Federated Missionary Society met in the Buster Morgan home Friday, April 11th for a 12:00 o'clock luncheon with Mrs. A. N. Newman and Mrs. W. R. Carswell, co-hostesses. Mrs. Leon Turner brought a nice devotional quoting Matt. 22: 11, "And when the king came in to see the guests, he saw there a man which had not on a wedding garment." We speak of Christ making atonement for our sins and often times stumble over the word atonement. The doctrine of the atonement so precious to Christian hearts and yet so difficult to understand, is that Christ covers our sins and they are forgiven, wonderful grace, thus to cover the shame of our iniquity.

Roll call was answered with scripture verses. Mrs. Cecil closed the meeting with prayer.

The following members were present: Mesdames Brocker, Gage, Russell, Newman, Buntine, Ady Minick, Buchanan, Scruggs, Cauthorn, Morgan, Kent, Meyers, Gilbert, Jones, Leon Turner, Van, Cecil, Haley and Ben Turner.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

LEXINGTON, S. C. DISPATCH-NEWS: "In March of Dimes respiratory centers all over the nation, youngsters and adults fight to breathe again, to walk, to lift an arm or move a finger. In hospitals, homes and clinics, the disabled still look to the March of Dimes to help them build new lives."

WALDEN, N. Y. CITIZEN-HERALD: "Many early advocates of the St. Lawrence Seaway are now working toward fixing ridiculously low tolls or eliminating them all together. This would turn the Seaway into a taxpayer liability with all of us forced to foot the bill not only for its construction but for its operation as well. Before they do, it would be a good idea to remind our Congressmen of their original intention and demand they prevent the Seaway from becoming another millstone around the neck of the luckless taxpayer."

INTERNATIONAL FALLS, MINN. DAILY JOURNAL: "Truth of the old adage, 'Great oaks from little acorns grow,' is well illustrated in the rise of the atomic energy industry. Still in its infancy, the industry has grown in 10 years to become an important element in the nation's job picture, according to data supplied by the U. S. Department of Labor. The labor office estimates that there are now more than 150,000 jobs, ranging from mining to scientific research, in all phases of atomic energy activity."

NORWALK, CONN. HOUR: "The farm surplus, which has been a major domestic headache since the end of the second World War, has emerged as a useful instrument of foreign aid. Farm surplus cannot be used successfully in all countries, but it is as good as dollar grants in many lands, where food is scarce. The cost to the American taxpayer was reflected almost entirely in the year the surplus commodities were acquired. Disposal now involves only shipping charges. Thus the surpluses are taken off the domestic market and made to serve friends abroad with little additional cost to the taxpayer."

GRAND RAPIDS, MICHIGAN. TIMES: "During war time railroads performed colossally in moving war material and personnel. Now the railroads are in dire stress, some of it through no fault or lack of theirs; some of it by unwise pressures of labor groups that forced practices detrimental to continued success and progress for the roads. But it will be a very sorry day if America lets the railways go by the board."

ERASE - EXPUNGE - EXTIRPATE

We hope you remembered, when your Congressman and Senators were home for Easter, to tell them what you think about paying that ten percent luxury tax (of all things!) on all your telephone calls, local and long distance. We hope everybody in town gave them a piece of his (and more particularly her) mind on continuing, year after year, a wartime tax-on-talk that was imposed to discourage aimless or non-essential conversation over wires loaded with defense business and the messages of service men.

Futhermore, we hope our Representatives and Senators remembered what you said after they got to Washington. But just in case, you might write them a confirming letter. You might tell them, if you haven't already, that shoes are a luxury to some people and so are pants and a ring in the nose, but they never have been to Americans. Nor is it exactly a luxury to call the police or the fire department or the doctor, even to order groceries by phone or conduct business with which to pay for the groceries and all the other local, state and federal taxes.

And, you might remind them that this costly nuisance is known as an "excise" tax, and that in your dictionary, excise means: "To cut out, as a tumor; to remove as by cutting out; to erase; expunge; extirpate", and that this is what you would like them to do with that tax.

YOUTH IN THE WELFARE STATE

According to a recent Gallup Poll, 56 percent of Great Britain's young people—those between 21 and 34 years", would like to leave their native isles and settle in another corner of the globe. The first four preferred countries of emigration, in order, are Australia, Canada, New Zealand and the United States.

Other surveys made in late years have produced comparable results. And some students have conducted exhaustive inquiries as to why England's youth—those on whom her future depends—should wish to forever leave their homeland in overwhelming numbers.

Naturally, the reasons are many and varied. But one of the big ones is found in England's welfare state. Government controls are rigorous, and along with them has come a crushing burden of taxation. Opportunity for most young people is limited to the extreme. The heavy hand of an entrenched, rule-bound bureaucracy is felt everywhere. The principal basic industries are still nationalized, and even the major privately owned enterprises are dominated by government.

Under such circumstances, it is natural that the young people should be discontented and rebellious. They feel that they are ciphers, with little or no chance to get ahead, to make the most of their energies and abilities, to lead useful, productive and satisfying lives. This is always a fruit of the super-state, no matter what particular philosophy it's grounded in.

NEWSBOYS CAN DREAM

Columbia, S. C., geographically speaking, is quite a stretch from the industrial centers of the Great Lakes, but as opportunity goes, it is not so far. The Columbia State, with pardonable pride, tells of the rise of one of its former paper carriers, a native Columbian and a South Carolinian.

As reported by The State, Mr. John E. Swearingen, a graduate of the University of South Carolina has been named president of Standard Oil Company of Indiana. Mr. Swearingen is 39 years old and "began his career with Standard Oil as a chemical engineer. He became a director of Standard Oil in 1951 and was named vice president in charge of production in 1954. In September, he was promoted to executive vice president and 18 months later made president.

Here is fresh evidence that the United States is still a land where newsboys can make their dreams come true if they are willing to work hard enough. It will remain so as long as we preserve an economic system in which even the largest industries operate in a competitive free market that demands the highest degree of individual ability.

WHERE THE MONEY IS

Old illusions die hard. A conspicuous example is the illusion that the rich pay most of the cost of government.

At one time there was much truth in this. But that was in a vastly different age. Some facts presented to a House Committee by a spokesman for a group of Rhode Island industries tells the sad tale. The individual income tax produces about one-half of all federal revenue. The beginning rate is 20 percent, which applies to the lowest taxable income. From there it climbs, ladder-fashion, to a top of 91 percent.

An uninformed person might deduce from this that the 20 percent minimum tax is a comparatively unimportant revenue producer. He couldn't be more wrong, for 84 percent of all income tax revenue is produced by that beginning rate. By way of comparison, in a late year the rates above 50 percent produced only about one percent of total federal revenue.

The reason for this is simple enough. There just aren't enough rich people to pay the tax bills, or even to make a sizeable dent in them. Government must get its money from where the money is, and most of it is in the hands of people of small and moderate means. It is these people who have the greatest stakes in efficient and economical government, and in measures which would get rid of non-essential spending and reduce the tax load.

I DIDN'T KNOW THIEVES ARE CLASSED

I didn't know thieves were classed until I found there were grave thieves. We put flowers on our loved one's graves, and the flower thief takes them away.

I put a beautiful Lily on my mother's grave Easter, but it didn't stay long. Some came and took away pot and all. If I knew who needs flowers that bad I would buy several lilies if they would not steal again, for I believe who would do that is the lowest classed thief there is. We know our folks that have passed on and that is the only way, and the only thing we can do show our love in remembrance of our dear loved ones. May God have pity on all people.

About Your HEALTH

A weekly public service feature from the Texas State Department of Health. HENRY A. HOLLE, M. D. Commissioner of Health

Only by constant fighting has mankind been able to hold his precarious own against the insect hordes that bite and sting, destroy his food and clothing, and sometimes inflict a horrible death.

Well over a million different insect species have been described from throughout the world, and the list continues to grow at the rate of 6-7,000 new species discovered every year. This country is inhabited by approximately 600 injurious species, one of these are proven vectors of human diseases.

The vast majority of insects are neutral or indifferent where man is concerned, apparently content to let humanity go its way and demanding the same privilege. Others are highly beneficial, feeding on noxious weeds or troublesome insects, or pollinating crops. At least 50 different seed and fruit crops would be barren without insect pollinizers.

On the other hand, to fix a price tag on depredations of harmful insect varieties, you have to regear your thinking or risk getting lost in a maze of zeros. Just counting field crops and stored grains, they wreck an estimated $4 billion worth of havoc every year in the United States alone.

Flees, flies and mosquitoes were, and still are behind some of the most calamitous scourges the human race has ever faced, including plague, malaria, yellow fever, encephalitis, typhus, dengue fever and filariasis.

Against this constant threat to human health and welfare, mankind has developed powerful insecticidal sprays and powders. Using them with sensible safety precautions, literally thousands upon thousands of acres of previously untenable land have been opened for human habitation. Their use has also resulted in a marked decrease in the incidence of insect-born diseases of man and his domestic animals.

The fact that most insecticides are toxic for humans as well as for insects has caused some apprehension. It is true that people who are in close contact with poisonous agents or use them carelessly do run real risks. But there is no concrete evidence to suggest the general population is being insidiously poisoned.

New insecticides are introduced only after extensive experimentation has shown they can meet

Texas Highway

It's here! It's new. It's free!!! The Texas Highway Dept. today released the new 1958 official Highway Travel Map. Maps may be obtained by writing the Texas Highway Department, Austin 14, Texas or at the Highway District offices and Travel Information Bureaus. County tax offices have map cards available for requesting copies of the map.

The official Highway Travel map is used by all state and governmental agencies in Texas for determining highway distances, mileages, zones and like information. The same map is used by Texas tourists seeking roads to recreational and historical attractions throughout the state. The reverse side of the map reflects in full color some of the outstanding scenic and recreational facilities in Texas.

Texas' new 1958 travel map is the answer to today's demand for more and more travel information. The steady growth of Texas from a state with a population of slightly over seven million just ten years ago to its present estimated population of 17,126 million, a 16,506 mile increase. The map reflects a total of 43,292 miles of highways.

Roadside parks, long cherished by Texas highway users, were not shown on the 1948 map. Today, 1,026 roadside parks are pinpointed as pleasant stopping places. Divided highways show a startling jump in the ten year period. In 1948 there were 110 miles of divided roads shown. Now there are 1,007 miles marked on the map with the blank bands and red center indicating divided highway miles.

exacting federal and state requirements. Each label carries detailed instructions for using the product safely. The burden of following those instructions rests with the user. Insecticides, despite their great value as weapons against insects are not sufficient by themselves. They should be used to supplement, not supplant, other control activities, the most important of which is proper personal and community sanitation.

A woman's vocabulary may be only 500 words—but what a turnover.

News From The County Agent

Homemade compost will greatly improve the structure of garden soil and result in better production, according to B. T. Haws county agent. Grass clippings, leaves, weeds and plant residue are a few materials that he says will make suitable compost.

Ten hours of labor are required in cotton production for grass and weed control, making it the second highest cost item for this crop. But this figure can be greatly reduced if recommended control practices are followed. He advises a visit with the local county agent for detailed information.

All livestock and poultry on farms and ranches were valued at $983 million at the beginning of the year, or 58 percent above the $623 million inventory value a year earlier. This sharp increase in value is a reflection of both the increased prices and numbers.

The total number of cattle and calves on Texas farm and ranches January 1, 1958, was estimated at 7.7 million head. This is the same as a year earlier but 9 percent below the 1947-56 average of 8.5 million head.

The number of sheep on the same date was estimated at 4.7 million head, a five percent increase over a year earlier. This is the first significant increase in inventory in a number of years. In spite of a much smaller ewe lamb crop, the number of ewe lambs held was 30 percent above a year earlier.

Coastal Bermuda grass showed the greatest response in total forage yield at nitrogen was increased from 100 to 200 pounds per acre in a test with common Bermuda grass, angleton grass Dallis grass and Coastal Bermuda grass at the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station at Angleton.

Temporary summer pastures are the most dependable source of summer grazing. Not only do these temporary pastures permit resting permanent pastures, but they also furnish a better quality grazing at a time when it is not available from permanent pastures.

Sudangrass is still best on soils of medium to high fertility. Because of their resistance to leaf diseases, sweet, Tift, or Greenleaf varieties should be used in the humid sections of the state. The common variety may be used in the drier areas.

TELEPHONE TALK

by C. A. Deuschle, Manager

THANKS FOR YOUR COMMENTS

We certainly appreciated the good response to our telephone postcard service survey in Burkburnett. The purpose of this survey was to find out if you had any specific telephone service trouble and to get your comments concerning your telephone service.

One hundred and eighty-two cards have been returned to customers comments. While we did not ask for comments, one hundred and forty-six customers indicated that service was good and had experienced no trouble.

We were able to clear customer service problems and better acquainted with customers who had experienced trouble in some form through the postcard survey. We are glad that the survey was definitely worthwhile, and that you will be able to give us better service as a result of your comments and suggestions on your telephone service.

SPRING HOUSE CLEANING

Is spring house cleaning under way at your home? Are you planning to do a little redecorating, too? I have a suggestion that will help add a little color to your home whether you're cleaning or redecorating. It is this: use some color telephones in your home.

We now have nine attractive colors plus black. The colors are: white, cherry red, pastel yellow, ivory, moss green, rose pink, aqua blue, light beige, light grey.

From this variety you can choose one or several to add or contrast with any colors in your home.

Color extension telephones are practical, too. You'll be surprised at the steps they save: No more running to one end of the house to the other to answer. And, an extension telephone will give you more privacy on calls.

Color extension telephones are economical, too. Here in Burkburnett they cost only $10.00 (one time charge) plus a small installation charge. The monthly extension charge is only $1.00 a month.

GOING SOMEWHERE?

Some people I know have started planning their vacations because they know planning ahead can make a vacation more fun.

They've found, too, that calling ahead makes a vacation even more fun. No worry about whether you will find accommodations. No guessing as to whether the people you want to visit are home. Calling ahead on your vacation or on any trip makes it more fun, gives you more peace of mind.

And don't forget that the people at home like to hear from you, too. A telephone call is a personal, easy way to get in touch.

Next time, call. Take the worries out of travel. Call by number. It's twice as fast.

About one acre of temporary summer pasture is the average needed per cow or animal unit. Plant in a well prepared, clean seedbed when the soil is warm and moisture is available for germination and good growth. When moisture conditions are good, several plantings may be made to stretch the grazing season. Plantings should be in 36 to 42 inch rows and grazing should begin when the plants are about 24 inches high.

The second highest cost item in cotton production is for grass and weed control. B. T. Haws, county agent, says on the average, 10 hours of labor are required an acre for this one item. But, he adds, this figure can be reduced if recommended control practices are followed.

Last year the State's cotton producers saved an estimated $16,000,000 by using rotary hoes, chemicals and oils in their efforts to keep weeds and grass under control. Rotary hoes on 44,798 farm tractors were used in 150 counties to cut more than $15 million from the hoe bill. Haws points out that rotary hoe equipped tractors should be operated at high speed for best results, around 6 miles an hour.

Lateral oiling with five gallons of naphtha an acre was used on 21,000 acres in 53 counties to cut the weed and grass control cost by $65,000, reports Haws. The cost of application was $1.00 an acre and oiling shoes with a gage wheel arrangement permitted the operators to travel at fourth gear speeds.

In one county, five gallons of naphtha an acre was applied as a fine spray on grass in the drill with 95% of the grass killed. This treatment cost a dollar an acre; eliminated hoeing and saved the producer a gross of $7 an acre.

Spot treatment of Johnson grass, says the county agent, can eliminate the pest in one year while a full crop can be produced on the treated acreage.

How does your soil rate? This is the title of a recently released extension service bulletin and a question every farmer should try to find the answer to. As a tiller of the soil and one who derives his living from it, a farmer should be familiar with his soil's characteristics and limitations. He should make an accurate evaluation of its texture and permeability as well as other factors such as its depth, conditions and fertility. This bulletin can be a big help in such a soil evaluation. It discusses the factors just mentioned and devotes sections to such topics as slope, wetness hazards and erosion. This bulletin may be obtained from your local county agent, B. T. Haws.

All of us need and want to build an overall financial pattern for our own and our family protection.

One of the greatest hazards for a family might be an unexpected illness or accident.

Disability is another factor to guard against. Accident and health hospitalization plans are available for such disaster and should be provided.

They are studying insurance for hospital, surgical, major medical care and loss of income.

As part of the study of family economics, home demonstration clubs work on life insurance, wills, use of credit, family planning and spending, family security, social security and managing the bank account.

As a result of this family economics study, numerous homemakers have organized family files and business centers.

Good planning will avoid unnecessary family hazards. Good family planning is one of the most important duties that parents have toward dependents.

A district judging tour was made in the Friberg and City View communities this week.

The Wichita County program building committee held its regular evaluation meeting last week.

Sixteen homemakers in the Burkburnett area have just completed work in a basic sewing workshop.

fabric and pattern selection, pattern alteration, cutting marking stay stitching, darts, seams, collars, sleeves, zippers, button-holes, joining a skirt & waist, making belts and putting in hems.

Interfacings were also stressed, as a part of the workshop. Each homemaker used an interfacing adapted to her particular garment.

Interfacing can help give a more professional look to your home sewing, according to Thelma Wirges, county HD agent.

Interfacing is most likely to be needed where buttons and buttonholes are to be placed, according to the agent.

Skirt waistbands may need a single thickness of interfacing to prevent the waistband from stretching.

There is no hard and fast rule to follow in the selection of interfacing fabric.

If you expect to wash the garment be sure to choose an interfacing that is washable.

The Rex Lehman family has enrolled as a Farm and Home development family.

Homeowners invest considerable money and effort in furnishing their lawn and backyards with picnic furniture, swings and gliders and other accessories.

As you get your outdoor living area fixed for the summer, remember you can add years to the useful life of wooden outdoor furnishings by treating them with a wood preservative.

Wood decay is caused by the action of fungi, small plant like organisms present everywhere in soil.

The preservative suggested by the forester is poisonous to both insects and fungi.

For some furniture, such as tables, benches and chairs, let each leg stand overnight in a container filled with the solution.

Wood should be dry and unpainted. If desired, paint can be applied over the preservative after it is thoroughly dry.

PUBLIC HEARING

There will be a public hearing on the City Budget for the fiscal year of April 1, 1958 through March 31, 1959, at the City Hall 7:30 p. m. April 28th.

Mr. M. C. Chapman of Jacksboro visited friends in Burkburnett Tuesday. He is a former resident of Burkburnett.

News From The County Agent

Nutgrass annoys more people than any other weed or undesirable grass in Texas and is one of the hardest to control.

Seed are produced abundantly but their viability is low. Rhizomes grow from the crown of nutgrass plant and form tubers in a chainlike fashion.

But this bothersome pest can be controlled, says B. T. Haws, county agent.

One "don't" that is often violated by farmers and which should be pointed out here is don't destroy the tops of the nut grass.

Instructions for controlling nutgrass with chemicals and suggestions to follow when controlling it in various sites, such as fields, gardens, ornamentals, etc. is contained in this report.

This report may be obtained from your local county agent's office. Ask for TAP-95 "Control of Nutgrass."

Fertilizer sales were up slightly during the fall of 1957 with a trend toward higher analysis and an increase in nitrogen materials.

The total tonnage of fertilizer sold during the fall of 1957 was 5.6 percent over that sold during the same period of 1956.

Weeds often cause tremendous reduction in pasture and hay yields by stealing moisture, plant food and light from desirable pasture plants, warns B. T. Haws, county agent.

Too, he adds, they lower hay quality, harbor insects and diseases and increase labor and equipment costs.

Weed control is essential for best returns from productive pastures and meadows, but is not always profitable, says Haws.

Weeds may be controlled several ways, points out the county agent. The best way is through prevention.

Another effective method of weed control mentioned by Haws is mowing. Properly timed mowing will kill most pasture and meadow weeds.

Chemical control is usually fast, cheap and effective, says Haws. One spraying at the right time often gives near-complete control for one season.

Wood should be dry and unpainted. If desired, paint can be applied over the preservative after it is thoroughly dry.

Light Leads Our People

Each day a new door opens. What it reveals on the other side, for the people who must pass over its threshold, depends upon the conditions under which they lived their yesterdays.

Those in some countries look through the door upon a new day shadowed with oppressions, where there are few freedoms, tyrannies abound and living is hard and cold.

Those of us in America are more fortunate. Opening the door each day, we are met by the light of freedom which has led our destiny for many years. Protecting that freedom has been — and always will be — a Press that will not succumb to dictation or overpowering despotism.

For the light that leads to all freedoms is Freedom of the Press: Education . . . information of all kinds . . . news of all that transpires . . . and the open discussion of opinions and ideas that sharpens understanding.

Complete freedom of speech and of the press is the light that builds understanding, helping all mankind to advance onward and upward through the opening door of each tomorrow.

Easy On The Gas-- Ahead On Safety

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

TEENAGERS ARE DISCOVERING that careful driving really pays off!

Through competition in high school safety-economy runs, participants find that taking it easy on the gas puts them ahead in safety and also stretches the weekly allowance.

Miss Smith

Patterning after the national economy run, the high school driving tests gratify teenagers' desire for competition and teach them that high speeds, "jack rabbit" starts, sharp turns and sudden stops will sharply reduce gas mileage.

Officials who sponsor the junior runs believe that, although most teenagers possess mechanical ability and are skilful drivers, some lack the proper mental attitude for safe driving. Through these high school contests, held throughout the country, they hope to persuade young motorists that safe driving is as socially acceptable as making the football team or the honor roll.

In the runs, usually limited to about 35 participants, ability to drive both safely and economically is measured over a 100-mile route. Each driver is accompanied by an adult observer who checks to see that all traffic and safety laws are obeyed. For each infraction, the driver is penalized one-tenth of a gallon of gasoline. Violations may easily cost the driver a victory.

The three drivers in each contest who use the smallest amount of gas are awarded trophies at the high school assembly.

At a competition in Evanston, Ill., safety leaders from all over the country watched 27 Evanston Township High School students compete.

The participants averaged 19 miles to the gallon, and one of the two girls entered in the Evanston contest emerged as winner, with an average of 20.65 miles a gallon.

Proof of the program's acceptance is plentiful. Police officials, educators and safety experts have praised the runs.

As one youthful contestant put it, "The safety-economy run taught me that it's sensible and thrifty to drive safely."

enable Texas to avoid a summer lull in highway construction. Texas has already planned the projects in anticipation of the money, said Greer.

Designed as an anti-recession measure, the bill specifies the extra money must be spent within 12 months.

It won't put all the unemployed people to work said Greer, but it will stimulate the economy. And he added it's not a leaf-raking job.

With all the emphasis on scientific education, importance of training farmers and ranchers should not be neglected, said Gov. Price Daniel.

Speaking to a Future Farmer group, the governor said food is as necessary to the nation's defense as development of better weapans.

Texas' farm population, he noted, has declined by more than one half since 1933.

Small schools are going to have to help to meet higher state standards in math and science, says Sen. Crawford Martin of Hillsboro.

Beginning with the 1959-60 term, high schools are to be required to teach four years of science and four years of math. Sen. Martin said he doubted smaller districts had or could get, without assistance, the necessary staff and equipment to meet the new standard.

"Most have gymnasiums," he observed, but a lot lack laboratories.

SHORT SNORTS—

Deaths from industrial accidents dropped from 167 for the first three months of last year to 152 for the same period this year, reports the Industrial Accident Board. Named by Gov. Daniel to the Texas Civil Judicial Council, John Peace of San Antonio, Emil Rassman of Midland, Chief Justice T. C. Chadwick of the Texarkana Court of Civil Appeals and Baylor University law dean Abner V. McCall of Waco, reappointed. Council is to advise Legislature on civil court matters. Other gubernatorial appointments: George Dahl of Dallas and Louis Page of Austin to the Texas Board of Architectural Examiners, Mrs.

James L. Moore of San Antonio to the State Board of Cosmetology. Unemployment claims inched up slightly, from 89,326 to 89,786 in latest weekly report but Texas Employment Commission officials expressed confidence that the month as a whole would show a drop in number of jobless. Texas traffic fatality score for 1958 looks better than this time last year, 444, compared to 506 in 1957. But Texas is still apparently a pretty dangerous place for driving, second only to California in road fatalities, says the governor's traffic safety director, Brad Smith.

Last Thursday the President issued an Executive Order which is intended to tighten controls on the imports of foreign oil. The Order is based on the voluntary cooperation of the importers, and is, therefore, a continuation in a restricted way of the voluntary program. To this point several of the largest importing companies have not cooperated; therefore, there is no reason to believe that they will do so in the future. In the Executive Order the "Buy American Act" is applied to petroleum. The Defense Department alone spent $1,250,000,000 for oil and oil products in 1957. Of this sum, approximately $335,000,000 was for foreign oil. The difficulty in enforcing the "Buy American Act" is that it does not apply to purchases made outside the United States, and from an administrative standpoint it is extremely difficult to identify foreign oil when it becomes mixed with domestic oil. It would seem, therefore, that it will be almost impossible to enforce the "Buy American Act" and that this new action by the President will not actually materially reduce imports.

One of the real problems that has been confronted by our Armed Forces has been developing a program that would encourage highly trained people to stay in the Armed Services. Of the class that graduated from the Naval Academy in 1950, over 30% have already resigned and almost 15% of the West Point graduates of the same year have left the Army. The 1952 and 1954 classes are leaving in even greater numbers.

Dallas Office Says Rambler Sales Are Climbing

Rambler sales in American Motors' Dallas zone in the first three months of 1958 soared 43.6% over the comparable quarter of last year to establish a new record, according to T. J. Sloggett, zone manager.

The Dallas zone covers Texas and part of New Mexico.

The great sales gains posted by the Rambler dealers in the Dallas zone indicate that the trend toward compact, economical cars has reached new heights, Sloggett said.

Sloggett added that national Rambler sales in March climbed to 14,139 units to set a new all-time record, and were almost double the sales of March, 1957. The previous high month was June, 1957, when 12,810 Ramblers were delivered.

This is a real blow to the efficiency of our military establishment as well as being extremely costly because we spend a substantial sum in educating and training each of these graduates. Last week the House passed a bill which would revise the pay scale of the military so that a man would be paid in line with his skills. It is hoped that this bill will increase the efficiency and stability of our military services, allow us to get more for what we spend.

Social Security Information

In processing any type claim for social security benefits, the law requires certain proofs be submitted to show that a required event has actually occurred. For example, in death cases, a death certificate must be a part of the claim. Because the law limits certain monthly payments to persons of certain ages such as 62 for women, 65 for men and up to 18 for children (unless disabled before that age) proof of date of birth must be furnished.

When a widow is claiming benefits, it must be proved she is the legal widow of the wage earner. This is done by showing her marriage certificates or some other proof of marriage. Any time the law requires certain conditions to be entitled to benefits, proof that those conditions have been met must be submitted with a claim.

STATE CAPITAL
Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford
TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Next summer's campaigners are tuning up to play a familiar score, the conservative vs liberal melody Texas voters have been hearing for years.

But like the rock n roll version of a Stephen Foster song, it may sound different. Campaign pitches will have to keep time to the fast beat of 1958's new issues. Such as "curing the recession" and "catching up in education."

On the federal level, talk is of cutting taxes to give the people more money to spend. Here in Texas, it's raising taxes to give the state more money to spend.

In a situation like this, a voter can get confused.

For each issue, there will be several choruses, more or less drowning each other out. Some will chant of scaring away recession with large scale government spending. Others will say the only way is to give business a break.

For schools, some are calling for a nationwide program to require more work from students, provide better teachers at better pay, more lab equipment, scholarships for promising students, etc. But many Texans say "never" to any scheme that would eat away at local control over schools.

On how to get money to bail out the state treasury, there are already a number of tunes struck up, sales taxes, income taxes, corporation taxes, more economy in government, but no prospect of close harmony.

COWBOY HAT IN RIING—

One morning, in between pouring his coffee and finishing his bacon William A. Blakely decided to run for the U. S. Senate.

Blakely served as junior U. S. Senator for four months last year as the appointee of former Gov. Allan Shivers. He was not a candidate in the special election when Ralph Yarbrough was named to succeed him.

Son of Oklahoma homesteaders who had to "work out" for other farmers, Blakely parlayed a little grit into a lot of money, in law, banking, real estate, oil, ranching, gas, insurance and an air line.

He'll not be troubled by most candidates' sorest problem, raising campaign funds.

Incumbent Yarbrough has made statements leaving the door open for either of 2 courses, running for another Senate term or a fourth try at the governorship.

Purse Watchers Needed—

Texas' governor should have some power to keep a hand on state purse strings after the Legislature leaves.

So says Vernon McGee, director of the Legislative Budget Board. McGee heads the board with responsibility for studying the fiscal needs of all state departments and making recommendations to the Legislature.

Under the present system, McGee pointed out, after the Legislature makes its appropriations only the individual department heads are responsible for how the money is spent. Many administrators are admirably tight-fisted, McGee said, but others will spend money, that could be saved for later needs, just because they have it.

McGee's recommendation: give the governor authority to ask for periodic reports from departments and to cut their budgets for items no longer necessary.

Most other states have this system, said McGee.

STILL TO MUCH OIL —

Despite severe cuts in production, Texas is still producing more oil than anyone wants to buy. It could mean even deeper cuts and more idle drilling rigs next month.

Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson noted an increase of 1,208,000 barrels in stocks of crude oil. It shows, he said, that April's lowest in history, 8 day production pattern was needed.

He suggested that new wells coming in may make an even lower pattern necessary for May.

Judge Joe Greenhill Files For Supreme Court Post

Joe Greenhill of Travis County announced his candidacy this week for his first elective term as associate justice of the Supreme Court of Texas. Greenhill was appointed to the State's highest civil court last fall after 20 years of varied trial and appellate courts experience. Greenhill came up from the ranks in Supreme Court work and has had extensive experience with the Court having served for two years as a briefing attorney. His first tenure was several years after graduating from the University of Texas. When World War II came he joined the navy serving mainly in the Pacific. After the war, he returned to Supreme Court work as briefing attorney for the late Chief Justice James P. Alexander, the late Justices Few Brewster, John H. Sharp, C. S. Clatton and Graham Smalley, among others. He then served three years in the attorney general's office, the last year as first assistant. Until his appointment last fall to take the place of the late Judge Brewster, he was in private practice. Judge Greenhill is a native of Texas. His grandfather was a division passenger agent for the Santa Fe Railroad in Texas. His father, who died in 1917 when Joe Greenhill was three years old, was an accountant with the Texas Company. His mother, Mrs. Violet S. Greenhill, is widely known throughout Texas for her welfare work and was a division chief with the State Welfare Department in the 30's.

The home building industry is likely to be a highly important factor in leading the Nation out of the present business slump. There is a widespread expectation that this industry, which has experienced two successive years of decline since hitting an all-time peak in 1955, will revive this year. What is the basis for this expectation? Action is being taken to make credit more freely available in the housing field. The new housing bill is designed to stimulate the building of 200,000 additional new houses this year. Number of new housing starts already is increasing in Texas and in the country as a whole. Residential building permits in Texas are above the level for the same time last year. Why is a healthy home-building industry so essential to a healthy economy in general? Home building ranks second in importance perhaps only food and food processing among America's major industries. In recent years the value of new houses constructed annually has been running close to $16 billion. When land and other non-construction factors are considered, the value of the industry annual product probably is to $20 billion a year. The industry has directly providing about 2.5 million a year. Does it also provide many indirectly? Yes. Around 3,000 items into every new home. Residential building uses one-third of the United States' total production of lumber, two-thirds of all steel, one-third of all glass, one-third of all furniture. The sale of a new house generates the sale of about 500 worth of furnishings and equipment in the first year occupancy. Building new homes creates demand for other types construction, utility expansion, schools, stores, churches. Effects of an expanding building program will spread widely among our people. Construction of an additional 200,000 new homes, made possible by the housing bill, stimulate industries turning everything from steel to electrical switches. A real pickup in housing become crucial in my eyes to a revival in business. Why I felt it essential to such a high priority in the passage of the bill.

MARTHA BRYAN YWA'S
The Martha Bryan YWA's met in the Young Peoples Department of the First Baptist church Wednesday, April 16th at 6:15 p. m. The vice president called the meeting to order and the secretary called the roll. Seven members and one visitor were present. Jean Yahnel then led in prayer. Myrna Hoffman and Dee Ann Welborn put on a very wonderful program about missionaries. Charlotte Begemann dismissed the group with prayer. We urge all who would be interested in joining the YWA's to see Gayle Sanders, Myrna Hoffman or Charlene Preston. We all have a wonderful time and do many different things in YWA. Everyone in the YWA's receives a great blessing from each program.

News From The Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

In vetoing the farm bill, which proposed to freeze farm price support and acreage allotments at last year's levels, the President said, "What the farm economy needs is a thaw rather than a freeze."

The farm economy has already thawed out to the extent that farm income is melting away, from $14.3 billion in 1952 to $11.5 billion in 1957. The farmers share of the consumer's dollars has melted down from 47 percent in 1952 to 40 percent in 1957, during the same period that the consumer price index was moving upward from 114.6 to 115.4.

What can the veto mean except that the Administration plans to force farm prices down even lower than they are now?

This is no time, in my opinion to lower the buying power of any group in the country. We are trying to find jobs for between five and six million people who are out of work. If the farmers are made less able, rather than more able, to buy the products of labor and industry, we are going to find it difficult to reduce the unemployment rolls.

More jobs would be provided by a Senate bill to make additional funds available to the Community Facilities Administration. These funds would be lent to cities, counties, states and political subdivisions for sewer, water and other needed public improvements.

These are projects that provide jobs. The jobs are needed and so are the projects. This kind of legislation is wise and constructive.

The approach of Congress in fighting the business slump is not characterized by a spirit of gloom or panic. It is marked, instead, by a sober conviction that the way to make business better is to take sound steps to make it better.

We sow faith in the future of our country in a solid, substantial way when we build roads, when we expand our home construction program, when we plan needed public improvement, when we move to put a floor under farm prices.

Those are matters we have been working on in Congress during these last three months.

We are looking ahead with a strong vision. And we see in the future a better life for all of us as a result of the constructive work we are accomplishing in the present.

Your Number 1 Health Problem

From the National Association For Mental Health, 1790 Broadway, New York 19, N. Y.

Mental illness is taking a greater toll in the United States than ever before in our history. Right now today, there are 700,000 children, men and women in mental hospitals, more people in mental hospitals than in all other hospitals combined. Think of it, there are more people in hospitals with mental illness than with cancer, polio, heart disease, tuberculosis, and all other physical diseases put together. The chances of being hospitalized with a severe illness are now nearly 1 to 10. Mental illness plays no favorites. It affects the rich and the poor, the young and the old, the factory worker, farmer, office worker, executive. There isn't a person who can safely say "I'm immune. It can't happen to me." Grim? Certainly. Hopeless? Not at all. As a matter of fact, the outlook for mental illness is today far more hopeful than for any other serious chronic illness.

Dr. Karl Menninger, says "of all the serious diseases that confront mankind, mental illness is one of the most hopeful of recovery." The majority of the mentally sick can get better if they are given proper treatment in time. If this is true they ask why is the situation getting worse instead of better? The answer is very simple. Most mental patients are not getting proper treatment, because the mental hospitals are miserably short of staff and equipment. Most people with mental illnesses are not getting treatment in time because there are not enough mental health clinics and psychiatrists to treat them when their illness first begins. There isn't enough research being carried on to discover simpler, shorter and more effective methods of treating and preventing mental illness. There aren't enough trained people to work in the hospitals, clinics and research laboratories. All this could be remedied if only the people would act.

What can you do? There are 400 mental health associations across the nation working on this job right now, together with the National Association for Mental Health. Volunteer your help. The month of May is the month set aside for the Mental Health Drive in Wichita County. The need is great, your support will be greatly appreciated. The address is Wichita Mental Health Association, P. O. Box 2421, Wichita Falls.

IT'S THE LAW In Texas

Many Texans have the mistaken impression that their homestead cannot be seized and sold for delinquent taxes. In many cases, this idea has led to considerable grief and monetary loss which could have been avoided. A homestead should be rendered to tax assessors like any other property, and taxes assessed against it should be paid as faithfully as those on any other taxable property.

The deadline for rendering property for taxation is April 1st, so far as most city taxing agencies are concerned. The last date for rendering real and personal property for state and county taxes is April 30th. State taxes are collected by the County Tax Collector.

Under the Texas Constitution, each family is entitled to claim one piece of real property as their homestead. This claim must be established by an affidavit filed with the county tax assessor on or before April 30, each and every year. This affidavit must be filed by the owner himself. A lending agency cannot do so, even though it may actually pay the annual taxes thereon from a fund created by the owner's monthly installments. When the homestead is properly filed, the owner comes entitled to the exemption of State taxes up to the amount of $3,000 or 200 acres, whichever is less. The exemption from payment of complete exemption from taxation and assessment. No similar exemption preference to county or city. The homestead claim purposes need not be property which is actually owned by the owner as his residence.
