CITY RECEIVES $238,074.74 CHECK

Jim Ady, manager of Texas Electric Service Company, delivers check to Mayor George McClarty at City Hall. This sum represents difference between base price of $972,000 and cost of retiring all outstanding light plant and water system revenue bonds, together with other costs and expenses. In the photo are, left to right: City Attorney Joseph A. Jancke, Commissioner John W. zens of Burkburnett vote for this improvement. Engineering estimates and cost of a city-wide system are being checked. In the meantime in order to facilitate matters, the City Commission has made plans to call an election for August 15th.

Final plans must be completed and the full facts made known and publicized before a bond election is held. The City should have no difficulty in selling the bonds at a reasonable rate of interest, present money rates considered, according to financial advisors.

Ernest L. Andrews, consulting engineer, is studying the proposed program to make certain final plans include lines of sufficient size, that the lines are properly located and that the disposal plant will be adequate to care for future growth.

Another civic improvement will result from sale of the city's electric system. The Company will rebuild the street lighting system, principally in the residential area. Additional street lights will be included in the program and all street lights will be on a separate circuit and will burn only at night. They will be controlled by a time clock, on at dusk and off at dawn.

The Company, in the negotiations several months ago, agreed to deed back to the city the light plant building and grounds as soon as equipment is removed from the premises. Officials of the Company state that this will be done as soon as practicable. The agreement provides that this will be accomplished within a time limit of two years. The city stated that it wanted the building and grounds for use as a civic center or to house any new industry which might be secured for Burkburnett.

Your Electric Clock Slow?

If your clock was slow when you got up Thursday morning, there was a good reason. The engineers and electrical workers had to interrupt service on some feeders at midnight Wednesday when they melded the city distribution system into Texas Electric Service Company's electrical system. Better check your clock to make sure you have the right time.

Work to bring direct telephone dialing between Burkburnett and Wichita Falls is progressing on schedule. Dub Deuschle, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Company, said today.

When this new service—termed Extended Area Service by the telephone company goes into operation in the Spring of 1960 Burkburnett telephone users will be able to call every telephone in Wichita Falls without paying a message charge.

"In fact, telephone users in Burkburnett will be able to dial Wichita Falls telephones as quickly and easily as they now dial across the street," Deuschle said.

This means a Burkburnett telephone customer will be able to call some 43,500 telephones here in Wichita Falls without paying a message charge. Also, all these telephone users will be able to dial any Burkburnett telephone without paying a message charge. At present, less than 2,000 telephones are in the local dialing area of Burkburnett.

This means telephone service in Burk will be even more valuable, because telephone users here can call and be called by more than ever before," Deuschle added.

He explained that it will be necessary to make a slight change in Burkburnett telephone numbers when the new service goes into operation. The present Burkburnett prefix JORDAN 9, will be changed to 569.

This is the same dial pull. The "5" corresponds with the "J" and the "6" is the same as the "0".

"It is necessary to change Burkburnett prefixes to make the telephone numbering system here uniform with that in Wichita Falls, which will be within the local calling scope," he added.

"Making the numbering system uniform within Burkburnett's local calling scope will help assure everyone of even better local and long distance telephone service," Deuschle explained.

The last five digits of telephone numbers here will not change.

"We wanted to give our customers here as much advance notice about the change as possible. We hope they will take the change into consideration when ordering stationery or other materials bearing their telephone number," he added.

Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Kress and daughters, Phyllis and Joan and Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Buzee spent last week-end in Dallas visiting friends and relatives.

BURNING THE BONDS

Immediately after final closing of sale of the Light Plant to Texas Electric Service Company, city officials elected to burn all of the cancelled bonds on the light plant and water system. The bond burning took place on the grounds of the light plant.

West Berlin Will Reman Free If

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter thus summed up the prospects for "progress" when the foreign ministers renew their deliberations after the three week recess which follows six weeks of futile talks at Geneva:

"If the Soviet Union persists in its determination to add the more than 2,000,000 free West Berliners to the captive peoples of Eastern Europe, then no agreement is possible. However, if the Soviets do not hold to this annexation design, we should be able to reach agreements on Berlin consistent with the honor and interests of all our countries.

It's certain that the Kremlin will persist in trying to get West Berlin as long as it has any hope that Allied determination to keep the Russians out can be weakened.

If the Allies stand firmly united on the issue, West Berlin will remain free. In every case where the West has thrown up a stone wall of resistance, Soviet expansionism has been thwarted.

When the Reds misjudged American willingness to fight for South Korea and precipitated war, they were stopped. South Korea remains free, and North Korea could have been freed if our United Nations allies had not lost their nerve.

When the Russians tried to get Greece and Iran through civil war and subversion they were stopped. The danger today is that somewhere the Allied front will weaken. If it remains united and firm West Berlin will remain free.

And the next time there is one of these international conferences at either the foreign ministers level or "at the summit," the primary subject on the agenda must not be what the Russians miscall "free city" status for West Berlin but freedom for 100,000,000 subjugated people in Central and Eastern Europe.

Texans Want Beaches Open

Bowing apparently to mounting opposition by private interest the House conservation and reclamation committee has sent the open beach bill to the attorney general for an opinion as to its constitutionality.

This is the same bill that the House passed during the first called session but which died in the Senate. It appears that all of a sudden some owners of property facing on the open Gulf have become exercised over what is described as need for control of beaches and safeguards for beach users. They do say that no one wants to exclude the public from the beaches.

Gov. Daniel holds that the recent court decision in the Laguna Madre case does not apply to the beaches along the Gulf, but adds that the Legislature should make very clear the public's right of access to the beaches.

The people of Texas want done whatever needs to be done to assure the rights they have enjoyed for more than a century. And certainly when they voted the constitutional amendment permitting use of state funds to advertise Texas, they didn't contemplate that tourists thus drawn to the state would be denied the one big tourists attraction Texas has to offer.

GRASS ROOTS OPINION

UNION PARISH, LA., NEWS-JOURNAL: "The point was made in a recent conversation that ours is a government of law and without the law we have mob rule. Most of us agree with these sentiments, but we seem to have trouble determining just what the law is and who will administer it."

RULEVILLE, MISS., RECORD: "We long for the carefree happy days when all a little business man had to do was to look after his business. He didn't have a payroll tax, a sales tax, a social security or a withholding tax to complicate the problem of doing business. Nowadays in addition to the problem of conducting the business, one has to keep a set of books that takes a good share of the spare time."

WEST UNION, WEST VA., THE RECORD: "There are few human achievements and probably none that must be repeated on a prescribed and inflexible schedule—that represent more thought, longer hours of effort or a higher sense of dedication than the newspaper."

BUFFALO, MINN., JOURNAL PRESS: "An educator says its better to know a lot about a few things than a little bit about most everything. Perhaps he wants quality of learning instead of quantity—And maybe the smart alecky attitude of some of our Wright county delinquents could be channeled in a more constructive pathway if they knew a little less & learned a little more. Judge O. J. Anderson says with the rise in delinquency we need a little more sternness some place—maybe in the home."

ABOUT YOUR HEALTH

"School Days, School Days. Good ol' golden Rule Days"
 Here they come again, and if you're a wise parent you'll get ready ahead of time.

There is lots to do—buy clothes, fit shoes and if your child is entering the first grade, chances are you need a birth certificate copy.

School districts in Texas require that entering student be 6 years old before Sept. Otherwise they must wait until the following year.

The best means of proving your child's age and birth date is to have a certified copy of his birth certificate.

In many areas of Texas, copies are available from local registrars of vital statistics in health Depts or county court houses. You may also obtain a birth certificate copy from the Division of Vital Statistics of the Texas State Dept. of Health in Austin.

To do so, you must send one dollar requesting a copy. Be sure to include the child's name and place of birth and the parents name.

It is important that parents take care of this chore as early as possible.

During August and September the Division of Vital Statistics is swamped with literally thousands of requests each week for birth certificate copies.

If you want to be sure your child has his birth certificate when school starts, request it now.

Rough estimates place the number of upcoming first graders at about 250,000. That makes for a lot of birth certificate copies.

In addition to birth certificates it would be wise to check with your school district regarding any vaccinations that may be required.

It would be a good idea if you have not already done so, to get your child started on his series of three Salk polio shots before school starts. Also, a fourth or booster is generally recommended for added protection a minimum of one year after the initial series.

Another smart idea that will pay off, is adjusting your child's schedule to approximately that of school time including bedtime, meals and especially waking time.

The bitterness of poor quality remains long after the sweetness of cheap price is forgotten.

News From The Congress

By Congressman Frank Ikard

The Administration has requested that Congress remove the ceiling on the interest that can be paid on Government securities. The present ceiling on long term Government bonds is 4 1/2%. For any Government securities which are issued for less than five years there is at this time no ceiling on the interest that can be paid. It has been suggested that unless the ceiling is removed on the issues running for a period of more than five years, that a greater portion of the debt will be forced into short term securities.

If this should occur, then the Government would be competing in its refinancing with the short term money that would normally go into the commercial channels for building & financing business & personal activities. This undoubtedly would be highly inflationary and would force individual interest rates up considerably.

While it would seem that the situation that now exists has to a great degree been created by the so-called "tight" money policy that has been in vogue for the last few years, there seems to be no responsible alternative at the present time other than to provide some means whereby the interest ceiling on the long term Government issues can be removed. Doing this should not necessarily mean that the over all interest paid by the government should increase, and it certainly would be less inflationary than forcing the Government into short term financing.

A great furor has been caused by Paul Butler's recent statements concerning the activities of the Congress. It would seem that if Mr. Butler wanted to make Congressional policy, he should get himself elected to either the House or the Senate. If he were successful in this, he would better understand the responsibilities of the Congress & perhaps would learn that the first responsibility of a member of Congress is to do what he feels is best for the country rather than serve his political party.

Visitors from home this week were Mr. Dave Robinson of Denton, Mr. Ray Davenport, formerly of Wichita Falls and Mrs. Davenport, and Mr. Henry Anderson and daughter, Terry of Wichita Falls.

Miles B. Hayes, Jr., of Minneapolis, Minn., was a recent visitor in the home of his father, Bro. and Mrs. Miles B. Hayes.

The electric jig saw now has gone the full circuit, from table saw to portable saw to combination portable and table saw. The combination provides one of the handiest power tools you'll ever find for your workshop.

Accomplishing the feat of converting a portable saw into a table or stationary jig saw is the newest thing on the handyman market, a small steel table which sits on your work bench. The table, 15 inches long, 16 inches wide, and 8 inches high, is open at the front so the portable jig saw can be inverted and fastened upward through an opening in the table surface.

Portable saw easily converted to stationary table saw.

The jig saw attaches firmly to the underside of the table with brackets and a single locking wing nut and rubber footings hold the table in place while the saw does your cutting work. Rip guide and miter gauge are incorporated in the table surface to help you align and maneuver the material you're sawing.

If you haven't already become acquainted with the advantages of a portable jig saw for your farm or home workshop, you really have been missing something. You'll be amazed at the multiplicity of tasks which can be accomplished with the jig saw, especially if you have one of the new steel tables so you can use the saw as a portable or stationary tool. The jig saw will cut steel and other metals, up-to-2-inch wood plastics, sheathing, fiber glass, leather, and other materials—and make intricate irregularly-shaped cuts.

(Information about the new jig saw table and other power tool equipment for home and farm workshops can be obtained by writing the Thor Research Center, Marengo, Ill.)

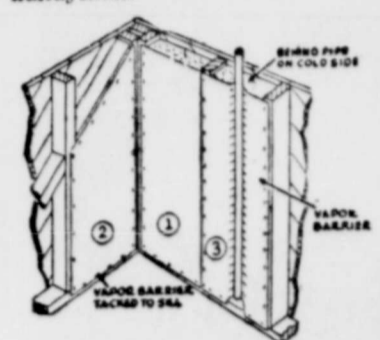

'Do-It-Yourself' Project Better Than 'Happy Pills'

Reach for a do-it-yourself project instead of a tranquilizing pill.

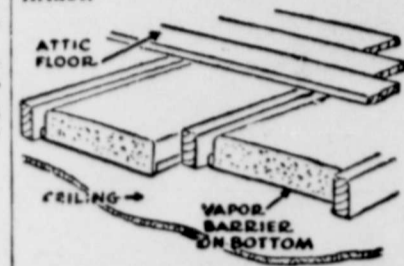

That's the advice more and more doctors are handing out today to ease the tensions of modern living. A simple home improvement project can be both relaxing and rewarding.

A popular do-it-yourself project is home insulation. Installing batts or blankets of mineral wool is light work which requires no special skills, uses ordinary tools, and the finished job will mean more year-around comfort plus heating and air conditioning economy.

The following diagrams show how mineral wool batts or blankets should be installed in areas accessible to the home handyman:

wall insulation should be thick enough to fill the space between studs to its full depth. Fit blankets of insulation neatly in stud spaces (1), and cut batts to fit odd shapes. (2). Always leave flanges of vapor barrier at ends for stapling at top and bottom of wall. Keep the vapor barrier on the warm side of the wall and staple every six inches along stud. A staple gun makes this go faster. Work the batt or blanket behind small water pipes (3), leaving vapor barrier intact.

Ceilings. With vapor barrier down on warm side of ceiling, fit insulation tightly in place between joists. No stapling is necessary, but ends of insulation blankets should fit tightly together. For the most effective job, the mineral wool should be a minimum of three inches thick. Six-inch batts are recommended for air conditioned or electrically heated homes.

Walls. For greatest comfort,

Mr. W. J. Bingham, who said he didn't even get a fishing trip to Garland Saturday and Sunday but a wonderful time ago also visited his daughter Cole and family in Dallas his stepdaughter and Garland before returning Monday.

Mrs. Bill Crosley has returned from Dallas where she visited her brother who has been admitted to the hospital for surgery.

319 Fishermen
Caught Without
Their $2.15 License

Fishing without a license is still the top offense in enforcement of game and fish laws, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game and Fish Commission. In June 319 persons were arrested for fishing without licenses.

Other violations, however, took a drop. There were 22 persons arrested for trespassing and 15 for hunting at night.
Otherwise, there were a few violations for killing game out of season. Arrests for the month totalled 440 persons who paid fines and court costs totaling $7370. A fishing license costs

$2.15.

We have been extra busy the past three months getting ready for the bigger job we now have in Burkburnett . . . that of serving more than 850 additional customers in the city.

Since last April when the citizens voted to sell the municipal power plant and system to Texas Electric Service Company, city officials and representatives of the company have been completing details of the sale, and at the same time we have been building new facilities to help us serve more customers in Burkburnett.

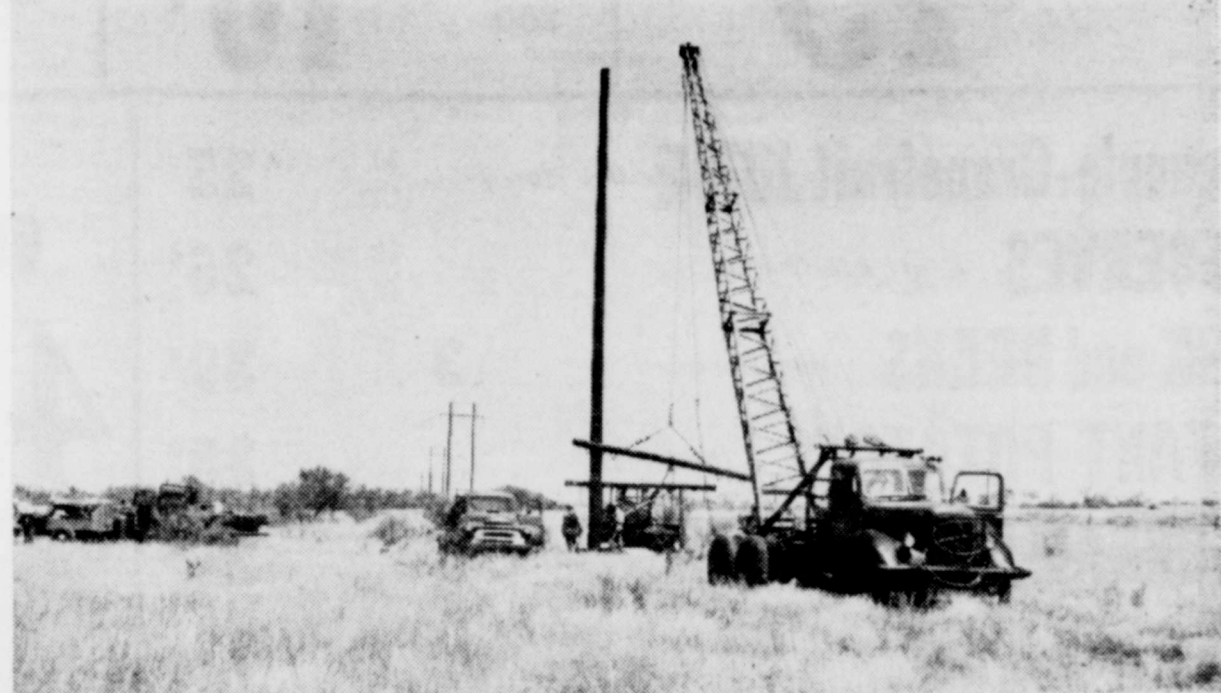

A new 69,000-volt transmission line has been completed between Wichita Falls and Burkburnett, and we have built a new substation here. We now have two substations serving Burkburnett.

A new 12,500-volt distribution line has been built down West Third Street from the new substation to replace the old 4,160-volt line that is to be removed.

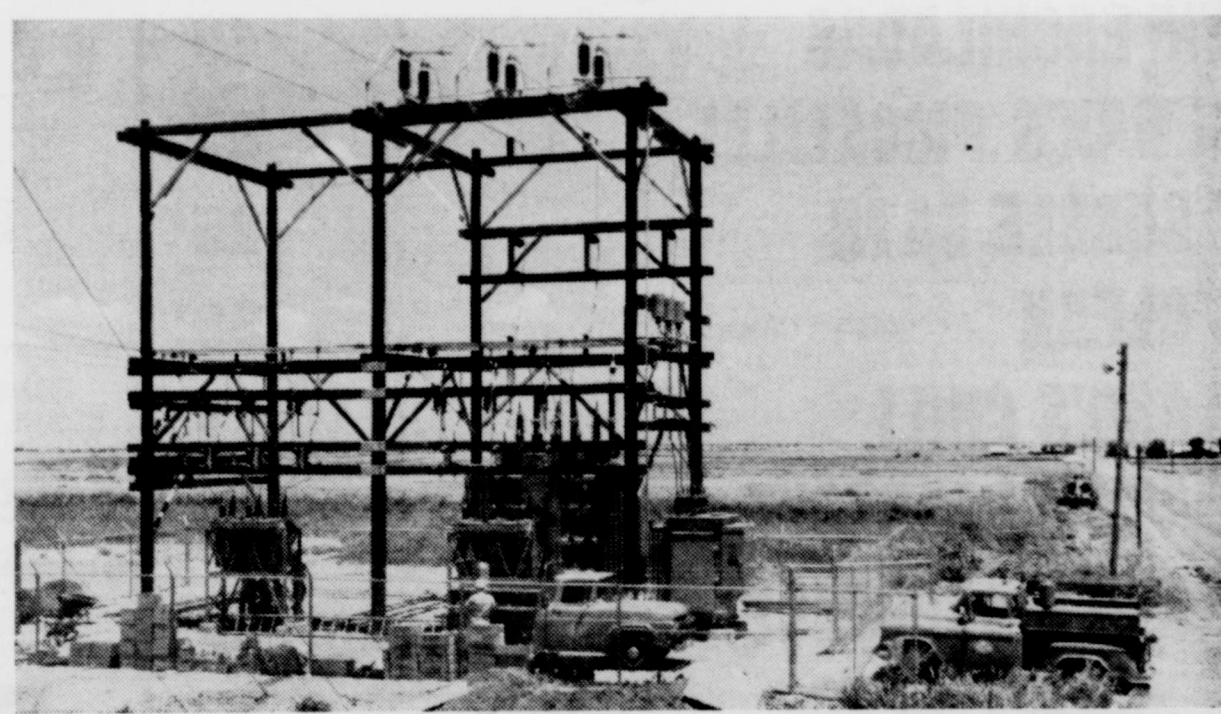

A lot of work remains to be done. We will proceed as rapidly as possible with consolidation of the two electric distribution systems in the city and with the installation of modern street lights, as they are approved by the city commission.

In some cases, new construction must be completed before existing, duplicating electric distribution lines are removed. We will make every effort while our construction crews are at work to keep any inconvenience to our customers at a minimum.

At any time you have any questions about your electric service, please telephone us or — better yet — visit our office, across the street from the City Hall. Our job is to help you . . . to see that you have plenty of dependable, low-cost electric service at all times.

Construction crews are shown at work on new 69,000-volt transmission line from Wichita Falls to Burkburnett.

Here is the new Burkburnett substation. Texas Electric Service Company now has two substations serving Burkburnett.

Poles are set for new 12,500-volt distribution line on West Third Street. Old 4,160-volt line is to be removed.

Up a steep mud-choked wash—Positraction pays off!

Through a mountain stream—deep in Avintaquin Canyon.

NO MOUNTAIN CAT, MISTER...

That's a Chevy with Positraction!

That 3134 Fleetside has the sure-footed ways of a big western bobcat. Roams through high brush country that would buck the life out of most trucks. Crosses streams without benefit of a bridge. Climbs talus grades where piñon won't even grow. But that's all routine for this Chevy, equipped with Positraction* rear axle. It's hard at it every day for the Utah Fish and Game commission. Figure about 60,000 miles of mountaineering before this Chevy is traded. And yet the district officer who drives it would bet his badge the tie rods won't even need replacing! Out in that wild, climbing Utah country, Chevy's suspension and frame and brakes, its Positraction rear axle and Thriftmaster 6 power are proving themselves under rougher conditions than most test engineers could dream up. They're proving that Chevrolet's advanced engineering and design ideas pay off—in spades—when the going gets especially mean and dirty.

Positraction, of course, is a big plus on this job, providing the sure grip needed to dig through mud, snow, loose sand, whatever comes along. Could be that a Positraction-equipped 1/2-ton pickup is the answer for your area of operation. Or maybe a 4-wheel drive Chevy. We've got trucks that specialize in getting in and out of any kind of country. Talk to your dealer about your needs. He'll show you what tough trucks are made of.

Alcohol And Accidents Go Hand In Hand

By Jeanne Smith, Dodge Sales Consultant

ESPECIALLY TIMELY at the holiday season are some statistics on the relationship of alcohol and accidents released by the National Safety Council.

Urging drivers and pedestrians alike not to mix alcoholic spirits with the Christmas spirit, the Council points out that more than 25 percent of traffic fatalities are the result of drinking.

In Delaware, where special attention has been given to the problem of the drinking driver, blood tests, police reports and intoximeter tests show that 40.6 percent of all drivers involved in traffic fatalities had been drinking.

A test of 50 volunteers, reported by the Council, revealed that drinking seriously impairs both judgment and reaction time.

After the 35 men and 15 women volunteers had first been tested for driving ability, each drank an ounce of whiskey for every 30 pounds of body weight. (In other words, a 150 pound man consumed five drinks.)

Forty-five minutes later, the volunteers were retested with these results:

Nearly all suffered loss of visual sharpness. Thirty percent showed a significant drop in depth perception. More than half were unable to judge distances well and over 50 percent were affected adversely by headlight glare.

When quick thinking is vital, Council officials stress, the drinking driver is severely handicapped.

There is little harmony in the home where parents are continually harping.

WASHINGTON AND SMALL BUSINESS

By C. WILSON

It will be perhaps a few weeks yet before the data is gathered on spending in the recently completed political campaigns.

But already, with figures in only up to September 1st, an idea is gained of the vast amounts of money Big Labor threw into campaign activity.

Up until September 1, organized labor groups had spent on campaign purposes a recorded total of $696,000 as compared to only $751,000 spent by one of the major political parties.

These totals only give an idea, not the full amount as it is only required under Federal law to report campaign expenditures by political committees that operate in more than one state.

Thus, while the totals on labor's political spending is largely under the banner of the AFL-CIO Committee on Political Education, presumably, unions operating inside a state that have set up local political organizations can also spend freely on campaigns without reporting.

It is interesting to note that of reported political campaign spending, Labor accounted for 20% of the total.

It is also interesting that the law does not require reports on moneys spent in primary elections even though in many cases they are equal in importance to the general election.

Under the law, it is illegal for labor organizations to make contributions to candidates for national office. Yet, they have made a mockery of setting up groups under the Committee on Political Education, which takes its money from the unions and for campaign purposes.

It is also interesting that just one union, the United Brotherhood of Carpenters and Joiners of America, the political arm of the business to survive in any where labor is tant in political arena, it is undoubtedly engaged in business to try to equal the amount of money spent on business must take care to balance.

It seems without the best influence he can have on political affecting small business, known, without type "are" tactics, the pro-dependent enterprise press opinions on one do affect small business. It is in this area that the Federation of Labor Business functions, and can the American economic scale be balanced.
