MEMORIAL DAY SAT., MAY 30

This Memorial Day, we again pay tribute to those who gave their lives in the service of our country. Lest we forget, it is well for us to be so reminded of the heroic ones who gave their lives that ours might be lived in freedom. By our wise use of the freedom earned, we pay greater tribute every day.

During these years after the guns of "hot" war have ceased, we pay tribute not only to the dead, but also to those who still play the vital roles in our own defense.

Those in the Armed Forces today are conscious of a more tangible salute of appreciation from the American public each day of the day for keeping strong the Red Cross services in their behalf.

Our contributions to Red Cross last year made possible services to the armed forces, veterans and their families amounting to $32,824,308. These services were rendered to men and women on insular and foreign soil as well as those stationed in this country. They included counsel and help with personal problems, swift communication facilities, assistance in securing benefits and resources, financial assistance, and recreation programs.

Grass Roots People Recognize the Danger

ED'S NOTE: For years we have followed the ads written by Warner & Swassey, manufacturers of turret lathes. They strike such a favorable thought chord we always look forward to the next one. It seems that others like these ads too. Not long ago a rancher living near Buffalo, Wyoming, saw one of their ads and thought every one ought to read it. Let Editor Frank Hicks of the Buffalo Bulletin tell the story:

"A well known Buffalo rancher is concerned, as all of us should be, about the trend in America toward more money for less work, for putting security above self-respect, for expecting the government to hand out money for every type of program and tacking the bill upon the taxpayer.

"He saw an ad in a magazine that . . . said in a very few words what all of us, down deep, really feel. That rancher realized that probably only a handful of local people would see this editorial-type ad . . . and that the more than 7,000 people in the Buffalo trade area should have a chance to read it, too.

"Will G. Metz is the rancher. He wired the company for permission to reprint the ad . . . and bought a quarter page in the Buffalo Bulletin and had it reprinted . . .

Here is the main text, duly credited to Warner & Swassey, the Cleveland machinery builders, and noted as appearing in US News & World Report and in Newsweek, April 27:

HOW MUCH FEDERAL AID DID THE PILGRIMS GET?

"They were in a Depressed Area. No one guaranteed them high prices for anything. Their only roads and schools were built by themselves. For security they did their own saving, or starved.

All they had was Character. All they did was Work. All they wanted was Self Respect.

The sum of those three traits became America.

But what's going to be the sum of the traits you see today—the traits of character, or, rather, lack of it, that demand more money for less work, put security above self respect, pamper self-pitying criminals instead of punishing them, give away resources we desperately need to protect ourselves, listen to weaklings that want government to take care of them when they should take care of themselves.

Long years of early-American self-respect and hard work built America, but the traits you see today can destroy it in half the time."

The Origin of Memorial Day

While the South was fighting to free itself from the Union, its women were planting the beginnings of one of the most reverent national holidays of the U. S. Memorial Day.

The nation was still torn by the Civil War when Southern women began to honor the dead from both sides of the Mason-Dixon Line by scattering flowers on their graves.

According to research experts with the World Book Encyclopedia, the women of Columbus, Miss., decorated the graves of Union and Confederate soldiers in 1863. Two years later, Mrs. Sue Landen Vaughan, a descendant of John Adams, second president of the U. S., led some women in strewing flowers at a military cemetery in Vicksburg, Miss.

As the custom spread, Gen. John A. Logan, commander-in-chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, was persuaded to set a uniform date on which to honor the Union dead. In 1868, Logan issued a general order to all Grand Army posts, setting aside May 30th "for the purpose of strewing with flowers or otherwise decorating the graves of comrades who died in defense of their country."

The first celebrations in north exalted the Union armies for their victory over the South. But the theme of victor and vanquished gradually disappeared.

As the U. S. passed through the Spanish-American War, the World Wars and the Korean War, Memorial Day became a tribute to the nation and to all those who died for it.

Our recent said loss leaves us with grateful hearts toward neighbors and friends. Their comforting expressions of sympathy and thoughtfulness will always be remembered.

Grain Harvest Is Still Delayed By Cloudiness

Combine men, wheat haulers and farmers have been waiting patiently for almost a week for grain to ripen enough to cut. Two fair sized rains in the past eight days have slowed the ripening process in this area.

If we have no more rain (and we are threatened with showers for the next twenty-four hours) for the next few days, most all fields will be ready.

Although much of the grain in this part of Texas and Southern Oklahoma is average or below, many farmers claim they have 20 to 30 bushel wheat. The general belief is that most fields will produce more than expected.

LIONS CLUB

Town Hall Each Tuesday 7:30 P. M.

Oil and Soda Pop

The extractive industries, such as oil, are subject to different provisions of the tax laws than are industries in general. Oil producers are allowed a 27 1/2% depletion allowance, as a credit against income taxes.

This, in the minds of some, looks like out and out legalized tax evasion. They ask, Why should oil be in special category?

A simple illustration answers that question. Oil production is risky far beyond the normal. For instance, a man who wants to make soda pop doesn't have to put up half a dozen plants in the hope that one will serve his purpose. He puts up one, and from there on he just runs the general risks that are part of a competitive economy.

But the oil producer faces 8-1 odds on every wildcat well drilled—in other words, only one in nine finds oil or gas in commercial quantities. Even if he drills in a proved field, the adverse odds are 4 to 1.

Moreover, the soda pop producer doesn't sell his assets—his plant and machinery—in the normal course of business. He sells only the product. But in the case of the oil producer a relatively small part of his capital lies in drilling rigs and derricks and other equipment. His big capital asset is the oil in the ground. The best of wells ultimately becomes dry. So every time he sells a barrel of oil, he is depreciating his assets by that much.

The depletion allowance, to sum up, is designed to meet the peculiar problems that are an inescapable part of oil production and to assure that the search for new oil resources will continue unabated.

Curtain Raiser - For What?

In his first address to the nation over radio and TV, Secretary of State Christian Herter promised the American people there would be "no lack of continuity" in the foreign policy charter by John Foster Dulles. Mr. Herter assured his hearers that we would not abandon the two and a quarter million people of West Berlin, but that "Firmness does not imply unwillingness to negotiate in good faith."

The Secretary admitted on the eve of his departure for Geneva that while the Western conferees are united in their stand and "all 15 nations of the North Atlantic Alliance are as one," he was leaving without great expectations of progress and with the realization that "a deep gulf divides the free world from the Soviets."

Mr. Herter reminded his audience that the Berlin crisis was created by the Kremlin's demand of last December that the allied forces withdraw from the city and suggested that the spectacle of a divided Berlin, half free and half slave had indicated, even to the Soviets that co-existence was "a failure."

Despite his assurances that the West will stand fast, Mr. Herter chose not to repeat the now famous "we will not budge an inch" statement, but said that we would be prepared to make concessions to the Russians in return for counter concessions. Whether this means we shall budge only a few inches only time can tell. But the Secretary did say—and we hope he was speaking for Britain and France as well as for the US—that "Fear and appeasement will not, in the long run, reduce the danger of war."

At his press conference earlier in the week, President Eisenhower had parried a question on Geneva and a subsequent summit meeting. The President said he hoped there would be "some progress", and that any hopeful development would make the summit "a foregone conclusion." He also mentioned that there is only one man in Russia who can speak with authority.

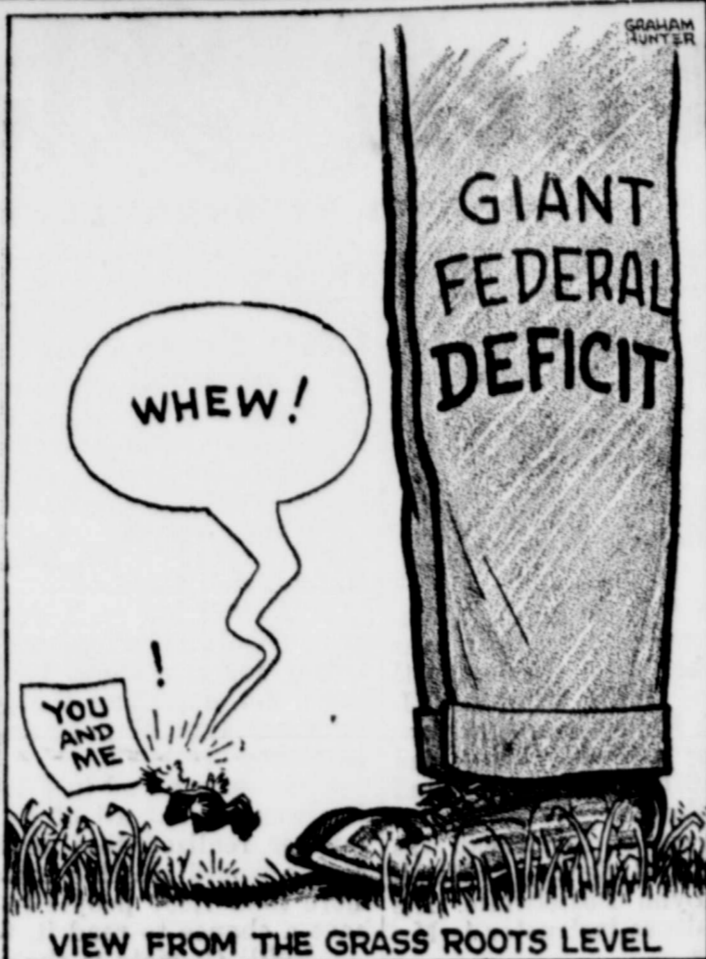

Meanwhile, that "one man" in the Kremlin let it be known that his man Andrei Gromyko would reject the Western ministers proposal and at the same time loosed a trial balloon indicating that, if pressed, he would attend a summit meeting in San Francisco. If Mr. Khrushchev can make a shambles of the Geneva meeting and get his summit too and decide it will be held in San Francisco, we'd better start learning Russian.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

SIMSBURY, CONN., FARMINGTON VALLEY HERALD: "One of the most serious cancers growing within the American system is the fiscal irresponsibility that is afflicting the people who run our governments. We are engaged in a life and death struggle with international communism. Further, they (Communist leaders) have told us over and over that they are not going to try defeat the United States in a costly military conflict but by encouraging fiscal irresponsibility and reckless spending in the United States until the capitalist system and our Republic is buried in the dust and rubble of national bankruptcy. The goal is pegged by Russian leaders at 1970. Isn't it about time we evaluated our situation, and did something constructive about it?"

WILLIAMSBURG, VA., GAZETTE: Ten years ago—the United States broke a tradition that had existed since the foundation of the Republic. Despite the gloomy predictions of a minority the United States joined a peacetime military alliance—the North Atlantic Treaty Organization. On its 10th anniversary NATO stands as the hope of the free world. Bitterly reviled and opposed by the Soviets—as it was—by Russian attempts to weaken or dissolve it—NATO remains the great and indispensable bulwark against aggression in Europe or North America.

Featherbedding Opposed

According to a late Gallup Poll, the American people oppose "featherbedding" the practice of making employers hire more workers than are actually needed by a margin of two to one. And union member families are four to three against it.

The same survey found that the proposal to reduce the work week to 35 hours "gets a chilly reception from the general public and from union member families as well."

It would be a fine idea if union officials kept that expansion of public sentiment in mind.

The bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. Joe Nichols, were presented with carnation corsages upon their arrival. Miss Paula Garland presided at the guest registrar, and Mrs. Don Short and Mrs. Danny Kinnett served cake and punch to approximately fifty guests. The refreshment table was covered with white organdy over a blue cloth. A centerpiece of blue and white carnations, sided by two blue candles complimented the table. For the program, Mrs. A. A. McKinnis gave a very humorous reading entitled Inventor's Wife, and Carmen Ware, Glenda Turner, Jane Yarbro, Pam Stansland, Margaret Faulk, Kay Zimmerman and Sue Revier, accompanied by Mrs. George Yarbro, sang two selections.

Miss Nichols was then presented a vast array of many useful gifts, many being sent from those who were unable to attend the shower. The wedding will be June 20, at 4:00 p. m. in the sanctuary of the First Methodist church of Burkburnett, with Rev. T. M. Jensen performing the ceremony assisted by the pastor of the First Methodist church.

Sliced lengthwise to show mechanical functions, this 1959 Chevrolet half-car is part of the General Motors exhibit in the American National Exhibition opening late in July at Moscow. More than three and a half million Russians are expected to view the Chevrolet half-car and its transparent engine and transmission during the six-week showing. Sign in Russian says: "Chevrolet—America's Most Popular Car." Shown with the unit are Harvey Maveal, left, who will be in charge of the unit, and M. J. McDonald, manager of Chevrolet's Show & Display Department.

Engagement Tea Saturday Honored Jean Manley

One of the loveliest parties of the season was the tea that was given by Mrs. J. M. Pogue on Saturday afternoon honoring her daughter, Jean Manley. It was a come and go affair from 3 to 5 p. m. The reception room, as well as the other rooms, were decorated with Jeans favorite color, pink roses, larkspur and spring petunias. The dining table was the focal point of interest. It was covered with a floor length pink net over pink taffeta, caught up in tiers with pink rose buds and blue forget me nots, and centered with a beautiful moline tree covered with pink rose buds and blue streamers from the tree with the words in silver, Jean and Willis—July 19th.

Refreshments included tiny pink cakes, nuts and pink punch. Alternating at the punch bowl and in the receiving line with hostess and honoree were members of the house party, Mesdames Carl Morrison, Glen Bear, D. C. Dodson, R. H. Henry, Dewey Austin, Edward Womack, Arthur Bunstine, Bill Vincent, Maxine Creel and O. E. Melton. All members of the house party wore beautiful pink and white corsages. About 60 guests were invited.

Jean is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Pogue of Burkburnett. She is a graduate of Burkburnett High School, was a member of the Junior Forum in Wichita Falls and was presented as a debutante during her senior year, attended Southwestern University in Georgetown where she pledged Kappa Phi Sorority and Midwestern University. She is now employed in the office of Levi Straus in Wichita Falls.

For more information on hard surfaced floor coverings you might visit a home demonstration club this month. Miss Thelma Wirges, county HD agent is giving special method demonstrations to all HD clubs. She has printed material giving general information. For copies of the printed material write your County HD agent, 305 Federal Bldg., Wichita Falls.

Homemakers are frequently puzzled as to the best treatment for a brick floor laid in a dining room or patio. Most folks like to keep the natural color of the bricks and mortar but want to give some protection against dust and grease penetrating into the brick.

The use of a silicone base waterproofing agent is recommended for this purpose. It tends to increase the surface tension of the bricks which prevents penetration of dust, grease and water. To be sure the effect is what you want, treat a small, inconspicuous area before doing the entire floor.

Another method for finishing such a floor is to apply two coats of penetrating type of sealer. If you use this method, be sure the bricks are thoroughly dry as moisture and the sealer could combine to give a milky white film on the bricks.

Remember, a hard surface floor cover is only as smooth as the floor under it. Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Fritsche solved the problem of a rough floor under a hard floor covering. They covered the floor with masonry, before adding the new covering. This not only adds to the life of the floor covering, but makes it look much better.

Wax is not only desired for most floor covering, but it protects many items in the home. Leather, plastic or wood purses and belts keep their new look longer if polished with waxes suitable for them. Thelma Wirges, county HD agent, also suggests a protective wax coating on metal accessories.

Wax protects luggage from hard travel wear. Briefcases, cases for radios, typewriters or cameras last longer with a coating of the right kind of wax. Soiled leather articles can be cleaned with saddle soap before waxing.

Between seasons apply wax to costly sports gear to keep it clean and in good condition.

News From The County Agent

The use of plastic as a substitute for glass in greenhouse construction has reduced the cost of such structures to the point that backyard operations may be encouraged. B. T. Haws, says the smaller, intensive operators who grow vegetable transplants and produce tomatoes out of season are particularly interested in the development.

Haws points out that a lot of greenhouse know-how is required for the successful operation of such an enterprise. Copies of a new publication, MP-341, Plastic Greenhouse for Growing Vegetables are available from local county agent.

STEER WRESTLING

A HARD RUN FOR THE MONEY is climaxed by the steer wrestler with a long jump from his rather poorly positioned horse. His horse's habit of running wide may cost the bulldogger the purse, since his feet will fall in a poor position to stop the steer before twisting him down. And in this timed event, the money is won by saving tenths of seconds.—Photo by De Vere.

News From The Congress

Our Bill of Rights provides that "The Right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue, but upon probable cause, supported by Oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched, and the persons or things to be seized." For a long time the Courts have held that this meant that a man's home could not be invaded or searched without good cause, and except in extremely unusual or critical circumstances an officer could not invade one's home in the absence of a lawful warrant. In the recent five to four decision, however, the Supreme Court has held it is not always necessary to have a warrant to enter a person's home. This arose out of the refusal of a Baltimore man to allow a health inspector into his home to inspect for rats. The home owner chose not to have his home invaded without due process of law, and in so doing, exercised his privilege under the Bill of Rights. Certainly the inspector could have gone to court and declared his reasons for needing to make the search and have returned a few hours later with a warrant and fulfilled what he considered to be his duty.

NEWS FROM SEN. MOFFETT

The recent session of the Legislature passed several bills which are directly related to agriculture and stock raising in Texas. Among them was a bill which made it much easier for a farmer to secure a water permit to use as much as 200 acre feet of water for irrigation purposes. A permit is not now needed in order to store water for livestock or household use.

Under the new law, a permit for 200 acre feet of water for irrigation purposes can be secured within a minimum of expense and red tape, the principal requirement being that the application must show the exact location on a map of the dam that is proposed to be built and the amount and location of land to be irrigated. Heretofore, the application involved considerable time, expense and trouble. The new law is a definite improvement. Several bills were passed with the object of better control of livestock diseases in Texas. Our state has fallen behind other states in efforts to control such diseases. On account of this situation, quite a number of states have refused to permit shipments of certain classes of Texas livestock to come into their state. While some of the new laws just passed may prove inconvenient, yet it is admitted by most livestock producers that they are necessary in order to permit the free movement of Texas livestock to other states. These laws also serve to keep diseased animals from being brought into Texas.

The public interest or the public health standards in this case would not seem to have been harmed by the few hours delay necessary to go through the normal procedure to secure the warrant. The whole intent of the Bill of Rights in this regard was to protect private citizens from harassment from the hordes of government agents regardless of who they are. It was written to protect the insignificant few as well as many, not to make it easier for government agents to examine, probe, or inspect, but to afford liberty to the people and issue sanctity of one's home. The court went a long way in this decision, and while the facts may make it appear to be significant, the precedent is extremely dangerous and even though the court attempted to set down strict rules, in the end the power is given to the Government to violate the right of individuals. The trend of this decision should be immediately stopped by legislation.

HOW FAST CAN YOU GO IN A COFFIN?

Next time you are tempted to step on it, ask yourself this question! Last year, 40,000 died on our highways. In 3 out of 10 fatal accidents, drivers were speeding. Obey speed limits. Drive safely.

Brakes Good? Can YOU Stop Before Accident?

For the seventh year, Texas is promoting the summer time traffic safety campaign under the "Slow Down and Live slogan.
The Texas Safety Association will coordinate the program throughout the Lone Star State.
The theme for 1958 is Can
You Stop in Time?
As in previous years, the campaign starts with Memorial Day and will end with Labor Day.
This period has been selected for the campaign, because it is during these months that vacation travel reaches its peak.
J. O. Musick, TSA's general manager, points out, the theme,
"Can You Stop in Time," emphasizes four basic causes of every accident.

ABOUT THAT By WILLY & RALPH

Take it from the experts CHEVY GIVES YOU 7 BIG BESTS!

Take it, not from us, but from the published opinions of outside, independent experts and from on-the-record facts and figures: Chevrolet gives you these 7 big bests over any other car in its field!

BEST BRAKES  In direct competitive tests of repeated stops from highway speeds, conducted by NASCAR*, Chevy out-stopped both the other leading low-priced cars—and why not? Chevy brakes are far larger, built with bonded linings for up to 66% longer life. *National Association for Stock Car Advancement and Research	BEST ENGINE Every motor magazine has given Chevy's standard and Corvette V8's unstinted praise. As SPORTS CARS ILLUSTRATED puts it: "Indeed, this device is surely the most wonderfully responsive engine available today at any price."
BEST STYLE POPULAR SCIENCE magazine sums it up: "The fact is, in its price class the Chevy establishes a new high in daring styling..." It's the only car of the leading low-priced three that's unmistakably '59 in every modern line. 	BEST ECONOMY No doubt about this: two Chevrolet Sixes won their class in the famous Mobilgas Economy Run, got the best mileage of any full-size car.
BEST TRADE-IN Check the figures in any official N.A.D.A.† Guide Book. You'll find that Chevy used car prices last year averaged up to $128 higher than comparable models of the "other two." †National Automobile Dealers Association 	BEST RIDE You'll be able to tell this yourself, instantly. But MOTOR TREND magazine expresses it this way: "... the smoothest, most quiet, softest riding car in its price class."

Official dimensions reported to A.M.A.† make this clear. For example, Chevy front seat hip room is up to 5.7 inches wider than competitive cars.

BEST ROOM

PLUS THESE TREMENDOUS TRIFLES

Who'd want to do without Chevrolet's extra luxuries? Like Safety Plate Glass in every window, the protection of full wraparound bumpers, crank-operated ventilators, the convenience of single-key locking, a real overhead curved windshield, oil-hushed hydraulic valve lifters in every standard engine for quieter running, a bigger luggage compartment with side wall lining... and the convenience of automatic choke in every model!

Visit your local authorized Chevrolet dealer and see how much more Chevy has to offer!
