Expressway Work Schedule Advanced

Additional $3,500,000 For Development Of Red River Valley Expressway

A stepped-up construction schedule, calling for an additional $3,500,000, for development of the Red River Valley Expressway has been ordered by the Texas Highway Commission. The action taken Monday in Austin, was announced Wednesday. It involved the 12-mile stretch of the expressway from Wichita Falls to the Oklahoma line.

Changes in plans were made in order to have the expressway (U. S. 277 and U. S. 281) ready in time to join with the Southwestern Turnpike in Oklahoma. The state commission said the completion of the Okla. segment of this artery may be accomplished by the summer of 1964.

Originally, the work plans for the highway department called for grading and structures on the 12 miles at a cost of about $2,700,000.

The change calls for the leg to have grading, structures and surfacing at an estimated cost of $6,200,000.

The first phase of the work will be on the 5.5 mile segment from Wichita Falls to north of Sheppard Air Force Base. Plans for this work to cost some $3,200,000 are now in Austin and contracts are expected to be let in April.

Specifications for the second leg, 6.5 miles from north of Sheppard to the Oklahoma line at Red River, are still being drawn. It is now hoped that the contract for this $3,000,000 leg can be let in May.

Bob Eaton Readies For Study In Brazil

Bob Eaton, a junior foreign language major at Texas Technological College, has been chosen by Prof. Oscar Fernandez of New York University as one of several American college students to spend a year studying in Brazil.

Eaton, who carries a perfect 4-point grade average in Spanish and Portuguese and a near perfect average in German, will fly to Sao Paulo, Brazil, January 28 to begin a program of study taught only in Spanish or Portuguese.

The program, "Junior Year In Brazil," is co-sponsored by New York University of New York City and the University of Sao Paulo, Brazil. The purpose of the program is to encourage American students to study in Latin America. Eaton was the only Tech student who applied.

Before going to Brazil, Eaton will fly to New York City for a week-long orientation program where he will have an opportunity to talk with some of the students who participated in the program last year, and with a representative from the University of Sao Paulo. When he arrives in Sao Paulo, a family will be chosen for him to live with during his stay and he will be separated from other English-speaking students.

The first month of the program will involve only a four-hour course in Portuguese to prepare the students for further study. The regular semester will not begin until March 10. The curriculum outlined for the program consists of forty-three accredited hours and includes Portuguese Composition, Latin American History, two semesters of Brazilian Sociology, a semester of Brazilian Art, a semester of Brazilian Music and six hours of Spanish-American Literature.

During the winter season, which is in July, the students will spend a month touring the country and will visit several of the sea coast and inland cities, including Belen, which is located at the mouth of the Amazon River, and Brazilia, new capital City of Brazil. After their tour they will return to Sao Paulo to begin the second semester of study which will end December 15.

Bob taught himself Spanish and Greek while in high school and never included a language in his high school curriculum. He also has a "dormant" hobby of studying Hebrew and Latin. Bob is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Eaton, 516 Dot Avenue. He has two sisters, Sharlene, who is a freshman at Tech, and Virginia, a junior in Burk Burnett high.

Those present were: David Coleman, Randy Clement, Rusty Ratliff, Micky Morren, Joe Story, Mike Glandon, Dean Thompson, Gary Koeing, Barbara Scrabrough, Carol Potter, Janice Bolinger, Linda Eilson, Sharon Moore, Carol Dickson, Charles, his sister Theresa and parents.

Congressman Purcell Introduces Two Bills-Current Session

Congressman Graham Purcell has introduced two bills as the First Session of the 88th Congress opens in Washington.

One of the bills, H. R. 1011, would make mandatory a systematic reduction of the public debt. Titled the "National Debt Recognition and Reduction Act of 1963," the bill would amend the Second Liberty Bond Act to provide that the public debt be recognized as a budget item and that it be reduced one per cent per year, in addition to payment of interest. The budget could not be considered in balance unless this provision was included. The only exception to this annual reduction, under the Purcell bill, would be in time of national emergency.

The other bill introduced by Congressman Purcell, H. R. 1010, provides an extra tax exemption for parents of mentally retarded children. Purcell said the bill provides that parents of a mentally retarded child would be entitled to an additional $600 exemption on their income tax each year.

Both measures have been referred to the Committee on Ways and Means for action. Purcell said he introduced similar bills on both subjects last year, but that they were introduced too late to receive adequate consideration. "I am hopeful," said Purcell, "that both of these bills will receive favorable consideration during the 88th Congress."

Doing The Job

The business-managed electric utilities of this country have long been favorite whipping boys of political and other groups which almost slaver at the prospect of bringing about a socialized federal power monopoly which would dominate every aspect of American life.

So, on occasion, it is pleasant to record a very different story. For instance, the Daily Record-Herald of Wausau, Wisconsin, recently ran a lengthy editorial entitled "Salute to Private Power." It began by saying "Few individuals in America today fully appreciate the tremendous engineering and planning job which has been done by the investor-owned electric power companies. Nor do they realize what a threat federal power now poses to them."

Then the Record-Herald described some of the achievements of the utilities, including such diverse matters as interconnection between different companies and the development of atomic power. It ended its editorial with these words: "Investor-owned power companies are doing the job. They are doing the job in the American tradition. It is high time that we call a halt to expansion of federal government operations at the taxpayers expense."

Another Step

In the very near future we'll be paying an additional penny to mail a letter. And there will be increases in the rates charged for other classes of postal matter. These were authorized by Congress in an effort to do something about the postal deficit, which has been run-

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" BY C. WILSON HARDER

The chickens have come to roost in a major area of the nation's food retailing insofar as trading stamps are concerned, and many people are unhappy. Early in 1962 A&P, the nation's largest chain operation, having more than twice as many stores, and over twice the volume of the next largest, went into trading stamps. This was quite an event as A&P had fought C. W. Harder the stamp idea for years.

However, the position of A&P was that they were forced into it by the use of stamp plans by their major competitors principally in the marketing area that is roughly bounded by Chicago, Cleveland, New York and Philadelphia. As is known, any stamp plan costs the grocer two per cent of his gross business. Use of S&H Green Stamps, issued by a private company, usually cost a little more than this, while stamp plans operated by several of the chains are reported to cost a little less.

While part of this cost is passed on to the customers, stamp plans are quite apparently hurting chain store profits.

An analysis of the progress of 14 chains, including A&P in the major A&P operating territories, in the initial six months after the A&P stamp plan got underway reveals that 11 of them showed less earnings, despite comparable, or even increased sales, over same period of previous year.

He then asserted when a consumer trades in his stamps for a premium, they are based on the full retail list price of the article. But by buying the same article at a discount house, or at a sale price, the consumer can buy for as much as 44% less. Thus he claims, consumers pay more for food to get stamps to trade for merchandise at prices not in line with prevailing market prices.

Of the three who did show an increase in profit, one, Jewel Tea, gives no stamps. While most stamp giving chains in the analysis showed profit margins of less than 1% on sales; in fact many of them showing less than 1/2 of 1%, Jewel Tea, on the other hand, showed a profit margin on sales of 1.66%.

There are many indications that the stockholders of stamp giving chain organizations are getting quite unhappy. On the other side of the coin, in a recent speech at a convention, the head of a 13 store New Jersey chain, which does not give stamps, claimed that stamps represent usury.

His contention is that each book of 1,200 stamps costs the consumer $3 in the higher grocery prices paid to offset the costs of the stamps. On this amount, the consumer collects no interest even though the stamps may not be redeemed for months.

He then asserted when a consumer trades in his stamps for a premium, they are based on the full retail list price of the article. But by buying the same article at a discount house, or at a sale price, the consumer can buy for as much as 44% less. Thus he claims, consumers pay more for food to get stamps to trade for merchandise at prices not in line with prevailing market prices.

And the grocer loses by giving stamps. And while this goes on, the Federal Trade Commission wonders if the public is being deceived by labels not printed in big enough type. Yet, little has been done so far by the FTC to make public aware of the price it pays for stamps.

ing in the vicinity of $700 million a year. Past increases in rates were offset by well-deserved pay raises given to postal workers.

It remains to be seen just how big a dent in the deficit the pending new charges accomplish. At best, however, post office operating losses will continue at huge levels. It is entirely unlikely that there is any way to entirely eliminate them, and, at the same time, carry out the department's historical functions of contributing to public knowledge, enlightenment and entertainment.

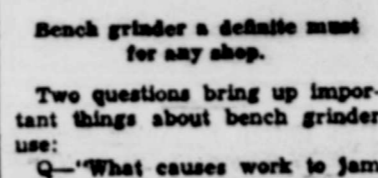

But the government has shown too great a reluctance to place the department's purely commercial and competitive service, which is parcel post, on a solvent basis. It is, and long has been, a heavy deficit breeder. And the public enlightenment argument, which applies to carrying letters, newspapers and magazines, certainly doesn't apply to it. So it looks as if another step, beyond the coming rate increases, needs to be taken.

The Weekly Handyman

By George Rogers Thor Research Center for Better Farm Living

Ask a handyman what's the most useful power tool in his workshop. If he's standing next to a drill, he'll probably nominate that tool. If he happens to be working with a power saw, that might get the nod. So it goes with the man who chooses his tools carefully and uses them correctly. They all become "indispensable."

One tool definitely in this category is the bench grinder. While most tools, in general, perform actual work on projects, the grinder is used mainly to keep other tools in shape.

Chisels, knives, drill and plane bits, screwdrivers—these are just a few of the tools normally sharpened and shaped on a bench grinder.

Two questions bring up important things about bench grinder use: Q—"What causes work to jam between the grinding wheel and the tool rest? This has happened several times lately, but never occurred when the grinder was new."

A.—Using the grinder causes the wheel to wear down gradually. This is normal. But as the wheel wears, the gap between and the tool rest grows. This makes it easier for the rotary motion to jam work into the enlarged gap if you momentarily relax a firm grip on the work. To correct this situation, adjust the tool rest forward so that it just clears the wheel.

Q—"I'm planning to replace well-worn grinding wheels. I've heard that some new wheels disintegrate when first used. Is that true?"

A.—It can happen if you don't observe a basic rule. Always select grinding wheels with an r.p.m. rating (marked on the label) that is higher than the rating marked on your grinder.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance Q. My life insurance premiums always come in a bunch and right at Christmas time. Can't I put these on a regular monthly basis, like my mortgage and my oil bill? A. Yes, indeed. Ask your agent or your company for one of its monthly premium plans. As with all monthly payment plans, there will be a small additional charge for this. Today, it is a widely used plan, as so many families are putting all their regular payments on the budget plan. If your company is one offering a pre-authorized check plan and your policy is large enough to warrant its use, this might interest you. It is a plan that enables you to arrange monthly payments in advance, to be charged to your account automatically as each monthly premium falls due. Q. This year I received no dividend on my life insurance policy, on which I paid my last premium three years ago. I was told it was because this is now a "paid-up" policy. But I don't understand. Why is this a reason? A. Life insurance policy dividends are not dividends in the usual sense of the word. Basically, they are premium refunds, returning to you the portion of the premium paid that is not needed for the reserve requirements and expenses involved in connection with this particular policy. After you cease paying premiums, a dividend is payable only if the mortality of the group involved, plus the earnings of the reserves produce more savings or income than required by the contract. In your case, your policy group apparently has not had this latter experience. Only once has the speaker of the house ever become president, when James K. Polk was elected in 1894.

STATE CAPITAL Highlights AND Sidelights by Vern Sanford

Austin, Texas—The ordeal of the "black beans" has been repeated in the Texas Senate, although without the usual dire consequences.

Texas' Constitution requires "choice by lots" every ten years to determine which members of the Senate shall begin the decennial with two year terms and which shall receive four year terms.

Among those whom the fate of the "black bean" drawing decreed must run again next spring, if they are to remain more than two years in the Senate, were veterans George Moffett, Dorsey Hardeman, Charles F. Herring, Frank Owen III, Bruce A. Reagan and William T. Moore.

Other returning senators with half-term assignments were Galloway Calhoun, Jr., Martin Dies, Jr., Abraham Kazen, Jr., David Ratliff and A. R. Schwartz.

Freshmen senators who got the two-year terms were H. H. Blanchard, Don Kennard, Jack Strong and J. P. Word.

Returning senators who held onto four-year terms were A. M. Aikin, Jr., Mrs. Neveline H. Colson, Tom Creighton, Louis Crump, Grady Hazelwood, Culp Kreuger, George Parkhouse, William N. Patman, Andy Rogers and Franklin Spears.

New members drawing full terms were James S. Bates, Criss Cole, Ralph Hall, D. Roy Harrington, Walter Richter and Murray Watson.

However, there is a possibility that a constitutional amendment and new redistricting act may require election of all senators again next year.

Coin Toss Choice—Selection of the president pro tempore of the Texas Senate was determined by the toss of a coin.

Senator Martin Dies, Jr. of Lufkin won over Senator Louis Crump of San Saba when the pair decided to flip a coin for the position, rather than to oppose each other.

Customarily, the selection is made on the basis of seniority.

In this instance, Dies and Crump had equal seniority.

House Rules Fight—Election of Speaker of the House Bryon Tunnell, fourth-term representative from Tyler, took place at the opening of the 58th Legislature with only token opposition — nine votes cast for Rep. John Alaniz of San Antonio.

But the rules fight that followed Tunnell's ascension to the speaker's stand was a different story.

A group led by Rep. Bob Eckhardt of Houston sought to adopt the permanent rules of the 57th Legislature as the temporary rules of the 58th — a custom that has been followed by previous sessions.

The last session operated under temporary rules until its waning days. It adopted its amended rules as its own permanent rules. Thus if the current session had followed suit, it would have necessarily adopted rules, under which no Legislature has operated, as its own.

It decided not to do so, by a vote of 108 to 39.

House Committee Named—Most members of the House of Representatives felt that House Speaker Bryon Tunnell was "very fair" in his committee assignments.

Rep. John Allen of Longview, who made the nominating speech for the new Speaker will head the committee on state affairs; Rep. Ben Barnes of DeLeon will be in charge of hiring and firing for the House as head of the rules committee.

Other choice chairmanships include: Rep. W. S. Heatley, Jr., of Paduch, Appropriations; Rep. Menton J. Murray of Harlingen, Congressional and Legislative Redistricting; Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford, Constitutional Amendments; Rep. Jerry Butler of Kenedy, Labor; and Rep. George Cook of Odessa, Oil, Gas and Mining.

Family Tradition—When Senator Strong took the oath of office as senator from the second district, it marked the 40th anniversary of the day his father, James G. Strong of Carthage, was first sworn in to represent the same area.

In all, there are some 30 separate steps in research to bring a pesticide chemical to market. As many as 8,000 compounds may be screened before a single promising one is found.

Up to six years and 100,000 man-hours of research and testing may go into making sure everything possible is known about the chemical.

The chemical is tested in the greenhouse, in the laboratory, and in test fields. Small quantities then are sent to field stations. Once through these tests, the material will be taken to state agricultural stations and the U. S. Department of Agriculture for extensive testing under field conditions.

All the while it is being tested for possible hazards. Laboratory animals are used to find out effects, if any, when the material is swallowed, if it touches the skin, or if it is inhaled.

fight for legislation to protect persons injured in automobile accidents by uninsured motorists.

His bill calls for a special state fund to pay for personal injury costs incurred in accidents with uninsured drivers.

Any car owner who couldn't prove ability to pay liability when he registered his car, would have to pay $20 into the fund.

Big College Vote Wanted—Senator W. T. Moore of Bryan says he will introduce legislation requiring a vote of the people before a four-year state-supported college can be created.

70 MPH Speed Limit—Rep. Forrest Harding of San Angelo will introduce a bill to increase the maximum speed limit on Texas' highways to 70 miles per hour.

"Old Folks" March—Texas legislators have received a petition which says old folks of the state will camp on the Capitol lawn until they get higher pensions.

The printed petition was signed by Russell Jack Ballard. He identified himself as president of the Good Citizens League of Texas, Wichita Falls.

Child Control—A House committee seeking economy in state government has recommended stricter regulation over state aid for illegitimate dependent children.

The Committee on Saving Taxes adopted a sub-committee report bearing this recommendation, after argument over whether such aid encourages illegitimacy.

Phone Rate Fight Ends—A phone rate dispute, between the City of Weslaco and General Telephone Company of the Southwest, ended in the Texas Supreme Court. Court upheld the city's right to set local rates and the phone company's rights to set rates for long distance calls within Texas.

Controversy began three years ago when General Telephone sought an injunction to keep Weslaco's city commission from setting local rates which the firm considered too low; and to keep the city from establishing intrastate call rates on the same basis as that set by the Federal Communications Commission.

It often costs more to call someone in a city within the state than it does to call the same distance, or even farther, to someone in another state.

Supreme Court upheld a decision made by the 4th Court of Civil Appeals.

Securities Record—State Securities Board says Texas made significant gains as a source of public investment funds in 1962.

In its annual report to Governor Daniel, the Board said the sharp decline in the stock market was no deterrent to public investment in funds which it regulates.

During the year the board granted 695 permits for the sale in Texas of securities valued at $357,340,707.

On the policing side of the board's activities, it reported that three applications, for permits to sell to the public securities at a total of $745,000, were denied.

Report also noted that 22 applications representing $22,417,826 were withdrawn.

More than $445,000 in fees were collected during the year.

Good Neighbor—Austin attorney J. Manley Head has stepped into the role of Texas, No. 1 "good neighbor."

The former legislator has been named chairman of the Texas Good Neighbor Commission.

Head served four years in the House of Representatives and in the Senate from 1936 to 1941. He is a former executive of the Texas Motor Bus Association.

Chiropractic Officers Named—New officers of the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners have been elected.

Dr. G. M. Brasard of Beaumont was chosen as president and Dr. Walter H. Fischer of Temple has been named vice president.

Water Staff—Hydraulic engineer Lewis B. Seward has been added to the staff of the Texas Water Commission.

Chief Engineer John J. Vandertulp said that Seward will work with the water resources planning division.

Conviction Upheld—Brady land promoter B. R. Sheffield has lost another round in his battle to shed his land scandal conviction.

Texas Court of Criminal Appeals has upheld his conviction on charges relating to the Texas veterans land scandals.

Deficit at $53,300,000—State Treasurer Jesse James reported the State General Revenue Fund at a $53,000,000 deficit on December 31, 1962.

More than that reported in November, James said. This figure was $18,400,000. Draft Quota 173—Texas,

Col. Morris S. Seligson reported the February call compares with a quota of 173 for January and 235 for February.

TELEPHONE TALK
by C. A. Deuschle, Manager

AND NOW IT'S 1963
Do you ever get the feeling the years are going by faster than they used to? Seems as if I'd hardly become acquainted with 1962 when 1963 came barging in. Personally, I'll miss 1962. It was a good year, but I know in time I'll get to know 1963 and like it just as well. A new year, like a new pair of shoes, takes some getting used to.

LOOKING BACK
In the telephone business, there's not much time for looking back. There's too much ahead. Still, I'd like to tell you a few highlights of 1962 as I saw them from my job with Southwestern Bell. The most spectacular telephone news in 1962 was — you guessed it — Telstar, the world's first active communications satellite. If ever there was a doubt about which nation leads the world in modern communications — Telstar settled the issue with a bang. Not all telephone progress in 1962 was as dramatic. Many unspectacular — but vitally important — advances were made in providing you with better service. For example, we worked hard on stormproofing the long distance network by placing more telephone cables underground and using more microwave radio relay. This helps us beat the weather by providing insurance against breaks, leaks and other malfunctions. Another project was our cable "pressurization" program. Dry air is pumped through telephone cables and helps keep moisture out if a cable develops a leak. Also, the reduced pressure helps us spot the trouble and fix it — usually before it affects your service. Another big improvement in 1962 was the addition of many tiny voice amplifiers to our telephone lines. These "voice boosters" put new pep in your phone. Whether you telephone across town, across the state, or across the nation, your voice comes through clear and strong. In Burkburnett, telephone progress was made in 1962 with the addition of 261 more telephones here. This means you can now reach more people with your telephone — making your service more valuable to you than ever. Burkburnett had 2,777 total telephones in service at the end of 1962.

ONE LAST THOUGHT
Our never ending goal is to improve your telephone service and make it more valuable to you. And a happy 1963 to you from all of us at Southwestern Bell.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

How Ford spent $100 million to give you more quality for your money

The Ford Motor Company spent $100 million in the past two years to bring you a combination of quality features found in no other cars. Here's how Ford quality pays off for you... whether you drive the big Super Torque Ford, the middleweight Fairlane, or the fun-filled compact Falcon.

Superior ride and performance. For example, $10 million was poured into the development of the Super Torque Ford's incredibly smooth new ride. Additional millions went to design 6- and 8-cylinder engines that let you choose sensational performance or sparkling gas economy... all with minimum maintenance.

More care-free driving. Millions more were spent to perfect Ford's twice-a-year or 6,000-mile maintenance features... now in all Fords and Falcons.

Greater safety. Brakes adjust themselves when necessary. Roofs are reinforced. Doors have safety locks.

Added luxury. Richer, longer lasting upholstery. Carpeting that wears up twice as long as in some cars.

Smarter styling. Ford's Thunderbird-inspired line have set the trend for the whole industry.

Greater resale value. From the big, important like specially galvanized vital underbody parts to long-life batteries... to the "tremendous" value such as extended-life light bulbs and stainless steel exterior screws... your Ford or Falcon will pay off better.

And don't forget—Ford Dealers are quality dealers! We want to keep you happy after you buy... and this is your finest guarantee of value!

Kentucky statesman Henry Clay imported the first Herefords to America in 1817. In 1840, the first breeding herd of Whitefaces was established near Albany, N. Y.

The Hereford line began with a white-faced cow named Silver in the county of Herefordshire, England. Silver was given to Benjamin Tomkins at the time of his father's death.

Several years later, one of Silver's sons was bred to two cows, Pigeon and Mottle. From this union the Hereford breed emerged in 1742.

The Hereford fame for easy fleshing and early maturity spread to the United States where cattlemen were looking for a beef animal that would rustle for itself on America's plains, hills, and mountains.

In the hard winters of 1855-56, the Hereford became known because of its ability to withstand such weather and survive to replenish the shape of the tree? Are bothersome limbs scarping the house. Or do you desire more shade?

Pruning stimulates limb and twig development and consequently the growth of more leaves for shade, says Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent. Mesquite, mimosa and other open growing trees will give more protection if this principle is followed and top limbs are trimmed back three to four feet, she says. This, however, does not mean dehorning.

All limbs should be pruned flush with parent limbs so no stubs will remain to die, decay and harm the tree. A properly made cut rarely needs paint since the tree will heal itself. To relieve excessive weight while pruning large limbs, they may first be severed three to four feet from the main trunk. Pirro to cutting the limb an undercut will prevent bark splitting, Miss Wirges says.

A support from the ground will help prevent this, too. A second undercut on the remaining stub before it is severed at the trunk will avoid splitting as the trunk falls to the ground. Trees may be fertilized immediately after pruning. This way they'll be ready for spring growth, Miss Wirges concludes.

Cotton root rot is one of the most common plant diseases in Texas. It is very common in heavy alkaline soils.

About 80 per cent of the wild are cultivated plants are susceptible in varying degrees to the disease. The fungus may live in some native trees and shrubs without killing them.

Small flowers, shrubs and trees die suddenly after the first wilting symptoms appear. Large shrubs and trees may die more slowly. Miss Wirges says the bark of affected roots is decayed and brownish. Woolly, buff or brownish, fungal strands are present on the surface of the damaged roots.

The whole root system decays, she adds. Bark is rotted off the harder wood of the root, and roots slip out of the soil with comparatively little pulling effort. Under moist conditions, spore mats sometimes appear on the soil surface. These mats are two to twelve inches in diameter, at first snowwhite and cottony; later they appear tan and powdery.

Cotton root rot fungus generally invades new areas by continued slow growth through the soil from plant to plant. It may live in the soil for many years. The disease is often found as deep in the soil as roots penetrate.

The disease is controlled by the growing of resistant or immune trees and shrubs. Certain cultural practices may also help in checking its occurrence. Miss Wirges suggests you keep this in mind as you make and revise your landscape plan and plant shrubs.

Yard improvement demonstrators, in home demonstration work, will be making plans in January and February. Miss Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent, will meet each demonstrator to help with completion of a plan, which is the secret for success. Without such a plan, mistakes can easily be made which will take time, money and energy to correct. Some of the demonstrators who will begin their plans are: Mrs. Kenneth Gage, Mrs. Doyle McAda, Mrs. J. A. Fouts and Miss Amelia Sepneer.

Start taking a look at your home landscape. You may not need a plan for planting, but there may be a need for pruning what you have.

There's a reason for pruning any tree or shrub and a home owner should have that reason in mind before he ruins one of the family's prize possessions with his sharpened shears.

Start at the rear of this Fleetside pickup. Grab the tailgate and pull hard. No give. Two wedge latches keep it tight. Now unfasten them and let down the gate. Jump up and down on it. Does it sag? Notice how the chains are wrapped in rubber so they won't rattle or mar paint.

Now look at the lower side panels. Two walls. You might dent the inside one but it won't show through. The floor will never rust. It's select wood, not metal.

Now please sit in the cab a minute. Comfortable? It also is double walled and the roof is insulated. Let's start 'er up and look for a washboard road. Chevrolet coil-spring suspensions fight road shock better than other types, good for the truck, load and the driver.

There are other things. But you can see why this is a truck that does a job without a lot of pampering. It's built right. Which is why it's usually worth more at trade-in. When would you like us to deliver it?

JanLee Baptist Church Votes To Build New Education Building

JanLee Baptist Church was organized on September 9, 1962 with 212 charter members. On Sunday JanLee had 307 in day school and 152 in Training Union. Since this time a record attendance of 317 in day school and 175 in Training Union has been registered. By the time JanLee organized, we were already at a critical point. We began immediately to pray concerning how we could enter our organizations. We began two new departments in Sunday School and new unions in Training Union since organization. We still need more room.

After much consideration, meditation and prayer, the recommendation was presented to the church on January 9, 1963 that we build a forty foot Education Building to provide for two departments. The church accepted the recommendation.

In order to build this new building it was decided that we would borrow $25,000.00 and raise $10,000.00 cash. Work was begun immediately to arrange for the money. It is hoped by the membership of JanLee that work can be started within the very near future on the erection of the building.

Many persons live in rural areas because they don't like to be "fenced in" by crowded cities. Yet, when improving their home, they usually want to put up a fence.

This really is no mystery because the right fence does much more than outline yard space. Like a picture frame, it improves the house's appearance. It keeps children and pets in the yard and out of trouble. It discourages trespassers.

And it provides a private spot for playing, sunning and dining that even the lover of wide open spaces can appreciate.

Roger W. Babson Weekly Report

ROGER W. BABSON

BABSON DISCUSSES WHAT 1963 LACKS

I have been criticized for forecasting a moderate decline in 1963. I admit that most of the forecasts by others have been for good business — "at least as good and probably much better in 1963." I sincerely hope that they are right and I am wrong.

My wise father many times said to me, "Roger, it is wrong for you to mislead others who really have confidence in you. Tell them that you do not know if you wish; but when you make a statement be sure you have the reason therefor." Hence this week I will give you two reasons for my doubts about 1963:

(1) Unemployment is sure to increase during 1963; those employed, (who, statistics show, should be more numerous in 1963) will not get overtime work. This means they will not have so much "take-home" pay. The government figures for employment and unemployment are very tricky. Actually, the government should make only one computation in this whole area — namely, the total take-home pay of all wage workers.

(2) An important second reason is that employers do not know how President Kennedy really feels toward the nation's business leaders. We know he is surrounded by a group of very liberal advisers — mostly college professors who have been dependent on endowed funds for their salaries. Very few of them have ever been obligated to "earn a living" as most readers have. Furthermore, the President himself is a very rich man enjoying trust funds set up by his father, Joseph P. Kennedy, who is said to be worth over $300,000,000. In addition, the President knows that business leaders are in the great minority in terms of prospective votes; wage workers not in business for themselves represent the big majority.

Importance of Larger Exports

The government is constantly urging manufacturers to install new machinery and increase production. With the present excess of commodities, this means we must develop more foreign trade. To do this efficiently our manufacturers should be encouraged to combine to form trade associations. They now do not dare to do this for fear that the President's brother Robert, who is Attorney General, will prosecute them under the Anti-Trust laws. These outdated laws should be

Projects of Fifth Grade Class

This picture shows one of many projects which Mrs. Wolf's Fifth Grade at Sheppard-Burkburnett School has completed.

During the study of the mid-west and plain states, our interest was directed toward farming. Our science unit also was about farming and conservation. Each person or couple selected a phase of this subject and reproduced their idea in cardboard and clay.

Machinery, types of farming irrigation, soil erosion, and even a county fair are on display in our room.

This project allowed us an opportunity to organize and plan, then see the plan develop into a project. We learned about growing seasons, old and new methods of farming and the chances a farmer takes when dealing with mother nature.

We also have become more aware of the need for a good program of conservation for our country.

gress will probably pass in 1963 to take effect January 1, 1964, should re-elect President Kennedy in November 1964. But this is no time to talk about 1964. My interest today is in discussing business in 1963 and my reasons for forecasting a "decline." To repeat. The real reason is the attitude of the President's brother Robert, who should interpret the Anti-Trust laws so they can be used cooperatively to develop foreign trade abroad. This is what 1963 lacks. Business leaders are scared.

Take Care of Gunstock

You are lucky if you have a fine gunstock — one that has been carefully treated with linseed oil by the manufacturer.

Take care of your fine stock by giving it the same loving care the gunsmith gave it. After each hunting trip carefully rub down with linseed oil. Rub oil in for at least a half hour, then wipe surplus oil off and briskly polish stock with soft, clean cloth.

Waterproof Trick

Daubing leather boots with waterproof dressing and rubbing it in with the fingers is a messy job to say the least. You'll find it much easier to heat the dressing until it becomes thin, and then paint it on with an old brush. The thinner dressing also penetrates the leather better.

Farm Facts

Farmers buy the same things city folks buy—food, clothing, drugs, furniture, and other items. These purchases amount to more than $15 billion a year. But farmers spend from $25 billion to $35 billion annually for goods and services to produce crops and livestock.

Furthermore, says the U. S. Department of Agriculture, farmers are expected to be even better customers. Their gross income in 1961, after all totals are in, is expected to be about $1 1/2 billion more than in 1960.

Farmers are big buyers.

Equipment and machinery purchases may be from $100 million to $150 million higher. Farmers will spend more for other production items—fuel, oil and other petroleum products, pesticides, fertilizer, and containers. Some will improve their homes, or build new ones. Others will make capital investments in new or better farm service buildings.

Farmers also will use a part of their increased incomes for automobiles, clothing, medicine, education for their children, and other things.

This creates and maintains non-farm employment and makes labor's buying power more stable. Farmers, in turn, will have a steadier demand for their products.

A fence is like a picture frame for your home.

The handyman can put up a fence with little trouble. You can get much of the fence materials pre-cut. Even the chore of post-hole digging can be reduced with attachments for larger power drills.

Pick a design that harmonizes with architecture of your home. It should also blend with the neighborhood or surrounding countryside. A modern wove fence that enhances a low-slung ranch home could look odd around some large, old frame house. Naturally be sure your design fulfills actual fencing-in requirements and abides by any local ordinances.

CONSTRUCTION TIPS: Space fence posts according to length of rails to save lumber and sawing. Use rust-resistant nails, screws, bolts and hinges. Use enduring wood like oak or red cedar for posts and treat with a good preservative like creosote. Pickets, rails and boards should receive a cover of lead and oil paint or preservative stain. You'll get the best protection from the elements if you prime and apply the first of two finish coats before assembling the parts.

At this time we are living in a world full of tension. Fears of nuclear war are with us every day. In times past, men have made one of two choices... to rely on their own abilities... or to do what they can and place their lives in the hands of the Lord. The Bible tells us how men fared with the choices that they made. The strength of God is sufficient for all our needs, and men who humbled themselves and trusted in God always fared better. Let us judge our future by the past and rely on God for our needs.

ATTEND CHURCH SUNDAY

© Coleman Adv. Serv., P. O. Box 4887, Dallas, Texas

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Grow Your Own Duck Blind
Building a good duck blind is something of a chore. Result is not half as effective as growing one on the spot. You can make a most natural looking blind by planting millet seed (a fast grower) about a foot wide around a wooden frame on a lake or stream bank that inundates. Millet is a fast grower. But it must have a spring rise and summer drying. If planting is done about 3 months before duck season, you'll have a thick growth of grassy stuff that's just right in height, ready for the fall shooting.

1963 RAMBLER WINS "CAR OF THE YEAR" AWARD

from Motor Trend Magazine

Each year the automobile industry eagerly awaits the selection of one car as "Car of the Year" by Motor Trend's impartial experts. For 1963, this most-wanted, hardest-to-get honor goes to Rambler... "for outstanding design achievement and engineering leadership." Read why Rambler won this prized award over all other cars.

Here are some of the experts' reasons:

- New styling is based on clean lines that are appealing from almost any angle.
- Motor Trend's Cars of the Year prove their mettle in actual testing, confirm their engineering excellence, reliability, soundness and performance.
- Quality has always been one of American Motors' largest selling points.
- The unitized bodies, which American Motors pioneered, this latest design represents a real advancement... biggest single reason we chose Rambler Car of the Year.
- This new construction method results in a unit so strong it'll take punishment longer and naturally hold its resale value.
- The interiors of both the Classic and Ambassador are roomy and comfortable... offer plenty of legroom.

CAR OF THE YEAR

RAMBLER

"A good safety device. Self-adjusting brakes and dual master cylinders... if one system fails, the other brings the car to a safe stop."

"Trunk is large. Low loading lip makes it simple to load."

"Our Classic... with the rugged, ohv in-line Six... gave a high of 26.7 mpg highway cruising... mixed city and freeway gave 23.4."

"A sportier, more performance-oriented vehicle, the Ambassador V-8 should satisfy the wants of the Rambler buyer who favors performance."

"There isn't any pitch or choppiness noticeable even on rough roads."

"Summing up... it looks like the new Rambler will be an even better buy than it has been in previous years."

Why don't you look at the 1963 Rambler? Best-selling Rambler ever built!
