Rotarians Hear Tribute to Governor

J. Harold Farmer

During the local Rotary Tuesday noon, Dr. J. Farmer, Rotary Governor for this area, linked Burkburnett with more than half a million other business and professional men who are members of Rotary Clubs in communities around the world.

Rotary clubs are functioning in more than 15,000 communities in 120 countries," he said, "despite the diversity of languages, customs, and religious beliefs, and working toward such common goals as betterment of the community, the promotion of high standards in business and the advancement of understanding."

Former of North Texas University of Denton, was Burkburnett Tuesday making his first visit to the local Rotary, one of the 41 clubs in the district.

During the program of the district, Burkburnett was the guest speaker at First Baptist Church, Burkburnett this Sunday, July 28th, at both the morning and evening services.

Get - Acquainted Party Held Saturday In Brashears Home

A Get-Acquainted party was held Saturday morning, July 20th in the home of Mrs. George Brashears, 811 Mimosa. Hostesses for the morning coffee were Mesdames Patty Goettman, Jack Alexander, Tally Sykes and Mrs. Brashears.

The party was held so that the residents on Mimosa Street could meet and become acquainted with each other. Often times during these busy days people do not even know their next door neighbor. It was amazing to find that the guests present represented several states in our nation and some of them had traveled abroad.

Coffee and donuts were served. Those attending were Mesdames Bryon Key, Ted Wiedman and daughter, Jacquil Green, Don Wortham, Donald Leist, Dan Elliott, Vernon Thomas and daughter, Leland Harsh, Clyde Taylor, Paul Price and the hostesses.

Rebekah Lodge By Cora Lee Harmon

Cora Lee Harmon attended the Wichita Community 3rd Sunday Singing held at 3218 Iowa Park Road last Sunday.

Family night of the Odd Fellows and Rebekahs will be held at 7:00 p. m. Thursday night at the IOOF Hall. The Rebekahs will be hostess.

Sunday, July 14th, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Clingman, Iowa Park and Cora Lee Harmon visited in Walters, Oklahoma, visiting with Mrs. Nettie Clingman. Since that was the second Sunday and singing day, Mrs. Harmon attended with her cousin, Mrs. Boren, Lindsey, Oklahoma.

The Past Noble Grand Club met the fourth Thursday night of June with Cora Lee Harmon. The club agreed to dispense with the July meeting due to hot weather. Some of the members recited the un-written work to the Lodge Deputy. After the roll call of officers, refreshments of punch, coffee and cookies were served by the hostesses. The meeting closed with a prayer by Elizabeth Gragg.

News Letter From Congressman Purcell Describes Guantanamo Naval Base As Highly Important Stronghold of Freedom

Located on the southeastern corner of the island of Cuba is the site of one of the most important strongholds of freedom in the world, the U. S. Naval Base at Guantanamo Bay.

On July 13 and 14 I visited this vital U. S. Base which is surrounded on three sides by Castro's communist troops and on the other side by the waters of the Carr-bean. The troops serve two purposes for Castro. One is to keep watch on the U. S. troops at Guantanamo. The important function they appear to serve, however, is to keep disgruntled poor, and hungry Cubans from escaping communist domination in Cuba for freedom in Guantanamo.

To make the job of the guards easier, Castro has cleared all the trees and brush from a one hundred yard strip around the base, enabling sentries to more easily spot would-be exiles.

The job of maintaining this isolated spot of freedom is a difficult one. Close watch must be kept at all times on the boundary of the base. It's relatively small piece of real estate, 28,000 acres, stretching for about nine miles east and west along the southern coast of Cuba, and going inland for about five miles.

Everywhere the U. S. Marines maintain a sentry post; the Cubans have set up one just across the fence. The result is that our sentries and theirs exchange stares and glares around the clock.

There is only one gate to the base. This is located on the northeast corner. Through this gate pass the 2,500 Cuban citizens still employed on the base. Actually, there are two gates at this location, one Cuban and one American, on opposite sides of the line. The "line" at this point, is a white painted line on the paved walkway between the U. S. and Cuban gates. This line joins a cyclone type fence topped with barbed wire which forms the boundary for the rest of the base.

I feel it is good that we have this substantial number of Cubans still working on the base and returning at night to their homes in nearby Guantanamo City. For the people of Cuba, this is the only direct contact left with freedom. The people who work on the base are carefully screened, and we know they are telling the story of freedom to their families who live in poverty under the domination of a communist dictatorship across the fence.

We know also that the only substantial meals the employees get are while they are working on the base. The Cubans will not let the Cuban employees take any food, clothing, medicine or merchandise off the base. When their frequent searches turn up medicine, or food being taken to a sick or hungry child, it is confiscated.

Our troops at Guantanamo lead a confining life in a constantly tense situation. Almost without exception, they manage to maintain a remarkable morale level. The families who live on the base are an amazingly happy group. The mothers and children all seem to like their life at "Gitmo", as they call it.

The morale of the troops is a heartwarming thing. One Marine lieutenant, who took me on a tour of the fence line, has been quickly sent to Gitmo during the Cuban crisis, just as many of our men in Texas were called to duty during the Berlin crisis. This lieutenant had been home with his wife just seven hours last fall from an eleven month overseas tour. He received a call to report for duty and was rushed to Guantanamo when the crisis broke on October 22. He has been there ever since. Was he bitter? On the contrary, he told me he would like to be back with his wife and family of course. But, he said, he felt like his job at Gitmo is a useful and important one, and that he was willing to stay as long as he is needed.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if more Americans had this kind of dedication to the preservation of freedom and our way of life, the same kind of dedication displayed by Texas men during the Berlin call-up?

Why is it so important for us to retain the Naval Base at Guantanamo? For one thing, we are determined to show Castro that we will not back down on the treaty which gives us the right to this base. We will, most certainly, use any method necessary to keep possession of the base.

In addition to the psychological importance in the cold war of the U. S. staying there, there is an overriding need for the Navy to retain the base. Its fine natural bay, its outstanding year round weather conditions, and its vital strategic location in the Caribbean, make Guantanamo the most logical and most important training base for our Atlantic fleet. Complete training operations continue as always at Guantanamo, and will not be interrupted.

The water supply at the base comes from a river pumping station about five miles inside Cuban territory. Castro has never shut off the water, even during the crisis. It looks like he is convinced, as I am, that we mean to stay there at all costs. He has never made a move to remove us from the base or force us to leave by any means.

It is a strange feeling to look across a fence and see a communist soldier staring back. It serves to renew your determination to do all you can to see that Cuba and other imprisoned nations are eventually returned to the people. It is an experience I will never forget. Nor will I forget the wonderful people who man this strategic outpost, defending it for you and me, around the clock, around the calendar. But most, important, I will never forget the Cubans I saw returning to their homes from the base in the evening, and their families I did not see. The memory of these people will always serve to strengthen my conviction that freedom must prevail for all people of all nations.

Let us all hope and pray that the day is not far off when there will be no need for barbed wire fences or walls to separate free people from imprisoned people, the day when the world will truly find a way to live in peace and good will.

Son of the Man Who Drilled Original Fowler Discovery Well To Drill in Red River Lands

High School Students Citizenship Seminar

Five area students have been selected to attend the Texas Farm Bureau High School Student's Seminar to be held on the Campus of Sam Houston State Teachers College at Huntsville, Texas, August 20-23. Four students are sponsored by the Wichita County Farm Bureau and one by the Noon Lions Club of Iowa Park.

According to Carl Moeller, president of the Wichita County Farm Bureau, students chosen on character, scholarship, leadership and public speaking ability are: Hal Newsom, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Newsom, student at Hirschi High School; Sherry Eckelkamp, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Eckelkamp, student of Electra High School; Larry George, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. George; Sally Garrison, daughter of Mrs. Juanita Garrison and Jerry McDonald, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bud McDonald, all of Iowa Park High School.

Farquhar Rites Slated at Burkburnett

Services for Mrs. Rita Fay Farquhar, 57, will be Thursday at 3:00 p. m. from the Owens & Brumley Funeral Home Chapel in Burkburnett, with Eugene Gilmore, minister of the Burkburnett Church of Christ, and Adam Klein a Baptist minister of Wichita Falls, officiating.

Burial will be in the Burkburnett Cemetery. A resident of Burkburnett for 27 years, Mrs. Farquhar died Tuesday night at the home of a brother, Russell Duvall.

Born March 7, 1906 in Ivanhoe, Texas, she was a member of the Church of Christ. She was an L.V.N. nurse. Surviving other than the brother in Burkburnett, are a daughter, Mrs. Frances Watson of Wichita Falls; four grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Three Pay Levels To Be Tested In Local Area

John Fowler, oil operator of Fort Worth has announced that he will drill an 1800 foot well, on 100 acres out of 395 acres, in Block 82 and 95, in the Red River Valley Lands Subdivision.

Three pay levels are to be tested for production, one at 1100 feet and a new discovery said at 1650 feet and the regular Burkburnett pay at around 1750 feet.

The well is to be located on a 100 acre lease out of the J. D. Ashton, Jr. lands and is about six miles northwest of the Burkburnett townsite.

This new drilling activity in Wichita County can bring back memories to many old timers on how John Fowler's father, S. L. Fowler, formed an oil company among his friends and neighbors and drilled the discovery well of the now famous Burkburnett field and touched off one of the wildest oil and drilling booms in Texas history. His stockholders won $15,000 each $100 invested.

During the height of the boom, a glass of ice water, in the hot summer months cost ten cents. Tent sleeping quarters, with cots not more than two feet apart, had signs outside their entrances, reading "STOP AND FLOP $1.00." And during wet weather, only mules and horses could get the heavy casing and drilling equipment over the mud soaked roads.

So now, who knows but that history may repeat itself in this new drilling activity in Wichita County.

BURKETT'S PLAY TUESDAY NIGHT

Tuesday night the Burkettes played the East Branch YWCA Colored Girls at Wichita Falls. Time limit for the game permitted the playing of five innings.

Mr. Jessie Williams coaches these girls in a very sportsman-like way. He has charge of several teams in Wichita Falls.

Starting pitcher was Linda Bryant, pitching two innings and Sharon Gillner three innings. Linda Fisher led the scoring with three hits.

Mrs. Doris Hodges coaches the Burkettes. Girls playing were Linda Bryant, Sharon Gillner, Linda Cox, Pat Bryant, Bonnie Lokey, Patricia Dodd, Pasty Harsh, Martha Lokey and Linda Fisher.

Lt. Com. Daniel W. Roderick of Syracuse, New York, who graduated from Burkburnett High School in January, 1942 and enlisted in the Navy in April, 1942 on his 17th birthday, is now commanding the Naval Facility at Buxton, Cape Hatteras, N. C. Dan served during the war as AMM 1st Class and navigator in the Navy Air Service. He received his commission in 1956. While in Burkburnett he lived with the J. D. Riddle on the old La Salle lease.

Lamoin Champ To Preach At First Baptist Church Sunday, July 28

Rev. Lamoin Champ, pastor of Southside Baptist Church, Palestine, Texas, will be the guest speaker at First Baptist Church, Burkburnett this Sunday, July 28th, at both the morning and evening services.

Rev. Champ was born in Oklahoma in 1926, and graduated from Grandfield, Oklahoma, High School as Salutatorian of his class. He served in the Navy from 1944 to 1946, after which he entered Cameron Jr. College, Lawton, Oklahoma. While attending Cameron, Rev. Champ was voted Most Valuable Student at Cameron. After his graduation from Cameron in 1948, he attended Howard Payne College in Brownwood, Texas, where he was president of his Senior Class. While at Howard Payne, he served as Music-Youth Director at Melwood Avenue Baptist Church until his graduation in 1950. He then went to the First Baptist Church of Coleman, Texas as Associate Pastor. For the next ten years he served as Music-Education Director in various churches in Texas, including First Baptist Church of Corsicana and First Baptist Church of Tyler. While serving these churches he attended Southwestern Seminary in Fort Worth, then became Pastor of Southside Baptist Church of Palestine in 1961.

Rev. Champ is past president of Texas Baptist Training Union Convention, is now serving on one of the Texas Baptist Convention Committees, is on the Executive Board of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, is a Trustee of East Texas Baptist College at Marshall. Evangelism Chairman of Saline Baptist Association and has served as preacher, speaker, and conference leader for meetings from California to North Carolina, Missouri to Florida.

Rev. Champ was one of the pastors from Texas chosen to participate in the Japan New Life Movement, and has a number of slides taken while in Japan that he is planning to show at First Baptist Church this Sunday.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend these services Sunday to hear this speaker. He is not a stranger to First Baptist Church. He was at this church in 1955 for about two weeks to work with a Sunday School enlargement campaign, and will be remembered by many of those with whom he worked at that time. We urge every one to take advantage of this opportunity to renew old acquaintances, and hear a report of the Japan New Life Movement Campaign.

Rose of Pampa, Texas; and Mrs. Dora Rambo of Durant, Oklahoma; and eight grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Roderick of Syracuse, New York, are visiting her sister, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Riddle, here for a few days.

Tumbleweed Chapter of the American Business Women's Association to Sponsor Chapter in Burkburnett

The Tumbleweed Chapter of the American Business Women's Association, Wichita Falls, Texas, proudly announces its intent to sponsor a chapter in Burkburnett, Texas. The First Chapter of ABWA was installed in Kansas City on November 21, 1949, and since 1949, ABWA has grown to where it now has over 24,000 active members (over 419 Chapters), with members in 45 states. National Headquarters for the association is located in Kansas City, Missouri. Though the organization is not a club or sorority, it includes many desirable features of both without conflicting with their activities.

As an educational association, the organization emphasizes sponsorship of worthwhile women for scholarships. Response to this planned activity has been so enthusiastic that local chapters throughout the United States awarded scholarships in the amount of over $40,000 last year alone. In addition, a National Fund was established in 1953 to which any chapter wishing to make application on behalf of a candidate is privileged to do so. Normally, Grants and loans from the National Educational Fund are confined to outstanding students, now working toward college degrees. The National Board of Directors serve as trustees for this fund.

District meetings, as well as a National Convention, are held by the association each year. A number of members from this area are now making plans to attend the 1963 national convention which will be held in Cleveland, Ohio.

The Tumbleweed Chapter will hold a "Get Acquainted" party at the Texas Electric Company from 2:30 to 5:00 p. m. on Sunday afternoon, July 28.

1963. Letters have been written to known business women in Burkburnett extending them a cordial invitation to join the new chapter. All business women interested in learning more about the association are invited to attend the "Get Acquainted" party or to call Mrs. George Moore at 322-6654 or Mrs. William B. Huff at 692-3498.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bankhead and children, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Bankhead and children, and Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Ensey, all of Burkburnett attended the Bankhead family reunion at Lake Cisco, Cisco, Texas over the week end. The next reunion will be July, 1965 at Yosemite Park, California.

PROCLAMATION City Wide Clean Up Week

Since the physical appearance of a City reflects the spirit of its citizens and it is the wishes of the City Government to develop our City to its fullest potential, this is another opportunity for all of us to show our pride in our City by exerting an extra effort to make Burkburnett a better place in which to live and raise our children.

THEREFORE, I, James E. Frye, Mayor of the City of Burkburnett, Texas, do declare the week of August 5, 1963 as "Clean Up, Fix Up and Paint Up Week".

Witness my hand this 22nd. day of July, 1963.

And Away We Go

Vacation season is a great time to load the family into the car and take a trip to some of the scenic and historic spots to be found in every state.

It is estimated that nearly 100 million Americans will take 230 million vacation or pleasure trips on the nation's highways this year.

While boning up on history so they can answer the kids' questions Mom and Dad might also consider a few other historical facts.

For example, the gasoline that sends them on their way is not only greatly superior to the fuel sold back in the 1920's — it is also cheaper.

When Calvin Coolidge, Charles A. Lindbergh and Gene Tunney dominated America's headlines, gasoline did not pack nearly as much power per gallon as today's fuel. In 1925 the average octane rating of regular grade gasoline was around 55. Today this rating—one of the important measures of fuel quality—is up to 93, as a result of scientific research and improved technology.

As for price, today's gasoline, before taxes, costs the motorists three percent less than the fuel of 40 years ago. But while the cost of the fuel dropped, the taxes on gasoline increased a thousand and thirty percent. Federal, state and local taxes on gasoline now claim one out of every three dollars paid in at the pump. Since the first gasoline tax was levied in 1919, American motorists have paid 76.3 billion dollars in gasoline taxes.

Another fact for the family to remember is that all over America thousands of courteous service station attendants stand ready to help vacation travellers get the most out of their trips by helping them to travel in comfort and safety.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

There are some who wags suggest that the chicken should be substituted for the American eagle, inasmuch as chicken seems to play such an important part in public life the past three decades or so.

First, of course, was the famous decision knocking out NEA which was based on the marketing of chickens.

And now the big international news is chicken. While the U. S. State Department has been bending over backwards to dance the tune of the European Common Market, and U. S. protective tariffs have been slashed high, wide and handsome to open the American market to an ever increasing flood of cheap foreign imports, chickens again pop up.

Despite all the polite palaver, the European Common Market without so much as a "by your leave" added their tariff sharply from 4 1/2c per pound to 12 1/2c on American chickens.

Frozen American poultry has been a substantial export item. Europeans have always had a fondness for chicken, from the coq au vin of France, to chicken cacciatore of Italy, to jaw breaking Teutonic name for chicken with dumplings. Europeans delight in chicken.

But chickens, getting ready for the pot, consume a lot of grain. This is not the most plentiful commodity in Europe with many of the nations having to rely on imports of feedstuffs.

However, American ingenuity, aided by an abundance of domestic grains, plus electrical current, developed the mass production of poultry through electric battery brooders, and found the peoples of Europe quite willing to buy in big quantities. The efficiency of the American poultry producers is so great, nobody as yet has been able to match them.

So with the typical European philosophy "if you can't lick 'em, tax 'em," the European Common Market sharply increased the tariff on imports of American poultry.

Thus, once again the chicken becomes the cause celebre of American life.

Of course, there are other examples pointed out of how chicken applies to current U. S. affairs. Every time some obscure nation has yelped unless they get a cut of foreign give away funds from America, they will go communist, the State Department gets chicken and give them a slice of the tax dollars.

These chicken tactics have so far cost the American taxpayers over $100 billion and the end is not in sight.

In addition, this squandering of American dollars to back up the chicken tactics of the State Department has dissipated the gold reserves and has taken out of American small business funds needed to launch new enterprises, expand existing business firms. This has created a serious unemployment situation. So now, the chickens are coming home to roost.

Family FINANCIAL PROTECTION

Policyholder Questions Answered by the Institute of Life Insurance

Q. Years ago, after my wife died, I arranged all my life insurance so that my three sons would share equally in all my policies. Now that each of the boys is grown and has children of his own, should I do anything further about my life insurance to protect my grandchildren's interest?

A. You probably should if you wish to make sure that your grandchildren would receive part of your insurance in the event that any of your sons died before you do. Your policies probably contain a standard "succession-of-interest clause," designed to avert possible tragic confusion over how to dispose of your insurance. Unless you direct otherwise, this clause provides that if any of your sons (your direct beneficiaries) should die before receiving his share of your insurance, that share would pass on to your other sons who survive. The wife and children of the son who died would get nothing.

Your life insurance agent will be glad to help you revise your beneficiary designation so that, if any son should die before you do, his share of your insurance would go to his family—or would be distributed any other way you designate.

Q. How does divorce affect a life insurance policy in which the wife is named as her husband's beneficiary?

A. Except in a few states, a divorce does not automatically end the wife's interest in the policy. She generally remains the beneficiary until the husband names someone else (if he has the right to do so). If the wife is an "irrevocable beneficiary," her rights may be affected by the settlement agreement or divorce decree. However, in some states and under certain conditions, divorce either automatically terminates the wife's status as beneficiary or gives the husband the power to do so even when she is an "irrevocable" beneficiary. In at least one state, the situation depends on whether the husband or wife is the aggrieved party in the divorce.

Roasting Clean-Up Can Be Easy

Roast . . . Mix Gravy . . . Swish . . . Clean . . . Don't let the thought of cleaning up that sticky, greasy roasting pan take the edge off your appetite for the succulent best roast and gravy you've just finished preparing.

The secret of memorable eating with no unpleasant aftertaste is a non-stick roasting pan. Coated with "Teflon," TFE-fluorocarbon finishes, these pans provide such a slick surface that virtually nothing sticks to them, even when some of the food burns a little. Developed by Du Pont chemists, the finish is now being used by leading cookware manufacturers on a variety of fry, roast, and saucapans, griddles, baking dishes, and muffin pans. Virtually nothing sticks to them, even when some of the food burns a little. Cleaning is as simple as rinsing the utensil in soapy water, sponging out with a cloth, sponge, rinsing, and drying. No scraping required.

The non-stick cookware comes in a wide range of colors, too, that take the drabness out of cooking and complement any kitchen color scheme.

TWO SOCKS Keep old wool socks for at least these two purposes: Slip them on over boots to move quietly through the woods on dry-leaf days. Sew end into crude but effective throw-away mittens for ice fishing.

CUTTING OFF Mike Hershberger in his attempt to steal second during a game between the Yankees and the White Sox is New York's Tony Kubek. Chicago didn't need the extra base as it won, 2-1.

To get all the nutrients from rice, don't wash it before or after cooking. If you do, you'll lose valuable vitamins and minerals, says Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent.

Modern processing methods make rice clean and ready to cook. By using the correct amounts of water and rice in cooking, you won't have to drain it. The rice will absorb the water.

Also, much rice on the market today is enriched with thiamine, niacin, and iron — the nutrients that are lost in the milling process. Vitamin D and calcium, too, are sometimes added. One way this may be done is by adding vitamins and minerals in a powdered form. So, if you wash or drain enriched rice, these added nutrients may go down the drain.

In preparing enriched rice for family size servings, use 1 cup of enriched white rice and 2 cups of boiling salted water. Cover and cook slowly about 20 minutes. After removing from heat, let rice stand covered for 10 to 15 minutes.

Or—place the boiling salted water and rice in a baking pan, cover tightly and bake in 350 degree F. oven for 30 to 35 minutes.

When cooking enriched parboiled rice, use 1/2 cup more water and cook 5 minutes longer than for enriched white rice.

Dagano cheese . . . a dairy fruit mix called Frumil . . . and a cream replacement that contains less than 10 calories a serving.

These are some of the new dairy foods designed especially for the calorie-conscious and convenience-minded homemaker. They are products of food scientists at Michigan State University. All have a promising future. So here's what you can look forward to in the next few years:

Frozen whipped cream—that comes in a rigid or plastic container and stores in the freezer compartment of the refrigerator. All you do is defrost a few minutes and dip some of the already whipped topping on your dessert. Return the unused portion to the freezer.

Instant cheese — made from powdered cheddar and blue cheeses. Just add water and stir. It's excellent in a cheese sauce for au gratin potatoes, welch rarebit, macaroni and cheese dinners, chip dips. Or, in its powdered form as a flavoring for casseroles, soups, souffles.

Dagano cheese — Already on sale in lower Michigan, this Swiss-type cheese has a pleasing nutty flavor. It melts easily and is good for pizzas and toasted cheese sandwiches.

Frumil — A dairy-fruit mix that is softer than American cheese but harder than cream cheese. Keep it in your refrigerator to serve with snacks, as an appetizer, a confection, or dessert.

A cream replacement — that is made from skim milk and costs no more than nonfat dry milk. It's ideal for the dieter who doesn't like black coffee.

Calories do count — and that's why there's much to be said for the steady-and-steady reducing diet that simply cuts down on the number of calories you eat.

Thelma Wirges, county home demonstration agent, says it's important for a person-on-a-diet to eat three well balanced meals a day.

If you can, plan your meals around foods that are a part of the family's way of eating. This will make it easier for you to stick with your diet and easier, too, for the cook.

Another advantage is that, once you've achieved the weight you want, you can continue this pattern of eating. Perhaps you can gradually add a few more calories.

Say you've been eating only 1,200 calories a day. You can up this to 1,400 by switching to whole milk if you have been using two cups skimmed and adding another ounce of lean meat to the day's meals.

But, as you inch your calorie intake upward, keep an eye on the scales. Keep exercising and watch those high calorie foods.

In this way, you'll be able to stay slim — and healthy.

Foot Comfort Aids Stretch Shoe Budget

For many young parents, keeping the family well-shod is a financial challenge that ranks with the grocery bill, the mortgage, and the car payments.

One way to stretch your footwear budget, however, is to use some of the foot health products now on the market. Podiatrists say that foam latex or felt strips and cushion insoles can help prevent the deterioration of a shoe's inner structure, and even make worn-out shoes wearable again.

"This is especially true of less expensive shoes," said William O. Elson, medical research director for Blue Jay, foot products division of Bauer & Black. "Their inner soles and linings break down quickly under hard wear. Properly applied pads and insoles can make them last longer."

Among the most common recommended uses for lining materials at trouble spots are: Foam - to relieve chafing caused by a cracked inner heel, or in any pressure area; Insoles - to replace deteriorated inner soles, and keep shoes clean and deodorized.

Foot perspiration soon attacks even the newest shoes, according to Blue Jay. Uncleanliness in the shoe can break down its construction, and cause foot tenderness or infection. Changing shoes daily and using insoles are two ways to combat this cause of trouble.

Seafair Queen Gail Reid — Seattle's Space Needle "Dwarfs" Mt. Rainier

Seafair Queen Gail Reid, the 600-foot Space Needle, majestic Mt. Rainier, which rises over 14,000 feet, are reasons why Seattle is a good place to visit. Queen Gail will over the 10-day Seafair celebration, August 2-11, which is highlight of the summer vacation season. Parades, the Seafair Trophy Race for unlimited hydroplanes, and a jazz program of marine-flavored events occupy the 10-day celebration that annually attracts tourists from throughout the nation.

SEATTLE, WASH. — A gigantic summertime fun festival the 14th annual Seafair celebration — is being readied to over where the Seattle World's Fair left off by focusing the attention of the nation's tourists on this maritime city.

Determined to continue the showmanship demonstrated during the multi-million Fair, Greater Seattle, Inc., a veteran civic promotion organization, unveiled plans for a million dollar summer season that include, in addition to the colorful ten-day Seafair extravaganza, top-flight musical productions and name Hollywood and Broadway entertainment.

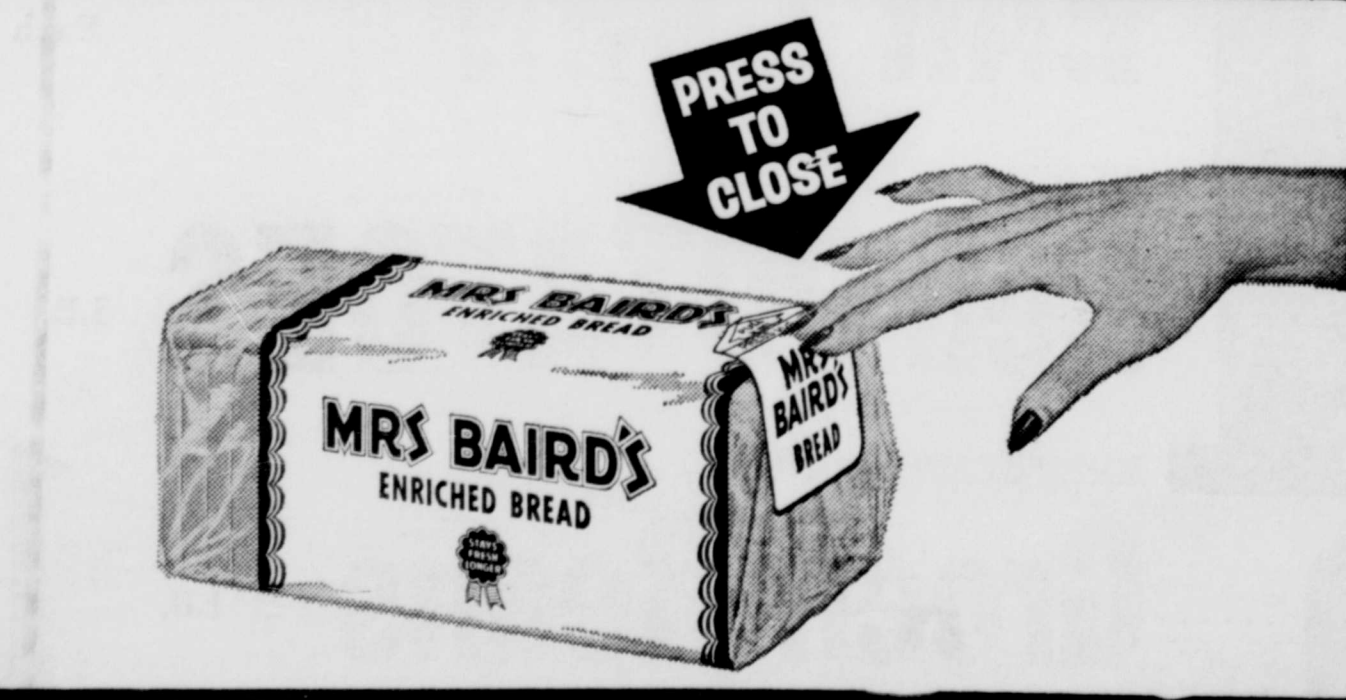

Seafair will get under way August 2 and run through August 11 with the $25,000 purse Seafair Trophy Race for unlimited hydroplanes as the exciting climax. The water spectacular will bring the nation's fastest racing boats to Seattle's Lake Washington in a thrilling test of speed and endurance. Speds up to 180 miles per hour are commonplace in this event and a log-boom and beach full of a quarter-million spectators is again expected.

But, before the race, the untold tens of thousands of tourists, as well as Seattleites, gorge themselves on a menu that spans a myriad of events from archery to water skiing. While pretty queens and princesses, outlandish pirates, and regal Royalty hold sway over the mardi gras atmosphere, jestic parades serpentine way through city streets. Grande Parade, held the Saturday of Seafair, draws 200,000 people, year and old. Theme of this year's parade is "The Golden Year." The U.S. Navy's Pacific Fleet visits during Seafair and 5,000 bluejackets shore Seafair liberty.

The entertainment festival Seafair is Al Sheehan's Al Follies, held nightly in Seattle's outdoor lakeside showplace the Aqua Theatre. Three musical shows, headed by John Wyler in "Redhead," slated for the Aqua Theatre July 9-July 13. Anna M. Alberghetti, another Broadway and motion picture star, will star in "Kismet" the lakeside theatre from 23 through July 28. SPRAY AIDS FOR SKIPPERS

This attractive skipper knows that boating safety demands a clean windshield, especially at today's high outboard speeds in busy boating waters. Aerosol glass cleaner spray makes the job quick and easy, and the non-spill push-button container is handy to store on board. Other aerosols especially designed for convenient boat maintenance include push-button chrome brass cleaners, waterproofers for canvas tops and ignition, inhibiting paints, mildew preventives, dry film lubricants, and synthetic finishes, and spar varnish.

Sentry Safety Council

Safe Trip Tips

Vacationers, business travelers, "Sunday" drivers (even when it's only Saturday) are out on the highways in full force. As an aid to motorists, the Sentry Safety Council of the Sentry Insurance companies has compiled these safe driving tips:

- Have your car safety checked. Lights, tires, steering, brakes, exhaust system, wipers, horn, should all be in safe condition.
- Leave orbiting to astronauts. Install and use seat belts.
- "Hold your horses" on super-highways. Beware of tendency to speed up.
- Keep whole traffic scene in view—watch all objects for a block ahead in town, half a mile in country.
- Tailgating is dangerous. Drop back at least one car length for each ten miles of speed.
- Before changing lanes, make sure another driver isn't starting to pass you.
- Pull to the right and stop when you hear a siren or see a flashing red light reminds the Sentry Safety Council.
- Everyone knows dangers of driving while under influence of alcohol. Users of drugs like "pep pills", tranquilizers, anti-histamines, are a threat to safety. Ask your doctor about driving after taking medication.
- If something goes wrong with your car, pull off highway; raise hood; tie white cloth on door nearest road.
- Always make sure your driver's license is up to date and your insurance identification card is tucked in your billfold. Finally, the Sentry Safety Council says you never drive alone. Your passengers, people in oncoming cars, cars you pass, pedestrians who cross your path, family members at home, all depend upon your driving actions.

Mrs. R. P. Thaxton Hostess July 22 Blanche Groves Circle

Mrs. R. P. Thaxton had the Blanche Groves Circle in her home, Monday July 22nd, 1963. Prayer was by Mae Van Deren. Devotional by Sue Vaughn, Song, "I Love to Tell the Story."

Prayer chairman, Sue Vaughn, read the prayer calendar. The Chairman, Mrs. R. P. Thaxton, presided at the meeting.

Secretary treasurer was not present on account of company. There were eight present at the meeting. Mrs. Mae Van Deren's sister was one of the visitors and Mrs. Mary Horr taught our book.

Those present were Mesdames Mary Horr, R. P. Thaxton, Mae Van Deren, Gladys Carswell, Marie Hinkle, Sue Vaughn, Lois Litterel and Miss Oma B. Van Cleave.

Marie Hinkle reported about Linda Burk going to G.A. Camp. The Community Mission was sending some girls to the camp. Mrs. Mary Horr is giving our book, "The Worlds Awaking."

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Mrs. R. P. Thaxton which consisted of frosted Cokes and cookies.

Our next meeting will be with Mrs. Eileen Cox in August. Our Secretary-Treasurer had us to mark the cards.

All reported a good meeting, and all were present. Sue Cantwell was absent. Mrs. Horr finished our book we have been studying for 1963. Dismissal prayer was by B. Van Cleave. Reporter, Miss Oma B. Van Cleave.

Blanche Grove Circle Mayhall Circles

The Blanche Grove Circle met in the main auditorium of the Baptist Church, Wednesday, 9:30 o'clock, July 17th, in a Royal Service program business session.

Prayer was by Mrs. Cheney, president of the circle. The Blanche Grove won the W.M.U. pin for number of Circles present.

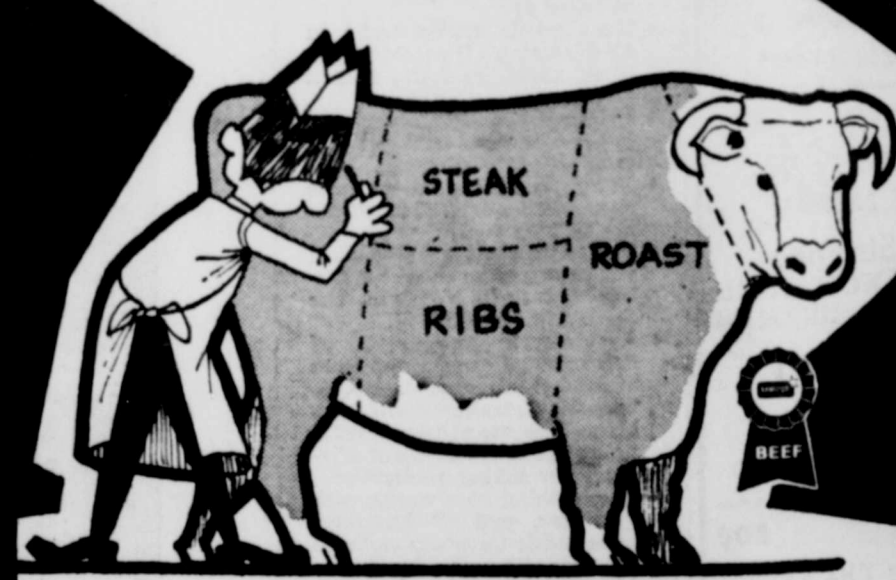

The Mayhall Circles in charge of the Royal Service program. They used one member, Mrs. W. R. Co secretary. She read the urer's report. The program was prayed by B. H. Preston.

All reported a good meeting. Reporter Protom, Miss B. Van Cleave.

Eternal Vigil...

Salt air, the beating of heavy waves, and rains... these are just a few of the elements that a ship must face constantly. With all of these things, it is little wonder that the crew must be alert, looking for rust and other damage. New paint to protect the ship must be applied regularly.

An individual faces many things in this world, that would rust and corrupt his life, therefore it is good to begin each week with a renewing of spirit, that can be obtained only through worship in the Lord's house.

MYSTERY BUOY

Cagey salt water fishermen know this tip. It's a way to mark a place you don't want anyone to find. Simply soak a wooden buoy in salt brine for several days. Then attach it to its anchor and anchor line. Throw over the side, buoy, rope and anchor sink. BUT salt leeching out of wood restores wood's natural buoyancy and in a week or so, pop goes the buoy right to the surface.

Excessive politeness offends me almost as much as rudeness.

PICTURE WINDOW WINDBREAKER

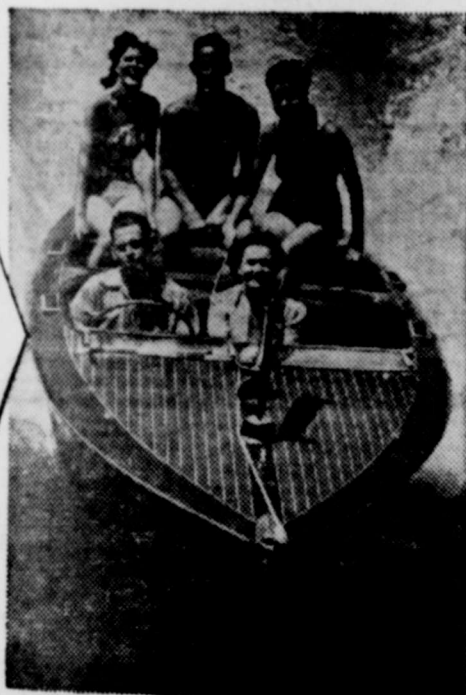

And while we're on the subject of clear plastic, have you thought about all the uses new, tough, thick polyethylene plastic sheets can be put to. They will make a fine tent window. They will serve admirably as a waterproof cover. They can be tacked between trees as a windbreak that still allows a view of the surroundings. They can be used for storm windows on cabins or as insulation when taped and tacked around cracks. They will make a basin or bathtub depending on how big a hole you want to dig. How many more can you think of?

SCREW LOOSE

If a particular screw on a reel or rifle or shotgun keeps coming loose, fix it right by putting a drop of shellac on the threads before seating it securely.

LOOK MA! NO BLISTERS

Lumbermen in the north drill a hole in their ax handles, fill it with olive oil and plug hole. Oil runs through handle prevents dry hands, preserves the woods and acts as a natural lubricant helping keep blisters off the hands of city fellers who might want to use their ax.

"RESISTANCE" TO POISON IVY
Q. Are some people naturally resistant to poison ivy?
A. Yes, people born in the Orient are much less likely to be bothered by poison ivy and poison oak than people born in this part of the world.
SHAVING AND HAIR GROWTH
Q. For a girl I have too much hair on my thighs. It's embarrassing when I wear shorts or a swim suit. Will shaving cause the hair to grow back thicker than ever?
A. No. Shaving does not stimulate hair growth. If this were true, soon-to-be-bald men could prevent baldness by simply shaving the head a few times.
CANKER SORES
Q. What causes canker sores?
A. The exact cause isn't known. These bean-size, crater-type mouth ulcers are very painful and often form without any apparent reason. Ordinary canker sores heal within a reasonable time. Mouth sores that drag on should be examined by a physician or dentist.
