DECENCY VS DELINQUENCY

In urging nationwide observance of Boys' Club Week, and the participation and support of all good citizens in these clubs—that are putting new and increasing emphasis on "Juvenile Decency" FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover explains "Why I am proud to be a member of the Board of Directors."

Mr. Hoover writes: "Crime continues to rise in a steadily increasing volume. Unfortunately, juvenile involvement in criminal offenses continues in the same trend. But in this dark picture there are occasional gleams of light. One of these is the Boys' Clubs of America.

"The Founders of our Nation based their concept of government upon the theory that free men must accept responsibility or lose their freedom. Today there can be no finer expression of patriotism than sincere and active participation in work dedicated to the development of responsible young citizens. Certainly this is true of those who devote their time and energy to the individual Boys' Clubs throughout America, for these Clubs are proving their worth. They are taking boys off the streets and enlisting them in programs of intelligently supervised, constructive activity where they exist, delinquency diminishes.

Accumulating evidence from police and court officials has long indicated the effectiveness of Boys' Clubs as indicated by Mr. Hoover, but a 1956 study by trained and impersonal sociologist of New York University gives statistical proof. The investigators selected the Red Shield Boys' club organized in 1944 in a low income, poor housing district of Louisville, Ky., where the delinquency rate was high. Their report, after months of study covering the decade from 1944 to 1954 seems a clear indication of what to do about the shocking problem of disoriented youth.

The NYU study, covering three similar areas of the city, showed a 59.9 percent decrease in delinquency in the Boys' Club area while delinquency increased 181 percent and 31 percent respectively in the other neighborhoods. City-wide, during the study period, delinquency increased 61 percent.

To appreciate this tremendous force for juvenile decency, multiply the Louisville story by 500 clubs in 316 cities and towns in 42 states. Yet it is obvious from Mr. Hoover's statement and from daily news reports that there are not enough. And certainly there could be no better time than Boys' Club Week for thoughtful citizens who love boys to organize a club in every area in the nation that is still without one. Boys' Club have local autonomy are operated by local citizens, but with the help of the national organization, Boys' Clubs of America, and the help of the most distinguished fellow Americans.

TAXES — ROOT OF THE EVIL

Almost overnight a rather mystifying change in attitude toward the "recession" has occurred in Congress and in the White House. As nearly as it can be pin-pointed, it dates from the return of Vice President Nixon from a mysterious trip to New York, said to have been made on his own initiative, and in the course of which he is reported to have sat at the feet of another great general.

Following President Eisenhower's letter to Republican Congressional leaders outlining new spending and earlier spending on projects to which the Government is already committed but specifically condemning such "pump-priming schemes" as the Rooseveltian PWA and WPA, Vice President Nixon declared for tax-cutting. The Democratic led Congress has been for pump priming.

He would rather, he said, "go down the tax cutting road than the spending road." He would cut personal taxes, business taxes and excises in order to put "money in the hands not only of customers but in the hands of investors and job-givers." At once a rash of new tax reduction bills broke out on Capitol Hill, and the White House declared for a tax cut—not right now, but later if needed.

Thus, a tax cut appears more likely than not and it becomes important to consider what kind would do the most good. There are bills that could only be hatched in an election year, "hand-out" measures that would boost the deficit more than the economy.

And there is the Sadlak-Herlong bill, a carefully thought out measure that would reduce income taxes, personal and corporate, by a minimum of 25 percent in five years. It provides the safe and sane reform of the tax structure to give business a green light, to give individuals relief and to provide the Treasury with more money by stimulating business activity.

Spending by people and business, made possible by a sane tax cut, will restore the economy faster and more constructively than spending by Government.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

DUNN, N. C., RECORD: "The idea of the century comes from Bill France, founder and president of NASCAR, the National Association for Stock Cars, who journeyed to Washington at the close of the year to lay before the President's Committee for Traffic Safety a program for licensing automobile drivers as realistically as airplane pilots.

"Mr. France, whose goal is 'to make highway travel as safe as a ride on a merry go round,' pointed out to the President's Committee the folly of testing drivers on quiet streets at 25 mph. and expecting that this could qualify them for handling cars under present highway traffic conditions and at speeds of 40, 50, 60 and 70 miles per hour.

NORWALK, CONN., HOUR: "Pure science covers research knowledge that may not be used immediately. Without it, none of the great advances since the dawn of the atom age would have been possible. It is essential to any future progress."

Grade School News

We are very happy to have some nice weather for a few days as it helps to dry up some of the mud puddles and permits us to get out in the open. Just to get outside and play in the sunshine makes every one gush forth with the spirit of the first days of spring. We are all hoping that a few days of bright sunshine will help to do away with a lot of the illness that has been hampering the work of several of our students.

Our third grade sections had a very fine Chapel program, March 15th. Many of the children were very eager to take part in the program and expressed a desire to have another program in the very near future.

Mrs. McCullough's Sixth grade section has been working on a Talent show as part of their daily activities, and will put on a program in the very near future. This is good training for the children and gives them a great amount of self confidence.

People will believe anything, if you whisper it.

Burk Girls Attend TASC Conference In Abilene, Texas

Four Burkburnett High School girls attended the Texas Association of Student Council State Conference in Abilene on March 20-22. The four girls attending were Pat Powell, Kathy Roark, Mur Anne Elliott and Shirley Overton. They were accompanied by their sponsor, Mr. Roy Silkwood.

The conference included three general sessions, fifty discussions groups, one of which Burkburnett led and address by Rev. Gary Demarest of the Riverside Presbyterian church in Jacksonville, Fla. The theme of the conference was "Don't Say Go: Go Thyself" and Rev. Demarest's address was very inspirational. Entertainment in the meetings was provided by the Abilene High School A Capella Choir and Concert Band. Other entertainment was in the form of a mixer and dance, a barbecue supper at Hardin-Simmons University, and a semi-formal dance for the 1,800 students attending with Peanuts Gonzales providing the dance music.

The whole city of Abilene worked hard to provide the wonderful hospitality they showed the students and this hospitality was thoroughly taken advantage of.

Mrs. Mary Marguerite Williams and little son, Bobby Lee, returned to their home in Houston Tuesday after spending the past two weeks with her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Keown and family.

OUTDOORS IN TEXAS

By Vern Sanford

Everyone who fishes for bass knows some day to land a big one is better eating—it is just the same as catching one bigger than you've ever taken before. Well, if you've tried everything else, here is a suggestion that may be worth something. It is paid off. Whether it does for you may depend on luck as well as ability.

Some call it jigging. Actually it is just plain fishing. You might call it bottom fishing with a heavy rig. But it does, occasionally, pay off with a big bass.

Naturally you must have good water. Always in bassy waters there is an area that looks good, but is unworkable with light lines. You can do it, however, with a heavy rig.

The best spot is at the base of big tree trunks that stick out of the water, or where there is considerable brush under the water. Rig up your light salt water tackle, or use a good stiff action rod with a heavy reel loaded with from 20 to 30 lbs test line.

The bait doesn't make too much difference, if it something that will attract the bass. Right now some of the fishermen are using those black plastic worms or black ells. They have a good heavy sinker on the terminal that will take the bait to the bottom. After it has had a chance to settle down, work it only slightly and not too often. Just an occasional movement up and down. The chances are a big bass already has spotted it. He's not likely to be in a hurry to attack. You may spend a half hour there, but don't take the lure out. Finally the old bruiser can't stand it any longer and he rushes it.

Set your hook and start up, all with the same motion. Don't give him a chance to wrap the line around a limb or crawl under a fence. More depends upon your retrieve than most anything else. That's the reason you need a good heavy line, one with which you can hoist him out.

When you are fishing for the big ones it is man against fish. If you land the fish you are the best. After you get him on the stringer find a new location and start all over again.

Will it work? Try it yourself. There is another way you can use the same rig, except for the lure. This time use a deep running plug. You might even want a trailing jig. Troll it fast thru good bass water, and deep. That is why you'll need the heavy equipment, so you can pull it deep.

This is being done everyday on Texoma with wonderful results. You may not do it the first time, but the idea is worth a little practice.

Again, will it work? Again, try it.

Hawaiian Lures—Twenty-five years ago a fisherman in Ohio by the name of Fred Arbogast was testing out lures to see what effect they would have on catching fish. There was something about a Hawaiian skirt that intrigued him, so he made a skirt from an original lure and called it the Hawaiian Wiggler.

It didn't take long for this lure to catch on. Every man wanted one in his tackle box because it was a bass killer. Since that time Fred has gone on to his reward, but his Hawaiian Wiggler lives on. More than 14 million of them have been sold.

This year a number of silver wigglers have been made up for presentation to a few long-time users. I am proud to have one.

time money belt and has two pockets in the back for inserting the warmers.

NATURAL—"Lifelike and true to nature" is how Burke's Flexo-Products Co refers to their new Flexo-Lures. Plastic lures seem to be growing in popularity, and this Traverse City (Mich.) manufacturer is making artificial bait that is as realistic as can be.

They now produce everything from artificial red ants, to floating frogs and the most "natural" eels. Especially "tempting" is their Flex-Minnow for spinning, trolling or casting. Sure hard to tell em from the real McCoy.

DELIAR—Got a fisherman friend to whom you'd like to present an inexpensive little gift? Here's something he'd appreciate. It's only a $2 item but its quite a little gadget.

We're talking about the fisherman's DE-LIAR. It's a combination scale for weighing (up to 8 pounds) and a 24 inch retractable steel tape for measuring length. Right clever little all-metal gauge no bigger than a cigarette lighter. It's made by the Langley Corp. of San Diego, Calif. They have sold 3,000,000 of them the past 10 years.

News From The County Agent

The third annual Cage clinic for egg producers will be held on March 26th in the Memorial Center at Texas A&M College. The program will begin at 8:30 a. m. and will adjourn at 5 p. m. All persons interested in cage egg production have a special invitation to attend. Last years attendance exceeded 600 persons, says B. T. Haws, county agent.

Pastures are a cash crop and should be treated as such. Here are some of the treatments summer temporary pastures should get:

1. Plant in rows for grazing.
2. Stagger the plantings. You can extend the grazing period in this manner.
3. Mow as necessary to keep pastures growing and to supply dry feed.
4. Fertilize properly. Haws suggests a soil test as a guide here.

With the reduction in cotton acreages again this year, it looks like more farmers will be planting corn to replace the acres previously devoted to cotton. The use of hybrids will be a very good way to make more money on the corn.

Last year corn tests were run in many parts of Texas. Due to weather conditions, many of these tests were unsuccessful, but some of them were very good. County agents have a list of the hybrid corn variety that is recommended for their county. The hybrid recommendations are based on years of testing for an adapted variety for any particular area. No hybrid is recommended on just one year of production.

Just remember, if you want to make the best yields possible plant hybrid corn that is recommended for your area.

Annual Swine Short Course and Carcass Contest at Texas A&M College will be held on May 5th and 6th. Anyone interested in attending this program is asked to contact B. T. Haws, county agent, 304 Federal Bldg., Wichita Falls.

The real cost of fertilizer is measured in terms of the unit cost of plant nutrients applied to the soil. Farmers should study the grade analysis. The best buy may be in the fertilizers with the higher analysis.

A reformer is someone who insists on his conscience being your guide.

The world is not interested in the storms you encountered but did you bring the ship in.

One of them weighed 118 lbs and the other 74, with more than a score of smaller ones.

The gars were taken in grill nets. However, they can be taken on rod and reel and there is plenty of fight in doing it.

ICE FISHING—We don't have ice fishing in this part of the country, but occasionally we do have some real chilly weather. Fisherman on Lake Texoma have found a way to help overcome some of the chill. They are using charcoal heaters in their boats.

Others use gasoline stoves for the same results. While we believe in comfort, we hesitate to recommend a stove for a small boat. It's taking a lot of chance, especially in a boat where there is a gasoline tank or extra can of fuel.

Rocking of the boat, a gust of wind or even excitement while boating a fish could cause a terrible tragedy. If you've never seen a boat on fire in the middle of the lake, with its passengers struggling in the water, we can tell you it's not a pleasant sight.

Speaking of cold weather. Early morning fishing is chilly even in late Spring. If you want the big economy size of warmth take a Jon-e, Jumbo-size warmer. It's a new self starting, lighter-fluid type of hand warmer, only it's giant size.

Aladdin Laboratories of Minneapolis has just produced this big one, patterned after their famous lighter size hand warmer. It has an easy starting, no flame heater, and also serves as a handy cigarette lighter. I'm told they also have a belt that you wear close to the body for real cold days. Resembles an old

IT'S THE LAW In Texas

Property Rendering Deadline

April 1st will be the deadline for most Texans to render their property to certain taxing agencies. State laws require all real and personal property to be rendered for taxes on or before prescribed dates. Those who fail to comply can blame only themselves for the money loss they may consequently suffer.

Some Texas cities set their own tax deadlines. These are the cities of more than 5,000 population which have incorporated under the "Home Rule" provisions of our statutes. All other cities are governed by the general laws of Texas.

In towns operating under the general laws property must be rendered for taxes between Jan. 1 and April 1st each year. A number of home rule cities set up the same requirements in their ordinances, while others prescribe different periods.

For state and county tax purposes, property must be rendered to the County Tax Assessor by April 30, and homestead exemption must be claimed by the same time.

In some localities a third taxing unit is involved, the independent school district. In other places school taxes are collected by the city or county. In addition, some localities have water irrigation, or levee districts which assess and collect taxes. Make inquiry as to where these various taxes are assessed, and as to applicable deadline for rendition.

What property must be rendered for taxes? If Texas laws were strictly enforced, we would be required to render to all taxing units nearly every piece of real and personal property which we own, down to the very clothing on our backs. An exception is on constitutional exemption of $250 worth of household furniture. However, no taxing unit carries their requirements this far, and it will be necessary to inquire of each tax assessor when rendering your property whether specific types of property are ordinarily rendered in that locality. Some cities and counties collect ad valorem taxes on automobiles, television sets and other personal items, while others ignore practically all personal property. Business and professional men are generally required to render merchandise, furnishings, fixtures, business automobiles and equipment. If property is not rendered by the tax payer, it may then be placed upon the unrendered tax roll, and the taxing agency places such valuation thereon as it considers fair. One advantage of rendering your property is that you can set your own valuation. Then, if the county or city decides a higher valuation is in order, you will be given an opportunity to appear before a board to explain why the higher figure should not be used in computing your taxes.

Thereafter, an appeal to the courts is possible in some instances. Generally speaking, however, the courts are unable to strike out a valuation unless the agency or board has acted arbitrarily and placed on the property a valuation higher than that placed on comparable property owned by others. If you do not render, the valuation set by the taxing agency is final.

From the Office of Lyndon Johnson

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson has introduced two resolutions calling for stepped up activity in building civil works and military construction projects for which Congress already has authorized appropriations.

Sen. Johnson said the resolutions would permit Congress to express its feeling that the Administration "should accelerate the projects which we have already approved." A majority of the members of the Senate joined the Texas Senator in sponsoring the resolutions.

"Congress has granted ample authority and ample funds for a wide range of construction projects, both civil and military," Senator Johnson pointed out. Those funds at the present time are being spent on the basis of a normal economy.

But there is nothing about an economy which would find jobs for five million unemployed workers. There is a normal about a situation which we are losing the productive capacity of five million and women.

The Senator said he was predicting a depression, but termed the present situation as "a depression in progress." He knows whether unemployment will increase, decrease or remain the same.

Sen. Johnson has called for quick action on a bill proposing a program to boost Government highway expenditures by more than $1,450,000,000 in the fiscal year. He also has called for setting up a public agency to plan new projects which they should be halted the economic downturn.

News From The County Agent

Proper lawngrass fertilization is often neglected by the home owner. Grass needs feeding, just as does cotton, corn and cattle, says B. T. Haws, county agent. Cost of the relatively small amount of plant nutrients required for healthy, vigorous turf is small in comparison with the returns realized. When clippings are caught and removed from the lawn, an increased rate of fertilization will be necessary, since the clippings return some plant food to the soil when they decompose. If mowing is as frequent as it should be, there will be no need to catch the clippings.

Plant food elements required in largest amounts by grass plants are nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium, but these must be applied in the right proportion to give satisfactory results. Nitrogen is the key element in turf production. It produces vegetable growth and gives the plant a deep green color. Phosphorus stimulates development of a good root system. Potassium affects the physiological processes of the plant. The three elements are necessary parts of all living plant tissues.

Knowing the proper time to feed your grass is just as important as knowing what to feed it. Turf requires frequent feedings to remain green and vigorous throughout the growing season. Turfed areas should receive an application of complete fertilizer in the spring and early fall. Most people in the Wichita Falls area use 16-20-0 or 13-39-0, says Haws.

The spring application on Bermuda, St. Augustine and Zoysia should be made about the time the grass begins to grow. These three types of lawns should receive 1 pound of actual nitrogen per 1,000 square feet every 20 to 30 days during the growing season. These applications of nitrogen, made between the spring and fall applications of complete fertilizer, will keep the lawn grass green and vigorous.

Maintaining the proper nutrient balance when applying fertilizer is important in getting the maximum return from the money invested in fertilizer. The county agent suggests taking a soil test to determine the proper nutrient proportions.

The warm weather ahead can cause poultrymen a loss in egg quality and price unless refrigeration equipment is provided in their operations. The cost to operate a unit that would handle a 2,000 bird flock laying 20 to 24 cases per week, including depreciation would only be one-third cent per dozen.

Location can mean the difference between a successful and an unsuccessful garden, says B. T. Haws, county agent. The ideal site would be a level, well drained, sunny spot with deep, rich friable sandy loam soil, free from rocks and debris, he adds.

Would you like to know of a sure fire method of increasing the value of your farm or home?

B. T. Haws county agent says that many Texas families have done just that. Of course, they have improved their farms and homes by working with their neighbors on community-wide programs to improve pastures, landscape and improve homes, churches and community centers, as well as improving crops and livestock. But the point is, Haws says, that people like to live and farm in a community where folks have demonstrated a spirit of working together. He says there have been instances where farms or homes brought as much as 10% more because they were located in one of these communities.

If you would like to know more about this community improvement program, and how you can get your neighbors organized in this effort, your county agent or home demonstration agent has details and would be glad to work with you.

Over $2,950,000 additional income was received last year by Texas egg producers who sold on the basis of grade. B. T. Haws county agent reports that more than 59 million dozens of eggs were sold in 1957 on the basis of grade, a gain of 9 million dozen over the previous year.

A Wichita County Junior Dairy club was organized this week. John Williamson and Shirley VanHuss were elected co-chairmen of the organization. Mr. Gene Robertson was elected sponsor of the organization. Any club boy or girl interested in dairying is invited to join the club.

WILBARGER-WICHITA SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

Most farmers and some ranchers are ready for dry weather. However, some ranges are not wet through the subsoil, according to Elvy Sargent, Iowa Park Soil Conservationist.

Rainfall was far above average during 1957 and winter moisture has been adequate with frequent showers, but soil conservationists are finding ranges with inadequate cover are wet only 24 to 30 inches deep. Ranges with good cover are wet beyond the root zone of the plants. Since it takes water to grow cover and cover to get water into the soil, the Soil Conservation Service recommends chiseling on hard land sites on ranges that do not at this time have sufficient cover. Tests run by technicians of the Soil Conservation Service show that, if rain fall can be gotten thru the surface of soil, it will penetrate into subsoil. Range chiseling or subsoiling will aid water penetration, Sargent stated.

Gale Lowrance, Floyd Miller, Walter Miller and L. F. Miller of Iowa Park, William Moeller, Delbert Gilbert and Frank Foster of Electra did pasture chiseling during 1957. Henry Wolf of Iowa Park did some of the earlier pasture chiseling and range improvements have been good enough that he no longer needs to do pasture chiseling.

The Soil Conservation Service suggests that if farmers are in doubt of the need of pasture chiseling, quick moisture penetration checks can be taken.

HOW MUCH IN EXAMPLE?
(A distinguished Texas judge offers pointers on combating our rapidly increasing juvenile delinquency problem.)

By JUDGE SARAH T. HUGHES

JUDGE HUGHES

How much power is there in example to provide children with character-training that will see them through our complex and contradictory modern conditions? ... Especially in their teens, when nature makes them particularly unstable?

Do you remember during the war how many people got more gas, coffee, and meat than they were entitled to? And how some even bragged about getting around ration limitations?

Attitudes Are Contagious
The children are bound to know these things. And if parents cheat and get away with it, isn't it all right to cheat at school? ... And then to cheat on property, the law?

If a child hears his mother tell his father an untruth, won't he feel that it's all right for him to fib just a little — and later a little more — if he needs to get out of a tight situation?

The Contagion of Goodness
Just TELLING a child to be honest, to speak the truth, is not enough. Moral-ethical ideals can't be inculcated by education and religion alone. Little effect will be had on behavior, still less on character, unless right attitudes become a part of the individual — that is, unless they have been learned through living — through constant example.

Perhaps all of us need a re-dedication to the old-fashioned virtues — honesty, truthfulness, industry.
