GRASSROOTS OPINION

TRAER, IOWA, STAR-CLIPPER: "Labor bosses' tight grip was rather impressively demonstrated when the U. S. Senate rallied its force to beat down efforts to attach some anti racketeering amendments to a bill designed to prevent further mishandling of union welfare funds. The bill under consideration would require the registration, reporting and disclosure of all financial details of employee-welfare and pension plans."

ROODHOUSE, ILL., RECORD: "The Record is getting sick and tired of reading advertisements in a great many sporting goods magazines, and a number of metropolitan newspapers that offer surplus military rifles from foreign countries for sale at cut rate prices in America. Even more shameful is that fact that these military weapons were originally paid for by Military Aid money given by the United States to the foreign nations. In effect we Americans are paying foreign nations to put our own domestic arms manufacturers and distributors out of business. And because you and we pay for Military Aid in our Tax dollars. WE ARE KILLING OUR ARMS INDUSTRIES."

"Those are the facts—Let's put an end to it."

KITTANNING, PA., DAILY LEADER-TIMES: "Within the next few weeks, some 35 million Americans will 'go down to the in ships'—in more than seven million small pleasure craft. We might mention, as a reference point, that in the piping days of 1929, the boating industry bragged about a 'pleasure Marine' of more than 50,000 vessels! Unavoidably, it set thousands afloat who had no instinct and little feeling for this new world of sky and sea."

"Today, the best hope for sanity on the seas—inland and coastal—is the psychological campaign launched last year by yachtsman Harry Williams, vice president of American Chain and Cable Company. This seasoned sailor's reaction to skylarking on the water is 'Thumbs down, don't clown', a slogan that is conveyed to the offender by a fist with the thumb pointing to Davy Jones' locker!"

Crisis, Crisis, Crisis!

"This is a time of crisis," says Norris O. Johnson, vice president of The First National City Bank of New York. In fact we have crises all over the place.

"The medicine most often prescribed for crises is Federal spending and Federal taxing. Yet crises, more often than not, have origins in Federal spending and taxing which have corroded the value of the dollar, the usefulness of productive work, and the responsibility of the individual and the local government unit. The present generation has had nothing but crises since it was born. The world loses force and gains meaning as a confession of mistakes in public policy."

"We have inherited a strong and dynamic nation but we are binding the giant with rope while expressing surprise at his inability to improve upon past achievements."

"I can see no prescription more potent for rallying business activity and employment opportunities than well considered action on taxes."

"We need a structure of (tax) rates that invites an optimistic view of tangible benefits to be derived from effort and enterprise. Setting up a schedule of reductions, for a period of years ahead, is the surest and cheapest way of accomplishing this objective."

We need to have the imagination to see that more income would be exposed to taxation on a schedule that allows people to move ahead in life.

NAACP Take Notice

Samuel S. Thomas, 37-year old Negro of Greensboro, S. C. is planning a national organization to secure first class citizenship for his race without recourse of racial strife or intergroup pressure. Outlining his plan for the Mutual Association of American Negroes, Mr. Thomas told Lane Kerr, staff writer for the Greensboro Daily News: "I contend that we, as Negroes, can gain first class citizenship through economic development, high moral standards and intellectual achievements much faster than by force acceptance through courts and litigation."

Thomas has a college degree and two extra years of law, but he is no starry-eyed reformer. Rather, according to Mr. Kerr, he is an ex-jailbird, freed after serving ten months of a two to four year sentence for subornation of perjury. He is making his comeback and feeding his wife and two children by working two eight hour shifts a day, six days a week, one as a hotel bellhop, the other in a cigarette factory.

The Thomas story reminds us forcibly of a bristling editorial in a recent issue of the Negro magazine Ebony which faced up to a problem that reformers of neither race have been willing to see. It noted that the percentage of Negro offenses has grown to such alarming proportions that a growing number of people are asking 'What is the Negro doing about Negroes. In much the same spirit as Mr. Thomas, the magazine pointed out to the reader the need to police his own race in his own interest. It charged him not to "sit idly by while a few irresponsible members of his race destroy the rights that have taken years to obtain."

We hope that the officials of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People are regular readers of Ebony, and that also learn of Mr. Thomas' MAAN. In its general belligerency, this organization has been much too concerned with the conduct of white and too little interested in the true advancement of the Negroes.

He turned their weak ability to conquering might and made persuasive giants of fisher folk whose power lit a world of dismal light. The centuries have heard the things they spoke. By sea and land, through sun and rain they went to every city where they could be heard, ignoring hardships, seeking to be spent, and giving all to tell the gospel word. They found in Christ: Master and a Friend whose path of light they followed to the end." Mrs. Bunsine also brought a poem from Mrs. Mingas book We are His Hands.

It's The Law In Texas

What will happen if you should die without executing a legal and proper will? who will inherit your property. Your husband, wife, mother, father, children, your wife's relatives? The best way you can say who will have it is to provide a will which will protect your rightful beneficiaries and dispose of your property in accordance with your wishes.

When a deceased has no will, or dies intestate as the law calls it, the property of that person is distributed according to a detailed formula fixed by law. In some cases this may be the way you yourself would divide it, but in many cases it is not.

The provisions of the law concerning the distribution of the property of a person who dies without a will are rather complicated and all of the possibilities cannot be covered by a general statement.

There are different rules for real estate and for personal property, for community property and for separate property, for homestead property and for all of the many possible combination of surviving relatives. Each situation must be carefully studied to determine the correct distribution of the property.

For example, here is a general idea of how the community property which you and your spouse have accumulated will be divided if you do not make a will prior to your death.

If your husband or wife survives and there are no children, the surviving spouse receives all the property.

If, in addition, there are surviving children or descendants of deceased children, they would divide one-half of the property, while the surviving spouse would receive the other one-half.

Of course, grandchildren do not share in the estate unless their parent who would inherit is deceased. And when descent ants of previously deceased children do inherit, they receive only the portion that the estate would have received, regardless of the number of such descendants.

An odd note, perhaps, is that the surviving spouse always owns one-half of the community estate prior to your death. The law adds nothing to the share where there are children surviving.

When there are only children and their descendants surviving they divide the entire community estate between them.

The Wichita County clothing committee met this past week in the home of Mrs. Gail Mitchell. The purpose of the meeting was to evaluate work completed and make plans for the year.

clothing workshops were held in Electra, Burkburnett and the Wichita Valley farms. 53 leaders were trained by Miss Thelma Wirges, county HD agent. These leaders taught some 46 others. 33 ladies were represented in the workshops, but do not belong to home demonstration clubs. 93 garments were modeled in one of the three dress revues. The report also included a report on 4-H clothing workshops, taught by Miss Ethel Lynn Geslin, assistant county HD agent.

Following this report, the committee planned work to be started in the new year. Plans were made for adults to have advanced sewing workshops. Adults also want help in handling new fabrics and trims, to give garments a real professional look. 4-H girls will continue 4-H workshops and the annual 4-H dress revue.

Committee members making these plans are Mesdames Gail Mitchell, Wichita Valley Farms; Bill Mitchell, Electra; E. J. Simons, Burkburnett and Raymond Krull, Wichita Falls. Mrs. Mitchell will present these plans to the Wichita County program Building, in September.

Advanced sewing workshops will include pattern and material selection as well as construction methods. Each workshop member will construct a best dress. All best dresses must have interfacing, so this will be one of the construction details taught.

Interfacing is most likely to be needed at edges where buttons and buttonholes are to be placed, according to the agent. Collars, cuffs and pocket flaps often need interfacing to give them body and the crisp, perky look that adds style to a garment. Peplums, yokes and the lower portion of fitted jackets also are in need of some additional body for a professional look.

Skirt waistbands may need a single thickness of interfacing to prevent the waistband from stretching. It also helps to keep the waistband from rolling or wrinkling.

A new bulletin, Interfacing it gives up to date information on different interfacing fabrics, when to use what, etc. It is clearly illustrated to show how interfacing should be used. Ask for a copy from your County HD agent's office, in Wichita Falls.

As the clothing committee made plans, they studied results of a survey recently conducted among home demonstration club women, over the state of Texas. The survey reveals: 91% of the club women make dresses for themselves. 19% make suits for themselves, 10% make coats for themselves, 30% make dresses for girls, 18% make coats for girls, 42% make men's garments and 56% make sleeping garments. This survey helped the committee select work to help the largest number of people.

The wonderful dark cottons now provide comfortable and fashion right costumes the year round. With proper care they can be kept attractive and new looking for a much longer time, says Thelma Wirges, county HD agent.

Good dark cottons should be dry cleaned to preserve their finish and appearance, at least as long as they are used for best wear, says the agent. Garments with decorative details, padding, interfacing and designs which cannot be removed must be dry-cleaned or laundered with special care. Dry cleaning avoids any risk of spoiling the appearance of the garment.

To launder the garment, wash each one individually in softened water. Rinse completely to remove all traces of soap or detergent. Soft water helps to prevent hard water curds or lint from sticking to the cotton. Use warm, not hot water with mild soap flakes or detergents. Soapless detergents are good for dark cottons, especially in hard water. Be sure to read the directions on the package. Some detergents are used for cotton and some are recommended for rayon. Do not use a bleach. Many of the bleaches affect the finish of the material.

When ironing a dark cotton garment press it on the wrong side to retain the finish of the material.

KFDA-TV Amarillo Increases Power

KFDA, Channel 10 in Amarillo has been operating on low power since last Friday pending completion of the station's new taller tower. The present television signal is being transmitted by a single bay antenna which produces about one fiftieth the power Channel 10 normally radiates.

This single bay antenna will be transferred to the new taller tower Thursday, July 31st and will necessitate KFDA's being off the air for a short time while the bay is repositioned. The transfer is necessary so that the old, shorter tower can be taken down.

Replacement parts and additional equipment for the standard twelve bay antenna Channel 10 usually operates with are expected to arrive later this week allowing the regular antenna to be placed atop the new taller tower by Aug 5th at which time Channel 10 began receiving a stronger signal than ever before.

Bill Spiller, chief Engineer for KFDA-TV says the station expects to increase its power to a maximum output in a few short weeks thereafter, thus giving this area the best signal it has ever received on Channel 10.

from six others. Fifty-one were warned they face loss of accreditation unless they improve standards. Most of the schools' troubles seemed to stem from pupil populations and needs that outran community leadership and financing. Sample from the unfavorable reports: not enough textbooks, few or no library books, no laboratory facilities for science courses, unsanitary or outmoded facilities, use of condemned or miserably overcrowded buildings, teachers instructing courses in which they had no college study.

Actually the number of schools having trouble meeting standards was only about 3.5 percent of the total, or 66 out of Texas' approximately 1,800 school districts.

NEW ROADS AHEAD—
Better driving days are seen ahead as the State Highway Department unveiled its plans for 1959-60 interstate highway building. A $260,000,000 program has been authorized to add 567 miles of controlled access highways to Texas' portion of the national network.

Of this, $210,495,300 is earmarked for construction, $16,172,100 for right of way buying and an additional $333,322,500 for advance right of way buying. Eventually, Texas is to have 3,033 miles of the interstate system within its borders.

FRESH START—
National Bankers Life Insurance company of Dallas may continue in business, but without the control of its founder and majority stockholder, Pierce Brooks.

This was the effect of a ruling by State Insurance Commissioner William A. Harrison, after a three day hearing on NABLICO's affairs. State officials conceded the solvency of the company, but objected to certain investments and management practices.

Result: Brooks controlling interest has been signed over to a trustee, Brooks has said he will sell stock as soon as the transaction can be arranged.

STILL NEED A JURY—
Before going into summer recess until Oct. 1, Texas Supreme Court knocked down a portion of the state's new mental health code.

It declared unconstitutional the part which denies a jury trial to a mental patient seeking to have a court declare he is sane again.

High court also closed the door to any further consideration as to whether price advertising of eyeglasses is legal. In a ruling last month the court held that a new state law does not bar optometrists from advertising prices as long as the ads are not fraudulent or misleading. It's definite now that optometrists can advertise and quote prices in their ads.

SHORT SNORTS—
An y truck operating for hire between two cities, even if it never gets outside the cities, needs a permit from the Railroad Commission, according to an Attorney General's ruling. Opinion applied specifically to trucks on the Dallas-Ft Worth Turnpike, never actually out of the city. A bit of Texas will go to England in the form of a plaque to be placed on the building in London which served as the Texas legation to the Court of St. James during the years of the Republic (1836-45).

News From The County Agent

The Wichita Valley DHIA Association ranked first in the state in average pounds of milk, which was 780 pounds and tied for first place in the state in average pounds of fat, which was 29 pounds. There are 21 herds in the association, with a total of 796 cows. Mr. H. R. Chandler is the technician for Wichita County. Dairy farmers wanting to join the association should contact the county agent or Mr. Chandler.

Wichita County 4-H boys and girls are urged to attend the annual 4-H encampment which will be held at the 4-H barn in Wichita Falls on Friday, Aug. 8th. Registration will begin at 9:00 o'clock.

Work groups will be held in the following subjects: Wildlife, safety plant life and 4-H records. Morris Stallcup, J. C. Wilson, J. G. Simmons and Dr. Arthur F. Beyer will help conduct the work groups and Mr. Wilson will also lead recreation for the night program.

Some things to check in your dairy program in the county. Make plans for fall and winter pasture. Temporary pastures are the most dependable sources of grazing in the late fall, winter and early spring. Proper seed preparation and fertilization are important. Good grazing can make a tremendous difference in the feed bill.

Protein Balance. The kind of roughage and its stage of maturity should determine the protein level of the ration. As summer pasture matures, the protein content of the grain mix should be increased. Attention to this will help prevent a slump in summer milk production.

Heifer Development. It takes as long to develop a heifer as it does to build a battleship. Do not neglect this important job by placing heifers in the back pasture and allowing their growth to be stunted by parasites and a lack of feed. Well bred and well developed heifers mean large productive cows.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture has announced that because of an increase in the wheat parity price, the national average support price to producers for 1958-crop wheat will be $1.82 per bu. an increase of four cents per bu. above the advance minimum price for this year's crop announced in April 1957.

Representatives from 47 states went on record asking for Federal regulations of interstate and export shipments of poultry breeding stock, hatching eggs, chicks, poul and other domestic fowl at the bi-annual meeting of the National Plans conference in Louisville, Ky., June 24-27th.

The two biggest considerations when using range for turkey production are plenty of shade and clean premises, according to B. T. Haws, county agent. Shade is essential to keeping feed and water consumption and gains high while cleanliness helps eliminate disease and parasite hazards, he adds.

A break in morning and afternoon work hours is as important to farmers as to city workers, according to Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council. These breaks reduce the possibility of accidental deaths and injuries and improve efficiency.

President Eisenhower has signed into law a bill providing for continued operation of the Special Milk program, which makes more milk available for children. The program was scheduled to expire June 30th.

FROM WARM SPRINGS FACT AND FANCY

by Walter H. Richter

(Wherein the director of public relations at the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation tells of Texas' own physical rehab center and also throws in a little tongue-in-cheek palaver for which, incidentally, the management is not responsible.)

At our house we have a series of little do-dads that are plugged into sockets at strategic spots throughout the premises. I call them "glow-gismos" although I believe the proper term is nite-lites.

I do not know how many know about this gadget because I do not customarily spend time wandering about other people's houses, especially in the shank of the night. However, I feel moved to speak non-commercial words in its behalf. If I do not, who will?

The operation is really quite simple. At bedtime you just flick on the switch and you have a tiny light glowing forth in friendly fashion. It is not bright enough to interfere with your sleeping or powerful enough to run up your light bill.

It provides just enough illumination to remove the hazards from night wandering. It eliminates stubbed toes, shattered shins, and uncomplimentary names addressed to inanimate objects as one moves drowsily about pulling cover up on children, ousting the family cat, fetching drinks of water and like that.

Moreover, one can have this luxury at a very initial outlay, and the price of one of General Sufferfield's new stamps will keep one running for quite a spell.

Please understand that I do not stand to gain a penny from this pitch. I just want to be helpful. Besides, it always gives me a decided lift when I can help someone see the light.

Even if it's a small one. Many of you have seen the announcement about the severe financial crisis at the Texas Rehabilitation Center, Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation.

As we have stated before, this results from the fact that the patient load has shifted from primarily polio patients, financed extensively by the March of Dimes to essentially victims of accidents and other crippling conditions. These unfortunate citizens usually have little or no place to turn for much financial help.

Details of an emergency campaign in the next few weeks are being worked out. Early indication are that Texans will go to bat to save this famous center.

Contributions mailed to Warm Springs, Gonzales, Texas, will be profoundly appreciated.

A Common Fallacy About Fire Insurance
A lot of people have some mistaken ideas about their fire insurance policies. The most common fallacy, perhaps, is that if something covered by the policy is destroyed, the company will pay you either the same amount you paid for the item or the price of a new one.

In most cases, this isn't so. For some types of property there are policies available which do pay the actual replacement cost but such policies usually cost more than the relatively inexpensive standard policy.

The standard fire insurance policy used by most companies specifically states that the company will pay "the actual cash value of the property at the time of loss." Insurance is designed to protect against financial loss and obviously the loss is less if something is destroyed when it's old than if it's destroyed when it's new. It's standard practice in the insurance business to consider depreciation in settling claims. The cost of your policy would be much higher if it weren't.

For example, take a storm door. It's 10 years old which means that it has been through 10 years of sun, wind, rain, snow, and thousands of slammings.

If a high wind yanks it off its hinges and smashes it, the insurance company, under the terms of the standard policy with extended coverage endorsement, isn't obligated to pay all the cost of a brand new storm door. The door when new would have an expected life of, say, 15 years. It has been used for 10 years. So, it would be proper for the insurance company to pay only one-third the cost of a new door. In policy language, this means "the cost to replace less depreciation however caused."

News From The HD Agent

"You're never too old to need milk," says the Wichita County Foods and Nutrition Committee. This committee learned at a recent meeting that many Americans were not getting enough of some of the nutrients contained in milk. This applies particularly to calcium because of all the foods we commonly eat, milk is the best source of this food element needed to maintain healthy bones and teeth and to help muscles and nerves do their work.

Miss Thelma Wirges, county HD agent, presented facts from a recent home demonstration survey. The survey shows that many Texans, especially women and teenagers do not drink enough milk to get calcium and other nutrients needed daily.

To see if you and your family members are getting enough milk check against these recommended daily amounts of fluid milk: adults, 2 or more cups children 3 to 4 cups; teenagers 4 or more cups. Some of these can be assumed in cooked food, containing milk in some form (dry, evaporated or fluid), or in dairy products made of milk such as cheese or ice cream.

As a result of these findings, the committee made plans for adult and youth groups to include various ways to encourage milk drinking.

Mrs. L. L. McHugh is chairman of the committee, while committee members are, Mesdames E. F. Pfluger, Guy England, Solon Downing, E. A. Moore and Darlene Morrow.

The use of correct methods for ## freezing foods, especially vegetables, seem to be a problem, according to the foods and nutrition committee. This committee, along with the county HD agent, recommend blanching of all vegetables.

They say it is necessary to heat all vegetables before freezing to slow or stop the action of enzymes. Until vegetables are ready to pick, enzymes help them grow and mature. After that they cause loss of flavor and color. If vegetables are not heated enough, the enzymes continue to be active during frozen storage. The vegetable will then develop off-flavors in a few months and may discolor or toughen. Heating also wilts or softens vegetable and makes a them easier to pack. Too long a heating period will result in softening of texture and an unnecessary loss of water soluble vitamins and minerals.

Cooling is just as important, cool vegetables quickly and thoroughly to stop the cooking. Use lots of ice in the water. The food committee reports that some 400 homemakers have received the latest information this year. However, there are lots more and the committee plans to continue this help.

Mrs. A. W. Scarlet and Mrs. M. F. Wendt are serving as Food Preservation Demonstrators. They will represent Wichita County at the annual meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration association.

Scouts Visit Philmont Ranch

expedition from the North-Texas Council Boy Scouts America containing 333 members including two advisors and Burk Burnett Explorers, Culpepper, Jim Davey, Maloney and Mike Matherly, Wichita Falls for Philmont Ranch in New Mexico at 6. 1958. The driver of our red bus started at a good and we stopped at Childress two more Explorers, two hours of traveling. We in Amarillo to eat supper in the morning. After a delicious chicken fried dinner at Dowel's Steak we then continued on to Mexico.

and eggs at the Cactus club, we continued on to Philmont, arriving there at nine Monday morning. We took our gear off the bus and set it out beside the unloading point. We had a Ranger assigned to us. He took us to get our picture taken, a medical check and to check our gear. After about an hour of preparation we boarded a Philmont Ranch bus took us to the Carson-Maxwell base camp in the southern sector.

After eating lunch and unpacking our gear, we toured Kit Carson's home. After cooking our first meal, we went to bed, eager with anticipation.

The next morning we reported to the corral for a horseback tour of the surrounding area. After the ride we ate lunch and left for our first trail camp at 4 p. m.

After a seven mile hike, the first of many we arrived at Abreu and were assigned to a campsite. After an early supper, everyone went to bed.

After a late breakfast, we broke camp and set out for our next Camp, Riado, 8 1-2 miles away. We set in high spirits but after about a mile of hiking over mountains everyone was worn out. When we stopped to rest we noticed one boy was having trouble breathing. One of our advisors was a doctor, Dr. Balch of Seymour and he said the boy was suffering from asthma. He and the doctor left the expedition and went back to headquarters. We went on. After walking until 4 p. m. and crossing a creek 34 times, three times with a bridge, we arrived wet and lusty in Riado and were taken to our campsite.

We spent one whole day in Riado. During that time we took ice cold showers, (we had to heat our own water and without wood, it was too hard), washed out clothes and wrote home. Our second casualty was discovered here. One boy, Barry Jones from Electra had his shoulder strap too tight and a nerve was bruised. As a result he lost the use of his left arm.

On Friday, July 11th, we left Riado for Porcupine trail camp. We stayed at Porcupine until Monday. We attended church services at Porcupine. While at Porcupine 10 of us went to clear Creek Mountain, the tallest in Philmont, 11,711 feet of rock and trees. It was a sixteen mile hike and was supposed to take 5 hours. We made it in 4. We sort of set a personal record on the trail. We did every trail in at least fifteen minutes less than what it was supposed to take.

Our best was coming from Cyphers Mines to Cimmarron Cito, 4 miles in 1 hour and 15 minutes. It was a 3 hour hike. On the following Monday we left for Beaubien We made that 3 miles in land in 1-2 hour. At Beaubien we took showers and washed clothes for the second time.

The next day ten of us left for Cimmarron Cito. We (only two of us Burk boys were on this trip. They were Mike Matherly, and Donnie Culpepper. Hal and Jim didn't make it because Hal had a bad blister and Jim would not leave him.) made Black Mountain Trail Camp by nightfall. We were escorted to our campsite where we set up camp and ate supper. After cleaning up the site, we went across the creek and visited with a group of Explorers from Pittsburg, Pa.

The next day we made it to Cyphers Mines, 9 miles over mountains, almost straight up and down, we made it in three hours and left camp at 9. We ate lunch and toured the mine. Joe Tarrant, our advisor, is studying to be a geologist, so he began hunting around for different minerals. 4 of us found several large hunks of Gold ore. We later found out it was almost entirely Pyrite (Fool's Gold), however we made good use of our mistake. We sold large quantities of minerals to some dumb Yankee scouts.

After about three hours, we went on to Cimmarron Cito. When we got there we enjoyed some of the luxuries we had missed so long. Some were cookies, radio, newspapers, hot and cold running water and three of us saw our first female in 12 days. She was about 10, but looked good anyway.

After staying at Cito until Friday morning, we went by bus back to headquarters, we stayed there until Saturday morning when we left for home. We enjoyed other luxury meals cooked by someone besides us.

We left Philmont tired but ready to stay another 13 days. It was a great experience and a lot of fun.

On the way back we once again stopped at Dowel's Steak House for lunch. Upon arriving at Wichita Falls, we were met by about forty people. After unloading the bus we were taken to Underwood's for a barbecue dinner.

Even though it was very rough I think each member of expedition 707-C will agree it was very worthwhile.

Burk Festival Plans Pushed

HARVEST CELEBRATION SET FOR SEPT. 20-21
From Wichita Falls Record News Friday, September 13, 1940

Celebrating the most bountiful crops in the history of the area, celebrating survival thru boom, depression, drouth and flood, Burkburnett is preparing to entertain record crowds of visitors Friday and Saturday, Sept. 20-21.

The harvest festival will be the 33rd anniversary of the north Wichita county community, the history of which has been recorded so frequently in literature and drama. That history is a story that challenges the imagination of all fact and fiction writers who have tackled it.

For two days the community will present a program centered around the exhibition of the best parts of the unusually heavy harvest of the area. Primarily the fair has been designed to bring together, a showing of the riches of the agriculture and industrial phases of the community.

Smith In Charge
H. D. Smith, who managed the 30th anniversary in 1937 is general chairman of the festival again this year. Smith is assisted by W. A. Roberts and L. L. Harris on the committee for arrangements.

The festival will open Friday morning in a general parade, containing the pageant of historical events for Burkburnett. The parade will be managed by T. Guy Willis, who will be assisted by Wid Phillips and R. C. Elder.

For two days a running program of entertainment, contests, exhibits and carnival features will keep visitors busy during the fete.

The principal carnival entertainment will be Texas Kidd's Frontier Day shows.

Firemen Busy
Cooperating with the chamber of commerce in the presentation of the festival, the volunteer fire department and other organizations have charge of various phases of the show.

The Hardin Home Demonstration club will present an exhibit of work by women of the county.

On the opening day agricultural products and livestock will be exhibited with M. S. Dean, vocational teacher at the high school in charge. His assistants will be J. F. Kelley and W. S. Duvall.

Highway Patrol News

Highway Patrolmen investigated a total of 45 accidents during the month of July, 1958 in the Wichita Falls substation area, comprised of Wichita, Clay, Archer and Montague counties, Sgt. F. E. Webster announced today.

Of that number Wichita county had no fatal accidents, 9 personal injury accidents and 20 property damage. Sgt. Webster reported a total property damage of $12,230.00 with 12 persons injured and none killed. This is a decrease of 7 accidents and no deaths for the same month last year.

Webster said the patrolmen of his area contacted 2,229 traffic law violators for the following violations: Speeding, Stop signs and defective lights being the leading violations. Webster said that in order to decrease the terrible carnage on our streets and highways, it will take the full cooperation of ever single driver, the young and the old and asks that when you drive keep in mind, that if you are young, you are too young to die and if you are old, you never get too old to enjoy living. Be wise, talk about the careless driver, Don't be one.
