Underlying the Texas Heart Fund campaign now in progress throughout the state is a basic concept that "heart research anywhere helps hearts everywhere."

This is sound philosophy, since medical research knows no boundary lines. A revolutionary new medical discovery made thousands of miles from Texas is just as meaningful to residents of every community in the state as it is to those living near the laboratory in which the discovery is made.

And, as was recently made public, the relatively new "open heart surgery" being performed almost daily by faculty members of two great Texas medical and research institutions has been employed to help not only Texans but residents of other states and of other nations.

Surgeons on the faculties of Baylor University College of Medicine in Houston and of the University of Texas Southwestern Medical School in Dallas have performed more than 430 of these operations in efforts to save lives and to assure the victims of more normal lives. These patients have come to Texas from more than 20 states, as well as from several South American countries.

Literally, money entrusted to your Heart Association to support research, as well as to further education and community heart programs, is a sound, practical investment. The results someday will return to you, because when you help your Heart Fund, you help your heart.

The annual Heart Fund is a campaign which Texans everywhere always have supported generously; the 1958 Texas Heart Fund should be no exception. Make your contribution to a volunteer Heart Fund worker, or mail it to "HEART", care of your postmaster.

"Instructor of the Week" Won By Burk Airmen

A love for his job, instructing is probably one of the chief reasons Airman first class Richard A. AmRhein has been selected as "Instructor of the Week" at Sheppard Air Force Base.

A native of Chicago, Ill., Airman AmRhein now resides with his wife and two children at 504 Glendale Street in Burkburnett.

Airman AmRhein, an instructor in the hydraulic repairman course, phrased it this way: "I like teaching very much."

Most of the Airman AmRhein's Air Force service has been here at Sheppard. He came to the base in April, 1955, after completing basic training at Lackland.

Chosen for his outstanding knowledge of hydraulics and his leadership ability, the young airman was selected from his class to become an instructor. He began teaching after completing a Tactical Instructor course in November, 1955.

Airman AmRhein was graduated from St. Mel High School in Chicago. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Andrew AmRhein, 1740 N. 73rd Court, Chicago, Ill.

Car Inspections Still Lagging

Car inspection stations are very much concerned over the public's lack of interest in having vehicles safety checked. All vehicles MUST be inspected before April 15th, yet only a small percent bear the 1958 sticker. Cars may be inspected any time between September 15 and April 15. Perhaps there is too much time allowed. People keep thinking the deadline is still a long way off.

Unless the inspections pick up considerably, local inspectors say many motorists will not have their cars ready by the deadline. The number of cars which can be handled in one day is limited. Many people do not realize that the job can't be done in a jiffy.

DO IT NOW! The Highway Patrol will watch every car after April 15th to see if it has the 1958 sticker. Many will be fined because they put the job off too long.

Will Nancy get to be a teacher?

Nancy's smart and Nancy likes school. She already has her heart set on being a teacher—but it looks as though she's going to be an awfully disappointed young woman.

To be a good teacher, Nancy needs first-rate schooling right now! But Nancy and a lot of other promising youngsters live in communities where the schooling is inadequate, where there's a dangerous shortage of classrooms, teachers, up-to-date textbooks. Result? A not-very-bright future for a lot of very bright kids.

Let's be sure this doesn't happen to the children in our schools. Join with other good citizens to back up our School Board, attend PTA meetings and school conferences.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

HAGERSTOWN, MD. MORNING HERALD: "For decades it has been taken for granted that the rail companies do not generally find the passenger business profitable. Now, however, the picture on freight traffic, always the lines' bread and butter, is growing extremely dark.

"Rail officials told the Senate group that the combination of mounting passenger losses and sagging freight volume has so constricted their financial reserve that they are being forced to curtail sharply outlays for improvements and new equipment."

CLAFIN, KAN., CLARION: "The way to find out how many folks read the hometown paper thoroughly is to make a mistake or print something which can easily be misconstrued. Newspaper folks are human—they try to satisfy but mistakes do creep in."

SANTA PAULA, CALIF., DAILY CHRONICLE: "Is there too much debt? Who knows how much 'to much' is? As far as the private debt is concerned, the soundness of the debt structure simply depends on the soundness of the individual loans. Even if there were no debt whatever in existence it would still be unsound for a merchant to extend credit to a poor credit risk."

OIL IN 1958

The year 1957 was a difficult one for the oil industry, and 1958 will continue to present problems of excess supply and some price weakness. That is the view of a leading authority, Chairman Eugene Holman of Standard Oil of New Jersey.

But that does not mean that oil is going to hole in and retreat. Mr. Holman's company, for instance, has a $1,250,000,000 capital expenditure program for 1958 on the books. This huge sum will go for producing, refining, marketing, tankers, pipelines and equipment, and for other requirements. About 75 per cent of it is for the Western Hemisphere. At the same time, more investment will be made in Europe than was the case last year.

What is true of this company is true of the U. S. oil industry generally. The amounts spent vary greatly from company to company, depending on size, on where operations are conducted, and on other such factors. But oil long has been an outstanding leader in building up its reserves and its plant. It takes great risks as a matter of course. It knows that it can't stand still if it is to meet its obligations. So, despite enormous consumption, our known reserves of oil underground have steadily increased.

We think of oil as a cornerstone of modern living standards, which it is. It is also key to any nation's survival in a tense world. The U. S. oil industry is making its full contribution to our strength and to that of the other free world countries.

NO CAUSE FOR COMPLAINT

Most of us complain when the prices of things in common use go up. That's simply human nature. And most of us give small thought to the factors which make price increases inevitable.

Oil is a good example. Over a recently-ended 10 year period, all of the major operating costs borne by the oil industry soared. Production wages went up 62%; oil field machinery prices 47%; finished steel prices 67%; and pipe line prices 94%.

Yet, in that same period, the price of gasoline to the motorist rose by only 21 percent. This price increase, in other words, was much less than the increases in the industry's basic costs of carrying on the business. Such factors as competition and greater operating efficiency keep the price of gas and the other oil products to the lowest feasible level.

That level, as we all know, is sufficient to give the concerns which produce and process and sell oil to a profit. If it didn't, this country would face a bleak future. By 1966, say the forecasters, the oil industry must be able to increase its output of products by 59%, nearly two-thirds. That means there must be billions of new investments in facilities of every kind. And only a financially healthy industry is capable of carrying out such obligations.

ARE YOU FIT TO DRIVE?

You may have a good driving safety record and feel you are in excellent health. Even so, there are circumstances under which you're not fit to drive.

That finding comes from the American Medical Association, and is elaborated in a new pamphlet. Here are some of the things that make a driver dangerous.

Emotional upsets. If you can't keep your mind on the wheel and off your worries, you shouldn't be behind the wheel.

Driver's attitude. Some drivers feel the other fellow is always wrong, some are aggressive and intolerant. They need to grow up—to become mature.

Sleepiness. Dozing is not restricted to night driving. On long trips the driver should rest every two hours and drink coffee or cola to stay alert.

Medicines. Some medicines, including sedatives, tranquilizers, cold tablets, etc., may dull reflexes, or impair co-ordination. Stimulants may make a person nervous. Consult your doctor about the side effect of drugs.

Other hazards listed in the AMA pamphlet include faulty vision, certain nerve and heart disorders, diabetes, old age and of course, drinking. All of these conditions can result in special hazards—all require preventive measures. It's a case where knowing ourselves and acting accordingly could produce a heartening drop in highway carnage.

Grade School News

Mrs. McCullough's section has been very busy studying about the National Forests of the United States and the different types of trees that we might expect to see in each forest.

They have been very busy making posters showing the products that we use from our forests. It has been very exciting and makes each want to go out and set out a tree or two these sunny days.

All of the students have been very busy getting everything ready for the Public Education Week. We are hoping that we will have many visitors to come by and see us during the week. It will take up a very small amount of your time and we hope that you will come by sometime during the week.

Any gas installation not specifically covered by the above table shall be approved by the City Plumbing Inspector.

(11) The Gas Company shall install, maintain and be responsible for all gas services from their main up to the meter regardless of location of meter. In case the meter sets at the curb, the plumber shall run the service to the property line with a stop cock where service enters building. This line shall not be covered until inspected by the City Plumbing Inspector and be final tested at the same time as the building. Where the gas meter sets at the house, the contract for the unmetered service may be between the plumber and gas company or the owner and gas company. And this contract should be understood by all parties concerned.

(12) No yard or service line hereinafter installed shall be less than one inch (this applies to line from gas service main to house), and the take-off on the house side of the meter may be not less than 1". Branch lines for ranges or cook stoves shall be not less than three-quarter inch (3/4"). Risers or branch lines of one-half inch (1/2") pipe shall not be more than ten feet (10') in length. Lead piping must not be used under any circumstances. No bushings shall be installed in gas fittings. Unions except for connecting cook stoves or other appliances shall be avoided and no gasket unions will be allowed on gas connections of any kind. All gas pipe must be properly reamed and the inside free from obstructions before being put in use. All house lines must be strapped securely to joists every eight feet (8') and at the end of each branch gas pipe shall not be installed in or under a concrete floor slab that is poured on the ground so that the pipe is not accessible unless L weight copper is used, or one size smaller when using copper.

(13) All gas pipes must be graded to the meter, when practical, free from traps or sags and properly supported. When it is impossible to grade lines to meter or to prevent a trapped gas line, a suitable drip shall be provided and located in an accessible place.

(14) In remodeling or extending old gas piping, connections may be made where sizes can be maintained; if this cannot be done, a new line shall be run to the meter.

(15) All gas piping shall be tested in accordance with Article II of this Code.

(16) All floor furnaces shall have a master stop in rigid pipe to run within three feet (3') of controls. All horizontal vent pipes shall be strapped properly and rise at nearest point to vertical. All these vents shall be approved double wall pipe.

(17) Vents and flue pipes shall be not less than the flue opening on the appliance.

(18) No heating unit to be installed in bedroom or attic or closet opening into same. No forced air unit shall draw its cold air return or cold air make up from the same closet as the heating unit. Ample combustion air must be brought into the room by means of holes or grill in door or wall close to burner as possible from room other than bedroom, bath room, or attic. Heater must be equipped with stop at unit. All breather tubes from regulator must run into fire box. All units must be vented with approved double wall pipe. All vents to extend to one foot above roof.

(19) Three-eighths inch (3/8") copper tubing may be used from stop to unit and shall be vented through roof and with approved double vent pipe. All outside wall of said pipe shall be slitted at the bottom to allow room air to enter lining of pipe. Adapter vent shall be on each wall furnace.

(20) Height. The gravity flue or vent shall rise above the roof of and extend at least two feet (2') above the highest elevation of any part of the building within fifteen feet (15'), terminating in a hood or cap having a venting capacity of not less than that of the flue or vent. The minimum height of a flue or vent above the point of attachment of the appliance shall be four feet (4'). A vent which is equipped with a cow approved for use at a lower elevation shall terminate not less than:

- (a) Two feet (2') from any portion of a building, and
- (b) Four feet (4') horizontally from any vertical portion of a building, and
- (c) Four feet (4') horizontally from any roof or portion of a building which extends at an angle of more than forty-five degrees from the horizontal.

(21) Every vent pipe which does not run in a vertical direction shall have a grade of at least one-half inch (1/2") to each linear foot of length rising toward the flue.

(22) Horizontal runs shall not be greater than 75% of the vertical stack to which they are attached, and in no case shall a horizontal run exceed 20 feet (20').

(23) Where two or more inlets are provided in any vent or flue, such inlets shall be offset in such a manner that no section of any outlet shall be opposite other inlets in such flue.

(24) Bends or offsets in gas vents of flues shall be avoided where possible, and where necessary shall be made at widest angles possible in order to prevent consequent retarding influence of the flow of the burnt gases.

(25) No stove, range, cooking stove or other appliances, nor any portion of same, which comes in direct contact with the hot gases, shall be placed less than six inches (6") from any woodwork unless amply insulated to give protection against fire to such woodwork.

(26) A riser must be used in yard line at the point where the service enters the building from the outside and a heavy brass or iron body with a brass core stop cock must be installed in this riser not less than four inches (4") above the ground, when an underground meter is installed. The service to buildings having floors close to the ground must have riser and stop cock installed as specified above and the piping backed down and provided with a drop on the house side before entering the building.

(27) The Plumbing Inspector shall have the power and duty to condemn all gas piping, appliances, fixtures, apparatus and material, which at any time may become defective and likely to cause leaks, fire or accident, or to endanger persons property, etc., and he is hereby authorized and empowered to disconnect any such gas piping, appliances, fixtures, or apparatus, or to cause the service of the consumer who owns or used such piping, appliances, fixtures, apparatus or material to be discontinued until same shall have been put in safe condition and tested and approved by him.

(28) When any gas piping, appliance, fixture, apparatus or material of any nature whatsoever have been in any manner disconnected as set forth in the foregoing provisions, it shall be unlawful for any person or persons to, in any manner, reconnect the same or cause the same to be reconnected to any supply of gas, or to use the same as a part of any gas piping system until they have been put in a safe condition and a certificate of acceptance has been issued by the City Plumbing Inspector.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner of Health

Well over half of Texas' paralytic polio victims last year were under five years old, a final tally of the 1957 polio incidence shows.

The record discloses that of the 365 paralytic cases reported last year, 218 were pre-schoolers under five. That figures out to 59.7% for Texas, compared to 45 percent for the nation as a whole.

Of the remaining Texas cases, 147 were between the ages of five and nine; 23 were in the 10-14 age group; 19 were between 15-19; and 61 were over 20.

Clearly revealed in these age group distribution figures is the necessity of placing special emphasis on the immunization of pre-school children, while at the same time keeping in mind that anyone up to 40 years of age could take the series of three shots in proper sequence.

The time for parents to take action toward having their youngsters - especially those of pre-school age, vaccinated is right now, before the polio season begins.

Parents must take the initiative in seeing that their younger children are properly immunized and in getting immunized themselves.

In the four years since the advent of Salk Vaccine, its efficiency in conferring immunity against the crippling effects of polio has exceeded all expectations. This is its record of performance for the past five years.

In 1952, Texas suffered 3,984 cases of both paralytic and non-paralytic polio. That was the worst year in state history. In 1953, reported cases totaled 1,751. There were 3,037 cases in 1954; 1,931 in 1955; and 1,359 in 1956.

Now compare those yearly totals with the 729 cases last year - slightly over half the number experienced in the lightest year of the previous four.

son begins. And parents will be making a mistake if they neglect to get themselves immunized at the same time.

The tendency of many people is to take one or two doses of vaccine, and forget about the third. True, one shot does give some protection, and two gives even more. But only by taking that third shot can maximum protection be assured.

Getting vaccine is no problem nowadays as it was in the beginning. Latest estimates put the nation's vaccine supply at 30 million doses.

BEEF CATTLE MARKET GOOD

The market for beef cattle is most favorable. There may not be a better time than the present to dispose of marginal producers and brucellosis reactors. With the season of higher production approaching, it may be wise to do some culling rather than produce excessive quantities of surplus milk.

Does work in your kitchen tire you? If so, why not check your storage arrangement for equipment and supplies. Convenient storage can save you lots of time and energy, reminds Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

Plan for the best use of space inside your kitchen cupboards. Here are suggestions offered by the agent:

Get rid of or store some other place, all utensils and supplies you are not using.

Store utensils, dishes and supplies at places where you first use them.

Store together the things you use together.

Use the easy to reach and easy to see spaces for things you use most often.

Place utensils, dishes, cutlery and food supplies so that moving one to get another is not necessary.

Put only like kinds of things in front of each other on a shelf. Stack together only things of the same size and kind.

Plan to keep on the same shelf only things of about the same height.

Use your measuring stick, pencil and paper to fit storage space to things you store. Allow for clearance at the top and sides. One to 2 inches are needed at the top.

Make storage space easy to clean. Shelves and partitions should be removable and surfaces should be smooth.

Keep in mind that you will need storage space for future purchases.

Store mixing bowls, platters, plates and pans of different shapes singly on shelves and in drawers.

To see some of the storage ideas sketched and illustrated, get a copy of extension Leaflet 348, "Arrange your kitchen for convenience and comfort", from your county home demonstration agent's office, 305 Federal Bldg. Wichita Falls.

Kitchen demonstrators from the Wichita County home demonstration clubs, are including these ideas on arrangement in their plans for the year. Mrs. Elsie Fisher, Mrs. Olen Baley, Mrs. Ben Lane and Mrs. T. E. Smith have just started their plans.

Mrs. Fisher is from the Bowie club and plans to work on wall and woodwork finishes in her kitchen.

Mrs. T. E. Smith is building a new kitchen and will be working on arrangement, storage, colors, equipment, etc. Her plans are to build a U shape kitchen arranged to save her steps and energy.

Mrs. Olen Baley plans to build new kitchen cabinets and arrange her storage.

Mrs. Ben Lane, from the Eastland club has started her planning on paper. A good way to solve lots of building problems is to draw plans on paper, where you can easily see them. Mrs. Lane plans her new kitchen cabinets to be attractive as well as arranged well, since the kitchen is to be a part of the living room.

Homecoming Mar. 9 At Calvary Baptist

Next Sunday, March 9th, Calvary Baptist church, at College and Ave. B. will observe its annual homecoming day, with services continuing throughout the day and dinner served at the church by the ladies of the church.

It was at this time of the year in 1940 that the present pastor first came on the field here. The blessing of God and success of the church can't be measured by numbers and in dollars and cents. Nevertheless several hundred people have been saved and baptized through the ministry of this church, and are scattered throughout the world. Many of them bearing sincere testimony for Christ. Many preachers have gone out from this church who are now laboring on other fields. Several preachers are still active members of this congregation.

This annual homecoming enables many who live near to come and enjoy again the warm friendship and fellowship of this gospel church that has been so wonderfully blessed and protected by God through the years.

All who read this have a sincere welcome to come and spend the day with us. Other pastors and churches will be with us.

Social Security News

"Taxpayers can save money for themselves and the federal government by doing three things," C. B. Dixon, Administrative Officer of the Wichita Falls office of Internal Revenue Service said today.

Mr. Dixon listed the money-savers in this order. First, taxpayers are urged to prepare their own 1957 returns. By using information that comes with tax forms and with other available booklets, "the average taxpayer can do his own return."

The Revenue representative revealed that last filing period the Service made a substantial saving in the cost of assisting individual taxpayers. Those who strike impassable roadblocks may take advantage of Revenues Taxpayers Assistance Day, every Monday morning from 8:30 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. Or perhaps a telephone call to Revenue will solve the problem. Revenue's telephone number is 322-3165.

Second way to help yourself and Uncle Sam save money is by checking and re-checking that 1957 return before dropping it in the mail box. By being certain that both husband and wife have signed, if it's a joint return and by attaching a W-2 form for each job the taxpayer held during the taxable year, you can save money and perhaps, "hurry that refund check, if you have one coming."

Third money saving suggestion by Mr. Dixon is to "file that return for '57 just as soon as possible after Jan. 1, 1958. It's our experience that last minute (April 15th) filers are more apt to make costly errors."

The newly formed Marine Corps saw its first combat Mar. 4, 1976 when 300 Marines stormed ashore and captured the British port of New Providence, Bahamas, seizing large stores of powder, later taken back to the colonies for the continental army

America's only car with a hideaway hardtop—the Ford Skyliner shown here with the fabulous new 4-passenger Thunderbird

It's like getting back 15¢ on every gas dollar!

Here's the biggest savings story of the year! And here's why.

It all starts with Ford's new dream of a drive called Cruise-O-Matic... the newest, most versatile, most automatic of them all. Two new driving ranges let you choose your starts for the road conditions that exist. For example, in most of the driving you'll do, you can take off lively as a spring lamb if you wish. And on snow, ice or any slippery road surface, with the extra driving range you can get sure-footed starts that are steady and silky-smooth.

Now, team this all-new automatic with Ford's new Thunderbird-powered V-8

(with up to 300 hp) and you get as much as 15¢ better gas mileage, too! That's because a special gas-saving rear axle ratio is used to give you all the savings of "built-in" overdrive economy.

And based on factory suggested retail delivered prices, a Cruise-O-Matic Ford is priced lowest of the low-price three with comparable equipment.

So, with Thunderbird go... down-to-earth gas savings... plus Ford's traditionally low prices and high resale return... you have the best reasons in the world to make yourself a deal on a beautiful new Cruise-O-Matic Ford!

Eskimo's Igloo Keeps Fuel Bills At Cozy Zero

If you could examine an Eskimo's igloo you'd discover a really economical heating system in operation. The igloo is kept warm by body heat and a small oil lamp.

The igloo's thick dome of snow is a good insulator. It seals in the heat given off by the oil lamp and the people and keeps the chill Arctic winds out. The entrance slopes down through the igloo floor before emerging outside. Since warm air rises, heat doesn't escape along this route.

Home-owners can't very well pack their walls and attic floors with snow or ice cubes, but they can install an even more efficient type of insulation—modern mineral wool. This insulation can be blown into walls and ceilings by experienced contractors with pneumatic equipment, or batts and blankets of mineral wool can be installed in accessible areas by the home-owner.

Insulating engineers recommend at least a 4-inch thickness of insulation in ceilings and 3 inches in walls. All walls and ceilings exposed to winter cold on one side and warmed on the other should be insulated.

Fair Fashion Festival "LOOK AHEAD"

AN EXTRAVAGANZA of feminine fashions and fur-bows, will be a thrilling high spot of the State Fair of Texas to be held in Dallas October 5th thru the 20th.

Texas, as a foremost fashion center will lead the trend and feature a fabulous home-sewing Fashion Festival for the first time in the 72 year history of the State Fair. New fashions will be previewed, fun and satisfaction in sewing emphasized, tips on fabric, use of accessories and numerous tricks-of-the-trade presented to give garments a custom-made look. Each of the six leading firms in the home-sewing industry will stage a capsule show within the production. Pattern companies... Advance Butterick, McCalls and Simplicity will show their most appealing creations from play clothes to elegant evening dresses... from teen through matron styles.

Singer Sewing Machine Co. will feature the top five winning garments in their recent 1957 "sew-off" which represented $45,000 in prizes. Talon will present a clever program on "zipmates" to show how a basic wardrobe can be extended into a larger wardrobe with the use of zippers. Surprise upon surprise will be the theme throughout the entire show and the grand finale will be an extravagant fashion presentation with all six firms participating.

It's fair weather in Texas with fashions running high... so don't miss this chance to join the fun and preview the new "look-ahead."—(ANS)

News From The County Agent

The Wichita Valley DHIA Association last month, ranked 1st in the state in average pounds of milk, which was 950 lbs., and first in the state in average pounds of fat, which was 35 lbs. Mr. H. R. Chandler is our local DHIA technician. There are 25 associations in operation in Texas with 16,697 cows.

The spotlight is on youth this week as more than 2,165,000 4-H boys and girls throughout the nation join in observance of National 4-H club week. The theme this year is "A 4-H Salute to Parents," which is about 358,000 volunteer local leaders, help to make 4-H club work possible. Texas has more than 111,000 4-H members, some in every county in Texas. Boys and girls between the ages of 10 to 21 are invited to join a local 4-H club. Ask about it at your county extension agent's office.

4-H club work helps combat juvenile delinquency in many ways—wholesome recreation for 4-H club members, their families and communities is a part of the program. Last year recreation training schools conducted by 4-H members and adult leaders in the counties helped to extend this information to other groups in their communities. The 4-H share the fun Festival involves clubs and communities all over Texas in "homegrown fun."

Split' Offers Space to Grow

A popular theory among house hunters is that older houses offer more space for the money than new homes. Architect Rudolph A. Matern, of Jamaica, N.Y., has designed this modern split-level home as proof you don't have to be rich or old fashioned to have plenty of living space.

The house, from its colorful roof down to its 26-foot recreation room, is planned for a growing family.

There are four bedrooms, two-and-a-half baths, a 19-foot living room with adjoining dining room, and a kitchen roomy enough for a breakfast table and chairs.

Other unique space features Matern has built into the house are 10 closets, 10-by-12 foot entrance foyer, two-car garage with a work bench, and basement storage room.

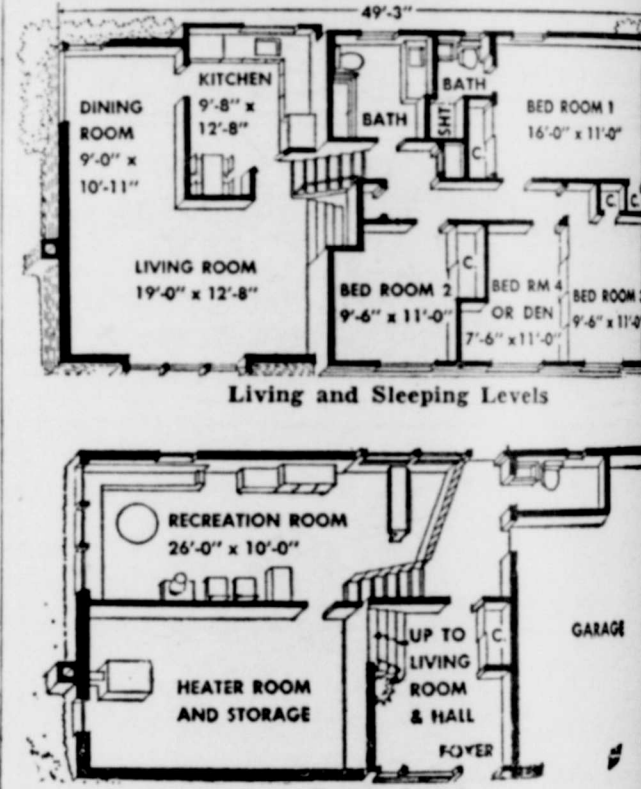

Outside, the architect has specified asphalt shingles in a rich deep color for the unique combination of hip and gable roofs over the two levels. The asphalt shingles set the color scheme for the house and give it dependable protection from harsh weather.

Recognizing the growing enthusiasm of American families for central air conditioning, plus the need for economical heating, Matern also specified thick mineral wool insulation in walls and ceilings throughout the house.

Because it keeps summer heat out, the insulation makes it possible for the builder to install a smaller, less-expensive air-conditioning system, or for the home-owner to save on installation costs at a later date. Mineral wool also helps keep cooling and heating operating costs at the lowest possible levels.

Another thoughtful feature is the strategic location of the bathrooms. The main bath is at the rear door, handy to the recreation room and the rear yard.

Further information, blueprints and specifications can be obtained from Rudolph A. Matern, 90-04 161st St., Forest Hills, L.I., N.Y. Refer to Plan No. 100-1000.

The following members of the Martha Bryan YWA's went to the house party at Hardin-Simmons College in Abilene over the week end: Gayle Sanders, Myrna Hoffman, Charlene Preston, Juddie Smith, Dee Ann Welborn, Jean Yahnel and the sponsor, Bernice Vaughn. The girls stayed in the dormitories at the college.

Over 1000 girls from all over the state of Texas attended the two day meeting. Some of the highlights of a program held in the First Baptist Church were a mock TV program called It Could Be You, and some talks by various visitors.
