Free Enterprise Produce Abundance

The Iron Curtain countries have long been plagued with food shortages. Bare subsistence diets are the rule rather than the exception. Meat is a rarity. The pitifully small quantities of it that the average family obtains is of poor quality and is extortionately priced.

The regimented citizens of these "Workers' Paradises" will, it is safe to say, never be allowed to read an item that appeared in a recent issue of the Michigan Farmer. It pointed out that this year Americans will consume an average of 85 pounds of beef, 64.5 pounds of pork, 6.1 pounds of veal, and 4.4 pounds of lamb, along with an abundance of dairy and poultry products.

Then it added that the average worker needs only 20 minutes of working time to earn enough to pay for a pound of meat—as against 35 minutes some 30 years ago. Putting it another way, the retail price of meat has increased less than 10 percent in the last 10 years, as against a whopping 37 percent increase in average hourly earnings.

The American meat industry, in all its ramifications, producer, packer, retailer, is a competitive, free enterprise operation. It is ruled by the natural law of supply and demand, not by the fiat of dictators. The results speak for themselves—plentiful supplies.

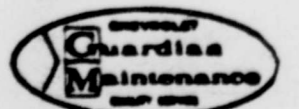

According to an analyst connected with the Citizens Public Expenditure Survey, revenue collected from the American people by federal, state and local governments increased a staggering $20 billion in a single year. The total was $154 billion in 1960, as against $134 billion in 1959.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

War has been declared.

The 25 year old cold war that has been waged against the people of the United States through various administrations and different partisan affiliations by the U. S. State Dept., the international socialists, the international cartellists, and left wing professors, has now become the battle for survival.

Active hostilities were announced with the information that pressure will be put on Congress to enable the government to ally with the European Common Market, probably through an extension that would be called the North Atlantic Common Market.

A big argument that will be advanced is that the growth rate of the gross national product in Western Europe is now at an annual rate of 4.5% compared to 2.6% in the U.S.

No mention will perhaps be made of the fact that the Western European growth rate has been greatly helped by a large share of the $100 billion received in U.S. foreign gift aids, and also to the fact that American corporations who had less than $2 billion invested in European plants in 1950, now have over $7 billion invested.

Cheap labor was one lure to American corporations. While the average U.S. manufacturing labor cost is now $2.68 per hour, in Holland it's only 57 cents. In fact, the wage scale

In no European Common Market nation equals that of Sweden, which is not in the combine as yet, but even Sweden's rate is only $1.08 per hour.

Neither will it be mentioned by proponents that European countries generally have lower taxes on business, better depreciation allowances, and other concessions to encourage business to grow. American corporations abroad escape U.S. taxes on earnings, pay usually only small taxes to the nation they operate in. If a company will locate a plant in Sicily, home of the Mafia, and some other parts of underdeveloped Southern Italy, the Italian government forgives all taxes for a ten year period.

It is not hard to imagine what would happen in New England, hard hit by the flood of cheap textile imports, if the government forgave taxes there for a ten year period.

But there is only one fly in the ointment. Cheap labor in Europe can produce a lot of goods for American firms located there. But cheap labor cannot buy much.

In the European Common Market nations, auto ownership is only 76 per 1000. In the U.S. it's 339 per 1000. The same holds true in TV and radio sets, telephones and appliances.

Thus, under guise of cementing bonds for peace, U.S. will be asked to scrap protective tariffs to bail out U.S. corporations operating in Europe.

The peril to America looms great. Probably never before has it been so important for those who believe in the American way to keep in contact with their Congressmen.

Grass Roots Opinion

CHARLESTON, TENN., RECORD. "We do not know who coined the prevalent 'chicken' and its explosive inference of superlative cowardice and inferiority, but, whoever it was, did a gargantuan disservice to all humanity.

"Too many young people today would rather do most anything than to be 'chicken' or considered a square. . . How can we make them believe that it takes real courage to be 'chicken' . . . the kind of a teenager who can say 'no' to the crowd, refute the dares and become the solid citizen they term 'squares'?"

Big Pasture FFA News

The Big Pasture FFA Chapter had a Christmas Party on the night of December 19th, and invited all the girls in high school. Each girl brought a gift and each boy brought a gift which could cost no more than one dollar. Several games were played and the FFA Band furnished entertainment.

The FFA Sweetheart, Nita Sue Bowles, and her mother, Mrs. B. J. Bowles, Jr., were both very helpful in making the party a success.

Two boys of the chapter, Brian Hooper and Jimmy Inman, have recently made a sign for the Chapter's test plot which reads "BIG PASTURE

FFA SMALL GRAINS TEST PLOT

The plot is west of the Agriculture Building and anyone is invited to examine the many varieties of wheat, barley, and oats which are planted there.

The Agriculture I boys are about to begin work in the shop for their first time and are looking forward to it.

The Chapter has four Agriculture IV students who are making applications for Junior Master Farmer. They are Jarvis Kinder, Larry Wileman, Hugh McCullough and Dennis Ressel. To get this degree they are required to have $750.00 invested in their project programs and at least $500.00 profit. They are to have not under a C average over all their high school subjects and they must show leadership ability.

This year, Hugh McCullough is president, Dennis Ressel is secretary, Larry Wileman is parliamentarian, and Jarvis Kinder is officer at large. These boys have participated in livestock shows and fairs of this community, have been on farm teams, and etc.

The applications are due February 1, and the top two per cent of applicants will be awarded the degree.

Waggoner Carr Announces for Attorney General

WAGGONER CARR

Waggoner Carr, former Speaker of the Texas House of Representatives, Thursday announced his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for Attorney General.

The announcement from his Lubbock law offices stressed the importance of the Attorney General's office in law enforcement, crime prevention and the creation of a healthy economic climate in Texas.

Carr recalled that in 1960, after two terms as Speaker, more than a half million Texans approved his record of public service by their votes in this race for Attorney General and said he believes his previous training and experience qualify him to do a good job. Carr was identified in a recent state wide poll as the leading contender for the Attorney General's post.

"My platform basically has but one plan—strengthening our legal framework where needed, and more vigorous enforcement of those laws, once enacted," Carr declared.

The 42-year-old former lawmaker and law enforcement official revealed plans for an intensive campaign leading up to the Democratic primary. He promised detailed discussion of the issues as the campaign develops.

"Much of the character and quality of Texas life for our families, our children, our businessmen, workmen and farmers will depend upon the example of alert and responsible conduct of the Attorney General's office," Carr said.

"We cannot build or long maintain an attractive climate for economic growth unless we first preserve a healthy climate of respect for law and order . . .

"I feel that it is of the utmost importance that the office of Attorney General be used effectively to control and eradicate the inroads of crime in our state. The office must be used to support and assist honest and conscientious local law enforcement officers rather than to override or overpower them. We must, likewise, use that office intelligently to add new strength to all the laws enacted by our Legislature, and the holder of that office must work cooperatively with our lawmakers to evolve the new laws required by changing times in this state."

Carr served five times as a member of the House from Lubbock County, the last two as speaker. He is one of only three men in the history of Texas to be elected Speaker two consecutive terms.

As Speaker, Carr played a key role in setting up the Texas Law Enforcement Study Commission in 1957, chaired by Houston attorney John H. Crooker, Sr., which recommended sweeping revision of Texas criminal laws.

Born in Fairlie, Hunt County, Texas, Carr moved with his family to Lubbock County in 1932. He graduated from Lubbock High School and Texas Technological College. He received his law degree from the University of Texas and was admitted to the State Bar in 1947. Wartime service in the Army interrupted his legal studies.

Before going to the Legislature, Carr served as County Attorney of Lubbock County and Assistant District Attorney of the 72nd Judicial District.

Carr and his wife, the former Ernestine Story, have one son, 12-year-old David. He is a leader and Sunday School Teacher at the First Methodist Church of Lubbock, and is a member of the Board of the South Plains Council, Boy Scouts of America, and is a member of the Lions Club, American Legion, Farm Bureau and the State Bar of Texas.

Forum Study Club Christmas Party Held Dec. 14th

Mrs. T. M. Cornelius was hostess for the Christmas party of the Forum Study club on Dec. 14th.

The members were greeted by a jolly Santa Claus on the door. Mrs. Cornelius home decorations followed beautifully the theme of Christmas. In the living room two giant red candles flanked a silver tree trimmed with red ornaments. Packages in red and white surrounded the base of the tree. The center of decorations in the den was a green Christmas tree lights and gaily wrapped packages. Tables for four in the den were covered with red felt cloths. Centerpieces for these tables were miniature angle and Santa Claus candles. Delicious holiday refreshments were served from a table centered with a miniature Christmas tree.

Mrs. Don Mills directed members in games before the exchange of presents from secret pals. Two members, Mrs. James Wickersham and Mrs. Winston Freeman, whose birthdays are on Dec. 24th, were surprised with birthday gifts from their secret pals. Mrs. Don Holtzen who recently celebrated a birthday, was presented a Christmas corsage from her secret pal.

These days a lingering kiss is less memorable than a succulent bite by a female mosquito.

RIGHT LIGHT

THE PROFESSIONAL PHOTOGRAPHER
gives careful thought and study to lighting his subject. Contrasts must be right and reflections must be right to achieve the best effects.

Individuals' lives reflect how they think and what they believe. Our lives count most, when we attend church regularly and walk in the light of the Lord.

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Miss America Goes College

East Lansing, Mich.—The mantle of education has taken the place of the cloak of glamour over the shoulders of Nancy Fleming, right, Miss America for 1961. She is hard at work at Michigan State University here carrying 21 credits of classroom study and aiming at the honor roll in a course in home economics with emphasis on communications and arts. She hopes to teach home economics on educational television. Nancy has compatible assistance in her transition to university life. Her "big sister" is Barbara MacDonald, left, 1960 Michigan state winner in the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Nancy was Betty Crocker winner that year in her local high school at Montague, Mich. The girls are shown testing color materials in a study of basic tailoring techniques. Barbara is a sophomore in home economics majoring in retail merchandising and is pursuing her college work with the aid of a General Mills scholarship. The Betty Crocker Search each year results in $110,000 in scholarships following a written test on homemaking. The national winner, chosen from more than 400,000 high school seniors, is awarded a $5,000 scholarship.

Jehovah's Witnesses To Hold Assembly In Lubbock, Jan. 26-28

Jehovah's Witnesses in this area have been informed by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society that their next assembly for Texas Circuit No. 9 will be held in Lubbock, January 26-28.

The 18-congregation assembly from Texas and New Mexico has adopted the theme, "Assist One Another to Do God's Will." The presiding minister of the Wichita Falls Congregation, Harold P. Bruce, said, "The assembly program will consist of morning, afternoon and night sessions of Bible talks, discussions and demonstrations designed to assist one another in doing God's will."

Bruce pointed to the increasing evils of our age and the failure of passive religion, showing the need for active, expanding Christianity. He said, "True religion is to be lived progressively, not merely professed statistically, and these assemblies offer us certain objectives to strive for organizationally and individually."

W. R. Thomas, form Jehovah's Witnesses' world headquarters in New York, will direct the three-day training program. He is scheduled to give the focal talk of the assembly, Sunday 3 p. m., "Uniting Men in a Split-Up World."

A similar convention was held in Wichita Falls last September. Jehovah's Witnesses met at Barwise Junior High School. Assemblies of this type are held semi-annually.
