Help Needed

The Contemporary Study club is asking help from the citizens of Burk Burnett, in regards to the Wichita County State Hospital. There are approximately 2800 patients in the State hospital. Through more personal attention from our community many of the patients will improve and even leave the hospital at a faster rate. A number of the patients receive no visitors, funds or letters from their families or friends. Volunteer help is needed to help these patients, whether it be in reading to them, helping to write letters, walking the patients around the grounds, helping conduct special clubs or in the field of music or whatever you can do.

There is also a great need for clothing. The clothing must be clean, preferably the type to be laundered. There is also the need for furniture, drapes, pictures, bed spreads, yarn, material, needles, scissors, cigarettes, candies, books or whatever you have that is in good condition.

The Contemporary Study club has donated their services to ward picking up the articles donated and delivering them to the State hospital. So look in your closets, garages, attics and see if good and much needed use can be made of things that have been stored. There will be someone to come to your house, or place of business and pick up all articles, no matter how large or small, if you will call one of these numbers, 569-3566, 569-3950, 569-2335, or 569-3206.

WORLD UNDERSTANDING

MARK McCLEAN

Mark McClean, son of Capt. and Mrs. McClean, is one of the five Essay contest winners as presented by the Rotary club.

There are, in the world today, three areas that definitely need to be better understood. These are Africa, Asia and Latin America. Basically, the same methods can be applied to these areas, although each needs special consideration.

In Africa, where the prime need is education to combat the eighty percent illiterate population, we have presented to us an excellent chance to impart students who will become the leaders of their countries. These students could have no American counterpart, but we could send teachers and keep those we teach well informed by a constant flow of literature from all over the world. So far I have given ways for the African to understand us. Now what can we do to gain an insight to their problems? The answer lies mostly in reading. The American press is presenting to the public a wide assortment of news material. Other means of gaining an understanding of the African people would include encouraging public speaking by representatives of the countries of that continent.

The problems are essentially the same in Asia. There is a desperate need for education, which will continue to block any attempts of understanding between our peoples. The educational systems would be the same as in Africa. The United States and other countries should certainly encourage more men like the late Dr. Tim Dooley to go to Asia. This of course, may be partially accomplished by President Kennedy's proposed Peace Corps.

Latin America presents no less of a problem than the other two areas of international misunderstanding. Again, the number one problem blocking understanding is a lack of education, more specifically higher education. The lack of good educational standards in Latin America prevents any exchange student program, so the solution seems to be to train teachers in the United States and later European countries. There is underway now a small program of bringing Latin American students into schools; there are at present about eight thousand Latin American students in our colleges and universities. But this program should be expanded to much larger proportions, and should lead eventually to the establishment of more educational institutions within the various countries themselves.

Thus we see that the goal of international understanding is inseparably linked with programs dealing with education. And if the key to world understanding is education, let us do everything possible to promote its cause.

Start Proclaiming Private Enterprise

Whatever impression the leaders of Western nations carry away from their meetings with the heads of the Communist empire, one usually stands out above all the rest. And that is simply this: that every Communist leader has total uncompromising faith in the power, essential rightness, and ultimate triumph of the system which he represents. This belief and determination now threaten free institutions in every corner of the earth. In our own country, this facet of Communism has been remarked upon repeatedly by citizens in all walks of life who have come in contact with it. That this determination should be so disturbing is, in fact, merely a reflection of a far more menacing danger, and that is an uncertainty on our part and a lack of faith and belief in the strength and essential rightness of our own capitalistic institutions.

Much of the teaching in our schools and colleges leaves a student with a feeling of doubt as to the rightness of private enterprise in a free nation. Our federal government is furthering the socialistic philosophy in many ways by putting government into business in competition with private citizens thus adding to the confusion of students. The effect is to glorify big government rather than to build pride in and support of individualistic opportunity that built this nation. Why should our people tolerate policies that destroy representative government and private enterprise?

Commenting on our fence straddling indifference, Robert R. Gross of San Francisco said, "The American business world, now faces its gravest hour, both at home and abroad. Krushchev says American children will grow up under Communism and he isn't joking."

"American free enterprise is in a critical position today, placed there by its own reluctance to talk about itself. If we don't do something about this situation of public opinion now, the American incentive system as we know it won't survive many more generations."

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

Much has been written, undoubtedly much more will continue to be written, on the successful conclusion of the case of the anti-trust division of the U. S. Justice Dept. against the nation's major manufacturers of heavy electrical equipment.

For rigging prices on approximately $2 billion worth of sales, practically all to governmental units supported by taxes, fines against the corporations and the corporate officers involved C. W. Harder totalled almost $2 million, while several of the corporate officers were handed out jail sentences.

There are reports that some labor leaders are gleeful over the discomfiture of the big bosses. If true, this is unfortunate. There are also "sob sisters" who are weeping tears in print over the jailing of these officials who are "really very nice men." This is unfortunate. Both of these attitudes fail to recognize the principle involved here.

Rather, instead, the successful conclusion of this case should be observed as a milestone in American march back to road of free enterprise.

It is a strong indicator that the demand which has been growing the past few years at the grass roots level for enforcement of the anti-trust laws to preserve free enterprise is bearing fruit. The work of independent businessmen, concerned over the shrinking of free enterprise, which resulted in the formation of the House and Senate Small Business Committees, has focused attention on what has too long been a national disgrace.

On the other hand, this case should not be taken as a blanket indictment of big business. The nationwide membership of the National Federation of Independent Business has always maintained there is nothing wrong with bigness just because of pure bigness. The evil comes in when big business forgets morality to use the power for evil inherent in bigness to destroy freedom in the market place.

It is indeed interesting to note that some of the corporations immediately issued "there's nobody here but us chickens, boss" type of statements, disclaiming all knowledge of what the convicted executives had been up to.

The sentencing judge, J. Cullen Gandy, of the U. S. District Court commented, "One would believe, indeed, to believe that such vast conspiracies involving so much money and equipment, were not known to those in charge."

No corporation can violate the laws. The laws can only be broken when executives with sufficient authority take actions which move the corporation into law-breaking.

Thus, a corporation executive may be guilty of hit and run driving while driving a car owned by the corporation. Of course, the corporation is liable for any resulting damages to person or property, but this fact does not relieve the executive of his personal guilt for operating corporation property in violation of law.

A shooting demonstration was given by Rip Smith, Texas Dept. of Public Safety during the lunch hour.

Another Robertson Holstein Is Winner

The Holstein-Friesian Association of America has announced the completion of an outstanding official production record by a registered Holstein cow in this area. Haberdale Bob Kittle 4510085 owned by Gene Robertson, Burk Burnett, produced 13,991 pounds of milk and 472 pounds of butterfat in 361 days on twice daily milking as a 2 year old.

Green Bug May Be On Way Out Says County Agent B. T. Haws

"The profit stealing greenbug scourge of Wichita County small grains, may be on the way out as a major problem," says County agricultural agent B. T. Haws. "Extensive research is underway at the Denton Experiment Station to develop commercial varieties of oats, wheat and barley that possess a high degree of resistance to the costly pest. Results from recent studies have been encouraging," the agent said.

Work at the station is a cooperative effort between the Texas Agricultural Experiment station of A and M college and the Crops Research Division of the USDA. Heading the project is Dr. H. L. Chada, above, USDA entomologist. One of his "secret weapons" is a non-commercial variety of wheat that possesses natural immunity to the greenbug. He is attempting to transfer greenbug resistance to presently grown commercial varieties by cross breeding. To date, most progress has been with the Quanah variety.

"On a per acre basis, small grains are a low income crop. It is necessary, therefore, to keep production costs as low as possible," Dr. Chada points out and resistant varieties can help us accomplish this goal. He went on to explain that modern chemicals such as parathion & methyl parathion are highly efficient greenbug killers, but adverse weather conditions often render them ineffective, and repeated applications add to production costs. Too, these chemicals are dangerous to both man and animal unless handled with extreme caution.

Local farmers and ranchmen will have an opportunity to learn about this important work at the Denton Experiment Station Field Day on May 12, county agent B. T. Haws said.

CLOVERLEAF SAFETY

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

© 1961, Coleman Adv. Serv., P. O. Box 4887, Dallas, Texas

Two main highways and heavy traffic lead to death dealing accidents. The remedy... have one highway pass over the other, and lanes coming out in a cloverleaf shape to provide access to each highway, thus giving safety.

The Lord, our God, is our protection, and through his word, God shows us the right way.

Speed is still the number one killer on our highways. During 1960, 10,970 persons lost their lives in accidents blamed on speed. More than 1,000,000 were injured.

THOUGHT FOR THE WEEK . . .

Lonnie Finney, Pastor Assembly of God Church

"Ye Must Be Born Again"

When Christ spoke these words not only was he enlightening Nicodemus, but I'm sure he anticipated such a time as ours when men are inclined and have a tendency to trust the eternal destiny of their soul to almost anything rather than to take Christ at His word, "be born again or born of the spirit." Some trust in their membership and affiliation and feel that as long as they are not ex-communicated that all is well with their soul. We must remember that we who name the name of Christ that there should be "fruits of the spirit" in our lives to evidence the fact that we "are born again."

Can a man lie, cheat, steal and misrepresent through the week and be justified before God just because he supports the church and sings "I Surrender All" on Sunday morning? The Bible says, "Thou shalt not steal." Exodus 20: 15. "All liars will have their place in hell." Rev. 21:8. The devil is the father of lies and a liar is his son. He cannot be a son of God; What has righteousness in common with unrighteousness? Does a fountain bring forth both bitter and sweet at the same place? (James 3: 11). Does salt water and fresh come from the same fountain? Can a fig tree bring forth olive berries? Yes, my friend, personal holiness is a pre-requisite to citizenship in heaven. "Be ye separate," James 1:22. "Be ye doers of the word and not only hearers, deceiving your yourselves." In conclusion, let me remind all that there is only one cleansing agent and that is provided by God himself. The blood of Jesus Christ. John 1: 7 says, "The blood of Jesus Christ cleanses us from all sin; if we confess our sins. He is faithful and just to forgive our sins and to cleanse us."

Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ and thou shalt be Saved. Insinuating and derogatory remarks that becloud the influence of our fellow christians will only serve to reveal our own smallness and lack of personal holiness and disregard for teaching of the scripture that says, "The man that brideth not his tongue, this mans religion is vain." In what and in whom are you trusting?

BROWNIE TROOP NO. 2
Brownie Troop No. 2 has been notified by the Girl Scout National Headquarters that they will be Troop No. 3 from now on.

We have been making aprons. We are learning to hem and are using textile paint to paint a design on the front of the aprons.

April 18th we went to the Kemp Public Library in Wichita Falls. We toured the complete library and heard a story about a rabbit that had red wings. Then we went to a park and had refreshments.

April 25th, Pat Zimmerman, Brenda Biggs, Pam Morrow, and Martha Trevine were invested as new Brownies. We then worked on our aprons.
