The Highway Patrol service of the Texas Dept. of Public Safety investigated a total of 40 rural traffic accidents in Wichita county during the month of March with the following breakdown: Property damage 28, personal injury, 12; and fatal accidents none.

In making this announcement Patrol Sergeant F. E. Webster reported a total property damage of $20, 585.00 with 15 persons injured and none killed. This is an increase of 2 accidents for the same period of 1958.

According to the sergeant this brings the total rural traffic accidents in Wichita County for 1959 to 118 as compared to 102 for the first three months of

The sergeant advised that traffic deaths in Texas are 12% higher this year than they were at this same time last year. He stated that we have seen what can be done when we all get together in a statewide crusade and campaign with the determination to stop highway slaughter. This was evidenced in the 8% reduction in our death toll last year. This year, we must do even more if we wish to further reduce this terrible toll.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

COVINGTON, TENN., LEADER: "Michigan is one of the most affluent states in the nation, with vast industrial areas. Yet, on Feb. 2, Gov. Williams, with his bank credit shut off and his treasury unable to meet payrolls-appealed to industry for prepayment of taxes due April 15th.

"This should be an undeniable confirmation of the oft-repeated prediction that a government, state or nation, can go broke. However, we fear that it will take more than this warning to convince federal bureaucrats they can't go on spending what lump it.

SPRINGVIEW, NEBRASKA, HERALD: "Inflation is just like the weather. Everybody's talking about it but nobody's doing any-

LONDON, OHIO, THE MADISON PRESS: "You can tell what kind of community you live in by looking at your newspapers, so says an executive of the United States Chamber of Commerce. attendants are just there to take the rubles. How can he do this -He answers simply that the newspaper is the mirror of community life, its personality.'

SALEM, INDIANA, REPUBLICAN LEADER: "The fellow who tions to buy that, and for lubrication, and other services. built a boat so large that he had to tear down the barn in order to get it out would qualify for an expert in American displomatic work. For today we see the world threatened with charges and counter charges bolstered with threats of war and attacks because our supposedly great American leaders provided for a Ber. and no service." That is inevitable—in the case of gasoline or lin controlled by four powers, but without providing access to anything else—when the government is the boss and competion West Berlin. Our American leaders entered into final agreement with Russia for control of the fallen German city but let Russia keep the 100 miles of territory separating Berlin from the rest of the free world.'

The Farmer's Income Problem

An Agricultural Letter issued by the Federal Reserve Bank of Chicago briefly traces the history of farm price supports and the parity principle since the mid 1930's and relates them to the individual income problems of varying types of farmers. One paragraph observes: "During the mid 1930's, production controls were not effectively tested because the severe droughts cut farm output drastically. Then during World War II, price supports were raised in order to encourage needed expansion in food and fiber production. Following the end of the critical postwar world food shortages in 1948, strong opposition developed to any reduction in the level of price support and to the introduction of strict output controls on most farm commodities. Many point out that while production controls could, if effective, raise prices and reduce outlays for Government programs, it would not solve the income problem of many individual farmers though total farm income might be maintained.'

This being the case, it is clear that some new or additional approach is needed if overall farm problems are to be success fully dealt with. The Agricultural Letter makes this point: "adoption of new farming practices and enlargement of farm units may be the most promising method of solving the income problem of individual farmers. To break with traditional methods of production is not easy. Yet no one can deny that improvements in production, greater output at lower costs-provide the key to economic progress for any society, agricultural or industrial

The tools for improving production, and obtaining greater output at lower costs, are at hand They are found in modern mechanized equipment, in the new fertilizers and pesticides, in advanced land enrichment and conservation techniques, and so on. There is small doubt that farmers in the future will need to make full use of all these tools.

Tensions

"We like to think that we are living in a highly civilized and very advanced world," says William Park, chairman of the board of American stores. "We point with pride to all the things we have that make for 'better living' that our forefathers never enjoyed. Yet in amost any newspaper you can read of broken homes, murders and a whole host of crimes that make your blood run cold

"I think this a rather sad commentary on our way of living in this so-called 'enlightened age.' We cannot help but wonder if human nature has changed at all through the centuries. I doubt

"If you read the Old Testament of the Bible, you will see tecorded many murders and others sins of all sorts. The world was in a constant state of war. People were restless and full of tensions. "The prophet Issiah gave them a prescription to help them. If you are interested, you will find it recorded in the third verse of the twenty-sivth chapter of the Book of Issiah. A sure relief from tensions

Service Stations Without Service

We Americans take the competitive, free enterprise system for granted. It would be a good thing if we could all spend a little time in a country where government owns or runs everything, where competition is non-exist, and the consumer can like it or

In an article appearing in Ethyl News, Thomas L. Riley, a widely traveled writer and photographer tells of service stations without service. The scene is Moscow. It's a huge city, in the 8 million population bracket. But there are only a handful of service stations, & they operate strictly on a do it yourself principle. The buildings are most dilipidated. University Club Entertained April 15 By Mrs. L. W. Mathis

The University Study club met Wednesday, April 15th in the home of Mrs. L. W. Mathis.

The president presided over a brief business session, After transaction of the regular business, Mrs. Burns, Mathis and Harwell were appointed to serve on the menu committee for our May luncheon. The club voted to co-operate with the other clubs in the city in getting the sandwiches to the concession stand for the rodeo in June. Mrs Burns had charge of the program and presented the well known and beloved, Mrs. Hazel Kilpatrick, from Wichita Falls to bring us a story. Hazel is a member of the Wichita Falls story league and she very ably presented two stories. The first one, There's no place like Home by Anne Gibbons, and John's Way by David Owen. The entire 7-4 membership was thrilled over her way of presentation and Mrs Burns presented her with a lovely crystal plate at the conclus-

Following the program, we were invited into the dining 8-1 room for refreshments. The table was laid with a floor length pink organdy table cloth and was centered with an ar-rangement of pink and white glads in a silver container. Task Ahead-

In the days that remain until May 12th, or in special sessions thereafter, the Legislature faces these decisions:

1. Appropriation—House has passed a bill calling for $322. 000,000 in general revenue; Senate, a bill for $302,000,000. Difference must be adjusted in conference committee, which neither presiding officer seemed in a hurry to appoint. Safety Council Plays Games To Save Lives

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Safety Consultant

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS COURand pedestrians by the Los Angeles Safety Council, help make the holidays both happier and safer for residents of the West Coast city. One year the safety group published a list of "amateur" driving hab-its. Then they announced through newspapers and radio a new for holiday motorists called "Spot the Amateur." Purpose of the game was to urge motorists to avoid contact with amateur drivers. Since no driver wants to be considered a movice, the game also deterred motorists from pulling "amateur driving" boners. At another Christmas seeson, the Council prepared a travel time list to various holiday vacation spots for use by newspapers and radio stations. Normal driving times were first determined, and then additional time was added to allow for increased holiday traffic. To arrive safely at their destinations, drivers were urged to follow the time schedules. Another Christmas project of the Los Angeles safety experts is to place on every restaurant table and counter a sign reading "For Holiday Safety - make that 'one for the road' coffee." Through these special Christmas safety programs, the Los Angeles Safety Council spreads good common sense as well as

adventures in ADVERTISING

THE FANTASTIC STORY of MUSA-SHIYA THE SHIRTMAKER

(Also Sometimes Drygoods Selling)

If the shipping department of a factory had not made an error, the world would never have known of Musa-shiya the Shirtmaker and the most astounding advertising campaign in history would never have been Following World War I an English textile factory was getting back or e peacetime basis. In error it sent a full five year backorder of shirting material to Musa-shiya, a Japanese shirtmaker who operated a small shop in Honolulu. Business was poor and Musa-shiya was near bankruptcy, when the customs office informed him that certain bales of cloth and a fat bill for duties awaited his pleasure at the port of Honolulu.

When the little shirtmaker realized what had descended upon him, he asked for time and went into the silence for purpose of mental refreshment. Remembering a friend in a big mercantile establishment, he hied himself there and sought counsel. How in the name of the horned prophet of evil was he ever to get .4d of all that English shirting? And In the meantime where was he to put it? His little box of a shop wouldn't hold one bale.

"You'll have to advertise," advised his friend. "Leave it to me. I'll have our advertising agents help you out."

This merely compounded the little Japanese shirtmaker's troubles. Advertising to him was an uncharted sea. The advertising agent called on Musa-shiya and suggested $300 as a modest starter. "Too-o-o much. Maybe I think thirty dollar plenty," said the shirtmaker. He was told that wouldn't even get him in print. The agent explained the costs of various advertisements and finally Musa-shiya agreed to try the plan and what was destined to be the most astounding and for reaching campaign in the history of advertising was launched.

Two column by five inch ads then started appearing regularly in the Saturday Honolulu Star-Bulletin. The ads were written just the way Musa. shiya talked - in colorful pidgen English which is used throughout the Orient. Here is an example of one of Musa-shiya's ads:

"Well here come storek again - but Musa-shiya, the shirtmaker, is able prepare. Wonderful accumulation of baby things in dry goods selling corner of Muse shop. Everything for the beby - especially dieper. Exclusive of storek, which find most easily, many persons not finding little shop of Musa-shiya the shirtmaker in King Street. Makai side, between fish market and river."

Tourists started sending copies of Musa-shiya's ads to their friends In many countries. Soon Musa-shiya was receiving orders from all over the world as well as doing a thriving business in Hawaii.

And that is the story of how a well planned, small advertising campaign made an unknown Japanese shirtmaker not only wealthy but world

Your local newspaper doesn't promise to duplicate this story for its advertisers, but it does take your sales message into the homes of your customers where full and careful consideration is given your suggestions. Who knows, perhaps you too can be a Musa-shiya.

Of course tennis wouldn't be the game it is without two play-

Mud and massive loads stop other trucksbut not this Chevy!

102 East College

Chevrolet tandem slogs through deep mud to deliver huge load.

F. F. Kirchner, cement block manufacturer of St. Ann, Mo., has this to say about his Chevy 10703 tandem: "Fully loaded we're up over 40,000 lbs. GVW and at most excavation sites we have to move through soft sand and mud . . . My driver tells me he always gets through, too, even where other, bigger trucks can't make it!"

Statements like this are typical of Chevrolet truck owners across the country. Their enthusiasm for Chevrolet's "git-up-and-go" is well founded in fact-they've seen how Chevy tames their toughest jobs in record time.

For your own tough trucking jobs, you'll find Chevrolet has all that it takes, and then some, to get the work done quickly and economically. With stamina to spare, Chevrolet trucks keep on the go day after day. Powerful engines haul maximum loadshold fuel and maintenance expenses to a minimum. And Chevy's solid build keeps cabs and bodies tight through years of work.

For the right truck and components to handle your tough job, contact your local Chevrolet dealer. He'll prescribe the correct cost-cutting Chevy combination that'll make your toughest job

No job's too tough for a Chevrolet truck!
