there is a legume present because legume plants are the biggest cause of bloat.

Design Keeps Costs Low

Neat, uncomplicated house design usually goes hand in hand with low cost. Take, for example, this modern 3-bedroom, 1 1/2-bathroom ranch house tailored for leisurely indoor and outdoor living.

Designed by architect Rudolph A. Matern, Jamaica, N. Y., the house has a 24-foot-long porch with connecting doorways to the living room, dining room, kitchen, and garage. The porch opens on an 18 by 20-foot patio, an ideal arrangement for family dining, informal entertaining, or children's recreation.

Framing for the house has been simplified without any loss of livability or eye appeal. The main roof section, of conventional gable construction, has a gentle slope. It is covered with an attractive blend of light-color asphalt shingles. The roof sets the color scheme for the exterior of the house. The siding is in a harmonizing shade and the window trim repeats the roof color. There are two service en-

Neat Home In Top Repair Sells Faster

Put yourself in the position of a prospective buyer if you plan to sell your home in today's highly competitive "older house" market. Make a careful inspection tour of the house from basement to attic, and the lot from border to border, just as a house-hunting family would. Chances are good that if you, in effect, would "buy your own house," you can put up a "For Sale" sign with reasonable confidence.

A good place to start, according to many experienced real estate brokers, is at the curb, where a prospect gets his first impression. Are the lawn, shrubbery, and flower beds in good shape? If not, prospective buyers might not even stop to look.

Check Roof Carefully
Next, check the exterior of the house, paying special attention to the roof. Faded paint or a cracked piece of siding may not ruin a sale, but an old, shabby roof often will send a prospect scurrying back to his car.

This is because families looking for an older house today generally come forewarned with a list of things to look out for, and a weathered, worn-out roof is one of them. The prospect knows an old roof may be a leaky roof.

A new roof of asphalt shingles in one of many colors available is an excellent selling point for an older home. Besides assuring the prospective owner long lasting protection from weather, the new asphalt shingles add color and beauty to the entire house.

Neatness Important
Inside, real estate men say, good housekeeping is essential when a house is up for sale. Clean, neat rooms reflect the habits of the owners which in turn indicate the type of care the house has received.

If painted walls or wallpaper are shabby, interior redecoration probably is in order. A small expenditure for paint, plus some week-end labor with brush and roller can add immeasurably to the resale value of a house.

The plumbing and heating systems should be in good working order, and windows and doors should operate smoothly. A good thing to keep in mind is that the prospective buyer of an older home does not expect everything to be shiny and new, but he does want a house to be in sound, livable condition.

Edward Bixby, who is sales manager of the pottery works, was asked, "How's business?" He reported that business is down 5% but meetings are up 30%.
