Dual-Wheeled Trailers Must Have Mud Flaps

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., Director of the Texas Dept. of Public Safety said today that under a new State law it is now illegal to operate dual wheeled vehicles on the highways without mud flaps on the rear to protect drivers in back of them. The law, which formerly applied only when the pavement was wet, now requires mud flaps in all kinds of weather for certain vehicles. It became effective April 2, 1959.

Under regulations issued by the Department, Garrison said, the flaps may be made of metal, rubber, rubberized materials or other substantial material rigid enough to prevent mud, slush, gravel or other matter from being thrown from the rear of a dual wheeled vehicle into the windshield of a vehicle following.

Pole trailers, truck tractors operated alone and without being in combination with a semi-trailer, and all trucks operated on private property do not come under the provisions of the new law.

Effort Made to Speed Traffic In and Out SAFB

A joint effort by the Ground Safety Office Installation Engineer of Shepard Air Force base and the Wichita Falls Traffic Dept. will result in a change to move traffic faster in and out Sheppard's north gate.

During the peak morning hour, Wichita Falls traffic on 277 and 281 will enter the base in the extreme right lane; Burkburnett and Oklahoma traffic will enter in the left lane. Both lines of traffic will keep in the two lanes to Moates Ave. and Ninth street intersection.

At the peak hour in the afternoon, outgoing traffic will assume a two lane pattern at the Moates-Ninth intersection. Wichita Falls traffic will use the left lane; Burkburnett and Oklahoma the right lane.

Appropriate signs and markings will be put up by the base and the city when the pattern is begun. More changes in this pattern will come when Capehart is opened.

Miss Pat Clack In Twirling Contest At Albuquerque

Patty Clack, high school junior, has returned from Albuquerque, New Mexico, where she went to compete in a national twirling meet. Due to wide spread effects of flu, no contestant showed up in Pat's division. She performed anyway, and was given first place by default.

Pat was accompanied to Albuquerque by her father, E. E. Clack, and Howard Henderson. While there they saw Tom Britton, former Burk resident. On the return trip they took off from the main highway to see some beautiful country over a mountain pass. They encountered some snow and icing conditions, but made the trip without mishap.

1959 - A LA MOWED

That fellow who was trying to develop a one inch grass seed may have had a good idea for about two months of the year. Right now, when you're getting the mower out and trying to decide whether it will do another year, the blade should be set one inch above the ground. This is just right for the first cutting and thru April—also for mid September to late October. But, one inch is too short for good sod, deep roots, minimum weeds and lush greenness in May, June, July, August, early September, late October and November.

So, if you're not putting in green concrete, here's the latest advice from Pennsylvania (often called "the lawn mower state"): Before that May 2-3 weekend, raise the cutter bar (or the whirling) another half inch off the ground. Inch and a half grass is just dandy for May and June. But before the not so glorious 4th (only a two day weekend this year), hike the mower up again to give you a two inch nap on your lawn until mid September. Then drop it down to the springtime inch, but don't leave it too long. Mark October 24th (Saturday) on your seed calendar as the time to hike the mower back up to two inches so your greensward will survive the winter in good shape.

This may sound like a lot of trouble, and besides, there's no law against cutting your lawn any way you want to, or even not cutting it. But, in spite of all the griping and wise cracks, we think most men enjoy this task—especially since they now have home mowers you can sit on and just ride! We also think that most men pride themselves as much on their lawnmowers as on their golf clubs or fishing tackle or guns, which of course, makes those Pennsylvania experts pretty happy.

NATO'S ANNIVERSARY

This April marks the 10th anniversary of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, known the world around as NATO. And the grave problems and events of the present heavily underline the organization's significance and importance.

NATO established a new precedent for this country—we had never entered into a peacetime foreign alliance. But, 10 years ago, it became apparent that the Soviets intended world domination, beginning with Europe, and that the only hope of preventing this lay in a grand alliance, representing not only the strength but the will of the free world. So we joined with 11 nations—subsequently increased to 14—and NATO was born.

Certain things should be universally known about NATO. As the American Council on NATO points out, it is purely defensive in nature. It exists to resist attack if it comes. It is under civilian control, and a civilian heads the guiding body. It in no way conflicts with the United Nations, nor is it a rival. Both organizations are designed to serve the cause of peace. It is more than a military alliance, and the hope is that the NATO nations will strengthen their common heritage of freedom—the root source of power.

It speaks well for NATO that it is reviled in the most extreme terms by the Soviets. That is only logical—for NATO is a closed door between them and world domination. If NATO should collapse, Europe, the Middle East and Africa would be wide open to that domination. Then ultimately, the United States would be isolated—an island in a communist sea.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

MOUND, MINNESOTA, THE MINNETONKA PILOT: "Anyone else want to comment? We won't. A recent survey among the 3 senior high grades at Mound high uncovered the fact that 66 percent of the sophomores had no idea who John Foster Dulles was, 71 percent did not know of Mao-Tse-tung, 64 percent had no idea who Charles DeGaulle was and 62 percent had no idea who Gamal Abdel Nasser was. Percentages were pretty much the same for the next two grades—junior and senior. And we need more and more science and math? Live in the British Empire?"

KINGMAN, ARIZ., MOHAVE COUNTY MINER: "Every American has been exposed to the dangers of communism and its world wide domination of the will of man and his dignities and freedoms. But we don't have to be convinced. "The people who must be convinced are the millions who have lived in the most horrible poverty for generations and have never had hope for the future. When the communistic overlords come along and hold out a promise to these people it is sometimes the only promise they have ever heard. They have nothing to compare it with—nor do they know that complete domination is the final communistic objective."

HAGERSTOWN, MARYLAND, THE MORNING HERALD: "Labor and management will go on endlessly arguing wages and profits. Government will mire itself as always in debate and sheer blather. But in the ball park you'll get action—and a result. "Not a bad antidote for the uncertainties we live with in so many other realms."

Track Records Set By Burk Boys

The teams of Lewis and Jennings set two new track records in District 9-AA track and field meet held in Wichita Falls March 9th.

Bobby Lewis, a small built boy with tremendous courage, set a record of 5.02 in the mile event. This is not his best effort this year. His best time was 4:57.

Gary Jennings, having always won either the high or low hurdles for the last four years won the lows again this year. The event was quite a dual between Jennings and all stater Johnny Floyd of Bowie. Floyd beat Jennings at the Irving track meet, so the victory was a sweet one for Gary.

With these records, Burkburnett now holds four of six running records.

The Weekly Handyman

A Service Of The Thor Research Center For Better Farm Living

All youngsters enjoy desks of their own, where they can do their homework and club projects and keep some of their personal items. Yet their bedrooms frequently lack the space for a full-size child's desk.

Here's a plan for an economical, easy-to-make wall desk designed with a fold-up work surface, so that the desk projects less than a foot from the wall when closed. We'll guarantee the do-it-yourself handyman who makes one or more of these desks for his 4-H'ers, Future Farmers, Boy or Girl Scouts, or other youngsters in his family will be king of the household!

Economical, easy-to-make wall desk ideal for crowded bedrooms. Children will like it.

A few cuts with the portable electric saw, drilling for a few screw holes, a bit of sanding, and you're ready for assembly of the wall desk, which has a recommended width of 2 feet and height of 1 1/2 feet. Top, bottom, and sides of the desk are 1-inch lumber. The back is perforated hardboard attached to a 1/2 by 1-inch framework, which is fastened to the 1-inch lumber with glue and brads.

The desk is held to the wall with long screws used with corner braces, attached to stud locations. The desk work surface or lid is made of hardboard framed with molding. A unique feature of the desk is that the front face of the desk lid can be made into a chalkboard by finishing it with a slating or blackboard paint. Under the inside top of the desk a fluorescent lighting fixture is mounted as a finishing touch.

(We'll be glad to send you the plans for this children's wall desk, without charge. Just write to the Thor Research Center, Marengo, Ill., and ask for Project No. AE-310.)

News From The County Agent

Now is the time to start weed control program in farm fish ponds. B. T. Haws, county agent says control measures can be effectively used only during the spring and early summer months. He suggests that you contact the local county agent for details.

The pecan tree must be protected from attack by the many destructive diseases & insects that effect it to produce a bountiful crop. Pecans are attacked by more than 20 species of insects that cause damage to leaves, nuts, twigs, buds, branches and even the bark.

Diseases that affect the pecan, especially those caused by fungi, are rapidly spread throughout an orchard in the early spring. During this season of frequent rains, scores of the disease fungi germinate and invade young, tender tissues of the shoots, leaves and nuts.

The many destructive insects and diseases must be controlled for a successful pecan production. The grower must understand the nature and habits of the various disease and insects pests that threaten his crop and use certain cultural practices which help reduce damage.

The Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and Texas Agricultural Extension Service have joined to publish a bulletin which can be very helpful to growers faced with this problem. It is entitled "Pecan Diseases and Insects and their Control." This 19 page bulletin contains discussions of the characteristics, type of damage and control of almost all the major diseases and insects which damage pecan trees. It is available free of charge from local county agents.

Questions and Answers On Safe Driving

When is it most dangerous to drive your car; At night? Or, perhaps, during rush hours? And what day of the week is safest for motorists?

Think you know the answers? Well, take pencil in hand, put on your thinking cap, and be prepared for some surprises.

1. More people are killed during the morning rush hour than during any other time of day. True or false?
2. The safest time of day to drive a car is from 4-8 a. m.
3. Sunday is the most dangerous day of the week to drive, largely because of Sunday drivers?
4. Nearly half of the motor vehicle accidents in urban areas involve pedestrians?
5. In most rural auto accidents resulting in death, two cars collide with each other? Answers:

1. False. Most dangerous time of day is 4-8 p. m.—the twilight hours. Biggest reason for this, the National Safety Council says is because drivers, in a hurry to get home, often can't see well enough in the half light, half-dark of twilight time and fail to adjust to the changing condition.

2. True. This probably is so, the Council says, largely because fewer cars are on the road then to have an accident.

3. False. Most dangerous day is Saturday. Sunday is next dangerous.

4. True. And, according to the Council, most pedestrians are killed crossing between intersections or coming from behind parked cars.

5. False. Collisions between motor vehicles are the No. 2 cause of death. On the open road, main causes are non-collisions in the roadway, such as overturning or running off a curve.

Regardless of the time of day or day of the week you drive, the Council says, it's smart to hold down your speed and expect the unexpected.

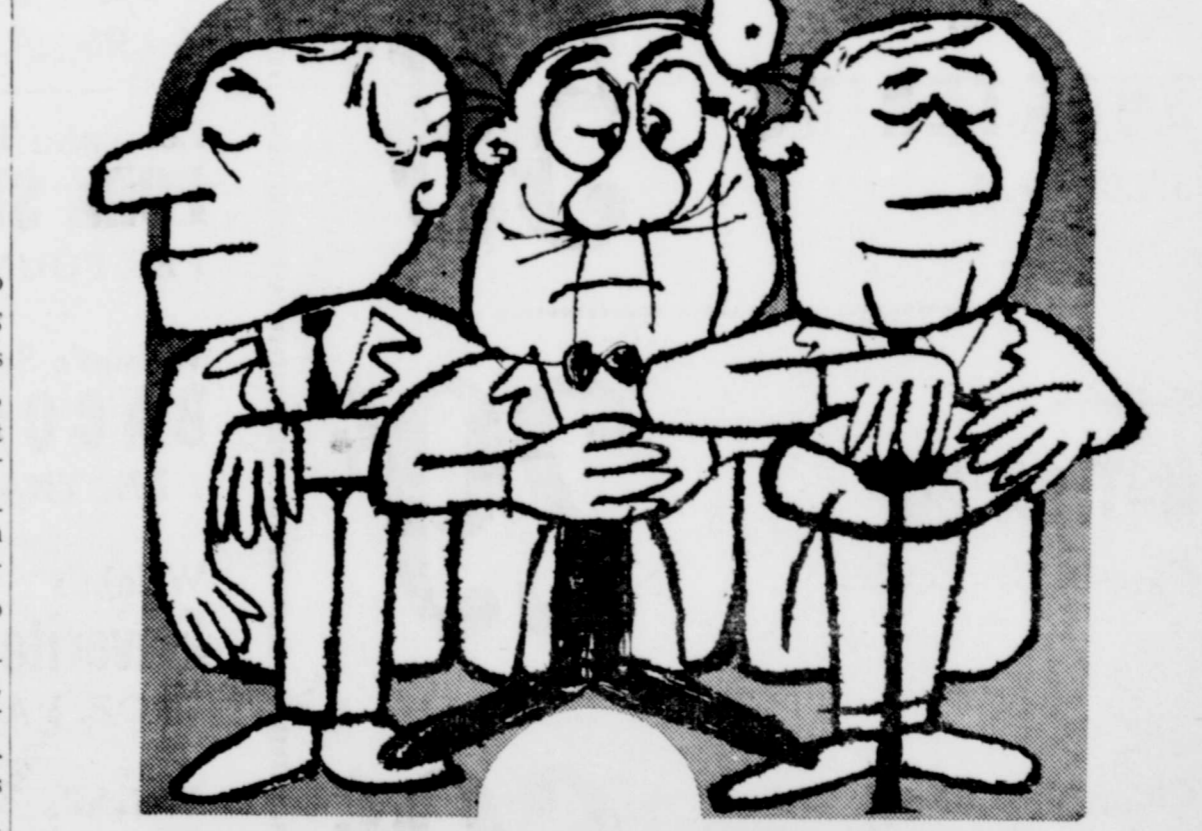

And if you're a pedestrian, a look at the statistics shows just how foolhardy it is to cross any place but at an intersection.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights

by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

ever way the ball bounces can look forward to increase in state taxes $61.

Representatives passed a bill for spending of $332, from general revenue. It is a more economical way to spend their work for $30,000.

House measure would support a 1 cent hike in state gasoline tax if it will be used to improve public schools & raise teacher salaries. Neither the House nor Senate appropriations bill included public school teacher raises. Lawmakers seemed to think this. If it were to be done, should be handled in a separate bill.

Texas still would have a lower gasoline tax than other states, said Daniel, even after the 1 cent raise. He said he felt service stations operators would "go along with it if it were for the purpose of better schools."

Opponents say that, with practically everyone having to use a car these days, the gasoline levy is about as general as a sales tax can get.

Health Chief Resigns—Recent target of lawmakers is the State Health Dept., where Commissioner Henry A. Holle stepped out of his $16,000 a year post under the glare of legislative disapproval.

Dr. Holle said he felt the department would be better off with another commissioner who could get more support in the way of legislative appropriations. Meanwhile, both House and Senate launched inquiries into Health Dept. spending practices.

Flexible Rating Off—State regulation of Texas auto insurance rates apparently will continue for at least another two years.

Senate Insurance Committee refused to approve a flexible rating plan, sent it to the subcommittee graveyard. Backers of the bill, mostly large out of state companies, claimed it would save Texas auto owners millions. Careful drivers would be rewarded with lower insurance they said.

Opponents, including most Texas companies, fought the bill said it would take the lid off rates. They said a merit rating plan, being considered by the State Board of Insurance, would take care of rewarding safe drivers.

Lending Bill Filibustered—Senate disagreement over how to handle loan shark regulation brought on the first filibuster of the session.

Sen. Abraham Kazen of Laredo sponsored the House passed measure which would, if approved by a vote of the people amend the constitution. It would allow the Legislature to license lenders and set maximum interest rates. Present 10 percent ceiling, widely ignored, would be abolished.

Sen. Frank Owen III of El Paso led a long winded assault on the measure. He and other pay raises for long-time state employees and increases in welfare checks to the aged, blind and dependent, all added during floor debate. House also accepted committee recommendations for boosts in the appropriations for higher education, state hospitals and special schools and the prison system.

Gasoline Tax Viewed—Gov. Price Daniel says he's already to support a 1 cent hike in state gasoline tax if it will be used to improve public schools & raise teacher salaries. Neither the House nor Senate appropriations bill included public school teacher raises. Lawmakers seemed to think this. If it were to be done, should be handled in a separate bill.

senators insisted such regulation should be limited to loans under $500 to $600.

Senate gave Kazen's measure preliminary approval, despite all the opposition.

Fifteen months ahead of convention time is not too soon for Texas Democrats to start haggling over who will receive their presidential nominating votes.

U. S. Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson is the focal point of controversy. Recent developments: Young Democrats of Texas, currently controlled by leftwingers, declared the senator should pay more attention to the party platform. J. Ed Connally, chairman of the state executive committee quickly announced the Young Demos did not speak for the party. He called them immature extremists.

Democrats of Texas, unofficial liberal organization, announced it would have a convention in Austin in May. DOT, also, has fallen out with Sen. Johnson. In the Legislature, the House elections committee approved a bill that would allow Sen. Johnson to run for president and re-election as senator in the same general election.

A bill by Sen. Hubert Hudson of Brownsville would create a new board to handle investments of three large state trust funds.

Making up the nine-member board would be the governor, attorney general, comptroller, chairmen of the two retirement systems, chairman of the State Board of Education and three bank presidents.

Investment in corporate stocks and bonds would be permitted by Hudson's measure. Altogether the three funds total $820,000,000.

U. S. Supreme Court has upheld state court rulings that women are not entitled by law to enter Texas A. and M. College.

A and M officials were pleased, but Bryan-Brazos County citizens for the most part, took a dim view of the enrollment restriction. Their feelings were reflected in Bryan Sen. William T. Moore's prediction that "if the A & M Board continues its present policies, the time will come when A and M will have a classroom for each student enrolled there."

Driver Training Biggest Bargain In 'Teen Safety

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

IF YOU'RE INTERESTED in promoting safe driving among teenagers in your community, here's some worthwhile advice from the American Trucking Association.

For less than $35 a pupil, your local high school can provide an adequate driver education course—30 hours of classroom instruction and six hours of behind the wheel training from a certified instructor.

This is a real "bargain" say trucking officials; it costs about $1000 to train a professional truck driver. And, of course, the savings in young lives and in property is well worth the investment, they point out.

To provide driver training to teenagers in your city, the schools and community must first be sold on its advantages. This "selling job" is best handled, trucking and safety officials believe, by civic, service, business and professional organizations.

The ATA has gathered these interesting facts on driver training for use by civic groups in encouraging schools to adopt the program.

Graduates of driver education courses, in addition to developing right attitudes toward other drivers, have 66 percent less accidents than untrained drivers. Untrained teenagers have 37 percent more warnings, 25 percent more arrests and 75 percent more suspensions and revocations.

Many insurance companies, prompted by these statistics, now offer reduced rates to youths who complete an approved course in driver education.

Why Electric Cooking is FAST

Flat-surfaced cooking elements on today's electric ranges start heating instantly, reach full high heat in seconds. Heat is transferred to utensils by direct metal-to-metal contact, with no intervening air space, so you get maximum efficiency and cooking speed.

A fully-insulated electric oven reaches baking or roasting temperature quickly. Since it is insulated all around, including the bottom, it keeps the heat inside the oven. And because electric heat is instant, the broiler requires no preheating. This means that your meals can be prepared in a minimum of time.

Electric cooking is also cool, clean, accurate and economical. Select your new electric range now and enjoy all these benefits... at an average cost of only about 3c a meal for electricity.

Take all its beauty, balance it gracefully on a wider, steadier wheel design and you have a car the likes of which you've never owned. The wheels are five inches farther apart. This widens the stance, but not the car. You're secure at the controls, more comfortable from head to toe. There's a noticeable lack of lean and sway. Narrow track cars fall far short by comparison. Wouldn't this be a good day for you to drive this sweet automobile? The keys are waiting.

A rather common repair job around any building with windows is replacing a broken pane. While not a difficult job, it can cause a little trouble, as it did for the reader who asked: "Is there any easy way to remove old putty around a window glass that must be replaced?"

Answer: With one hand run a hot soldering iron along the putty to soften it. Chip off the putty

Run a hot soldering iron along the putty to soften it.

In the wake of the iron with a chisel or jackknife held in the other hand. An electric soldering iron that retains heat a long time is best for this job.

Chip off only a little putty at a time to avoid ripping off strips of wood. After removing old glass, glazier's points and all traces of old putty, cover all wood surfaces involved with linseed oil with an old paint brush.

Q.—"After filing on soft metal, I notice that the file accumulates tiny shavings that are tough to clean off. How can I avoid this?"

A.—"Before filing, run a candle or wax stick over the file. Afterwards, melt the wax off with a flame or torch and it will carry the filings along. Don't overheat the file.

Q.—"I want to join two boards at the side edges to form an extra wide shelf, using dowels and glue. How can I mark the boards so the holes I drill for the dowels will line up perfectly?"

A.—"Simplest way is to pick inexpensive 'dowel centers' at a hardware store, specially made for this purpose. Or else clamp the two boards together in a vise, all edges even, with the surfaces to be joined facing up. With a tri-square, mark lines across both boards. Then use a depth gauge to make cross lines on each board the same distance from edges. Make a hole where the lines meet with an awl to center the drill bit.

3 "I's" Cause Traffic Mishaps

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

ONLY TWO PERCENT of all automobile mishaps are true accidents, according to police officials in Berkeley, California.

In fact, police there no longer use the term "accident." Instead, says Sergeant George A. Rennacker, they refer to those mishaps involving cars as "caused occurrences" resulting from the three "I's"—Indifference, Incompetence and Irresponsibility.

Rennacker, Berkeley's veteran police traffic expert, keeps comprehensive accident reports to substantiate his claim that the three "I's" cause 98 percent of all mishaps.

And, he says, these reports also show that there is a ratio between law enforcement and traffic mishaps—the more tickets, the less accidents—and, conversely, the less tickets, the more accidents.

"There seems no question that motorists will drive more carefully and avoid accidents," Rennacker says, "if they feel the police department enforces its traffic laws strictly."

Therefore, he has set a policy of strict law enforcement as a major solution to traffic problems. As an example, Berkeley has used radar as a traffic law enforcement tool for five years with rewarding results. Last year, 5588 speeding citations were handed out as a result of radar checks.

Within a few days after radar check points were set up in a specific locale, speeds decreased and "caused occurrences" dropped—because drivers knew the police were on the job.

In view of the success he has had in Berkeley, Rennacker offers this safe driving suggestion: "Always drive as though there were a motorcycle officer behind you."

"SMALL BUSINESS"

There are many indications that the present Congress in session is taking a greater interest in U. S. foreign policy than perhaps past Congresses have taken for some time.

It would appear that it is slowly becoming apparent that whatever the U. S. foreign policy is on the economic front, has an effect on U. S. jobs and business.

Recently in Congress Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York pointed out to Congress that in a sudden move, described a bolt out of the blue, West Germany levied a tariff on imported coal of $4.76 per ton.

In a normal postwar year, this country ships to West Germany something like 16 million tons of coal. This suddenly imposed tariff duty will knock out this market for American miners, creating further unemployment and hardship in the coal mining areas which have already been hard hit by previously unrestricted imports of foreign low grade fuel oil.

There is an interesting angle to all this, which appears to be in direct opposition to those proponents of free trade, reciprocal tariff treaties and other measures designed to break down the U. S. protective tariff system.

It has always been said that regardless of wage differentials, the U. S. could produce at a lower rate. From the testimony of Rep. Celler, there does appear to be some substantiation for this viewpoint.

Just as cooking temperatures need to suit different foods, so temperatures must meet the needs of various fabrics.

Today's fabrics include so many different fibers, blends of fibers and finishes that homemakers are often puzzled about temperatures suitable for the different fabrics.

The best general rule when pressing blends of fabrics is to set the iron so that it is suited to the fiber requiring the lowest temperature, according to your county HD agent, Thelma Wirges. However, when using a damp pressing cloth and a dry iron, the moisture in the cloth reduces the temperature.

Because the synthetics call for lower temperatures, blend fabrics of synthetic and natural fibers complicate the pressing problem. In the case of wool blends, they may be pressed successfully with a steam iron or with a dry iron and a damp pressing cloth.

Cotton blends are a different story. Combinations of cotton with synthetics can be a difficult problem because cotton will not always press smooth at a low temperature, yet many synthetics are damaged at high temperatures. One answer to this problem is to check each garment individually by ironing on a sample of the fabric or on an inconspicuous place like the edge of a wide seam.

Soon it will be time to put away some of your winter clothing. Before storing woollens be sure they are clean. Thelma Wirges, county HD agent reminds us that perspiration weakens wool, grit cuts it and spots attract moths.

First examine garments carefully and clean or wash as directed on the label. Before washing, give special treatment to spots and stains. Also measure your knitted garments so they can be pulled back into shape after washing.

Guard against damage from clothes moths. Dry cleaning kills all forms at the time of treatment, but does not insure per-mament protection. Garments placed in sealed bags immediately after cleaning will be protected indefinitely.

Moth-proof washable woollens when you launder them. Directions for doing this are given in the Extension Leaflet 156, Clothes Moths. Get a copy today from your local county HD agent's office.

New Scoring Plan To Be Followed For Rodeo Stock

Details of a revolutionary new scoring plan for the bucking stock of the sport of rodeo were released today by a top official of the National Finals Rodeo commission.

In Dallas for a series of conferences on the plans for the first "Rodeo World Series" to be held in the State Fair Livestock Coliseum Dec. 26-30, John VanCronkhite, Producer, General manager of the historic rodeo event, revealed that the Rodeo cowboys association has begun this week, to keep complete scoring records on all broncs and bulls over the nation which have been nominated for the National Finals Rodeo.

Followers of rodeo have become accustomed to keeping up with the top fifteen competing cowboys and their winnings week by week at the more than 500 American rodeos. But never before have any scores been kept on the broncs and bulls against which these cowboys match their skill for some $3 million in annual prize money, VanCronkhite said.

Not only will this provide a keen competitive week by week following by rodeo fans of the more famous broncs and bulls but it will also enable the NFRC to better select the top stock from the nation's fifty stock contractors to be used in the "Rodeo World Series" against the top fifteen cowboys in each of the rodeo events.

"This will mean that the broncs and the bulls of America will now develop sport personalities and become known as sport celebrities in their own right. There may develop as much interest in the national standing of a bronc and a brahma bull as there is in the standing of such cowboys stars as Jim Shoulders, Casey Tibbs, Guy Weeks and Marty Wood, VanCronkhite said.

For the first time in rodeo history, the rodeo World Series (in Dallas for 1959) will match the top fifteen cowboys of the year in a competition against the selected stock of all of America's rodeo combined stock in ten performances with prize money totalling $60,000 with the World Championships in the five standing events at stake.

Each of the nation's rodeo stock contractors has been permitted to nominate his five best saddle broncs, bareback, broncs and brahma bulls. Each time one of these animals comes out of the chute with a cowboy on it, the markings of the judges as to the performances of the animals will be recorded. These records are assembled at the Denver NFRC and RCA offices and, like the batting averages of baseball players, released to the press at stated intervals.

VanCronkhite pointed out that the NFRC had placed unusual emphasis on the rodeo stock to be used at the National Finals in Dallas.

The commission has also set up a special $3,000 award to go to the bucking stock that gives the best performance at the ten contests of the National Finals, VanCronkhite said. We feel that the nation's RCA stock contractors and their selected stock are greatly deserving of more publicity. We do not mean to detract from the publicity which the cowboys get, but we merely wish to add to the publicity which the broncs and bulls deserve.

The cowboys well know the habits, the records and the abilities of each bronc and bull in the various American and Canadian strings, he said. But the public has never had an opportunity to follow the amazing records of these animals as, for example, they do in horse racing.

VanCronkhite commented that the State Fair of Texas is sparing no expense and overlooking no detail in preparing what will be the most elaborate setup in the history of rodeo.

Facilities in the new $2 million State Fair Livestock Coliseum will be as near perfect as possible, he said. "The chutes and stock holding pens will be ideal. Stock will be given the same care and facilities provided top racehorses. Individual pens and stalls will be provided. Special insurance on the valuable stock will be taken out with over 300 selected broncs and bulls being used.

The value of this stock will be inestimable, he said. He compared the collection of the top three
