Burk Study Club Christmas Party Held In Carpenter Home

The beautifully decorated home of Mrs. Phillip Carpenter was the scene of the Annual Christmas party, December 20, of the Burk Burnett Study Club. Serving with Mrs. Carpenter as hostess, were Mrs. Hugh Preston, Jr., and Mrs. Maxine Creel.

"The True Spirit of Christmas Through Love and Friendship" presented by Mrs. Glen Bear began the festive affair. Organ selections were played by Mrs. Maxine Creel during the buffet supper.

"Whatever be lost among the year, let us keep Christmas still a shining star" was chosen as the quotation for the evening.

Grace Noll Crowell is the author of that beautiful, thought provoking quotation.

Mrs. Jack Smith, vocalist, presented two numbers, "O Holy Night" and "Ava Maria." Mrs. Jack Mathis gave a very interesting account of Christmas in other lands.

After the members exchanged gifts, the president, Mrs. Harold Preston, presided over a short business session at which time Mrs. D. H. Smith gave a report on the Thanksgiving basket and the Christmas gifts delivered to the State Hospital.

Mrs. Bear closed the program with a delightful poem about husbands.

Bell Purchases Gathering System

Bell Oil and Gas Company, of Tulsa, Oklahoma, has acquired as of January 1, 1963 two gathering systems in the North Texas area from the Texas Pipe Line Company. One system, known as the Mangold gathering system, is in Archer County, Texas, and is in an area where Bell has an extensive gathering system. The Mangold system is tied into Bell's 6" main line, which operates out of Bell's Kadane Station, thus providing for the producers large and adequate facilities without the necessity of making any changes.

The other system is a short gathering line in the Sunshine Hill area of Wichita County, Texas that intersects Bell's 8" gathering line in that area, and requires no change of facilities other than tying into the 8" line.

Total oil involved is approximately 2,000 barrels per day and is intended to provide further reserves for Bell's refining operations.

The operation of the system is in the Bell's Texas Division, where Bell maintains operation and dispatching headquarters at Burk Burnett, Texas, headed by F. C. Royce, Superintendent of that Division.

Bell further stated that this acquisition of approximately 54 miles of line plus its present facilities creates a very substantial gathering system to provide crude for its refinery operations. The Bell system extends from Archer County on the South and gathers from various fields in Archer and Wichita Counties and goes on north into Wilbarger County, with its principal storage at Burk Burnett, Texas.

Precedent Of Utmost Danger

"Never before in the history of this country, has the Federal government elbowed private investment aside and seized the identical project in order to construct it by tax monies and public debt."

The words are those of Kinsey M. Robinson, board chairman of the Pacific Northwest Power Company. Back of them is a remarkable and ominous story.

It has to do with the long debated High Mountain Sheep Dam on the Snake River. This is a huge, multi-million dollar project. Apparently, it is going to be built — so the question to be answered is who will build it, and with what funds?

The investor-owned utilities in the region are ready to go head with Mountain Sheep. Under their joint plans, the dam's full potential would be developed. Every nickel of the cost would come from private savings and other non-governmental sources. And on completion, the dam would become a major taxpayer.

But the Department of the Interior is insisting that the federal government build Mountain Shep. And construction, to repeat Mr. Robinson's phrase, would be "by tax monies and public debt."

Here is a perfect example, of a conflict, not in the scope and kind of project, but in ideology. The issue is private enterprise versus monolithic socialism. If the government builds Mountain Shep, when private enterprise is asking the right to do the identical job, a precedent of utmost danger will be established.

The power of government to investigate, as well as to regulate in certain instances, is an essential one. When

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

Once upon a time, in fact not so long ago, actually it was just about the middle of October, to be specific, the head of a great nation had a rude awakening.

This nation had a very close neighbor that believed in communism. But the advisors to the head of the great nation kept telling him that there was not too much to all the talk and excitement among the people about this matter of the nearby communist nation.

C. W. Harder

After all, he was advised, these matters should be handled by the United Nations. There is a way to get along with the communists.

So strong was the influence of these advisors on the head of the nation he did nothing when people who believed in freedom were slaughtered by the communist neighbor.

From the people of this great nation, came reports that the communist neighbor was planning serious trouble. But in spite of the fact that these reports came in for many months, the head of the nation did nothing about it, because his influential advisors wanted him to do nothing about it. After all, they explained to him, you are the head of this great nation. Why should you pay any attention to the people.

In addition, the communists made many direct promises to the head of the great nation, and gave him assurance that all intentions were honorable.

There were many people in this great nation who knew you cannot believe anything a communist says.

But every time the head of the nation started adopting the viewpoint of his people, these influential advisors would explain that after all, if a communist did not mean what he said, he would never say it.

So the great nation blundered along. In the meantime, its communist neighbor prepared feverishly to become very aggressive.

One day not too long ago it became crystal clear what the communists were up to. The head of the great nation was shocked that the communists would break their word. He set about immediately to remedy his stupidity. It is too early to tell whether or not his people will pay a great price for his stupidity.

One of his first actions was to fire his false advisor.

But perhaps his people would be much better off now if Prime Minister Nehru of India had fired Menon before the Chinese communists started shooting in India.

legitimate complaints are made against any private organization it is the duty of government, through one agency or another, to dispassionately investigate and arrive at the facts. But investigations of a shotgun variety, made simply for the sake of investigation, fall into a very different category.

For example, the State Public Utilities Commission of California has decided to conduct a sweeping investigation of the largest telephone company. The Commission's president, no less, says that there has been no complaint or suspicion of irregularity. And a dissenting member of the Commission observes that the investigation "will accomplish no constructive benefits to telephone subscribers, the general public or the general economy of the state."

The big point involved has been well summed up by the Gazette, of Martinez, Calif., "Whimsical harassment of business by regulatory agencies is not conducive to encouraging outside investment in industries. And without that investment no state, can hope to create the new jobs and services and tax revenues it so badly needs for vigorous growth."

That principle can be carried forward another long step. Harassment of business at the federal level is not conducive to encouraging investors and employers, and to getting the slowed down U. S. economy back into overdrive.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance

Q. I have a policy with a Canadian life insurance company. It was purchased in the United States. I noticed recently that the exchange rate on the Canadian dollar has dropped to about 93 cents in U.S. money. How does this affect my policy?

A. Fluctuations in the exchange rate with Canada should have no effect at all on your life insurance. Canadian life insurance policies issued to residents of the United States are payable in American funds, while U.S. life insurance companies doing business in Canada pay their policyholders in Canadian funds.

A strong tide of life insurance protection flows across the border between Canada and the United States. Canadian companies provide a sizable amount of life insurance protection for American policyholders, and U.S. companies issue a substantial amount of life insurance to Canadians.

Q. What is "Industrial" life insurance?

A. Industrial life insurance policies are issued in small amounts — usually less than $1,000 — for modest premiums, which can be paid on a weekly or monthly basis. Sometimes called "debit" insurance, industrial policies have been providing protection for low-income American workers and their families for nearly a century. However, the amount of industrial life insurance in force in the United States has shown no increase in recent years, partly due to the economic gains of American workers, who need and can afford more protection than is normally available under industrial policies. Another factor has been the expansion of group life insurance.

Removing Screws In Gun

When removing screws to dismantle a shotgun or rifle, make sure the screwdriver blades fits the slots.

If the blade is too large, or too small, it can damage the surrounding metal.

If necessary, file the blade to the proper size before using to loosen small, tight fitting screws.

A CENTURY OF COMMERCIAL BANKING

It was in 1863 that President Lincoln signed the National Currency Act. The Act provided for the issuing of a national currency and for the establishment of a system of Federally chartered banks to take their place alongside the already established system of state-chartered banks.

It didn't make big headlines at the time; but, ever since, it has had far-reaching consequences for the American economy—in other words, your pocketbook.

During the century between 1863 and 1963, this effective dual system of banking has contributed immeasurably to America's growth; and its role in the Nation's life has been constantly advancing. Our bank is proud of expanding its service to meet the growing needs of its neighbors; proud to contribute thus to progress, for America and for you; proud to share in the observance of a significant American centennial—the theme of which, appropriately, is "Progress through service."

News From The County Agent

The outlook for the year ahead indicates relatively small changes in farm product prices, production and marketings, says T. Haws, county agent. Total net income of farm operators is expected to be near the levels of the past two years. The decline will continue, he adds, in both farm population and farm numbers. Thus, the average per capita income of farm people from all sources and per farm income, at a record high in 1962, will continue to rise in 1963.

Present indications point to small increase in farm output compared with the past 3 years but will depend upon growing conditions and the impact of 1963 programs dealing with acreage and production, the county agent says. Livestock production is expected to continue upward but crop output is expected to change very little from levels of the past two years.

A gradually expanding domestic market absorbed a record quantity of farm products in 1962 and is expected to continue in the year ahead. The high level of agricultural ex-

Meal That's Different

Everyone will enjoy these "Shrimp Boats" by way of Stuffed Boats "Idahos" served with Sherried Sweet Spanish Onions, and piping-hot Potato Refrigerator Rolls. Idaho-grown Russet Potatoes and large firm Sweet Spanish onions, stand by in everybody's meal planning, are in our markets in abundance and at a price that is kind to budgets!

Shrimp Boats: for 6 to 8 servings, bake the desired number of "Idahos," scrubbed but not oiled, in a 400 to 450 degree F. (hot) oven to make a crisp skin. Test for doneness with a thin skewer so as not to mar the skin. When tender, roll each in mitted hands. Cut top off, lengthwise. Or, if using large "Idahos," you may wish to cut them in half. Scoop out potato. Whip, mash or rice. Prepare cream of shrimp soup according to directions on can of frozen soup, using half as much milk. Add, hot, to mashed potatoes, whipping until light and fluffy. Whip in more hot milk to get desired consistency. Or use light cream instead of the soup and add chopped canned shrimp as desired, saving out a few shrimp for garnishing the tops of the stuffed potatoes. Add salt as needed. Fill each potato shell with the mashed potato mixture. Brush top with melted butter; add a sprinkling of grated Parmesan cheese. Return to hot oven to heat and brown, 10 to 15 minutes. Potatoes may be stuffed in the morning and refrigerated.

Sherried Sweet Spanish Onions: for 4 to 5 servings, slice without peeling 3 large Sweet Spanish onions. Remove skins, separate into rings. Cook slowly in 1/2 cup butter about 8 minutes or until onions are barely tender. Lift carefully with a fork to turn. Season during cooking with 1/2 teaspoon each salt, mono-sodium glutamate, freshly-ground black pepper. Add 1/2 cup sherry wine or cooking sherry. (Remember, the cooking sherry has salt in it.) Cover and cook quickly 2 or 3 minutes. As a change, instead of the sherry you may like to liberally douse the cooked onions with soy sauce. Omit salt in this case.

this statewide program of progress and this year they are shooting for 300. Any community group in the state is eligible to enter. An ample supply of tree seedlings is available from the Texas Forest Service for planting this winter. Pine seedling shipments will begin about December 18 from the Indian Mound Nursery near Alto. Windbreaks will be shipped beginning about mid-February.

B. T. Haws, county agent, reports that orders for the trees are being taken now. However, he states that seedlings will not be sold for ornamental or landscaping purposes. Persons interested in setting out trees for forestation or windbreak purposes should place their order right away.

Pine applications are available from county agent, soil conservation districts, ASCS offices, or district offices of the Texas Forest Service. Forms for ordering windbreaks are available from West Texas county agents and some soil conservation district offices. Either of the forms may be secured by writing to the Director, Texas Forest Service, College Station, or the Indian Mound Nursery, P. O. Box 337, Alto.

The date for the Wichita County 1963 Junior Broiler Show has been set for Saturday

May 4. This date will be of interest to club boys and girls in the county. The show will be held in the 4-H barn. This show is sponsored annually by the Wichita Falls Chamber of Commerce.

Another change in the feed grain program has just been released. The total support price has been raised to $1.25 for corn, $2.00 for grain sorghum and $1.96 for barley (national average). This change also makes it possible for a farmer with a base acreage of 25 acres or less to divert his whole acreage and receive 50% diversion payments for the total diversion.

As of November 29, U. S. farmers had signed up 1,684,852 acres for diversion under the 1963 Wheat Program. Texas farmers had agreed to divert 168,875 acres.

Improper litter management in the poultry house during the winter season can result in poor flock performance. Litter is constantly in the process of taking and giving off moisture and good ventilation in the laying house is a must.

January 10 is the date for the 13th Annual Beef Cattle Field Day at Substation 23 of the Agriculture Experiment Station near McGregor. Superintendent H. O. Hill issues a special invitation to all Texas Cattlemen interested in performance testing to be on hand for the program, beginning at 9:00 a. m. and lasting until 3:00 p. m. The program will include tours for inspection of the cattle on test, in heated buses, each with a narrator. A dutch treat barbecue lunch will be served in a huge heated tent after which brief discussion of topics of interest to cattle raisers will be given by top specialists.

KEY PROPERTY
Nail holding power is one of the most important properties of lumber in the framework that holds a house together. The ability of this lumber to hold and grip nails determines the snugness of joints and the overall tightness of the house. On such factors depend the security of the dwelling, the durability of surface materials and the efficiency of heating and cooling systems.

According to the Southern Pine Association, proper seasoning of lumber has a strong influence on nail holding power. This process of "pre-sinking" can give an advantage of as much as 400% in the ultimate nail holding power of a structure.

ports is expected to be maintained by the long-range future is clouded by the developing policies of the European Common Market.

As for prices, Haws sees little change in those for crops but the increase in livestock plus a relatively stable domestic demand could result in slightly lower prices. The prices paid for production items by farmers is expected to continue their steady rise and the cost-price squeeze will continue, he adds.

Total farm assets in the nation on January 1, 1962 were up $7.5 billion from a year earlier and $41.4 billion from 10 years ago. They increased three per cent during the past year, due primarily to the further increase in land prices. Farmer equities have gradually declined from $91 per $100 of total assets in 1962 and $86 on January 1, 1963. The total debt owed by farmers and ranchmen on January 1, 1963 will be up about six per cent from a year earlier, Haws says.

During the next several years the outlook is for more competition among areas and producers; more commercialization and vertical integration in agriculture and more stabilization in farm products. This will depend, however, on national and international conditions, new technology and government programs.

The deadline for entering the Texas Community Improvement Program is January 31.

Last year a record number of 269 communities entered

THE late Joseph Stalin once said: "Lenin is God. . . . The party cannot be neutral toward religion. Anti-religious propaganda is a means by which complete liquidation of the reactionary clergy must be brought about."

Lenin believed: "Religion is a kind of spiritual gin in which the slaves of capital drown their human shape and their claims to any decent human life. . . . Marxism is materialism. . . . We deny all morality taken from superhuman or nonclass conceptions. . . . Atheism is an integral part of Marxism."

"The materialist gives a more important place to materialism and nature, while relegating God and all the philosophical rabble who believe in Him to the sewer and manure heap. . . . Down with religion. Long live Atheism!"

Those who are eager to reach agreement with the Soviet Union should remember that the Kremlin bosses will make no agreement that does not improve their position. They will preserve the status quo unless by changing it, they can add one more shovelful to the program of burying us.

the Wichita County Program Building Subcommittee on Foods and Nutrition, will preside at the work shops.

On January 15, Mrs. Abbie Andrews with Frigidaire Company, from Fort Worth, will conduct the first work shop meeting. Mrs. Andrews will teach "Management of the Home Freezer." Proper management of the home freezer is essential to food management in any home where a freezer is used.

Families can have better and more varied meals through the year if they own a home freezer.

From the dollars and cents standpoint, however, the freezer benefits are not so clearly defined. Whether a family's food budget will be reduced or increased by use of a home freezer depends on whether food is home grown or purchased, the kinds and quantities of food frozen, and how the freezer is used, points out Thelma Wirges.

For many families, financial consideration will be over-balanced by the convenience of the home freezer, the savings of time in marketing and meal preparation, and the satisfaction of enjoying throughout the year a variety of fresh-flavored foods of high nutritive value.

For more information on home freezers, attend the work shop, Tuesday, January 15 at 10:00 a. m. in the Wichita Falls Texas Electric Auditorium.

ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON DISCUSSES FLORIDA FREEZE

The recent freeze was very severe. The newspapers say "worst in the century." Statistics show that a similar freeze came in 1899. Then nearly all citrus trees north of Orlando, Florida were killed.

This latest freeze hit the citrus belt or the central portion hard; but also, the southern portion where many of the vegetables are grown likewise had crops wiped out. The northern section of Florida, where the celery and other hardy crops are raised, suffers less damage from freezes.

Florida Received Full Warning

There was no mistake on the part of the Weather Bureau; for three days it had warned Florida of the very cold air coming down from the Arctic regions. But what could the fruit and vegetable growers of Florida do about it? Only the Indian River area escaped.

The early crops had been picked. The second crop, including the Valencia oranges, were not ready to harvest. Many growers built fires; but these raised the temperature only 2 or 3 degrees. Growers who had adopted new schemes of spraying with water saw the spray itself freeze.

The Loss Has Been Very Great

The loss has come not only to the growers; but to all the pickers, the cultivators, and the teamsters. It has thrown over a million out of work and thereby affected all the merchants and storekeepers. Worst of all, it came at the Christmas season, when the people and the merchants planned on their best business.

The canning of juice has been the greatest hope of the grove industry. If fruit—even though frozen—could be rushed to the canners while it was still sweet, such juice could be saved; but the canners could handle only so much juice and were powerless to can the truckloads of fruit coming to them. I have been in the midst of the situation and will say that everyone rich or poor—has helped freely in every possible way.

Almost Every State Faces A Sudden Loss

When I was a boy in Gloucester, Massachusetts; our most profitable "product" was granite and we knew it could not freeze. We had great quarries and we shipped the granite to Boston, New York, Washington, and Philadelphia for use in erecting the largest public buildings. We believed we had nothing to fear. Suddenly, the invention of cement came, and Cape Ann received a great economic blow. It was saved only by its fearless fishermen.

The cities which grew up and prospered from coal have suffered greatly since the oil and natural gas industries have flourished. When I was a boy, every Gloucester home was heated by coal. I went to the woods with my grandfather when snow was on the ground to bring home on a sled kindling wood for future use. Even the farms of New England, once so prosperous, have been gradually abandoned. The farm machinery introduced so widely for plowing, cultivating, and even for harvesting could not be employed on the rocky New England farms.

What is the Warning This Florida Freeze Gives to Every Section of the U. S.

(1) It is the need to be ready for a change; especially now that we are on the verge of the Electronics Age. Every industry in every county of this great country is subject to change.

(2) It is the knowledge that every community must diversify more. This should be the goal of every Chamber of Commerce. The watchword should be greater diversification.

The only way Florida or any other agricultural or fruit state will lick climatic problems (for droughts and floods may be as serious as freezes) is by attracting more industries. But even these should be of different kinds. A city now dependent upon the steel industry, or the paper industry, or any other one industry may be greatly handicapped by foreign competition. Prime Minister Macmillan has been telling this to President Kennedy and he may be right in saying that cannot have world peace out more freedom of This may mean that the "more" nations may need up more to the "have nations. This is what Mr. lan was telling Mr. Ken the Bahama Islands a few ago. Florida and every state should prepare for changes ahead.

INSULATOR

According to the Southern Pine Association, insulation is an obscure but important feature of wood siding on exterior walls. Because the wood wall does not store heat, it eliminates the long period of delay in heating the house in winter or in cooling it after a hot summer day.

Finding Camp In Dark

Coming in to camp on a dark night takes precision and a certain ability many of us don't have. You can find the camp on the blackest night if you will tuck up car reflectors on trees in a circle some distance from camp. Your flashlight then will guide you in.

Teaching The Retriever

Now and then a retriever will acquire the bad habit of chewing the ducks he retrieves. This can ruin a lot of good meat if carried to excess. Habit is hard to break, but it can be done. Train him with a "duck" made of a tin can, weighted, and with duck wings and tail attached to it realistically.

Duck Shooting Made Easier

A lot of good shooting is passed up because darkness blots out good gun sight focus. You can get in quite a few accurate shots even after the lights get dim by touching up the bead on your front sight with white enamel. It will show up clear and bright against the indistinct form of your target.

KNOWLEDGE IS POWER

Junior: "Dad, what makes an elephant so big?" Father: "I don't know." Junior: "Why is a lion dangerous?" Father: "I don't know, son." Junior: "Am I bothering you with my questions?" Father: "Not at all. You never learn anything if you don't ask."

FIRST AND FOREMOST

In painting wood siding on the house exterior, the first finishing job is the most important. According to the Southern Pine Association, it is the foundation for all subsequent finishings and if well applied will remain for the life of the house.

Anyone that has ever tried to fill the bottomless pits of growing boys will tell you that it is practically an impossibility. Yet we must continue to feed them so that they will continue to grow.

With the right kind of encouragement from parents, these boys will develop a hunger for God's word. Take them to church Sunday where they may study and learn more of God's word.

"Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness: for they shall be filled."

EVERYONE IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance
Q. What are the main reasons for taking out a life insurance policy?
A. Recent studies show that at least six or seven out of every ten policyholders own life insurance mainly to protect their families from financial hardship in case the breadwinner should die prematurely during his productive years. These policyholders are depending on their life insurance for income to help maintain their families' living standards as well as to provide funds for a financial readjustment period.

REASONS FOR TAKING OUT LIFE INSURANCE

Although family protection is the main reason for owning life insurance, for one out of five insured families in the United States a major reason is savings and investment—in some cases specifically for retirement and old age. Among policyholders with young children, another important reason for buying life insurance is to guarantee that funds will be available for the children's education when they need it. About one out of 15 policyholders also buys life insurance to help pay off the mortgage or other debts should the policyholder die prematurely.

Q. Isn't life insurance intended mainly for people who are fairly "well off" financially?
A. Quite the contrary. People in lower to middle income brackets frequently have the greatest need to protect their families from financial hardship in case of death, as well as to accumulate savings for their later years. A recent survey showed that about half of all men and women with family incomes of under $3,000 a year had life insurance, and the ownership rate ran quite a bit higher among adult men in this income group. About two-thirds of those with incomes between $3,000 and $5,000 were policyholders, which was only slightly lower than the ownership rate for families with incomes of $5,000 and over.

People in lower to middle income brackets frequently have the greatest need to protect their families from financial hardship in case of death, as well as to accumulate savings for their later years. A recent survey showed that about half of all men and women with family incomes of under $3,000 a year had life insurance, and the ownership rate ran quite a bit higher among adult men in this income group. About two-thirds of those with incomes between $3,000 and $5,000 were policyholders, which was only slightly lower than the ownership rate for families with incomes of $5,000 and over.

Easy, Quick Fruit Cake

When rich, wonderfully-flavored "Desert Fruit Cake" is cut, each slice has a colorful, mosaic-like appearance, studded with fresh California dates and other festive fruits and nuts. Handsomely decorated with additional fresh dates and candied cherries, the cake is neither difficult nor time-consuming to make.

- |                                      |  |
|--------------------------------------|--|
| 2 cups fresh California dates        | 1/2 teaspoon baking powder               |
| 1 cup golden raisins                 | 1/2 teaspoon salt                        |
| 3/4 cup candied cherries             | 3 eggs                                   |
| 1 1/2 cups Brazil nuts               | 3/4 cup light brown sugar (packed)       |
| 1 1/2 cups blanched slivered almonds | 1 teaspoon vanilla                       |
| 3/4 cup sifted all-purpose flour     | 3 tablespoons melted butter or margarine |

Cut dates into halves. Rinse, drain and dry raisins. Combine dates, raisins, whole cherries and nuts. Add 1/4 cup of flour and toss to coat. Sift remaining flour with baking powder and salt. Beat eggs well. Gradually beat in sugar until very thick. Stir in vanilla. Fold in flour mixture, then cooled melted butter and fruit-nut mixture. Turn into 2 greased and floured loaf pans (8 1/2 x 4 1/2 x 2 1/2 inches). Garnish with whole pitted dates and candied cherries, if desired. Bake in 325-degree (moderately slow) oven 45 to 50 minutes. Turn out and cool on wire racks. Wrap in foil or waxed paper and let stand at least 4 days before serving. Slice very thin. Makes 2 loaves.
* Or 2 square pans (9 inches).

MENTAL CHECKBOOKS

Oliver Wendell Holmes once noted that the human mind is like a checking account, good only so long as you keep replenishing it. When you cease adding to your reserves at the bank your checkbook becomes worthless, and the checks you write become unacceptable to other people. So it is with the reserve which must be maintained in our mental bank. We must constantly add more knowledge and wisdom. If we continue to draw on existing intellectual assets and make no effort to augment them, we are heading for mental bankruptcy. We can maintain our "gray-matter" credit standing with others only if we keep on adding to our reserve.

I wonder why it is that we are not all kinder to each other than we are. How much the world needs it! How easily it is done. —Henry Drummond

One day in the Yosemite Valley, a traveller was told that there was an old man in the office of the hotel who in 1851 had been one of the company that had discovered the Yosemite. Eagerly he seized the opportunity of finding out what it was like to be the first of civilized men to behold one of nature's most marvellous works. "It must have been wonderful," he said, "to have the Valley burst suddenly upon you." The old man spat over the edge of the veranda and looked reflective for a moment. "Well," he said, "I'll tell ye. If I'd ha' knowed it was going to be so famous I'd ha' looked at it."

WELL PUT
"One of the most tactful men I ever knew," says a speaker, "was the man who fired me from my very first job. He called me in and said, 'Son, I don't know how we're going to get along without you, but starting Monday we're going to try.'"

Questions & Answers
Q—I do not want to go to college. Has the war orphans training program anything else to offer me?
A—Yes. If you are eligible you may pursue courses in vocational training leading to a field in which you may earn your living. See the nearest VA office for further details.
Q—Financial reasons will make me drop out of my GI education classes for some time. Do I lose this time or can I make it up later?
A—Those having to suspend courses due to financial reasons will be able to resume the classes at a later date and have their deadline extended so as not to suffer any loss of time.
Q—Are many veterans of the Spanish-American war still alive?
A—The most recent report shows that more than 25,000 veterans of the Spanish-American War are still living.

Medical Mirror

RECTAL POLYPS AND CANCER
Q. I have rectal polyps. One doctor advised surgery — another said surgery wasn't necessary. Who's right?
A. There are two schools of thought. Some doctors take the stand that noncancerous polyps of the colon and rectum are likely to become cancerous, others believe that the dangers are slight. Both views can be supported by medical evidence. Recent studies indicate, but do not prove, that rectal polyps are no more dangerous than polyps in any other location. However, one rectal specialist recently said that if he had polyps he would want them destroyed or removed — just in case. This might be best.

CONSTIPATION

Q. My four-year-old daughter is constipated and depends on laxatives. What would you advise? Is constipation hereditary?
A. No, it is not inherited. Many persons are overly concerned about elimination. If they would forget it, nature will nearly always adjust the matter. Daily bowel movements are not essential to good health and certainly the habitual taking of laxatives to achieve this goal is harmful. Don't let this matter drag along. Take your daughter to a physician.

It's The Law In Texas

NEW YEAR'S RESOLUTION: KEEP RECORDS.

Back in pioneer times our forefathers found they could keep track of the family history pretty well with a few notations on the flyleaf of the family Bible. But life's not quite that simple any more. Grand-grandpa wasn't covered by social security or workmen's compensation. He didn't have a bank account or safe deposit box, a car and a dozen home appliances being bought on time payment, or a half-dozen insurance policies. We have taxes great-grandpa never heard of and wouldn't have believed if he had. And had you asked him for a certificate to prove his birth, he'd have thought you'd taken leave of your senses.

The point of this is that the average American today has a good many important papers to keep track of. There are birth certificates, receipts, copies of tax returns, sales contracts, and a host of other papers. With a little tidy record-keeping, you can make life easier for yourself and your family when you are gone.

So, why not make a New Year's Resolution to follow these suggestions:

1. Get a heavily bound notebook folder or file folder as a central collecting point for all the records of your affairs.

2. Put your especially important papers in your safe deposit box, but make a list of those papers and a brief summary of their contents to put in your home file.

3. Get for your files copies of birth certificates for all members of the family, and add them to the file. Add your marriage license or at least a statement as to when and where you were married and by whom.

4. Insert your will or a copy of it. If your will is kept elsewhere, include a note telling where it may be found.

5. During the year, put into the file your income tax withholding statements and receipts for expenditures which may be deductible. Then keep a copy of each year's tax return in file.

6. Make a list of all stocks and bonds you own where they are.

7. List all the places you lived and worked and names of persons whom you have included in the dates you left or were included, put it in.

8. If you may have been coming under a profit-sharing plan where you work make note of that too.

9. If you're in doubt whether an item should be included, put it in. This takes time initially, it will save you both time and worry in the long run.

Miss Oma B. Van Cleave turned to her home after being her Christmas holidays. Dr. and Mrs. W. Frank Strong. She met her sister Clayton J. Foster and son, Foster, Jr. in Fort Worth, Texas.

Don't Stall Car In Midwinter
There are few situations more annoying than having your car stall in midstream on a wintry day. Not only do you get thoroughly soaked when the car starts again, but it takes hours to get the engine started again. You can lessen the chances of having this tragedy happen to you if you will, by fitting the stream, loose fan belt so it won't slip on the spark plugs.

Also, as you enter the stream, pull out the throttle and ride the clutch. Keep the engine revving. If yours is a late model senger car, just don't ford the stream.

Ginger Rogers won a Cotton contest in Fort Worth, and thereby entered the career that led to stardom.
