Grass Roots Opinion

TOOELE CITY, UTAH, TRANSCRIPT: "It's all pure falsehood that the United States is the richest nation on earth. We can't even pay our day by day running expenses without borrowing money. We must soon come to common sense and realize that our resources are limited and we have no reserves, and there are many, many things which we can't afford, and should not even attempt because of our financial and physical limitations."

GREAT FALLS, MONT., LEADER: "No more logical argument could be given to teenagers contemplating quitting school than a report by the U. S. Employment Service. In the midst of a recession in which 5.5 million workers are unemployed, nearly 18,000 jobs went begging last month for lack of qualified applicants. They included engineers, social workers, draftsmen, skilled trades of all kinds, accountants, librarians, to name only a few."

ANAHEIM, CALIF., BULLETIN: "In the past, the tax an employer paid was directly related to 'experience.' That is, the employer who hired and fired or laid off workers freely paid a much higher tax than one who stabilized his employment. Now, all employers would be treated alike. The incentive to stabilize employment—itself a costly process—will be impaired. "So to extend benefits for half a million unemployed, the jobs of 60 million are to be made less secure, now and hereafter. "There must be a better way."

CLARKSDALE, MISS., PRESS REGISTER: "Pleadings for Federal aid for education have denied long and loud that Federal control is involved. Now that passage seems assured, this pose is being dropped."

"James E. Russell, secretary of the Educational Policies Commission of the National Education Association,"

Comment from the Capital —

SPARE THE MAN AND SPOIL THE NATION

by Vant Neff

On several occasions, the President has emphasized to us that the future belongs to the industrious and strong, the courageous and determined; soft and idle nations will be "swept away by the debris of history."

Despite these stern warnings that we must all work harder and with greater determination to preserve and improve our country, the Administration persists in a policy that encourages softness and idleness.

Abuses are widespread. A family with 23 children in New Jersey receives almost $1,000 a month under the aid-to-dependent-children program. Six persons in New York defrauded the public of $41,900 in unemployment benefits by falsifying work records. In Hollywood, a child actor turned down a $28 a day job and was rewarded jobless pay. He had been used to $150 a day and wouldn't consider the lesser paying job. Some cases have been uncovered where four generations of a single family were on relief. It is common practice to pay benefits to seasonal workers and employees on vacation.

When the Federal Government got into the welfare business in the depression, it was an emergency measure designed to provide relief only after private and local charities had exhausted their funds. President Roosevelt noted this policy in 1955.

Listen to what he had to say about public relief in 1935 after two years' experience with the Federal Emergency Relief Administration established to care for the "hobless": "To dole out relief in this way is to administer a narcotic, a subtle destroyer of the human spirit. It is in violation of the traditions of America. Work must be found for able-bodied, but destitute workers. The Federal Government must and shall quit this business of relief."

But we made Federal welfare big business. More than $37 billion was paid out in benefits in 1961, and this does not include such welfare-related activities as farm price supports, urban renewal, aid to depressed areas, etc. Late last year, the New York Times reported seven million people on public assistance. Cost to taxpayers: $4 billion. The administrative costs to investigate, keep records and pay out this dole amounted to almost half a billion dollars. Social Insurance, Health and Medical Payments, Veterans' Benefits, and other welfare payments help swell the grand total to $37 billion.

Public welfare pay-outs have increased eight-fold since World War II. Old age pensions to both men and women at age 62 continue to grow, financed by rising taxes paid by workers and employers. Amendments of 1950, 1954 and 1956 made millions of people eligible for pensions after only nominal contributions. Last year, unemployment benefits, paid by taxes from employers only, hit a new high of almost $4 billion.

Despite generous social security payments and veterans' benefits (4 1/2 million recipients), the costs of public relief are mounting. Additional welfare programs grow in number and cost each year. Piled on top of public programs is support from employers and organized charities.

In February, President Kennedy asked Congress for: Federal aid for work relief and on-the-job training, a permanent program to aid children of unemployed parents, an extension of payments to entire families rather than just dependents, a raise in federal grants to states from 50 percent to 75 percent of the cost of rehabilitation, special training for social workers, larger allowances for the expenses of welfare recipients who are working, Hitching medical care to social security benefits and liberalizing unemployment benefits were also top priority Administration targets.

These proposals are a complete about face in policy for Federal welfare. Once a last resort, to be called in only when local means were exhausted, the Federal Government is now taking prime responsibility for all the problems of the needy.

Welfare for non-workers not only costs money; it undermines the morale of the entire country. Relief becomes a substitute for wages; an escape from self-support. We all know of men who get more on relief than they can earn, after taxes. In time, a man on relief loses the will and capacity for work.

At long last the New York Times reports: "President Signs Welfare Reform — Far-Reaching Revision of Federal Program Hailed" . . . If the Administration really wants a strong, courageous and resourceful nation, it will quit advocating larger and larger handouts and eliminate the free-loaders.

What is needed instead of handouts is encouragement for private enterprise to create more jobs.

tion, writes in The Washington Post: "Legislation will have to be drafted and passed which will define and assign responsibilities for planning, approving, administering and coordinating educational activities."

EPHRAIM, UTAH, ENTERPRISE: "The Russians have taken to American style ads. "So far it's only a drop in the Red economic bucket. It will be a long time— if ever—before the USSR comes close to the USA in this dynamic area. "For there is no need to advertise when there is little to offer the public. It is very well to brag of a 'Peoples State', but it is meaningless when the people have no chance to procure the things all humans want and no freedom to select from what is available."

Weekly Report By W. Babson

Roger W. Babson

ADVISES YOUNG PEOPLE

At this time a good many of the young graduates will finish their vacations with summer "fill-in" work and looking for permanent new employment. On the basis of more than fifty years in business, let me give them some good advice.

Keep Out Of Debt
If you borrow some money on your personal name, be sure you have enough to pay it off. We are in very uncertain times. The world is in an upswing, but it is an important time to get out of debt—until the present Russia-Kennedy financial storm blows over... which it will.

Don't let talk of inflation scare you during the next few years. We will always have some inflation, but it will do no harm if we can avoid World War III. Take out some life insurance—straight life, 20-payment. If our dollar holds up for twenty years, all will be O. K. If our dollar declines, you can use the low cost dollars to make your payments. So, in the end, it will average out.

Never Endorse a Note of Another

You have friends and neighbors who will ask you to endorse a note for them, arguing that such action would "cost you nothing" but it would be a great favor to the maker of the note. I heard a sermon once on a text from Matthew, Chapter 25, Verses 33-37. It has saved me much money and trouble. When selling property, I will warrant the title against any "cloud" occurring during my ownership; but will never give a full warranty going back to the Indians.

When you give your own note, you can get out of it by paying same. If you have bought something which you know is a losing proposition, you can sell it and take your loss with Uncle Sam. But when you endorse a note, the note goes to a bank or to some third party and passes entirely out of your control. The endorsement may hang over you for years. Endorsements have no time limit. Beware of them.

Buy A Little Stock

If the stock of the corporation for which you are going to work is listed on the New York or the American Stock Exchange, buy one share of it each month and have it registered in your name—not in your wife's name. If the stock is selling for more than you can afford to pay each month, buy a share once every other month; but buy it regularly and systematically.

If the stock is not listed, buy a share of the stock of one of your local banks each month. You can tell the treasurer or some other officer of the bank that I have advised you to do this; he will get the stock for you. Have this stock issued in your name so you will get the dividends. This system will make you a profit; but, more important, it will give you a good reputation as a substantial citizen. Be well thought of now and it will give you credit later if you want to start a business of your own.

Be Careful When You Write

It is a good rule to be careful always about what you put into writing. In fact, it often helps to have someone else's opinion on your material. Although I have been writing this column once a week for many years, it is always checked very carefully by a most able employee of mine. So let me suggest that, even when you are taking on a new job, you should not be ashamed or embarrassed to ask someone in your office to look at work you are doing and advise you.

Use the telephone whenever possible. Never criticize anyone in a letter unless you carry liability insurance. Even when thanking or congratulating people, I often "say it with flowers." Sometimes you hate to refuse a request; but you can often save both money and a friend by going to nearby florist and sending some flowers. Greeting cards are also wonderful investments to use freely—for birthdays, Christmas, New Year's, and for "sympathy" messages. Be careful about congratulating friends and relatives when a new baby comes into a family or it may be named for you.

"How are the roads in this section?"

"Fine," replied Farmer Perkins. "We've abolished bad roads."

"Big job, wasn't it?"
"Not at all. Wherever the going is 'specially hard we don't call it a 'road.' We call it a de-

HEALTH and FOOD

In our nation today, the majority of us have so much to be thankful for. Sure we lose a tooth or two in growing up, as the one pictured here, but these will soon be replaced. Health and Happiness are generally ours, and through our abundance we should share with others who are less fortunate. God's word and the church encourage sharing with others. There are many areas of service to others within the churches, and these we should not neglect, but God has said that we should take advantage. As we are able, of all opportunities to give aid. "As we have therefore opportunity, let us do good unto all men"

GALATIANS 6:10

THE CHURCH ENCOURAGES LOVE AND COMPASSION FOR OTHERS

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny, the truth which sets man free to live as a child of God.

Friendship Class Has Luncheon

The Friendship Class of the First Baptist Church met at noon Thursday, September 20, in the Mary-Martha classroom for a luncheon. Hostesses for the occasion were members of Groups III and IV.

Mrs. B. F. Hewell, program chairman, called on Bro. Hollis Morris, pastor of the First Baptist Church for the devotional.

Bro. Morris chose as his subject, "Reaching Out for the Unreached Adults." He pointed out that older people need love and sympathy; they need to feel a sense of belonging; they need an opportunity for self expression. Give them something to do in Sunday School Classes and in Training Union.

He said that an adult III Training Union Department should be organized. Get all the unenlisted adults interested in working for the Master. Following this talk, Mrs. J. B.

Ady offered a prayer. Mrs. W. B. Short then took charge of the business session. In a few well-chosen words she first paid tribute to the memory of Mrs. Bessie Senter.

Mrs. C. R. Chambers read the minutes of the May meeting. Mrs. V. C. Skipworth gave the treasurer's report, and group leaders made reports.

The class voted to place a book in the library in memory of Mrs. Senter.

Mrs. Hewell, using the Bible as the theme for the program, called on Mrs. Short, who gave a talk on "Value of the Bible."

Mrs. R. P. Thaxton read a poem, "The Bible."

Mrs. Preston Johnson, Sr., closed the meeting with a prayer.

Class members attending were Mrs. K. P. Thaxton, J. B. Ady, E. R. Burnas, Hubert Butts, C. R. Chambers, B. F. Hewell, Bob Hinkle, Preston Johnson, W. V. Combs, J. D. Kennedy, R. W. Kent, E. H. Logan, Clyde Peed, W. B. Short, V. C. Skipwith, H.

D. Smith, Will Teal, Jim Turner, Earl Van Deren; Misses Addie Dickson and Ella Billingslea; and one service member, Mrs. J. G. Cheney; guests, Bro. Hollis Morris and family, Bro. Ray Harris and family.

The U. S. Marine Band is credited with having originated the custom of standing at attention during the playing of the "Star Spangled Banner," the National Anthem, in 1898. Audiences soon followed suit.

AIRBORNE

Aircraft are playing an increasingly prominent role in forest products manufacture in the South. Numerous planes are used to patrol the Southern Pine forests as part of industry's fire protection program. Of late, they have entered the picture of product utilization. Helicopters were used to erect glued laminated Southern Pine acres to form a new roof system at a Texas chemical plant.

over some sand — to prevent slipping. Ripped hemlines are another safety hazard. So are large pockets—or other trims on garments—that are not stitched on securely.

Correct fit is a safety requirement for children's play clothes, Miss Wirges emphasized. Garments that are too large at the waistline, poorly cut garments, or straps that slide off shoulders may impair movements and cause accidents, the agent added.

Mrs. J. A. Fouts, Mrs. Emil Flusche and Mrs. Jack Marshall will represent Wichita County as official delegates to the state meeting of the Texas Home Demonstration Association in Dallas, September 19-21. Mrs. J. L. Graham and Mrs. E. W. Roderick will attend as visitors.

Educational exhibits and individual 4-H girls exhibits for the Texas-Oklahoma Fair must be in place Saturday, September 22 by 6:00 p. m. Exhibits will be judged on the following Monday.

Miss Toni Savage, will represent Wichita County and District III at the State 4-H Club Favorite Food Show, to be held on the campus of A&M College, Saturday, September 22nd.

Forty flags from around the globe will decorate each of nine flagbursts which will be suspended over the Texas International Trade Fair at the 1962 State Fair of Texas, October 6 through 21 in Dallas. Designed and executed by Peter Wolf Associates, the flagbursts will set the theme in the World Exhibits Building for the 1962 State Fair's "Exposition of Nations."

Good Reason

A Hollywood producer whose hobby was collecting rare books became such a bore on the subject that friends decided to play a joke on him. They hired a bit actor and brought him to lunch. When, inevitably, the subject came up, the actor said he'd had an old German Bible around the house for years but it smelled so bad he finally gave it away to an aunt in Santa Barbara. "Who printed it?" the rare-book collector asked. "I don't know, 'Guten' something," the bit actor said. The producer dropped his fork. "Not Gutenberg?" The actor said he believed that was the name. The producer jumped from the table. "Let's go!" he screamed. "We'll hire a plane!" "Go where?" asked the actor. "To get the Bible, man! Don't you realize you have one of the first books ever printed? It's worth $300,000!" The actor stood up excitedly. Then, suddenly, he sat down again. "It can't be worth anything," he said. "Why not?" asked the hysterical producer. "Because," the actor replied, "somebody named Martin Luther wrote all over it."

about time for cooler rain and perhaps lots of dampness. Wet weather, or continued dampness, is hard on shoes. First-aid treatment suggests first-aid treatment suggested by Thelma Wirges, county demonstration agent. Leather is possible. Wearing wet shoes when wet will cause breaks in the leather or other damage. Once the shoes are dry, stuff them with paper or of absorbent cloth to take up the moisture. Never use shoe trees; they may stretch the leather out of shape. Outside by patting with a cloth. Never rub. When the moisture is absorbed, re-stuff and let the shoes dry slowly away from heat. Fast drying with heat leather shrink, harden and crack. Clean shoes dry, clean with soap. Then rub in a little castor oil with your hands. The oil, available at stores, keeps leather pliable. Use only as much as the leather will absorb. Otherwise the shoes will be greasy to take a polish. Shoes are soft and dry, with any good paste or two coats of polish may be used to bring back the new look to the leather. Shoes should be thoroughly dry before they are polished. A rubber sponge brush; never a wire brush. It may damage the soft leather. After brushing, spread a suede dressing in one direction. When dry, brush in opposite direction to lift the nap. If further treatment is needed, have the shoes re-dressed or "vaporized" at a repair shop. At the beginning of those summer months you are beginning to tire of your wardrobe. Right now will increase the life of your summer clothing and make it more wearable next season. Take time to sort and clean your wardrobe carefully as you get them out of circulation. Here are some suggestions from Thelma Wirges that will protect your wardrobe. Check for any ripped seams, tears, buttons or other damage. Stitches can lengthen the garment. Dry clean all clothes before storing. Cottons and linens unless removed that all can cause to deteriorate and may silverfish. Wash garments thoroughly and hang in a dry place to mildew. Store clothing in large boxes to make room in for fall and winter. Check family clothing member clothes can be hazardous.
