The lace covered bodice featured a sweetheart neckline and long tapered sleeves. Mrs. W. F. Bollinger Suggestion Wins Cash Award At SAFB Blood Bank Sets All Time Record

SHEPPARD AFB, Texas — The inventive awards program at Sheppard Air Force Base received nationwide recognition for the first time this month, when a supervisory pamphlet published by the Civil Service Commission in Washington, D. C., was distributed to all federal agencies throughout the country.

Under the caption, "They found a way to reduce paperwork," the pamphlet contains a picture of Mrs. Willie Faye Bollinger of Sheppard AFB and her contribution to the base suggestion program. Mrs. Bollinger is supervisor of outbound household goods in the 3750th Maintenance and Supply Group transportation office.

Colonel Claud L. McIver, Jr., group commander, Wednesday presented Mrs. Bollinger a copy of the pamphlet which had been sent through official channels from the Directorate of Civilian Personnel, Headquarters, United States Air Force, Washington, with a letter of commendation for Mrs. Bollinger on her achievement.

The picture in the pamphlet shows how Mrs. Bollinger's suggestion entitled, "Consolidated Billing of Non-Temporary Storage," has cut paperwork eighty per cent and saved $48,000 annually by streamlining quarterly payment to local storage contractors. She received a $440 cash award through the base Military - Civilian Incentive Awards Committee after the suggestion was adopted at base level in September 1961.

At that time the award was the highest ever earned for a suggestion by a civilian employee at Sheppard. This January, however, William E. Tadlock of the 4225th Strategic Wing, Sheppard received a $515 suggestion award, topping that of Mrs. Bollinger. He suggested that oil pressure switches be used to protect against engine failure on C-26 and MD-3 generator sets for an estimated first year savings of $10,431.

Mrs. Bollinger lives at 107 Hyland Drive in Burkburnett, Texas, with her husband, Warren, and daughter Janice, a freshman at Burkburnett High School. Mr. Bollinger, also a Sheppard employee, is a building engineer at 3750th Civil Engineering Group. They also have a son, Bobby, who is stationed with the army at Fort Campbell, Kentucky.

Mrs. Bollinger has been in Civil Service at Sheppard over fourteen years, and in the transportation office since May 1958.

Billy Graham Film Scheduled For Feb. 11 At First Baptist Church

Evangelist Billy Graham fulfills an ambition of many years as he tells the fascinating story of ancient "JERUSALEM," in World Wide Pictures' newest film release.

This film will be shown Monday night, February 11th at 7:00 p. m. in the main auditorium of the First Baptist Church. The premiere showing of this hour-long colored motion picture is sponsored by the Brotherhood of the church.

The City of Jerusalem, for four thousand years the focal point of human history and Divine intervention, has been totally destroyed on at least two occasions; has been captured by conquering armies more than thirty times; but has rebuilt from the rubble of its own ruins to outlive all conquerors, clinging to its rock foundations as if determined to await a future day of glory.

Dramatic vignettes provide effective transition sequences beginning with the Conquest of the Promised Land, continuing to the present dilemma of the divided City; Moses and Joshua atop Mount Nebo overlook the Jordan Valley; Mary and Joseph make their weary way along the Jericho Road toward Bethlehem; we see Mary Magdalene, both as a young girl in Galilee and as the sorrowing woman at the Garden Tomb; and the Centurian who stood at the foot of the Cross witnesses to his new found faith. All this symbolizes the dynamic of

A TAX REFUND SAVINGS

The new plan to give U. S. taxpayers the opportunity to take refunds in Savings Bonds is one that should prove a boon to individual citizens, as well as a constructive step in the direction of easing the Nation's debt management problem.

Public interest in this plan has been evident for a long time. A recent survey indicated that a significant number of taxpayers who received refunds last year might have taken them in Bonds if given the option. Individual taxpayers can benefit from the plan by making it a method of insuring that their refunds are not simply absorbed into household money, to vanish in day-to-day spending. The plan will permit the setting aside of the nucleus of a special fund for educating their children, planning for retirement, and the like. And for all taxpayers it represents an opportunity to own a real share in America while earning a good return on their money.

The Treasury hopes to benefit from the plan, too. At present more than 45 million dollars in Series E and H Savings Bonds are outstanding, nearly one sixth of the national debt. The Treasury is keenly interested in increasing the amount of money in Bonds, since every dollar in this type of security is a dollar less than the Treasury has to raise through the commercial banking system. The Treasury is also aware of the beneficial effect that Savings Bonds have in encouraging the habit of thrift and in helping to maintain economic stability in communities throughout the country.

Just as the Payroll Savings Plan has appealed to many people because it is an automatic way of saving, it is expected that the new tax refund plan will be popular for much the same reason. The Treasury hopes so. It would be well for all citizens who are expecting

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Despite all the ballyhoo, the nation's independent business and professional people, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, overwhelmingly oppose plan to permit the President to adjust income tax rates to meet varied economic conditions. In fact, only a scant 10% express favor of such a measure.

Obviously, the high tax rates are a drag on the economy even in boom periods. When C. W. Harder there is a slowdown in the economy, the drag is even greater. Thus, when business slows up, it is perhaps logical to permit immediate reduction of taxes to put more money into circulation. This point of view has been widely propagandized for many months, and it does sound logical.

Yet the business and professional men of the nation oppose what sounds like a logical procedure. This despite the fact that small tradesmen, in time of economic slowdown, have most to gain from people having more money to spend.

But there is a far greater issue involved here which the business and professional people recognize. Briefly, they are afraid of any further stripping of power from Congress to hand over to executive branch of government, no matter who resides at 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue.

There is a growing realization that the cult of personality worship can well destroy the American democracy, as the National Federation of Independent Business it has destroyed others in the past. Before Hitler could rise to power, Reichstag had to be subordinated. Before Julius Caesar waxed great, Roman Senate had to be minimized.

The early framers of the American Constitution knew that tax and revenue matters could only be vested in a widely elected House of Representatives. And only in the authority of a legislative body elected by the people was a perpetuation of democracy possible.

Nations that have endured as a government of all the people have only done so by maintaining as sacred the prerogatives of the people's representatives.

In England a king was headed because he dared invade the House of Commons. In 1917 Communists only came into power in Russia when Bolsheviks took over the Duma with tommy-guns.

Much has been done in American political publicity in the past two decades or so to destroy the prestige of the House of Representatives to enhance the stature of the executive branch of government.

It is possible that a century or so ago it was possible to sell the Great White Father in Washington concept to the untutored Indian.

But the majority of the American people with a basic understanding of economics apparently feel that the only safeguard is in the duly elected Congress.

That is perhaps why, more than at any time in many years, more attention is being focused on the Congressmen from each district.

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance

Q I am uninsurable, but am very much sold on the value of life insurance as a plan for accumulating money, as well as death protection. What I would particularly like is some such plan to accumulate liquid assets for the day I die. Is there any way I can do this?

A. There are several things you can do. You can put your money into the purchase of a deferred annuity or pure retirement income plan, without death protection. This would accumulate liquid assets at a very attractive rate. Or, you could purchase life insurance on other members of your family. Undoubtedly, there are insurable interests that have not been adequately insured for them. You do not give your family picture, but if you have children, there is special need for insurance on your wife, as her death would leave a large increase in financial responsibility. And such a policy would accumulate cash values immediately available in case of your death. Policies on the lives of the children would also be a consideration, both to start them out on insurance planning and thrift at an early age and to accumulate liquid assets. If you do not have children, you would probably have an interest in your wife's purchasing a retirement income plan for herself. But before all of this, check up on yourself. Perhaps you are now insurable, even though at an extra premium. Underwriting regulations are in a continuous process of liberalization.

Q. My husband had three $5,000 policies and I have received only $14,000 in payment of his death claim, instead of the full $15,000. Could you explain why this was reduced?

A. Undoubtedly, your late husband had borrowed on his life insurance, either to pay premiums or for some emergency need.

Any outstanding policy loans are deducted from the face amount of the policy, when a death claim is paid. You must have received an itemization of this, explaining it, when you received the claim payment, but possibly overlooked in the confusion. Why not write your company for another detailed explanation, so that you will understand?

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Boggs had a double birthday dinner at their home Sunday for their mothers, Mrs. Florence Boggs of Randlett and Mrs. R. A. Martin, Sr., of Walters, Oklahoma. Mrs. Boggs, 78, years young and Mrs. Martin, 77 years young both birthday's fall on January 30. Those present for the dinner were the honorees and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Etier, Mr. and Mrs. Freddie Davis and son Donny, Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Martin and Larry, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Boggs and daughter Donna, Mr. R. A. Martin, Sr., and Mrs. Billie Boggs. Several called in the afternoon wishing them many happy returns.

IT'S BEAN NICE

A teacher called for sentences using the word "beans."
"My father grows beans," said the bright boy of the class.
"My mother cooks beans," said another pupil.
Then a third popped up: "We are all human beans."

The recent hard freeze may be repeated several times before spring. The experienced gardener is more concerned with thaws than with the sudden low temperatures. He will supply immediate moisture before direct sun strikes the plant. Freezing is also a drying out process and adequate water should be given to damaged plants.

Many familiar garden shrubs take on a frozen appearance with stiff foliage and darkened leaves and stems. This does not mean the plant is damaged. A plant that shows split bark has been definitely hurt.

Often a quick thaw will leave small plants completely out of the ground. Pansies are uprooted. Replant these and water soil well. The blooms will have been ruined but this hardy little flowering plant will recover almost at once.

Outside garden work being at a standstill, any leisure time could be taken to study the catalogs or visit the garden shops making selections of seed and plant stock. An old file of garden magazines is splendid for accumulating growing information.

All types of roses can be planted now and with good results — even better than with spring planting. Many roses are available in nurseries and selections made at this time would insure the buyer of wide choices.

Geraniums are not hard to start from seed. Order a packet now and plant them in late January or early February. Many interesting plans may result. Geranium seed are planted upright. The wide end of the seed is the top. Push each seed into the soil.

Set African violet plants away from window ledges air. Outside cold will damage the tender foliage. Place the gift azalea plants in a cool room. A constant warm temperature will shorten the blooming period.

Mrs. Kenneth Gage is serving as a yard improvement demonstrator for 1963. Mrs. Gage has just completed her plans, which include: soil improvement, evergreen shrubs for front foundation plantings, a screen area, lawn improvement and an area for annuals and perennials.

Now is an excellent time to get a landscape plan on paper. It is also a good time to start cuttings or even buy a few shrubs and get them planted. Make your selection and plant on a pretty day.

If we have a few warm days, don't prune for a few days. Pruning encourages new growth, which can be easily killed.

Parents Urge: 'Belt 'em For Safety'

"Don't be caught dead sitting on your seat belt," was the theme of a safety article by 4-H National Safety Winner Gayle Gillen, 17, of Bartlett, Tennessee.

She was typical among eight national winners of $400 General Extension Service scholarships for outstanding 4-H farm, home and highway projects. The winners also received all-expense trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago.

The "safety-prone" boys and girls pointed out that all new cars since 1962 are equipped with front seat belt connections.

Safety authorities estimate that some 5,000 lives would be saved annually if everyone wore a seat belt. Moreover, traffic accident injuries could be reduced more than one third.

Despite increasing purchases of the belts and widely published information on their effectiveness, many people who have belts use them," said Gayle.

"They feel they're safe just driving to the store," she added. It has been established that three out of four traffic fatalities occur within 25 miles of home. Over half of traffic accidents resulting in either injury or death involve speeds under 40 miles per hour.

The national winners were selected from a group of 42 state winners. General Motors, now in its 19th year as safety belt donor, also gave state winners all-expense trips to the Congress.

The 4-H safety program is conducted by the Extension Service at state agricultural colleges, the United States Department of Agriculture and the National 4-H Service Committee.

Other national winners include: Leiland Alexander, 17, Okmulgee, Okla.; Jeanette Arsurva, 13, Bakersfield, Cal.; Phyllis Brooks, Auburn, Mass.; Bobby Cofer, 12, Forest, Va.; Jim Lowe, 17, Union, Col.; Sandra Price, 13, St. Francis, Kan. and Jewell, 21, Morton, Ill.

For advice for the nation's motorists:
WHEN YOU GET IN YOUR CAR, FIRST FASTEN YOUR SEAT BELT. THEN FLIP THE KEY.

The time comes, as it has to occasionally, when a man looks back on his life with some regret.

"T" AND "U"
T and U shaped floor plans are popular because of their adaptability to outdoor-indoor living.

With these designs, many rooms are grouped around patios and have identical outdoor extensions. According to the Southern Pine Association, wood plank-and-beam construction is efficient for the T or U shaped home with extra roof strength permitting the ample window areas and simplified partitioning the plans require.

The tighter storm doors fit, the better they serve their purpose. And if the inner door is well fitted and weather stripped, an effective insulating space is created to cut down heat loss in winter. But even this good practice creates a problem.

Q.—"Every time I close the front door last winter, the storm door would be pushed open. So I put a new latch on the storm door. This held, but then it took a real effort to close the door. Any solution?"

Escape valve will break seal between inner and storm door.

A.—You obviously have created a good air seal. To avoid the resistance of the trapped air on closing, use your power drill to make a one-inch hole near the bottom of the storm door. Cover it on the outside with a small flap of leather or rubber, attached only at the top. It will serve as an air escape valve.

Q.—"What is the easiest way to strengthen stairs that have too much spring or 'give' to them? All the lumber seems sound."

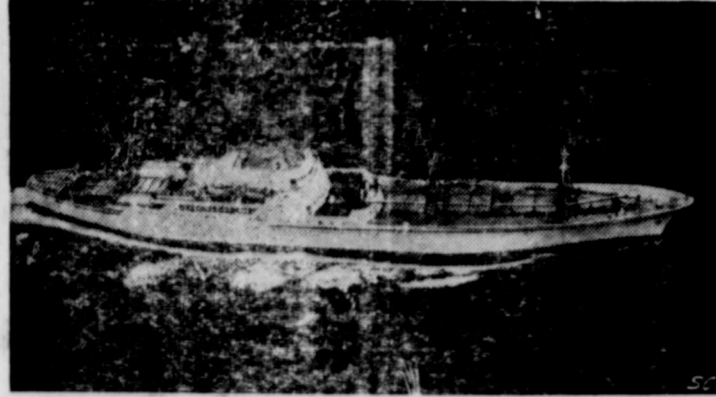

A.—The simplest method is to bolt 2 x 4's to the inside of the stringers, the diagonal pieces that hold the treads and risers. Run the 2 x 4's the length of the stringers, flush with the bottom edges. Drill bolt holes about 10 inches apart, staggered rather than in a straight line.

Q.—"We bought our first no-basement home and I'm fixing it up. What should I look for in the crawl space?"

A.—As long as your subfloor and beams are not damaged by rot and don't need replacing, your main concern is preventing such damage—along with cold and dampness in the house—by stopping moisture penetration from below. To achieve this, the crawl space should be at least 26 inches deep. The floor should be insulated with foil or plastic sheeting.

Our First Nuclear Ship

This is a photo of the 22,000-ton N. E. (for nuclear ship) Savannah, the world's first nuclear powered cargo-passenger ship. The Savannah is on a port-by-port schedule that will take the ship to major seaports throughout the United States.

The N. S. Savannah is named for the S. S. Savannah, the first vessel using steam to cross the Atlantic some 144 years ago. It took the original Savannah nearly a month to travel from Savannah, Ga., to Liverpool, England on this historic voyage back in 1819.

The nuclear Savannah is able to operate on longer runs at higher sustained speeds and is able to carry larger cargoes than conventional steamships today. Reason? Its reactors require much less space than conventional oil-burning equipment and fuel tanks.

The nuclear vessel was developed jointly by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission and the Maritime Administration of the U. S. Department of Commerce. States Marine Lines of New York operates the ship as general agent for the Maritime Administration. States Marine has supplied the ship's crew, including deck officers and highly trained reactor engineers.

The N. S. Savannah is intended to demonstrate to the world (1) the intent of the United States to employ the power of the atom for peaceful productive purposes and (2) the feasibility of using nuclear energy to power merchant ships.

The Savannah is a 595½-foot long single propeller ship. She has six full decks and is designed to carry 60 passengers and 10,000 tons of dry cargo.

The vessel will be open to the public at the various ports of call.

THREE ADVANTAGES

Southern Pine has three important advantages for lamination—a process of gluing and engineering standard lumber into arches, beams, or columns of immense size:

1. It is the strongest of structural woods.
2. It is properly seasoned and "pre-shrunk" for full stability and extra strength.
3. Being light in color, it is adaptable to the variety of finishes that may be applied.

Training Dog To Heel

The job of training your bird dog to heel — one of the first lessons — is not too difficult. You can make the job even easier if you will strap a belt around your leg just above the knee.

Snap a short leash from the dog's collar to the belt. Every time the pooch tries to walk ahead slap his nose. He'll soon learn to walk beside you like a gentleman.

GOLDEN WOOD

Southern Pine is often identified as the "golden wood" — a reference to its natural sun-shiny color.

SHIRLEY DELL THAXTON, RONALD LEE SNIDER ARE WED

Shirley Dell Thaxton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. S. Thaxton of 805 East College, and Ronald Lee Snider, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herman E. Snider of North Avenue D, were married by the Rev. Hollis Morley of the First Baptist Church on Saturday night, February 2, at eight o'clock.

The ceremony was performed under a nuptial arch covered with greenery and white pom poms, flanked by two pair of white pillars holding white tapestries entwined with greenery and white pom poms. Baskets of white mums and yuletide roses were placed together with white satin which extended to the posts. The archway was draped with a white kneeling Caroline Clement, vocalist, and Mrs. Vernon Duke, organist, provided traditional wedding selections.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a long length gown of white lace with a fitted bodice accented with a scalloped neckline and long tapereeves. The front of the dress was complemented by an ice panel and tiered ruffled down the back. A fingertip veil of nylon in lace to match her dress was attached to a double seed pearls. She carried a white orchid set in white mums atop a white sash accented with white satiners tied in love knots. James Medley of Dallas was the bride's honor attendant, serving as bridesmaid, Miss Patricia Thaxton, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Rogere, sister of the groom. Identical ensembles of red taffeta were styled with bell-shaped skirts and fitted bodices with scooped necklines. The sleeveless dresses were accented with elbow white gloves. Their headpieces were red sequin covered with matching red and they carried nosegays of white shattered carnations

The groom attended Duncan High School in Duncan, Oklahoma where he lettered in basketball two years. He served in the U. S. Navy and is presently a building contractor in Burk Burnett where the couple will make their home at 511 4th St.

Marine Sgt. James C. Talley and family left Sunday for Beaufort, South Carolina, after a few days visit here with his family and sister, Elsie Smith.

THE CHURCH IN EVERYONE
The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor.

Even when you know the proper way to climb with skis and the way up becomes easier, it still exerts you. However, the way is made even less of an effort when you think of the rewarding ride down.

The reward of an eternal life with God is easier still because it is a gift.

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

World-Wide Mormon Church Centers in Salt Lake City

Salt Lake City, nestled between the Rocky Mountains and the Great Salt Lake, is headquarters of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints (Mormon), having a membership of about one and three-quarters million throughout the world. LEFT: "This is the Place," Brigham Young's prophetic words, are preserved on this monument commemorating the arrival of the Mormon Pioneers in the West in 1847. RIGHT: Temple Square, marked by lofty spires of the Mormon Temple and dome-roofed Tabernacle. BOTTOM: Famed for over 30 years of national weekly broadcasts, many recordings and frequent concert tours is the 375-voice Tabernacle Choir. The choir and equally renowned organ are Latter-day Saints cultural achievements.

VETERANS

Questions & Answers

Q—How many U. S. veterans are still living, and how does this total compare with the all-time high?

A—On January 1, 1963, there were 22,225,000 U. S. veterans of all wars still living. This compares with the all-time high of 22,735,000, which was reached in March, 1958.

Q—As the widow of a World War II veteran with two children, I understand World War II widows and orphans are now eligible to receive pensions on the same basis as World War I dependents. What are the conditions for eligibility and how much would the pension amount to?

A—The World War II deceased veteran no longer is required to have had a service-connected disability at the time of his death. Your income must be less than $3000 a year. Your pension would range from $25 to $60 a month, adding $15 a month for each child.

Q—As a veteran with a GI home loan, I understand I may make additional payments to retire the loan faster than my contract stipulates. What is the minimum extra payment I may make?

A—You may pay an additional $100 with your monthly payment or an additional monthly payment, whichever is the smaller payment.

Q—If they built clothes closets as big as bed rooms, people would use them as bed rooms and the search for adequate closet space would begin all over again.

Walker

Next to locking the doors and shutting off the telephone, the quickest way to privacy and solitude in this modern urban world is to take a walk.

An automobile offers a kind of privacy but the driver must be so alert to traffic hazards that a joyride is no longer relaxing.

In walking, particularly on a Sunday or holiday, you are usually completely alone. Few walk. The autos pile up at crossings, headed one knows not where, but presumably as far away from home as their drivers can get.

The walker enjoys an exclusiveness equal to that conferred on royalty in ancient days, a privilege valued by few in a democracy, also.

Car Buyers' Bulletin

What do they have to compete with our middleweight Fairlane?

not a thing!

Fairlane is in a class by itself. It gives you the winning combination of big-car room, ride, performance—yet it handles and costs more like the compacts!

Fairlane is almost 15 inches longer than the compact Chevy II. It has more leg room, front and rear!

Fairlane is a foot shorter than the big Chevy... far easier to park and handle. Yet Fairlane has more effective front leg room... practically the same head room and trunk space! And Fairlane is priced even lower than some compacts!
