New Building for United Grocery Almost Ready

Work is progressing on the new United Super Market located at Avenue D and Tidal Street.

The area surrounding the building is yet to be blacktopped. Flood lights in front of the store are in place.

Workers are busy inside preparing the cement floor for tile covering. Others are painting and getting ready to put up the ceiling.

Two delays have slowed down the progress considerably. At first it was an error on the part of the surveyors. Next delay was caused by the steel company holding up the works for a week.

If all the new fixtures arrive on schedule, the opening date should be somewhere around the first of September.

ARE YOU A FAT DODGER?

Now it can be told, girls. And let's have done with this starvation racket. It has been scientifically established, by a year's dietetic research on 122 teenage young women down in the heart of Texas that fat in the diet does not (repeat NOT) put fat on your frame.

Actually, this elaborate study proved that the contrary is true—that you can eliminate fats, so far as is reasonably possible, and gain weight. What you lose as a fat evader is vim and vigor, becoming a Lazy Daisy or a limp Lily with avoirdupois replacing pep. The complexion is also likely to take a beating.

These revelations reach back to the ten-year study of teen-age nutrition sponsored by the Pennsylvania Dept. of Health and supervised by Dr. Pauline Beery Mack, then Director of the Ellen H. Richards Institute of the Pennsylvania State University. The findings, on the 2,536 youngsters studied, published through a grant in aid by Lever Brothers, were briefly that teen-agers—girls even more than boys—were the most undernourished of all Americans, regardless of economic status. Among their various diet deficiencies, resulting in improper weight, stunted growth, poor bone structure and teeth, poor night vision and bad skin, there was a glaring lack of fat.

These researches, showing what was wrong, were completed in 1953 and Lever decided to project the studies into the positive phase and find out what is right in teen-age nutrition. Dr. Mack, meantime, had become Dean of Household Arts and Sciences at the Texas State College for Women, and was prevailed upon to carry on from where she had left off at Pennsylvania. Here, 122 older teen-age volunteers were divided into four groups, living for a full school year on four different diets. All four were top quality diets, and all provided 2,400 calories a day. On all four, the fat was trimmed off all meats, gravy and ice cream were outlawed; but in three of the diets, different, but carefully controlled, amounts of vegetable fat were put back in. To simplify accurate control, these consisted of Spry cooking fat, and Good Luck Margarine as a spread.

If you like statistics, you will be interested in knowing that Group A, who got the most fat (30 to 35 percent of total calories supplied by fat) led the other three on every count, in absence of overweight, freedom from acne, in fatigue resistance, bone structure, good red blood and night vision. Standings of the other three groups varied somewhat on all other counts, but on "absence of overweight" it was strictly a one, two three, four finish.

So, will you please pass the doughnuts, Ermentrude?

REALLY SOMETHING

You may never have seen a drop of crude oil. But your family uses almost 63 barrels of oil a year, each equaling 42 U. S. gallons, in one or another of its 2,000 different forms.

To use the common slang phrase, the job of supplying that oil is really something.

First of all, 13,500 companies are engaged in searching for in the ground. When promising areas are discovered, test wells are drilled. One may cost as much as $1,000,000 or more—and only one out of nine wells drilled in unproved territory strikes oil and only one in 44 produces it in commercial quantities.

From the producing well, the crude goes to one of the nation's 340 odd refineries. It travels by barge, tankship or pipeline. These refineries are forever trying to improve the quality and to reduce the cost. Their degree of success is indicated by the fact that two gallons of today's gasoline does the work that required three gallons in 1925. Yet the price of the gas—exclusive of taxes over which the industry has no control—is very little more than it was 20 years ago.

Finished with the refinery, oil products start their travel once more, to all parts of the country. Some 2,400 separate companies engage in the business of moving the staggering total of about a third of a billion gallons across the nation every day.

Finally, the oil products reach the market. They are offered to you by some 200,000 service stations, and by other thousands of retail establishments of all kinds.

Yes, getting oil products to you is some job. And the reason it's done so superbly well can be expressed in one word—competition. Competition keeps the oil people on their toes every inch of the way from the oil well to the final seller.

NEW CURE FOR THE BLUES

I've always heard that women have a sure cure for the blues. Go out and buy a new hat!

Well, I'm not knocking hats or anything like that, but next time you need perking up, try ordering yourself a new extension telephone—in color.

Phones now come in cherry red; moss green, pastel yellow; aqua blue; light gray; rose pink; ivory; white; and light beige. They're not expensive, either. The one-time charge for a color phone is just $10. Installation and monthly rate are exactly the same as for a standard black extension.

With a glamorous looking, step-saving, extension phone in your kitchen or bedroom, or alongside your sewing table, you'll be just a whole lot perkier.

TIPS FOR TRAVELERS

Whether you're on vacation or business, traveling by auto is a pleasant and handy way to go.

And when you're making a trip, Long Distance telephone service can be a mighty useful traveling aid.

When you start out on a long trip, for example, you can't always be sure how far you'll get by nightfall. By lunch time or early afternoon, though, it's pretty easy to decide on an overnight stopping point. And that's the time to get to a telephone and call ahead for reservations.

At the end of a long, hot drive, just knowing you have comfortable accommodations waiting is worth a lot of your peace of mind.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

Thick Insulation Now Means Lower Cooling Costs Later

Workman uses pneumatic equipment to install a 6-inch thickness of mineral wool in the attic floor of a house in preparation for central air conditioning. The 6-inch thickness, recommended by engineers for ceilings of air-conditioned homes, also is available in batts of mineral wool.

Insulate for air conditioning when you build or remodel a home, even if the house doesn't have a cooling system. This is the advice of leading home comfort authorities, based on predictions that within a few years central air conditioning will become almost as important to the average family as their automobile is today. This means that chances are good you'll be in the market for an air-conditioning system in the future. Proper insulation now will make it possible for you to save money when that day comes on both equipment and its operation. The recommended thicknesses of insulation for central air conditioning are 6 inches of mineral wool in ceilings, a minimum of 3 inches in walls, and 2 inches in floors where needed. Research has shown that these thicknesses of mineral wool make it possible for a smaller, less expensive air-conditioning system to do an efficient cooling job. Without mineral wool, or with significantly lesser amounts, a bigger, costlier system would be required for adequate cooling. The thick mineral wool also results in lower costs of operation. The extra cost of thick insulation is not a big factor, since it actually costs no more in time and labor to install thick batts or blankets of mineral wool than it does to install thin insulation. In addition, the extra thickness starts paying for itself right away in savings on winter fuel bills. A further advantage of having a house insulated for air conditioning will be welcomed in areas of the country where electricity rates make electric heating practical. The same mineral wool thickness recom-mendations for air conditioning apply to electric heating, making it possible for home owners in these areas who install these thicknesses now to convert to electric heat without re-insulating.

Trinity Ladies Aid Met August 7th In Parish Hall

The regular meeting of Trinity Lutheran Ladies Aid was held in the Parish Hall on Thursday, Aug. 7th at 2:30 p. m. The presiding president called the meeting to order and the group sang. Oh, Come Thou Quickening Spirit. Pastor Boriack gave the scripture reading from Acts 23 and led in prayer. Topic discussion, The Spirit of Our Lives, was presented to the group by Mrs. Clarence Mertins. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary and several Thank You notes for flowers, gifts and cards that were sent members of the Ladies Aid to those who have been sick.

The clothes drive committee reported twenty boxes of clothes were packed and sent for Worlds Relief along with $25.00 to help pay the shipping expenses. After roll call and payment of dues, the meeting was adjourned by repeating the Lords Prayer which was led by pastor Boriack. Mrs. Oscar Klinkerman, hostess, served a delicious refreshment plate to Pastor Boriack, seventeen members and several children who were present.

Tip for Handyman Install Insulation with Care

Practically any home handy-man (or woman) can install mineral wool insulation, but proper installation is important to get its full heat-stopping value. Here are step-by-step rules for installing batts or blankets of mineral wool in ceilings and walls:

1. Cut the insulation slightly larger than the space it is to fill, leaving a flange of vapor barrier at each end.
2. Wedge the insulation tightly between joist, stud, or rafter, permitting the vapor barrier flange to overlap the wood framing member at the end of the space, as shown in the photo-graph.
3. Staple or nail the flange to the wood at the end of the space, and every 6 inches along the facing side of the joist, rafter or stud.
4. Butt the next batt or blanket tightly against the end of the first one.

The U. S. Supreme Court has handed down a decision up-holding the right of a non-union employe to recover damages from a union because its picket line prevented him from working in his regular job. The damages awarded came to $10,000 - $500 for loss of pay, and $9,500 punitive damages.

Gonzales Polio Foundation Is In Need of Help

An urgent appeal for willing workers from Burk Burnett to give a single evening of effort to an emergency statewide "Citizens' March" for the Gonzales Warm Springs Foundation (now the Texas Rehabilitation Center) is being made by R. I. Payne of Dallas, Foundation president.

Unless financial help is forthcoming in the very near future, the famous Texas rehabilitation center is faced with the probability of having to close its doors. "We earnestly hope there is a civic, church, women's, Scout, or school group in Burk Burnett which would like to volunteer for this one evening's Citizens' March," Payne said. If so, its officers are urged to contact the Foundation's executive director, Walter H. Richter, P. O. Box 58, Gonzales, Texas, as soon as possible.

"It would be a tragedy," Payne observed, "if these remarkable facilities, built by and for all Texans, were lost to the thousands of citizens crippled in car wrecks and other accidents and by strokes, arthritis, cerebral palsy, and many other handicapping conditions."

Only about 30 per cent of the patients at the center are still polio victims, and there are few agencies, such as polio's March of Dimes, which can help finance the non-polio patients. Of the non-polio patients, more than 90 per cent must have some if not total financial assistance from the Foundation's welfare program.

The Citizens' march will be scheduled some night in September and will follow an intensive public information campaign designed to tell the people of Texas about the Foundation's new program.

"We believe a lot of Texans who want to keep this fine work going will turn on their porch lights when the signal is given," Payne said.

SURVIVAL STOCKPILE

ODCM Has Vast Supplies In 'Bank' If U. S. Is Hit

One of the nation's largest "bank accounts" against the possibility of enemy attack is the Office of Defense and Civilian Mobilization's stockpile of strategic materials.

Stored away in 43 ODCM warehouses across the United States are about $225,000,000 worth of medical and engineering supplies—enough to aid millions of Americans after an attack.

MEDICAL STOCKPILES include 1,932 civil defense emergency hospital units and back-up supplies estimated sufficient for the emergency medical care of 4 1/2 million persons for three weeks.

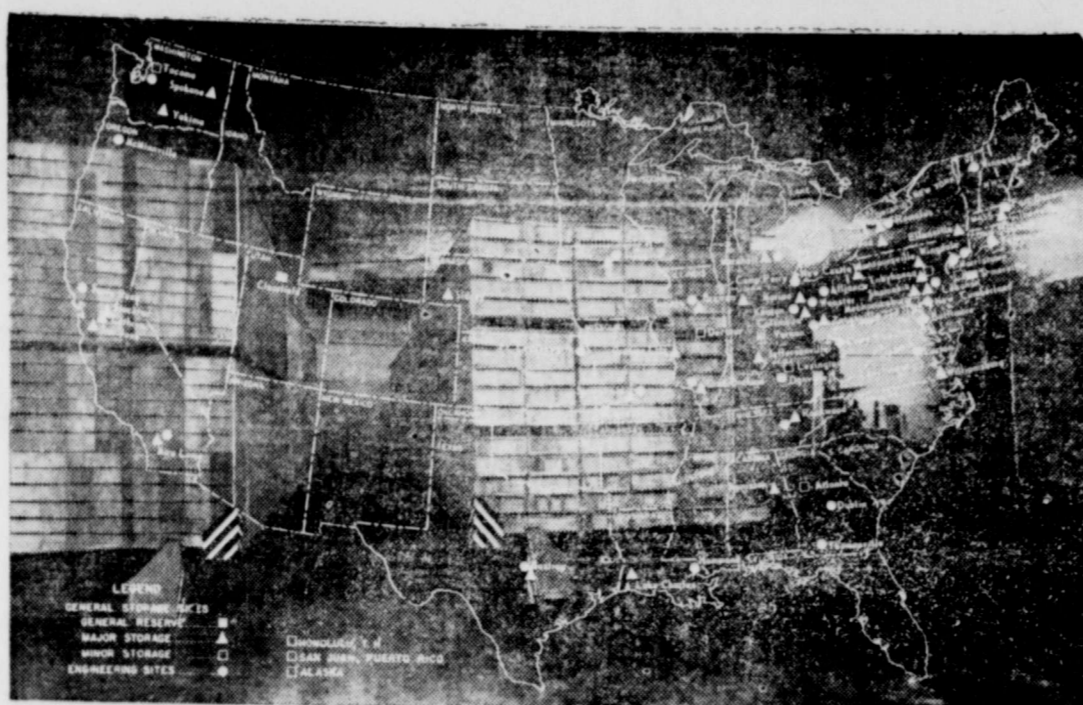

In the engineering stockpiles are approximately 25,000 tons of equipment and supplies. They contain material essential to restoration of public facilities—water pumps, generators, purifiers, storage tanks, pipe and similar items.

To assure that this survival "hardware" will be located where it would be most needed after an attack, ODCM has chosen warehouse sites convenient to but outside the nation's 92 critical targets.

Among these storage sites are three "general reserve" warehouses with stockpiles designed to supply any section of the country. Most unusual of these reserve storage areas is the vast underground warehouse in a converted limestone mine near Neosho, Mo.

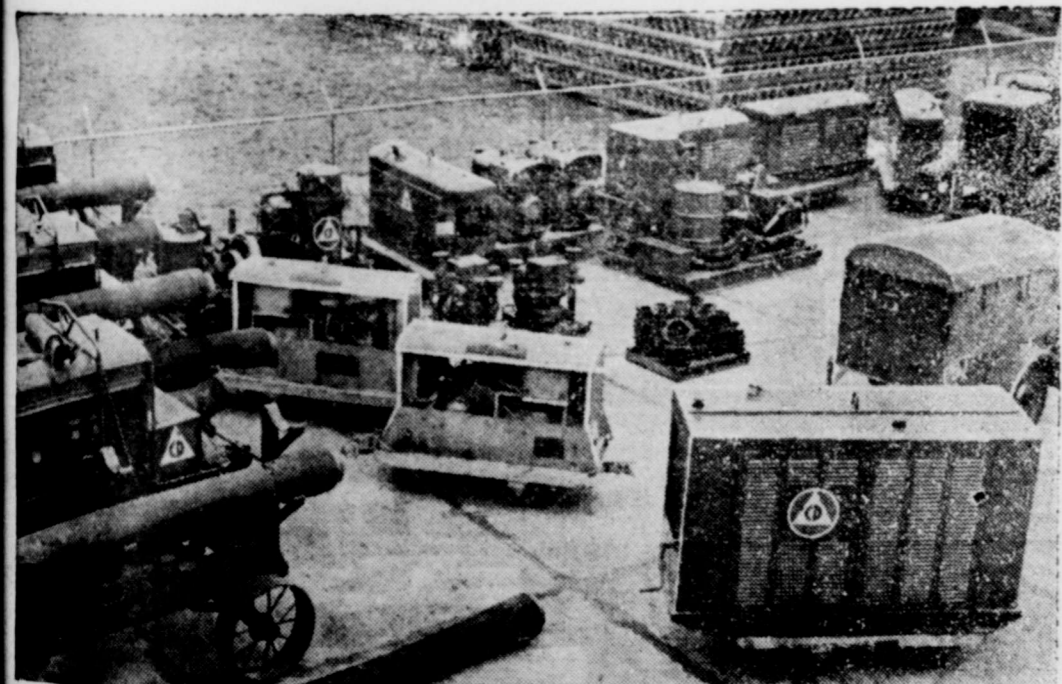

IN THIS HUGE privately-owned cave, shared by ODCM with the stockpiles of industrial concerns, is 14 acres of space served by special automatic sprinkling and ventilating equipment.

THIS IS A VIEW of a civil defense portion of the 14-acre underground storage facility in a converted limestone mine near Neosho, Mo. It has built-in automatic sprinklers and special ventilating equipment. The Office of Defense and Civilian Mobilization has stockpiled here for use after attack about 2,500 tons of supplies, including Army hospital cots, stretchers, and supplies and equipment for 200 complete civil defense emergency hospitals of 200 beds each. Superimposed in white is a map of ODCM storage sites across the nation at strategic locations. (ODCM Photo)

DISASTERS, natural or man-made, call for immediate stocks of medical supplies and often other equipment for furnishing safe drinking water, electricity or other essentials in order to save lives and aid the victims. Civil defense stockpiles of litters and other supplies are located in fully-manned U. S. warehouses for use in times of national emergency or major natural disaster or presidential approval when other supply sources are exhausted. (American Red Cross Photo)

TYPICAL UNIT of civil defense stockpiled engineering equipment showing the pumps, generators, water purifiers, and some of the miles of flexible-coupled pipe which could be used after an attack to provide a stricken community with pure water. Some of this "hardware," grouped in "Ten Mile Units" to service ten miles of pipe each, already has been used in natural disasters to pump out flooded areas, and to bring in and purify water for towns with dry reservoirs. Grand Slam Or Parking Ticket?

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

SEVEN SPADES can be a bid for a parking ticket if you overstay a bridge game. To ignore the sign that says "No Parking from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m." can cost you the price of a new hat!

An illegally parked car can be a safety hazard, and that's why the financial penalties are correspondingly high. Parking in a "no parking" zone impedes the flow of traffic and can cause accidents as other drivers swerve out to avoid the parked car.

Double parking is prohibited for the same reason, and a car parked in front of a fire hydrant is a hindrance in an emergency.

Other areas where parking is both illegal and hazardous are:

- Within an intersection or on a pedestrian crosswalk.
- Blocking a driveway or the view of a traffic sign.
- On a bridge or in an underpass.
- Between a safety zone and the adjacent curb.
- In front of the entrance to a hotel or theater.

- Parking "just a few minutes" can bring the unwelcome expense of a costly fine and it could cause an accident!

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Through the main bout of the fall summer is over, there is still considerable commotion in the state capital.

Generating a little extra heat is the scorching weeks of the state-wide runoff. Only one race for statewide office, a race on the Supreme Court, was decided at the Aug 23rd primary. Contenders are Robert Hamilton of El Paso and J. W. Smith of Houston.

In a one race contest like this candidates' big problem is a flood of being ignored. A segment of authorized voters would tip the election.

The Democratic Chairman Lindsey has reminded candidates that the law requires that they hold a runoff primary, even if it's just for one. In some 100 counties there are local races going into runoff.

LEGISLATIVE RUN-OFFS — There are 33 legislative posts yet to be decided. Included are three campaigns to decide successors of retiring Senators. Lack of Lufkin, Searcy tal membership has been elected. But it illustrates the nip 'n tuck nature of the contest that probably won't be over until the last chip is down.

STATE DEMOCRATIC CONVENTION—Climax to the precinct and county conventions and all the struggle that preceded them, will be the state meeting in San Antonio, Sept. 9. It's known traditionally as the "governor's convention" with the nominee for governor and his supporters taking the lead in deciding on officials, committees and policies for the next two years.

Gov. Price Daniel who worked harder at rallying moderate conservative Democrats to precinct conventions than at his own race for renomination, predicts a comfortable margin of supporters at the state meeting.

BETTER DAYS—More students, more prosperous pros are in prospect on the campuses of Texas state colleges and universities this fall.

Commission on Higher Education predicts total enrollment of more than 81,000 at the 18 tax-supported colleges, up from last year's 77,913. Beginning this year, a growing flood of college students is expected as the high schools turn out the war babies of the 1940's.

Pay raises up to 20 percent will begin in September for the state college teachers. It will put the average professor's annual salary between $5,000 and $7,000.

DRAGNET FOR LOAN SHARKS—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson filed suits in an Austin district court in an effort to squelch a new scheme for charging excessive interest on small loans.

Wilson's suit attacked "brokerage fees" being charged by some small loan companies in Austin. Texas Constitution limits interest rate to 10 percent. But loan sharks have been getting around this, says an assistant attorney general. They charge a legal rate of interest, then tack on a large broker's fee, presumably for arranging the loan.

Until last spring, when credit insurance rates were sharply reduced, excessive insurance charges were regarded as the favorite dodge of lenders in getting around the 10 percent limit.

Atty Gen. Wilson is asking the court to enjoin the loan companies from using any indirect method of evading the law.

Efforts to pass measures strengthening the state's anti-usury laws have had uphill going in past Legislatures. New tries are certain next year, some probably aimed at establishing a higher legal interest rate for small, unsecured, short-term loans than for long-term, secured loans.

A special state regulatory agency for loan companies, as for banks, also has been suggested.

WHO MOVES THE POLES?—A test suit is set for Aug. 12 to determine who bears the cost of moving utilities to make way for new interstate highways.

Atty. Gen. Wilson filed suits in an Austin District court. Defendants are cities of Austin and Dallas, but the decision will ultimately affect many cities across the state.

Last Legislature passed a law permitting use of the federal-state highway funds to pay for necessary utility moving. But Wilson contends such payments would violate the constitutional prohibition against donating public money to corporations and individuals.

City governments regarded as municipal corporations under the law, are vitally concerned with the outcome of the case. Texas League of Municipalities has predicted an adverse ruling would result in some $20,000,000 in utility moving costs for cities.

Selective Service Birthday—Texas Selective Service system marks its 10th anniversary this summer.

Since the present Selective Service Act became effective in 1948, the state's 137 local draft boards have kept tab on millions of young men. During this period 117,000 Texans have been drafted, 70,000 of them during the Korean action.

SOIL CONSERVATION DISTRICT NEWS

The J. E. Roller Estate of Bacon Switch, operated by D. R. and Hugh Preston, has terraced 200 acres of cropland with approximately six miles of terraces. First National Bank of Wichita Falls administers the Estate and J. C. Porter represents the bank. All terraces are graded channel-type terraces and were staked and checked by technicians of Soil Conservation Service.

Two waterways have been shaped and seeded to sudan for dead cover by G. O. Bailey of the Friberg-Cooper community, farming the Luther Leissler farm. Sorghum cover has given farmers best cover in which to seed grasses in their waterways. According to Soil Conservation technicians, grasses establish more successfully in dead cover.

Terrace lines have been staked for Mrs. Bufford Whiteside on her farm three miles north of Iowa Park. These terraces will complete her terrace system on this farm.

Many acres of small grain have been stubble mulched by area farmers.

Stubble mulching is most valuable for soil protection and increased water intake, however, during years of above average rainfall it will be necessary to apply fertilizer to stubble or at seeding time in order to maintain or increase crop yields.

Farmers are urged by district supervisors and agricultural workers to consider fertilizer needs and for best results have soil analysis made for recommendations.

Soil Conservation District Conservation Crop Rotations recognize a need for soil improving crops and high residue producing crops. Frequency of each of these is determined by hazard of farming land or its land class. Stanley Williamson, district co-operator and chairman of Wichita County ASC Committee, is using Austrian winter peas which are fertilized at time of seeding and followed by wheat. Wheat following peas two or more years later is fertilized to meet nitrate requirements of stubble which is mulched. Rotation has more than minimum amounts of soil improving and high residue producing crops but is considered by Soil Conservation Service as ideal wheat rotation.

CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT THE GENERAL ELECTION ON NOVEMBER 4, 1958.

HJR #17—Number Six on the Ballot.

PROPOSED CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT TO BE VOTED ON AT AN ELECTION TO BE HELD ON NOVEMBER 4, 1958.

HOUSE JOINT RESOLUTION NO. 17 proposing an amendment to Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, by adding thereto a new section to be known as Section 66, to provide that the Legislature shall have authority to provide a system of retirement and disability pensions to certain retiring Texas Rangers and their widows, stating the maximum of such pension; and providing a fund from which such pensions may be paid.

IT IS RESOLVED BY THE LEGISLATURE OF THE STATE OF TEXAS:

Section 1. Article XVI of the Constitution of the State of Texas, shall be amended by adding thereto a new section 66, to read as follows:

Section 66. The Legislature shall have authority to provide for a system of retirement and disability pensions to certain retiring Texas Rangers who have been eligible at any time for membership in the Employees Retirement System of Texas as that retirement system was established by Chapter 352, Acts of the Fifth Legislature, Regular Session, 1947, and who have had such as two (2) years service as a Texas Ranger, and to their widows; providing that no pension shall exceed fifty dollars ($50) per month to any Such Texas Ranger or his widow, provided that such widow was legally married prior to January 1, 1957, to a Texas Ranger qualifying for such pension.

"These pensions may be paid only from the special fund created by Section 11, Article VII for a payment of pensions for services in the Confederate army and navy, frontier organizations, and the militia of the State of Texas, and for widows of such soldiers serving in said armies, navies, organizations or militia."

Sec. 2. The foregoing constitutional amendment shall be submitted to the vote of the qualified electors of this State at an election to be held throughout the State on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, 1958, at which election all ballots shall have printed thereon:

"FOR the Constitutional amendment providing for pension to retired Texas Rangers who are ineligible to participate in the Employees Retirement System of Texas, and their widows."

"AGAINST the Constitutional Amendment providing for pension to retired Texas Rangers who are ineligible to participate in the Employees Retirement System of Texas, and their widows."

Sec. 3. The Governor shall issue the necessary proclamation for said election and have the same published as required by the Constitution and laws of this State.

Girls Club Sells Safety

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

A FOSTORIA, OHIO, girls' club has proved that today's youth is not addicted to fast and reckless driving, hot-rodding or disregard for highway safety.

The organization composed of 19 Fostoria high school freshmen, sponsored a vehicle safety check after adult groups in their community failed to do so.

Their efforts resulted in 920 cars being checked, compared to 450 vehicles checked in a previous program sponsored by an adult group.

The girls distributed 2000 copies of Ohio's demerit point system law during the check, and even gave up a holiday to hand out safety check literature and safety flares to motorists entering the county.

Special credit must go to Carolyn Bower, women's editor for the Fostoria Review-Times, advisor to the club, who suggested that the girls take on the safety check.

Word of their successful safety program spread quickly throughout Ohio, and even reached the attention of national safety organizations.

At special ceremonies, the club received a commendation from the Seneca County Traffic Safety Committee and the Fostoria City Council. Club members and Miss Bower were guests at the Governor's Traffic Safety Conference in Columbus, and a representative of the club has been invited to attend Northwestern University Traffic Institute's fall convention.

So enthusiastic about safety are the girls and their sponsor that they have outlined an ambitious program for sponsorship of future community projects. And so enthusiastic are highway and police officials that they have promised to cooperate fully with the girls in any future safety project.
