KIDDIES PARADE TO BEAT THE HEAT THIS YEAR TIME HAS BEEN MOVED UP TO 10:00 A. M. SAT. PROCESSION WILL FORM AT 2nd AND AVENUE D

Roy Silkwood, chairman of the kiddies parade, checked in Wednesday evening late to report that all preparations are under control.

This year the kiddies will get a welcome break—the parade has been moved up to 10:00 A. M. Saturday before the sun gets in its best licks.

Kiddies will assemble at the First Christian Church, on the corner of 2nd Street and Avenue D. They should be there by at least 9:00 o'clock to give the workers time to get their numbered arm bands pinned on, and get their proper place assigned to them in the parade. Mr. Silkwood has secured a lot of efficient help, but it takes some time to process three or four hundred kiddies.

Small cash awards will be made to a boy and a girl in each division of the parade. The only way the judges have of identifying their choice of winners is by the arm band numbers. That is why it is important that each boy or girl has a number.

The parade will be divided into the following order:

Leading the procession will be mounted color bearers. Next, if available, will be a small band. Next in order will be Blue Birds and Cub Scouts.

Divisions and the workers are:

Boys' and Girls' Tricycles
Mrs. Louis Todd, Mrs. Clark Gresham.

Boys' and Girls' Bicycles
Mrs. Harold Van Loh, Mrs. E. E. Clack.

Unique Division
Helpers not listed, but will be there.

Cowboys and Cowgirls
Mrs. Dixie Rankin and others.

FREE MOVIES AND POPCORN

Arrangements have been made with Claud Thorp, owner of the Palace Theatre, to show the kiddies a free movie immediately following the parade. As the kiddies go in the theatre, they will also be given a bag of popcorn.

Winners in each division will be announced over the public address system just as soon as the judges make their reports. The place and time for making the cash awards will be made when winners are announced.

Clem McSpadden, Rodeo Announcer

Much of the success of any rodeo rests upon the shoulders of the announcer. This year the Burk rodeo is fortunate to have Clem McSpadden as its announcer. A good announcer must know the rodeo business from inside out. He must know each cowboy contestant and be able to give, from memory, his record in rodeos from year to year. A good announcer must be a walking encyclopedia—facts, figures and records on the tip of his tongue at all times.

The announcer is perched atop the chutes, where he can see all that's going on. If some of the rough old mean stock gives trouble in the chutes and can't come out on schedule, the announcer quickly switches to another chute and gives the cowboy's name, his mount and all the little details which make a rodeo interesting to the spectators. Clem McSpadden fills the order to a T. He will give a running description of the whole show, from the grand entry down to the last cowboy thrown from a wild bull.

Delegates to Nuclear Symposium Sponsored by Texas Electric Co.

Science instructor H. D. Mabry, left, of Burk Burnett High School and student delegate Kim McClean are pictured in Austin where they attended the Texas Nuclear Science Symposium this week. They were among 500 science students and instructors who attended the meeting which was sponsored by the University of Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation.

The two from Burk Burnett were guests of Texas Electric Service Company, one of 11 investor-owned electric utilities in Texas that are members of the Foundation. The Foundation currently is co-sponsoring a controlled fusion research project with General Atomic Division of General Dynamics.

Two From Burk Attend Nuclear Symposium

The potential of atomic science has barely been tapped and today's major challenges include peaceful uses of atomic explosions and nuclear propulsion in space. Dr. Willard F. Libby of the University of California, told a state-wide symposium of high school science students and teachers in Austin this week.

Dr. Libby, winner of the 1960 Nobel Prize in chemistry and former member of the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission, said, "Atomic science is the future, the undiscovered land, the world without end, the modern Western Sea."

The Symposium, which was sponsored by the University of Texas and the Texas Atomic Energy Research Foundation, was attended by about 500 students and teachers. Purpose of the symposium was to acquaint the students and teachers with basic information about atomic energy and to give them an opportunity to consult with internationally known nuclear scientists at special counseling sessions.

The program also included tours of the University scientific facilities and of the Balcones Research Center near Austin. Participants in the symposium were selected by the University from cities and towns in the state that are served by the eleven investor-owned electric utilities operating in Texas that are members of the Foundation.

Other nationally known speakers on the symposium program included Dr. E. C. Creutz, vice president-research of General Atomic Corporation and Dr. Donald W. Kerst, manager of the controlled fusion research project that is being carried on jointly by General Atomic and the Foundation.

This research project, the world's first and largest privately financed program in the field of controlled thermonuclear research, seeks to harness the power of the hydrogen bomb for such peaceful purposes as the production of electric power.

PUBLIC NOTICE

The sounding of sirens means there is an existing emergency involving life and property. The public is requested not to call City Hall or the Fire Department (except to report another emergency) as the phones must be kept clear to handle emergency calls only. Personnel on duty have instructions to refuse any information to the general public over the phone, and to hang up immediately in order to clear the line.

Please become familiar with the following signals, as they give all necessary information:

1. Steady continuous sound for 3 minutes: An attack probable. You are to tune your radio to CONELRAD-640 or 1240—for instructions. Civil defense workers are to report to their places of assignment.
2. Warbling tone for 3 minutes: Attack imminent. You are to take cover immediately in best available shelter; or Tornado has been sighted and is headed toward Burk Burnett. You are still to take all possible precautions immediately.
3. Steady continuous sound for at least 5 minutes: All clear signal. The "All Clear" signal will be sounded after all oncoming danger has passed. You should become thoroughly familiar with the above 3 signals as they are for your benefit. The following signals are primarily for firemen, however, they are listed here for your information. The rules on phone usage still apply:
4. One steady continuous signal for at least 30 seconds but not more than 1 minute: Fire within the city limits.
5. Two distinct signals, not more than 30 seconds each: Fire outside the city limits.
6. Three distinct signals, not more than 30 seconds each: Other emergency where firemen are needed.

Your cooperation in this matter will be appreciated.

er bureau—that is, if you listen to your warning system.

We are publishing a Public Notice in this issue of the paper in further efforts to inform the public of the warning system. The Editor has been requested to publish this notice for at least four weeks. Please realize that these signals tell you all that we could possibly tell you by phone. The warbling tone means that a tornado has been sighted and is headed toward Burk Burnett. The report will have been confirmed before the signal is given. We couldn't possibly tell you any more than this over the phone. (Warbling tone also may mean that an attack is imminent, but the precautions to take are the same). We therefore request that you not tie up our phones by calling, us, but leave them open so we can stay in constant contact with the spotters and other officials.

We will be happy to supply you with any further information about Civil Defense or its warning system if you will contact us at any time, other than during an alert warning.

Burk Youngster Accident Victim

Terry Vowell, 10, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Vowell, was killed in a tragic accident here Thursday morning about 11:00 a. m. Terry and a friend Bill Bedford, were making a cave in the sand under a large slab of cement in a sand pit East of the Housing project. Suddenly, the sand started to give away and Bill saw the cement begin to fall. He made it to safety, but Terry was caught directly beneath it. The Burk Fire Department was called but all efforts failed to revive the youngster.

Terry is survived by his parents and two sisters, Janet and Loretta.

Funeral services are incomplete at the present time.

NOTICE

We have a large number of pictures on file which have run in recent issues of the Star. The owners of these pictures are requested to pick them up at their earliest convenience.

School Boards Assume Voice Of Education at National Meeting

The leadership of the Nation's thousands of school boards voted in Philadelphia to drop its cloak of "provincialism" and become a major spokesman on national educational issues.

The National School Boards Association, composed of school board members from 50 states, the District and two territories has never before attempted to express its feelings on nationwide educational matters.

The NSBA members, holding their 21st annual convention in convention hall, decided their effectiveness would not be felt if they continued to stand for "local isolationism" and did not speak out on educational issues affecting the Nation.

The decision immediately was interpreted as placing the NSBA in a good position to challenge the National Education Association's ranking as the foremost spokesman for American public school education.

"It is a foregone conclusion," one association officer said, that we will be disagreeing with the NEA often."

The statement was based on NEA's strong stand in favor of Federal aid to education.

After deciding to jump into the national scene, the school board group voted overwhelmingly to:

1. Oppose Federal aid to education because it would be naive to think that it will not mean government control.
2. Oppose any broadening of the National Defense Education Act, which among other things, provides government scholarships.
3. Oppose Senate and House bills giving aid to States for educational television.
4. Oppose further Federal aid

Highest Public Health Plateau

The pharmaceutical industry has taken a considerable verbal beating in recent times, both in and out of Congress. It has been accused of making exorbitant profits at the expense of the ill, and its contributions to the medical science have been minimized. So something said by Barron's Weekly deserves wide currency:

"During the past 20 years domestic drug makers have produced more remedies for more ills than at any other time. Since 1945 the death rate from eight major diseases including diphtheria, Whooping cough and pneumonia, has been cut in half. Tranquilizers, pills for diabetics, oral polio vaccines have moved with record breaking speed from laboratory to the drug store. In the process industry undoubtedly has made money, (even though) the risks, technological and competitive alike, trend to match the rewards. It has also made an unprecedented, if scantily recognized, contribution to U. S. productivity and health."

The critics of this vital industry have often pursued unfair and highly misleading tactics in their attacks. For instance, they will select some particular product which has become unusually successful and profitable, and attempt to make it appear that it is typical of all products. They disregard the fact that huge sums must be spent on research to develop new and needed drugs, that much of this expenditure comes to nothing, and that large numbers of drugs, whose use is limited but which are essential to sufferers from various disabilities, return little or no profit to the producer.

The pharmaceutical industry can point proudly to the record—a record of achievement which has saved numberless lives and helped to bring the level of public health to the highest plateau yet known.

Father's Day Sunday, June 18

Dad has had his ups and downs throughout history. He hasn't always been the popular guy who will be honored on Father's Day, Sunday, June 18th.

Back in the Stone Ages, for example, the "head man" was a tyrant. As he grew older, one of his sons usually disposed of him in a fierce hand-to-hand battle, and then "took over" the family.

The first known tribute to fatherhood was made by Elmesu of Babylon. It was written on a clay tablet about 2000 B. C. and implored the gods to grant his father "good health and enduring days."

In Biblical times, it was considered a crime, punishable by death, for a son to disagree with his father. Early Romans called down the curses of the ancestral Numina or family gods, on children who cut themselves loose from parental authority.

Among the ancient Greeks, when a son was old enough to marry, his father selected his wife for him—with no questions asked! The same belief in father's matrimonial wisdom was held in India where children were betrothed in childhood and sometimes a young man was not permitted to unveil his bride until after the wedding ceremony.

But Indian women had their revenge. An odd law decreed that if a father got into debt, his wife could sell him into slavery to pay off the creditors. And in the African Sudan, father definitely comes out second best. After bearing five children a wife may return to her parents leaving Pop to look after the kiddies.

On Palau Island in the South Seas, the ruling matriarch can have any male executed if he even disturbs her contemplation.

And near Sumatra, Dad has mother-in-law problems right from the start. He has to go live with his wife's family. And if this weren't enough, children take their mother's name and only daughters inherit property.

In the United States, statistics show that women own an ever-increasing portion of the national wealth. Pop's in danger of becoming the "forgotten" man some sociologists believe.

But while he may be shorn of his tyrannical powers, the annual outpouring of affection with gifts and sentimental greeting cards shows that Pop's place in his family's heart is stronger than ever.

Dad's first inkling of the honors to come is usually a cheerful Father's Day card, with a verse something like this from a Rust Craft greeting card:

With My Best, DAD, on Father's Day
On sunny days and rainy days
On happy days and sad,
You've always been the very best

And finest kind of Dad...
And so the wish I make today
Must be the best one, too—
May life bring all its finest gifts
Always, Dad, to you!

On the lighter side, there are these "studio" type greeting cards:
"Happy Father's Day to the man who has everything. Inside caption reads: "Mortgaged to the hilt!"
Or, "To Dad who is always calm, cool and collected from!"

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Minter of Tishomingo, Okla., visited Mrs. Carrie Morris and other friends here recently.

Scientists Contests Fluoridation

According to the American Municipal News, Dr. Hugo Theorell, 1955 Noble Prize winner for his work on enzymes, reported to the Royal Medical Board of Stockholm, Sweden that fluoridation of public water supplies could have a "toxic effect" on some individuals in the community.

In the report, Dr. Theorell notes the beneficial effect of fluoridation in the reduction of cavities. His studies in the enzyme field, however, led him to the conclusion that tap water fluoridation has a potentiality harmful effect on production of certain enzymes in some individuals.

He suggests that public health authorities consider alternative means of application of fluoride containing preparations where desired. In particular he recommended "local application of fluoride containing preparations to the teeth and the sale of fluoridated household salt in suitable forms may be considered."

Arthur Hall and Mrs. J. L. Hall of Okla. City visited Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Henson and other relatives and friends here last week.

Kiddies, You Can Earn This Car

The hard working boy or girl is going to win this car. It is a real car, powered by a gasoline engine, clutch 'n' everything. Boys and girls who sell tickets to the rodeo get one for each $10.00 worth of tickets sold. The one who sells the greatest number of points will be the proud owner of this 1910 Model T. All details may be obtained from the Chamber of Commerce office. George McClarty, owner of the Corner Drug Store, has the little car and donated it to the ticket sales as a winner.

Debunking "School Problem"

At the least, whatever problems our public schools face are vastly exaggerated by supporters of federal aid to education. Some information produced by a policy committee of Senator Styles Bridges is chairman does much to clarify the situation.

Statistics with how the schools fared in the eight-year period, the schools years 1952-53 and 1960-61. Here are a few facts it records: The number of pupils increased 35%, the instructional staff increased 45%, and the number of classrooms per teacher declined from 26.2 to 24.4. The average teacher salary increased 52%, as against the much smaller increase of 30% in per capita personal income as a whole and 20% in industrial wages. And, whereas the addition of 9.7 million children to the school populations required an additional 28 classrooms at the rate of 28 children per classroom, only again as many—507,500 were actually constructed.

Despite the report directly, these eight years "witnessed progress in improving school support, building new schools, hiring new teachers, raising teachers' salaries. This is a record of achievement, indeed." These facts mean anything at all, these mean that more federal aid to education with the bureaucratic controls that have been imposed is indeed, unjustified and dangerous.

Grass Roots Opinion

ESPENIE ILL., NEWS: "JUST WONDERING—What our grandfathers did when hard times hit them, they who are now taxpayers aid to fall back on? Who took care of the old folks when there were no nursing homes? Why we think other people should live as we do, even though they don't wish to? Why we try to support the world? But then why do we try to support everyone in this country whether they work or not? Why we keep hearing more taxes, higher taxes, but never about economy?"—JUST WONDERING.

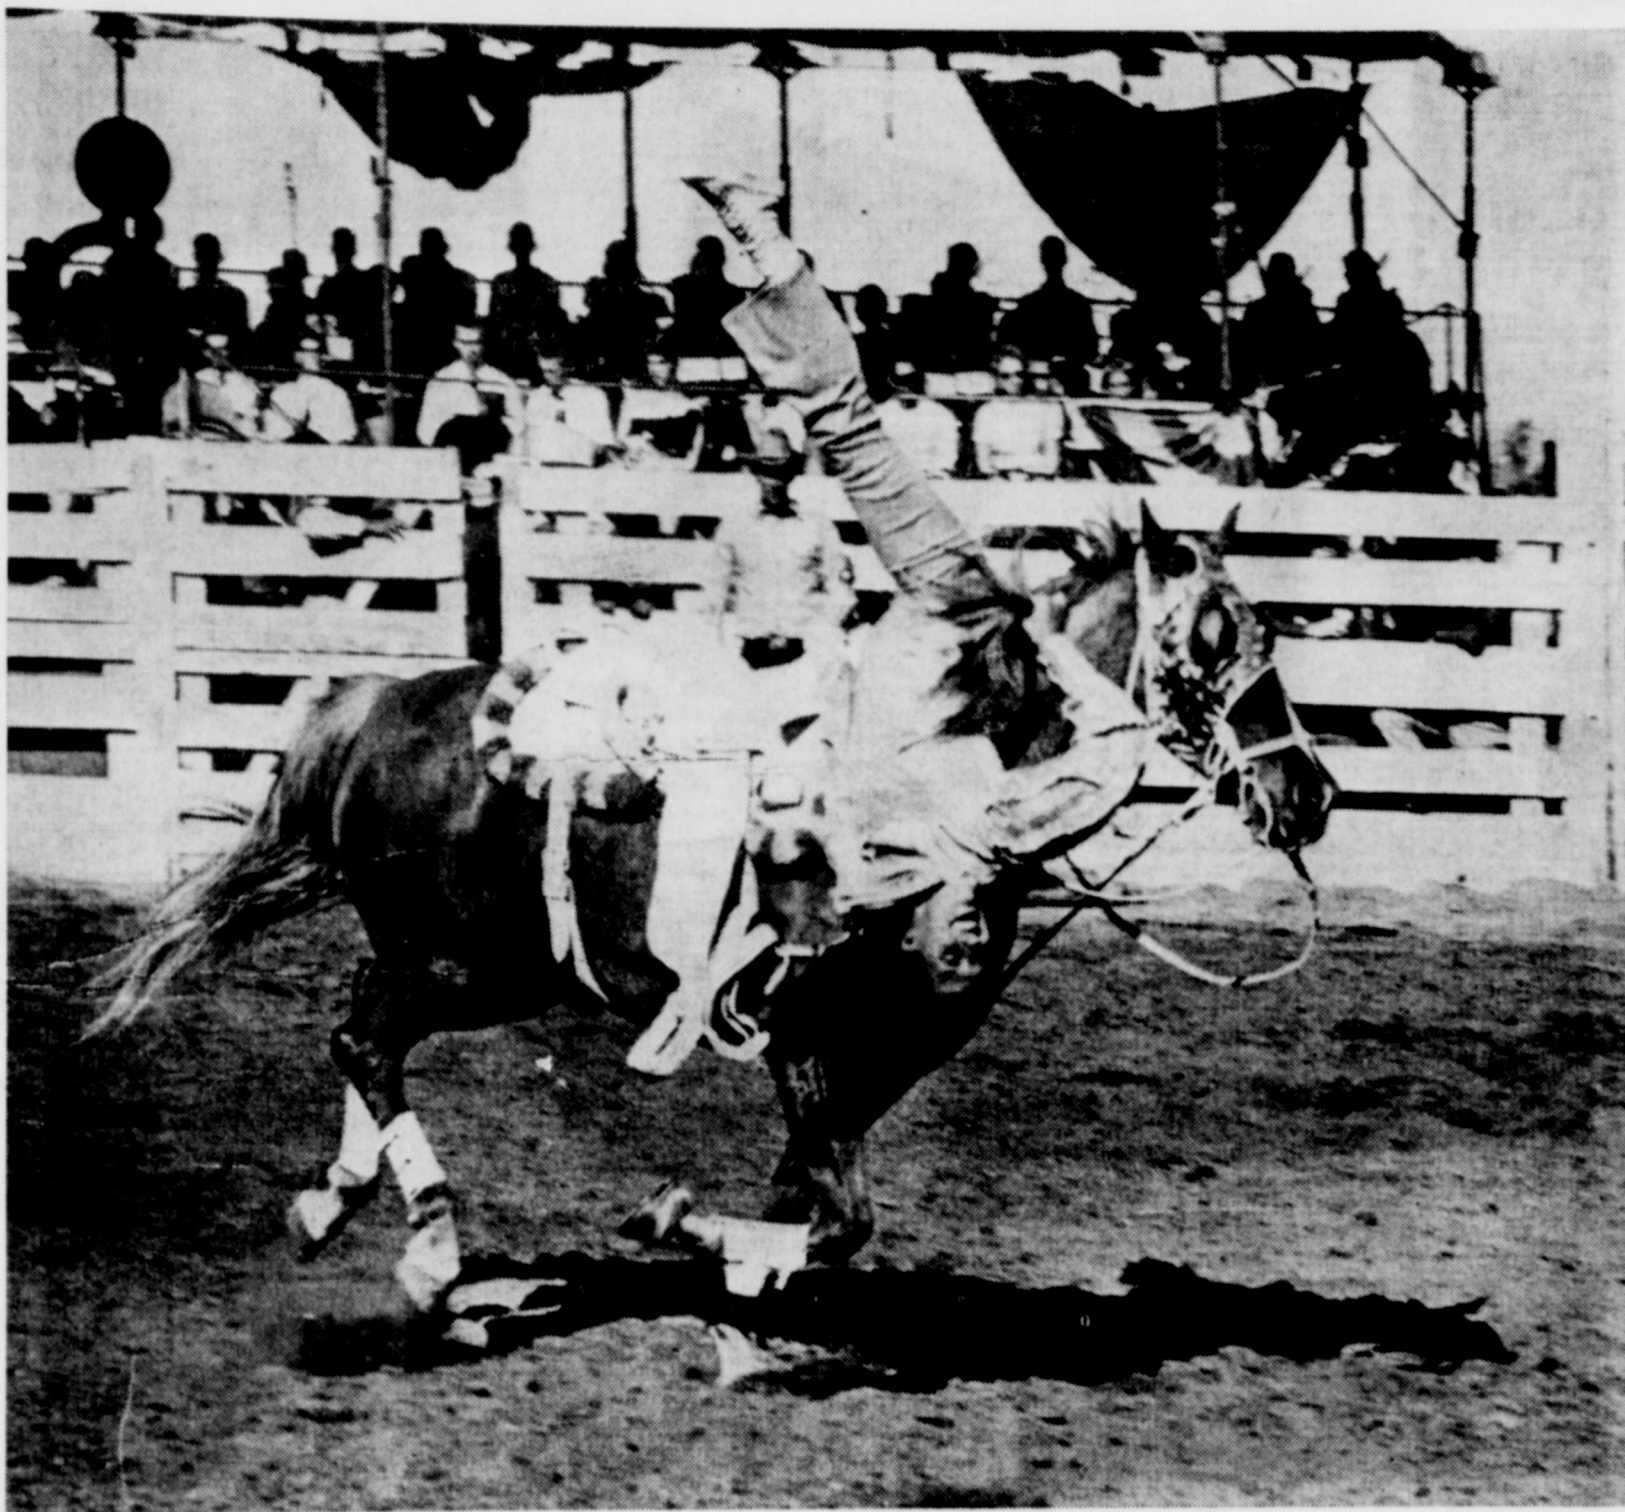

CHARLOTTE, N. C., FRANKLIN TIMES: "The average citizen is now aware of the fact that the United States is losing to foreign countries. This is true, to put it as simply as possible, because we are buying more from foreign countries than we are selling to them. Two things have caused the flow of money out of the United States, to a large degree. First, we have been spending three to four billions annually on foreign aid for many years. Second, and probably more important, is the inflation on the prices of U. S.-produced goods."

MEMPHIS, TENN., DAILY TIMES LEADER: "The Supreme Court, turned its back on those who would hide behind the Constitution as a shield to protect them while they went about the business of undermining it. It held in effect that the government did not protect those who would overthrow the government through subversion, communist infiltration and espionage. We think that the Court's rejection of the misuse of the government giving freedoms of the Constitution to mask subversion is a long overdue."

INQUIRY. Ballerina Marget Nunke looks horrified at lifeless body of her partner, Charly Baumann, in scene from "Hippodrome." Super lies slain in background.

ONE OF THE FEATURED SPECIALTY ACTS AT THE BURK RODEO

JoAnn and Bill got into the rodeo entertaining business because of their unusual talents. They performed as amateurs for five years, as young kids using shetland ponies. By popular demand, they were more or less drafted into the rodeo game as professionals. JoAnn is only 22, Bill is 20. By years they are young, but by experience they are old timers.

From February through October they are out on the rodeo trail, filling engagements at rodeos and fairs. During the remaining months of the year, they are at home in Westboro, Missouri, planning and perfecting acts for the following year.

The rodeo management feels that this year they have secured one of the outstanding specialty acts to be found anywhere. This entertainment appeals to both adults and youngsters.

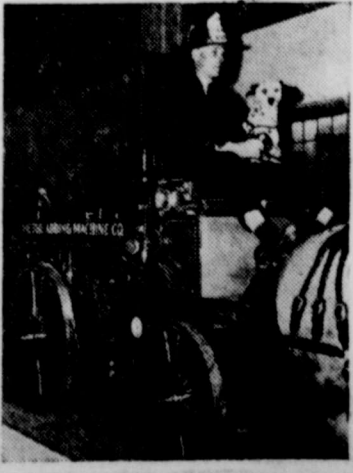

Don't miss the great exhibitions of JoAnn and Bill McEnaney.

SIX PONY HITCH TO PERFORM HERE DURING BOOM TOWN RODEO JUNE 15th - 16th - 17th

Six "smoke-eating" Shetland ponies performing difficult maneuvers with adding machine accuracy will appear at the Boom Town Rodeo here June 15-16-17.

These popular ponies—of the Victor Adding Machine Co. Six-Pony Hitch—put on a fast stepping exhibition of teamwork and skill that even outshines the brilliance of their chrome-plated harness and flashy replica of an antique fire engine steam pumper. The custom built vehicle they pull is an authentic five-eighths scale model of an old time steam pumper fire engine.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

The staggering cost of all government, federal, state, and local, which is now consuming almost one third of the national income is not all due to just Washington alone.

States, counties, cities, in fact, all who have the power to tax, seem to have gone on a huge spending spree. The sheer figures are somewhat staggering. In 1950, total state taxes C. W. Harder were $8 billion. In 1960 they were $18 billion.

In 1960 all branches of government collected $127 billion in taxes, actually spent $133 billion. Yet despite these huge collections, the combined government debt is $365 billion, or close to one third more than the $281 billion debt in 1950, despite tax collections that have doubled in ten years.

But most interesting is the fact that of the $133 billion in government spending in 1960, 37% was spent by state and local government.

This is a strange paradox.

Obviously, with modern warfare using huge amounts of expensive hardware, federal expenses in paying off on the cost of World War II and Korea are bound to be high.

But what is most difficult to understand is why state and local government, not charged with maintaining defense, is spending over half as much as the federal government.

And against this background of enormous state and local government taxes and expenditures, it is still even more difficult to understand why in some quarters it is felt that the federal government should dig up money for schools.

After all, if state and local governments, with the huge amounts of taxes they are collecting, cannot support their local schools adequately without federal help, there is something quite amiss.

It is perhaps time responsible people in local communities start taking an even more active interest in government, especially expenditures. There must be fearful waste.

For example, in California, it was found that the state school bureaucrats were in the process of burning over a million dollars of unused textbooks in reading and music for elementary grades because certain school officials had a whim they would prefer to have different texts in the schools.

It would seem taxpayers should have protection against boneheaded bureaucrats.

Perhaps it should be required that everyone holding a public job that gives the authority to handle money or property should be bonded for substantial amounts so that the taxpayers have recourse when they suffer damages due to poor judgment.

Perhaps this could be a form of "idiot's insurance." It would be healthy for the taxpayers. The crackpots would be eliminated from responsible government jobs, and in addition, bureau operations would be under the surveillance of competent businessmen with a financial interest in proper tax handling.

The hall was beautifully decorated for the special occasion. Orchid and white, the worthy matron's chosen colors, were used to carry out the color scheme. An arch was formed in the background of the East of Jade greenery embedded with large white mums and orchid gladiolas. The chosen colors were also noted in other arrangements throughout the hall. Mrs. Renfro, retiring worthy matron, extended a welcome to everyone present and introduced Mrs. Mabel Johnson, the installing officer for the evening. Mrs. Johnson introduced those who would assist her as follows: Edith Eidson, installing marshal; Helen Turner, installing chaplain; and Ethel Wofford, installing organist.

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance

Q. I've heard a lot of talk from some agents about how they can help us policyholders "get more protection from your present policies without paying any more money." Is such a thing possible?

A. Yes, it is sometimes possible and one of the first things a life insurance agent will do for a new client is to check over all of his existing insurance to see if something can be added to his protection within the premium money now being paid. For instance, if he has some of his insurance on a quarterly or monthly premium basis, it might be possible to put it all on an annual premium basis and then rearrange payments so as to keep a periodic payment plan. This might save enough to add some extra protection. For example, through such a basis, a man with $15,000 of insurance increased his protection to $18,000, without any additional payment. Also, some people add to their protection by using their policy dividends to buy paid-up insurance additions. Then, too, if you have a high-premium endowment policy and need more protection, it might be possible to have your company exchange the endowment for a straight life policy, if you are still insurable. This would give you materially more protection for the same premium.

Q. What is a "non-forfeiture value" in a policy?

A. All life insurance policies except term insurance have non-forfeiture values—which are the values in cash or some form of pre-paid insurance, available to the policyholder if he stops paying premiums. These values grow as premium payments are continued. They may be taken either in cash; or as "extended insurance," that is continuation of the full amount of the policy for as long as this value will pay the term insurance premium; or reduced paid-up insurance, which continues insurance protection without further premiums, but for a reduced amount. The details of these values are spelled out in your policy and you should read them and be familiar with them.

governing boards of the state's educational, welfare and hospital systems and officials of a number of school-connected associations.

Their report is to be ready prior to July 10, opening date of the special legislative session.

WHAT'S IN A NAME—Pro sales tax legislators declare that Gov. Daniel is merely calling "a rose by another name" in his labeling of what is and what is not a sales tax.

Sen Wardlow Lane and four House members presented "their side of the story" in a formal answer to the governor's report to the people on the regular session failure to pass a tax bill.

Any $350,000,000 tax program, including the governor's will have to run heavily to sales taxes, whatever they're called, said the lawmakers. They recommended "telling the truth about it."

Gov. Daniel announced he had received a heavy volume of mail since his talk, with the sentiment running 6 to 1 in favor of his program.

Several legislators said this was contrary to the way their mail was running.

Troubles All Over—To make matters worse, Comptroller Robert S. Calvert reported that some of Texas' prime sources of tax revenue seem to be dwindling.

Oil production taxes for the nine months ending May 31st were $92,110,769, down by $3,000,000 from the same period a year ago and down $12,000,000 from the year before that.

Gasoline taxes, which have spiraled up at about 5% a year have hit a slowdown. They are expected to be about $129,000,000. This is identical to the same nine months period of a year ago.

Corporation franchise taxes were also down to $51,542,964 for this year, a drop of about $7,000,000 from last year.

One bright spot was in "sin taxes." Cigarette taxes brought in $7,821,931 during May compared with $6,310,562 for April. Taxes of alcoholic beverages (beer, wine and liquor) were up from $2,672, 947 in April to $2,835,560 in May.

But poll taxes were down from $2,818,527 in 1960, the presidential election year to only $1,827,574 for 1961.

Despite everything, the deficit in the state general revenue fund dropped in May to $78,848,137 from a high of $102,000,000 in April. Hopes are that it will go even lower not to exceed $63,000,000 by August 31, the end of the fiscal year.

Some Changes Made—Despite the bog down on tax bills, the Legislature did add quite a bit to the law of the land in its recent session. Among noteworthy changes:

1. Old age pensioners, beginning next January 1, can receive help with their hospital, doctor and nursing home expenses. Any state licensed hospital or nursing home will be eligible for participation in the program.

2. Filing fee for candidates for statewide offices will be $1,000. Previous fee for candi-

Fancy Rope Artist to Perform For 1961 Rodeo Spectators

One of the featured specialty artists at the 1961 Burk Rodeo will be Bill McEnaney, above, 20 year old trick riding and roping expert, showing his prowess with a free-spinning loop. He performs with his sister, JoAnn, 22, as a team at various Rodeo Cowboy Association-sanctioned rodeos. The pair will produce their three-act program at the Boomtown Rodeo here June 15-16-17.

dates in special statewide election was $50. This brought out 71 candidates in the recent special senatorial race.

3. Persons who refuse to hang up when a party telephone line is needed for an emergency call will be subject to fine. Notice will be printed in this year's new telephone directories.

Not all these bills have been signed, but the governor has indicated no opposition.

Small Loan Law Urged—Atty. Gen. Will Wilson has urged Gov. Daniel to add loan company regulations to the list of subjects which may be considered in the upcoming special session.

At present the governor has limited the session to revenue and appropriation bills. Only subjects included in the governor's call may be considered in a special session.

Wilson said that by beginning where the last session left off, lawmakers should be able to pass a loan bill quickly. A regulatory bill was passed by the House last session but opposing forces came to a deadlock in the Senate.

Gov. Daniel has evidenced coolness toward considering anything else until a revenue and appropriation agreement is reached, not even his pet escheat bill.

Also being asked for special session consideration is a bill to increase unemployment benefits which failed in the regular session. It passed on second reading in the House, but never got any further.

He's Still Judge—A district court conviction cannot be thrown out because the judge of the court had not paid his Bar dues, the Court of Criminal Appeals ruled.

In the case at issue, the defendant was sentenced to 10 years for theft. He sought his freedom on grounds that the judge of the trial court, because of failure to pay dues, was not a member of the State Bar of Texas.

Appeals Court ruled that the judge was qualified for his office under the requirements of Texas Constitution and the conviction was upheld.

Youth Takes Over—On the heels of the Legislature's departure, the Capital was invaded by two new contingents of politicians, the youngest and most vigorous it sees from one year to the next.

They are the delegates to Boys State and Girls State, outstanding high school seniors who come to Austin each summer to gain experience in government. And they learn to do by doing. Each group separately forms political parties, nominates candidates, holds elections and sets up a state government, all with realistic zeal. American Legion and American Legion Auxiliary sponsor the activities.

Short Snorts—Car jammed Texas cities are getting sympathy and an offer of help from the Texas Highway Dept. Commission announced that cities may use the space under elevated expressways for parking lots to be operated by the cities or under contract by private parties.

Noting that the number of 1961 polio cases in Texas is up 9% above the same period last year, State Health Department is launching a new campaign for inoculations, especially for "babies and breadwinners."

"Moonshining" is not just a part of the colorful past. Texas Liquor Control Board reported that it seized eight illegal stills and confiscated 2,970 gallons of mash and 34 gallons of liquor in April.

Texas launching an insecticide war against garden pests should take care that it does not backfire, warns the State Health Department. Among tips (1) Read labels carefully. (2) Keep sprays away from children and pets. (3) Don't smoke while spraying. (4) Don't inhale insecticide or get it on your skin. (5) Avoid contaminating food or water supplies. (6) Throw away leftovers.

"Keno" came from the gambling game of the same name, and cowboys often use the word to mean everything is all right.

Cowboys referred to a heavy rain or cloudburst as a "goose drownder."

BEAUTY IN SATIN—A delicate leaf motif is applied on the bodice and skirt of this shimmering evening creation designed by Emma Dorab for Miss America 1961, lovely Nancy Anne Fleming. The dress has a matching stole, also of Everglaze cotton satin.

TASK FORCE FOR TAXES—Gov. Price Daniel has named a 19 member committee to study Texas tax problems and recommend a plan for raising some $350,000,000 for the next two years.

All the 19 appointees are in positions causing them to have a strong interest in seeing sufficient money raised for coming state appropriations. They include the chairman of the

A Personal Invitation

It's in the hope of making new friends and the desire to reach those we might otherwise miss, that we take this opportunity to invite the children of Burk Burnett, those who are already Methodist and those who are not now attending any Sunday School, to our annual Vacation Bible School.

This school will be held next week, June 18th through June 25th. On Sunday, the time is 9:45 to 10:40, and Monday thru Friday from 9:00 a. m. to 11:30 a. m. in the First Methodist church of this city.

The age limit is for children who will be four before Sept. 1, 1961 up to and including those children who have just completed the sixth grade in public school.

It has been said that a stranger is simply a friend that we have not yet met. We are looking forward to being your friends and if you are new in Burk Burnett, or if you have no church home here, won't you bring your children to Bible School, so that we may get to know all of you?

With warm anticipation, we await you—Will you be there?

Wilbarger-Wichita
SOIL CONSERVATION
DISTRICT NEWS

Mechanical Conservation practices, such as terraces, must be supported by other practices in order to accomplish their maximum benefits, according to Elvy G. Sargent, Soil Conservationist of Iowa Park.

A conservation cropping system lends the support terraces require to be most effective, Sargent stated. What is a conservation cropping system? A balance of high residue producing crops, clean tilled and soil improving crops with a residue management program that fits the capability of the land is such a cropping system.

Mrs. Buford Whiteside of Electra has completed the terrace system for her farm. She has now revised her Wilbarger-Wichita Soil Conservation District conservation plan to improve her cropping system. Mrs. Whiteside grows small grains and Australian Winter Peas. She now hopes to have a five year rotation of one-fifth fertilized Australian Winter Peas, followed by two years of wheat. The third and fourth wheat crops would be fertilized at about seeding time. Sweeps, chisels and tandem disks will usually be used for crop residue use. Elvy Sargent furnished land capability and other material used in preparation of the revised conservation plan.

Terraces and waterways were planned for J. R. Ray farm northwest of Wichita Falls. Both will be constructed now.

Family
PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance

Q. I have been advised to put my life insurance on an income basis for my family, but I hesitate to tie it all up this way. Which is best, lump sum or income?

A. There is no best plan. Your insurance is best arranged according to your specific needs. You certainly would not want to tie it all up on an income plan, as there would be certain cash needs—last expenses, outstanding bills, taxes, possibly mortgage repayment, perhaps educational needs. But the basic family protection might well be on an income plan, as the family need usually is for income rather than cash. Even for this part of the program, however, it is wise to leave an "escape" clause, so that in the event of an emergency the family can withdraw a certain amount of cash. In a recent typical case, a policy paying $300 monthly income was arranged so that $1,000 may be withdrawn for emergencies on three separate occasions over the next 15 years. If withdrawn, the family income would then be slightly reduced, but this arrangement avoids a straight-jacket budget for the family.

Q. Does anybody ever live to get the face amount of his life insurance policy himself?

A. A great many policyholders are living to receive the face amount of their policies themselves. A few years ago, a survey showed that 1,500 life insurance policyholders and annuitants were over 95 years old and that number would be materially greater today. Then there are nearly 3,000,000 owners of retirement income policies and a high percentage of them will live to retirement age. This year probably some $700,000,000 will be paid out to owners of endowment policies—the full face amount of their policies. And a great many older policyholders, whose family insurance needs have been sharply reduced after age 65, adjust their insurance so that they can use the cash value in it to supplement their own retirement income. As a matter of fact, "living benefits," that is the payments made to policyholders themselves, now bulk larger than death payments.

Texas Safety Association

It wasn't too many years ago when fireworks were a real problem in this country. Kids were losing fingers, hands and eyes during the supposedly happy days of their summer vacations.

Rallying under the battle cry "Have a safe and sane Fourth of July", parents, educators, civic leaders and elective officials finally curbed the fireworks problem.

But the need for a safe and sane Fourth has not diminished. Motorists are literally driving themselves to death over the long Fourth of July weekends, and drownings have surpassed traffic deaths in some states as the leading cause of death over the holiday period.

The National Safety Council, pinpointing these two holiday accident problems, makes two suggestions which we think make a lot of sense.

One is pretty simple. Learn to swim. That means everybody learn to swim. Can you think of a better way to avoid drowning?

The second suggestion is to install and use seat belts. Seat belts may not prevent an auto accident, but they can be worth your life if you should have a collision.

Seat belts and swimming lessons—two very sane keys to Fourth of July safety.

Howard Pyle, NSC president says these are ways we can "Free ourselves from the tyranny of accidents."

Funeral Monday for Joe Frazier

Joe Frazier of Burkburnett died Saturday night on his ranch near here. He was the victim of a heart attack.

Frazier was born on a ranch near Tascosa, Tex., the present location of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch. He attended public schools in Wichita Falls and went to Kemper Military Academy and Castle Heights Military School in Tennessee.

Frazier enlisted in World War I when only 16 and was in the 142nd Infantry from Texas. He was wounded in the battle of the Argonne.

A member of the Methodist church since childhood, Frazier belonged to the First Methodist church of Wichita Falls. He was also a member of the Masonic Lodge of Burkburnett.

Survivors include his widow of Burkburnett, his mother, Mrs. F. P. Warren, a sister, Mrs. Ralph K. Pond, both of Wichita Falls and a step son, Bill Bain of Fort Worth.

Services were conducted by Dr. Howard H. Hollowell, pastor of the First Methodist church, from the Hampton-Vaughan chapel on Monday at 2:30 p. m.

Pallbearers were B. A. Darwin, Gene Ray Sloan, J. C. Hinkle, Leroy Taylor and Wilbur Prechel, all of Burkburnett, and Lemuel Phillips of Holliday.

News From The HD Agent

Need extra storage space in your kitchen? If so, you will like the idea presented in a bulletin entitled, "Kitchen Storage Devices You Can Make," by extension home furnishings specialists of the A&M College of Texas. It illustrates ideas in clean-cut sketches so even an inexperienced home carpenter can follow directions. Only simple tools are needed, and many of the cupboard accessories can be made from wooden boxes, scrap pieces of lumber, or inexpensive softwood.

Mrs. Bill Lalk and Mrs. C. H. Arnold have used these storage devices in their lovely new kitchens to make them easy to use, as well as easy to look at.

You can get a copy of the bulletin from the Wichita Co. Home Demonstration agent, 305 Federal Bldg.

DO YOU RECALL.....

THOSE WONDERFUL YEARS...

They shall abundantly utter the memory of thy great goodness... The Lord has blessed us with children and now grandchildren. Our lives, and now theirs have been molded in the church. One generation shall praise

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

News From The County Agent

Joe Price, with the Southwest Chemical Supply, will be in the county this week to assist the county agent in putting out some fertilizer demonstration under cotton, grain sorghum and coastal Bermuda. The demonstrations will be placed in the Friberg, Punkin kin Center and Valley View Communities.

The joint District 4-H Encampment for District III will be held at Buffalo Gap on June 12, 13, and 14. We will have a number of 4-H boys and girls from Wichita County that will attend the encampment.

From 1954 to 1959, the number of farms in the South Central States raising turkeys declined 47 per cent, while the national figure dropped 49 per cent. In the number of turkeys raised per farm, however, the national total rose 150 percent for the same period, while that of the South Central States rose only 100 percent. This information indicates turkey producers in Texas will need to increase the size of their operations and continue to become more commercialized if they are to maintain their competitive position.
